GERMANS SEEK MEDIATION BY BRITISH GOVT.

Propose to Give Guarantee Against War on France--Britain Rejects German Advances.

CORPORAL SLAIN

BERLIN, March 26 (United Press). — Chancellor Cuno is ill and confined to his bed with a cold. He was unable to meet with the leaders of the Foreign Affairs Committee this week-end, which will necessitate the postponement of the latest developments.

Despite recent denials by German officials, it has been learned on the highest authority that the Berlin Government once more has put out feelers seeking British mediation.

Germany is understood to have proposed this time a guarantee against war on France.

She will offer securities that war will not be made except when voted by a plebiscite of the German people.

Britain is understood once more to have rejected the German advances and to have told the Berlin Government the proper thing to do is to make its proposals direct and officially to France.

TORONTO, March 26—(Special). —Regarding a report from Peterborough that there have been some changes in the administration of the Canadian Woollens, Mr. W. K. George, first vice-president and chairman of the board of directors of the Canadian Woollens, stated to the Examiner to-day:

"There have been no radical changes. Edgar Worth, general manager, has resigned his position with us to start a big spinning mill in the United States. His successor has not yet been appointed. Other than this, there are no changes in the administration that I know of."

WEEK-END CALLS FIRE DEPARTMFNT

High Winds Responsible for a Few Extra Chimney Calls.

The fire department had a busy day on Saturday, caused, it is thought, by the high wind. The calls were as follows: 11.55 a.m. to 103 Rubidge street. 11.56 a.m. to 281 Prince street; 12.03 p.m. to 42 Smith street; 12.53 p.m. to 469 McDonnel street; 1.12 p.m. to 531 Rogers street; 1.45 p.m. to 460 Sherbrooke street; 2.33 p.m. to 536 Murray street; 5.32 p.m. to 476 Patterson street; 5.33 p.m. to 474 Patterson street; 6.34 p.m. to King George street ,and at 7.45 p.m. to 47 Lafayette avenue. These bring the total calls from Monday to Saturday of last week up to 22.

Although less than three months of this year have passed, the department has answered more than half as many calls as in all of 1922. The total calls for last year were 250, and already this year 145 have been turned in.

SHELL SHOCKED

BIRMIGHAM, Ala., March 26.—Though an Armistice brought the World War to an end almost five years ago, militarism has just chalked up two more casualties of that war here—two casualties that never will find their way into official lists.

These casualties are worse than death by rifle-ball or bayonet, worse than twisted limbs or crushed bodies —they are broken hearts.

They are the hearts of Robert Ailes, youthful war veteran, and of Lucile Hay, 25, pretty Birmingham nurse.

Their happy romance is over after a honeymoon of a few weeks. Ailes is in jail here. Miss Hay is free, but her pillow every morning is wet with tears — shed because she had believed herself a wife when she was not one.

Starts With War.

To understand this unusual mave you must go back to the days of the war when the streets were filled with marching soldiers bound for France.

One of these enthusiastic young fighters was Robert Ailes a husband and father of a tiny child. Ailes kissed his wife and child good-bye in Philadelphia, and embarked for the theatre of war.

He fough bravely—until one day a giant shell exploded close beside him. After that Ailes wasn't the same healthy young American he had been.

"Shell shock," said the company medical officer. And he ordered Ailes sent to a hospital behind the lines.

When his regiment came home, Ailes came too. A warm welcome from his wife and child, now grown much bigger, greeted him.

You couldn't have told Ailes was any different from any other member of his regiment. He bore no scar. He was able to do his daily work.

Curtain Over Brain.

But that shell had done its work. And sometimes a something—a kind of curtain it was, yet more like a fog—would descend over the ex-soldier's brain.

When this curtain fell, the past was wholly shut off. Aues could remember nothing.

Ailes tried to fight it off, but he couldn't. It came, then went away —then came again.

Finally, a few months ago, the fog became more dense then ever before. Ailes disappeared from Philadelphia and ame here. He secured work as a construction engineer.

But that strange brain-fog with the Greek name had blotted from his mind all remembrance of his wife and child. Ailes didn't know he ever had been married.

Then he met Miss Hay. One night he told her of his love, and she answered with the words that tint the whole world with soft colours.

Starts on Honeymoon.

Ailes didn't know the regulations of the taxicab service from which he had rented the car prohibited him from taking it out of the state, he says.

But the taxicab company sent a detective after him, and had him seized in Jacksonville. He was brought back to Birmingham, and lodged in the city jail.

The shock of the arrest and the interrupted honeymoon did something to Ailes' brain. It slit that curtain in two, as a sharp knife might.

He realised the girl who had just given her love trustingly to him was not his wife. And he was stunned by the enormity of the thing he had done.

His Memory Verified.

Solicitor Jim Davis telegraphed to Philadelphia and established that Ailes had a wife and child there.

So the pretty nurse saw her house of cards shattered. Now she has started annulment proceedings.

"I have no resentment toward Robert, only sorrow," she says. "I know he was not responsible. I fully believe he knew nothing of his previous marriage."

Meanwhile learned judges are worried about what they are to do if bigamy charges are pressed against Ailes.

"Is a man guilty of bigamy if he didn't know he had another wife?" they will be asked.

What would you answer?

MYSTERY LETTER STIRS UP POLICE

Travels a Distance Equal to Twice Across the Continent.

PLANT CITY, Fla., March 26.—A carelessly addressed letter, sent by one resident of this city to another has

CAUSED worry to the postal authorities of two governments.

BROUGHT three postal clerks under police surveillance.

It all started when Mrs. Sally Japes posted a letter to her milkman, Fred Fischer, enclosing a $5 bill in payment of her milk account.

Theft Suspected.

Fischer failed to receive the letter and remittance. Mrs. Japes considered it a plain case of theft. She complained to the postmaster.

The postmaster eyed his staff of clerks. One was on his honeymoon. The other two were new employed —"green hands."

All there wre placed under the eye of detectives. Their goings and comings were checked up and all were relieved of suspicion.

Meanwhfile here's what had happened:

Mrs. Japes firmly believed she'd addressed her letter "Fred Fischer, Plant City, Fla., U.S.A." But, as a matter of fact, she's addressed it, "Fred Fischer, Milk Man."

Sent to Manitoba.

Postal clerks thought the "Man" meant Manitoba and sent it to that Canadian province.

But there's no such Manitoba city as "Milk" so the letter found its way to Milk River, Man. But there's no Fred Fischer there, so the letter was consigned to the dead letter office at Ottawa.

From Ottawa it was sent back to Plant City and found its way into the hands of the milkman to whom it originally was sent.

Fischer has his $5 and everybody's happy.

THE WEATHER.

The author of the poetic phrase about "Winter lingering in t' lap of Spring," must have received his inspiration on a day similar to yesterday. Although nearing the end of March, about as much snow fell as at any one time during the winter, and the sleighing is once more good after having been "rusty," at least in town, for some time. And that is not all. This morning at sunrise, the thermometer was at 5 degrees below zero, making five z.. days this month as compared with but one the same month last year. Perhaps it is just as well the snow came yesterday, rather than next Sunday, as I have already received several warnings from the gentler sex that it will not be well for me if anything should prevent a display of brand new Easter hats tha have been obtained or are in process of manufacture at the milliners. "ister Sunday is generally a bright and beautiful day, as befits its religious significance.—W. P.

WAS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF THEFT

E. J. Darnard Located in Port Hope Ater a Long Chase.

KINGSTON, March 26.— (Special.)—After being traced to Bermuda, later on to Toronto and Port Hope, Ernest J. Darnard, formerly a sergeant in charge of the R.C.H.A. canteen, was taken in charge at Port Hope on Saturday and brought to Kingston under military escort, and in the police court this morning was charged with having stolen a sum of money from the R.C.H.A. canteen on or about October 2nd, 1922. The accused pleaded "not guilty" to the charge and was remanded a week. He will also have to answer to a charge of desertion laid by the military authorities. The accused disappeared at the same time as the money was reported to have been stolen from the canteen. Just how much money was taken could not be ascertained, but it is believed to be several hundred dollars. Suspicion fell on Darnard, who disappeared, and since the time of the robbery, the city police and military authorities have had lines out for Darnard, who, it is stated, made two trips to Bermuda, afterwards living for a short time in Toronto and Port Hope.

THE LOCK WORKS HAVE NO RECORD

Braces Were Used to Brace Shelves and Could Not Be Called Locks.

LINDSAY, Ont., March 24.— A few years ago an Omemee farmer, being in need of a new lock and not having the time to go to the village for it, endeavored to make one, out of wood. The lock made was narrow and oblong with a little point at each end and a joint in the centre, so that it could fold up. Liking the model and finding it to work well by placing one end on the floor and the other against the door, the wooden model was taken to a blacksmith who copied it in metal. Years passed, the farmer had the terrible misfortune through an accident to lose his eyesight, becoming completely blind. He now resides in Peterborough .This winter he thought of the lock made many years ago and decided to have it patented. To make along story short, the Peterborough Lock Works paid $4,000 for the patent and the patentee. Isaih Magee receives a royalty on all sales made.

On the above despatch being drawn to the attention of the Peterborough Lock Co., it was learned that Isaiah Magee is unknown here. About two years ago a man had a few braces of the type described, made by the Lock Co. and he peddled them from door to door. These were used for bracing shelves, and could not be called locks. The Peterborough Lock Company is not aware of any $4,000 payment or the payment of any royalty, and are of the opinion that there were no patent rights in the brace.

PAPER SUPPLY DEPENDS UPON REFORESTATION

A SPLENDID ADDRESS

The Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon to-day heard a lot of interesting information in regard to the making of paper, from Rotarian R. A. Brown, whose development of this technical subject was so logically carried out that the gathering followed the details of the process with keen interest.

Rotarian Brown, at the conclusion of his address, emphasized emphatically the necessity of Canada paying more attention to reforestation. The pulpwood of the country was becoming rapidly exhausted and unless reforestation was undertaken on an extensive scale, there would either be a paper scarcity or new materials would have to be used, in which case the cost of paper was likely to be greatly increased.

The speaker first dealt with the different methods used to prepare the pulp, first describing the mechanical pulp method which is used in making the cheaper grades of paper, including newsprint, and then the various processes of preparing the chemical pulp. Among these he mentioned and explained the sulphide process, the soda pulp process and the Kraft process, these methods being used in the making of the finer grades of paper, and in the case of the Kraft for making the strongest and heaviest wrapping paper. The cost of the mechanical process was necessarily much greater, for about 50 per cent. of the raw material was lost, while the mechanical process preserved 98 per cent. of the raw material.

Rotarian Brown then explained the method by which a sheet of paper was made from the pulp, describing the different features of the operation in a lucid manner that enabled his hearers to grasp the details of the process of manufacture.

It was a most interesting paper, full of information on important but little known subject.

A feature of to-day's luncheon was the presence of Albert Greenlaw, well known vocalist, whose magnificent voice was heard to great advantage in "King of the Main" by Marks ,and in the beautiful number, "Open the Gates of the Temple." Mr. Greenlaw was given an ovation as he finished the latter number.

Rotarian Dr. McPherson called attention to to-nights' boxing bouts and also to the fact that the Rotary Club was expected to sponsor a team in the bantam baseball league to be organized by Alex. Kay.

Rotarian Andrew Brown informed the club that Frank Littlefield of Toronto, will address local Rotarians in the near future on Business Methods.

Among the visitors to-day was Rotarian Walter Davidson, police magistrate of Calgary, who was given a hearty welcome, his old friends being delighted to have him with them to-day.

Bofin's Arrest a Tame Climax to Career of Thrills

LONDON, March 26.—(Canadian Press).—A Belfast correspondent of the Evening News, commenting upon the capture by Free State Troops of Bofin, irregular leader, says that the rebels apprehension came as a tame climax to his career of thrills. He with three companions, was captured while sleeping peacefully in a Rockhook house, County Sligo. It is expected he will be placed on trial for his life.

Bofin, will be remembered as the man who spent his honeymoon in a cave in the mountains of Cavan after his romantic marriage to pretty Leitrim colleen, who insisted upon sharing his dangers. Bofin and his followers were idols of the maidens of the West who were decked with jewelry and clothing captured by esperadoes. Nearly all rebel leaders have been captured by desperadoes. Nearly tures of rebels in all parts of the South and West daily.

HONOR THAT IS WELL DESERVED

39 Boswell Ave., Toronto.
To the Edtior of Examiner:

Sir,—In days gone by there lived and toiled in Peterborough a man so quiet and retiring as to be personally known to comparatively few people, from whom, nevertheless, there emanated a strong and steady wholesome influence which was a real and distinctive factor in moulding public opinion and advancing the welfare of the city and country.

This interesting man was Herman R. Yokome, for some 40 years the gifted editor of the "Examiner"—of a highly cultivated mind and spirit, he was a master of beautiful English which he used effectively in promoting patriotism, civic improvement and healthful life. As a student and lover of nature his efforts were chiefly directed towards preserving and bringing out of the natural beauties of the city.

Secluded from, and yet in the very centre of civic life, he labored steadily for nearly half a century in the editorial sanctum until the day of his sudden death while on his way home from the office in March, 1918.

Over two years ago a movement was set on foot to set up some fitting memorial to this public-spirited journalist, to which unhesitating and generous support was given by many leading citizens of all creeds and political affiliations, with the unanimous understanding that a bronze tablet should be erected in St. John's church. The subscriptions, then cheerfully given, with the addition of a few more received of late, are practically sufficient to defray the necessary expenses without any appeal or statement being made through the Press.

We propose to unveil the tablet at a public ceremony to be held in St. John's church soon after Easter, of which further notice will be given and to which all citizens are invited quite independently of whether they have subscribed or no.

It is hoped that brief addresses will be given by a few public men. Altogether it would seem desirable to make this, if support be forthcoming, a gathering of citizens directed towards a keener and more general participation on the part of individual members of the community in enterprising, co-operative and helpful citizenship.

Note.— The committee, under whose auspices this enterprise has been carried through, is composed of His Honour Judge Huycke, G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., F. D. Kerr, K.C. (Treas.), D. W. Dumble, K.C., R. R. Hall, K.C., R. M. Glover, J. W. Miller (Treasurer), Ryerson Ritchie, Archdeacon Davidson.

Yours, etc.,
J. C. DAVIDSON.

A LIFE DEVOTED TO GOD, COUNTRY AND THE CHURCH

DIED IN PETERBORO

The life of the late Miss Jessie K. Munro, whose funeral took place this afternoon from George Street Methodist Church, is an outstanding example of a career devoted in its entirely to service, to country, God and church. Born in 1861, at Blyth's Mills, just outside the corporation limits of this city, Miss Munro's adult life was passed in training the youth of Canada as a school teacher and in missionary work for the Methodist Church, both in Japan and in Northern Alberta. Ill-health, brought on mainly by over-zealous performance of duty in the missionary fields, caused a cessation of her active work, and ended finally in death, on Saturday last, at the home of her brother, Nihil Munro, 580 George Street.

Miss Munro taught in the public schools of Peterboro county, in Lakefield, Goderich, and in Brighton, where she numbered among her students G. N. Gordon, K. C., M. P. In the year 1888, at the age of 27, she went out to Japan as a Missionary from the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of Canada, under the special patronage of the Metropolitan Church in Toronto. Several furloughs home were made, but eleven years of the missioinary's life was spent in Japan, most of the time at the Girls' School, the "Eiwa Jo Gakko Azabu", of Tokyo. Some of the trials of a missionary's life in those days will be realized when it is recalled that the Japan of that period was entirely different from the semi-civilized country of to-day. It was some years after Miss Munro's first trip to Japan that the law was passed which forbade the coolies to appear naked in the streets of Tokyo.

Miss Munro was in Japan at the time of the Anti-Foreign Riots, when foreigners went in danger of their lives, and the husband of the principal of the Tokyo Girls' School was killed under the eyes of the missionary. Her nervous system suffered considerably from the strain of those days, and almost equally so from the entirely contrary demonstrations of the populace which took place in favour of the subjects of Great Britain when that nation announced it policy of non-interference in the Chino-Japanese war.

Shortly after returning from Japan for the last time in 1904, Miss Munro, the missionary flame still burning brightly in her frail body, went out to do missionary work amongst the Galicians in Pakan, Northern Alberta. Conditions there were as bad, if not worse, than encountered in Japan. It seemed to be Miss Munro's force to select the difficult places in the Master's vineyard in which to labor, but her brave spirit remained undaunted by the manifold discomforts which awaited her in the home mission fields. As she had learned French and German and Japanese to further her spiritual labours, so she set herself to master the broken Russian dialect of these refugees in a strange land.

"The Story of the Years, 1881-1906", by H. C. Platt, a small volume which records the work of the Womens Missionary Society of the Methodist Church during that interval of time, devotes a chapter of its "Galician' section to the efforts made by Miss Munro and her young companion, Miss Edmunds, a trained nurse, in establishing missionary centres among these Russian peasants.

PETERBOROUGH HEALTH ASSOCIATION

A brief resume of the work of the Peterboro Health Association, increasing from year to year, as most philanthropic endeavors, when properly carried out, seem to have a way of doing, gives an idea of the scope and variety of the community help afforded by this energetic society. Not alone in physical ways is its influence felt, but there is a moral and spiritual side to the work which has a less evident appeal, but, in all likelihood, a more far-reaching result. With the actual work of visiting homes and providing comforts for tubercular patients goes the uplift to mind and body which accompanies a gesture of kindness from strangers; with the life of the children at the Summer Camp at Jackson Park goes the cheer and sunshine and frolic, the commonsense food and discipline that they receive through six long weeks under the pines; with the work among crippled children goes the onrush of renewed hope and faith in life which correction of physical evils in a young body must necessarily bring. Not only to-day, but to-morrow, in generations to come, will the preventive and remedial endeavors of such an organization be realized.

The work among crippled children is particularly interesting. Professor Dale of Toronto, speaking here under the auspices of the Home and School Council, said that one of the saddest things in life was the crippling of young bodies in ways that might be curable. The Crippled Children committee is a new one which works in conjunction with the Rotary Club, and, at the last annual meeting of the association, ten cases were cited which had been investigated and either relieved, or put in process of relief, by the doctors and helpers in charge of this work. Infantile paralysis and tubercular bones were the diseases afflicting the majority of the children.

Year by year, the work increases. It is a labor of love that strives to include within its reach all who need such aid, whether child or adult. Last year, approximately 220 children were cared for over a period of nine weeks at the Summer Camp at Jackson Park; the work among crippled children started; while the reports of the late Miss Hamilton's work, extending over eight months of the year, showed a total of 1365 general visits made, and 316 visits to tubercular patients alone. Many of these patients are visited twice daily, and many also, receive supplies of milk, eggs, refills and medicine. Bedside nursing, supply of proper food in cases of under-nourishment, practical advice and instruction in hygiene, are only items in the daily round of the district nurse.

The extent to which public interest has come aroused in this health movement is shown by the help accorded it from many sources, from the Advisory Coummittee of the Red Cross, from the supervising committee of ladies who assist so materially in the conduct of the Children's Camp; from the various feminine organizations of the city who volunteer efforts for the furtherance of the annual Motor Show; from the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, the boys of city schools who helped in the building of a rest bungalow last year; from private individuals who give time, money and supplies to the Association's work; from the doctors, the business men who devote time to the accounts of the society, in a word, the innumerable citizens of the city who have helped so vastly in other years to carry on a good endeavor, and who will doubtless do just as much this year towards making a success of the Motor Show on which the Health Association depends so much for finances for the execution of its community work.

Fellowship of Prayer

MONDAY
The Power of Evil

"The Son of Man is betrayed. Mark 14: 41.

Read Mark 14: 40-50.

"It is impossible to know sin . . . until we see it in the light of Gethsemane and Golgotha."

MEDITATION: Jesus did not attempt to solve the problem of evil for us, but he did show us the way to overcome evil through the higher power of love.

HYMN:

Nearer, my God, to thee, nearer to thee!
E'en though it be a cross that raiseth me.
Still all my song shall be,
Nearer, my God, to thee,
Nearer to thee!

PRAYER: Steer thou the vessel of our life toward thyself, thou tranquil haven of all storm-tossed souls. Amen.

STATEMENT BY REV. R. E. KNOWLES

On Divorce Granted His Wife—Children With Him.

TORONTO, March 26.—Rev. R. E. Knowles has issued the following statement in connection with the decree of divorce granted his wife in Columbus, Ohio, without his defense or opposition:

"I have received a certified copy of the decree issued by the Ohio court. It expressly states, however, that the judgment is given in default. I made no opposition whatever. I also note that the ground is given as extreme cruelty, and further that this has gone on ever since the inter-marriage of myself and my late wife. I am glad of this. Those who know me will not take long to make up their minds as to my extreme cruelty. I have no disposition to say anything that will reflect upon a lady whose beauty and charm can be denied by none, least of all by myself, nor can I bring myself to cast a single stain upon the relationship, dead and buried though it be, which can never be anything but sacred in memory's keeping.

"I do think, however, that it is only fair to myself to say that we lived and worked together for seventeen years in Knox Church, Galt, and that the devotion and loyalty of that congregation are as full and flowing toward me now as ever in our happiest days. When I preach in Galt, as I often do, I confront denser crowds than greet me anywhere else. And I may say that, since the decree of divorce was granted, I have been invited and have consented to occupy my old pulpit on Easter Sunday morning, which marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of my induction to that pastorate.

"This further I wish to say, that a little over a year ago, at her own insistence, I officiated at the marriage of my daughter, which is rather conclusive evidence as to what she thinks of the extreme cruelty of her mother's husband, for she was married long after the alienation was complete. My son moreover, as high spirited a lad as ever lived, is my daily companion and chum, so even when a home is wrecked a man who has saved this from the debris is not such a loser after all."

SARAH BERNHARDT MAY NOT SURVIVE UNTIL TOMORROW

Greatest of All Actresses Has Had Serious Relapse and May Not Recover.

VERY WEAK.

PARIS, March 26 (Canadian Press). — Mme. Sarah Bernhardt had a sinking spell at 5.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

All the physicians in attendance upon her came hurriedly to the bedside, although previously it had been arranged that there should be no consultation between them until to-day.

PARIS, March 26. — Mme. Sarah Bernhardt is slowly sinking, and it is feared the end is near.

But as the world's greatest actress, and, in deed, one of the world's greatest women, steadily glides from the wings of life toward the great stage of the invisible to-morrow, the voices of her immortal "Camille" and her never-to-be-forgotten "L'Aiglon" are calling.

Relatives and other members of the household were gathered at the bedside of Bernhardt this afternoon. Her doctors fear she will not live out the night During the day the great actress became delirious, and as those who loved her stood weeping nearby, they heard Bernhardt, stage of th invisible to-morrow, the perhaps for the last time, in the role which brought the world to her feet.

Pathos of Sunset.

In her delirium, the great actress imagined herself again on the stage. While her body was slowly perishing, her soul spoke. She recited in the voice which kings, princes, and the people of the world had acclaimed the dramatic roles of the days when she was the queen of the stage.

Mme. Bernhardt had declared that she had hoped to die upon the stage. If her present illness proves the end, this will be denied her, but as cable and wireless flashed to the ends of the earth the news of the sinking of the great actress, it was not alone those at the bedside, but the world which was Bernhardt's last audience.

In addition to Bernhardt's regular physician, specialists were called and a consultation of six of the leading physicians of Paris were scheduled for six o'clock. It developed that one of Mme. Bernhardt's kidneys has been infected for the past thirty years. She is now 76 years old, and with the existing complications her condition is regarded as little short of desperate.

Aiding Heart Action.

At five o'clock it was announced that the physicians had resorted to injections of camphor as an aid to heart action. A half hour later Bernhardt was declared to have regained consciousness for a short time. Her son Maurice, standing nearby, she immediately recognised.

"I am very weak, but I am not suffering. Don't worry," Bernhardt said to him.

Bernhardt's secretary came from the room for a few moments. She said:

"She is very bad, poor, beloved madame. I cannot say more."

Uraemic poisoning has steadily become worse since Thursday, it was learned. The physicians declare that unless the crisis terminates to-day, the issue will be fatal.

ANGUS SHOPS CLOSE

MONTREAL, March 26. (Canadian Press.) — The angus shps of the Canadian Pacific Railway here, closed down on Friday night, and will not reopen until April 3rd. Notices to this effect have been posted in the shops by the company. Approximately 3,000 men are affected.

The long stoppage is the consequence of an arrangement between the company and the employees under which the men, instead of submitting to a reduction of the staff, suggested that everyone should be retained and the work spread out as far as possible.

PRINCESS MARY'S BABY CHRISTENED AT GOLDSBOROUGH

Was Named George Henry Hubert — King George and Queen Mary Chief Sponsors.

CRIED LUSTILY.

GOLDSBOROUGH, Yorkshire, Eng., March 26.—(Canadian Press). —The Archbishop of York yesterday christened "Baby Lascelles," the infant son of Viscount Lascelles and Princess Mary, in the presence of King George and Queen Mary and other members of the royal household, and villagers and tenants and dependents of the Harewood estate of Viscount Lascelles, who were given the preference over visitors to the village, desirous of witnessing the ceremony.

The christening took place after the morning service in the little village church. It was a quiet and simple ceremony; the only incident was the lusty crying of the baby, which could be heard throughout the church. The infant was given the name George Henry Hubert Lascelles.

King George and Queen Mary were the chief sponsors. Present with them at the baptismal font were two other sponsors, the Countess of Harewood and Colonel Lane-Fox. Four additional sponsors, who were represented by proxies, are Dowager Queen Alexandra, Lady Patricia Ramsay, the Earl of Harewood and General Sir George Higginson. After the baptism, King George and Queen Mary and the Countess of Harewood and Colonel Lane-Fox planted memorial trees on the Harewood estate in honor of the infant.

Thousands of visitors came to the village from the surrounding country in the hope that they would be able to gain admission to the christening, but as the village church only seats about 250, they met with disappointment.

A Veteran Real Estate Broker of Toronto Tells of Remarkable Restoration By Tanlac.

James Burns, 20 St. Albans Street, retired real estate broker, is still another man of prominence in the business and civil affairs of Toronto to speak out in behalf of Tanlac. Mr. Burns, or "Dad," as he is known throughout Toronto, is now seventy-three years of age, but says:

"No one takes me for seventy-three now, and I feel every bit as active and energetic as I did forty years ago.

"Before taking Tanlac, however, my weight fell off from one hundred and sixty to one hundred and thirty pounds, and I had begun to feel the hand of 'Old Father Time' laying heavily on me. I seldom ate more than one meal a day, and that caused me hours of misery. Nights I would pace the floor too nervous to sleep, and many days I felt too worn-out to dress and go out anywhere.

"I don't believe I could have ever pulled up to where I am now if it hadn't been for the Tanlac treatment. It has restored my health completely and built me up to one hundred and sixty-five pounds. Tanlac is the best investment I ever made."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.

NATURAL RESOURCES OF CANADA ARE GOING TO OTHER COUNTRIES

Metals Mined in Northern Ontario Are Refined and Worked Elsewhere.

NICKEL MINES.

MONTREAL, March 26 (Canadian Press). — Emphasising that Canada was getting little, if any, benefit out of its great mineral resources, E. A. Lapierre, M.P. for Nipissing, who addressed the Reform Club here on Saturday, pointed out that while the International Nickel Company had in 1917 distributed $13,000,000 in dividends, and while 85 per cent. of the world's nickel production was made in the Sudbury district, that town had only 8,000 inhabitants, and outside the $500,000 annually paid to the Ontario Government in revenue by the Nickel Company, almost nothing reverted to the Dominion.

Somewhat similar conditions prevailed, he said, in the great gold, copper, and silver mines of Northern Ontario. He gave it as his profound conviction that Canadians should insist that all metals mined in the Dominion should be refined to the final stage in this country so that Canada will at least have obtained a fair share of her natural resources, since it would be years before our export trade would bring higher prices.

Northern Ontario showed the largest exposure of mineral wealth of any country in the world, and more than all countries combined.

In addition to minerals, there were forest resources and water powers.

FARM LABORERS AND OWNERS ARE AT ODDS

They suggested, however, a three months' truce in order to place the whole agricultural problem before the Government, and asked that wages during the truce by 2s shillings for fifty hours' work The employers' representatives undertook to submit the proposal to their executive.

L. R. STEEL LAID TO REST IN BUFFALO

Simple Ceremonies Marked the Burial of Former Magnate.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 26. — Leonard Rambler Steel was buried in the Forest Lawn Cemetery Saturday afternoon.

His funeral was conducted with simplest of ceremonies. Rev Walter Lloyd, Episcopalian minister, officiated. His services comprised the reading of several passages of scripture, and the declaration: "We bring nothing into this world when we are born and we take nothing out when we die."

A Masonic quartette sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," and "Gathering Home." During the ceremony Mrs. Steel and her son were upstairs in a bedroom.

The pallbearers were: Abner S. Stengel, Willis G. Hickman, J. O. Dozois, E. B. Cochem, Wesley M. Hanson and W. A. Ralzworth.

At least 200 of former Steel employes attended and employes also 75 motor cars joined in the funeral procession.

The honorary pallbearers were: Walter M. Wilkine, Peter White, K.C., of Toronto; Henry W. Killeen, Dr. Harris J. Frank, of Chicago; W. A. McMaurice, of Cleveland; E. C. George, present manager of the Steel Company; J. S. Bogan, manager of the Steel cafeteria; J. F. Roher, P. L. Chase, M. Hanson, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; G. H. Schacht of Middleton, Pennsylvania, Steel's birth place and J. L. Aronson, of Pittsburg.

Among the many floral tributes were a wreath of roses from employes of the Steel firm. There were several wreaths from friends in Kansas City and a basket of roses and lilies from the chain store girls. Members of the Steel cafeteria sent a wreath of roses.

After the services at the home, the funeral cortege wended its way to Forest Lawn cemetery.

Wife Beside the Grave.

Here in a canvas enclosure the last rites were performed on Leonard Steel's body. Mrs. Steel and her boy, Philip, stood beside the open grave, Once again the Masonic Temple quartette sang and at this time Mrs. Steel collapsed in hysterics. She had to be supported by friends.

The rest of the service was interrupted by her sobbing.

Slowly the casket was lowered into the grave, and Mrs. Steel had to be restrained from falling on her knees over the tomb.

The tent was crowded with people and some fifty stood outside. After the service was completed, they made way for Mrs. Steel. She was the first one to leave, supported on either side by her friends. She sobbed continuously until she reached the seclusion of her limousine and was taken back to the Getzville home.

Among the many letters of sympathy received by Mrs. Steel was the following one from James Boane, of Montreal, a friend and business associate of the late promoter:

"I send you my heartfelt sympathy in your hour of bereavement. To have enjoyed the friendship of Leonard R. Steel I hold as one of the greatest privileges of my life. He was a man with the love of his kind in his heart. In the United States there are greater men, but no one was braver or more picturesque. He died in his sleep, but, perhaps, even death would have hesitated to take him with his head up and his face to the world. Yours, in sympathy, James V. Boane."

ACCIDENT AT LEVEL CROSSING MAY END IN FATAL RESULTS

Auto Demolished By Train and Three Occupants Are Not Expected to Live.

WHISTLE SOUNDED.

SARNIA, March 26. (Canadian Press.) — A level crossing accident which may have fatal results occurred at the Plympton town line crossing about 12 miles from this city, on Saturday afternoon, when an auto containing George Borrowman, and Mrs. Reuben Munro of Wyoming, and Mrs. Wellington Dennis of Sarnia, was struck by a Grand Trunk train en rotue from Wyoming to Petrolea. The three passengers were so seriously hurt that only slight hopes are held out for their recovery, particularly Mrs. Dennis of this city, who was thrown 12 feet into the air by the force of the impact. Borrowman was driving the car and the two ladies were in the back seat. The party was on the way to attend a funeral.

Borrowman was dragged 25 feet, and the car thrown into a ditch filled with water, and it is said that only an operation can save his life. The injured trio were taken to the nearby farmhouse of H. Hunter after the crash, and Borrowman was subsequently taken to the hospital at Petrolia. The ladies are still at the farmhouse

The train was in charge of Conductor T. Johnson and Engineer McLeod. The former claims that the whistle and the bell were sounded before the crossing was reached, and when the car was seen the brakes were jamed on, but it was too late to avoid the accident. The side curtains were up on the auto, and it is believed that the driver did not see the approaching train until it was nearly on the tracks, and then tried to get across in front of it as the rear end of the auto was struck.

Mr. Nolin has pressed upon the authorities at the provincial capital the necessity for their extermination.

MORE SETTLERS COME TO CANADA

OTTAWA, Ont., March 26.— (Canadian Press.) — There was an increase of 51 per cent. in the immigration into Canada for February just past over the corresponding month of last year. The increase is in the influx from Great Britain and from "other countries," while the number of settlers from the United States has fallen off. The total immigration for the month was 3,290, as compared with 2,183 for February, 1922.

From Britain there came 1,316 as compared with 509 a year ago; from the United States 722 as compared with 1,078 a year ago; and, from "other countries" 1,212 as compared with 586 a year ago. For the eleven months ended with February there has been a decline from 84,451 for the period closing with February, 1922 to 66,130 for the corresponding period closing at the end of last month.

FIRE AT RIMBY

EDMONTON, Alta., March 26. — (Canadian Press) — The business section of Rimby, 15 miles east of Lacombe, was swept by a disastrous fire on Saturday The fire started in the office of the Windsor Hotel, and quickly spread to the adjoining buildings, wiping out practically the entire business section.

The occupants of the hotel had a narrow escape, several being scorched in the rush for safety. This is the third disastrous fire at Rimby this winter. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

BRANTFORD HAD A SERIOUS FIRE ON SUNDAY MORNING

CAUSE UNKNOWN.

BRANTFORD, Ont., March 26 (Canadian Press).—Fire which broke out shortly after five o'clock yesterday morning totally destroyed the factory of the Brandon Shoe Company, 125 Pearl Street, and a house, 127 Pearl Street, causing a loss estimated at $200,000, partially covered by insurance.

The cause of the fire has not been determined.

The blaze was one of the most spectacular seen in Brantford for many years, the flames lighting up the sky for miles around. Dense clouds of smoke, caused by the burning leather, kept driving the firemen back from the building. Sparks from the blaze were carried on to the roofs of nearby houses, and the firemen also had to watch these.

Only through the most strenuous efforts of the department, was the blaze confined to the one spot.

The fire was discovered in the stockroom by the night watchman, at 5.10 a.m. He stated that he had endeavoured to enter the office to 'phone for the fire truck, but that the flames and smoke drove him away from the instrument, with the result that he had to run over to the roofing company to turn in the alarm.

A Brandon, president of the company, stated that the insurance carried would not cover the loss, but would not give any figures.

Approximately 80 persons are thrown out of work by the fire, the majority of them being girls.

An investigation will be held to determine the cause of the fire.

NO HARM IN ASKING ANYWAY.

The resolution originating with the Hamilton Council that the Ontario Government be asked to return to each municipality the amount of the amusement tax collected within its limits, to be expended upon public hospitals and charities, is about the same thing as ringing up a coal merchant and suggesting that he send along eight or ten tons of blackdiamonds at $10 a ton.

That is, it would be a splendid plan—for the municipalities—but, like the coal man, Hon. Peter Smith would not waste much time in saying "No."

Whatever merits may be contained in the proposal it is as clear as Hon. Mr. Drury is silent on the redistribution question that the Ontario Government would not even seriously consider the suggestion.

The Government, as a matter of fact, needs every cent it can get its hands on, and it will need more still if it keeps on appointing commissions to investigate each other and Hon. Mr. Biggs continues to build roads.

Hon. Peter Smith had to do some acrobatic figuring to show a surplus this year, and it does not require much stretching of the imagination to conjecture how he would receive a proposal that he turn back the amusement tax to the municipalities.

However, there is no harm in asking anyway, and that is why the resolution is being adopted by most councils to whom a copy of it has been sent.

NO MONEY FOR HEALTH.

The contention that municipal governments, as a rule, are lax in their consideration of health matters is borne out by the announcement that because there are no funds available the proposed amalgamation of the various local health agencies under the direction of the Board of Health will have to be abandoned.

The sorry feature about it is not so much that the undertaking will not be carried out this year—for it was realized that the agitation for economy in civic affairs would have to be contended with—but rather that the whole matter was completely overlooked by the Aldermen and no provision whatever had been made in the Budget.

Here was the most business-like and comprehensive plan for the co-ordination of the health activities of the community yet to be brought forward in Peterborough. The details had been discussed at several meetings and were fully reported by the Examiner, and yet the city fathers had failed even to consider the possibilities of the scheme.

Thre is no department of civic administration more vitally important than that of health, and usually there is no department that is so starved as regards funds or so neglected as regards the attention paid it by the City Council.

Most communities as a result would be in a bad way were it not for the splendid efforts of the voluntary associations who are doing the work that should to a great extent at least be done by the city government.

CLASS LEGISLATION.

With a good deal of reason, the Examiner believes the announcement made by Hon. R. H. Grant, Minister of Education, in the Legislature last week in regard to the operation of the Adolescent School Attendance Act in the rural sections of Ontario is being attacked as most strongly savouring of class discrimination.

The Minister informed the House that he would move an amendment to the Act, making it optional for the parents of rural pupils between the ages of 14 and 16 years to send them to school or keep them at home as they may consider expedient.

There will undoubtedly be a strong demand from many people in urban communities that a similar privilege be given them as is being extended to rural families.

For there is much opposition to the Act in the cities even if there is, of course, a large measure of support for the Act.

Many heads of families have not accepted the principle of the measure without a protest, and the introduction of a relaxation in the enforcement of the legislation in favour of rural pupils will undoubtedly increase the disfavour in which the Adolescent Act is held by many citizens.

If it is a hardship for a farmer to be deprived of the services of his children when such services are needed, the man of limited means in the city is undoubtedly handicapped to an equal or greater degree, and he has as much right to consideration.

Hartley Dewart's warning that the Minister's proposal would not "go down" in the cities is undoubtedly a correct summary of the situation.

If the Act is to be changed, then everybody should be treated alike.

The tinkering that is suggested by the Minister of Education is simply class legislation, and it represents a rather remarkable change of front by the Government.

TAXATION INEQUALITIES.

The Canadian Research Institute in its advocacy of a Canadian tax conference continues to supply the public with many striking figures as to the methods of taxation used in Canada.

The latest bulletin received by the Examiner deals with the question of Provincial taxation of public utilities, and the details are given for the different Provinces.

A comparison of the systems used show that in not one instance is there a uniform tax base in all the Provinces in connection with any public utility taxed.

For instance, some choose a percentage on gross earnings; some a percentage on fixed capital; some a flat rate based on the number of offices of the company, or the mileage over which it operates, but in no case is there uniformity throughout Canada.

Even where a similar base happens to be used in two or more Provinces there is a variation as to the amount of tax levied.

Taxation of this kind suffers from the great defect of inequality, both as between the various classes of business and as between the different Provinces.

It is obvious that the existing variations make conditions decidedly difficult and inconvenient for Canadian business, and it is equally plain that if it were possible to arrive at one fair tax base for each kind of corporation taxed and have this base adopted by all the Provinces, the result would mean much to the business interests of this country.

The inequitable nature of the present system furnishes another reason for the conference on taxation which the Research Institute is so vigorously urging as a vital necessity.

POLICE COMMISSION.

There is a persistent agitation to meddle with the personnel of the police commission, which consists of the mayor, the police magistrate and the senior county judge. On a former occasion an attempt was made to abolish this system altogether, and in its place have a police commission consisting of three elected members. The Legislature failed to see the advantage of such a change, however, and new tactics have been adopted. The object of the bill now before the Ontario assembly is the same as that previously rejected by that body. The purpose is to bring outside pressure to bear on the administration of police affairs.

In addition to the board of three members, as constituted at present, it is sought to appoint two additional members, to be elected at large. What the benefit of such addition will be it is not easy to discover. Indeed, it is more likely to prove detrimental than beneficial. The commission of three has worked smoothly and efficiently, and there is no cause for dissatisfaction. To tack on these two extra members would be to add the superfluous fifth wheel; to use another metaphor, it is introducing the apple of discord into an harmonious situation.

The police commission is emphatically a body which ought to be removed from all danger of political manipulation or factional influence of any kind. Two commissioners of prejudiced views might work great mischief. The city's interests are adequately protected by the presence on the commission of the mayor, elected by the citizens and acting on their behalf. Where is the necessity for interfering with the existing arrangements, and whence arises this demand for a change?—Hamilton Spectator.

ALBERTA COAL FOR ONTARIO.

The House of Commons has adopted a resolution by Mr Church, of Toronto, providing for an inquiry by its standing committee on mines and minerals into the coal situation in Canada. Such an investigaton is highly desirable. And reason exists for hope that it may not be unprofitable.

Discussion is now proceeding as to the practicability of bringing coal from Alberta to Ontario. Alberta coal already being mined is pronounced a satisfactory fuel and it is declared that all kinds of coal, including the finest anthracite, await the miner's pick in the western provnce. The difficulty is the long haul to Ontario. Estimates are being made which suggest that this coal could be carried to Ontario at a rate sufficiently low to permit its marketing at a reasonable price.

The Edmonton Journal contends that with a large volume of traffic, coal could be shipped as cheaply as wheat. The rate on wheat from Edmonton to Fort William is 26 cents a hundred pounds or $5.20 a ton, and the water rate from Fort William to Georgian Bay ports is $1.33 a ton, making a total rate from Edmonton to Georgian Bay $6.53. The Journal continues:

> Mr. Chard, the Provincial Government's traffic expert, has pointed out that on a shipment of 50 cars of 40 tons straight through to Ontario by rail, at a rate of $6 per ton, the railways earnings per train mile would be $5.26. The freight earnings of the C.P.R. in 1920 were $5.82 per train mile in Western Canada and operating expenses on all kinds of traffic $3.88. The return haul of the coal cars is overlooked in this calculation But even so, it is evident from these figures and from others that have been presented, that the railways would find it well worth their while to make a very serious investigation as to whether it would not be good business for them to establish a coal rate which would make it possible to sell the Alberta product in Ontario at a price somewhere near that mentioned.

Again, it is pointed out by Edmonton members of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy that the rate on coal from Edson, Alberta, to Prince Rupert, through the mountains, is $3.40 a ton and that if this rate were applied on a ton mile basis to Toronto shipments could be made there at $8 a ton. They also observe that the Prince Rupert rate is on car lots and that a lower rate would be possible on train lots with a fast service. The provincial trade commissioner of Alberta claims that the railways could make a profit on coal to Toronto at $6. And the Edmonton paper maintains that at that rate the Alberta coal could be sold in Ontario at $11 a ton. If there is any question as to the quality of the Alberta coal it can be easily answered. A member of the Alberta Legislature has suggested that the Alberta Government send a train load of coal to Ontario to satisfy Ontario people that it is as good as American coal. Perhaps such a demonstration should encourage the investigators to solve the problem of haulage.

There is enough evidence and opinion on the subject to justify a thorough and earnest investigation. Central Canada has experienced during the past winter, and in other winters, too, the unreliability of the American coal supply. And on top of this experience there are warnings that cannot be ignored as to the danger of the United States cutting off Canada altogether in time of emergency.

If it is at all possible for this country to procure independence of the United States in the matter of coal it should be done—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The worst of it is that people will have to start worrying about next winter's coal supply before the present winter has taken its departure.

About the only immigrants Canada is getting just now are a few robins. And they look sorry they decided to try their luck in this country.

A Toronto weekly has published a list of the most famous Canadian women. There was no mention of Alberta Coal, frequently mentioned in Parliament these days.

If some of the Progressive members feel as they talk about the West they ought to be glad to serve at Ottawa without any indemnity at all.

Patronizing home industry is a policy occasionally frowned upon by liquor enforcement officers. Sometimes they, however, take over a still as a going concern.

TWO CAR FERRIES COLLIDED ON LAKE.

COBOURG, March 26. — During a dense fog that hung over Lake Ontario, the two big steamers of the Ontario Car Ferry Company collided a few miles out from Cobourg Harbour.

Both boats have been very busy moving freight between Cobourg and Genessee Dock, New York State.

Ontario No. 1, Capt. Redfern in command, left here about 10.30, and when about twelve miles out, met Ontario No. 2, Capt. McCaig in command, headed for Cobourg.

The two boats came together, and a part of the bow of No. 1 was badly dented, and some eleven plate rails on No. 2 were damaged.

The collision occurred about midnight, and both boats returned during the night to the harbour here.

Although it is not considered that the damage is so very heavy, they may both be sent to Kingston for repairs, when the ice is out sufficiently to permit of this.

Unofficially, it is stated that No. 2 may be able to continue on the route.

The two big steamers have been very busy the past winter, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather.

In case the ice refuses to harden again, another place must be tried out. A suggestion, which could be worked out both pleasantly and profitably is that on July 1st, a Gala Day with sports (both land and water, be held and advertised extensively. It is certain that with careful management, live committees and everyone boosting and nobody knocking, the Band would be able to be a great asset to the community as it has been in the past and would be in the future.

Served 21 Years in Canadian Militia

SERGT. G. T. SALTER

One of the veteran members of the Regimental Band, and who was recently presented with a Long Service Medal to which every man is entitled after serving 21 years in the militia. Like all successful musicians he began young and at the first of the ladder, playing the small drum when a mere lad in the Warkworth Band which at that time was under the leadership of George Bensley.

The Sergeant has seen the world and has come through three wars. He served three years in the United States Infantry, putting in his time in California nad in the Philippian Islands When the Band, of which he was a member returned to America, the members spent a week in Japan, playing before the aristocrats in that kingdom and also stopped at the Hawaian Islands where they had the honour of making melody for the entertainment of the former famous ruler, Queen "Lil."

Sergeant Salter joined the Campbellford band in 1905 when the late James Dickson was leader. He was only 15 years old when he went to camp as bugler with the local company of militia. On February 5th, 1915, he enlisted for overseas served with the 39th Battlion He was invalided home in November, 1917, and on February 5th, 1918, received an hopourable discharge. He is at present a member of the Alpha Bible Class Orchestra of the Methodist Church. Every time the Regimental Band appears at a public function, the programme is almost invariably includes a solo number by the Sergeant.

The Sergeant is still a bachelor. He explains this circumstance to his frineds by saying he has always doubted the possibility of preserving domestic felicity in a household in which the head of the family spent his leisure hours performing on a wind instrument.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

The PRIDE of PALOMAR

By Peter B. Kyne

The Parkers had followed more decorously than had Farrel; nevertheless, they had arrived in more or less of a hurry. John Parker rode directly to Conway and Farrel

"Well, Mr. Conway," he shouted pleasantly, "the lost sheep is found again."

"Whereat there is more rejoicing in San Marcos County than there will be over the return of some other sheep—and a few goats—I know of. How do you do, Mr. Parker?" Conway extended his hand, and, as Kay and her mother rode up, Farrel begged their permission to present him to them. Followed the usual commonplaces of introduction, which Farrel presently interrupted.

"Well, you confounded old ditch-digger! How about you?"

"Still making little rocks out of big ones, son. Say, Mr. Parker, how do we stack up on this contract that Little Boy Blue is back on the Palomar, blowing his horn?"

"Oh, he's put a handful of emery dust in my bearings, confound him, Mr. Conway! It begins to look as if I had leaped before looking."

"Very reprehensible habit, Mr. Parker. Well—Im getting so old and worthless nowadays that I make it a point to look before I leap. Mike, my son, do you happen to be underwriting this contract?"

"The liquid assets of the present owner of that dirt you're making so free with, Mr. Conway, total exactly sixty-seven dollars and nine cents. And I never though the day would come when a pair of old-time Californians like us would stoop to counting copper pennies. Before I joined the army, I used to give them away to the cholo children, and when there were no youngsters handy to give the pennies to, I used to throw them away."

"Yes," Bill Conway murmured sadly. "And I remember the roar that went up from the old-timers five years ago when the Palace Hotel in San Francisco reduced the price of three fingers of straight whisky from twenty-five cents to fifteen. Boy, they're crowding us out."

"Who's been doing most of the crowding in San Marcos County while I've been away, Mr. Conway?" Farrel queried innocently.

"You don't tell me! Why, two years ago there wasn't a Jap in San Marcos County with the exception of a couple of shoemakers and a window-washing outfit in El Toro."

"Well, those hombres aren't mending shoes or washing windows any more, Miguel. They saved their money and now they're farming—garden-truck mostly. There must be a thousand Japanese in the county now—all farmers or farm-laborers. They're leasing and buying every acre of fertile land they can get hold of."

"Have they acquired much acreage?"

"Saw a piece in the El Toro Sentinel last week to the effect that nine thousand and twenty acres have been alienated to the Japs up to the first of the year. Nearly all the white men have left La Questa valley since the Japs discovered they could raise wonderful winter celery there."

"But where do these Japanese farmers come from, Mr. Conway?" Parker inquired. "They do not come from Japan because, under the gentlemen's agreement, Japan restricts emigration of her coolie classes."

"Well, now," Bill Conway began judicially. "I'll give Japan the benefit of any doubts I have as to the sincerity with which she enforces this gentlemen's agreement. The fact remains, however, that she does not restrict emigration to Mexico, and, unfortunately, we have an international boundary a couple of thousand miles long and stretching through a sparcely settled, brushy country. To guard our southern boundary in such an efficient manner that no Jap could possibly secure illegal entry to the United States via the line, we would have to have sentries scattered at hundred-yard intervals and closer than that on dark nights. The entire standing army of the United States would be required for the job. In addition to the handicap of this unprotected boundary, we have a fifteen-hundred-mile coast-line absolutely unguarded. Japanese fishermen bring their nationals up from the Mexican coast in their trawlers and set them ashore on the southern California coast. At certain times of the year, any landlubber can land through the surf at low tide; in fact, ownerless skiffs are picked up on the south-coast beaches right regular y."

"Well, you can't blame the poor devils for wanting to come to this wonderful country, Mr. Conway. It holds for them opportunities far greater than in their own land."

"True, Mr. Parker. But their gain is our loss, and, as a matter of common sense, I fail to see why we should accord equal opportunity to an unwelcome visitor who enters our country secretly and illegally. I grant you it would prove too expensive and annoying to make a firm effort to stop this illegal immigration by preventive measures along our international boundary and coast-line, but if we destroy the Jap's opportunity for profit at our expense, we will eliminate the main incentive for his secret and illegal entry, which entry is always very expensive. I believe seven hundred and fifty dollars is the marker-price for smuggling Japs and Chinamen into the United States of America."

"But we should take steps to discover these immigrants after they succeed in making entry——"

WORLD TO-DAY BETTER THAN BEFORE THE WAR

Following the regular business meeting of St. Peter's Holy Name Society, held at St. Alphonsus Lyceum yesterday afternoon, an interesting debate was heard. Members of the junior branch of the society argued pro and con. for a resolution which asserted that the world's condition to-day was better than before the Great War. The affirmative received the decision, with Leo Masterson and Jos. Paquette upholding its arguments, the negative being taken by Fred Hodgson and Leo Richea. The judges were Rev. J. Collins, Messrs. F. R. J. MacPherson and V. O'Connell. Mr. A. Doherty, president of the society, occupied the chair.

NORMA TALMADGE'S "MANNERS"

(By NORMA TALMADGE)

Visiting has its own code, and it is a very complicated one, depending upon whom, when, where and why. It one is to undertake all the obligations of a complete social existence, one must master this code in all its details. But, whatever one's estate, there are certain visits he must pay and he should pay them gracefully.

Visits.

1.—A visit of congratulation should be paid to the new mother and a gift always should be presented to the baby.

2.—In calling to inquire for the sick, one invariably asks to be received, and it is pleasing to take flowers or books as a gift.

3.—One pays a visit of condolence at once, except that a woman does not call on a man, but instead writes him a note of sympathy.

5.—In large cities neighbors seldom call on each other, but in the country and smaller places older residents should call upon newcomers.

MAKE THE BACKYARD PAY

Hotbeds and Cold Frames As Backyard Food Factories.

By William R. Beattie.

"Fresh vegetables from the garden every day in the year" is the slogan of garden enthusiasts the country over.

At first thought this would seem impossible, but by careful planning, planting and cultivating, aided by the use of a small hotbed and a coldframe the seemingly impossible can be accomplished throughout that portion of the country where the winter climate is not too severe.

A small hotbed, consisting of concrete or brick walls covered by about four or five standard 3 x 6-foot hotbed sash can be built on the south side of the garage or attached directly to the side of the dwelling.

Heat for warming the bed can be supplied by a coil of pipe or radiator connected to the house or garage heating system.

With the development of improved hot water heaters, burning oil or hard coal, such as are used for heating poultry brooder houses, there is splendid opportunity for the development of beds.

The heater should in all cases be placed, in a separate compartment or pit at the end of the botbed on account of the danger of gases being given off which would injure the plants.

One of the best arrangements of the heating pipes is to have them on the walls of the bed just a little below the sash. In some cases the pit is made four to six feet in depth and the heater pipes run underneath a floor which is supported upon a ledge built in the walls about 18 inches below the glass.

Interest to Poultry Raisers

(By J. ABRAHAM)

There is much confusion among beginners and young poultry breeders concerning inbreeding as to the profitable effects it may have on the progeny. Many beginners studiously avoid inbreeding because they have the idea it must not be practised at all if they are to succeed in the larger sense, and so long as they are novices as breeders that is true; the poultry keeper who is not a good judge of the individual type and quality, who does not know just exactly what point he lacks or what he is after in his breeding operations, had better leave inbreeding alone. He had better try in practising cross-breeding, which is mateing of unrelated birds. But where a breeder has a definite goal in mind, such as retaining the qualities already secured in a certain individual, or the intensifying of a desirable blood line, the man who is competent and a skilled judge of breed, type and quality can always resort to inbreeding to his great advantage. There is no crime in inbreeding, no certain or tremendous loss in vitality and type, so long as the operation is in the hands of the skilled breeder. Great care and selection of the very best and most vigorous individuals must be constantly practised. However, nature itself is a great inbreeder, especially among fowl life, but it should be remembered that in nature the survival of the fittest tends to perpetuate only the strongest and most virile of individuals, and it may be because man has failed to cull out the undesirables that he often comes to grief when he tries to practice inbreeding.

Line breeding, which is the intensifying or the diminishing of a desirable characteristic, but always the perpetuation of it, and which is practised by almost every successful poultry breeder, is nothing more than an intelligent inbreeding; it is an intensive inbreeding until the line has been established or the desirable characteristics intensified in the blood of the progeny. The success or failure of either line or inbreeding depends solely in selecting the proper individuals for each mating.

It must ever be kept in mind that while you are intensifying the desirable characteristics, you are at the same time intensifying the undesirable qualities of your individuals. Therefore the breeder's work at all times is to discover the faults of his fowls, to anticipate them, and to so make up his breeding pen as to overcome the undesirable, this work needs to be exacting and calls for great skill and caution. There are poultry breeders who have made a great success in poultry culture, both as to heavy layers, utility and the establishment of desirable breed characteristics, who at one time or the other have had to resort to inbreeding to secure same.

MR. GORDON ON REDISTRIBUTION

The Editor of the Examiner, City.
Dear Sir:—

I have observed an interview with the Press from Mr. J. H. Burnham and a letter from Mr. Brethen, M.P., of East Peterborough, regarding the matter of redistribuition and the probably effect it will have on this county.

Speaking from memory, the census shows that West Peterborough has between 30,000, and 31,000 of the population, and East Peterborugh some 13,000 odd. The people in East Peterborough, in the North East part, deal largely at Coe Hill, Madoc and Marmora, and some even through to Belleville. In the southern part of that Riding of course, they deal at Havelock, Norwood, Hastings or wherever it is most convenient. So the suggestion that the change of lines for redistribution purposes would effect in anyway the trade of the public seems to be rather far fetched.

In order to make West Peterboro the necessary unit, between six and seven thousand people require to be added, and extending the lines of West Peterborough from Clear Lake to Rice Lake, making it a complete rectangle, would include in West Peterborough, Douro, Lakefield, and Otonabee, which, are of course, closely associated in Peterborough City in it's trading and business dealings. This would leave a surplus in the East of some 7,000, and as North Hastings and Northumberland will be many thousands below their quota, the suggestion has been made, in some quarters, that these Townships for voting purposes be added to adjacent counties.

If Mr. Brethen's suggestion were accepted the population would be approximately 20,000 in the City of Peterborough, and some 24,000 outside.

There are some Ridings, possibly eight, which will require to disappear on account of the smallness of their population.

If Peterborough City had grown the last ten years, as it did the previous ten, it would have nearly reached the point of being able to claim a representative of it's own, and the rural district might have been considered as a separate unit.

Peterborough City being an industrial centre it will likely grow very rapidly, and having in consideration, the fact that the rural districts of East Peterborough and West Peterboough have shrunk in each decade, and with the steady growth of Peterborough City during the next ten years, the population of the whole County and City will be far in excess of what is the proper unit for one member to represent.

I am not tied up to any particular scheme of representation, but I expected, after Mr. Brethen having put his views before the public, I might be allowed to state what I understood of the situation.

West Peterborough is in the position of being the larger Riding, and the West Peterborough Riding of course, will be retained with some addition, and what addition that may be, of course, is not yet ascertained.

Youre truly,
G. N. GORDON.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—"A Friend of the Higher Critics" and of all mankind has replied in the true Boetian spirit to "Old-Timer." It is related of the Boetians, as, of course, your readers know, that in revenge upon the gods for having made them the source of perpetual laughter they dragged the divine beings down to their own level. That is what this "Friend of the Higher Critics" is doing. He says that the Bible may have authority without being infallible. He also says that the source of truth is man himself. Now we see why Ontario people are considered the Boetians of Canada. The things of the intellect and of the spirit have not been given to them. What they have they grow themselves. It is only fair to higher critics, however, to say that this "Friend" does not understand Higher Criticism. It is not as silly as he makes it out to be. But its attack on the Bible would leave us without a Bible, and in the very desert of desolation.

I thank "Friend" for his courtesy in replying, but I cannot do more. The ministry shirks the question.

Yours,
Old Timer.

Editor The Evening Examiner.
Dear Sir:

I notice your "broad cast message" signed by Thomas Tooms, dated Toronto, presumably from its wording and tenor, the gentleman who represents this constituency in the local house. I generally "taboo" newspaper information.

My letter to the Game and Fishery Department which called forth the amusement of the Game and Fishery Committee, complained of by Mr. Tooms, was written for the purpose of having the wording of the act, regarding maskinonge fishing, made as clear as possible. The legislative enactments are frequently worded in such a way as to make the construction impossible by laymen.

Indians and others, including tourists, have been put to much inconvenience, annoyance and expense, that might have been avoided, had the wording of some of the clauses been clearer. Indians cannot afford to pay fines, counsel fees and law costs. Citizens cannot afford to lose tourists. I wrote in the interest of sportsmen, not "pot hunters."

Answering Mr. Tooms' committees' query, "What sort of rod would be used for catching a thirty pound fish?"—this would depend on the fisherman. I will be pleased to show Mr. Tooms or the committee, my selection of maskinonge rods, including landing nets, gaffs, etc. The latter are accessories to landing a fish caught with a line and rod, known as angling. I prefer to use a two-piece, six-foot green hart for trolling, and a two-piece, fine foot steel rod for casting; to these, however, are attached lines and baits or lures, including flies.

Sportsmen use rods and lines for catching salmon, of weight, much in excess of thirty pounds. Tuna and other sea fish, some of them weighing two hundred and fifty pounds, are caught by sportsmen with rods and lines only. To qualify for club membership in many of the fishing clubs, one must first catch or kill fish of over a specified minimum weight, and it takes much time, skill and no little endurance to qualify for membership, amongst whom however, are a number of women.

I am pleased to know that Ishave contributed, doubtless, in a small way, to the amusement of the committee.

Had Mr. Tooms come to my office, I should have endeavored to, as he puts it, "tell him," it would have saved me some time possibly, whether or not I could have intelligently done so, would depend upon my driving power and his mentality.

DARING DEBATERS ON BOOSTING TOUR

BUFFALO, March 26. — You wouldn't think belonging to a debating club would imply heroism, would you?

But four youthful debaters of Canisius College here have embarked on the most hazardous enterprise ever undertaken in t ihs country — not excepting Daniel Boone's explorations or cross-country airplane flights.

These debaters are actually going into such booster-filled cities as Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Denver and San Francisco—

Without police protection—

Or secret service men—

And they're going to tell the people of those cities right out loud—

That Buffalo is the best city in the world to live in!

How's that for daring?

The Canisius College debaters will meet picked debating teams in Cleveland, Detroit, Toledo, Denver and San Francisco and debate formally on the question: Resolved, that Buffalo's advantages for development are unexcelled.

And they won't even carry a first-aid kit!

OUCH! RUB BACKACHE, STIFFNESS, LUMBAGO

Back hurts you? Can't straighten up without sudden pain, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica, or maybe from a strain, and you'll get relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil. Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on your back, and out comes the pain. It is harmless, and doesn't burn the skin.

Limber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest St. Jacobs Oil from any drug store, and after using it just once you'll forget that you ever had a backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints, and has been recommended for 60 years.

SAY MASHERS ARE RAPIDLY DISAPPEARING

Too Many Dainty Arms Concealing a Knockout Punch From Modern Athletic Girls.

POLICEWOMAN'S VIEW

CHICAGO, March 26—Thanks to the modern girl's ability to protect herself, the masher is rapidly disappearing and his day soon will be past.

Take that from America's first policewoman, Mrs. Alice Clement Faubel. She's now celebrating her 15th year of continuous service on the Chicago force.

In that time she's made 2,000 arrests—despite her comeliness and the kindly gleam in her eye.

"The American girl, active in gymnastic work, is teaching the masher a lesson," Mrs. Faubel says. "The masher nowadays looks before he leaps. There are too many dainty arms concealing a knockout punch."

Mrs. Faubel herself has dealt numerous wallops with her now famous well-timed right.

Marksman, Too.

And, besides, you'd be surprised to see with what facility she can hit a bullseye at 50 paces with the blue automatic she always carries in her purse.

"I'd rather catch a crook than eat," she confesses.

"I started out 25 years ago. At first I was a sort of silent investigator, doing whatever I could to aid just for fun. After that I was put on regular with a beat to patrol and everything else a cop has to do.

"I have had some rather squeaky escapes. But I've never had to shoot anybody."

Movie-Star Wardrobe.

Fifty hats, three fur coats and countless serge, satin and jersey frocks comprise but a small part of Mrs. Faubel's wardrobe. For a woman detective must have as many changes as a theatrical star. Often she must change several times each day.

Additional costumes besides those kept at headquarters are held in reserve for her at many downtown department stores to which she is frequently detailed on bargain days to ferret out shoplifters.

But the hats are most important, says Mrs. Faubel. Large and small, light and dark, of flappy brims and tailor made — nothing alters a woman's appearance so much as a change in headgear, she says.

Since joining the force Mrs. Faubel has been assigned mostly to the apprehension of woman law violators. Forgers, thieves, home wreckers and others of the kind have met her and succumbed.

The veteran policewoman has three daughters. And she's also a grandmother.

Making pickles is her hobby.

FOUND WONDERFUL RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION BY USING MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

Constipation is one of the most prevalent troubles the human race is subject to, and is the greatest cause of many of our ailments, for if the bowels cease to perform their proper functions all the other organs will become deranged.

Keep your bowels working gently and naturally by the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and thus do away with the constipation and all other troubles caused by it.

Mrs. A. R. Spence, Springhill, N. S., writes:—"I have suffered for some time from constipation, and was advised by a friend to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. After taking a vial of them I have found wonderful relief, and would advise all those who are constipated to give them a trial, for I feel sure they will also receive the same benefit I did."

INSTRUCTING THE BACKWARD CHILD

Miss Helen Bonnycastle Lucidly Outlines What is Being Accomplished.

The address on "The Instruction of Abnormal Children," given by Miss Helen Bonnycastle at the regular monthly meeting of the 57th Regimental Chapter I. O. D. E., held in the Armories on Thursday afternoon of this week, dealt mainly with what is being done through organized classes for children who in any way need special work and individual attention. Reference was made to the work in Toronto and in Rochester.

Classes are formed to help children who are deaf, who have defective eyesight, and those who, through illness and other causes, are unable to attend school regularly and who need individual work in order to help recover the work lost.

Reference was also made to the fine work done in the open air schools. These classes are held from April until November outdoors in large parks. The regular course of study is followed but particular attention is given to the health of the child, a doctor, nurse and dentist being in attendance. Classes are conducted also in hospitals for sick children. Little invalids confined, in many cases, to their beds for life, gain much enjoyment from being able to read.

The various classes are organized to help the pupils secure the best possible education to fit them for their life's work.

HER THREE CHILDREN HAD WHOOPING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but it is one of the most dangerous diseases of infancy, and yearly causes more deaths than scarlet fever, typhoid or diphtheria, and is more common in female than male children.

DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP

is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble as it helps to clear the clogged-up air passages of the mucous and phlegm that has collected, and in this way brings on the "whoop" which brings the so-much-sought-for relief and heals and soothes the lungs.

Mrs. H. W. Mahar, Kentville, N. S., writes; "My three children had whooping cough. I tried every medicine I could think of until an old gentleman told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Before they had one bottle taken the cough seemed better, and after two bottles they were about well. It loosened the cough and relieved them of that hard, distressing and strangling feeling that goes with it."

Dr. Wood's" is 35c, and 60c. a bottle. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful-and-attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

Two ladies who have been residents at the Counties Home for the Aged here for some time, have passed away, Miss Mary Ann Barn of Newtonville, was one of these, and Mrs. Greinshaw, formerly of Warkworth, another. The latter had reached an advanced age.

Local and Personal.

Miss Alford, public health nurse here, is holding her usual weekly baby clinic on Wednesday next week instead of Thursday, and will leave on Thursday to spend Easter at her home in Peterborough and attend the Graduate Nurses' convention before returning.

Mrs. Donald Macdonald, daughter of the late Hon. Wm. Ken, has returned from Ottawa, where she spent the past seven weeks with her cousin, Mrs. Frederick Lombart, of "Vine Lynne," Rideau Gate. While in Ottawa Mrs. Macdonald attended a number of society and official functions in connection with the opening of parliament, and the social season there, including the reception given by Lord and Lady Byng, and the reception given by the Prime Minister, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

It has been arranged to hold a union service in the Methodist church on Good Friday. On that evening the Methodist church choir will sing the Crucifixion.

Mr. Fred Green, Fenella, was at Orono during the week, where he spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sherwin, former residents of Fenella.

Mr and Mrs. W. McBride, who visited friends in Alnwick township and other points, have left to return to Moose Jaw.

Mr .A. L. Jex has returned from St. Petersburg, Florida, where he spent the winter months.

Mrs. George Armour and son have returned from the south, where they spent the winter months.

Mr. Douglas McCallum, Galt, and Mr. Peter McCallum, Gananoque, were in town the past week owing to the serious illness and death of their mother.

Dr. Marshall, chiropractor, has leased the Fox residence here on King street east.

Rev. James Skene, pastor of the Havelock Presbyterian church, who preached his farewell sermon on Sunday before removing to Norwich, is a former pastor of the Baltimore and Roseneath circuit.

Mrs. Evans, a former resident of Smithfield, passed away at the Counties Home for the Aged at the advanced age of 82 years.

The death took place suddenly at San Diego, Cal., on March 19th, of Agnes White, daughter of the late Elizabeth White of Port Hope.

The trucks coming into Cobourg from Toronto report the provincial highway between here and the city to be in very fair condition. Considerable merchandise is being brought into town that way.

Mr. John McCutcheon, of Clarke township, had an auction sale of his farm stock and implements on Friday last.

There was a small number of vendors in the town with farm produce to-day owing to the bad condition of the roads. Country roads are still full of snow drifts, and traffic detours through fields and over fences.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, it does the work without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief. 40c and 75c, at all druggists.

TO FORCE DOWN PRICE OF SUGAR

Powerful Party in United States Will Seek Legislative Action.

TORONTO, March 26.— (Canadian Press.)—Canadians, and especially Canadian housewives, have direct pecuniary interest in the agitation which is beng waged in the United States by the Peoples' Legislative Service in an effort to get sugar prices brought down to normal and to punish those whom it declares have brought about this price increase by artificial means.

Men in close touch with the sugar market and industry, when questioned last night, agreed that if speculators and manipulators in the United States succeed in driving the price up to twenty-five cents a pound, as it has been alleged they are determined to do, epople here would have to bear approximately the same price increase.

FORT FRANCIS, March 26. — (Canadian Press.—Asserting that United Shippers, Ltd., had failed to satisfy him that all liquor sold between December 13 and March 9th, went to United States, and that failure to enter all sales at customs house, gave reasonable ground for suspecting that some of the liquor sold stayed in Ontario or Canadian territory generally, police magistrate Hollands, just before midnight Saturday, convicted company of violating Ontario Temperance Act and imposed a fine of two thousand dollars, with cost, maximum.

SNOWSTORM TOOK ONTARIO UNAWARES

TORONTO, March 26. (Canadian Press.) — The snow storm sneaked into Ontario; with covert meanness it made its stealthy journey from the Pacific coast, across the continent to the Great Lakes, where it concentrated its forces with feverish haste and swept down on the unsuspecting countryside.

Purling freshets and faint promises of future flowers were buried under a fresh layer of snow. Old Geneal Winter, cunning and spiteful, deployed his armies from the prairie lands of the west. At the Meteorological office it was stated that the coming of the snow was not forecasted because the "area of low pressure" which had been travelling from the east did not become sufficiently defined until it reached the Great Lakes.

There were between three and four inches of snow last night in Toronto.

Using moldy seed corn costs Iowa alone $27,000,000 yearly and the habit should be easy to give up.

They Combat the Film

Those people you see everywhere with whiter, cleaner, safer teeth

Go now and ask for this delightful test. Learn how easy it is to fight film on teeth.

There is now a new method of teeth cleaning which millions have adopted. Dentists the world over now advise it. Careful people of some 50 nations now employ it daily. Find out what they know.

That dingy film

That viscous film you feel on teeth is their great enemy. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film. That's why teeth lose luster.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That's why few escaped tooth troubles.

Germs breed in film by millions. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Also of other serious troubles.

Old ways inadequate

No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats film. So the tooth brush left much film intact.

Dental science has now found two ways to fight that film. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. Those two film combatants were embodied in it for daily application.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. To millions of homes the world over it is bringing a new dental era.

Other new effects

Pepsodent does other things which research proves essential. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Thus Pepsodent gives manifold power to these great natural tooth-protecting agents.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

Some 50 nations use it now

This is part of a world-wide crusade for better tooth protection. Pepsodent is now used in homes of some 50 nations, largely by dental advice.

PETES DECIDE TO HELP LOCAL BALL DEVELOP

The Executive to Offer Its Assistance to Juvenile, Junior and Other Local Organizations.

ADOPT NEW POLICY.

As a result of a decision on the part of the Peterboro Baseball Club executive to lend their assistance to boosting the juvenile, junior and intermediate organizations in Peterboro baseball in this city is likely to be on a more harmonious and more effective basis this season than ever before.

Operating the senior team which of course drawn by far the biggest patronage, the executive have come to the conclusion that it is up to them to extend a fatherly care over the operations of the other less prosperous teams and they have decided upon a new policy this year that should materially help in the development of baseball.

It is the intention of the Peterboro Club to offer their services in governing with the assistance of some of the well known baseball enthusiasts the local league is looking after the organizations work and assisting the younger teams by supplying coaches and material. In addition the club will also undertake to financially assist the local teams in their O.B.A.A. campaigns.

There is of course no thought of handling or interfering with the management of the individual teams. That will be up to themselves, but the Peterboro club will be ready to do whatever is in its power to assist any or all of them.

Manager Jake Solomon is enthusiastic over the youngsters that are being developed and feels that the help of the senior club should be offered to them.

WEST HAM WILL PLAY IN FINALS

For the Third Time in Forty Years a London Team Will Be Represented.

LONDON, March 26.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The League struggles were eclipsed Saturday by the semi-finals in the competition for the association cup which were favored by gloriously fine weather.

West Ham's victory over Derby County was hailed as a remarkable performance, the Londoners displaying skill and power which only their most ardent supporters could have credited them capable of, for Derby County had not hitherto conceded a goal in the cuptie matches.

West Ham follows Tottenham and Arsenal as the third club to represent London in the football final for the cup went to the provinces many years ago. They never before have got through the fourth round in the competition whereas the Bolton Wanderers who will be their opponents have twice been defeated in the final. The Bolton eleven will prove very formidable opponents at Wembley.

Home teams were mostly in the ascendant Saturday in league games which were notable, too, for the fact that 27 clubs failed to score. London Arsenal had a splendid day, Crystal Palace and Charlton Athletic alone being under.

Liverpool avenged their defeat at Manchester the previous week and with Sunderland losing to Preston, the champions again have the lead by five points over their most dangerous rivals and they look like keeping it and becoming the champions for the second successive year.

NORMALS WON CHAMPIONSHIP

The Normal School team won the championship of the Girls' Basketball League at the Y.W.C.A. gym, on Saturday night, by defeating the C.G.E. team by the score of 9 to 4. The teams were tied at the end of the first period when the count stood 2 to 2.

In gaining the championship, the Normalites take possession for one year of the silver cup donated by G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., while C.G.E. the runner-up another silver trophy, donated by Mrs. E. E. Harvey, for one year.

In the league campaign the Normalites won five games and lost one contest the De Laval team registering the only defeat against the students. C.G.E. had a record of four wins and two losses, having been defeated twice by the Normalites.

The final game brought out a large number of spectators, made up of supporters of the two teams. Referee Frank Jobbitt had a hard game to handle, but he was equal to the occasion and did his work well. The teams are to be congratulated on the excellence of the play, which was free of intentional infractions of the rules. It was the best-played contest of the series.

Opening the first half, C.G.E. had the better of the play, and in forty-five seconds, Miss Dorothy Hayes served a beautiful field goal that brought a wild cheer from the team's supporters. C.G.E. continued to force the play but Normalites were checking closely. With the period well advanced a penalty shot by Miss Hamilton netted a point for the students, and another point followed on a second penalty against C.G.E., Miss Beard tieing the score just before the period ended.

After the rest, a merry contest ensued for the lead. Normalites went ahead on a third penalty, Miss Hamilton scoring making the count 3 to 2. A field goal by Miss Allison increased the lead. Miss Hamilton followed quickly with another basket putting the students well in front by 7 to 2. C.G.E. attempted a rally, Miss Hayes scoring her second field goal. C.G.E. missed a couple of shots, the ball on one occasion doing a half-circle on the iron rim of the basket. With two minutes to play, Miss Beard scored a neat field goal that made the game safe for Normal.

The teams:

Normal—Forwards, Misses Allison and Beard; centre Miss Hamilton; defence, Misses Mackey and Luther; spares, Misses Hill and Nickle.

C.G.E.—Forwards, Misses Hayes and Jackson; centre Miss Millard; defence, Misses Mesley and Burns; spares, Misses Ray and Reynolds.

PETES WILL PROPOSE AN INTERMEDIATE LOOP FOR THE CENTRAL LEAGUE

But Unless January Residence Rule and Double Schedule Are Adopted New League is Certainty

MEETING TO-MORROW

The Central Ontario League executive will meet here tomorrow in an effort to mend its fences and close up the rift caused by differences of opinion over the residence rule and the length of the playing season.

So far as Belleville, Peterboro and Cobourg are concerned the endeavor to keep them with the Central League fold depends upon whether or not the League is prepared to accept the O.B.A.A. residence rule of January 1, and a double schedule.

If the January 1st residence rule is adopted and there does not seem the slightest chance of the Central League retaining it membership in the O.B.A.A. unles it is—and a double schedule is decided upon the three club swill remain in the Central League.

Otherwise the organization of the new Senior League compromising Kingston, Belleville, Cobourg and Peterboro will be completed this week. The initial steps were taken on Saturday and all four clubs have agreed to affiliate with the new organization Arrangements have been made to meet at Belleville on Thursday and the plans are so far advanced that a handsome trophy has already been offered for competition among the "Big Four" teams.

At the meeting tomorrow the Peterboro Club will propose that the Central League adopt the January 1st residence rule and operate both senior and intermediate divisions. The senior division to consist of Kingston, Belleville, Cobourg Peterboro and any other of the Central League teams, who are willing to operate on a double schedule basis and the intermediate series to compromise the remaining Central League teams who admit that the January 1st rule would handicap them in the senior series, and who are adverse to anything but a single schedule. Into this intermediate series the C.G.E. team of Peterboro last years' intermediate series would be willing to accept a franchise and the feeling locally is that a compact well balanced and fast intermediate loop could be formed.

Sandy Lockington of Port Hope declared the other day that the situation in the Central League had reached a point where the bigger towns had either to be restricted to fewer games than they wanted or the smaller towns would go broke trying to keep up with the Jones.

By operating two divisions the League would be able to give the bigger towns all the baseball they demand and at the same time keep the game alive in the other towns of the circuit.

Unless some such compromise as this is decided upon there are rocks ahead for the League and Belleville, Cobourg and Peterboro will be driven out into another organization.

There is absolutely no use in expecting the fans of these places to subsist on a baseball menu of a game at home every two or three weeks, and so far as the Peterboro Club is concerned there is no intention of asking local enthusiasts to get along on such slender diet.

FAMOUS RACER DIED.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 26.—(Canadian Press).— Peter the Great, famous racing sire of the stable of Stoughton A. Fletcher, died here yesterday, following a stroke of paralysis.

One of the greatest money earners on the track during the racing career, the famous pacer, which held a mark of 2.07 3-4, was retired several years ago by Mr. Fletcher. Peter the Great sired 509 standard track performers, which is said to be more than twice the number sired by any other racing stallion. He was 28 years old and was purchased by Mr. Fletcher in 1916 for $50,000.

TORONTO CLOSE TO A FRANCHISE FROM THE MAJOR LEAGUE

Premature Publicity Has Spoilt Toronto's Chances to Replace the Boston Americans.

JOHNSON APPROVED.

The syndicate which did its little utmost to put Toronto on the major league map paid rather dearly for its venture, but the gentlemen who were interested in the enterprise are not complaining. But for the premature publication of the plans of the scheme and the opposition from President Navin of Detroit the transfer of the Boston Red Sox to this city might have been put over. For some reason or other the owner of the Tigers refused to sanction the deal.

Ban Johnson, president of the American League, and several of his associates were rather favorably inclined to the idea, more because of the fact that it would mean the ousting of Harry Frazee boss of the Red Sox, from the league than anything else. He is the most unpopular man in the big leagues, and the decline from grace of the erstwhile world's champion Boston club is largely attributed to his penny wise-pound foolish policy.

Frazee's regime at Boston has been marked by the selling of star after star, and apparently the success of the club on the field means nothing to him, but the financial aspect a great deal. He was willing to sell the club if the price was right, just as he sold the players when the conditions were to his liking.

The transaction which would have brought the Boston franchise to Toronto was nearer coming off than most people were inclined to believe. Lawyer Rubien of Boston, in forwarding his bill for services rendered, and it was no paltry sum pointed out in his covering that, but for the leakage from this end regarding the scheme, the syndicate might have been successful in its efforts. There was nothing visionary about it, but a perfectly bona fide attempt to give Toronto fans something that they have been longing for for many years—big league baseball.

NEW BALL LEAGUE IN TRENT VALLEY DISTRICT

HASTINGS, March 26.—Dr. J. H. Hess, manager of the Hastings baseball team, received a communication on Saturday from the secretary of the Brighton baseball team in regard to making arrangements for a new baseball league, comprising the following towns: Trenton, Brighton, Colborne, Campbellford, Warkworth and Hastings.

A meeting will be called in the near future to consider the new proposition.

This would make a strong organization, and the ball fans would be treated to some classy ball.

GRANITES HAVE HAD SUFFICIENT HOCKEY

TORONTO, March 26.— (Canadian Press.) —The Granite Hockey team, amateur champions of Canada, on their arrival here last night, confirmed that they would not play against Boston in the international series for the Wills Cup. Officers of the club explained that the players have had enough hockey and now that they are reasonably sure to represent Canada in the world's series at the Olympic, they point out that they will likely meet Boston there and can then settle the question of supremacy beyond argument.

It is perhaps fitting that the Granites, who were organized by returned soldiers such as Hugh Aird, Peck Wright, Harry Watson, Alex. Romeril, Hughey Fox and others, should go back to France as the representatives of Canada at the Olympiad. These men saw service in France under more trying conditions.

Boston A.A. Won U.S. Hockey Championship.

BOSTON, Mass., March 26.—(Canadian Press)—The Boston Athletic Association hockey team won the U.S.A.H.A. title Saturday night by defeating the St. Paul club, 2 goals to 1. In the finals for the championship the B.A.A. won three games and St. Paul, one.

Geran, of the Boston team, was the star of last night's game. Both Boston's goals were from his stick. All three goals were made in the first period. The other periods were hard fought, with Boston maintaining a solid defence against repeated attacks by St Paul.

CURLERS DISAPPOINTED

The curlers were unable to play their arranged games on Thursday evening between the Kentucky Wanderers and the East Side Ramblers as the ice was covered with water. In consequence of this disappointment many well known citizens were very very glum and are keeping an anxious eye on the barometer in the hope of just one more good hard freeze. In the parlance of the curlers the pessimist is the man who thinks spring is here and the optimist is the man who hopes winter has not yet said good-bye.

HAMILTON EVEN.

CLEVELAND, O., March 26—(Canadian Press)—Cleveland split even in a two-game hockey series with the Tigers of Hamilton, Ont. winning Saturday night's game by a score of 2 to 1.

O.A.L.A. AMENDMENTS FOR GOOD FRIDAY'S MEETING

Provision will be made for "life members" with voting privileges

St. Simon's club want twelve-man lacrosse in all series.

Effort will be made to prevent all-star teams from cities outside of Toronto entering the finals. At present it is the custom to select the best players from the various town league clubs, instead of sending the town league winners in the O.A.L.A. finals. St. Simon's think the latter is preferable and makes competition more equal.

Arnold Smith of Weston makes a good suggestion, viz., that all scheduled games shall be played by August 1. This would give ample time for the playing of the finals in ideal lacrosse weather, instead of as at present in October and later.

The Weston magnate would also have O.A.L.A. appoint all neutral officials, such as timers, goal judges, etc., for final and semi-final matches. This should be carried.

Jos. A. Pogue of Hespeler would raise the age limit in the junior series to 21 years, instead of 20 as at present, but will find considerable opposition.

Danforths suggest that players be inserted into the game at any time, instead of at quarter periods as at present.

They also wish to prevent players jumping all over the lot, and would force players to secure a release from their original club before being signed with another team, all to be under the control of the O.A.L.A. executive.

A further suggestion from the Danforths is to reduce the referee fees in intermediate, junior and juvenile.

Len Smith would provide a penalty for any senior team that fails to properly operate a team in the lower series. The rule was evaded by a couple of clubs last season.

President Hanley has a fed suggestions which have more or less merit, and which are:

Making provision for "knock out" games for the association championship during the regular playing season so as to declare a winner for the Mann Cup contests before Sept. 1. From these matches he suggests that 20 per cent of the gross receipts be paid to the association.

Permission to be granted intermediate junior or juvenile teams in places outside of Toronto to play on a senior club, provided that in the event of teams on which he may be playing being engaged on the same day, such player must play with his home team. It is up to the executive, however, to see that the amateur rule is not in any way infringed. Failure to so play with his home team under such conditions would mean cancellation of his certificate.

Bonds are suggested for all teams fulfilling their schedules, viz, $100 for senior, $50 for intermediate, and for junior, juvenile and midget, $25.

Drastic acton to be taken against teams failing to start fames on time. Penalty goals are suggested for each five minutes' delay.

Rowdyism will be a thing of the past, the home team being penalized a goal through intereference with the game by spectators encroaching upon the field. On a neutral field the penalty shall be given against the team so offending For assulting or intimidating the referee, clubs shall be expelled. Rowdies shall be removed at the request of the referee by the police.

Clean garments are to be worn by the players. No mention is made of the white suits of the officials.

BOUT CANCELLED.

NEW YORK, March 26.—(Canadian Press)—The Cliff Binckley—"Strangler" Lewis wrestling bout, schedule for tonight, was cancelled yesterday at the request of the State Athletic Commission, which held that Ernst Siefried, the "German Oak" was a more suitable opponent for the heavyweight champion. Siegfried, it was said, would meet Lewis within the month.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, March 26.—(United Press).—Speaking of Eddie Eagan, light heavyweight champion of the Olympic games, captain of the ...ale boxing team and later a member of the Harvard team, who is now at Oxford, "Sporting Life" (London) says of an inter-collegiate tournament in which he boxed recently: "Eagen, Oxford, as a matter of course, won at catchweights and we suppose we shall have to hope in vain for an amateur capable of making him give of his best."

Righto, John, and more than righto! It will take the best pro you have in the fighting ranks to make him extend himself!

* * *

Eagen is an unusual type of a young man in a day when a young man with any kind of talent in his fists rushes into the professional prize ring for what little fame and what big money he can acquire.

Eagen has all kinds of natural talent. Veteran old managers have been after him for four years, but he scorned all offers to fight for money.

In explaining his rather unusual ideas, he told the writer in Antwerp during the Olympic games:

"I know I could make a lot of money in the prize ring. Perhaps I could become a champion and acquire whatever fame might be understood to attend such a conquest, but all the money and all the glory I might attain would not compensate me for the pang that would be mine if I ever heard one of my children taunted with—'your father's a prize fighter.'"

Eagen talks just that way and in his private life he carries out the same high ideals.

* * *

Eagen knows that some stigma is attached even to an amateur boxer. He learned it at Yale and it cost him the realization of one of his fondest ambitions.

Eddie was crazy about football. When he was over with the American Olympic team in 1920 at Antwerp he dashed home just as soon as the boxing finals had been completed. Most of the other boys were taking what trips around Europe they could afford.

"I want to be at Yale when the football squad reports. I'm going to try hard, but I don't believe I can make the team."

He wouldn't give a reason, but it was heard later from another source.

The powers that be at Yale didn't want a boxer on the varsity team, although he was one of the fastest men on the team and a most promising end or halfback.

* * *

Returning from the war where he served, Eagen won a Knights of Columbus scholarship and he went to Yale and from there to Harvard law school, where he was as good in the class room as he was in the ring. He's still knocking out the books in England and someday he may be a champion barrister.

* * *

"I'd much rather have them say that I might have been champion instead of being able to boast that I was champion, because under the conditions I have the advantage of the doubt," he said.

* * *

Some very good judges of fighters after being told what Eagen had said suggested that a man of such mental development and intelligence would never have reached the top in the professional ring.

Men of that type, it was pointed out, lack the viciousness of a less intelligent man who may be an instinctive fighter. They do not have the inspiration to go in and knockout a man for the sheer act of doing it.

Boxers possessed of a developed brain and thinking apparatus do not have the will to win that others of less development have. Some intimations have been made that Tom Gibbons and Gene Tunney are not game. They hae been proved game, but they have not the animal instinct in going into a man and finishing him.

This proves that there is no general specifications for a fighter. Champions just happen, they are not developed and they can be explained.

EASTER SNOW NOT UNUSUAL FEATURE

Sunday's belated snow storm recalls even heavier and later precipitations in in other years. One of them was on March 2[illegible], 1896, when according to the records traffic was tied up. March 14th, 1888, saw another abundant fall, and there is no assurance now that the weather in the hyperborean regions has been wound up for this season. But one observation has been repeatedly heard from the old weathermen. They say that the dominant wind of the winter was indicated on the first Thursday of December. It was a dirty day with the wind in the east, and those who are u pin the lore of the seasons say that the east has been most favored by the wind during the three months of winter, and its hang over during March. A housekeeper finds that he has had his furnace burning continuously since the middle of October, and will likely keep it going for another month or for practically seven months out of the twelve.

CURLING TO-NIGHT.

Curlers of the city are reminded that this evening may be the final opportunity this season for a session at the "roarin' game." Last night's frost has hardened the ice sufficiently but anticipated mild weather may make this condition a very temporary one.

SOLD COWS HE DIDN'T OWN, IS ASSESSED $75

Edward Hubel Was Given Use of Cows for Three Years--Were Sold Under Execution Unknown to Owner.

BAILIFF NOT LIABLE

The following judgment was delivered on Saturday by Judge Huycke in the case of Elliott vs. Hubel and Wiggins:

This is a Division Court action tried at Norwood. The amount originally claimed exceeded $100.00, but at the trial the extra claim for damages was formerly abandoned and the claim proceeded for the sum of $100.00

The circumstances were peculiar. In October, 1920, the plaintiff, George Elliott, agreed with the defendant, Edward Hubel, to let him have two cows, which cows Hubel was to retain for three years from the date of agreement and to have the use thereof during that time, and in consideration thereof at the expiration of three years was to redeliver to Elliott the two cows in question, together with the first calves that they would have during the term, duly raised and brought up. It was called an agreement to double cattle, and bears that interpretation.

Sold Two Cows.

At the time of the agreement Hubel lived in Peterborough County, but afterwards moved to Percy township, Northumberland county. The agreement between Elliott and Hubel was made in writing, but was not filed or registered in either Peterborough or Northumberland county. Late in 1922 executions were issued against Hubel and a seizure was made also for rent and taxes at about the same time. Wiggins was the bailiff of the court enforcing the execution, and was also the bailiff in charge of the collection of the rent and taxes. In accordance therewith he held a sale of the property of Hubel and realized the rent and taxes and part, if not all, of the execution. In this sale he sold the two cows, belonging to Elliott under the agreement above referred to. No claim was made and nothing said about the two calves of the cows in question.

Action is now brought against Hubel and Wiggins to recover the value of these two cows and for damages. The cows were sold for $68.00, $30.00 and $38.00 respectively, at public auction on the defendant Hubel's farm. Considering the kind of sale it was, I presume this was a somewhat low value, although no specific evidence was directed to that point. The question is—are Hubel and Wiggins both or either of them liable under the circumstances to Elliott, and if so for how much.

Term Not Expired.

First as to Hubel. It occurred to me during the trial that the action was premature as to him, that the three year term had not expired, and that it was still possible for Hubel to re-acquire possession of these cows, and be in a position to deliver them with their progeny to Elliott at the time stated. I have concluded that I was wrong in this impression, and that by allowing the sale of the goods in question he broke his contract and disentitled himself to avail himself of the full term.

Didn't Inform Owner.

Then as to the defendant Wiggins. He is a bailiff acting in the due performance of his duty as such and assuming certain liabilties with hs duties. The strange part of the whole affair is that although these animals were under seizure and advertised for some time, that Elliott, the plaintiff, knew nothing of it until a week or ten days after the sale. It was of course Hubel's duty to let him know at once so that Elliott might have made his claim, which it is apparent from what was done on other cases would have been acknowledged by Wiggins, and these particular cattle withdrawn from sale. This actually happened in the case of a cow on the premises owned or claimed by one Simpson. This Simpson cow was advertised, but when the claim was made Wiggins withdrew and sold other things. If Elliott had known, as he should have been told, he too, could have made his claim and secured his property. It was clearly Hubel's duty to acquaint Elliott with the state of affairs, but he did not do this. Wiggins had no prior knowledge of Elliott or his claim he swears, and I have no reason for doubting what he says. It is true that Hubel and his wife both swear that at the time of the seizure, and also of the sale, they told Wiggins that these two cows belonged to the plaintiff Elliott, and this to some extent is corroborated by a son of theirs. On the other hand this is stoutly denied by Wiggins, who says he never heard of Elliott and Wiggins is corroborated by Harvey who was said to be present during these conversations, or some of them. The onus of such proof is on Hubel, and he has not met it. I must therefore find that Wiggins did not know of the Elliott ownership or claim, and that he proceeded to sell and did sell in perfect good faith and in ignorance of any claim to these particular cattle. This being so he is innocent of wrongdoing, and the action must be dismissed against him.

The Decision.

The case in my judgment comes under R.S.O. Cap. 136 Sec. 3—If Elliott had seen fit he could have protected his claim by filing as therein indicated a copy of his agreement, first in Peterborough county, and then in Northumberland county, and this would have been due legal notice to Wiggins whether he actually knew of it or not. This, however, was not done, and the unfortunate plaintiff, Elliott, although quite innocent, must suffer the consequences so far as Wiggins is concerned. Hubel was a hirer, within the meaning of the section from Elliott, and possession of the goods was delivered to him pursuant to the contract of hiring, and there being no expressed or implied notice of any kind as provided by the Statute, or otherwise, to Wiggins, he is relieved from liability The action will be dimissed with costs as against Wiggns.

There will be judgment against Hubel for $75.00 and costs.

I have not heard about the two calves of the cows in question provided for by the agreement, but if necessary I expressly reserve the right to Elliott to proceed against Hubel for these two calves or their value at the proper time and as he may be advised.

Dated at Peterborough this 24th day of March, 1923.

(Sgd.) E. C. HUYCKE.

Mr. McColl, of Norwood, for the plaintiff; Mr. O'Brien for the defendant Hubel; Mr. Lynch, of Campbellford, for the defendant Wiggins.

EQUITY COURT SAVES LIFE OF INNOCENT MAN

WITHOUT PARALLEL

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.—What will be the future of capital punishment cases now that life has been placed on a property basis?

This question soon will be echoing about the nation as the result of a legal decision that has no parallel in world history.

Stripped of technical wording, it has been decided by Judge James M. Troutt that

ONE: A man's life is his most important possession.

TWO: That a man can go into a court of equity to fight for his pig or his barn or some other possession, so why can he not fight for life, his rarest possession, in a court of equity?

THREE: If this attitude is taken, a man sentenced to die may be saved by means of the injunction invoked as in other property actions.

Hindu's Life Saved.

And by this decision the gallows at San Quentin prison were created of the neck of Ulah Mohammed, a Hindu.

All criminal courts had been appealed to. It had been shown fraud had been practiced by witnesses.

The governor was appealed to. He refused a reprieve. But a few days remained before the noose would choke an innocent man.

Then Attorney William Grant decided upon an eleventh-hour appeal in a court of equity to have the death sentence set aside on the ground of fraudulent testimony.

Hindu Shown Innocent.

This was the story that developed: Mohammed, with several companions, had been attending a feast at which one Ali Akbar, an Afghan, was slain.

Mohammed knew nothing of the English language. The two men who committed the crime did.

They convinced Mohammed they all would get into trouble and that, because they could speak English, he had best let them handle the affair.

They allowed Mohammed to be arrested. They retained a lawyer for him and told the attorney Mohammed was guilty, outlining a case.

The Hindu went to trial and was convicted without knowing what it had all been about. Meanwhile the slayers had jumped out.

Never in legal history has a judge saved a life in an equity court. And now that the precedent is established the same point is expected to be raised in a dozen different ways for men who face the death penalty.

Courts continuously are battling out questions of property rights. Equity courts daily hear thousands of cases. Yet man's life is his most sacred and most valued property and the equity courts have been closed to argument concerning it.

I felt this case was of great importance, not only because a life was in peril but because an extraordinary question of law was involved that concerned the power and jurisdiction of courts of equity.

It seems to me in this progressive, humane country of ours, a man whose guilt is so doubtful and whose innocence is so probable, should have an opportunity for a new trial.

VAUDEVILLE AT CAPITOL

"The Girl in the Purple Mask," one of the most mystifying acts on the vaudeville stages, will be the attraction at The Capitol Theatre for three days beginning today.

In this era much thought is being given to mental telepathy, occultism, clairvoyancy and what is generally known as "mind reading." But "Kutos," the "Master Mind," which is presenting "The Girl With the Purple Mask" says that none of these explain the wonderful things this gifted girl is able to accomplish in plain view of the audience on a lighted stage. "Only on the theory that there is a transmission of thought and ideas passing from one mind to the other" can there by any explanation of her particular gift.

Kutos denies that there is anything supernatural about the act, but declares the surprising things accomplished are largely due to the keen training and high development of concentration which the young woman has perfected in a wonderful degree.

There are hundreds of acts of so-called "Mind reading," transmission of thought and baffling methods of communication from one person to the other playing in vaudeville today, but "The Girl With the Purple Mask" is different from any of them. Her methods have been a puzzle and a source of mystification to some of the most learned psychists and mental analysts in the world, and wherever the act has played, the newspapers have been unanimous in praise of the amazing gifts of the pretty, unassuming young woman

Into a desolate country whose road was a mere broken trail they went, to where thirty Galician families were squatting on unsurveyed land Supplies had to be brought in from the nearest centre, 87 miles away, water was carried for a long distance, and mateial for a rude house was floated down the river for 100 miles from Edmonton In the meantime, the two women lived on a tent, forgetting the privations and discomforts of a life among the huts of the rat-infested, vermin-ridden peasants in their sagerness to further the cause of their religion.

Here, Miss Munro founded Wahstão "(the place from which light radiates)" where a mission hall was erected and the children taught to read and write and study the Bible, and here she spent two years, until her health broke under the strain However, another year was spent in practically founding the Rich Steet Home in Edmonton, a home for Galician girls conducted on similar lines to the Y. M. C. A. Both of these missionary centres have since increased to large proportions.

It is nearly fourteen years since the missionary's ill health compelled her to give up the work she loved so dearly and to which she had given the best days of her life. Since then, she lived with relatives in Toronto, with her mother in Lakefield, until the latters death, and, latterly, with her brother, Nihil Munro, at 580 George Street. There she rested this morning, busy mind and hands restful at last, around her the floral tributes of many friends, with a particularly fitting symbol of rest and peace in the beautiful anchor of bloom sent from Toronto, bearing the card of the "Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of Canada."

Last night, at George st. Church, Rev' Harold W. Young, spoke in feeling terms of the life and work of the late Miss Munro.

In spite of the severe storm a good number gathered to hear Mr. Ritts yesterday. He spoke on God as revealed in Christ, and read many Scriptures showing how the Bible reveals Jesus Christ.

He said the God of the newspapers and the magazines was not the God of the Bible. Mr. Ritts dealt with so many revelations in the Scriptures it would be impossible to give the entire address.

He preached the word of God because it settled every problem confronting the human race to-day. It gave the history of creation, the history of nations, the history of Israel, the history of Satan the history of the Body (the church.) The word also was the alone means of regeneration.

At the Gospel Hall at night Mr. Ritts' address was on the holiness of God and the wickedness of man, and how man could be justified with God. He will speak Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

FOUR DEAD FROM FIRE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 26.—(Canadian Press).—A lighted cigar, believed to have been carelessly thrown by an intoxicated man, started a fire which swept through the seven-storey Princeton Apartments on West 57th Street to-day, occupied by theatrical and business folk, and caused the deaths of four persons and serious injury of many others.

The dead are: Anna Fries, exhibition roller skater, killed in jumping to the stone courtyard from the window of her sixth-floor rooms; Mrs. Margaret Lee, aged 65, and her daughter, Emily, stenographer, burned to death in their apartment on the top floor, and Gaston Mizonle, aged 26. Miss Margaret Lee, an actress, daughter of Mrs. Lee, was taken to hospital, severely burned, and may not live.

A number of firemen and police were burned while engaged in daring rescues, and a dozen or more tenants were treated for injuries and burns. The apartment house was of the non-fireproof type. Half an hour before a woman gave the alarm of fire by shouting wildly from an upper storey front window, an intoxicated man was ejected from the building by the superintendent. He was seen to enter the building some time earlier puffing a cigar.

FOUR BODIES RECOVERED.

NEW YORK, March 26.—(United Press).—Four bodies were recovered to-day from the ruins of Princeton Apartments, swept by fire.

Firemen are searching for other bodies, and it is feared that the death list may run higher. One hundred families were driven to the streets by the flames which spread through the 57th Street building with remarkable rapidity, cutting off the escape of the inmates.

Declaring that he believed abolition of divorce should be brought about by congressional legislation he added. "But that is a long way ahead, because there are, unfortunately, so many middle-aged and elderly men, and some young ones, who for one reason or another want new wives."

STOCK MARKET SHOWED TENDENCIES TO RALLY.

(Special to Examiner.)

NEW YORK, March 26. — The New York stock market to-day showed a tendency to rally from the set back suffered on the last two days of last week. Montreal despatches telling of a prediction, by Sir Herbert Holt president of the Royal Bank of Canada that the dry season would cut the estimated Cuban sugar crop 500,000 tons, caused a rise in sugar stocks. Stocks gave a remarkable demonstration of rallying power in the first hour.

After a weak opening the general list gathered strength and by 11 a. m. recovery was in full swing throughout the whole market.

California Petroleum soared to a record high at 103 3-4; Beechnut Packing at 84½ and New Orleans, Texas and Mexico at 104½.

Substantial come-backs were staged by most of the speculative leaders and the whole market showed a decidedly improved tone. Most of the commission houses looked for a stronger market this week. The Piggly Wiggly affair, the so called sugar conspiracy and 6 per cent. money, were the main arguments used by the professionals last week in their attacks.

Trade news continued highly favorable and it was evident from the comparatively small average decline that the public is in the market. At the close last week there was a large short interest, particularly in the active stocks, such as Baldwin, steel, Sinclair, Studebaker, Industrial Alcohol and Anaconda. Naturally there was liquidation from time holders but the greater part of the loss was due to professional selling. Developments during the next week are expected to be constructed.

ALIENS BECOME CITIZENS WITH LABOR BUREAU AID

WASHINGTON, March 26. — More than 1,500,000 aliens eligible for American naturalisation already have been directed to citizenship training classes established by local school authorities throughout the United States in co-operation with the Bureau of Naturalisation of the Department of Labour.

The classes are conducted at night, and enable the aliens not only to obtain free the educational training necessary for approval of their citizenship petitions, but also to get information that will lead them to better jobs, higher pay and improved living conditions.

The Bureau has established a service through which candidates for citizenship are invited to attend the classes provided by local authorities for their instruction, and their names and addresses also are forwarded to the public school officials. The number of foreign residents thus reached, it is said, is necessarily limited to those who have declared their intention to become citizens, since the Labour Department lacks the names and addresses of those who have not filed petitions.

It is believed, nevertheless, that free instruction facilities have been made available to many others through measures taken by local Americanisation organisations, Boy Scouts, Young Men's Christian Associations, Chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and other patriotic and civic societies.

Cards giving the records of the aliens attending the classes, bureau officials declare, add to the value of the work from a public viewpoint in that they give a basis for complete community surveys to determine the needs in Americanisation work.

The Bureau receives almost daily letters from candidates for citizenship and Americanisation workers, praising the service, and also gets a number of reports on the work of aliens taking advantage of the courses. Some of these reports, it is said, show the progress made by candidates over 60 years of age who had resided in this country many years without taking steps to become citizens.

CANADIAN INDUSTRIES AFTER A FRENCH MARKET

MONTREAL, March 26 (Canadian Press). — An attempt of the Canadian manufacturers to secure the lion's share of France's import business is being hailed with expressions of approval from almost every corner of the Dominion, messages pouring into the Canadian Exhibition train offices indicate.

The train, which is to carry the exhibits of all Canadian manufacturers and raw materials, is viewed in the majority of letters as the first really concerted move by Canadian exporters to secure a foreign market by first educating the foreign consumer.

Already free exhibitiong space on the train is almost completely allotted, according to J. D. Cheaney, Director of Exhibits, and the grouping of similar manufactures has become necessary.

SCIENCE LOWERS DEATH RATE AMONG THE YOUNG

We in this age live longer on the average than those ancient Egyptians, a medical historian announces. That's chiefly because science has cut the death rate among the young.

There must have been terrible anguish among mothers in King Tut's time, for even today 124 out of each 1000 boy babies die during their first year. For girl babies the figure is 143. If we reach the age of 12, we are out of the real danger zone.

FUNERAL TODAY OF MISS JESSIE MUNRO

Tribute to a Loyal and Faithful Missionary Worker.

The funeral of the late Miss Jessie K. Munro took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon, from the residence of her brother, N. C. Munro, 580 George street, to the George Street Methodist church, where a number of relatives and friends paid their last respects to the dead.

Departing from the usual custom, Rev. W. H. Young requested Mrs. James Kendry, who had been intimately associated with Miss Munro in her missionary career, to give the funeral address. Mrs. Kendry, a member of the executive of the Board of Managers of the Women's Missionary Society during Miss Munro's missionary life in Japan, spoke in touching terms of the deceased lady's "consecrated life," of her outstanding characteristics of loyalty to the cause of Jesus, and loyalty to the Board of Managers, and her unceasing efforts to carry out her own consecration of duty to the Master.

"She was one of the most valiant workers we had on the staff," said Mrs. Kendry. "I think Miss Munro was a living example of the sincerity and testing of God's purpose in that He has promised that those who go forth with Him weeping and carrying precious seed will doubtless some again rejoicing and bearing their sheaves with them." The fulfilment of this promise was exemplified in Miss Munro's life and the young Japanese girl, her protege, who came to Canada with her,taught for a summer session in the George street Sunday school, bringing in fact the seed of the Gospel sent from the Occident to the Orient, back once more to the Occident for fruition.

Mrs. Kendry spoke of the almost constant illhealth which afflicted the deceased missionary, and of her untiring efforts in spite of physical handicap, to carry the message of God to Japan and to the Galicians of Northern Canada; also of her work in the summer schools ,when finally invalided home. "A fitting epitaph for Miss Munro," declared the speaker, "would be the words 'A loyal and faithful servant.'"

Rev. Mr. Young offered a particularly eloquent prayer for adherence in the living to the principles which had made the life of the dead missionary so noteworthy.

Mrs. J. H. Renwick, with Mr. Renwick at the organ, sang very sweetly "Jesus, I am Resting."

The late Miss Munro is survived by one sister and four brothers, Mrs. John Carlisle of Peterboro, James Munro of Toronto, Charles of Winnipeg, George K., of Grand Forks, North Dakota, Nihil ,of 550 George street, Peterboro. The pallbearers at the funeral were two brothers and four nephews; James Munro of Toronto; Nihil Munro of Peterboro, George and Cookson Munro of Peterboro; Douglas and John Carlisle of Peterboro.

WAGGING TONGUE EXPOSES STILL

Two Provincial Officers Stumbled on Easy Case in Haliburton.

LINDSAY, March 26. (Special to Examiner.) — A wagging tongue was responsible for the location of a thriving "booze plant" by Provincial officers in Haliburton on Friday. A number of summer cottages at Hollow Lake, near Dorset, had been entered, and Officers Hartnett and Storey of Lindsay, visited the district with a view to securing evidence. They hired a man to drive them about who proved to be very loquacious. He incidentally mentioned to the officers who were strangers to him that stills were doing a thriving business up north — that it was no trouble to secure a liberal supply of liquor at any time. He pointed to a farm house close by where he said, a superior brand was made and sold. The officers halted, called on the farm, secured a supply, and incidentally placed the man under arrest. They brought him to Lindsay where he will stand his trial this week.

FRANCE'S SCHEME IN RUHR AREA REVEALED BY FRIEND POINCARE

Het Only Game is to Get the Money Germany Owes Her--A Few Questions and Answers.

THE FRENCH NAVY

(By Milton Bronner)

PARIS, March 27.—(Copyright)—What is France's game in the Ruhr? Her only game is to get the money Germany owers her. Nothing more; nothing less.

It was Stephane Lauzanne who told me so, and he ought to know. Not only is he editor-in-chief of Le Matin, one of the most influential papers in France, but he is on most intimate terms with Premier Poincare and all the men who now compose the government

"Mon cher Raymond" (Poincare) unbosoms himself to his "cher Stephane," so that he may know just what's what when he writes is powerful editorials

I came to Paris to find out just what Poincare meant to do in his critical and crucial Ruhr enterprise French officials advised me to see Lauzanne; he would speak with full knowledge

"Fire away," aid Lauzanne, "and make your questions just hard as you like"

QUESTION NO. 1: It is charged by the enemies of France that, taking advantage of clauses in the Versailles treaty, she has made demands upon Germany, so high she can't fulfill them and that France does not expect she will fulfill them. Is this true or false?

Said Lauzanne: "The demands made upon Germany for reparations ($33,000,000,000) were not made by France alone. The figure was fixed in London in May, 1923, and the schedule of payment, which was then adopted by common agreement was signed by Great Britain, Italy, Japan and Belgium, as well as by France.

"Nobody said then that the schedule of payment was exaggerated and Lloyd George declared in the House of Commons that it was reasonable

"If to-day the schedule of payments is found exaggerated, how can we be certain that a new schedule, reducing the original figures, will not be thought too high in 1925? And what is the schedule of payments Germany will not deem too high?"

QUESTION NO 2: Taking advantage of Germany's failure to pay, it is charged France has marched into the Ruhr intending to stay there, either annexing the Ruhr and the Rhineland, or setting up a buffer state? Does France ever expect to leave the Ruhr?

Lauzanne replied: "France will never annex the Rhineland or the Ruhr; but France will remain in the Rhineland and the Ruhr as long as Germany will not pay what she owes to France

"In other words, the Rhineland and Ruhr are considered by the French as a mortgage guaranteeing payment. When the payments are made, the mortgage will have to be released and the bailiffs will leave the premises

"Germany did exactly the same thing to us in 1871 and the whole world, including America, approved what Germany did. The last German soldier left French soil in September, 1873, eleven days after the last French million had been paid."

QUESTION NO 3: The charge has been publicly printed in England that the French march into the Ruhr was at first inspired by a French syndicate of steel masters which desired a union with German coal and steel masters, in which the French would control 60 per cent of the stock. Is it true that French big business got Poincare to go into the Ruhr?

Lauzanne replied: "Not only has the 'Comite des Forges' not inspired the march into the Ruhr, but it was more or less against it. Precisely because the comite is in favor of a union with German steel mastes,

PEACE POW-WOW

BENITO MUSSOLINI

Premier of Italy, who is the central figure in a conference that is being held in Rome in an attempt to find a solution for the Ruhr situation.

ROME THE MECCA WORLD STATESMEN

ROME, March 27.—(United Press)—All roads lead to Rome, where Premier Benito Mussolini, who is becoming more and more a power to be reckoned with in international affairs, holds forth.

The Italian capitol on Monday became the mecca of statesmen and capitalists of several nations—men who are apparently attempting to relieve the critical situation brought about by the French occupation of the Ruhr.

E. H. Gary, president of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation, conferred with Hugo Stinnes, the wealthiest man in Germany, who owns extensive holdings in the Ruhr.

Although no announcement as to the conversation between Stinnes and Gary was made, the two iron masters undoubtedly talked concerning the troublesome European situation.

RETURNED MEN WOULD GO BACK TO FRANCE

An odd little bit of information gleaned in a casual conversation with "Kutos," the master mind who controls the performance of "The Girl in the Purple Mask," and is incidentally also her husband, during a brief visit to the dressing room of the lady who retained her purple blinder during the entire course of the conversation, was the fact that many of the inquiries received from the public during the course of the vaudeville pair's trip through Canada, had to do with the wish of men to remove to some other country. There are hundreds of ex-soldiers who want to go bac kto France and many of th young men of the nation are seeking information relative to a change in their locality . Possibly some of the migratory spirit then which is vexing Canadian authorities at the present time, is due to the restlessness of returned men, that "anywhere but here" spirit which seems to be the natural result of a great struggle.

Another item of information which is often sought by women, especially young woman, is the choice of a career in life. Evidently the ancient idea of the one clear course for a woman has been abandoned in the newer regime of emancipation for the feminine person from the ties of hearth and home.

DESPATCH TWISTED.

Sir: If it was to me reference was made in Monday evening's Examiner in connection with a certain lock, I wish to say that the story of my patented door lock has become very badly twisted. I want to deny that I ever peddled the same from door to door. If the papers are anxious to give someone a write up, they might write about someone who could see to read it.

SEWERAGE FOR ENGLEBURN IS ASSURED NOW

Petition by Residents to City Council Brings Promise of Early Relief From Crying Need.

THE MARKET TOLLS

Once more urging upon the council the need of a sewerage service for streets in the Engleburn section of Ashburnham six residents from that vicinity appealed for immediate action last night. They were T. W. Oke, H. Anderson, R. Starr, C. Hughes, G. Agar.

Mr. Oke suggested that a septic tank might be built near the river, and Mr. Hughes said that City Engineer Parsons had promised that machinery from the old pumping station at the corner of Romaine and George streets, which had been discarded by the construction of the new Romaine street sewer, would be utilized for the benefit of the Engleburn section.

Ald. McIntyre considered that the Provincial Board of Health would forbid the installation of a septic tank. He moved that City Engineer Parsons submit a report on the work required at Monday night's council meeting. Ald. Stocker seconded it.

Ald. Phelan believed that Mr. Parsons had a report ready, and proposed that the council give the deputation positive assurance of the relief that they wanted. The motion, however, was adopted.

Going to Toronto.

Ald. Holloway and Crowe were appointed to represent Peterboro with the deputation from cities of the province that will lay before Attorney - General Raney representations for a change in the constitution of Police Commissions.

The Market Question.

Ald. McIntyre sought to re-open the question of the letting of the contract for the marekt tolls The Property Committee, he informed the council, had accepted F. J. Bullied's tender, which was the lowest, although the custom had been to accept the highest bid.

"They turned down a man like Walter Fisher, whose tender was $50 higher. He was the best clerk we ever had and I won't take back water from any man on that."

Ald. Fife contended that the council had empowered the Property Committee to let the contract, and the committee had done so.

"I would never vote to let it go back to the committee," he said. 'I would lose faith in the committee if we did."

Ald. McIntyre—"Whether it was hight or not?"

Ald Fife—"Yes."

Ald. Stocker—"We made a mistake in giving the committee power to act.'"

Ald. Fife and Holloway dissented from that opinion, and aMyor Taylor said there were ten citizens in favor of Bullied to one in favor of Fisher, and the farmers were practically unanimous for Bullied.

Ald. Maher proposed a motion to re-open the matter .

"The Property Committee did what the council instructed them to do," said Ald. Phelan. "If this committee gives them power to change it, where would it be in regard to Mr. Bullied?"

Ald. McIntyre moved that a special meeting of the council be called to reconsider the letting of the market contract, but City Clerk Armstrong, responding to an enquiry from several members, pointed out that the contract for the letting of the tolls had been let as completely by the committee, upon the council's authorization, as if the council had itself passed the motion. If on the strength of that action Mr. Bullied had done anything to accept the contract, or had incurred any expense, the council would probably be liable.

That opinion closed the discussion.

THE KING'S FARM HANDS ARE GOING ON STRIKE

LONDON, March 27.— (United Press.)— The farm hands of Sandringham, the estate of King George, are going on a strike, despite the fact that the King's supply of Royal eggs, milk, butter and potatoes may be curtailed.

The farm hands' union issued the strike order to the Sandringham workers.

Thousands of farmers all over England have left the farms, striking in protest against a reduction in wages. The new scale would bring them slightly over six dollars a week.

Winter Backfired on Omemee's Spring

Six Inches of Snow and 16 Deg. Below Zero Routed the Vernal Chorus of Robins and Bluebirds.

OMEMEE, March 27.—Many citizens of Omemee were all agog last week in the anticipation of spring. The robins, blue birds and crows were all here and joined in a merry chorus to lighten the hearts of those wearied by the long winter. A few cars and waggons made their appearance and many more were in waiting to be taken from their winter quarters when lo! the heavy snow fall arrived on Sunday, covering the ground to a depth of between five and six inches. After the storm had ceased the mercury dropped to 16 deg. below. Quite a chilly atmosphere we should say, but nevertheless another sure sign of spring has reached Omemee, the millinery openings are in full swing at both Mr. H. McGinnis' and Mr. T. A. MacPherson's stores, with Misses Lila Fee and Rita Johnson, respectively, in charge, and many have afforded themselves the opportunity of purchasing an Easter bonnet from the advanced styles in spring headwear.

PAID TRIBUTE TO "DIVINE SARAH"

Veritable Host of Theatrical Stars Honor Memory of Dead Comrade

PARIS, March 27. — (Canadian Press).—All France mourns to-day, for her well - beloved daughter, "Divine Sarah" Bernhardt, is dead.

Paris is stunned. It can scarcely believe that she who was regarded as almost immortal is now inanimate, and that the voice that thrilled millions with its wonderful emotional power is forever still. Not since France lost Victor Hugo has the country been so deeply stirred.

Bernhardt probably shares with Hugo and Pasteur, the distinction of being the most illustrious person in the last hundred years of French history. She was undoubtedly one of the greatest ambassadors of French art and literature who ever lived.

Long after midnight last night, when theatres closed, people off the stage came to pay tribute to their illustrious comrade. Among them were Sacha Guitry, playwright, who had a filial respect for the great actress; Cecile Sorel, Rachel Boyer and a host of stars.

Those who loved Sarah Bernhardt in life, were admitted to see her in the repose of death this afternoon.

At two o'clock the doors of the actress's house were thrown open, and the crowds moved up the candle-lit stairways to the darkened death chamber.

The "Divine Sarah" might have been acting once more the death scene from "Camille," so still and peaceful she lay.

Bernhardt's white hair was undone, and lay across the coverlet.

A brilliant spot of carmine on her breast was the Cross and Ribbon of the Legion of Honour, the highest decoration within the power of France.

A CLOSE RACE FOR POSITION OF SOLICITOR

Joseph Wearing Was the Choice of the Committee of the Whole Last Evening.

SEVERAL APPLICANTS

Joseph Wearing was recommended for the position of City Solicitor by the Committee of the Whole Council last night.

He was chosen openly on a second ballot from six applicants by the simple method of a show of hands. On the first division Mr. Wearing received four votes and Mr. V. J. McElderry three. The other four applicants were then struck off the list under consideration, and the final result was six for Mr. Wearing as follows, Aldermen Stocker, Fife, Meyers, Turner, Morrison and Crowe, and four for Mr. McElderry, namely, Aldermen Phelan, Holloway, Maher and McIntyre.

The other applicants were W. F. Huycke, J. F. Strickland, John R. Corkery and E. W. Langford.

Mr. Strickland and Mr. Corkery each received one vote on the first count, in which Ald. Turner withheld his decision.

Prior to taking up the applications Mayor Taylor read a resolution from the Great War Veterans' Association expressing the opinion that all other qualifications being satisfactory, the preference should be given to a returned man, and that the date of his enlistment and the period of his service in France should be considered.

Mr. Wilfrid F. Huycke wrote that he had his degree from Osgoode Hall with a postgraduate course in law at Harvard University. He enlisted in 1915 and was in France from early in 1916 until the end of the war, returning in May, 1919.

Neither Mr. Strickland nor Mr. McElderry referred to their military records. Mr. Langford was five years with the Canadian and Imperial forces, and it was said that Mr. Wearing had offered himself but was rejected.

The members of the Council, in discussing these candidates for the solicitorship, referred to them all as capable lawyers and estimable young men. Ald. Meyers remarked that whatever selection the committee made should be agreed upon in Council.

Ald. Maher mentioned the claims that had been made on behalf of those who had military service, and suggested that other claims should not be overlooked. Sometimes it was wondered why many young men left their home town to seek employment elsewhere. Mr. Corkery, he continued, was born and raised in Peterborough. He had paid taxes here for years, and he was in every way a first-class citizen, capable and morally as clean "as a hound's tooth."

Ald. Turner remarked that there were two Peterborough boys in the list, Mr. Corkery and Mr. Langford.

Ald. Crowe said it was usual to take into consideration the experience of applicants in filling a vacancy of this kind.

Ald. Maher said he was reluctant to refer to another matter, but it was a notorious fact that of the city positions none were held by Catholics, except several minor ones. Any person who applied because of lodge membership or other affiliation had no qualification in that respect. In making appointments the personal qualifications should be considered.

Ald. Phelan said he thought Ald. Maher's remarks were out of order, and sounded like a reflection on the Council. "Personally, I look on a man on his merits, and I think the other members do too," was his comment. "The applicants are all good friends of mine. When we are transacting the city's business it should be decided in the open. What the Council does should be open to the public."

Ald. Fife moved, seconded by Ald. Phelan, that the appointment be made by open vote, and this motion carried.

After the decision was made, Ald. Phelan said he supported Mr. McElderry because in the event of any action being taken by the city, Mr. McElderry would have the benefit of the valuable advice of the other members of his firm, Mr. Peck and Mr. Kerr. They were also solicitors for the county, and when matters concerning both municipalities were in dispute satisfactory settlements might be made without any large fees.

"I had thought like Alderman Phelan," commented Ald. Morrison, "but I looked at it the other way. I didn't think it would be the best thing for the city to have the county and city's affairs in the same office. I thought it might be advisable to have the city's business in a separate office."

Ald. Stocker—I have heard that same opinion from quite a number of citizens.

Ald. Holloway said he took counse with no one in regard to this position. "I have listened to the opinions of men who have spent more years in Peterborough than I have. I believe they are good judges of men. Partly because of strong recommendations I have heard and MARKSON'S REFLECTIONS ON THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BASED ON INFORMATION FROM T. TOOMS, M.L.A.

Letter to 'The Worker" Charged Commerce Body With "Crushing Labor Unions" — This Statement Denied by L. Fraser, Secretary of the Chamber at Preliminary Hearing of Markson Case.

NOT ANTAGONISTIC

The preliminary hearing of the charge against Bernard Markson of having published false news likely to injure public interest was begun before Magistrate Langley in the police court this morning.

Markson was represented by J. G. O'Donoghue, K.C. of Toronto, while Crown Attorney Hatton conducted the prosecution.

An article under the heading "Happy Hunting Ground for Capitalists," signed with the initials "B.M." appeared in "The Worker," printed at 519 Queen Street, Toronto, as the official paper of the Workers' Party of Canada includes certain expressions which form the grounds of this action. Workers in Peterboro are described as slaves in "The Happy Hunting Ground" contribution, and statements regarding wages and working conditions and the Chamber of Commerce, are held to be false and mischievous by the prosecution.

Only a handful of the police court regulars occupied the public gallery when the case opened, and the witnesses included representatives of some of the manufacturing companies who were singled out by "B.M." for special attention in his bitter survey of industrial Peterboro.

Markson pleaded not guilty but declined to elect for trial. Mr. O'Donoghue intimated that he would ask for a jury if the Magistrate decided to send the case on for trial.

Chief Newhall

Chief Constable Newhall, the first witness, said that after Markson was arrested and brought to the police station he made a statement after being warned in the usual way.

Markson jumped up in the prisoner's box to protest at this introduction, and Mr. O'Donoghue contended that the accused had not been sufficiently warned.

The Chief said he had told Markson that anything he said would be used against him.

"I asked him questions about a certain paper and the questions and answers were taken down by Constable Puffer."

The Chief said he could give the full statement from his secretary's transcript.

"Let's hear it all now," Mr. O'Donoghue urged.

Witness produced from Crown Attorney Hatton's file a copy of "The Worker" printed at 519 Queen Street West, Toronto, the official organ of the Workmen's Party of Canada In the issue of February 15th, 1923, appeared an article signed "B.M." under the heading, "Happy Hunting Grounds for Capitalists—The Peterboro Purgatory."

Chief Marshall said Markson admitted authorship of that article but disavowed responsibility for the heading and for the word "slaves." He objected to an entire paragraph about the Canadian Woollens Company, and asserted that he had not written "millionaires and paupers" in reference to the Canadian Packing Company. He denied having written the phrase "a heluva of a city" and also said he wasn't responsible for the sub-headings and the heading.

"While I was questioning him, Mr. Leon Fraser of the Chamber of Commerce came into my office. He got into a conversation with the prisoner. Mr. Fraser asked him why he had singled out the Chamber of Commerce in the statement that they crushed trades unions and labor organizations out of existence. Mr. Fraser said that it was men like Markson the Chamber of Commerce wanted. Instead of crushing trades unions the Chamber was of great assistance to them.

England's Leading Contralto Sues For Phonograph Libel of Her Voice

LONDON, March 27.—(United Press)—Charging that her voice didn't come out the way it went in, Phyllis Lett, England's leading contralto, has instituted a suit for libel against Pathe Freres, producers of phonograph records.

The singer on Monday testified that the company re-issued records this year that she made in 1910, and that they had greatly deteriorated and were terribly off tune, thus creating the impression that her voice had lost its quality. She charges that her reputation has been damaged, and that it is most difficult to obtain engagements.

Experts are to hear the records in the court Tuesday.

TRADE AND COMMERCE WAS DISCUSSED TODAY AT THE KIWANIS CLUB

Col. L. N. Cosgrave of the Commercial Intelligence Service of Canada — A Number of Visitors Were Present.

SPLENDID MEETING

The speaker at to-day's luncheon of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club was Col. L. N. Cosgrave, of the Commercial Intelligence Service at Ottawa

Kiwanian John Dewarf, who presided, introduced Col. Cosgrave as a formed member of the old fighting First Division, and said it was due to the efforts of G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., that the speaker was able to visit Peterborough and address the Kiwanis Club.

"The motto for the Commercial Intelligence Service of Canada is the same as the Kiwanis Club motto, 'We Build,'" said Col. Cosgrave by way of introduction. Canada was the first country in the world to establish a service of this kind to find markets for our products in other parts of the world. Other countries followed suit. We look on the whole world as our market. Canada is somewhat over industrialised. Our enthusiasm and enterprise has gone ahead of our population, with the results that we must sell a large quantity of our products in other markets.

Last year we exported goods to the value of nine hundred million dollars. To-day we are the fourth largest exporting country in the world. The United States comes first, the United Kingdom second, and France third. Our export trade per capita is second only to Australia. Our export trade is growing each year. Where we have so many seasonal industries, it is up to us to find markets abroad that will keep our industries operating the twelve months out of each year. Over 42 per cent. of our exports are manufactured goods. Our preferences in foreign countries are very small so that whatever markets we obtain abroad must be obtained upon the merits of our products. We ship to eighty-nine countries. We have a combination of British integrity and perseverance and American ingenuity.

Col. Cosgrave explained the modus operandi of the Canadian Intelligence Service which operates throughout world maintaining 24 widely scattered offices. Eighteen hundred Canadian manufacturers are on the Canadian list of exporters and a representative of the department tries to visit each manufacturer at least once a year. A special department is maintained for the purpose of supplying information relative to internal tariffs. The speaker told the story of one manufacturer who made a business of shipping ice cream freezers to France and paid a duty of 48 per cent After three years business with such an excessive tariff he communicated with the Department at Ottawa and was informed that with a proper classification of his goods he could ship them to France with a duty of only seven per cent. There is no such a thing as a business utopia, said Col. Cosgrave. Canada equals any other country in the world in quality and service. The service of the Commercial Intelligence Department is free and forms a part of the Canadian government.

A vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Kiwanian Jack Marshall and Kiwanian J W. Meyers. The latter referred to a remark made by Col. Cosgrave in which he characterized the Canadian manufacturers as "hard headed" Speaking for some of the millers up and down the country, Mr. Meyers said that he knew of some who were "doughheaded.' If one miller quoted so many shillings per hundredweight for flour and other wheat products another miller would come along and quote a shilling or two less to get the business. "That kind of thing goes on up and down the country," said Mr. Meyers with a sweep of his hand.

A New Member.

Kiwanian J. McNabb introduced Hugh Nevin as a new member to the club while an ovation was accorded Kiwanian J. Wearing whose recommended appointment to the city solicitorship was announced to the club by one of the members.

Kiwanian Jack Near was among to-day's guests and was tendered an expression of appreciation for his interest and courtesy in Toronto some months ago when a delegation of local Kiwanians visited Toronto in connection with the funeral of Kiwanian Norman Barclay. This is Jack Near's first visit to Peterboro since that date.

Other visitors at to-day's luncheon were Claude Warrington, North Bay; W. P. Noble, Saskatoon; Rev. A. H. McConnachie, Peterboro; J. Gordon, Peterboro; Paul Kutos, Capitol Theatre; J. Jolly, Travelling Freight Agent; L. Schulman, C.P.R. Toronto.

DECLARES COOPER'S REPORT IS UNFAIR

F. A. Gaby Testifies Before Gregory Commission on Hydro Expenditure.

TORONTO, March 27 (Canadian Press). — Before the Gregory Commission this morning, F. A. Gaby, chief engineer of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, declared that the Cooper report, estimating the total cost of the Chippawa Development at $65,000,000, was compiled on an unfair basis, and included the sum of $1,000,000, for which Hydro did not contemplate. He maintained that H. L .Cooper, in preparing the report, used a "minimum basis" on excavation work, which could not result in an accurate estimate.

He stated that such information as he received regarding the basis used on the report made him disregard it altogether and call in Stewart and Kerbaugh for a report The latter firm reported an estimated cost of $49,000,000.

N. W. Rowell pointed out that the Cooper report had turned out to be correct. Mr. Rowell said that it looked as if Stewart and Kerbaugh had leaned wards the Hydro Commission in their estimates.

Mr. Gaby replied that Stewart and Kerbaugh were recommended by outsiders.

The remainder of the morning session was spent in going over the Stewart and Kerbaugh estimates in detail.

ONTARIO IS NOW LOOKING TO ALBERTA FOR A COAL SUPPLY

TO TEST VALUE.

TORONTO, March 27. (Canadian Press.) — The Ontario Government is investigating the feasibility of getting the coal supply for this province from Alberta.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson in the Legislature yesterday afternoon got this information from Premier Drury when he asked what was being done to prevent a coal shortage next winter like the one which had caused so much misery this year.

"For some weeks this government has been in communication with the government of Alberta regarding coal" said Premier Drury. "We have arranged to get a few cars down to test its fuel value. We are hoping that we can get a freight rate on the National Railways that will make the transportation of large supplies of coal feasible. After studying the situation I have more faith in the solution of the difficult problem of bringing in Alberta coal than I have in either the development of peat or the importation of eastern coal, at least for this year."

Mr. Ferguson was confident that peat could be made a real commercial possibility within distances of short haulage from the peat deposits. Experiment had been going on for some time and he thought that the experiments should proceed when it was so near the solution of profitable manufacture or at least until the government had positive knowledge.

Premier Drury did not care to commit himself to any definte statements regarding peat experiments in the absence of Hon. Henry Mills, who is in the Minister in charge. Hon. Thomas Crawford told the House that he had used Alberta coal this winter and found it most satisfactory. The fuel question will be discussed later in the House on a resolution by W. H. Casselman, (Dundas.)

Abolish Deputy Reeve.

Although considerable opposition developed, including some from the Provincial Treasurer, Hon. George Henry got second reading for a bill which would do away with all deputy reeves in town, township and village councils. For towns of over 5000 he would have his council consist of mayor, reeve and three aldermen from each ward up to five wards, and then two from each ward. For villages one reeve and four councillors. In county council meetings, the reeves would vote according to the population of their municipalities as follows: 1000 population, one vote; 2000 population, two votes; 3000 population three votes, and above 3000 four votes.

Hon. Mr. Nixon said the weakness of the bill was it presupposed today that in county councils reeves and deputy reeves always voted the same way He thought perhaps that a basis of assessment might be a better way. This point was supported from both sides of the House some members telling of townships with as much assessment as eight villages while each village had the same vote in the county council as the township. The bill goes to the municipal committee for consideration.

J. McNamara (Riverdale) got second reading of a bill which would make the having of venereal disease, or the committing of adultery by a husband proof of desertion of his wife.

The second reading was given a bill making equal guardianship as between parents for children. If they can't agree on the guardiannship the court may decide.

A law giving councils the right to pass a bylaw compelling factories, shops and offices to observe a half holiday a week during July and August, providing the people vote favorably, was given a second reading.

City councils were also given the right in another bill receiving second reading to make grants to conventions.

Hon. George Henry met opposition with a bill making it possible for towns to compel horse drawn vehicles to carry lights. Only cities have the power at persent.

The following private bills secured a second reading: Confirming an agreement between the municipality of Neebing and the C. N. Railway, to simplify the sales of property held in trust for the Church of England in the Diocese of Niagara; to give Etobicoke township further rights in municipal affairs; respecting the town of Weston and Canada Cycle and Motor Company; to give Ottawa certain powers in connection with expenditures for municipal works; for consolidating the debt of East Flamboro; to incorporate the village of Hilton; to change the name of Victoria Loan and Savings Company, Lindsay; to allow a higher fare on the Kingston-Portsmouth street railway; to ratify certain bylaws of St. Catharines; to give certain extension of powers to the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Canada; to ratify an agreement for the construction of a Port Arthur hospital; to allow Tisdale township to collect a poll tax of $10; to validate a borrowing of Midland town for sewer construction, and to change the name of the Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptives to the Toronto Hospital for Consumptives.

London omnibuses last year carried 847,000,000 passengers.

MANY FARMERS HOLD SHARES IN THE BANKS

OTTAWA, March 27—(Canadian Press)—Nearly four thousand persons designated as farmers, ranchers and fruit-growers in Canada were registered as shareholders in Canadian chartered banks in 1922, according to a report brought down in the house yesterday by the Minister of Finance. The number of farmer shareholders, by provinces was as follows Alberta, 216; British Columbia, 93; Manitoba, 830; New Brunswick, 65; Nova Scotia, 245; Ontario, 1,188; Prince Edward Island, 38, Quebec, 463, and Saskatchewan, 747.

A total of 18,873 farmers paid income tax to the federal treasury in the year 1922, and of all the provinces, Saskatchewan last year had the greatest number of tax-paying farmers with a total of 6,560. Ontario came next with 6,138 and Manitoba third with 3,458. The total for the other provinces were: Alberta 1,638; British Columbia 640; New Brunswick 48; Nova Scotia 198; Prince Edward Island 40; Quebec 150, and Yukon 3.

FRANCE PREPARES ENDORSE TREATY

PARIS, March 27.—(Specail.) — If France ratifies the Washington naval disarmament treaties, it will only be because she is forced into it by her position in foreign affairs.

This was the attitude expressed in the French press Sunday as rumors were broadcasted that Premier Poincare was preparing reservations to the treaties before submitting them to the Chamber of Deputies' Foreign Relations committee. "If we must ratify then we must," was the consensus of opinion.

M. Bainville, writing in La Liberte, advised against undue haste in taking action. Enthusiasm in such a situation would be ridiculous he pointed out.

"In ratifying the treaty as a necessity, it is important that we do not bind ourselves for more than ten years," he said, adding that five five, three 1.75 per cent. ratio was an attempt of England and America to make France a victim of inferiority. France, Bainville said, is forced to submit because she is in debt to both Anglo-Saxon nations and would not be able to construct a powerful fleet anyway within the next ten years.

The Temps, reviewing England's disquietude over French over submarine construction, suggests a mutual security guarantee between the two governments covering not only under sea craft but airplanes and maritime communications.

"If such a guarantee could be signed, then European peace would become practically invulnerable and the whole world would profit," says Le Temps.

TRADING BLOOD FOR EDUCATION

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—(United Press)—Many medical students at the University of Pennsylvania are selling their blood to help pay for their education.

Turning their blood into gold is accomplished by submitting to blood tranfusion operations. The usual fee to the blood giver ranges from $25 to $100.

The practice is limited to almost exclusive medical students and in one medical fraternity half the members are now selling their blood. Other undergraduates do not seem willing to run the risk.

The pure blood of qualified volunteers is tapped for the benefit of patients whose life depends on an emergency supply. Not every student is permitted to submit to such an operation. His blood must meet certain rigid requirements and there must be an abundance of red corpuscles.

"Selling blood has been a practice among future doctors at Penn for some time," according to Dr. L. L. Gardner of the University Hospital. "It may be an easy way to make money, but we do not encourage the practice. The medical students do it of their own accord and in fact some of them need the money so badly they insist on sacrificing their blood for transfusion purposes. We now limit each volunteer to three operations a year."

Aged Women Perish in Almshouse

Seven aged women, inmates of the Allegany County Almshouse at Angelica, N.Y. ,were burned to death when flames swept the structure in a mysterious midnight fire. Two attendants lost their lives attempting to rescue trapped victims. Above are shown the ruins of the women's dormitory where six women perished.

Mme. Bernhardt Drifted Quietly Into Eternity

PARIS, March 27. — (Canadian Press.)— Sarah Bernhardt died peacefully in the arms of her son, Maurice ,at one minute before eight o'clock last night. In life she had been an amazing power of emotion, of marvelous realism, and pathos in her acting of death scenes. At the end of her days she quietly drifted into eternity, tired after her long fight against death, which she did not wish, but never feared.

Hope for the life of the great actress had long since been abandoned, and half an hour before she passed away, those in attendance found her sinking beyond recovery, though, knowing her recuperative powers, it was thought she might live throughout the night.

Mme. Bernhardt died in a large room on the second floor of her home with windows wide open on the Boulevard Pereire, the noise of trucks and the railroad keeping up a low roar to which she was long accustomed. It was the sudden closing of these windows, opened on the finest day of spring, that gave the signal to those waiting and watching without that Bernhardt was dead.

Death was due to a renewed attack of uraemic poisoning, which began Friday, but the actress astonished her physicians by her repeated rallies and her will to live, just as she did last December when hope had several times been abandoned. A priest was summoned hurriedly in the middle of the afternoon when symptoms of the gravest nature supervened, but Bernhardt rallied and regained lucidity. The priest administered extreme unction, which she acknowledged with faint movements of the hands and head, too weak to speak.

The widow of Edmond Rostand, whose fame is linked with that of Bernhardt, and the poet's son, Maurice Rostand, were at the bedside Bernhardt's grandson, M. Grosse, brought the first flowers into the death chamber —mauve and white lilacs. Flowers came from many friends quickly, and soon the room was heaped with them, those from the family and dearest friends being placed on the bed.

The actress son, Maurice, aided by the family physician, Dr. Marot, arranged his mother's hair and clothing and readjusted her position on the large bed on which she died, facing the windows. This room is filled with antique furniture, chosen by the actress herself, with the walls covered with tapestries, except where hang many autographed photographs of sovereigns and great personages who were friends.

Many hundreds of friends, persons prominent in all walks of life, and others, little known, but quite as dear to Bernhardt called during the three days of her last illness, but few of them were permitted to see her. Aside from the members of the household and family and her closest intimates, only Dr. Marot and the other physicians visited the sick room.

Messages of sympathy came from all the world and from all parts of France friends journeyed to France so they might come personally to the house to make inquiries and leave an expression of their affection. Carraiges and automobiles filed past the entrance from morning until night; the whole world seemed to be watching with the group of six doctors, hoping for recovery, but regretfully realizing that a great career was ending.

Arthur Mayer, Edtior of La Gaulois, who had known Mme. Bernhardt for many years, was the last caller; he arrived five minutes before her death, but realizing what was happening, left without seeing her. Just as he departed the windows of the bed chamber closed and a moment later Dr. Marot appeared and informed the newspapermen, who had been keeping watch night and day: "Mme. Sarah Bernhardt has just expired in the arms of her son. With her were M. Rostand, Mme. Rostand, and her grandson, M. Grosse."

Bernhardt's last stage role, in Sacha Guitry's play "Un Sujet de Roman," was never filled; she insisted she would appear, but the doctors and her family interfered and prevented her. Her last appearance was in the motion picture made in her home, which remains unfinished.

Three score and one years on the stage did not fill her life; she found time to be poet, novelist, painter and sculptor yet seemed never too busy to see her many friends and always seeking something more to do. The loss of her right leg at the beginning of the war caused her to limit her movements on the stage, but did not hinder her appearances. She took her misfortune bravely, played for the soldiers and used to the utmost her wonderful voice, which seemed never to tire; only of late years had it begun to lose something of its marvelous quality. Her inability to walk well and the increasing disabilities of age of late greatly restricted her stage roles and latterly she has appeared only seated.

It is undestood that Bernhardt will have a State funeral. The date has not yet been fixed, but it is thought that Thursday or Friday will be selected. In accordance with French custom, watch was kept throughout the night beside the body by members of the family, and today all will be admitted for a last view of the artiste, who lies buried in flowers, with candles burning.

Bernhardt suffered greatly in her last illness, except, perhaps, in the closing hours, but, ever thoughtful of others, she concealed her pain from all but Dr. Marot. From time to time she became delirious and declaimed passages from the tragedy "Phedre," and "L'Aiglon," her two greatest triumphs.

When the doctors met in consultation yesterday morning, it was obvious there was no longer hope; all they could do was to alleviate her suffering. At noon, she passed into a somnolent state, from which she aroused now and then, but was unable to speak; it was in one of these intervals that she gave signs that she wished a priest and Father Reisler came and administered the last sacraments at 3:30 o'clock. At five o'clock she fell into a coma-like state, and expired peacefully without recovering consciousness.

At the Theatre Sarah Bernhardt, where "L'Aiglon" was playing, the announcement was made about the middle of the first act. The play was stopped and the audience filed out sorrowfully.

Announcement was made at the other theatres after the conclusion of the first act.

In the meantime great crowds collected outside the residence on the Boulevard Pereire, gazing at the shuttered windows and watching the carriages and automobiles bringing celebrities of the literary and dramatic world.

MINIMUM PRICE ASKED FOR WHEAT OF U.S. AND CANADA

Western Farmers Seek Legislation Guaranteeing Them the Cost of Growing Wheat.

A NEW SCHEME.

WINNIPEG, March 27. Canadian Press. — The Free Press Bulletin to-day publishes the following from Minneapolis:

"Joint action between Canada and the United States to bring into effect guaranteed minimum price for wheat based on the actual cost of production, will be urged in the Manitoba Legislature by A. R. Boivin, Government member for Iberville.

"Ten wheat growing States are already behind Mr. Boivin's scheme, and a special session of Congress is being urged on President Harding to enact legislation to assure the farmer of the actual cost of producing his grain in order to prevent further losses to agriculturists.

"The minimum price plan was started here early last winter when Mr. Boivin addressed a meeting of business men.Since then the idea has been growing steadily until the early part of this month when the northwest price stabilization conference was held in St. Paul with 794 delegates present and a resolution was passed urging congress to immediately stabilize the price of farm products on the basis of the cost of production.

"On behalf of the conference John F. St. Claire and C. H. Johnston, both of Minneapolis, went to Washington to urge the scheme on the Senate and Congress. Owing to the fact the Houses were to prorogue March 4 it was impossible to take action and the move was started for the special session to deal with the matter before next fall.

"Mr. Boivan conferred with Mr. Johnston and others interested in the fixed price scheme here over week-end and it was decided that a move should be made in a joint effort to have the federal legislative bodies of the two countries enact the laws demanded."

CHILDREN'S AID GET THREE LITTLE TOTS.

LINDSAY, March 27.—While this town may be a little short on population ,and will give every encouragement to those who desire to locate within its borders, the authorities strenuously object to paying for the maintenance of those who belong to other municipalities.

A few days ago three little tots, whose mother was Mrs. Ritchie, and is said to be from Peterborough, were handed over to the care of the Children's Aid Society by Police Magistrate Bradford as a charge on the county. An appeal has been made against the order by the children's grandfather, George Lindsay, also of Peterborough who adopted the children some two years ago.

FELL FROM FREIGHT SERIOUSLY INJURED.

PORT HOPE, Mar. 27.—Numbed with the cold while stealing a ride on a freight train from Cobourg to Port Hope, Henry McIvor, of the former town, was obliged to drop from the fast-moving train when about half a mile east of here and was so seriously injured that his recovery is doubtful.

McIvors left arm and left leg were so badly injured that the amputation of both were necessary. A Cobourg boy who was with McIvor hurried to a nearby house but more than a hour elapsed before the injured lad was found and brought to the hospital.

McIvor is twenty years of age and a son of Thomas McIvor, brick manufacturer, of Cobourg. Only last week he was taken from a freight train here by the police and in court next morning was allowed to go with a warning.

LINDSAY March 27. — The United Farmers Co-operative Store in Lindsay has passed out of existence after a rather shaky career extending over a period of three years. It put up its shutters on Saturday night, and the stock has been purchased by Messrs. H. Tobin and S. Kennedy.

The farmers it appears did not take to the co-operative idea with the enthusiasm that was predicted by its advocates, who claimed that Lindsay would be an ideal centre for a store of this kind.

OAKWOOD, March 27.—Mr. W. H. Walkey has been appointed manager of the Bank of Montreal here, to succeed the late Leonard Kirby. Mr. Walkey has had many years' experience with the Bank of Montreal at Peterborough, where he was connected with many local organizations, including the Peterborough Club, the Childrens Aid Society, Bankers' Institute and the Baseball Club.

WILL APPEAL CASE.

LINDSAY, March 27.— It is understood that there will be an appeal in regard to the recent decision by Magistrate Bradford in the case of Nelson Stokes, the Mariposa farmer who was found guilty of having a still in his possession but was released by the Magistrate on the score of "keeping liquor in his possession for sale." Mr. Bradford decided that the liquor in the still was at the time in an unfinished state and was therefore merely "liquid."

FARM LABORERS O. NORFOLK WERE ALL CALLED ON STRIKE

Strike Has Not Become General and Many Men Refuse to Join the Movement.

WANT MORE PAY.

NORWICH, England, March 27. (Canadian Press-)— All the farm laborers of Norfolk County were called out on strike yesterday when the executive committee of the Farmers' Union rejected the proposal of the laborers for a three months' truce in order to place the entire agricultural problem before the Government, and also declined a suggestion made by Sir Robert A. Sanders, Minister of Agriculture, to submit the dispute to an independent arbitrator.

The laborers have been contending for an advance in wages. The strike has not yet become general, many of the men, notably laborers on the Earl of Kimberley's estate being reluctant to join the movement. These men are receiving 30 shilling a week, as against 25 shilling, offered the laborers by the farmers generally.

The laborers' union is insisting that all the farm workers must strike whether union nor non-union men, and irrespective of what wages they are receiving. On the other hand, the Earl of Kimberley, who sympathizes with the laborers and who is Vice-president of the Laborers' Union, declares he will resign his position in the union if the men working for him are called out.

The laborers' on King George's Sandringham estate also are disobeying the strike call.

CAUSED SCENE IN A LINDSAY CHURCH

(Special to The Examiner.)

LINDSAY, March 27. — J. B. Chamberlain, who was a candidate for the Mayoralty in Lindsay last January, created a scene in Cambridge street Methodist church Sunday afternoon, where Rev. T. Albert Moore, National President of Federation of Canadian Brotherhood, addressed a mass meeting.

The reverend gentleman in opening said he felt that all his hearers believed in the church. J. B. Chamberlain promptly arose in his place in a front pew and shouted, "I don't believe in the church." Mr. Moore replied that in view of what the church had accomplished in Canada in the past those holding the views expressed by Mr. Chamberlain should return to the country from whence they came.

THE WEEKLY HALF HOLIDAY.

At tonight's meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association a proposal to change the weekly half holiday during the summer months from Thursday to Wednesday will be discussed.

Throughout the district Wednesday is observed as a half holiday in practically every municipality except Peterborough, and there is a feeling locally and among commercial travellers in particular, that a change of date here making a uniform half holiday in this section of the province would be an advantageous step.

Advocates of the Thursday half holiday have always argued that it was in the interest of Peterborough to have its stores open on the date of the weekly half holiday in other municipalities because many people from such centres visited Peterborough on Wednesday and as a result considerable business from outside places was secured.

This advantage, however, is considered by many people as imaginary rather that real, for as a rule the average citizen who is enjoying a half holiday has little thought of business.

A change from Thursday to Wednesday would probably be in the general interest and the merchants tonight may perhaps see it in that light.

TOO MANY HONOURABLES.

With the Ottawa Journal's remarks in connection with Mr. Martell's proposed resolution to abolish the titles, "Right Honourable" and "Honourable" that the later prefix has come to be used with such abandon, freedom and indiscrimination that it threatents to become a permanent nuisance, there will be many in agreement.

The Examiner has no trouble in accepting its contemporary's opinion that we will soon be in the position of the people of the United States, where titles of one kind or another abound and where "Honourables" are as pleptiful as colonels in Kentucky.

The list of those in Canada who have the privilege of having the prefix "Honourable" used in front of their names is a formidable one.

It includes all justices of our courts, all the present Federal Cabinet Ministers, all the former Cabinet Ministers, all Senators, all Speakers and ex-Speakers and all members and past members of Provincial Cabinets.

And s the Journal points out the press is not guiltless for nearly all Canadian newspapers have a habit of needlessly dragging in the prefix. In England, "Mr. Asquith," "Mr. Bonar Law," and "Mr. Lloyd George" is considered sufficient, the prefix being very rarely used by the British newspapers.

On this side of the water even those journals which have most vigorously applauded the abolition of titles are themselves the worst offenders in the unnecessary use of such prefixes as Mr. Martell proposes now to eliminate.

PROTECTING THE PUBLIC.

While the crash of the L. R. Steel enterprise is naturally directing public attention to the Blue Sky legislation which the Legislature wll consider during the present session, it is interesting to note the method adopted by the Boards of Trade and several California citizens to protect their community from fraudulent stock selling schemes.

An advisory committee of banking and business experts has been formed to investigate and review the various propositions that are offered to the average citizen for investment.

The committee thus acts as a safety valve, checking any tendency on the part of the community to become exuberant in an financial sense.

The plan is not to issue general reports, but rather to compile the facts they are able to gather and furnish them confidentially to inquirers.

The advantage of this policy is apparent and it can readily be believed that the committee has already been successful in a number ot instances in preventing citizens from sinking their savings in doubtful propositions.

There would be no need for such methods of protecton if it were not that many people never stop to think that a sound proposition does not need to be peddled from door to door, if it is founded on sound principles and has a reasonable chance of success.

For such undertakings there is usually plenty of money to be obtained, and at the same time there are always reliable firms who will sell bonds and shares in safe enterprises.

Other propositions are merely gambles and the odds are almost always strongly against the investor.

A RECORD YEAR.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company broke all records in amount of business done in the year of 1922, according to a report published today. The amount of new business placed on the books exceeded the phenomenal year of 1920 and was far in excess of what had been done in 1921. The Officers of the Company believe that this certainly reflects improved business conditions.

Particularly significant is the fact that Industrial Insurance, which is taken largely by wage earners and their families, had such a great volume. The total amount on Industrial insurance placed during the year was over $775,000,000.

The investment situation is also good.

The income of the Company increased by over thirty-eight and a half million dollars that of 1921, reaching the total of $340,668,301. The assets of the Company increased $144,267,300 and at the end of the year stood at $1,259,850,325. The mortality increased somewhat as compared with the previous year and the total number of claims paid was 365,276. This was an average of one claim paid every 24 seconds of each business day of eight hours, or just about 1,000 a day during the year, including Sundays and holidays. The amount paid to policyholders averaged $803.81 a minute of each business day.

The Metropolitan's business indicates a prosperous year in Canada. It placed on the books $108,900,017 of new insurance, making the total now outstanding in the Dominion $480,562,364. The Metropolitan's total investments in Canada at the end of 1922 were over $94,000,000. The Company has Canadan securities on deposit with the Dominion Government and Canadian trustees amounting to $66,319,697. Of its total investments $81,000,000 are in Canadian bonds, nearly $36,000,000 of this amount being in war bonds. The num- of policies held by Canadians is over 1,800,000.

Along with this great increase on the business side, the welfare work done by the Company, in behalf of the health of its Industrial policyholders, kept pace. Metropolitan nurses made more than two million free visits to sick Industrial policyholders, bringing the total number made since this service was inaugurated to over sixteen million. In Canada cooperating with the Victorian Order of Nurses, 1,766,689 visits have been made; 259,320 in 1922. The Company has distributed altogether two hundred and seventy two million booklets and pamphlets giving hints on hygiene and prevention of disease. In Canada 2,322,721 were distributed in 1922. These health measures in cooperation with the general activities whch are widening each year on the part of all official and sem-official health organizations, has resulted in extending the life expectancy among Industral policyholders by eight and one-half years since 1911.

THE SENATE SERVES.

Mr. Fielding has not disclosed the advantages to be gained by having the Senate appointed on a fifty-fifty basis by the Dominion and the Provinces. But he must have given the matter a great deal of thought, and it will be interesting to discover his views when the debate is resumed on Mr. Denis' resolution calling for a constitutional amendment providing for an elective Senate.

If Senate reform is desirable, it is not in the manner proposed by Mr. Denis. If the Senate were elective and especially for such a short term as six years, one of its chief services to the country—that of resisting measures going to it from the elective Commons which are the result of the latter Chamber's submission to the dictates of minorities for the sake of vote-catching—would be lost.

The claim is advanced with all the assurance that usually attends the statement of an axiom that the Senate is not representative. If by that it is meant that it does not represent the opinion and will of the Canadian people it can not be sustained. In its treatment of legislative proposals it represents the opinion and will of the people oftener than does the Commons, which comes to Ottawa fresh from the country at least every five years. And that is because it is independent of voting pressure, whereas the Commons is not.

The appointive Senate represents the people because it is free to represent them. The elective Commons very often does not represent the people because it is intimidated by minority and sectional pressure. If the Senate were elective these powerful minorities would have their way with both Chambers and the will of the majority would be defeated.

Minority elements exert their influence through concentrating on their purposes, whereas the majority fail to do so except in exceptional cases. The Member of Parliament who votes against a measure backed by some minority element probably will not be thanked by the majority whose opinion he represents, nor if he votes for the measure is he likely to be punished by the majority. But by voting against it, he does, of a certainty, earn for himself the ballot opposition of the minority element. It may mean his elimination from Parliament at the next election. The earnest minorities do not forget.

The influence of minority intimidation was mildly illustrated a few days ago in connection with the anti-betting resolution. The majority of the people of Canada are not persuaded that horse racing is working great evil in this country; are not anxious to have it eliminated. An earnest and determined minority are bent on killing racing. The anti-betting resolution was defeated in the Commons, it is true, but a very large number of the Members from the English-speaking parts of the country made the division an occasion to absent themselves from the House. They avoided voting against the proposal they did not believe in and that is not being demanded by a majority of the people in order not to offend the minority element in their constituencies.

The usefulness of the Senate in this respect becomes greater as minorities seeking all manner of measures multiply in number. Almost every other day some well-meaning, purposeful soul gathers together a band of followers and sets out to save the country from damnation by suppressing something or other—Sunday bathing, or cigarette smoking, or blond hair, or breeches for women. If it were not for the Senate, with its independence of the minorities, it might any day become an indictable offence punishable by flogging to wear silk underclothes.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

It is reported that the Budget debate in the legislature will be wound up this week. Most people would rather see it run down.

This year's Motor Show promises to surpass all its predecessors both in special feature and in attendance and in view of the need of the Health Association this is a matter for general rejoicing.

It doesn't look as if the City will have to worry about oiling the streets for a few weeks more at least.

The argument that Canada must be a good country to live in because Winter is so unwilling to leave will not be applauded by very many Canadians at the present time.

If many more Chinese are allowed to enter Canada it may be justified to call Mr. Stewart's immigration plans a washout.

The Canadian Colonization Association seems to have about the same popularity in the House of Commons as an attempt to reduce the sessional indemnities would have.

Government speakers in the Legislature deny any one to point out one extravagant item in their expenditure. That should be easy by taking some of the figures mentioned in their campaign speeches in 1919 and multiplying them two or three times.

Crippling Leg Ulcers

"After the way Zam-Buk saved my leg, I consider it a duty to let others know of its wonderful healing," writes Mr. Edward Bingham, of 118, Brant Avenue, Brantford. "Ulcers broke out on my right ankle, after typhoid, and the limb got so terribly inflamed and the pains were so intense that I was too disabled to move in any way. After using lotions, salves and ointments, without avail, I decided to see what Zam-Buk could do.

"The first application of this herbal balm relieved swelling and soreness in a surprising way and as I continued with Zam-Buk discharge ceased, and the ulcers began to be 'healthier looking' and far less painful. In a week or two, thanks to Zam-Buk, the last of the inflammation had gone and the ankle was thoroughly healed with firm new skin."

After Eleven Years' Experience in Australia, Will Farm Here.

ST. JOHN, N.B. March 27.—(Special)—That Canada is the most prosperous colony in the British Empire was the opinion expressed by G. F. Burnside who arrived here on the C.P. Steamship Marloch from Liverpool after spending eleven years in Australia and some time in the Old Country. He is returning to Canada with the intention of purchasing a farm and starting poultry raising and mixed farming. He spent eleven years in Australia working on cattle ranches and in mines, and then decided to return to this country. He is convinced that Canada is the most prosperous of colonies and greater opportunities are afforded here than in any other place in the British Empire. He has had considerable experience in dairy and poultry business and will adopt methods which he has found out are the most successful. With reference to poultry, he said he will adopt the dry mash method and is confident he will get good results. He expects to locate around Strathcona, where he has been negotiating for a farm and has secured an option on a good site.

Something New For Tonsilitis

Ontario Lady Adopts New Vaporizing Salve Vicks.

Miss Margaret Hooley of 96 Chesley Ave., London, Ont., says: "I am pleased to say Vicks VapoRub has done me a lot of good as I am subject to colds in winter. I also found it a great relief to my throat when I had tonsilitis. Also my mother finds it good for headaches. I would not be without it."

They used to treat colds externally with tallow, goose grease and camphor. Recently, internal dosing has been the habit and people naturally doubt the value of a salve.

For this reason, Canada druggists introduced Vicks VapoRub, the vaporizing salve for all cold troubles, last winter by giving away dozens of jars to responsible families and every jar sold was on 30-day trial.

The above report is just one of a great many received from enthusiastic Canada families. With such endorsement and a positive money-back guaranty, every household ought to give Vicks a thorough trial as the home remedy for croup, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, catarrh, neuralgia, cuts, burns, bruises and sores.

At all drug stores 50c a jar. For free test package, write Vick Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul St., W., Montreal P.Q.

SCHOOL HEAD PLAYS MARBLES WITH BOYS

GALLATIN, Mo., March 27.—(United Press).—Marble playing has been adopted as a major sport in the public schools here.

L. M. Hosman, superintendent of schools, who himself knuckles down with the youngsters every day before school and during recesses, coaches the sport, which he declares has increased the efficiency of his pupils 50 per cent.

Hosman not only encourages the game, but gives demonstrations on how to carry the marbles without dropping them on the floor during school hours.

Hosman also encourages the spirit of fair play. When a youngster has had a streak of bad luck, he stakes him to a fresh supply of marbles. These he buys from the winner, or from one of the overstocked players who wants the price of a movie.

Hosmans pupils are never late, but parents complain they spend more time at school than is really necessary.

Dear Editor:

I would like, through the medium of your paper to call the attention of the City Fathers or whoever it concerns to the half-hearted way the garbage is collected in the South end. The collector comes along picks up the garbage, throws it into the wagon and then, with oft times a lot left in tre garbage box or tin, he throws it back on the sidewalk or half way across the street. The consequence is half of the garbage is strewn all over the road and if it is a wooden box the sides of or the bottom gets knocked out. I wonder if the collector throws his "own" stuff around like that, and does he think any person can afford a new garbage holder every other week? Of course the people do not want him to bring the garbage holder back to the house and take it into the cellar or any other place. But what we do want is a little care and common sense and "handle the garbage holders a little lighter.' That is what we pay some of the taxes for. Thanking you Mr. Editor.

Yours truly,
SOUTH END.

REDISTRIBUTION.

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—It is so important for Peterborough that it should pay attention to the Redistribution bill now before Parliament at Ottawa and to become law in a few weeks that I venture to publish the following letter from Mr. Brethen (not in any way marked "private") G. N. Gordon M.P., and the rest of us do not seem to agree, and it is most necessary one would think that the best opinion concerning this matter should prevail. Mr. Gordon's opinion is entitled to the greates weight and he may be right, but as a former member I have ventured to tell him that I think he is seriously wrong. What are the facts? 1: East Peterborough has to disappear. 2: The proposition advocated before the committee by Mr. Gordon M.P., is that Otonabee, Douro and Lakefield should join West Peterborough in becoming the new riding of Peterborough. 3: This leaves Asphodel, Belmont and Dummer to go to Northumberland (Cobourg or Campbellford) and all the north country to go to Marmora (North Hastings). 4: The City of Peterborough as a county-town therefore stands to lose enormously in every way. 5: Just at this juncture the people of the East Riding came forward (at Mr. Forke's meeting at Norwood) and proposed that we all join in asking parliament to keep us one county as formerly, but of course one riding instead of two. 6: Mr. Gordon does not approve of this plan. He favors losing Aspohdel, Belmont, Dummer, and all the north country. He has said in the press why he thinks so and it is not necessary to restate his opinion which I repeat is entitled to the greatest possible weight. 7: What does West Peterborough think? The following letter from Mr. Brethen shows what East Peterborough thinks. What ever is to be done must be done at once. The wish expressed by East Peterborough alters the whole case.

J. H. BURNHAM.

Mr. Brethen's Letter.

Dear Mr. Burnham:

Your letter of the 17th, received, and was glad to know of your interest in this matter. I quite agree with you that the disposition of East Peterborough is a matter of grave importance.

If the two Peterborough's can be united intact into one constituency Peterborough, I believe it will be in the best interest of all concerned. Unless on the minor motives of political expediency. I can see no justification for the arrangement suggested by Mr. Gordon in an interview he gave to some of the papers.

I note your letter to the Examiner, and also their editorial comments on same and the position the Examiner has taken would seem quite satisfactory under the circumstances.

I have written the Havelock, Lakefield and Peterborough papers regarding this question and believe that force of public opinion will demand an arrangement such as we are advocating. Assuring you again of my appreciation of your interest in this matter and that I am keeping very closely in touch with the Committee of Re-distribution. I remain,

Respectfully yours,
G. A. BRETHEN.

Simple Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this, get two ounces of peroxine powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The peroxine powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.

McLLBROOK March 27.—An incipient fire broke out on Saturday morning in the frame house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Sargent Medd, west of the village on the boundary beween Cavan and Manvers. The pipes from the kitchen stove and the chimney both took fire, the bricks from the latter becoming so hot that the wall was considerably charred upstairs. A telephone call brought all the neighbors who could be reached on Fallis Line to give their assistance, and by 3 o'clock the fire was out. The damage done is fully covered by insurance. The high wind on Saturday made the danger more acute but fortunately the trouble was under control in good time or the entire house would doubtless have been destroyed.

Quarterly Review

The usual quarterly review was observed in the Methodist Sunday School on Sunday afternoon, the attendance of teachers, officers and scholars being as large as could be expected, considering the stormy weather and state of the roads. The service was specially appropriate to the Easter season, a duet, "Alone," by Misses Roma Roberts and M. Byam, with Miss Hatti Barnard as accompanist,, being particularly enjoyed. Afterwards a series of slides, "Passion Week and After," were thrown upon the screen, Miss A. Hampton giving a most instructive talk on the events portrayed as the different views were shown. Hymns suitable to the various steps in the trial of our Saviour were thrown upon the screen and sung as the story progressed, including "Saviour, Thy Dying Love," "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," and "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," Miss May Byam at the piano, and Mr. G. E. Burnham with the cornet, providing both accompaniment and lead for the singing. Responsive Scripture readings, also shown on the screen, with the superintendent, Mr. W. F. Fallis, leading, brought a most impressive service to a close.

The reports, read by the secretary, Mr. W. G. Rowland, showed an encouraging attendance throughout the quarter, with a number of classes reciting verses, and generous offerings received each Sunday. The "Maple Leaf" class, Miss A. Stewart, teacher, has the banner for next month, having recited the largest number of verses per member, those in the class being: Betha Lang, Flossie McMahon, Wilma Fallis, Aileen and Marguerite Sanderson and Linnie Guthrie.

Pass Near Millbrook

The Canadian organizer of the International Motor Tour, Dr. F. E. Doolittle, of Toronto, has now completed the itinerary of the tour which will occupy fifteen days, from July 8th to 15, and which is under the auspices of the Michigan Pikers Association, of Detroit. The object of the tour is to promote the good roads programme, and it is expected that approximately 150 meetings will be organized along the route when goods roads propaganda will be spread far and wide. The party will enter Ontario by way of Sault Ste. Marie, and when on their return journey a break will be made on leaving Port Hope and Cobourg and passing within five miles of Millbrook on the Kingston highway, they will go north to Peterboro' and Lindsay for a brief stay. This will give local motorists an opportunity of joining the party while in this neighborhood, while there are 40 or 50 cars in the gigantic tour, at least 200 "road boosters" are expected to join along the journey. Several cars from Toronto are already on the list. Amongst the speakers will be Captain Gilbreath, president of the Michigan body.

She Recommends them to All Who Suffer

And Sings the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Henri, Que., March 26.—(Special)—The value of Dodd's Kidney Pills is shown by the statement of Madame Roch Martel, a well known resident here.

"After five years of suffering in my back and lower part of my body, I was obliged to take to my bed. I resolved to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes restored me to good health. I am now quite strong and healthy and recommend them to all who suffer."

It is statements like this that have made Dodd's Kidney Pills a household remedy all over Canada.

Ninety per cent of the ills from which women suffer come from weak or diseased kidneys. They are the organs that strain all the impurities, all the seeds of disease out of the blood. If they fail in this work the impurities remain in the blood and are deposited all over the body. The results show themselves in weakness, weariness, nervousness, headaches, backaches, dropsy and rheumatism.

Dodd's Kidney Pills strike right at the seat of the trouble, the kidneys. Ask your neighbors if all these diseases cannot be avoided by using Dodd's Kidney Pills to strengthen the kidneys.

AMENDMENTS TO BANKRUPTCY LAW OF THE DOMINION

Government Will Introduce Measure to This End at the Present Session of Parliament.

OTTAWA, March 27.—(Canadian Press).—Sir Lomer Gouin announced last night that the Government intended to introduce amendments to the existing bankruptcy law of Canada at the present session of Parliament.

From July 6, 1920, to December 26, 1922, a total of 118 trustees had been appointed for the Montreal district alone. One member had said that twenty-five would be sufficient. If fewer trustees were appointed there would be fewer attempts to create assignments. Conditions in Quebec had become "amazing." A reputable lawyer of Montreal, in addressing a business men's meeting, had read from a partnership agreement the following clause: "In case of bankruptcy profits will be divided equally."

Under the old law in Quebec a debtor could never get his discharge. He was allowed to resume business after settling for perhaps fifty or seventy-five per cent. but any of his creditors could sue for their entire debt. and if they secured judgment, could later have that judgment executed.

If the other provinces desired that this Bankruptcy Act should continue in force as far as they were concerned, there was no objection to it, but it should be amended so that it would not be applicable to the province of Quebec.

West Better Off.

L. J. Ladney, Conservative, Vancouver South, said that British Columbia and the prairie provinces were much better off with this Bankruptcy Act than without. Its purpose was not to enable debtors to go through dishonest forms and escape payment but to protect the assets of honest creditors. Honest debtors were given a chance to start business afresh, and by the present Act, machinery was provided for winding up the estate of an insolvent debtor with a minimum of expense. The Act had stabilized trade. There was room for amendment, but Mr. Ladner did not believe there should be talk of abrogating the Act.

Paul Mercier, Liberal, Westmount-St Henri, supported the resolution. The Bankruptcy Act was a source of complaint from various classes, and it was desirable to abrogate or modify it. Since 1920, when this Act came into effect, said Mr. Mercier, 87 amendments had been found necessary to it. It had brought confusion into the province of Quebec. It had diminished urban and rural credit.

This Will Ward Off And Break Up Colds

THE two ailments that people generally regard as of the least importance are in reality the cause of most serious illness and of the greatest proportion of deaths. They are constipation and common colds. Many doctors believe that colds, tonsilitis, a touch of malaria will cause constipation, instead of constipation being their cause. The fact remains that you seldom have a cold without constipation, due to general congestion. The only way to avoid colds is to keep up your vitality. You usually catch cold in the winter if you are run down. Therefore in cold weather exercise more; eat more fatty foods; drink four to six glasses of water a day; keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

You are also less liable to colds if your system is free from the intestinal poisons of constipation, so empty the bowels regularly with a plain vegetable laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. At the first sign of a cold, at the first few warning sneezes, take a teaspoonful of Laxative Syrup Pepsin and the congestion will be gone in a few hours. Don't wait until the cold has a grip on you. Mr. R. H. Powell, of Gilbert Plains, Man., considers Laxative Syrup Pepsin the best laxative he ever used, and Mrs. Chas. Lewis, of Winnipeg, Man., uses it effectively for all the small ills of her family, such as constipation, biliousness, headaches, dizziness, and to break up fevers and colds.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves: Where can I find a truly worthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated? I urge you to try my Laxative Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an ordinary test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 23 Caldwell Building., Toronto, Ont. Do it now!

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian senna with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is safe to give to infants, and all children like it. Before you again resort to cold remedies containing narcotics try a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Any druggist will supply you, and the cost is less than a cent a dose.

DOCTOR, FACING TRIAL FOR MURDER, BLAMES ALTRUISM.

Says He Was Simply Good Samaritan to Pretty Girl on Perilous Byway of Love.

Dr. Louis L. Jacobs, 30, debonair captain in the United States Public Health Service at Camp Kearney, will seek to persuade a jury this was his odd role in the case of Fritzi Mann, for whose murder he stands indicted and went on trial yesterday.

"Dammed fool altruism" he says, accounted for his interest in the attractive 20-year-old cabaret dancer whose half-clad body was found on the lonely Torrey Pines beach Jan. 15.

For the circumstances shaping the tragedy and for any act leading to her death the army physician has stoutly disclaimed guilt.

Case Circumstantial.

The case against him, so far as it has been divulged by District Attorney Kempley, is wholly circumstantial. He expects to establish an alibi "when the proper times comes."

Prosecution is based on the theory that Miss Mann was stunned by a blow on the head, and was then cast into the sea where she drowned after brief revival.

The two arrived in a closed car and were registered by E. A. Kern, proprietor, as man and wife under fictitious names.

Kern had scrutinized the woman carefully and indentified her readily. About the man he was less certain.

Miss Mann and her escort left the cabin for an hour, returned and left again for good, Kern will tell the jury.

Possessions Scattered.

The spot where the body was found is 10 miles away. On the road, apparently scattered in flight, were the handbag, vanity case and kimona of the dancer and a blanket from the Blue Sea cottage.

That the pretty entertainer was the victim o fher own popularity is the autopsy testimony. She had loved someone not wisely but too well, according to surgeons.

And it was in worry of the consequences that she consulted him, declares Dr. Jacobs. He had, he admitted, advised her about a contemplated operation which was to have taken place a few days after the sea solved her problem. He had also arranged for a nurse, police say.

"I am a friend of the dead girl" the army man told officers the day investigation started. "She had recently confided in me. Told me she was secretly married. I want to do what I can to help clear the mystery."

Dr. Jacobs was arrested, released on a writ of habeas corpus, and then secretly indicted two weeks later after Chief of Police Pattrick had said to him, "I'm not at all satisfied with what you have told us."

The weakness of the state's case is the professed inability of E. A. Kern positively to indentify Jacobs as the man who occupied his cottage with Miss Mann.

Dr. Jacobs' defense weakness lies in failure thus far to substantiate with witnesses his claim that he was at the Grand Hotel during the hours fixed by investigators as the death period.

Army friends are strongly aligned behind the Camp Kearney captain and the trial promises to be one of the bitterest contests ever fought in San Diego courts.

Fritzi Mann was born in Austria of Polish-Hungarian parents. She lived in Denver from childhood until after two years ago, when she came to San Diego and Los Angeles.

RECIPES

When cold meat is the main dish for luncheon or supper, macaroni may be made into a tasty salad to go with it. This dish consists of the following ingredients:

Three cups of cooked macaroni; one cup of celery; one apple; one small onion, thinly sliced; one green pepper, cut into dice; one pimiento or canned red pepper; four tablespoons of oil; two tablespoons of vinegar; one teaspoon of salt; pepper to taste; one cup of cooked salad dressing or a cup of mayonnaise, and two tablespoons of tomato catsup.

INSPIRING SERVICE MARK ST. CHURCH

Watching By the Cross Was a Subject Well Handled.

Owing to the storm on Sabbath, the congregations at Mark Street Church were not as large as usual, but the services were characterized by deep spirituality.

"Watching by the Cross" was the subject of the morning sermon, and was founded on Matthew xxvii., 36: "And sitting down they watched him there."

Last Sabbath morning, you will remember, we left Jesus standing before the High Priest in the hall of judgment, while Peter, with breaking heart and flowing tears, stood without in the darkness, weeping bitterly because of his denial of Christ. This morning we shall accompany the Nazarene to the judgment hall of Pilate and on to Golgotha.

Great Sunrise Council.

It was about three o'clock in the morning when Peter denied his Master, and about sunrise another council was called. Why is this council convened? That they may trump up a charge against Jesus, such as will appeal to Pilate, is the scheme of these nickel-plated Pharisees. But why do they not take Christ out and stone Him at once? Well, there are two excellent reasons: Heaven's High Council and the prophets of God both point to the Cross as the mode of His sacrificial death. Then you will remember that the scribes and Pharisees were always afraid of the people. The crowd was always ready to defend Jesus. He was the friend of the people. Jesus would be quite safe in the hands of the common crowd; and the multitude would have torn these wretched plotters limb from limb, to save that Galilean peasant. So they build up a charge of treason against Christ, and charge Him with claiming to be the "King of the Jews."

Christ Before Pilate.

Never before was such a tragedy enacted in the world. No wonder that mighty picture, "Christ Before Pilate," sold in the original for hundreds of thousands of dollars. See that Roman Governor cower before his prisoner. Pilate sends Jesus to Herod, but Herod Antipas will have nothing to do with this Galilean prisoner. It has been hinted that in some way Pilate is in league with Jesus, so, to set this suspicion at rest, Jesus is scourged. But the lash, the sceptre of mockery, the scarlet robe of ignominy and the crowd of thorns and blood can never defame the eternal majesty that sits enthroned in the countenance of the Man of Nazareth. Never before was the insignia of royalty so exacted. He suffers as man, not as God. When He is reviled He answers not. Falsely accused, He denies not. The crowd would have Him, but the censorious, blood-thirsty Pharisees persuade the simple-minded people to ask Barabas, the murderer. Pilate finds no fault in Him. Why, then, does he not set Him free? Pilate lacks the moral courage in the crowd. Christ is scourged and brutalized to-day before your eyes and you look on and say nothing. When you and I see a servant of God wronged and look in in silence, we are as guilty as Pilate. You are afraid of getting in wrong with Caesar if you stand up for the "King of the Jews." Well, God help both you and Caesar in the hour of death and judgment.

Coming to Calvary.

So Pilate releases Barabas and condemns Jesus. What a chance this Roman governor had! Oh, if he had but stood for innocence and virtue and truth, his name would have come down to us covered with glory, but it has been otherwise, and we are told that Pilate never smiled again after that day.

Coming out of the city Jesus sinks beneath the cross. He could hunger and thirst and be weary and all such evidence is precious. He is so worn down by suffering, faint from loss of blood, and so exhausted from fatigue, that even his remorseless enemies either pity him or fear that he will die before he reaches the cross. This goes to prove his humanity. Yes, he was human as well as divine. But why does he sink down beneath the weight of the cross? Is it a parable?

Simon Bears the Cross.

What the Saviour had spoken and what he had enjoined, was simply the bearing of the cross. That is the performing of duties and enduring trials too heavy for us to bear alone, and from which nature sinks sometimes in terror. Yes each man shall bear his cross, and such a cross as Jesus bore. So as Simon bore the cross for Jesus, the exalted Son of God bears the cross for us. But let me ask these holy Pharisees a question or two. Did the Nazarene eat last night at the Passover supper? Did you nourish him after his bloody agony in the garden? Had he even a cup of water at the high priest's house? Did you not even wash the blood from his face? No, he did none of these little deeds of mercy. Why a red-handed murderer gets his breakfast before he goes out to die. Is it any wonder he sinks down in weakness? Oh, ye murderers of God's Son—how shall ye escape the withering blast of the wrath of God?

Listening by the Cross.

Jesus lays his own hands on the beam. He came to die. As the hammer falls, and the blood oozes past the nails, he looks in love on his murderers. Lifted on the cross, ten thousand devils hiss around the mountain as they behold him. There he hangs, bridging the chasm between God and man. The heavens grow black. Nature weeps. The four soldiers sit down and watch him die. They shall not sleep. Listen to Jesus' last five words: "I thirst." "Mother, behold thy son." "Eli, Eli, Lama Sabachthani?" "Today thou shalt be with me in paradise." "It is finished." These four soldiers were afraid that the people might yet rescue him. Thus, watching by the cross, I behold my Advocate. He pleads my cause by the bleeding wounds he bore. My brother, let not Jesus bear your sins in vain.

The sad thing about having a wife is when you look for something it has been hung up somewhere.

MAKE THE BACKYARD PAY

Hotbeds and Cold Frames As Backyard Food Factories.

By William R. Beattie

Take a man who has worked in the office or at some indoor occupation during the entire winter and let him tackle the job of spading up the backyard and he is certain to get several kinks in his back and the thousand and one muscles that he never dreamed were in his body.

The real solution is to put one kind of kinks into the way the garden word is done and prevent other kind of kinks getting in one's anatomy.

Spading the garden is considered hard work by most people; in fact, it is hard work the way so many people do it. The experienced gardener does not undertake to upturn the whole garden at a few spadefuls, but begins at one end and open a deep, narrow furrow clear across the space to be spaded.

He then works from one side to the other much the same as a plowman would do, taking thin, deep slices of the soil and always maintaining the narrow, deep furrow or opening.

As each spadeful is lifted and turned over it is thoroughly pulverized with the edge or the point of the spade. This pulverizing during spading greatly reduces the work later when the seeds are being planted. The lumps of earth also break up much easier while moist and before they dry out.

There are numerous little kinks to planting the garden.

One of these is to mark the rows by setting little pegs at each end of the garden plot before beginning to plant. This shows just how many rows of the different widths such as 12, 18, 24, 30 and 36 inches are available, and, if necessary, an adjustment can be made before any planting is done.

Another little kink is in stretching a garden line. In the first place the line should be of good, heavy, strong cord and two good stakes should be driven solidly into the ground at the ends.

After the line is tightly stretched between the two stakes, straighten it by lifting it near the center and allow it to drop into place just as a carpenter does in "striking" a chalkline.

Still another kink is in the use of the corner of the hoe drawn with the edge against the tightly stretched line for making a drill in which to plant large seeds, such as peas, beans and corn.

For making small furrows invert the hoe and mark along the line with the smooth, rounded end of the handle.

The back of a hoe is perhaps the best tool for firming the soil over the seeds after they are planted and covered.

When it comes to cultivating the garden more of the same kind of kinks are at the gardener's beck and call.

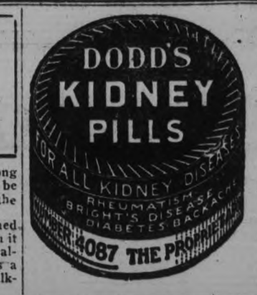
Pruning the tomato vines to a single stem and tying them to stakes gets them up out of the way of cultivation, gives nice clean fruit and causes it to ripen earlier.

Drying a few stakes along the row of peas and stretching three-foot poultry netting upon them makes the best kind of support for the peas with much less labor than the old brush method.

After the peas are gathered the netting is rolled into a compact roll and stored overhead in the garage until next season.

Poles upon which the lima beans are to climb can be made to stand against the winds that blow by bringing three or four of them together at the top and fastening them with wire.

Onions may be hastened in ripening by rolling an empty barrel over the tops after the bulbs are fully grown.



LUXOR AWAKENED FROM SLEEP OF MANY AGES

VALLEY OF THE KINGS, LUXOR, EGYPT, March 27.—(By The Associated Press) Luxor, like King Tutankhamun, has been roused from its repose of 3,000 years and is taking on something of the habits and achracteristics of a twentieth century town. For ages a conventional stopping place for Nile excursion steamers and tourists, it has lately become a centre for people of all classes, including students, college professors, antiquarians, doctors, undertakers, dressmakers and souvenir hunters. The newly-found tomb of Tutankhamun is the magnet that draws them all. Tourists are attracted here out of curiosity, but professional men and women, undertakers, embalmers, dressmakers, and milliners, come in the hope of getting new ideas for their business from the mummy chamber of the ancient king.

To modern undertakers the skill of the ancient Egyptians in preserving their dead against the ravages of ages is a source of amazement and mystery, and many of them have applied to Howard Carter, discoverer of Tutankhamun, for the privilege of examining the Pharaoh's body when it is divested of its garb of gold and its bituminized bandages.

Embalming in ancient times was a much more elaborte and expensive process than it is today. It required three months for its completion, and cost $1,500. It was a luxury that could be afforded only by the rich. The ancients believed that mummification in this life was the only sure means of their resurrection in the next. Pathetic efforts were made by the poor to secure eternal life to their dead. American archaeologists in Luxor have lately found skeletons of humble peasants placed near the graves of the royal dead. Their relatives, it appears, too poor to pay for embalming, placed the bodies near the graves of the nobles in the hope that their poor frames would partake of the sacredness of the nobility and thus rise with them in the next life.

The first step in embalming a body in Pharaolnic days was to place it in a powerful saline solution for three months. The intestines were then removed by means of a sharp-edged stone, the brain, heart and liver were taken out and the body impregnated with myrrh, acacia, bitumen and aromatic oils. It was then wrapped in hundreds of yards of linen soaked in preservative. The anointing of the mummy was accompanied by prayers and incantations to the gods led by the high priests.

Herbert E. Winlop, director of excavation at Thebes for the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art, who is the correspondent a 4,200-year-old Egyptian princess that he unearthed last week in the Valley of the Queens. Allowing for natural emaciation and shrinkage, the body is amazingly well preserved. The teeth and hair are intact. The neck, wrists and ankles bear a series of slight indentures, indicating, according to Mr. Winlop, that her ancient highness wore a necklace, bracelets and anklets which undoubtedly had been stripped from her by tomb-robbers soon after her interment.

The royal mummy, Mr. Winlop said, was that of a woman of 22 or 23, who undoubtedly had been a favorite in the court of one of the Amenuhotep kings. Her bosom and arms were delicately tatooed with heraldic figures, indicating her noble lineage. Over the lower part of the abdomen was a long seared brand which the American expert said probably had been inflicted with a red-hot iron by the doctors of that time as a counter-irritant to relieve the pain due to an organic malady from which the princess suffered.

IN THE MOVIE WORLD

NEW YORK, March 27.—Lew Cody, fresh as a daisy and with California's famous sun burned deep into his face, opened the door, grabbed my hand and parked himself on the corner of my desk.

Having grown somewhat pasty and irascible in this sunless New York of the past few months, Lew's crisp appearance made me somewhat testy.

"Pretty soft for you!" I growled at him. "You movie guys run out to California for the winter, make a picture or two and get enough money to live the life of Riley for the next six months. Then you come around here to make a putty-faced hard-working devil like me feel—"

"Now wait a minute!" Lew interrupted. "Let me tell you what I've been doing and you'll see it hasn't been so easy as you think.

"I've just finished making three pictures at the same time and rushed on here to start work in 'Lawful Larceny' right away. No rest for the wicked, you know!"

"Well, I like my role in 'Within the Law.' You see, as Garson, I give up the woman I love and die a martyr."

"What else you been doing?"

"I was playing Rupert in 'Rupert of Hentzau,' Garson in 'Within the Law' and a fellow named Watson in 'Souls for Sale' all at the same time. Some nights I slept in my dressing room and I had a gink who did nothing but keep check on my clothes so I wouldn't get into a picture with the wrong ones on."

* * *

"You have had a tough time, Lew. How can a fellow get into character and out of character so frequently and exchange character and still do effective acting?"

"That's just part of the game," Cody answered. "It's like being a fireman. He puts on his helmet and boots and rushes to a fire. He knows just where to hook up the hose and where to look to rescue people. He returns to the engine house and gets a call to another fire. It's a different sort of fire, but he knows just what to do there. An actor's just like a fireman. Pretty rough simile, but anyway I feel like a fireman."

* * *

"That's a poor excuse of a mustache you've got there, Lew."

"I cut it off for 'Within the Law,' and I'm growing it for 'Lawful Larceny.'

"Well, if you were making three pictures at once, how did you arrange that?"

"I had just completed 'Rupert of Hentzau' and was half through 'Souls for Sale' when I started on 'Within the Law.' I told Rupert Hughes who was producing 'Souls for Sale,' about my mustache problem and he obligingly inserted a scene showing me cutting off my mustache to disguise myself."

"Was the disguising episode in the story?"

"No, my character wasn't even in the written story. The screen story isn't anything like the printed story. The story as Hughes wrote it wasn't much force as picture material so Hughes changed it."

* * *

"That's a good one. Author changes his own story for the movies. Shades of Fanny Hurst and 'Star Dust!' Say, Lew, when you see Rupert Hughes, you tell him he's about the only writer I know of who retained his common sense after going into the movies. He's the only one who seems to realize that the screen has a form of expression distinctive from the expression of the printed word."

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

CAMPBELLFORD, March 27. — At the regular monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association, held in the public library assembly room yesterday afternoon, Rev. C. F. McIntosh, of St. Andrews' church, read an interesting paper on the life and work of the late evangelist, Dwight L. Moody. Rev. H. B. Kenny, the president of the Association, occupied the chair and the other members present were Rev. M. L. Hinton of the Methodist church of Hastings, Rev. J. E. Glover, the secretary of the Seymour circuit and Rev. H. S. Bennett, of the Campbellford Baptist church. Rev. D. A. Thomson, of Hastings, sent word that he could not attend as he was preparing for the special session of the Peterborough presbytery—of which he is clerk—to be held in that city on Tuesday, to deal with the call of Rev. J. A. MacKenzie to a church in Guelph.

Mr. McIntosh gave a short sketch of the life of the famous evangelist from his early years. The late Mr. Moody was left fatherless at the age of four months and the creditors of the father, who was heavily in debt, took everything that the bereaved family had, including the wood that that was kept for kindling the fire in the kitchen stove. Young Moody had to go to work when he was only 13 years old and received little education. He had, however, the business instinct, and at the age of 17 went to Boston, where he secured employment as salesman in his uncles' shoe store. He excelled in this line, associated himself with the Congregational church, where he joined the Bible class. His knowledge of the scripture was so limited that on one occasion he was seen to be searching industriously for the gospel of St. John in the Old Testament.

After two years in Boston, young Moody went to Chicago, where he continued to prosper in business and where he became interested in Sunday school work among those who were not connected with any church. By the time he decided to devote all his time to evangelistic work he had saved $7,000, and Mr. McIntosh drew from this fact the conclusion that a man may have spiritual gifts and business instincts at the same time. As a business man young Moody was noted as the equal of the late Marshall Field, the merchant prince of Chicago. At one time it was his ambition to amass $100,000. He spent part of his savings paying rent for church pews which he filled with strangers.

The great obstacle Moody met with in the beginning of his career was his lack of gift for public speaking. Some church workers regarded it as presumptuous on his part to attempt to make public addresses owing to his ignorance of the rudiments of grammar, but Moody, with characteristic bluntness, told some of his critcs that in spite of all their knowledge of the English language and its proper use he failed to see that they were doing anything to advance the kingdom of the Lord. It was his intense earnestness and enthusiasm that carried him triumphant over all difficulties. Two of his innovations were the introduction of Gospel singing at evangelistic meetings and the institution of the inquiry room.

At the conclusion of the address all the members of the association expressed the pleasure with which they had listened to Mr. McIntosh, and he was tendered a vote of thanks on motion of Mr. Glover and Mr. Bennett.

Mr. Hinton said that there was no stain on the name of the late evangelist. He may have had enemies, but the record of his personal life stands untarnished.

Mr. Kenny, in his remarks on the paper, emphasized the value of evangelistic services in church work.

At the April meeting of the association the speaker will be Rev. Rural Dean Clarke, of Christ church.

Before the adjournment a resolution of appreciation of the work of Rev. R. McGillivary while pastor of the Warkworth Presbyterian church, was moved by Mr. McIntosh, seconded by Mr. Hinton, and unanimously adopted. Mr. McGillivary recently accepted a call to a church in Burlington.

A Paying Investment.

Fire Chief Charlie Davidson and the members of his brigade have answered 19 calls to fires since the beginning of the year. In only one of these cases was there any damage. That was in January, when a house owned by Mrs. D. Richardson and occupied by Fred Imming, was burned with a loss of $900 on the house and $400 on the furniture, all of which was covered by insurance. The building was enveloped in flames before the firemen reached it.

The new motor truck, by enabling the brigade to reach the scene of a fire promptly, has prevented many a serious loss of property. The majority of the calls have been for chimney fires and these have been put out by the use of the chemical before the woodwork took fire. There is another saving in the use of the truck. Before its purchase it cost $4 for a team to haul the apparatus to a fire every time there was an alarm and this method meant, besides, loss of valuable time. The $76 saved so far this year will go a long way towards paying the interest charges on the price of the new apparatus.

Young People Meet.

President John Stone presided at the weekly meeting of the Young People of St. Andrew's in the school room last night. It was decided to meet again next Monday, even though the date is part of the Easter holiday. The paper of the evening, read by Mrs. John Stone, was an interesting treatise on "The Transforming Power of God," based on Acts, 19th chapter, 8th to 20th verses.

The moving picture, "The Chosen Prince," a story of David and Jonathan, will be shown in the school room to-night. Everywhere this picture has been shown during the winter it has met with the highest praise. It is a vivid presentation of the Bible story, with the text of which all church-goers are familiar.

Personal.

F. Wrigglesworth, the new organist of St. Andrew's church, and Mrs. Wrigglesworth, have reached town. They will occupy the Brunelle residence near the church. Mr. Wrigglesworth will have charge of the musical service next Sunday, when a special Easter programme will be rendered. He comes to Campbellford with the highest recommendations both as an organist and choir leader.

Norway Parliament Votes to Abolish Prohibition of Wine

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, March 27—(Canadian Press)— Both divisions of the Norwegian Parliament have voted by a small margin, to abolish prohibition on heavy wines and the bill has been sanctioned by the King, it was officially announced yesterday.

At its last meeting the Parliament unanimously authorized the Government to conclude a commercial treaty with Portugal on the basis of free import of wine into Norway.

The prohibition on brandy in Norway is unchanged.

The foregoing official announcement of Norway's action on wine prohibition corrects previous unofficial accounts cabled which stated that the Parliament had voted to prohibit the use of heavy wines.

Premier Law Will Take Ten Days' Rest

LONDON, March 27.—(Canadian Press)— Premier Bonar Law is suffering from a mild throat affection which interferes with his voice; otherwise his health is good, He intends, however, to take ten days' complete rest from political affairs during the Easter recess.

Rumors of the retirement of Mr. Bonar Law as Prime Minister have been repeatedly current since he assumed office because of his uncertain health, and because of the possibility that he not be able to stand the prolonged strain of office. But the Premier was in his place in Parliament to-day answering questions, and there is nothing to show any immediate likelihood of his retirement'

SCHOOL STUDENT SHOOTS A GIRL.

Filmore Heikkila Claims That Slaying Was Quite Accidental.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., March 27 (Canadian Press). — Miss Thelma Dent, 19 years old, whose home is on the Canadian side of the river, was shot and instantly killed by Filmore Heikkila, aged 20, a High School student.

Heikkila claims the affair was an accident, and says that when he pointed the revolver at the girl and pressed the trigger, he did it as a joke, not believing the weapon to be loaded.

Heikkila is held at the County Jail, but no charge will be placed against him until the coroner's inquest, which is to be held to-night.

Miss Dent and the student had been much with each other lately, relatives say, but it is not known whether or not they were engaged.

NEWS CAVAN AND DISTRICT

George Syer, Formerly Active Member Millbrook Fair, Dies in Edmonton

CAVAN, March 27, — March so far has been a month of many weathers here. At times spring seemed to have come to stay, for robins and grey birds were singing merrily, the ground hogs were out, and flocks of wild geese winged their way north, but all signs failed, and again King Winter has us in his icy grip.

There passed away in Edmonton on Friday March 23, George Syer, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Syer, who formerly lived in Cavan, near the Marsh church. The late Mr. Syer had been ill for some time. When resident in Cavan he was well known in military circles, was a zealous worker for the Millbrook fair, He was also a memmber o fthe Marsh church (Anglican). He had many friends here who will regret to hear of his demise. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife (formerly Miss Laura Touchbourn), and three children; also his mother, two sisters and two brothers. The remains were interred in Edmonton on Sunday.

Rev. R. M. Patterson of Fraserville was a delegate from Frazerville Orange Lodge to the Orange conference held at Picton. While there he had the honor conferred on him of being appointed Chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Ontario East. This includes both Black Lights and Orangemen.

MILK PRODUCTION BELOW STANDARD

Timely Suggestions to Assure Profitable Dairying in Ontario.

In Peterboro Section in 1922 for the cheese making season of six months, the average milk produced per cow was only 2943 pounds. The average production per cow for Ontario is less than 4500 pounds per year.

An appeal is made to the makers, managers, owners, and officers of all cheese factories, and creameries, also all milk producers to try by every means possible to remedy the above mentioned conditions which are undermining the very foundations of profitable dairying in this country.

A campaign is suggested by every factory, and the use of the slogan by Professor Dean, namely: "Breed, Feed, and Weed." "Breed," —use only pure bred sires that are of an unquestionable milking strain. Large producers of both quantity and quality. "Feed", feed liberally, and intelligently. "Weed", weed by using scales and Babcock Tester in each individual cow.

There are cows in this section that give over 10,000 pounds of milk in a year It takes the proceeds of at least 4,000 pounds of milk to maintain a cow properly for a year. Every cow that will not produce at least 6,000 pounds in a year, should be eliminated just as rapidly as it is possible to do so.

Every milch cow should produce at least ten months in each year.

A united effort along these lines will mean more money for every one engaged in the dairy business, all the way from producer to consumer.

LINDSAY ARSENAL IS NOW A MEMORY.

Council Would Like to Be Reimbursed For Improvements.

LINDSAY, March 27. — Citizens are deeply concerned to-day over the future of the Dominion Arsenal plant. It stands dismantled and idle—a monument of the late war. When it was in the course of construction the citizens were told by the commandant in charge that it was a permanent industry—that its weekly pay-roll would be $35,000. He also informed the citizens that scores of houses would be required for the hundreds of workmen who would take up residence in Lindsay and be employed at the plant. On the strength of these assurances the town went ahead and constructed a permanent roadway, granolithic walks and sewers fronting on pasture land and up to the Arsenal. The electric light area was also extended to the section in which the plant was built. The town received no assurance from the Government that it would assume a portion of the cost, which totalled nearly $60,000. The Town Council is now planning to send a deputation to Ottawa to ask the Government to reimburse the municipality for the outlay.

REV. MACKENZIE ACCEPTS CALL GUELPH CHURCH

Decides for Himself at Meeting of Presbytery This Morning in St. Paul's Church.

HIS WORK EXTOLLED

The citation of Rev. J. A. MacKenzie to the pastorate of Chalmers' Presbyterian Church, in Guelph, came to a final decision this morning at the meeting of the Presbytery held in St. Paul's Church, with an attendance of nearly thirty people, including members of the Presbytery and members of Guelph and Knox Churches. During a session which occupied the hours between nine o'clock and eleven-thirty, arguments pro and con in regard to the removal from Knox Church to Chalmers' Church, Guelph, of the Rev. J. A. MacKenzie were set forth. The final decision, left in the hands of the minister himself, resulted in his acceptance of the call to Guelph. The complimentary things said about the Rev. Mr. MacKenzie by the men and women present who represented various sections of activity in Knox Church, the strong fight which his people put up to retain his ministerial services, the tears shed by the women who listened to his words of appreciation of their fealty and devotion, were enough to turn the head of a stronger-minded man than the reverend gentleman, who listened, through many speeches, to the efforts of his people to retain, and Guelph Church to capture, the Rev. Mr. MacKenzie as spiritual guide and adviser. As Rev. D. A. Thomson, of Hastings, clerk of the Presbytery, remarked, "I don't see how Mr. MacKenzie is going to live up to the reputation which his Peterborough people have given him." Rev. C. L. Craw, of Springville, presided until the arrival of the Moderator, Rev. P. L. Jull, of Lakefield.

Representatives From Guelph Church.

Messrs. S. Young, F. Watt and D. D. Christie represented Chalmers Church, Guelph, bringing with them a roll of names which totalled to 600 communicants and 46 adherents, signing the call, which, according to the Clerk, measured seven yards in length. These gentlemen, in turn, put forth strong arguments in favor of Rev. Mr. MacKenzie's transference of allegiance to Guelph Church, which offers a salary of $3,000, with four weeks' vacation, and extended its inducements during the morning to include the sum of $100 for moving expenses.

The main arguments advanced by Chalmers' Church advocates was the need in their church of a strong man to take up the manifold work which a mixed congregation presents. Chalmers' Church was described as the second largest in the Guelph Presbytery, with a wide field of efforts in the work among the students at the Agricultural College, the Macdonald Institute, the Veterinary School and the Prison Farm. Mr. Christie, who was the first speaker, referred to the peculiar circumstances surrounding the sending of the call to Rev. Mr. MacKenzie, in a letter which had been received by the Guelph Presbytery from a non-resident of the city, who was not a Presbyterian, recommending, in the strongest possible terms, that a call from Chalmers' Church be forwarded to Mr. MacKenzie. Mr. Young went more fully into the needs of the community he represented, which has a wide field of Sunday School endeavor, and several contributing mission houses. "We look to the Wise Men of the East," said Mr. Young, "for help, and we will give the man who can measure up in every particular the royal support worthy of the royal name of Guelph."

F. Watt, who is Police Magistrate of the city which he represents, spoke of the finances of Chalmers' Church, whose receipts totalled last year from all sources $20,000, with missionary givings of over $4,500. The only liabilities of the church were two notes for $1,152 each, falling due during the next two years as final payments on the church organ. Mr. Watt also emphasized the needs of the young people who came from all parts of the earth, practically, to attend Guelph educational institutions, and of the limitless opportunity for service awaiting the right man, whom they were quite assured they would secure in the person of Rev. Mr. MacKenzie.

Contra Arguments By Knox Church

The representatives of Knox Church who presented contrary arguments against the removal of a pastor whom their united declarations showed to be a man of far-reaching influence, one who has won the love and loyalty of every section of church life and of the community generally, made a strong plea for the retention of their minister. The session was represented by Messrs. J. P. Morrison, E. Benson, A. Mackenzie and Sheriff Hall, who spoke in turn. Mr. Morrison referred to the Rev. Mr. MacKenzie as "a cultured gentleman, who has been true to God's words and to the highest ideals of conduct, and whose personality has been an inspiration in every department of the church's work. We believe his transfer will not be to the best interests of the church."

Mr. Mackenzie was of the opinion that the cosmopolitan population of Peterborough, and the needs of a growing industrial section in the south end of the city required the services of a man of Mr. Mackenzie's calibre. E. Benson referred in particular terms of eulogy to his work among the young people, while Sheriff Hall, concurring in these opinions, affirmed his reluctance to stand in the way of a call to higher service.

Messrs. W. Turnbull and Robt. Mulligan, representatives of the Board; H. J. McCannon and Dr. J. M. McCulloch, for the congregation; Mr. A. Pitchford for the Young Peoples' Societies, were heard in turn. Mr. Turnbull referred to the affection of the younger members of the church for "Jim," as they called him behind his back; Dr. McCulloch spoke of the strong qualities of tact which enabled Mr. MacKenzie, during more than eight years' occupation of the pulpit at Knox church, to impress his charming personality on his congregation; of the varying qualities of mind and heart which made the minister a welcome visitor by the sick bed, a mixer among all classes of the community, a light at social gatherings, and kept intact the staunch beliefs in matters of doctrine without affecting friendly feelings.

"There is a charge which cannot be made against Mr. MacKenzie, which is sometimes brought against ministers, that they are often better policemen to see that others pay their debts than to pay their own," said the doctor.

Splendid Service.

H. J. McCannon spoke of the minister's splendid work in the Sunday school classes, and of his inability to recognize stronger claims in the rich than those enjoyed by the poorer members of a church.

Mrs. W. W. Yale, representing the Women's Missionary Society, made an eloquent and emphatic refusal of the call, in the name of the women of the church, supported by further arguments advanced by Mrs. R. J. Martin for the Ladies' Aid Society; Mrs. H. Hobson and Mrs. J. F. Morrison for the Women's and the Berean Bible classes, and Mrs. Walter Byers for the choir.

Arguments were then met by a counter attack from Mr. Young, of Guelph, who said it would be impossible to use the English language to express the sentiments evidently held by Mr. MacKenzie's friends of Knox church, and the situation was summed up by the Moderator, Rev. P. L. Jull, who referred to the consecrated life of the young minister, speaking of him "in church language" as "a brother beloved," in "the language of the world," as a "jolly good fellow."

Rev. Mr. Mackenzie, who appeared somewhat overpowered by the combined weight of flattering and eulogistic testimony raised in his favour, spoke briefly, prefacing his remarks with a quotation from Judge O'Connel's speech on the occasion of a farewell banquet tendered him on his removal from Peterborough to Toronto. On that occasion, the then Mr. Daniel O'Connel remarked: "If all these things are true, this is no place for me." Mr. Mackenzie denied any "specialization" in his church work, speaking of the modern habit of "standardizing" ministers; mentioned the happy years which he had spent at Knox church, of the uninterrupted loyalty and affection enjoyed by him during his stay here, and declared that a balance sheet of arguments drawn up with the arguments for and against his removal to Guelph would probably result in his staying in Peterborough. His final decision was arrived at after careful consideration, the realization that his work in Peterborough was practically completed, and that a wider field of endeavor awaited him in Chalmers church.

Expressions of appreciation from fellow workers in the Peterborough Presbytery were voiced by Rev. R. Pogue, who congratulated Chalmers church on their acquisition of Rev. Mr. MacKenzie, by Rev. Mr. Craw, of Springville, by Rev. C. S. McConnachie of Centreville, and Rev. D. A. Thomson, of Hastings.

Rev. Mr. MacKenzie will retain his place in the pulpit of Knox church until May first, Rev. R. Pogue being appointed interim moderator.

Further representatives from Knox church present at the Presbytery meeting were Wm. Carter, representing the Brotherhood, and John Buckham, representing the congregation, with H. J. McCannon and Dr. J. M. McCulloch.

ANNUAL MEETING OF LADY CURLERS

Mrs. W. J. Oke Automatically Assumes the Presidency — Sturgeon Trophy Presented.

The table in the upstairs meeting room at the Charlotte street curling rink glittered with silverware yesterday afternoon. Facing the retiring president of the Ladies' Curling Club, Mrs. H. W. Cressman, in the chair, was a noble array of silver cups and trophies, six in all, with the large Sturgeon trophy occupying the place of honor at the side. These, with numerous dainty packets containing special prizes of silk stockings and fine chinaware, constituted the spoils of the members of the Ladies' Curling Club after a season which was unanimously voted one of the most satisfactory in the history of the club. All arrangements went through according to schedule, and the routine was marked with decided cordiality and good will amongst the members.

A Good Attendance.

Yesterday afternoon, with a good attendance, the Club held its annual meeting, when elections for 1923 were carried through with dispatch. Last year's vice-president, Mrs. W. J. Oke, automatically assumes the office of president; Mrs. A. W. Turner was elected vice-president, Mrs. Lennox McLaren treasurer, and Mrs. Reg. Turner was re-elected by acclamation to the office of secretary. The executive is composed of these officers, the retiring president, Mrs. H. W. Cressman, and Mesdames C. E. Jamieson, W. H. Hill, R. M. Waddell, A. E. Coulthard, the Misses Morrow and C. Littlefield.

Representatives to the Ontario Curling Association will be Miss E. Morrow and Mrs. H. O. Fisk (alternate.)

Mrs. R. Grant and Mrs. F. H. Vernor were nominated a committee to act with the secretaary, in making up the season's schedule of games.

Mrs. R. T. Turner read the minutes of the last annual meeting, gave a concise report of the season's activities, and also gave the treasurer's report, in the absence of Miss Grace Reinhardt.

Twenty-six Members.

Mrs. Turner's report recorded a membership for 1923 of 26 ladies, and a season of energetic playing. Competition for the various trophies resulted as follows: The Gibson trophy, won by Miss F. Gladman's rink, with the following players: Mrs. A. Gibson, Mrs. A. W. Turner, Mrs. A. E. Coulthard, Miss F. Gladman (skip.)

The Waddell trophy went to Mrs. H. O. Fisk's rink: Mrs. J. H. Vernor, Mrs. W. J. Oke, Miss M. Neill, Mrs. H. O. Fisk (skip.)

The Sturgeon trophy for mixed playing was won this year by Mrs. R. Waddell's rink, including Mrs. J. McNab, Mrs. R. Waddell (skip), Messrs V. Dawson and R. Waddell.

Four Silver Cups.

Four very handsome silver cups were given by Mrs. F. S. Schneider to the winners of a vice skips' bonspiel, Mrs. A. E. Coulthard's rink being the winners. Ladies who captured the cups were: Mrs. W. J. Oke, who acted as skip in Mrs. Coulthard's absence, Mrs. A. W Turner, Mrs. A. Gibson and Miss F. Gladman.

The secretary's report expressed the thanks of the club to Messrs. Metheral, Oke and McIntosh for assistance in various ways.

The report of finances presented by Mrs. Turner showed receipts, (including a balance from the previous year of $20.87), of $151.30, and expenditures of $127.00, leaving a balance on hand of $24.30.

R. G. Sturgeon, in a brief speech, presented his trophy to this year's winning skip, Mrs. R. M. Waddell. This is the second season in which this trophy has gone to Mrs. Waddell's rink. Mrs. F. S. Schneider, with a few words, presented the dainty silver cups which she had donated to the vice-skip winners. A vote of thanks was recorded to Mrs. Schneider and Mrs. H. W. Cressman and Mrs. R. M. Wadell for the special prizes donated by them, with an appreciation also of the work done by the retiring executive.

THE DARKEST HOUR ST. JOHN'S FRIDAY

Will be 18th Cantata Presentation Here Under Direction of R. J. Devey.

St. John's Choir held the semi-final rehearsal of "The Darkest Hour", after the Palm Sunday evensong The final rehearsal will be held with the Easter practice on Wednesday instead of Thursday, after the 8.00 service.

This second presentation of "The Darkest Hour" on Good Friday night by St John's choir, the work having been first sung in this city last Good Friday, makes the 18th consecutive presentation of cantata on Good Friday by the choristers of St John's, under Mr. R. J Devey's direction Former works were Stainer's "Crucifixion", and Maunder's "Olivet to Calvary."

These productions are splendidly given year by year by a purely voluntary body of singers, both as to solos and chorus. No charge is made for admission and the voluntary offering defrays the cost of music, which is exactly double to the cost of seventeen years ago.

Ald. Crowe said they were all good men. His choice was between Mr. Strickland and Mr. Wearing. He had worked his way through college, had been an active citizen, and held the public's confidence.

Ald. Turner's attitude was one of doubt. He had business relations with practically all the applicants, but he wasn't sure which would be the best for the position of City Solicitor. If the advice of some member of the profession who knew the applicants could be obtained it might serve as an accurate guide, but the Council couldn't obtain advice of that kind and had to rely upon their own opinions. It was for that reason he had refrained from voting the first time.

MARKSON'S REFLECTIONS ON THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Informed by T. Tooms, M.L.A.

The prisoner told Mr. Fraser that others had told him it was the Chamber of Commerce that opposed Labour, that the Board of Trade and Manufacturers' Association and Chamber of Commerce were all one and the same organization.

"I asked him who told him that. He hesitated, but finally said it was Mr. Tooms, the local member of the Legislature.

"I asked him where he and Mr. Tooms met. He spoke of a house on Water Street, and afterwards gave me the name of James Gill, who arranged the meeting between him and Tooms."

Peddled the Papers

Chief Newhall said that Markson had not only admitted having written the letter to "The Worker" and circulated at the Labour Hall about twenty-five copies of the issue in which the letter was printed. Markson had also distributed four bundles of the paper every week.

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Donoghue, Chief Newhall declined to divulge who first called his attention to the article in "The Worker."

Was it Mr. Fraser? No.

Was it an employer of labour? No.

Why do you decline to tell who it was?

Chief Newhall replied that a police officer should be the last person in the world to divulge the name of his informant.

Mr. Hatton—Would your informant object? Yes, he gave it to me in confidence. He brought me the paper. He thought it was an awful thing to be going around. He had nothing to do with this business after that.

Mr. O'Donoghue said he would not press the point.

He read excerpts from the paper, some of which Chief Newhall said he regarded as objectionable.

Prospects for Revolution

One of them was "Prospects good for world revolution," to which any British subject would object, the Chief asserted.

Would you object to a political revolution? Mr. O'Donoghue said.

Witness answered that he was not much concerned about politics, but he might not object to a political revolution.

To a religious revolution? Yes.

That is you'd hate to see the pagans made Christians? That would be a religious revolution.

Chief Newhall said he had taken the word in its broadest sense. He did not pre end to be well posted in the various kinds of possible resolutions.

Mr. O'Donoghue—You took it to mean a revolution by force of arms Yes.

The Chief said he was right in line with labour, and wished to see them fairly paid and treated.

When Arrest Made

Recalling the steps that had led up to the arrest of Markson, the Chief said he wasn't certain about the exact order of events, but he heard the matter had cropped up at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. O'Donoghue—Did someone you met tell you? I don't know. I think I met someone coming away from there, and he asked me if I knew about what was in that paper. I said I had the matter in hand.

Then you laid the information after you met someone coming from the Chamber of Commerce? I'm not sure about that.

Chief Newhall said that that conversation had not influenced him. He had made many enquiries and was preparing the matter.

Referring to the Markson article in "The Worker" witness pointed out offending passages which he declared were false. It was not true that the girls in the Quaker Oats Company were paid only $1.50 a day, nor the reference to the heavy manual labor for many of the men. Statements about the two canoe factories and the Canadian Packing Company were also untrue, as was the paragraph about the Chamber of Commerce controlling the city.

"I know that's untrue," said the Chief. "I was a member myself last year. We have the Council to control the city."

Too Satiric

"Capitalists' Paradise" read Mr. O'Donoghue. "Isn't that fine for the city?"

Chief Newhall replied that he considered that was detrimental to the city and would be likely to keep others away. "If this was a capitalists' place it might tend to keep persons with money from coming here."

"You're taking the offensive meaning out of the word capitalists. If others found that labour was cheap in Peterboro wouldn't that be likely to attract other capitalists?"

The Chief replied that he didn't think employers were looking for cheap labour.

"Cheap labour is often dear labour," he remarked.

Mr. O'Donoghue—Then those employers who are paying low wages are not good employers?

Chief Newhall—I don't know of any low paid work in Peterboro. In my own experience I have found that if you want anything done it is one of the dearest places.

"That's a fine bouquet for Peterboro if it is generally true," said Mr. O'Donoghue.

Did you tell Markson you had raided headquarters in Toronto? A.—I said no such thing.

Why Fraser Remained

Why did you let Mr. Fraser remain in your office? A—There was nothing to prevent him from staying there.

It was an official interview, why didn't you ask him to retire? A.—I didn't think it was necessary.

Do you let any person in your office? A.—No.

Why did you show this favour to Fraser? A.—It was for my own information, to see what would crop out.

Fraser was there to pump him? A.—No. I don't need any assistance.

Fraser is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, one of the parties complained of in the article? A.—No. He's the secretary.

Mr. O'Donoghue—That's worse. You utilized Mr. Fraser, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, to extract information?

Chief Newhall answered that he required no one to extract information or to assist. He felt that if Markson said anything in the conversation it would be all right. Markson and Fraser were talking in a friendly way.

Mr. O'Donoghue said he was not referring to the tone of the conversation but to the principle of allowing the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce to be in the police office on that occasion.

Chief Newhall—What would you want me to do? Kick him out?

Mr. O'Donoghue—That's your business.

The Chief testified that in his opinion the damage done to the public interests of the City of Peterboro was in the keeping of people from settling here. The prisoner told him, he said, that a shortage of families coming to Peterborough would make his wages go up. The Chief gave as his opinion that a statement in the Orange Sentinel, although that is a class paper, would not be in the same class as are the statements complained of in the Worker.

William J. Carey, detective, stated that he arrested Bernard Markson on the morning of the 19th March. He afterwards went to Markson's room at 258 Aylmer street, and found there papers, books and letters which he brought to the police station. He identified a letter produced as one in Markson's handwriting found in his room which corresponded with a letter printed in the Worker.

The Crown Attorney here introduced numerous bundles of papers, letters and books to be put in as evidence, and provoked the remark from Mr. O'Donoghue, "I suppose the introduction of his hat and coat wouldn't help the charge any?"

Edgar Sorby was sworn and testified that as paymaster in the Quaker Oats Co., he could speak as to the wages paid Asked as to the statements made in the copy of the Worker for February 15, witness said they were untrue. As a matter of fact, he said, girls made from $2.50 to $4 a day at piece work and heavy manual labor is paid 47c an hour. To the best knowledge of witness none of those who were absent from work on the date of the pay sheet were depending on church charity. The lowest rate paid to floating labor is 30c an hour. Grain shovelling is classed as heavy manual labor and is paid at 47c per hour. There are 320 employed in the plant at present witness said and there are never more than 500 employed.

Mr. O'Donoghue in examining the semi-monthly pay sheets with the witness pointed out wheer one girl was paid $19.80 for 99 hours work. The witness explained that this was a girl who was ignorant of the work. Other payments for two week periods pointed out by the defendant's counsel were $22.98, $21.33, $17.95, $15.90, $15.20.

In the pay sheet, said Mr. O'Donoghue, there are only four payments of more than $30. On the front page, on the other hand, there were six who received less than $20 for two weeks.

On another page all were under $20 for the two week period. Some rates found were 18c, 19c, and 20c per hour.

Morley W. Lyle, manager of the Canadian Canoe Co, stated that no difference is made in his organization between union and non-union men. The one carpenter employed by the Canadian Canoe Co. receives 40c an hour.

Claude Rogers, joint manager of the Peterboro Canoe Co, testified that the two carpenters employed by his firm are paid 50c per hour each. No discrimination is made between union and non-union men.

Leon Fraser, secretary of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, declared that the trade unions have not been crushed out of existence as stated in the letter referred to him, and that the statement relating to the Chamber of Commerce is absolutely false. The Chamber of Commerce does not control the affairs of the city, he said, and the presidents and vice-presidents of the trade organizations have been invited to join with the Chamber of Commerce in its meetings. Answering a question from Mr. O.Donoghue, the witness stated that the population of Peterborough nine years ago was 21,940 and this year it is 22,940. He considers that increase of 1,000 an indication that the population is not stationery.

Commenting on the opinion of the witness that 100 a year increase in population showed satisfactory progress, Mr. O'Donaghue said "You are an optimist." The bad condition of trade and the fact that 640 men from the city were killed overseas, were pointed out as reasons for the low increase.

Mr. Fraser admitted in cross-examination that the Chamber of Commerce send, recommendations and deputations to the City Council to guide the council's actions, but he would not admit that the Chamber of Commerce goes so far as to control the city, as was stated in the letter alleged to have been written by Markson.

William Rudkins

William Rudkins, president of the Trades and Labour Council, was examined first at the resumption of the hearing this afternoon. He met Markson occasionally at the hotel where both boarded. Witness said he had read the article in "The Worker" at the hotel but had not discussed it with Markson.

"Is there anything else that has a bearing on this," Mr. Hatton asked. "Not that I know of," Mr. Rudkins replied.

"Assuming that he wrote that article is he the class of man that be desirable for a union?—I couldn't say as to that."

Mr. Rudkins, a moulder, said he knew nothing about wages in other trades than his own.

Did you hear him say he wrote the letter?—Yes.

To. Mr. ODonoghue witness said he couldn't identify the letter. Markson had simply said he had written a letter to "The Worker."

August Sawers who also lives at the Montgomery said he had told Markson that what he had written wasn't true.

"I manufactured here myself for fourteen years."

Markson told him that everything he wanted didn't appear in the paper.

Gordon S. Matthews.

Gordon Matthews, who was called next, said he was manager of the Canadian Packing Compainy in Peterboro.

The paragraph in the article referring to his company Mr. Matthews branded as false.

"It says 15c an hour for children," he proceeded reading the "B.M." epistle. "We employ only boys of sixteen years and older, and we have none at 15c an hour. The experienced butchers are paid from 50c to 60c and not 35c as it says here."

Mr. T. F. Matthews once a small business man is now a millionaire was another sentence witness read and declared false.

The "B.M." article alleged that the Canadian Packing Company gave a ton of coal each winter to its employees but non-union men were deprived of that privilege.

"That's not a fact," said Mr. Matthews "We sell the coal at cost price to our employees and there is no distinction between union and non-union men. The lowest wage paid in the factory is 18 cents an hour paid to boys just starting to work.

John H. Vernor

The Western Clock Company employed their hands lull time, said John H. Vernor, superintendent of the company.

"We have 106 employees", he continued. "It has been that and will remain so unless we make it 107 tomorrow."

Mr. Vernor's objection was to the falsity of an imputation that the Western Clock Company was one of the factories that always had idle men about their gates. The Western Clock Company worked on full time, he emphasized, and Mr. O'Donoghue pointed out that the article did not mention the Western Clock Company in that list.

His Letter Distorted.

In reply, Mr. O'Donoghue stated to the court that Markson was the wrong party. The responsible person was whoever published the paper unless the distribution of copies of it in this district was held to be a publication of the article.

Markson was heard in a voluntary statement in his own behalf.

"I sent them only a letter," he swore, "and they made an article out of it. The article is based on my letter, but it is not the letter as wrote it.

He said that his occupation was as a tailor's presser He believed that the statements he had written to The Worker were true.

He got most of his information regarding the Quaker Oats Company conditions from Mr. W. Rudkins, the president of the Trades and Labour Council.

"I asked him about how many employees they had, and he said about 2,000. I also asked how much the girls got, and he said he thought it was mostly piecework, and about $1.00 to $1.50 a day.

He also said there was heavy manual labour at about 30c. an hour."

Boarding House News.

Markson gathered his gossip about the Canadian Woollens Company at "Mrs. Clark's boarding house." Several of the employees boarded there. One was a married man. On one week and he said he had earned only $2.00 and that his wife had done much better, getting $9 for the week.

Markson's news about the Canadian Packing Company also came from the boarding house.

"A fellow told me that Mr. Matthews was a millionaire and living in a big mansion "but look at us" he said. He also said he didn't think he'd get any of the coal because at the time of the strike he had been out for a week."

The Chamber of Commerce.

Markson attributed to Thomas Tooms, M.L.A., the statement that the Chamber of Commerce was to blame for the disruption of labor movements in Peterborough.

"About six months ago I was talking to Mr. Tooms. I said this is a terrible place for the worker. I asked him if there was any possible chance of doing anything for Labor. He said the best thing was to keep on writing the articles I had been writing. Some of them were published in the Examiner.

"Mr. Tooms said, 'I have read some of them. Keep sledge-hammering away. I wanted to do something just like you, but I would have been in jail if I hadn't been elected. The Chief has it in for me."

Mr. Tooms had said that there was no doubt but that the Manufacturers' Association and the Chamber of Commerce were together. A branch of the Independent Labor Party had been formed here, but they had crushed it.

Says He Wasn't Warned

Markson denied that Chief Newhall had warned him before questioning him when arrested.

"I didn't notice there was someone taking notes. I told him I didn't take the responsibility for that article."

The chief told Markson, he continued, that he had been three days in Toronto and had raided the Worker's office and found letters from Markson.

The Chief asked him to write "Peterboro, Ontario" on a slip of paper, and when he had done so the Chief said he recognized the similarity of the handwriting.

(By NORMA TALMADGE)

If the mark of a king is his crown, the mark of a gentleman is his hat, and how he handles it. The hat has a social language all its own. There is a suitable hat for every occasion and a suitable style of hat for every head. A man's method of lifting or doffing his hat may be as expressive of gentility as his bearing in a ball room.

The Man's Hat.

1: A man takes off his hat when riding with a woman in an elevator in a club, hotel, apartment or store; when he stops to speak to a woman on the street; when he must wait for a funeral to pass, when the national "colors" are passing, and when the national anthem is played.

2: A man merely lifts his hat as a conventional gesture to strangers whenever he must recognize their presence.

3: A man lifts his hat and bows ing a woman a seat in a car, and again when she thanks him—which she should invariably do.

4: Whenever a man unavoidably obtrudes on a woman, as when meeting her in a narrow passage where he must make way he lifts his hat.

5: A man lifst his hat and bows when meeting acquaintances or friends, the graciousness of his bow and the cordiality of his smile being the measure of the impression he would create.

6: It's bad manners for a man to keep a cigaret, cigar or pipe in his mouth when he lifts or doffs his hat or bows.

WOMAN SUFFERED FOR MONTHS

Weak and Nervous. Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Webbwood, Ont.—"I was in a very weak and run-down nervous condition, always tired from the time I got up until I went to bed. Sleep did not rest me at all. My sister recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and others told me about it, but it was from my sister's advice that I took it. It did not take long until I felt stronger, headaches left me and my appetite came back to me. I am a farmer's wife and have many things to do outside the house, such as milking, looking after the poultry, and other chores. I heartily recommend the Vegetable Compound to all who have the same trouble I had, for it is a fine medicine for women."—Mrs. LOUIS F. ELSASSER, Hillcrest Farm, Webbwood, Ont.

Another Nervous Woman Finds Relief

Port Huron, Mich.—"I suffered for two years with pains in my side, and if I worked very much I was nervous and just as tired in the morning as when I went to bed. I was sleepy all the day and didn't feel like doing anything, and was so nervous I would bite my finger nails. One of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it helped me so much that I soon felt fine."—Mrs. CHARLES BEELER, 501-14th St., Port Huron, Mich.

Women who suffer from any feminine ailment should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. C

He Who Gives Promptly Gives More Than His Money

The PRIDE of PALOMAR

By Peter B. Kyne

"Rats!" the bluff old contractor interrupted. "How are we going to do that under present conditions? The cry fo the country is for economy in governmental affairs, so Congress prunes the already woefully inadequate appropriation for the Department of Labor and keeps our force of immigration inspectors down to the absolute minimum. These inspectors are always on the job; the few we have are splendid, loyal servants of the government, and they prove it by catching Japs, Chinamen, and Hindus every day in the week. But for every illegal entrant they apprehend, ten escape and are never rounded up. Confound them; they all look alike, anyhow! How are you going to distinguish one Jap from another?

"Furthermore, Mr. Parker, you must bear this fact in mind: The country at large is not interested in the problem of Oriental immigration. It hasn't thought about it; it doesn't know anything about it except what the Japs have told it, and a Jap is the greatest natural-born liar and purveyor of half-truths and sugar-coated misinformation this world has known."

"Easy, old timer!" Don Mike soothed, laying his hand on Conway's shoulder. "Don't let your angry passions rise."

Conway grinned.

"I always fly into a rage when I get talking about Japs," he explained deprecatingly to the ladies. "And it's such a helpless, hopeless rage. There's no outlet for it. You see," he began all over again, "the dratted Jap propagandist is so smart—he's so cunning that he has capitalized the fact that California was the first state to protest against the Japanese invasion. He has made the entire country believe that this is a dirty little local squabble of no consequence to our country at large. He keeps the attention of forty-seven states on California while he quietly proceeds to colonize Oregon, Washington, and parts of Utah. Lately he has passed blithely over the hot, lava-strewn, and fairly non-irrigated state of Arizona to the more fertile agricultural lands of Texas. And yet a couple of hundred prize boobs in Congress talk sagely about an amicable settlement of the Jap problem in California! When they want information, they consult the Japanese ambassador!"

"But why," Kay ventured to ask, "do the Japanese not acquire agricultural lands in the Middle West? There are no restrictions in those states in the matter of outright purchases of land, and surely the soil is fertile enough to suit the most exacting Jap."

"Ah, young lady," Bill Conway boomed. "I'm glad you asked me that question. The Jap is a product the the temperate zone; he does not take kindly to extremes of heat and cold. Unlike the white man he cannot stand such extremes and function with efficiency. That's why the extreme northern part of Japan, which is very cold in winter, is so sparsely populated, although excellent agricultural land. Why freeze to death up there when, by merely following the Japan Current as it laves the west coast of North America from British Columbia down, one can, in a pinch, dispense with an overcoat in January?"

"Enough of this anti-Japanese propaganda of yours, Senor Conway," Don Mike interrupted. "Our friends here haven't listened to anything else since I got home last night. Mr. Parker, being quite ignorant of the real issue, has, of course, fallen under the popular delusion; and I've been trying my best to lead him to the mourner's bench, to convince him that when he acquires the Rancho Palomar—which, by the way, will not be for at least a year, now that I've turned up to nullify his judgment of foreclosure—that it will be a far more patriotic action on his part, even if less profitable, to colonize the San Gregorio with white men instead of Japs. In fact, Mr. Parker, I wouldn't be surprised if you should succeed in putting through a very profitable deal with the state of California to colonize the valley with ex-soldiers."

"So I'm building a dam to irrigate a lot of Jap truck-gardens, am I?" he rumbled.

The sly, ingenious manner in which Miguel Farrel had so innocently contrived to strew his already rough path with greater obstacles, infuriated Parker, and for an instant he lost control of himself.

"What do you care what it's for, Conway, provided you make your profit out of the contract?" he demanded brusquely.

"Ladies," the contractor replied, turning to Mrs. Parker and Kay, "I trust you will pardon me for discussing business in your presence just for a minute, Miguel, am I to understand that this ranch is still Farrel property?"

"You bet! And for a year to come."

"Then I gather that Mr. Parker has contracted with me to build a dam on your land and without your approval. Am I right?"

"You are, Mr. Conway. I am not even contemplating giving my approval to the removal of another scraper of dirt from that excavation."

Conway faced Parker.

SANCTUARY AT JACK'S CREEK

Move Advocated by the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association.

Several important recommendations were made at the annual meeting of the County of Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association held last night in the curling club. Among the most important was a resolution that a strong representation be made through the proper channel requesting that no private leases or reservation be given to individuals on any of the forshores of the Trent Waterways for the purpose of fishing, trapping or hunting.

The secretary was instructed to institute a movement through the parliamentary representative to have a game sanctuary established near Stoney Lake, and the suggested location was between Eel Creek and Jack's Creek.

Another proposal which found ready support was one to extend the closed season for pickerel. At present this is from April 1 to 30 and the suggested extension would be until June 15, the same as at present for maskinonge. This proposed extension would affect only Kawartha Lakes and connecting waters.

A request will be sent to Mr. T. Tooms, M.P.P., asking that suitable men be appointed to act as inspectors during the spawning season.

It was decided after debate that no action be taken toward the protection of salmon trout.

R. J. Soden suggested a change in the law governing the killing of suckers. At present spearing is permitted. Mr. Soden would prohibit spearing, and would allow netting under the same general rules as obtained in war time. Netting would only be allowed in day time, and nets would not be left in or near the water at night. This suggestion was not embraced in a resolution.

The spirit of the meeting showed that the general opinion of the members is that not so much new laws are required as strict enforcement of the laws already on the books.

The local Association is planning a year of active work, and already plans are afoot for obtaining cinema pictures showing various hunting and fishing paradises, and some of the world's best hunters and fishermen at work there. It was decided to hold four meetings at least in the coming year, instead of the single meeting which has been the rule.

The following were the officers elected:

President: C. B. Coones; 1st Vice-President, Fred Roy; 2nd Vice-President, J. E. A. Fitzgerald; Secretary-Treasurer, C. G. Graham.

The Secretary-Treasurer was highly commended by the retiring president, R. J. Soden, and others, for his excellent work during the past term.

Suffered From Pimples and Blotches For Fifteen Years

When the blood becomes impure it is only natural that pimples, blotches boils or some other blood trouble will manifest itself by breaking out of the system.

There is only one way to get rid of these obnoxious skin troubles and that is by giving the impure blood a thorough cleansing by the use of a good blood purifier, such as

Burdock Blood Bitters

This remarkable remedy has been on the market for over forty years; is the best obtainable, and will do all we claim for it as a blood cleanser.

Mr. Albert R. De Witte, Lake Valley, Sask., writes: "I have suffered very much from pimples and unsightly blotches for the past fifteen years, and was so bad that I hated to go out anywhere. I tried many different medicines, but none seemed to help. A friend told me to use Burdock Blood Bitters. I have used three and a half bottles, and now I have a clear, rosy complexion."

France's Scheme

they could not be enthusiastic about a march into the Ruhr which is especially directed against the German coal and steel masters."

QUESTION NO 4: Isn't this entire Ruhr campaign really an attempt to destroy Germany economically and break her up into little states?

Lauzanne replied: "No more than Germany, occupying 19 French departments in 1871, desired to break up France into little states. Germany wanted only to collect the money. France to-day wants only to get her money."

QUESTION NO. 5: The charge has also been printed in English papers that of the billions of francs voted by your parliament for reconstructing northern France, huge sums were diverted and sent to little nations for military purposes and that only recently 400 million francs were advanced to Poland for the army. Is this true?

Lauzanne replied: "The charges is untrue and ridiculous. Every cent voted by parliament for reconstructing northern France has gone to that work. The 400 million francs recently advanced to Poland—mainly for economical reconstruction and only partially for army puposes—was voted officially by the French parliament, as was the 300,000,000 francs advanced to Austria as the French part of the international loan to that distressed country. The expense in the two cases will be recorded in the budget and the money will have to be paid by French tax-payers"

QUESTION NO 6: What about the old charge that France is militaristic, that she has the biggest and best-equipped army in the world, is planning a big submarine fleet, and so far she hasn't ratified the Washington naval agreement?

Lauzanne replied: "There is no country less militaristic than France Her biggest and best-equipped army in the world has no other purpose than to oblige Germany to pay and that army cost France less than the small army of non-militaristic America The expenditures for the army in 1922 were $194,498,660, whereas in America for the fiscal year 1921-1922 the cost of the army exceeded $325,000,000.

"France is not planning a big submarine fleet, but she wants to have an adequate one to protect her European coasts and the coasts of her empire in Africa. This submarine fleet is not directed against England, but against X (the unknown quantity). The submarine is not an offensive weapon but a purely defensive one

"The fact that France does not want any capital ships, but only submarines, proves better than anything in the world than she has no aggressive designs, but only defensive intentions

"If the Washington naval agreement—which will certainly be ratified—has not yet been adopted by the French parliament, it is because there are some French deputies playing politics with the same skill as American senators

"These deputies have delayed the ratification to embarrass the Poincare cabinet, just as some American senators prevented the ratification of the Versailles treaty to embarrass the Wilson administration.

"These deputies all belong to the Clemenceau party It's a pity that while Clemenceau was in America, men didn't ask him why his followers were putting spokes in the wheel of the Washington treaty."

CANADA'S PLACE IN FUTURE WARS

OTTAWA, March 27—(Canadian Press)—At late hour last night house opened discussion on question of Canadian participation in war. C. G. Power, Liberal member for Quebec, raised subject on resolution which has been standing on order paper in his name since opening of session, resolution, that "In opinion of this house, it is expedient to declare that save in case of actual invasion, the Dominion of Canada shall not be committed to participation in any war without consent of Parliament of Canada."

Agreements which were apt to be advanced in favor of Canada's participation in Great Britain's wars, said Mr Power, were sentimental moral and legal or constitutional "Call of Blood", his reply to this argument was that Great Britain was not Canada's mother

It was French explorers who settled first, and French missionaries who colonized. Yet no member of house, he supposed, would consider that Canada must participate in all France's wars If it were matter of blood, then United States would be under greater obligation than Canada P. PROJECT TO SEGREGATE CHICAGO STREET TRAFFIC

CHICAGO, March 27 (By The Associated Press).—Technical experts of the Chicago Plan Commission are working out a comprehensive street plan for the city that will segregate various kinds of traffic and provide specific streets for specified varieties of traffic.

One system of thoroughfares will be restricted to light, rapid-moving vehicles and another to heavy slow-moving ones. The width of the streets will be adjusted to the types and volume of traffic they will be called upon to bear, and pavements of all streets will be especially designed to accommodate the kind of traffic that will use them.

An ingenious color scheme has been proposed which will compel traffic to use the proper streets. By this scheme anyone at any time can tell instantly whether a vehicle is on the proper street, and, if not, can report the violation of the ordinance to the proper city authority. The idea is that all trucks of similar capacity shall bear easily distinguishable signs of the same kind. For instance, all vehicles of five tons capacity would bear a red plate or sign. The streets over which such a truck could pass would be marked by signs bearing the same color. All concerns using vehicles of any description would be furnished with a city map showing by similar colors the classification of every thoroughfare in the city, and the allowable weight of loads on the different classes of pavements.

The cost of installing street signs, and of maintaining an adequate force to compel complaince with such regulatory measures until the system becomes self-operative, would be but a small fraction of the annual sum now alleged to be wasted by the destruction of pavements long before they should have outlived their usefulness, according to the plan.

Light traffic streets would be paved with less expensive pavement than now demanded to bear their traffic, and often the width of the pavement could be decreased, resulting in still more saving to the taxpayer and the city in general.

At the same time the commission believes, the traffic and other needs of the city and its people could be much better served than is possible at present.

HOME CIRCLE

THE GREAT EVENT OF DEATH

Men seldom think of the great event of death until the shadow falls across their own path, hiding forever from their eyes the traces of the loved ones whose living smiles were the sunlight of their existence. Death is the great antagonist of life, and the cold thought of the tomb is the skeleton of all feasts. We do not want to go through the dark valley, although its passages may lead to paradise; and, with Charles Lamb, we do not want to lie down in the muddy grave, even with kings and princesses for our bed-fellows.

But the fiat of nature is inexorable. There is no appeal of relief from the great law which dooms us to dust. We flourish and we fade as the leaves of the forest, and the flower that blooms and withers in a day has not frailer hold upon life than the mightiest monarch that ever shook the earth with his footsteps. Generations of men appear and vanish as the grass, and the countless multitude that throngs the world today, will, to-morrow, disappear as the footsteps on the shore.

In the beautiful drama of Ion the instinct of immortality, so eloquently uttered by the death-devoted Greek, finds a deep response in every thoughtful soul. When about to yield his young existence as a sacrifice to fate, his beloved Clemanthe asks if they shall not meet again to which he replies: "I have asked that dreadful question of the hills that look eternal—of the clear streams that flow forever—of the stars among whose field of azure my raised spirit hath walked in glory. All were dumb. But while I gaze upon thy living face I feel that there is something in the love that mantles through its beauty can not wholly perish. We shall meet again Clemanthe."

A lady received the following reply from a neighbor in answer to the question why she allowed her children and husband to litter up every room in the house, and the sentiment will find lodgement in the heart of every home-loving person in the land. "The mark of the little muddy feet upon the floor can be easier removed than the stain when those little feet go down into highways of evil. The prints of the little fingers on the window pane cannot shut out the sunshine half so much as the shadow that darkens the mother's heart over the one who is but a name through the coming years. And if my John finds his home a refuge from care and trouble, and his greatest happiness within its four walls, he can put his boots in the rocking chair and hang his coat up on the floor every day in the week. And if I can stand it and he enjoys it, I cannot see that it is anybody else's business."

Some women are intellectually bright in spite of their environments, and because of them. The broader and higher the life, the more there is in it. But from other women, who early in life we often see the lustre and brightness fading away and it is those mothers who are weighted down with household and maternal duties, and have resigned themselves to receive their pleasure and advancement at second hand, through their sons and daughters. First of all, do not allow yourselves to think you are growing old, for thinking is being, on this subject. Those who try to remain young in a certain sense succeed in doing so. So be generous to yourself.

SENSIBLE ADVICE

You would laugh at the child who should try to pick up a heavy sledge hammer to kill a mosquito. But many grown-up children quite as foolishly use their strength. They waste strength. They fret, worry, whirl about, get into a passion, have not time to eat or to sleep properly—indeed, often sit up so late and get so tired that they can't sleep. These persons, whether old or young, need to learn the following simple rules: 1. Never fret yourself nor anybody else. 2. Never indulge in fits of passion, nor the blues. 3. Never do things in a confused hurry. 4. Eat regularly, cheerfully, moderately, but don't eat what is indigestible. 5. Don't cut short your sleep. Get eight hours of it in clean, well-ventilated rooms. 6. Give your stomach and brain, as well as your hands, all the rest they need. 7. Be self-controlled, calm, hopeful. Keep a good conscience and cheerfully trust God.

There is more sunshine in life to the minute than there is misery to the mile. But after all it is just the way you look at it.

APRIL

When the warm sun, that brings
Seed-time and harvest, has returned again,
'Tis sweet to visit the still wood, where springs
The first flower of the plain.

I love the season well,
When forest glades are teeming with bright forms,
Nor dark and many-folded clouds foretell
The coming-in of storms.

From the earth's loosened mould
The sapling draws its sustenance, and thrives;
Though stricken to the heart with winter's cold,
The drooping tree revives.

The softly-warbled song
Comes through the pleasant woods, and colored wings
Are glancing in the golden sun, along
The forest openings.

THE NEW GIRL IS GROWN UP AT 14

(By MARIAN HALE)

"A girl used to be considered grown up," says Rachel Crothers, writer, playwright and theatrical producer, "at 18 or 20.

"Now she's mature at 14.

"Unless a mother realizes this, she begins then and there to widen the gap that grows naturally between age and youth.

Gone for Good

"The sensationally modern young woman who flashed before our vision during the war—the product of freedom, reaction and fatalism—has softened a trifle, and will develop into a more normal, healthy personality.

"But we never shall have a return to the pre-war type."

When I asked her what she considers the most dangerous phase of our 1923 civilization, Miss Crothers answered:

"Physical freedom, modern dress, dancing, lack of chaperons, the general letting down of conventions and standards.

"But what grown people won't understand is that, while their juniors of today haven't their parents' standards, they have their own.

Their Own Standards

"The up-to-date young man demands from a girl different qualifications from those his father sought, and women naturally are what men make them. The modern man would rather have a companion than a cook. He wants a girl to be sensible, but he wants some ornamental virtues, too. He comprehends a girl's desire to have some career besides home and children. He appreciates her need for intellectual companionship. He has learned that, if she has talent, she shou'd not submerge it in marriage.

"If the golden age ever comes, it will be when every woman is economically independent—when common sense and honesty have supplanted the hypocrisy and ignorance that have raised the barriers which separate fathers and mothers from their children, making a 'problem' out of young people."

Fashion Notes

BLACK AND WHITE

A gown of black satin has an elaborate front drapery lined with white satin. The lining is slightly revealed and makes an interesting arrangement of black and white effect, which is much more popular than unrelieved black.

COLORFUL SILKS

The newest silks are extremely colorful, fancy large red, black, green and mauve figures trailing all over a background of brilliant yellow. It's on the market.

A cluster of pink rose buds, outlined with pink leaves, making an ornament about six inches in diameter is the only trimming on a tiny hat of black felt with narrow brim, shorter in the back than in front.

STRICTLY TAILORED

Contrasting with the draped and fancy frocks are the strictly tailored ones of striped or checked flannel, with only pockets or crisp white collars and cuffs for trimming.

HOW TO HAVE LETTUCE FOR SALAD ALL THE YEAR

By WILLIAM R. BEATTIE

The important factors in the reclaiming of an apparently hopeless backyard soil for garden purposes are, first, drainage; second, the addition of something to lighten heavy clay soils, and, third, the addition of manure.

If all of these can be administered at the beginning, there should be no difficulty in growing fairly good crops the first season, but persons having a difficult problem in the reclamation of the soil of their backyards and other similar land on which gardens are to be grown, should not expect too much the first season, but make a definite plan covering a period of years.

The reclamation of backyard soils which are cold and wet and in need of drainage sometimes is not an easy matter, but calls for a well defined program of improvement.

It may be difficult to find a method for getting rid of the water that is to be drained out of the soil.

It often happens, however, that a connection can be made to the sewer that drains the house and that takes care of the water from the roof of the dwelling.

This connection is often in the form of a surface or sink drain in the backyard near the kitchen door.

In case there is such an opening lines of ordinary open-joint tiles may be laid at intervals of every seven or eight feet and at a depth of 18 to 30 inches, with a decided fall toward the point where they connect to the main drain and these will draw the surplus water from the soil, getting rid of it in the sewer.

Another method of securing drainage, one that may be used where it is impossible to secure an outlet for tile drains, is to throw the soil up in beds, leaving drainage furrows between the beds, these furrows emptying into a ditch at one end of the garden and the water being carried to some lower level.

The mere raising of the soil in beds, even though there be no direct outlet for the intervening shallow ditches, will be of considerable help.

The second problem in reclaiming backyard soils will be to get the soil in better mechanical condition

This may be accomplished, first, by loosening it up in the fall of the year and leaving it thus exposed to the freezing and thawing of the winter months, as the alternate freezing and thawing breaks up the bumps and soil particles.

Another method, and one which can be used on extremely heavy clay soils, is to apply two or three inches of coal ashes from which all the clinkers and coarser materials have been sifted, and mixing this with the soil to a depth of six or seven inches.

An application of lime at the rate of 50 to 80 pounds on a space 20x60 feet in size will also help to loosen the soil. This should be done in the spring when the land is being fitted for planting.

Well decayed or decomposed stable manure is by far the most important factor in improving or reclaiming soils of this character. A large two-horse wagon load applied to the soil of the ordinary backyard will not be any too much and this may be put on at any time during the fall or spring, but should be well mixed with the soil itself.

As time goes on and crops are grown upon the backyard soil, the roots of these crops and organic matter and then from time to time weeds can be chopped fine and worked into the soil to add organic matter.

It is also a good plan to sow rye barley, or some similar crop on the garden during the late summer and allow it to remain as a cover crop all winter, spading under the crop early in the spring for the purpose of improving the soil.

Important to Canada

The Metropolitan's total investment in Canada at the end of 1922 was over $94,000,000. This amount added to the sum paid to policyholders, and to Canadians for administration expenses and taxes since the Metropolitan commenced business in Canada, November, 1885, exceeds by about $47,000,000 the amount received by the Company in premiums from Canadian policyholders.

BASEBALL ASSOCIATION MADE CITY OFFER FOR USE OF RIVERSIDE PARK

Matter Referred to Meeting of Property Committee on Wednesday Night—Club Will Help Youngsters.

$1,000 FOR SEASON.

The Peterborough Baseball Association's offer of $1,000 for the lease of Riverside Park was referred by the Committee of the Whole Council last night to the Property committee, which meets on Wednesday night to deal with the disposal of the park for this year.

A deputation from the Association composed of Walter Oke, Jos. Picard, J. J. Solomon, Max Swanston, Ed. Wright and Frank Convery, not only guaranteed the payment of the proposed sum but also declared that they would foster the local junior, juvenile and midget teams, and generally give assistance to the promotion of baseball in the city. Under their direction the park would be open to the school children during the mornings and on afternoons when it wasn't required for games, and other sports would be assured of consideration when the schedule for the use of the grounds was made out.

P.A.A.A. to be Heard.

Ald. Turner emphasized the fact that the P.A.A.A. intended to apply for the park, and in fairness to them they should be given a chance to be heard by the whole Council also. However, this point was passed over on the understanding that at the Parks committee meeting on Wednesday night a representative of the Baseball Association could appear before the committee when the P.A.A. request was to be heard, and the recommendation for the lease would come from that committee.

Mr Picard asserted that the Baseball Association would foster all branches of baseball, and to Mayor Taylor he said the executive were prepared to sign an agreement to that effect.

Helped the Juniors.

Referring to the influence of the baseball executive last year, Mr. Wright said that when the juniors got into the finals one trip cost them $103. They got $70 and he paid the difference himself. In another road game their share of the gate was $9.05 and the cost of that trip was $130. The P.A.A.A. contributed $100, which came indirectly, he said, from the ball club.

"It looks to me like poor business," said Ald. Holloway, "if we give the grounds to the P.A.A.A. when the Baseball Association are willing to pay us $1,000, and help the other teams all the way along, besides taking care of the park."

"I thought the ball club had arrangements with the Exhibition Board," said Ald. Maher.

Might Use "Ex" Park.

Ald. Phelan replied that the Baseball Association would perhaps accept that alternative if they couldn't get Riverside, and the junior teams would have to shift for themselves.

Ald. Turner asked the deputation why they didn't get together with the P.A.A.A. in arranging for the use of the park.

Mr. Solomon remarked that the Ball Club took all the risk by working on a percentage basis, while the P.A.A.A. took no chance.

"We gave the P.A.A.A. 25 per cent. of the gate receipts last year," said Mr. Swanston. "Then in the finals with Belleville we asked for a reduction, but they refused. When Belleville and Hillcrests played the P.A.A.A. gave them the park for ten per cent."

Ald. McIntyre— How about the city taking over the park itself.

Mr. Picard — That would be all right if the terms were satisfactory.

City Restricted.

Ald. Turner said that according to legal advice it was considered that the city could lease the park to some club, but could not carry it themselves.

If the Baseball Association secured the grounds, provision would be made for the lacrosse club to use it for games, Mr. Swanston said, because they were trying to revive the game under difficulties which were generally appreciated. The ball club last year had made a grant to the lacrosse executive, and would be glad to help in any possible way again.

Mr. Solomon spoke of improvements at Riverside and of the necessity of putting it in proper condition for this season's games. There were stones in the infield that made sliding to bases dangerous, and considerable money would have to be spent in this work.

Mayor Taylor summed up the discussion and informed the deputation that the question would be decided at the Council on Easter Monday night, upon the report from the Property committee.

LINDSAY COMMENT ON THE SITUATION

The Lindsay Post in yesterday's issue had the following to say about the proposed split in the Central League:

President Dedman, of the Central Ontario League, has called a meeting of the executive, which will be held in Peterborough on Tuesday afternoon, for the express purpose of considering the all-important question of a single or double schedule. To be or not to be?

The League has already voted on the question by a vote of 5 to 3 in favour of the single schedule, but it appears that Peterborough, Belleville, and Cobourg, who strongly favour the double schedule, have asked for the meeting. Peterborough has threatened to withdraw, and claim that Belleville and Cobourg will do likewise.

This threat should not in the least intimidate the League, and the question should be decided on its merits. If Peterborough, Cobourg and Belleville wish to drop out of the League, all well and good, the League would still survive, and would perhaps be the better off for the dropping of Belleville, at least, owing to the big expense of long distance travelling.

We would regret to see either Peterborough or Cobourg drop, as they have been mainstays of the League and good drawing cards in every town, but these clubs should remember that they stand to lose a great deal by dropping out. The other five teams, all draw big gates when playing away from home.

Peterborough, Belleville, and Cobourg would miss the Central League more than the Central League would miss these three teams.

It looks as if these three teams, having loaded up with a trunk load of players, actually need the double schedule to carry on. At least, that seems to be the attitude.

However, it may be that these three clubs do not perhaps recognise the great number of games they will have under the single schedule. The schedule ends during the first week in August, and then the three leading teams (and Belleville, Peterborough, and Cobourg naturally expect to be on top of the list) will have the privilege of playing a series of home and home games. This series may develop into a greater number of games than anyone anticipates at the present moment. A single schedule would also give every team in the League the privilege of playing more exhibition games with outside teams. So, financially, there would be no loss.

On the other hand, the single schedule would be a help to the weaker teams. If they happen to lose out, they are through playing at the end of July. Besides, it helps the weaker teams in the matter of getting players off their jobs for two games a week, the player did not like the idea, and employers liked it less. The travelling expenses were very high on this account.

What strikes us as being more important than either a double or a single schedule is the decision of the League to practically break away from the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association for this year at least, if the O.B.A.A. adopt the January 1 residence rule for 1923. If this clause becomes effective and the Central League decide not to affiliate with the parent body, where will it place the Central League? What status will the Central League have? The League will practically be an outlaw League, and it is questionable if the teams in the League could even play exhibition games.

While we would like to see the O.B.A. waive the point for this year at least, yet it is understood that at a meeting of the O.B.A. executive held on Friday night last, of which Jake Solomon, of Peterborough, is a member, that body decided to carry through the January 1 rule for 1923 if at all possible. We feel that such a rule tends to favour the bigger towns like Toronto, Belleville, and Peterborough, and works against the smaller towns.

However, this question appears to be of more vital importance than even the matter of a single or double schedule.

At any rate it looks as if a stormy session will be held at Peterborough to-morrow, when the question will be threshed out again.

A BIG RALLY WON FOR THE BELMONTS

Six Counters in Their Last Time to Bat Gave Them a Margin Over L.O.L. 50

The Belmonts slipped 6 runs across the scoring pan in the sixth inning, and bested the L.O.L. 50 team by a score of 11 to 7 in a lively softball contest last evening.

The L.O.L. boys had just staged a rally of their own in the fifth frame, that netted four runs and gave them a slight lead, bua the Belmonts came along in the next inning, and swept everything before them.

Bradley did the twirling for the L.O.L, and in the matter of strikeouts was on even terms with Tommy Holyman, who was on the mound for the Belmonts, each pitcher having ten.

Bradley, however, showed several streaks of wildness, and walked almost as many as he fanned.

Bradley held his opponents well in hand until the final session, when they hit him freely. His support was not as good in this inning as it should have been, but in the early part of the game it was practically air-tight. Holyman was given good support right through.

The players were:

Belmonts — Batten, ss; Jobbitt, 3b; Stuart, 2b; Heckman, lf; Haskill, c; Lowe, 1b; Holyman, p; Cunningham, ss; Fanning, rf.

Score by innings:

JUDGE REFUSES TO WITHDRAW COUNTS

Trial of David W. Roy is Drawing to a Close — Address to the Jury To-Day.

WINNIPEG, March 27 (Canadian Press). — Refusal of the presiding judge to withdraw any of the five counts in the indictment against the accused featured the closing moments of the trial of David W. Roy, former secretary-treasurer of the Dominion Football Association, charged with misappropriation of funds while in office in the Assize Court yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Justice Dysart told Hugh Cutler, defence counsel, he thought there was sufficient evidence respecting all counts to warrant the case going to the jury.

Dan MacNeil, former president of the Dominion Football Association, declared the entire arrangements of the Scottish tour, covering several months, were conducted by Roy and himself, as an emergency committee. The initial guarantee of $800 required to bring the team here had been raised by Roy and himself among friends here. He said the United States end of the tour had been under the jurisdiction of the D.F.A.

Counsel will commence their addresses to the jury when the Court opens to-day.

LOUIS FIRPO MATCHED WITH FARMER LODGE.

NEW YORK, March 27 (Canadian Press). — Luis Angel Firpo, South American contender for the heavyweight championship, has been matched with Farmer Lodge, of Minneapolis, for a 15-round contest at the Charity Boxing Show on 12th May, in the Yankee Stadium, Tex Rickard announced to-day.

Lodge was picked as Firpo's opponent from a field of several candidates, including Jack Renault, of Canada, and Bob Roper, of Chicago.

SHOW IMPROVEMENTS RAILWAY SITUATION

OTTAWA, March 26. — (Canadian Press.(—When Hon. G. P. Graham, acting minister of railways, submits National Railway budget to the House, it is expected that considerable improvement will be shown for 1922 over previous year. Sir Henry Thornton, pesident of C. N. R. Lines, has already intimated that amalgamated roads will have an operating surplus for last year of about three million dollars. Operating surplus, however, does not take fixd charges into consideration and these will probably be rather higher than 1921 when they stood at sixty millions.

FIREMEN-GUNNERS BATTLE TO A TIE

Both Teams Staged Big Batting Rally in the Final Period.

A last inning rally by each team brought the Firemen-Gunners softball game to an end with a tie score. The game was the second on last night's bill at the Armouries, and the final count was 9 to 9.

The Firemen went to bat in the final inning, holding the short end of a 4 to 5 count, but they had evidently just got their batting eyes into order, for they walloped Piercy's delivery all over the concrete, and by the time the smoke had cleared away they had sent five runs over the pan. The Gunners then came to bat with their one-run lead switched right around to a four-run deficit. They carried with them a determination to equal the feat of the Firemen, and set to with a will. Four runs were sent in, tying up the score, and the winning run was safely perched on third base, waiting for the hit which never came when the third man went out on a little squib down the first base line.

With the exception of the final inning, when both twirlers went up in the air, they both turned in good games and received excellent support from their respective team mates.

Dunkerly did the pitching for the Firemen and Piercy for the Gunners.

The players were:

Firemen—Rose, ss; Ward, ss; Mason, lf; Gimblett, c; Connors, 3b; Carr, 1b; Marchand, rf; Gimblett, 2b; Dunkerly, p; McBride, rf.

Gunners—Ranger, c; Coursay, 1b; Gilders, ss; Piercy, p; Wolfe, 2b; Nicholls, ss; Williams, 3b; Simmons, lf; Dundas, rf.

Score by innings:

Firemen	0130005— 9
Gunners	1210104— 9

KNIGHTS WON BY NARROW MARGIN

Nosed Out Triple Link By One Run in Fast Game Last Evening.

The first of three fast softball games at the Armouries last evening resulted in a victory for the K. of C. nine over the Triple Link by a score of 7 to 5.

The game was anyone's from start to finish, and in the final session the Triple Linkers had the winning counter and one more with it on the runways, but lacked the necessary punch to send them home.

The Knights started the scoring with one in the first and two in the second inning, but their opponents soon caught up to them with one in the second and two in the third.

Another run in the fourth put the Triple Link in the lead, but the Knights came right back with three in the fifth. One more in the sixth brought the Triple Link within striking distance of victory, but one counter for each team in the seventh left them still one run in the rear.

The game was well played, and both pitchers were given remarkably good support. Price did the mound work for the Triple Link, and figured in a double play that broke up a rally in the fourth inning.

Murphy did the twirling for the Knights, and turned in a good steady game. He was particularly effective in the pinches.

The players were:

Knights of Columbus—M. Sheehy, ss; O'Hern, c; Murphy, p; Fitzpatrick, 1b; J. Rutherford, ss; Grady, 3b; Cronin, lf; G. Rutherford, 2b; Sharpe, rf; D. Sheehy, 2b.

VILLA-WILDE MATCH MEANS REAL FIGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, March 24.—(United Press).—Something for that proverbial legal expert of Philadelphia to untangle will result if Pancho Villa, the little tan Philipino, wins the world's flyweight championship from Jimmy Wilde, the half-pint sized Welshman.

If form in general and information from the other side about the physical condition of Wilde can be taken as a foundation for some predictions, then Villa will win the world's title and he will be officially in the position of No. 1 in the world and No. 2 in the United States.

Frankie Genaro, who went to the Olympic championship in the amateurs and later jumped with just as much success into the pro field, has three decisions over Villa and the last one took the title away from the pride of the Phillipinos.

In some circles it was considered a terrible decision, but the fact remains that it was a decision, it went on the books and it made Genaro the American title holder.

* * *

Many questions have been asked as to why the tangle was not avoided by matching Genaro and Wilde for a cleancut title bout to the crown.

Those who cannot understand why Villa and not Genaro got the bout with Wilde are not conversant with the considerations that rule boxing now.

Money, not merit, is of the first consideration now in matchmaking. The boy who is the best drawing card gets the matches, not the lad most entitled to them. In many cases the same qualifications go hand in hand, but not in the case of Genaro.

He has no "color," while Villa is filled with it. Genaro is a boxer, a wonderful little fellow on the defense, and Villa is a fighter, one who is in there all the time making a show; Genaro is a quiet little fellow without much romance to him, as Italian faces are old faces in the ring; Villa is the first yellow man to gain prominence in the prize ring and the novelty makes him a great drawing card. Villa can hit and Wilde used to pack ten pounds of a punch to every inch of his diminutive frame.

That makes it a fighter against a fighter and that makes it a card.

Villa and Wilde will outdraw any other little man attraction.

* * *

There is another big thing to be considered. There is another inevitable match. After the unsatisfactory ending of the last Genaro-Villa fight, another bout is bound to be a financial success.

But it will be twice as big a card if Villa goes into the bout as the world's champion to meet an opponent officially his superior.

Something absolutely new for the press agents and there are precious few things new in the fight game.

Figure out these modern things in the ring from a standpoint of dollars and cents and not through the moral glasses of a sport preacher.

Christy Mathewson's return to baseball as the President of the Boston Braves brought the old Giant pitching star best wishes from all over the globe where baseball and its heroes are known.

Everyone wants Matty to make good and his friends do not doubt that he will.

"Matty would have been as successful in any other line of business as he was in baseball," one of his intimate said recently. "He was a student and he studied pitching. The application that he put in everything he was fond of made him good at it. He liked checkers, he liked chess and he studied them so that he had very few superiors. He was even a good crap shooter, because he played percentages. He'll make good in the business end of baseball because it's a hundred to one shot he knows by this time every secret of the business in Boston and he'll build around the weak spots."

A COSTLY VICTORY FOR THE SENATORS.

Captain and Defence Star Dislocated Shoulder in Clash With Vancouver.

VANCOUVER March 27 (Canadian Press). — Ottawa Senators eliminated the Vancouver Maroons, champions of the Pacific Coast League, in the semi-final round for the Stanley Cup and the world's championship here last night, when they defeated the locals in the fourth game of the series, 5 to 1, playing under Eastern rules.

his was the visitors' first victory under their own code.

The victory may prove a costly one for the winners, as their list of casualties was increased when their captain and defence star, Gerard, dislocated his shoulder in the second period in a collision with Corbett Dennenoy, and had to retire from the game, leaving them with only one substitute.

The winners played a strong defensive game, but made the most of their attacks on the Vancouver goal.

Ottawa will leave to-day for Edmonton, where they will take on the Eskimos in a best out of three games series.

THE U.S. HAS HEAVY DEMAND FOR HAIR NOW

BERLIN, By mail to the United Press)—The United States has a larger consumption of false hair than all the rest of the world put together, according to leading hair exporters here.

The return of long skirts and the advent of large picture hats, making women look less girlish and making boyish bobbed-hair incongruous, have created among the women of the world—especially the American women—a demand for more hair.

New York is the world's largest false hair market, dealers here declare. The United States, which invented the bobbed hair style, is now trying to get "under cover" again.

Germany, where the bobbed-hair fad did not take much of a hold, is not using any great amount of false hair, due to high price.

Italy ranks just behind the United States in false hair consumption with France and Czecho-Slovakia just behind.

The Germans use some Chineses hair, course and strong, in making hair nets for export to the United States. Some Russian hair is sent to Germany to be mixed with the German product in order to give it a reddish tinge. Three-fourths of the hair exported is blonde, one-fourth brunette.

Germany boasts that the false hair she exports is made up only of hair cut from the heads of her women and not from the combings. Country girls it is declared, furnish the dealers with better hair than city girls. The farmer lassies live in the open without hats, letting their hair grow thick and heavy, reflecting the natural color brought out by the suns rays. This "rural" hair is much in demand.

MANITOBA JUNIORS VICTORIOUS BY 7-3.

University Youngsters Again Showed Decided Superiority Over the Kitcheners.

TORONTO, March, 27—(Canadian Press)—When the University of Manitoba Juniors, holders of Turnbull and Abbott memorial Cups and representatives of Western Canada in the Junior Canadian Championship final against Kitchener, won the first game of the series on Thursday night by 7 goals to 3, they clearly outplayed the O.H.A. champions and looked like real cnampions, but there were some who claimed that the defeated team was caught off its stride and that they would win the second game and face westerners to the limit to win the round and O.H.A. Memorial Cup. Last night the second game was played and Manitoba students emerged victorious by 7 goals to 3, the same as in the first game, but they showed even a more decided superiority than on Thursday and could have increased their margin had they tried very hard in last period.

LACROSSE OUTLOOK IN HASTINGS BRIGHT

Likely to Support Two Teams This Year, Intermediate and Junior.

HASTINGS, March 27.—From the outlook Hastings will be treated to a good brand of lacrosse.

The enthusiasm shown by the people so far this year indicates that Hastings will have two teams, namely, an intermediate and a juvenile.

Hastings has always been noted for its skilled lacrosse players for far back as the year 1884, when the old Iron Clads carried the honor to this then little village.

The last couple of years the people have depended on the juniors to carry their banner, and as they were all local boys, born and brought up in the village, everybody would turn out to cheer them on to victory, and in the years 1921 and 1922, under the leadership of Captain Bill Tate, the boys were hard to beat.

In 1921 they met the Beaches of Toronto in the semi-finals, and in 1922 their final opponents were Brampton.

The following is a list of the junior players for the year of 1923: Bill Tate, Stan. Stevenson, Bruce Richardson, Joe Gould, P. Walsh, O. Cruickshanks, C. Whitred, L. Lambert.

BRITISH INDIAN TROOPS WANT NATIVE OFFICERS

DELHI, India March 27.—The Indianization of the Indian Army, which has been one of the most disturbing questions in Indian politics during recent months, is being made a leading subject of the national legislature. The object sought by the Indians is to have only Indian officer for Indian troops. Agitation along this line has been increasing gradually for several years, and is expected to result in legislative action at an early date.

In a recent meeting of the legislative assembly, Mr. Yamin Khan moved to recommend to the Governor-General-in-Council that he get Kings Commissions for Indians by direct recruitment until all Indian regiments are wholly Indianized.

Mr. Yamin Khan, in urging his resolution, made it clear that he did not underrate the services rendered by British officers in India. His position was that Indian soldiers should have an opening for rising to the highest ranks in the army, as is the case in other countries.

Lord Rawlinson, Commander-in-Chief of the Indian Army, replying to Mr. Yamin Khan, said the government recognized that the demand for Indianization was inevitable, and was considering a scheme to bring it about. He held that there should be no violent change, and that the best time for transformation would be when the country is undisturbed by external or internal dangers, and gave as his opinion that there should be no wholesale Indianization before the success or failure of the change has been tested on a limited scale.

HEART PALPITATED And Was Short of Breath

Through one cause or another a large majority of people are troubled, more or less, with some form of heart trouble.

Many people may be unaware of having anything wrong with their heart till some little excitement, over work or worry starts it to palpitate and throb, skip beats, beat fast for a time and then so slow as to seem almost to stop, then it causes great anxiety and alarm.

To all such sufferers

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

will give prompt and permanent relief. Mrs. Alice Bishop, 15 Hawthorne Ave., Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I take great pleasure in recommending Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills to all persons troubled as I had been.

I suffered from palpitation of the heart and shortness of breath; my heart would skip beats, and in the night, at times, I would have to sit up to get my breath. I could not go up stairs without my heart fluttering, and my nerves were all unstrung, but since using your famous Pills I have felt like a different person."

CATES KNOCKS RAY MILLARD OUT ROUND 1

Peterboro Boxers Broke Even With Visitors in Main Bouts at P.A.A.A. Show.

A LIVELY EVENING

MAIN BOUTS.

118-Lb. Class:
L. Minnecola, Peterboro, stopped Morrison, Oshawa, in third round.

112-Lb. Class:
Parrish, Oshawa, won decision from Grant, Peterboro.

135-Lb. Class:
L. Combe, Peterboro, knocked out Jack Norman, Oshawa, in first round.

Special Bout:

140-Lb. Class:
McDonough, Peterboro, defaulted to McBrien, Oshawa.

PRELIMINARIES.

Midget Class:
C. Evans vs. H. Lee—a draw.
Jordan vs. Goodson—a draw.

105-Lb. Class:
Joe Jordan won decision over Defoe.
Red Thompson won decision over Lucas.

90-Lb. Class:
Jones vs. Sims—a draw.

135-Lb. Class:
Cole stopped Woodcock in one round.

Several knockouts and a lot of lively milling featured the boxing programme staged by the Boxing Committee of the P.A.A.A. in the Victoria Hall last night, and a big crowd of fight fans had a fine evening's sport.

The outside mitt artists and the Peterboro crew broke even on the four main bouts, Cates, of Toronto, knocking out Ray Millard, of Peterboro, and Parrish, of Oshawa, winning from Grant, while Combe and Minnicola, of Peterboro, won clean cut victories over Norman and Morrison, of Oshawa. In addition to the main bouts, there were six preliminary scraps that helped to make things interesting.

The Cates-Millard go, which was expected to be the feature of the evening, wound up in quick style. The St. Helen's Club boy was older and more experienced than the sixteen-year-old Peterboro youngster and although the milling was even for the first half minute, Millard collided with a left to the jaw that made him shake his head, and a few seconds later Cates cut loose with a right swing to the jaw that knocked Millard through the ropes and put him to sleep. It was all over in fifty seconds.

The Combe-Norman bout terminated almost as speedily. Norman, a fast-moving youth, held his own fairly well in the early part of the first round, but the Peterboro boy settled all arguments by driving a right hook to Norman's chin that caused him to lose all interest in the proceedings. He was out for the count and then some. Combe showed much promise and will be heard from later on.

Parrish, of Oshawa, who at the last bouts here stopped Corbett, of Peterboro, took another local scalp last night when he won the decision over Grant. It was a real lively mill, perhaps the most exciting of the evening. Grant had the edge in the first round, but the Oshawa boy directed his attention to body blows in the second session, and his tactics were successful in rapidly weakening the local lad. The result was that in the third round Parrish had him all but out three or four times, but Grant, although groggy, held on gamely and averted a knockout. The decision, of course, went to Parrish.

Minnicola, of Peterboro, handed out so much punishment to Morrison, of Oshawa, that the latter's handlers threw a towel into the ring early in the third round. At that Morrison did most of the leading, but Minnicola pounded him heavily in almost every rally, and in the third round used him for a punching bag until the Oshawa contingent surrendered to have a knockout.

McDonough, of Peterboro, was to have met McBrien, of Oshawa, but the former's father refused to allow him to compete on account of the difference in age of the two.

Most of the preliminary boxers were novices, but they put in a good show, nevertheless.

The comedy bout was that between the famous pair, Woodcock and Cole, who have met frequently and never yet failed to bring down the house. The affair only lasted a round. Towards the end of the first session the two stood close together and exchanged half a dozen right and left swings, with no thought of guarding. Then Woodcock dropped gently onto the ropes and took a four-count before the bell rang. He decided that he had enough for the evening, and the bout went to Cole.

Sandy McKean, of Oshawa, refereed the preliminary bouts, and Geo. N. Graham, of Peterboro, handled the main mills. The judges were Jimmy McMartin and Eddie Dugan.

At the close of the programme, Sandy McLean, on behalf of Norman, challenged Combe to another bout at Oshawa at 125 lbs., and also challenged Minnicola to meet Morrison again.

The Oshawa outfit are staging a programme of bouts in the near future, and a squad of Peterboro boys will be sent down to take part.

FIRPO HAS BIG CHANCE, SAYS FARRELL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, March 27 (United Press).—Where the path leads for Luis Firpo, the Argentine giant, depends largely on where Luis chooses to turn his steps.

Firpo has more natural fighting ability and he is the best prospect of any of the young heavyweights who have come to the front since Dempsey got his start.

Firpo has everything promising, but he has one of the Latin temperaments that may spoil what looks like sure fame and fortune for him.

Because some of his fellow countrymen in South America warned him to beware of scheming Americans, Firpo is suspicious of everyone. He looks upon all who approach him as connivers who are out to do him harm.

Even with Jimmy De Forest, who trained him for a few weeks when he first came to this country and who handled him in the Brennan fight, he is restrained and wary and it does not permit him to get the full value of the excellent education that De Forest is capable of giving him.

As an example of the peculiar type of a pupil that Firpo is, De Forest tells the story that when he was working with him last year, one of Firpo's friends went to him and told him that De Forest was Dempsey's trainer and that Jimmy would teach him wrong, so that Dempsey could beat him. Firpo became suspicious and quit De Forest.

If he continues to suspect every one he will make the way harder, although it might not necessarily keep him from winning the title. De Forest is about the one trainer in the country who knows enough to make a great fighter out of the South American.

* * *

Nearly all of the veterans who have looked over the South American find in him a striking resemblance to Jim Jeffries when he first came out. Tex Rickard, who is one of the most enthusiastic boosters of Firpo, says that he really is another Jim and that he will be the next champion.

* * *

The most impressive things about Firpo are his ability to take punishment and his tremendous hitting power. He also has a great fighting heart—and little else is needed.

Firpo must learn to box a little, but that is only a minor detail. His left hand also needs attention, but that also can come with training.

* * *

It seems now that Dempsey has only two men as real contenders for the title—Firpo and Harry Wills.

Perhaps Wills is only a prominent contender because he has been advertised as one and everyone thinks so. Many competent judges of boxing have expressed the opinion that Wills couldn't go three rounds with the champion.

Without any more training, Firpo could go six or seven rounds with Dempsey just as he is today. He was a little fat around the waist in the Brennan fight and he didn't like the pokes to the mid-section, but he had a very short time to train, and the next time he will be in better shape.

* * *

Bill Brennan has been called the old "war horse," and he is one. Certainly no one in the game has a stouter heart than "old" Bill Brennan. Why he is generally regarded as old and worn hard to understand, as he is younger than Tommy Gibbons and he has been fighting only about ten years, which isn't so long in these days.

* * *

Firpo, no doubt, will get a chance against Dempsey in South America. The usual steam will be expelled around New York, but the money is in the native land of Firpo, and his fellow countrymen have gone so mad about him that they would pay any amount of money to see him with the champ.

APPLY SULPHUR ON YOUR ECZEMA SKIN

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

SAYS ALBERTA COAL THE BETTER FUEL.

Freight Rate Only Obstacle to Barring the Canadian Product From Ontario Bins.

A contributor writes the Examiner as follows:

Ontario people have had another winter of coal shortage, while Alberta has had another winter of shortage of coal business.

Ontario hunts for cheaper and better coal, while Alberta, with 370 mines producing less than six million tons of coal, and a capacity for producing three times as much, hunts for coal markets.

Ontario sends millions of dollars to the United States for fuel that is getting poorer each year, while Alberta's 12,000 miners go idle six months out of the year, and Alberta's mine operators pay heavy overhead charges to maintain idle mines.

Alberta has 87 per cent. of the coal areas of Canada, enough good, clean domestic coal to last both Alberta and Ontario, yes, all of Canada, for generations.

What is the obstacle that bars Alberta coal from Ontario bins?

The freight rate, chiefly. The quality of Alberta coal is all right, because it has proven itself against the American product. A long haul is not a deterrent because Alberta coal has been hauled and used successfully, at Montreal, and Levis, Quebec, and several points in Ontario.

The rate charged by the railways now on Alberta coal from the mines to Toronto, is $12.70 a ton. A $6.00 rate in train lots would put the Alberta product in Ontario bins in successful competition with American coal.

Is such a rate practicable? Alfred Chard, Alberta's freight supervisor, declares it is—if the coal is hauled in train lots, and sees no reason why it should not be so hauled. He shows that on the basis of the mileage from Edmonton to Toronto, a $6.00 rate on a trainload of coal would produce an earnings of $5.26 per train mile. He shows that the 1920 freight earnings of the C.P.R. in the west were $5.28 a train mile, with operating expenses at $3.58. Therefore, he argues, a $6.00 rate should be a practical rate. Such a rate would put Alberta coal in Toronto at around $13.00 a ton, which is much better than paying $18.00 for American anthracite, and poor anthracite at that.

Alberta coal has proven its quality in a discriminating market namely, the Manitoba market, which has used American anthracite for many years. A Winnipeg business man writes as follows:

"I was a confirmed American hard coal user, but American hard coal and slate at a little better than $20 per ton started me in to do some thinking. The result was that I gave Alberta coal a trial, and then I got a shock of my life. Listen to this: I used to buy about eleven tons of American hard coal each year. This I shoveled into the furnace, getting a return of about thirteen tons of ashes and two tons of unburned coal, which I could have sifted out if I wanted, but a man can't sift ashes and retain his self-respect. Sometimes the house was warm and sometimes we were not so lucky. Hard coal is very temperamental stuff, but we could nearly always get lots of heat if we waited five or six hours and had luck.

Now I burn Alberta coal, about twelve to fourteen tons a year, I have, I would say, about a third of the ash I had with hard coal, and ash that is all ash, but no waste coal. If the furnace is properly tended we get heat, lots of it, and get it instantly any time we want it, without fuss and without prayer. I am not putting it too strongly when I say I would sooner pay $20 a ton for good Alberta coal than I would the same amount for American anthracite.

Ontario's coal business, diverted to Alberta, would mean steady employment for Alberta miners the year round, a steady revenue for the national railway during the usual slack traffic season, better conditions all round for the development of Alberta coal, and, without question, far better conditions with respect to coal supply for Ontario people.

This problem is for Ontario people to consider. Moral support is needed from them for what is now being demanded from several quarters, namely, a proper investigation into the availability of Alberta's coal. The mining and metallurgical institute of Canada the other day asked the Canadian parliament for such an investigation. The Alberta legislature also has done so.

JUDGE CAUTIONS IN SMALL CASE

Says Men Have Disappeared and Re-apepared Quite Frequently.

TORONTO, March 27.— (Canadian Press.)— In giving his judgment this morning that Ambrose Small, the missing theatrical magnate, he declared "not legally dead," Judge Coatsworth said:

"On account of the very bitter family feud between Mrs. Small and the sisters of Ambrose, it was essential to exercise great care and act only upon reasonably clear evidence.

"Men have disappeared," said the court, "and after a lapse of years have re-appeared, very frequently. And it is possible that this is one of those cases."

It is understood that counsel for Mrs. Small are considering the advisability of appealing to a higher court.

A mind-reading vaudeville duo, a Larry Semon comedy and Viola Dana in "The Five-Dollar Baby," with a number of short reels, form the Capitol Theatre offerings for the beginning of this week.

"The Lady in the Purple Mask" is the feminine member of the vaudeville couple. This lady, who, by the way, wears her mask constantly, from her arrival in town off the train to the moment when she steps aboard for another town, told some things to an interested audience last night about love and money and health, answering from the stage the questions which enquiring spectators whisper in her partner's ear. Another test of her psychic qualities was made in her ability to play any musical pianoforte number on request.

Larry Semon has another of his hilarious comedy offerings, "No Wedding Bells," with the disconsolate figure of the adventurous hero fading into the middle distance in a final close-up. His stunts are as mirthful as always, with himself in a series of mishaps which embroil him in the nefarious schemes of a Chinese scientist, Blow Me Hi.

Viola Dana does a great deal of posing in "The Five-Dollar Baby." She is effective enough in the part, making a slim and pretty heroine, but the action of the story, starting out bravely enough in a unique commencement, drags through long screened scenes. The old Jewish pawnbroker is a welcome change from the usual run of screen "uncles," and the plot, thin in spots, has plenty of background.

WELLAND WANTS A NEW COUNTY JAIL.

WELLAND, Ont., March 27. Canadian Press. — Welland city council at its meeting here decided to make a suggestion to be put before Hon. W. E. Raney, in which to do away with the large walls of the county jail in this city, which are right on the main street, and in place establish a jail farm at Dain City for all prisoners who are serving sentences ranging from seven to 90 days. The suggestion met with great favor by the city fathers as the walls are very unsightly and to remove them would mean a difference in beautifying the city. The jail farm established at Dain City would be about midway for three municipalities, namely Welland, Port Colvorne and Humberstone.

Mayor Hughes wrote to the Hon. Mr. Nixon, provncial secretary, and received a reply stating that the province, although there is one of these institutions at Toronto, would raise no objections to the establishing of a jail farm in this district.

DOES NOT KNOW WHERE SMALL IS

Detective Mitchell, of Toronto, Suggests Misconstruction of His Words.

TORONTO, March 27.—(Canadian Press). — Detective Mitchell, chief investigator in the Ambrose Small case, was before the Police Commissioners to-day regarding his statement in Surrogate Court that he knew "within seventy acres" where Small was buried. After the meeting Chief of Police Dickson intimated that examination of Mitchell by the commissioners indicated that despite what had been deduced from his evidence in court he did not know where Small was.

It is understood that Mitchell told the commissioners he had no definite ground for the statement of his belief, and that he suggested misconstruction had been placed on his words.

Canadian Stock Exchange — And Mines — | New York Stock Exchange — And Curb Prices.

To-Day's Quotations and Opinions and Reviews of the Markets.

NEW YORK, N.Y., March 27.—(Special.)— Wall Street cannot get over the idea that the Federal Reserve Board governors' meeting at Washington will take some action leading to higher rediscount rates.

In addition there was stock exchange questionnaire and appointment of a receiver, for the D. G. Dery Corporation, larke silk manufacturers.

In these developments traders bearishly inclined found excuse to depress prices and they did so, although there were some rallies, stocks had a slump around ten-thirty, on the selling which appeared to represent liquidation of impaired marginal accounts, but the general list showed some rallying power at the start of the second hour, fractional recoveries taking place in Studebaker, American Locomotive, American Can and other speculative leaders. This come-back was started by the more optimistic feeling regarding the conference of the Governors of the Federal Reserve Banks at Washington.

RANEY OPPOSED TO POLICE BILL FOR ELECTIVES

Lends Ear to Opinions of Eighteen Crown Attorneys—Personally Favors Present Police Com.

MEETS DEPUTATION

TORONTO, March 28.—(Canadian Press) — Representatives of twenty-one Ontario cities met Attorney General Raney to-day regarding the bill introduced into the Legislature by M. M. MacBride of Brantford, which would give cities the right to have two members of local police commissions elected to office. These would be added to boards as they now exist with county judge, magistrate and mayor composing board. The mayors of Brantford, London, Sarnia, Peterboro, Welland, Kingston, Woodstock, Fort William, Toronto, Sault Ste. Marie, Owen Sound, favored bill and Belleville, Galt, Ottawa, Port Arthur, St. Catharines, St. Thomas, Kitchener and Toronto Board of Control opposed it.

"My own view is against the bill and I will oppose it in the house," said the Attorney-General after all argument had been heard. "I am bound to say that I am far from being convinced personally that the change asked would be in the interests of the administration of Justice. If Government by the people is to come into antagonism with the administration of justice one must bend, and it must be government by people to the administration of justice."

He said that he had asked nineteen city crown attorneys in Ontario for their opinions and eighteen had opposed any change in commissions.

MR. T. TOOMS OBJECTS TO MARKSON'S CLAIM REGARDING MEETINGS

Says He Met the Man Once and Then Only for a Few Minutes—Warned the Examiner.

MAKES STATEMENT

Mr. T. Tooms, M.L.A., for West Peterboro, is in the city to-day and in an interview with the Examiner took strong exception to the use of his name in connection with the Markson case. Mr. Tooms made the following statement concerning the case:

....."About six or seven months ago I received a telephone call at my house and was asked to meet a Mr. Gill in a house on Water street, opposite the Victoria Park. I left my home that evening at 7 o'clock intending to attend a meeting of the Poultry Association at 8 o'clock, and to call and see this Mr. Gill between 7 and 8 o'clock. When I called at this house I was met by Mr. Gill, who said that he came from Sudbury, and was interested in the Labor movement. He was a complete stranger to me. I asked him if he lived in the city and he said yes, and volunteered the information that he was employed at Parker's Dye Works. He then asked me if anything could be done to promote the interests of labor in the city, such as getting the labor organizations on a stronger footing. He suggested holding meetings on the street corners and on the market square. I said that this had never been done and was not advisable; for one thing permission would have to be obtained from the city, and that would not likely be forthcoming. He then asked me if I knew a man by the name of Markson and I said I did not. He then informed me he had telephoned for Markson to come up. I reminded him that I had a meeting to attend at 8 o'clock and would not wait long. As I was about to go Markson came in and I again sat down for a few minutes. Markson had very little to say if anything. Gill did all the talking. I was not in his company for more than ten minutes, and have not seen him since.

In connection with the Chamber of Commerce, I may have said that the Peterborough branch of the Manufacturers' Association was a pretty strong organisation, and that Gill and his companion would find themselves up against strong opposition if they tried to advance their ideas here. About the following Tuesday I received another telephone call from Gill. This was to advise me he had taken my advice and was leaving the city. Markson saw fit to stay. I plainly told Gill that people could not be persuaded to attend meetings of this character unless they were in sympathy with the movement. They would have to be educated, and the only way to educate them would be through the medium of articles on economic subjects through the press.

I do not know anything about Markson's views or theories. I disagree with his methods and ideals altogether. I have no doubt if the question was put to him he would say he disagreed with my views and policy.

I do strongly object to my name being featured in the case. My position was no more than that of Mr. Rudkins and others whom Markson claims he came in contact with on the street and at his boarding house. Mr. Rudkins is the only man I know of those mentioned in the case. I met him through his connection with the Trades and Labour Council in his capacity of president of that organisation. When I first saw one of Markson's letters in The Examiner, I went out of my way to warn The Examiner of his radical views and to express my emphatic objection to them.

I am sure if any one will go to the trouble of applying to the Chamber of Commerce, they will get nothing but the best reports of my conduct and work in the interests of the city and its citizens. I would ask Mr. J. J. Duffus, the president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Leon Fraser, the secretary, to make a statement as to whether my actions with them are in any way consistent with the inuendo or reflections arising out of the present trial. So much time has elapsed since I saw Markson on that date that he has had ample time to verify any statements of his own without having to rely on the statements of others. If he had been as much in public life as I have, he would know that facts should be verified before making such statements.

EDITOR.—In the above statement Mr. Tooms said he "warned The Examiner" of the radical nature of Markson's letters that appeared from time to time. This is exactly in accordance with the facts. The Examiner has a distinct recollection of Mr. Tooms' warning and reference to the articles in question. The Examiner also took occasion at one time to make some editorial comment on Markson's literary efforts.

PARIS, March 28 (United Press). — Hundreds of love letters were found hidden away today in the casket which Sarah Bernhardt had prepared for her death thirty years ago.

Relatives of the actress, in making the casket ready to contain her body, came upon them. Many of the letters were from unknown worshippers.

LADIES DISCUSS AUTHORS WORKS

Instructive Evening Spent With Local Art and Literary Study Club.

A meeting of the Art and Literature Study Club was held last evening at the home of Mrs. W. H. Meredith, 576 Water street, when discussion of the works of Charles G. D. Roberts, Bliss Carman and Dr. Drummond occupied the attention of the ladies.

Chas. G. D. Roberts.

The discussion of Chas. G. D. Roberts' work was led by Mrs. L. J. Pettit, and poetical selections were read by Mrs. F. C. Neal and Mrs. G. L. Macdougall. Allusion was made by Mrs. Pettit to the influence of Keats and Wordsworth on Roberts' poetry. The genius of Keats influenced the earlier work of the poet, but the spirit which stops short of immortality in Keats' description of the felicity of the sculptured lovers in his "Ode to a Grecian Urn," has a contrast in Roberts' "Nocturne of Consecration," in which the poet bases his belief on the physical changefulness which Keats deplores. In later life, Roberts fell under the spell of Woodsworth. Roberts' sonnets are among his best product, and his quiet pastoral songs have all the Canadian atmosphere of light and space and wide, pale, clear horizons.

Extracts were read from the patriotic, narrative and nature poems of Roberts.

Bliss Carman.

Mrs. L. J. Pettit gave a very interesting review of the life and work of Bliss Carman, Chas. Roberts' cousin, who was born in Fredericton, N.B. Although Carman spends most of his life in New York he is still a Canadian citizen. His volume of "Songs from a Northern Garden" prove his love for his native land, and his "Ode of the Coronation" shows that he is not only a Cana-

SALE EXTRAORDINARY BANKRUPT STOCK OF SANFORD & CO. TO BE SOLD AT GRAFTON & CO.
Grafton & Company, having purchased a large quantity of the bankrupt stock of the W. E. Sanford & Co., clothing manufacturers, of Peterborough, who recently went into liquidation at a fraction of the original cost, is now offering it at prices that will create a stir in the clothing trade in this part of the country. It is only when a large manufacturing company goes out of business that it is possible to secure high-grade men's and boys' clothing at less than manufacturers' cost.
"We couldn't resist the temptation, and made this tremendous purchase of the cream of their stock and combine it with our large stock of new spring clothing and give the people of Peterborough and district an opportunity to buy clothes in time for Easter at the sacrifice prices we are quoting. This is your chance—a rare one, to save money on best quality clothing. Don't wait. Come early. The stock is limited," is the advice given by Grafton's. TIMELY TALK ON DISEASES OF CHILDREN

Dr. A. W. McPherson Heard to Advantage in Address on Colds and Allied Ailments.

WELL BABIES' CLINIC

A test of the popularity of the Well Babies' Clinic, was the good attendance at the open meeting yesterday afternoon in the ladies' rooms at the G.W.V.A. Hall, when numerous mothers, with small infants, attended the session, and heard Dr. A. W. MacPherson give a lucid, brief talk on "Colds and Allied Diseases, in Small Children."

The doctor explained the timeliness of his talk by referring to the prevalence of colds and pneumonia in April, May and June, when people became more careless of their health than in the colder months.

Causes and Signs.

Explaining that the continuity of the mucous membrane may cause irritation of any of its parts to affect the entire system, that colds in small children may be caused in a variety of ways, through diseased teeth, tonsils, as an aftermath of measles, diphtheria, or the "flu," or from carelessness in allowing them to remain in damp clothing after play or in insufficient apparel, inadequately heated houses. The doctor said that the signs in a young baby suffering with cold, were irritability and restlessness, a desire for water instead of milk, disturbance of the stomach and intestines, a croupy cough, hoarseness and wheezing, with hihg temperature and hot, dry hands in the more advanced stages.

Commonsense Treatment.

In the great majority of cases, declared the doctor, application by the mother of a simple commonsense treatment, obviated the necessity of calling a doctor, except for the soothing assurance which a physician seemed to impart to nervous parents in the case of disease in babies and small children.

The treatment advised included a dose of castor oil, from two teaspoonfuls up. (Just at this point, the infant in the front row who had been quiescent up to this moment, commenced to exhibit signs of displeasure), plenty of water, a reduction in the amount of milk, or thinning of its consistency, a uniformly warm temperature in the room, even if the child was removed to the kitchen to procure this, and daily sponge baths in tepid water. Water in the room to provide the necessary moisture, and an absence of heavy bed clothing were further recommendations.

Advanced Stages.

In acute conditions, a mustard plaster was advised, made of one part of mustard to five or six parts of flour applied back and front, to be removed when the skin reddens, and applied some four hours later, this process to be repeated at regular intervals throughout the day.

Mrs. Robert Harstone, in the chair expressed her appreciation of his audience for the doctor's timely and helpful address.

Following the address tea was served by the King's Daughters.

THE CLIMAX OF MUSICAL SEASON

Will Be Cantata at George Street Church Good Friday Evening.

The climax of the local musical season will be the musical service to be held in the George street church on Good Friday night. The choir, which will be directed by Mr. Renwick, will be augmented to over 60 voices for the rendition of Harold Moore's sacred Cantata, "The Darkest Hour." This work, dealing with the Passion and Death of our Lord, is a most impressive and devotional piece, and gives ample scope for the fineness of shading and powers of interpretation for which Mr. Renwick's choirs are noted.

Assisting the choir will be soloists of the first rank. Mr George Altcroft, baritone soloist of Timothy Eaton Church, Toronto, who is recognized as one of the finest baritones in this province, has been secured for this service. With him will be some of the best known and most capable local singers, including Dorothy Allen Park, Maurice H. Park and Charles Thorpe. At the organ will be Mr. George H. King, and at the piano Mr. Lesle H. Unitt. The presence of artists such as these is in itself a noteworthy event.

Mr. Albert E. Greenlaw of Detroit, will also assist in the service, singing Campion's "Ninety and Nine."

From 7.30 until 8 o'clock an organ recital will be given by Mr. Renwick and Mr. King. The door on McDonnell street, at the corner of George, will be open at 7 o'clock and ticketholders only will be dmitted by this adoor until 7.40, they thus securing the first choice of sets. At 7.40 the main doors will be thrown open to all who wish to come, on payment of the admission charge. Tickets are now on sale at Fowler's and Smith's.

FRENCH TO STAY IN ESSEN TILL GERMANY PAYS

Premier Poincare Declares Economic Results of the Ruhr Occupation Shouldn't be Considered

COMMUNISTS BUSY

PARIS, March 28. — (United Press).—"We will remain in Essen until reparations are entirely paid," Premier Poincare to-day told the Finance Committee of the Chamber of Deputies. The economic results of the occupation should not be considered as long as this is necessary, he added.

URGE RESISTANCE.

DUESSELDORF, March 28. — (Canadian Press).—In contrast to the recently reported tendency of workers here to let down in their resistance to the occupation forces, there is now noticeable a distinct movement in the opposite direction, which has been growing during the past few days.

During the night walls are being covered with posters urging the people to a strong resistance of the French and Belgian occupation.

Big unemployment demonstrations have been reported in Dresden, Gelsenkirchen, Dortmund and Essen. These are said to have been incited by Communists in the region.

MAKE CONCRETE OFFER.

LONDON, March 28.—(Canadian Press).—Herr Stinnes, German industrialist, and M. Jaspar, Belgian Foreign Minister, are now in Milan, says a despatch, and it is understood that their visit is in connection with representations reported to have been made last week by Premier Mussolini to the German Government, urging the Reichstag to make a concrete offer to the Allies. Premier Mussolini went to Milan yesterday for what was announced as a series of conferences bearing on international affairs.

The Daily Mail's Milan correspondent learns that Stinnes' mission aims at persuading Mussolini to make a move for mediation in the Ruhr.

DO ALL POSSIBLE.

BERLIN, March 28. — (Canadian Press).—Foreign Minister Von Rosenburg has informed the Foreign Relations Committee of the Reichstag that the German Government is willing to do all possible to ensure payment of its reparations obligations, as they might be determined by an International Business Men's Commission on which Germany had equal representation.

THE WEATHER.

This morning at sunrise it was 3 below zero; lowest last night 9 below zero; lowest yesterday 6 below zero, and on Monday 5 below. Quite a record for the closing days of the month of March. For steadily cold winter weather this winter is in a class by itself, and there will be few regrets when it is over. Extremely low temperatures have not been common, but there have been few, if any, breaks, or mild spells, and the average will be considerably lower than for many years. I have received many "attering remarks as to these weather notes this winter from rich and poor, learned and unlearned, male and female, and even a letter of commendation from a Sir Knight, but on the other hand, I have been threatened (?) with physical violence, assassination, scalping, and other forms of ignominy. But these notes regarding the vagaries of the weather are seemingly generally read.—W.P.

MARKSON IS REMANDED UNTIL SATURDAY NEXT AND HE STAYS IN JAIL

Charged With Publishing False Information, Bail Was Fixed at $500 Cash With Sureties Amounting to $1,000, but Accused Could Not Furnish Security.

SAYS HIS LETTER WAS EXAGGERATED

On the conclusion of the hearing before Magistrate O. A. Langley yesterday, Bernard Markson was remanded until Saturday, March 31. Bail was fixed at $500 cash with sureties amouting to $1,000, but was not forthcoming. Counsel for the defendant made the usual motion to dismiss the case, basing his claim on the contention that wilful publication had not been made.

In cross-examination, Markson denied responsibility for the letter as it was printed in the Worker. He wrote a letter, he said, but the editor made an article of it, greatly exaggerating the facts given in the letter. Any information that Markson sent to the Worker he believed to be true. He did not give the information for publication, he claimed. It is the general rule for members to keep in touch with headquarters and give them information concerning local conditions. All the information he gave the Worker was derived from hearsay. He only got copies of the Worker two or three times, he said, and there were usually 25 papers in a bundle. He distributed these to his friends, but denied that he was an agent for the Worker.

Mr. Hatton: "If you were not an agent of the paper why did you distribute the papers?"

Markson: "It is the duty of the members of the Workers' Party to distribute literature for the party."

Distributed Papers.

Accused admitted distributing copies of the paper containing the letter complained of, but in some of these papers, he claimed, he scored out some of the words inserted by the editor which he considered objectionable. In a talk with Mr. Tooms about six months ago Markson used words to the effect that Peterborough was a terrible place to live in. Personally, he stayed here because he is an exception in his class of work, and has no opposition. He had no personal reason to complain about his wages —his only trouble is about the wages others are getting.

Of Hebrew Descent.

Markson is of Hebrew descent, but all his people live in England or Canada. He was in the army and spent one day in Calais. He didn't see any fighting.

Magistrate Langley: "What side were you on?"

Markson: "What side do you think?"

On an answer being insisted on, Markson said that he was on the British side.

Mr. Hatton: "Were you a conscript?"

Markson: "My business."

A reply to this question was not insisted on. Accused has been in the cells since Monday, March 19, he said.

Trotzky's Books.

Among the literature found in Markson's room and introduced as evidence are books by Leon Trotzky and Lenin. One book bears on its cover the legend "Banish Gods from the Skies and Capitalists from the Earth." The frontpiece to this book is a photograph of the Rt. Rev. Montgomery Brown, fifth Bishop of Kansas, resigned, a member of the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church, now "Episcopos in partibus Bolshevikium et Infidelium."

In one of the booklets—a kind of catechism on Bolshevism—the claim is made that the Soviet saved many American lives by causing a revolution in Germany which led to the downfall of the Kaiser and the end of the war. The booklet is printed in New York.

AT THE ROYAL.

Large audiences on Monday and yesterday at the Royal were enthusiastic over Charles Ray in "A Tailor Made Man" the picturisation of the Cohan and Harris famous stage success. Clothes plus ambition make the man and Ray proves it in this nine-reel comedy drama that fits him and will please you.

With the feature is a well-balanced programme, including a great Western drama and two rollicking comedies.

To-night is the last opportunity to see this programme.

ASSURANCES OF MANY CRUISERS

Mr. Leonard Fraser Listed 43 That Are Definitely Coming to the Trent and 51 Other Prospects.

"It was money well spent," Mayor Taylor added to the Council's expressions of appreciation and satisfaction with the report of Mr. Leonard Frazer's trip to the New York motor boat show where he assisted in the publicity work of the Trent Waterways Association.

"When this Council was good enough to send an assistant when it was found that the rush was more than could be handled by one man I thought that if I could bring back definite assurances of ten cruisers coming up the Trent next summer that would pay the expense of the trip in the purchases of gasoline and provisions and other goods by the owners of these craft. I brought back positive assurances from 43 motorboat men and I also have a list of 51 other prospects. I was working in the booth only four of the ten days of the show, and I wouldn't like to say what results we would have obtained by having two men there all the time. I found that the men in charge of the Government exhibit were not personally familiar with the Trent waters, and could not give the same exact information as one coming from this district. We had a ninety foot display space in a good location, and the secretary of the show promised to give us even better location next year and to furnish an aquarium in which we could display live black bass or other fish from the Trent waters."

Mr. G. K. Fraser of Stoney Lake one of the pioneers in promoting the Trent district at the New York show attended again this year, giving his services in the same invaluable way as in other years and with results that are the accumulation of his previous efforts. Although they are not relations both these gentlemen bring back impressions of the value of the motor boat show as a propaganda centre for the Trent that be speak the continuation of this enterprise on even broader lines than ever next year.

THE THURSDAY HALF HOLIDAY WILL PREVAIL

Matter Was Discussed at a Meeting of the Retail Merchants Here Last Evening.

TWO ADDRESSES

At a meeting of the Peterboro Retail Merchants Association held last evening in the Chamber of Commerce it was decided to resume the weekly half holiday on Thursday throughout the summer months. Mr. R. H. Ross occupied the chair. The attention of the meeting was drawn to a resolution now before the Ontario Legislature in which the commercial travellers seek to have Wednesday made a uniform half holiday throughout the province. It was pointed out that this would do away with the confusion that exists when some towns and cities close on Wednesday and others on Thursday. No action was taken in regard to this resolution.

Discussing the question of the Thursday half holiday a number of members said that it had taken a number of years to educate the public to the advantages of shopping on Wednesday and to change the half holiday from one day to another would render useless a lot of this pioneer work.

"If you make it hard to shop in Peterboro you will make it that much easier to shop elsewhere and through the medium of the mail order catalogues", said one member of the drygoods section. The members generally appreciated the value of the sport organization to the city but several of them contended that it would take a long time to make Thursday as good a shopping day as Wednesday. "One of the finest advertisements we had last summer was the midget and intermediate championship baseball teams besides the seniors" commented one member.

Mr. R. G. Sturgeon favoured a complete closing up on Saturday afternoon. This he said, would enable the merchants to take visitors to the city back to the Kawartha Lake district and show them many of the advantages to be had there.

It was moved by Mr. R. G. Sturgeon and seconded by Mr. W. J. Outram that a circular be sent around to all the merchants in the city asking for an expression of opinion regarding the best day for selection of a suitable day for the half holiday.

Secretary Leon Frazer of the Association reminded the meeting that all the member of the Association had been notified by letter to attend the meeting.

An amendment moved by Mr. Harry Cressman that the half holiday be continued on Thursday was carried in spite of the protests of Mr. Sturgeon who declared the proceedings out of order.

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches.

WEDNESDAY

Deserted by His Own

"I know not this man of whom ye speak." Mark 14:71.

Read Mark 14:66-72.

"But it is not until we come into the presence of Jesus of Nazareth, that we are able to see sin in all its terrible magnitude and malignity."

MEDITATION: To remain steadfast to the dictates of love in the face of scorn and danger demands all we have of courage and faith; but to fail here is to fail everywhere. We do not go alone to trial.

HYMN:

O for a closer walk with God,
A calm and heavenly frame,
A light to shine upon the road
That leads me to the Lamb!

PRAYER: Almighty God, unto whom all hearts are open, all desires known, and from whom no secrets are hid; cleanse the thoughts of our hearts by the inspiration of thy Holy Spirit, that we may perfectly love thee, and worthily magnify thy Holy name; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

CHILDREN'S CHURCH HAS BOY PREACHER

LOS ANGELES, March 23. (United Press).—Master Wesley Flemming, 15, is starting on a career which may eventually lead to his stepping into the shoes of the Rev. Billy Sunday, noted evangelist.

Wesley has been officially appointed to fill the pulpit at the "Children's Church" at the Angelus Temple, which Aimee Semple McPherson owns, and at which she conducts her evangelistic services.

He recently preached his opening Saturday afternoon sermon before an audience of several thousand children.

He believes in "just plain Bible religion," without any frills, and has the knack of putting the Bible's teachings into language that youngsters understand.

Wears His School Clothes

Wesley is a good-looking kid, lithe and well-built, whom one would expect to see with a "mitt," playing ball in any vacant lot after school. When he preaches he wears school clothes—a grey belted Norfolk suit, and a shirt with a soft collar. His hair is tossed back into some kind of a pompadour that most young fellows of his age affect when "slicking up" for a party.

There is no empty oratory in his sermons, no rising and falling inflections of the sort indigenous to the grown-up ministerial profession. In a voice that has not quite changed, Wesley talks religion in the same manner that most boys talk about their school or their teams. His voice is clear and easily fills the large Angelus Temple.

"I just talk religion to the kids the same as I'd talk about anything else. I discuss what the Bible says just like we'd discuss a book at school. I like it, and it's easy for me. Most kids are bored by regular sermons."

A Children's Church

This was the idea on Aimee Semple McPherson's mind when she decided on a "Children's Church," to meet Saturday afternoon in the big Temple, and to listen to religion expounded by a boy of their own age.

The "Children's Church" is a new and unique institution. It is international. All the church offices are filled by children and grown-ups do not interfere. The choir is composed of 40 boys and girls. The church is attended by children from all parts of the city.

Wesley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fleming, of South Pasadena, Cal. He was born in Portland, Ore., and at the age of nine he had become greatly interested in religion, and began to preach in company with evangelists on street corners in Portland. He had success in gaining converts, numbering among them many hardened sinners who were made to see the light through his frank boyish appeal.

Between times, Wesley went through grade school and two years of high school, and is now studying in the Evangelistic Training Institute. His interests outside of church work are those of the average boy of his age.

RANEY HAS BILL TO STOP PUBLICATION OF BETTING NEWS

Similar Bill Has Been Introduced at Ottawa But He Fears It Will Be Defeated.

TORONTO, March 28.—The Legislature yesterday afternoon proceeded with debate on the bill introduced by Hon. W. E. Raney to make unlawful the publication of racing information. Mr. Raney said that legislation had been introduced at Ottawa covering the same ground. "I would not press this bill here if the Ottawa government was in full control of the situation," said Mr. Raney, "but it is a matter of history that the Senate often kills bills of this nautre passed by the Commons. In any event if the bill does pass both Houses in Ottawa this bill comes into effect by royal proclamation and will not be proclaimed if Ottawa has passed a similar legislation." The bill was opposed by Col. J. A. Currie who declared that the bill would give a monopoly on hand book betting to the Metropolitan Racing Association which he said kept open the year around. He said there was nothing in the act to stop this association from carrying on and the legislation "monopolized book making for Abe Orpen." He said that the act introduced in Ottawa covered this point which the Ontario legislation left open. Mr. Raney interjected the remark that the Ottawa bill was drafted in Ontario "in my department."

Mr. Raney in speaking to this bill said the matter was one designed to be covered by Dominion Legislation and thought it would. The trouble was that hand book betting had been made easy if not possible by the publication of racing information. The criminal code did not cover the matter because of the wording of the code. In Mr. Raney's opinion that hand book betting was not nearly as bad a menace as the leaglized betting on race course. There was discrimination he said in legalized race course betting. Half a dozen Chinamen were arrested for gambling but yet men of influence could gamble with legal protection on race course.

Mr. Dewart objected to a discussion of race track gambling which he contended was not in accord with the principle of the bill. The Speaker, however ,upheld Mr. Raney. Mr. Raney argued that a province could not tax a race course out of existence. The British North America Act said provinces could tax for revenue only. To tax for prohibition would therefore be wrong.

Col .Currie said the act should be caled an act to form an incorporation for hand book betting. For many years he said there had been in Ontario an organization which had carried on betting. "This bill will give Abe Orpen and that association a monopoly, said Col. Currie who suggested that Mr. Raney had been solicitor for Mr. Orpen.

"Is the honorable member making himself a conduit for slander?" asked Mr. Raney.

"I am asking you a direct question and it is, "Were you ever solcitor for Mr. Orpen?"

"I deny that I ever was," replied Mr. Raney. Col. Currie declared that if the bill had been drawn for Mr. Orpen that it could have been better done. He explained that the Ottawa bill covered the point and prevented Mr. Orpen's association from operating as well as others. He was then informed that the Ottawa bill was drawn up by the Ontario Attorney General's department. Col. Currie further contended that the bill interfered with the freedom of the press in publishing news. He objected to the bill because "it does not fill the bill."

NATIONAL RAILWAYS GREATLY IMPROVED OVER PREVIOUS YEARS

A Deficit of 72 Million in 1921 Was Reduced to 60 Million in 1922.

GRAND TRUNK PAYS.

OTTAWA, March 28. Canadian Press. — Canadian National Railways closed the year with an operating surplus of four million dollars but with a deficit when the fixed and other charges were taken into account of 60 millions Such was the announcement of Hon. G P. Graham, Acting Minister of Railways, in making the annual statement on the national roads to the House of Commons yesterday afternoon and evening.

Although the Grand Trunk has since been formally amalgamated with the Canadian National, Mr. Graham gave statements for the two systems separately — statements which showed that an operating deficit on the Canadian National was turned into an operating surplus by the Grand Trunk. The Grand Trunk had an operating surplus of $13,929,867; the Canadian National System, i. e., the Canadian Northern, the I.C.R. and the G.T.P.—an operating ratiot of $9,736,318. Taking one from the other the National rails as a whole had on operating surp us for 1922 of $4,193,549. Compared with the year previous both systems showed considerable improvement. Operating deficit on the Canadian National, was reduced by about six and a half millions; the operating surplus on the Grand Trunk was trebled.

The Canadian lines were the only part of the Grand Trunk system to show an operating deficit. The western lines and the Central Vermont both converted operating deficits into operating surpluses.

Deductions for taxes and other items brought the operating surplus of $4,193,549 for the amalgamated roads down to $2,202,782. Deducting this from fixed charges amounting to $62,454,627, the total deficit for 1922 is shown to be $60,251,845. This is an improvement of $12,410,433 over the deficit for the year previous.

Mr. Graham estimat ' that the restoration of the Crow's Nest rates on grain had reduced the revenue on the Canadian National Lines by six and a half million dollars. He read a memorandum from Sir Henry Thornton, president of the National Roads, estimating that the recent reorganization of management would result in a saving of at least $150,000 a year in salaries; and concluding Mr. Graham intimated that legislation would be brought down outlining proposed branch line constructions and authorizing the government to advance the necessary money.

U. S. ACTION AGAINST METAL FROM ONTARIO

WASHINGTON, March 28. Canadian Press. — Anti-dumping provisions of the Tariff Act were invoked by the Treasury yesterday with respect to importations of ferro-silicon. The decision, signed by Assistant-Secretary Moss, said that investigation had determined that shipments of Ferro-silicon from the province of Ontario, Canada are being sold or are likely to be sold in the United States market at less than the fair value of the merchandise.

As a result of the ruling Customs collectors automatically are ordered to levy an extra duty on the imports but the penalty payments will vary according to the basis of calculation of their value and the conditions under which the importations are made.

OFFERED A DRINK TO PROHIBITIONIST.

LONDON, March 28.—(Canadian Press.)—A party of sailors travelling this week in a train offered a drink from a flask to E. Scrymgeour, the prohibitionist member of the house. of commons for Dundee. When he declined the tars looked him over more closely and finally recognizing him, invited him to breakfast with them. Scrymgeour accepted and afterwards asked the sailors to read with him a chapter from the Bible. The Dundee M.P. reporting the incident says the latter invitation was accepted with "equanimity."

ALLIES AND TURKS TO CONTINUE NEAR EAST CONFERENCE

Allied Delegates Have Drawn Up Reply to Ismet Pasha's Letter of March 8th.

ARE IN ACCORD.

LONDON, March 28.—(Canadian Press)—Turkey will be informed within the next forty-eight hours that the Allies are ready to resume the Lausanne peace negotiations. The Allied delegates, who for the past week have been examining the Turkish counter-proposals to the Allied peace terms, finished their deliberations this evening after having drawn up a reply to Ismet Pasha's letter of March 8.

It is understood that the Allies agreed to make no fundamental changes in their original peace proposals to the Turks. Whatever modifications have been made are of form rather than of substance. One of the delegates told The Associated Press correspondent that when the conference was resumed the Turks would find the Allies in complete unity on all questions.

The French delegates will leave for Paris to-day; the Italians will leave Thursday.

A preliminary meeting of the delegates sat from 4.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, until nearly 8 o'clock when an official communique was issued stating that complete agreement had been reached on all points and that a draft text of the reply to Ismet Pasha's note of March 8, had been considered and adopted, subject to the final approval of the respective Allied Governments.

CAUSE OF FIRE UNKNOWN.

MONTREAL, March 28.—(Canadian Press.) — No staisfactory explanation for the Hospital for Incurables fire here recently was adduced at the continuance of the enquiry by the fire commissioner's court here yesterday afternoon. Three deaf-mute patients at the hospital who had been in the attic wheer the fire originated, testified they had seen nothing unusual. Sister Superior Maria Missel did not testify but stated that the report circulated as to the death of a patient as a result of he fire, was untrue.

LORD ROBERT CECIL TELLS U.S. OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Would Welcome United States, Germany and Russia Into the Fold.

WHAT IT HAS DONE.

NEW YORK, March 28 (Canadian Press). — The cause of the League of Nations is the cause of a world peace, declared Lord Robert Cecil, foremost British exponent of the League, who arrived here yesterday on the Majestic for a month's visit to the United States and Canada.

Lord Robert, who will deliver a score of lectures, said he came to popularise and promote the cause of the League and to smooth misunderstandings of its functions and work held by the greatest nation which has not yet joined the international body.

"I should like o see the United States join the League," he said, "but I am just as strong an advocate of Germany's entrance. In my opinion, Germany would be admitted if she applied. I also would be glad to see Russia come in. It is my impression that she would also be admitted if she applied properly, and it would be better for her and for the rest of the world if she were a member."

Lord Robert, a tall, thin man, with massive, rounded shoulders, from which hung loosely a greatcoat which flapped about his long legs, displayed great enthusiasm in discussing his views with newspapermen, This was reflected in the quick movements of his thin, ascetic, and by frequent thrustings forward of his shoulders and the flashing of his deep-set, brown eyes.

"It is a great pleasure," Lord Robert said, "to find myself here at last. I have often been invited to come during the past few years, and have only now found time. That is why I deferred so long coming to a land and nation of such deep and far-reaching significance to the rest of humanity."

Lord Robert said he would begin his lecture tour in New York to-day, speaking first at a private luncheon and later at a dinner at which he will meet owners and editors of national weekly and monthly publications. Later he will speak in Philadelphia, Buffalo, Ottawa, Montreal, Des Moines, Iowa, Chicago, Louisville, Kentucky, Richmond, Va., and Washington and Boston, returning to England on 27th April.

"The movement in favour of the League," Sir Robert asserted, "is growing rapidly abroad. The League has functioned without the United States and can function without her, but it would be a great thing for the United States and for the rest of the world to have the United States a member."

The British statesman, who is making his first visit here, said he came at the invitation of the Foreign Policy Association, and that he would attempt to study the attitude of the United States towards the League.

He declared he was in favour of the entrance of the United States into the world court as advised by President Harding recently, and said such a step would be of great advantage to the League, of which the court is a subsidiary organisation, and to the cause of world peace.

The Lague already had satisfactorily settled four international disputes, he said. They were the dispute between Finland and Sweden over the Aaland Islands, the disputes between Germany and Poland and France and Great Britain over Upper Silesia, the dispute over Albanian soereignty, and the mattver of Austrian finance.

The League, he declared, had saved Austria from ruin by providing a loan of $26,000,000 from ten countries and by ensuring Austria's protection from external aggression.

But, Lord Robert pointed out, the most important achievements had been in the direction of fostering international legislation of a humanitarian nature, which the League had successfully fostered. The permanent secretariat of the League, he added, was one of its most important features, and ensured its uninterrupted activity.

PRINCE OF WALES THROWN FROM HORSE

LONDON, March 28.—The Prince of Wales was thrown yesterday at a water jump in the Army point-to-point races at Arbor Field, but was unhurt.

Wales was riding Prince Henry's horse and had taken the water jump in splendid style on the first round, but the second time the horse balked at the bank and plunged straight into the water, which is several feet deep.

The Prince was thrown into the boughs of a willow tree on the opposite bank, but scrambled back to rescue the horse, which was plunging about in the water up to its neck and rapidly sinking in the mud. The Prince, unaided, pluckily seized the horse's head and brought the animal out amid the cheers of hundreds of spectators.

MME. BERNHARDT'S FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TOMORROW

Obsequies Will Be Most Impressive Seen in Paris Since the Death of Victor Hugo.

WAS NOT RICH.

PARIS, March 28. — (Canadian Press)—The body of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt will be removed at noon Thursday from her late home on the Boulevard Pereiere, to the Church of St. Francois de Sales, in a nearby street, and thence conveyed to the Pere-La-Chaise, the last resting place of hundreds of France's famous people of all times.

It will be one of the most impressive funerals of a great public figure, since that of Victor Hugo in 1885. Hugo's funeral was under the auspices of the Government; Bernhardt's will be at the expense of the City of Paris.

Poverty is given as the reason that Bernhardt will not be buried in Belle Isle, where many years ago she had a tomb dug in the solid rock. It is explained that shortly before her death, pressed as always for ready money, the actress was obliged to sell the house with the land at Belle Isle, and it is suggested now that at some future time permission be obtained from the new owner, and the body transferred there.

A rented villa in a Paris suburb which was to have been her summer home, replacing Belle Isle, is bright with fresh paint. On the gate is inscribed as the villa's name, Bernhardt's motto: "Quand Meme," which is likely to remain as a memorial of the tenant who never lived there.

It is suggested also that the theatre bearing her name, which is municipal property, should retain the name as a memorial whoever the theatre's new tenant may be.

FIREMAN KILLED AT FORT WILLIAM.

Daring Act of Woman When the Victoria Block Destroyed By Flames.

FORT WILLIAM, March 28. — (Canadian Press.) — One of this city's fire fighters was instantly killed and two of the largest retail establishments of the city were totally wiped out last night in one of the fiercest fires that has ever occurred in the business section of the city.

David Geron, who was crouched in the street handling a nozzle, met his death when the front wall and coping of Victoria Block on Victoria Avenue, fell on top of him, the other men leaping back to safety. Simultaneously, flames poured out over where Geron lay and the fire fighters had to give their whole attention to subduing them.

Originating from an unknown cause in the rear of the store of Rutledge & Jackson, dealers in men's furnishings, shortly after 9 o'clock, in a few minutes the fire had spread throughout the whole of Victoria Block, which was also occupied by R. E. Walker & Company, dry goods. Shortly atfer the alarm was given, Miss Walker groped her way into the office and got out all cash and many valuable papers belonging to the firm. It was a very daring piece of work. Five minutes later no one could have gone near the flaming pile. The fire was at its height at ten o'clock, the intense heat making it diffcult for the firemen to face the flames, which were driven halfway across the street. The men handling the hose nozzles were compelled to lie down on the street to maintain their positions. At 10.50 p. control. The loss may reach a million dollars.

INDUSTRIAL WORLD OF BRITAIN NOW SHAKING WITH LABOR TROUBLES

FARM STRIKE.

LONDON March 28. Canadian Press. — A considerable portion of the British industrial forld is seething with wages and hours disputes. Conferences were held in London yesterday of farm laborers, coal miners, seamen and railway men, all discussing these questions.

The farmers' strike has been further extended but it is still far from general. At the same time the possibility of a prolonged strike at present, the important time for farming work, is viewed with general regret.

Miners' delegates from all the coal fields met to discuss the demand by the South Wales miners for the terminating of the existing wage agreement on the ground that half a million colliers are earning less than 50 shillings weekly. The meeting revealed much difference of opinion and the discussion was adjourned until to-day.

The question of high railway rates is considered by both the agricultural and mining industries as having much to do with the present difficulties, and Sir Eric Geddes, speaking in Manchester yesterday stated on behalf of the Federation of British Industries and Traders generally that a request had been made to the railway companies to reduce railway rates to 33 per cent. above the pre-war level. The railway rates now are 75 per cent above pre-war times.

The ship owners' demands for a reduction in wages were discussed by the National Maritime Board, representing both owners and seafarers. The matter has been the subject of negotiations for a long time and yesterday an agreement was reached.

From the middle of April the basic rate for seamen, firemen and other ship workers will be reduced by 20 shillings per month, and in the case of coasting vessels by six shillings, and sixpence weekly. There will also be a revision of wages for navigating and engineer officers.

The question of reduction of wages was discussed by the Railways Central Wages Board, but as there has been no appreciable fall in the cost of living during the month of March, wage rates will probably not be changed.

ONE BRAVE LETTER.

A letter written to the Listowel Banner, and signed "Presbyterian," rakes over the coals some of the members who regularly are late in arriving at a certain named church in the town, says the London Advertiser.

Moreover, the letter-writer lodges the plain charge that these people come in late with only one object in view, that of being observed.

This particular letter-writer not only points out the defect, but writes the cure:

"If the object in coming late is only for the purpose of making a little display and attracting the public notice, would the end not be better accomplished by such people arriving early at church and settling themselves up in some conspicuous place, where all their beauty and ornaments would be seen to better advantage?"

That letter-writer wins the prize for candor and fearlessness. He is not going to allow his kirk to be made a show window for feathers and frills.

Every church has its share of the chronic latecomers, and it might work wonders were the theory well circulated that they follow this plan to attract attention.

A LOSS TO PETERBOROUGH.

The decision of Rev. J A. MacKenzie to accept the call from Chalmers' Presbyterian Church in Guelph, was heard with a great deal of regret, not only by the members of his congregation at Knox Church, but by the people generally, who have recognized in Mr. MacKenzie a most excellent citizen, whose departure is a distinct community loss.

Both in his church work and in his relations with the citizenship of Peterborough generally, Rev. MacKenzie has proven himself a source of strength and inspiration, and his departure will mean a gap in many circles.

He has not hesitated to identify himself with movements that had as their foundation the betterment of Peterborough and has in fact, been a many sided citizen whose kindly courtesy and willingness to assist will be missed.

The regret of his congregation at losing his services will be readily understood by the citizens as a whole, who share in the sense of loss occasioned by his decision to accept the larger field of service he has been offered.

The Examiner congratulates the people of Guelph upon the fact that they have gained a new citizen who will speedily prove his worth.

CANADA'S RESOURCES.

The contention advanced in a recent address by Mr. E. A. Lapierre, M.P. for Nipissing, that Canada is not getting the benefit from the development of her natural resources that she has a right to expect, is unfortunately only too true.

Mr. Lapierre is, of course, well qualified to speak upon such a subject, and his references to the little revenue that this country receives from her mining wealth should afford Canadians food for reflection.

The statement that in spite of the fact that the International Nickle Company paid $15,000,000 in dividends in one year that almost nothing reverted to Canada except the $500,000 revenue annually paid to the Ontario Government, is an indication of the situation generally.

Mr. Lapierre believes that Canada should pay more attention to the question of seeing that all metals mined in the Dominion should be refined to the final stage in this country—in this way ensuring Canada a fair share of her own resources—and he undoubtedly will be corroborated in that belief by the opinion of most Canadians.

There has been laxity on this point too long, and Canada has been a heavy loser as a result.

The member for Nipissing is doing a useful service in bringing the facts to the attention of the people, for they are of great importance.

THE COAL SITUATION.

Colin G. Groff, the Chief Publicity Commissioner of Alberta, has sized up the coal situation in a few words in his declaration that Alberta's coal mines are idle half the year, while Ontario goes short of coal every winter, and that there ought to be some way of remedying such a condition of affairs.

It would seem to be of vital importance to the people of both Provinces that a solution should be found.

On the one hand, we have a Province whose inhabitants have to contend with an inadequate supply of coal coming from another country and with the constant danger of the supply being curtailed or stopped altogether.

On the other hand, is Alberta with 87 per cent. of the Dominion's coal area, with enough coal to last Canada for generations, looking for new markets that will keep the mines in operation.

It is a question of the greatest moment to both Provinces, and no reason is apparent why they should not get together and endeavour to find a method of utilizing Alberta's coal mines to supply Ontario with the fuel she requires.

The freight rates, of course, form one formidable obstacle, but a study of the whole situation might enable a way out of this difficulty to be found.

At least the attempt should be made.

ECONOMIC TRUTHS.

The Living Age reproduces from the Berlin Liberal Daily, a striking chapter of economic truth from a new work on invention by Richard Nikolaus Coudenhove-Kalergi. The book is a glorification of the work of the engineer and inventor, but it glorifies them through their work in increasing production while eliminating drudgery from our regular necessary tasks.

"Socialism mistakes Europe's problem," says the writer, "when it imagines that our fundamental evil is unjust distribution instead of adequate production. The root of Europe's misery is the necessity for compulsory drudgery, not unjust distribution."

Discussing climatic conditions, soil conditions and over population in Europe, the writer continues: "At our stage of historical evolution the inventor is a greater benefactor of humanity than the saint. . . . . Only a few centuries ago a glass window, a mirror, a watch, a piece of soap or sugar, were rare luxuries. The progress of invention has made them common necessities of the masses. In the same way that any man may have a watch and a mirror today, every man a century from now may have his automobile, his country cottage, and his telephone. The welfare of mankind increases in equal ratio with the excess increase of production above the growth of population."

Commenting upon the fact that both communist and capitalist states are labor states; that both are engaged in problems of production, the one ruled by labor leaders, the other by captains of industry, he says:

"No theoretical justification of capitalism is so convincing as the incontestable fact that the condition of American workingmen, many of whom drive to their places of work in their own automobiles, is incomparably better than that of the half starved workers who live under a Communist regime in Russia. For a high standard of living is of more value than equality. It is better for all to be prosperous and a few to be rich, than for all to sink back to a common level of poverty. Only envy and pedantry will question this. Best of all, of course, would be universal wealth. But that is an achievement for the future, not for the present, and only technical progress can bring it about. Political remedies can accomplish nothing.

"If Europe is teachable she will learn from the Russian revolution what methods to avoid. For Russia is a warning example of the quick revenge production takes upon those who defy the laws of its technique. Russia's rulers in their madness fancied that they could redeem their country and the world by ethical ideals and military measures, instead of by labor and invention. Therefore they sacrificed the industry and the technical equipment of their country. While they were grasping for the stars of equality, the solid ground of production slipped under their feet and cast them into the abyss of misery. In order to rescue the people of Russia from this abyss, the Communists have been forced to beg aid from their mortal enemies, the capitalists. Mighty Nature, who once crushed Napoleon's Grand Army, now threatens the same doom to Bolshevism.

"If Europe follows the destructive example of the Russian revolution, she risks sinking back into the primitive barbarism that preceded capitalism, instead of rising higher to a better post-capitalist order. In that case, our continent will eventually be forced again to retrace her steps through the capitalist epoch. Let us hope that we shall be enlightened enough to avoid this tragic fate. Before we address ourselves to an equal division of wealth we must guarantee an adequate production of wealth, for what does equality profit us, if it is an equality of misery? And how does inequality injure us, if no one suffers want?"

WE LIVE ON WHAT WE EARN.

During the recent snow storm, when the Toronto streets were being cleared drivers were to be seen loafing at sixty cents an hour on their vehicles until leisurely shovellers completed their loading task at sixty cents an hour, says the Financial Post. No driver as he smoked thought of assisting a shoveler. In fact, one driver climbed down and as he lighted his pipe, conversed with a shoveler who desisted in his leisurely efforts. Here was labor worth about 30 cents or 40 cents an hour, being loafed away at the rate of $1.20 per hour, while the horses for the time of which the city also paid stood idle.

This incident is here described not as a further argument against municipal wastefulness and inefficiency alone, as indicative of a weakness in the whole industrial fabric. It is not so much a question of high wages—ridiculously high in the case referred to—as the fact that these high wages are not being earned. If the present standard of living is to be maintained—and that is highly desirable—it can only be done on the basis of earnings. This refers to all classes in the community. The farmer has already done much towards taking the loss which a lower cost of living demands. He is working hard and spending carefully. Industrial workers in some lines have taken lower wages, but there is a general tendency on the part of the organized bodies to stand out for both high wages and short hours in spite of a reduction in the living cost. A more healthy situation here must be brought about. It is not so much a question of cutting down wages as it is of getting production at a price—getting a volume of goods at prices which the farmers and others can pay—and thus encouraging normal manufacturing operations and a wide distribution of the products, which mean comfort and enjoyment.

Nor is the problem to be solved by the farmers and the industrial workers alone. It is for all classes of the community. To increase production and maintain wages not only means application and a reasonable work-day, but it means that methods of production be improved, that organization be perfected and the most efficient plant and equipment employed. It means that costs of distribution be reduced all along the line, that salaries of executives and managers be well earned, and that expenditures coming under the general head of "overhead" be closely watched. It means that public business must follow the example of private business in bringing about more careful spending and more efficient administration, in order that taxes may be reduced, rents brought lower and capital generally encouraged; this will encourage those enterprises which will mean the development of our resources and insure plenty of food and manufactured products to go round at prices which the people can afford to pay. It means in brief, hard work, clear thinking and careful living for everybody.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Perhaps the politicians could suggest a way of applying the closure to the winter weather.

It promises to be a game bird that will be found around this Easter, even on a new Spring hat.

Many citizens coal budget will show an overdraft if Spring is not located and shipped up here at once.

The Peterborough Examiner thinks the Ontario Government is spending too much money in printing and circulating reports that are of little value to the public. The report of the hotel investigation is taken as an example, and it is a fact that in this book of 106 pages there is nothing of public interest except the recommendations of the committee, which could have gone on two or three pages.—London Advertiser.

GREAT LAKES SHIPPERS EXPECT HEAVY TRAFFIC

CLEVELAND, O., March 28.—Cleveland vessel men are predicting a big season in Great Lakes freight traffic this year. Business for several seasons has been spotty, but ore, coal and grain operators are regaining confidence as the approach of navigation opens.

Coal for the northwest will be in demand, since the docks in the upper lakes will not have their usual accumulation. Two million tons of coal were on the docks in the northwest when navigation opened last year. Very little, if any, will be left this year. Movement of iron ore predicted for the present season is about 55,000,000 tons, compared with 42,500,000 tons last season. Iron ore is being consumed rather rapidly at the furnaces, and stocks on the docks will be lower than at the opening of navigation last year.

A number of vessels already are loading coal at Lake Erie ports for the northwest, and will depart as soon as the ice goes out.

Grain shipments depend on crop and market conditions. If they hold up to the figures of the last two seasons, the total movement of bulk freight on the Great Lakes for the 1923 season is expected to be more than 100,000,000 tons, compared with 89,454,848 tons in 1922 and 68,033,575 tons in 1921.

The record ore movement was in 1916, when 65,000,000 tons were brought down. The lowest movement in recent years was in 1921, when only 22,000,000 tons were moved.

BUSY SEASON ON LAKES

PORT ARTHUR Ont, March 28. —(Canadian Press)—Local marine men are looking forward to a busy season of navigation. There is considerable grain in store ready to move out, a large quantity of freight to come here from the east.

The fleet on the Great Lakes will be augmented by forty one new vessels, the majority of which are now building for Canadian companies in the Old Country.

A marine man stated yesterday that already work has been commenced on the fitting out of these steamers that have wintered here and within the next ten days or two weeks the majority of the crews will arrive to complete this work.

The opening of navigation is expected some time around the first of May, allowance being made for a longer than usual cold spell.

MR. DEVELL TO MR. ANDERSON

Editor Examiner:

Dear Sir,—There appeared a letter over the signature "W. A. Anderson" in the Examiner dated March 16, 1923.

The same is another shriek as a result of disappointment.

When the Council of the County were in session last January, having business there and taking advantage of having the same "W. A. Anderson" in front of me I asked him publicly his reason for such an exhibition of temper at the Keene nomination using my name the way he is alleged to have done when I was not present.

He started out with the same as he did at Keene namely: "White Clay, Sand and Stones" but he had not gone far when his feelings of disappointment floated on the surface, that is, his fad, the "Block Road Otonabee." The Block Road some years ago was discussed, as to being opened, and it it alleged that every aspirant for municipal honors, at that time who endorsed the idea, was defeated at the polls save one gentleman who I am informed had but four votes to spare. Now here is where his disappointment comes in. The sub-area commission never entertained the assumption of such road, the government refused to approve of the expenditure of thousands of dollars on such road when the Keene and Norwood roads are taking care of 98 per cent of the traffic, both having good gravel bottoms and the same distance to travel to get to the city. In fact the same is a dead issue save under Mr. Anderson's hat.

His outburst of disappointment at me is explained by referring to the following: At the close of 1921 after there had been more gravel put on the highways than there has been since taken from my pit that is worrying him now, and the same is travelled over by him being from the Locks Bridge, East and some distance south on the way to Keene and the same is there for inspection by the travelling public.

Mr. Anderson having travelled over the same road during 1920 and 1921 came to my elbow at the close of 1921 and urged me to let my name go in opposition to Mr. Eason for Reeve for 1922 advancing the same old cry that he wanted Otonabee represented by a Council that would "Legislate for the People". I was alright until that time, but after the nomination, he ascertained that I had refused to swallow all principles of courtesy and self respect to make a drive to get back into public life and he evidently was doing and being disappointed at not having me to point at as a co-excuse in making one of his famous jumps then I became the victim of his wrath at the nomination at Keene at the close of 1922 and in his moment of his evident disappointment he filled the air with "white clay sand and stones" when of course I was not present.

I notice that he attacks the late Mr. Brown the ex-reeve of Asphodel and Ex-Warden of the County or gather compares his receipts for attending to the building of abutments and approaches, to his own handsome receipts, for similar work. I notice he did not further explain, that the late Mr. Brown was not successful in securing a foreman whilst Mr. Anderson admits in his famous letter that he had two men at $3.50 per day each looking after the forms and cement building and another man boss over all when Mr. Brown was not in such favorable position but in order to carry out the work he put on a long legged pair of rubber boots and worked side by side with the men in slush and water drawing $3.00 per day when Mr. Anderson drew at the rate of $5.00 per day and 10 cents per mile and was not necessitated to remove his gloves or ruffle his hair.

I also thought that he was done prodding at me when he came to me at the close of the referred January Session and putting his hand in mine he said "now Erney we will still be good friends.'

I have the most kindly feelings for Mr. Anderson, in fact he has my sympathy. Although he did not get the nomination at the U.F.O. convention and being a full fledged member of the organization up to, and until immediately after such convention, and he knew as much about their platform before, as he did after, save he was not selected as standard bearer. And although he did not succeed in securing any of the subsequent reform conventions, although the late Mr. Brown did his part with that end in view. And although he did not get the appointment of County Road Superintendent even at his offer of $2,000 per year when there were three and one half townships in the system. And although he was not selected by the County Council as Sub-Area Commissioner for the County when his name came before them, I will cheerfully add my name to a "petition" of the East Riding ratepayers praying the Dominion Government to creat an office for him in the capacity of (Fuel Controller), in order that he can pull down the prices of coal, sugar and tea in the East Riding and trust that he will be kept so busy, that he will not have time to worry himself, running fro one mans elbow to another with a tale of woe about the other "fellow."

Respectfully yours,

E. DEVELL.

Funeral of Mrs. A. L. Colville Yesterday — Pictures at St. Andrew's —Personals.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 28. — The funeral of the late Mrs. A. L. Colville, who died at her home on Booth street, last week, was held yesterday afternoon. Rev. Rural Dean Clarke conducted services in Christ church, of which the deceased had been one of the most esteemed and active members ever since her marriage 46 years ago. Her son, Cyril, who is inspector for the Bank of Montreal in the province of Saskatchewan, came all the way from his home in Regina to attend the obsequies, which were held pending his arrival. The hymns chosen were "The Resurrection," and "Forever With the Lord." The remains were laid at rest in the family plot in the church cemetery.

The pallbearers were J. P Archer, I. A. Humphries, A. J. Jenkins, C. H. Harris, F. A. Burgar and T. A. Brown, the latter a former resident of Campbellford and who came from Toronto for the funeral. The people of the town join in mourning the passing of a lady who, during her long life was noted for the aid which she lent to every moral movement in the community.

A Chosen Prince.

The moving picture, "A Chosen Prince," was presented in the school room of St. Andrew's church last night before a large audience, which thoroughly enjoyed the vivid recital of the Bible story of David and Jonathan and the unselfish friendship which united them from the time of their first meeting. The main facts in the sacred story were closely followed by the dramatist, although the events did not in all cases follow the original version, these changes being made on the authority of famous students of Bible history. The costumes of those in the cast were of historic accuracy. In graphic style it was shown how David was chosen for the post of King of Israel even before his victory over Goliath, the choice being made by the prophet Samuel. He reached the throne at last through a maze of intrigue and by a pathway that was strewn with the bodies of his compatriots and those of the enemies of his country.

This is the second of a series of four motion pictures to be given in this church and it is understood that the different societies will unite to purchase the picture machine so that such entertainments will become a regular feature of the work of the congregation.

Mrs. John Storie rendered several piano selections during the evening.

An open social was held on Monday evening by the Baptist Young Peoples' Union in their school room. There was a good attendance and an excellent programme was rendered, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

The meeting was called to order by the president and after two verses of the well known hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," and a short prayer by Rev. Mr. Bennett, the social convenor, Miss Helen Dunn took charge. the lucky handshake was engaged in, Mrs. Bell and Rev. Mr. Bennett being the lucky persons, and each was presented with a prize. A solo, "Listen to My Cry of Woe," was sweetly rendered by Miss Verna Shore. This was followed by a humorous reading, "Watching the Sparking," by Miss Lilian Stephens. Miss Margaret Dickson very sweetly sang "Daffodil Gold," after which Mr. Clifford Carter recited a humorous selection "Willie's Portion." Miss Helen Cairns, with her guitar delighted audneice with her selections. Rev. Mr. Bennett gave a reading which was heartily enjoyed. "The Courting Scene," proved very amusing, Miss Eunice Richardson impersonating a bashful young man and Miss Grace Willoughby the young lady in question. The reading was done behind the screen by Miss Winnie Glenn.

After that part of the programme was concluded partners were found by little wooden men and women. Two contests, "April Fool Statements," ahd a musical contest were much enjoyed, followed by lunch n cafeteria style. A very pleasant evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Epworth League.

A very pleasant and profitable evening was spent by the young people of the League on Monday evening the meeting being in charge of Mrs. C. W. Turner, the fourth vice-president, who has charge of the citizenship department. The programme was rendered by the Tuxis Square boys, the topic being ably by Mr. S. A. Maguire. This was followed by a sing song by the Tuxis Boys from their song sheets. The meeting was closed by the League benediction.

Canadian Girls in Training.

The Canadian Girls in Training of the Methodist Church had a pleasant evening when they entertained their mothers in the board room. Miss Hester Clarke gave a very interesting paper on "The Place of the Young in China." This was followed by another excellent paper on "The Place of Women under Hinduism in India,' by Miss Alice Rutty. Familiar hymns were sung followed by a very dainty lunch provided in abundance over which a pleasant social hour was spent.

Miss Verna Sanders, the president then announced the programme for the next meeting on April 9th when a contest will be given on three well known hymns, "Onward Christian Soldiers," "Just as I am," and "Jesus is tenderly calling for Thee."

WOULD AFFECT CAMPBELLFORD

Campbellford and District Interested in School Bill Now Before Legislature.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 28.—A bill in which the people of Campbellford and district are especially interested, especially those who have children attending the High School here, has been introduced into the Legislature by Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education and has passed its first reading. A printed copy of the bill has been received here. It is the measure to which Mr. Grant referred at the time he met the Campbellford Town Council in conference and which he said would if adopted, have an important bearing on the cost of maintaining High Schools, a percentage of the pupils of which resided outside the municipality.

The bill provides that the council of any county may appoint a committee to be known as the County Consultative High School committee, consisting of the inspector or inspectors, three ratepayers and a representative of the Department of Education, the latter to be appointed by the minister on application of the Council. This committee shall investigate the needs of the county with regard to secondary education and shall make such inquiries and furnish such information as the minister of Education shall direct.

It is apparent that if the Bill in question ever becomes a law the committee appointed by the County Council would really be the deciding power as to whether Campbellford requires a new High School and is in a position to build it. At least such a committee would act as the final arbiter in the not improbable event of a difference of opinion between the Board of Education and the Town Council on this question One purpose of the Bill seems to be to give the rural sections more say with regard to the management and financing of high schools that are located in urban municipalities.

The new Bill provides further that a county council may decide to provide for the education of pupils at the high schools within the county by cooperating with the boards of high schools on the following basis: Fifty per cent of the cost of any resident pupils in any school to be borne by the county and fifty per cent. of such cost by the high school district. The cost of the education of county pupils is to be borne fifty per cent. by the county and fifty per cent by the municipalities in which the parents and guardians of such pupils reside.

Adopting the above measures is optional with county councils. If any council fails to take action then it shall pay to the board of every high school in towns not separated from the county and in villages and townships within the county, for the maintenance of high schools an amount equal to the legislative grant.

At present the basis upon which the cost of maintenance of a high school as between town and county is based on the attendance for the past three years. The new Bill provides that when a school has not been opened for that length of time the attendance shall be computed on the time it has been opened.

In case of a dispute as to the proportion of the cost of maintainence to be borne by the resident and non residents, the matter is to be decided by the county judge, his award to stand for three years or for one year if the school has not been open for the former length of time.

A continuation school shall not be established or maintained in a high school district, unless the continuation and high school inspectors report that such a school is needed, the high school not being accessible to all the children in the village or school section which is part of a high school district.

If an agricultural department is established in connection with a high school the county council as no option but must pay to such school yearly the sum of $500.

If pupils outside the county are admitted to a high school the council of such county must pay eighty per cent. of the cost of education of pupils at such school.

NORMA TALMADGE'S "MANNERS"

(By NORMA TALMADGE)

Women of today seem bent upon realizing the fullest equality with men. They are not only willing but eager to accept the responsibilities that equality imposes. It's in keeping with the tendency of the times that women prefer to pay thei rown way. The mannerly man never insists on paying when a woman indicates by word or gesture that she prefers herself to pay.

Who Pays.

1: A woman meeting a male acquaintance or friends on the street car, ferry or other low-priced public conveyance properly permits him to pay both fares, if he offers.

2: A woman chancing to meet a man in the depot, when she is about to purchase reading matter, candy or some other trifle pays for it herself.

3: A woman meeting a man on the train pays all her own expenses, including tips, except that she may be his guest in the diner for not more than one meal.

Business girls frequently patronize the same restaurant as business men they know; should chance bring them together for lunch, the girls should ask quietly for "separate checks, please."

5: A man pays all expenses when a woman is his guest at the ball game, the races or similar place, including score cards, programs and refreshments.

6: It's bad manners for a man, sitting by chance beside a woman acquaintance on a train or boat, to offer to pay for anything she buys from a vendor.

CENSUS TAKERS MEET VIOLENCE IN INDIA

LONDON, March 28.—The trials and tribulations of a staff of some 2,000,000 census takers to find out there were approximately 319,000,000 people in India in 1921, has been related by J .Marten, census commissioner for India.

The employment of this huge army of enumerators, said Mr. Marten, was necessitated by the fact that, owing to the illiteracy of the population, the employment of his householder as enumerator of this household was impossible. He told of instances of enumerators being stabbed by suspicious Hindoos, who considered the census takers too inquisitive. Some of the natives, on the other hand, resorted to violence when bribery failed to induce the census takers to make false entries showing that the natives enjoyed higher stations in the social scale than was really the case.

The census, Mr. Marten said, showed a gain of 1.2 per cent over the population of 1911. The average density of population over the whole of India was 177 to the square mile. The maximum density of any province was in Bengal, where there were found to be 608 to the square mile.

QUIZ CORNER

THE CARIBOO GOLD RUSH.

Q—When and where was the Cariboo Gold Rush?

A—On March 15, 1837 gold was discovered in Cariboo, British Columbia. "Into the waters and bays and wide rivers, ruffled only by the swiftly-gliding canoes of Indians, came slow-paced sailing ships and spluttering steamers"; all laden with men mad for gold. The Hudson's Bay forts grew suddenly into towns, and Factor James Douglas showed himself to be so strong a man in keeping tolerable order among 15,000 whites (practically all of them men and "many of them ruffians"), 2,000 Chinese, and 15,000 Indians, that, when the Pacific Colonies became the province of British Columbia, he was made Sir James Douglas, the first governor.

THE "WILDERNESS" MISSION TRAGEDY.

Q—What was the "Wilderness Mission tragedy?

A—On March 16, 1649 the tragedy of the Wilderness Mission in the Huron country, (between Lake Huron and Lake Simcoe) took place. The invading Iroquis captured the Jesuit missionaries, Jean Brebeuf and Gabriel Lalemant, and tortured them terribly to death. Brebeuf was of strong Norman stock, kin to the English Earls of Arundel; for fifteen years he had worked among the Hurons, winning many from their sins of "ferocity and intractible indolence." A man of great gentleness and industry, he died dauntless and defiant to the last, a hero of early Canada.

SHIPPING RATES ARE FIXED IN NEW YORK

OTTAWA, March 27.—(Canadian Press.)—The greatest curse of transportation is simply this, shipping rates are made in New York on the first Thursday in every month behind closed doors." This testimony was given by W. H. Chase, of the Nova Scotia Apple Shippers Association before a special House of Commons committee on agriculture this morning. "Do Canadian lines belong to this conference", asked Chairman McMaster. "All" was the reply, "not excepting the Canadian Government mercantile marine

For Indigestion

Sour, Acid, Gassy Stomach, Bloating, Flatulence, Try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

After eating or at any time chew one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They relieve the gassy, sour risings, flatulence, belching, bloating, heartburn, pressure and such troubles due to indigestion because they give the stomach the alkaline effect the same as when the stomach is working normally. Carry them loose in your pocket. Just chew them. Get a 60 cent box to-day, any druggist. They sure do the work. You know from experience that if the stomach works without gassiness, sour risings, belching and so on, you generally feel fine, no headache, no constipation, none of that dead, tired feeling. Be sure to get a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets known to wise people all over the U. S. and Canada as the one reliable relief for indigestion.

GRANTED NEW TRIAL.

KINGSTON, Ont., March 28.—(Canadian Press.)— Dr. H. E. Service, convicted of bigamy in the county of Oxford, has been granted a new trial by the Appellate division. He was yesterday released from Portsmouth penitentiary on bail to await his trial and was taken to Woodstock. He has served about seven months of a sentence of five years.

RICH PHOSPHATE BEDS DISCOVERED IN MOROCCO

CASABLANCA, Morocco March 28.—Rich and vast phosphate beds recently discovered in Morocco make that country a potential factor of economic importance, says C. E. Heathcote-Smith, British Consul, in a report to the Foreign Office. Morocco is credited with the possession of deposits of phosphate rivalling in extent those of Florida, and in content those of any other country in the Eastern Hemisphere.

The Oued Zem-El Bouroudj beds, 100 miles south of Casablanca, cover a district of some 60 miles in length and from 3 to 30 miles in breadth. They consist of horizontal layers several metres deep, lying practically on the surface, and of so high a percentage that Florida alone can show similarly rich deposits.

The beds other than at El Bouroudj also contain a high percentage of phosphates, varying from 68 to 72 per cent. It has been calculated that even if the beds were exploited at the rate of several millions of tons annually, centuries will elapse before their exhaustion.

CECIL COMING TO AMERICA TO TALK OF WORLD PEACE.

Visit Is Not Crusade to Shove League of Nations Down American Throat.

By MILTON BRONNER.

LONDON, March 28.—Lord Robert Cecil, virtual author of the League of Nations convenant, says his forthcoming visit to the United States isn't a crusade to shove the League of Nations down the American throat. But he's going to talk about it considerably.

"I'm not going to give Americans advice," he said, in an interview on the eve of his departure for New York. "But I will discuss the league and its accomplishments. Also the world court. And if Americans ask me what America ought to do I shall honestly tell them that it is for Americans themselves to determine."

Lord Robert expects to see President Harding and Former President Wilson. He will be the guest of friends who have urged him to visit the United States; he has never been there, though he has visited Canada.

Speeches on his list include New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and Cincinnati. Other cities may be added.

The latest Cecil project, which will be discussed by the League of Nations assembly next June, will be fully explained in his American speeches.

"Under the league covenant," he said, "nations ought to prepare plans for a reduction of armaments. But the trouble is to find a plan taking into account all the present European circumstances.

"My plan's essential priciple is that you can't ask a state to reduce armaments without likewise furnishing a guaranty against aggression. The covenant promises this, but my plan makes it more definite.

"Any state wishing to reduce armaments and fearing possible attack, would lay the matter before the league, explain the condition in which it finds itself, and explain the military or naval or aerial aid it deemed necessary if it disarmed partially. The league would then negotiate with member nations concerning the specific treaty guaranteeing such military, naval or aerial aid.

"The obligation to reduce armaments could not be invoked against a state until such a guaranty pact was concluded. In brief: No guarantees without promise of armament reduction, and no armament reduction without guaranty against all aggression.

"I shall also explain the plan discussed on the continent to prevent trouble where two neighbour states become nervous about each other's intentions. The plan provides that a strip along both sides of the frontier be neutralized to the extent that railways would be built merely for commercial and not strategic purposes, and no soldiers, forts, or military preparations of either state be allowed within that strip. A zone perhaps 20 miles broad would be sufficient to prevent any sudden incursion by one country into the other's territory."

WANT DAYLIGHT SAVING.

MONTREAL, March 28.—(Canadian Press.)— Petitions signed by about 20,000 employes in Montreal were received by the Montreal Daylight Saving Association yesterday to be forwarded to the City Council, praying that body to pass the necessary legislation for the adoption of advanced time here during the summer months. These included 6,000 signatures from the staff and employes of the Canadian Pacific Railway Angus shops.

SWEDEN CONSIDERS BILL GIVING WOMEN JOBS

STOCKHOLM, March 28.—The latest step in the achievement of political equality between women and men in Sweden is the renewed submission of a bill to the Riksdag providing that women shall be admitted on an equal footing with men to all governmental posts, including the consular and diplomatic service, but excluding the army and navy, and certain other positions, such as those of officials in prisons or in asylums for inebriates. It also provides that women may be ordained ministers of the church and may be installed as such in any congregation where there is at least one man serving as pastor. One member of the committee which drafted the bill held that only unmarried women should be allowed to preach but no such provision was adopted.

When this bill was submitted to last years' Ridsdag it was passed in principle by the Second Chamber and was lost in the First Chamber by being only three votes short of the necessary majority. It is considered likely that it will pass at this session.

Sweden was one of the first nations in the world to allow women in its national law-making body, and her feminists can now boast of four women in the Second Chamber and one woman in the First Chamber of the Riksdag.

The Summer Clothes

(By HEDDA HOYT)

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 28 (United Press).—

Mary looks so very cute
When shopping in a jacquette suit
And when she walks along the beach
In skirt and sweater she's a peach.
And when she walks along the beach

You'll find her on the ball room floor
In organdy that you'll adore.
Some days demure and some days vampish
Her style is not the least bit crampish.

She has a Tutankhamen frock
That gives my system quite a shock
And when she takes her morning dip
I doubt if she'd pass censorship.

The fact that she has many beaux
Is due entirely to her clothes
Cigars are often judged by wrappers
And so are little summer flappers.

* * *

Clothes do not always make the girl, but summer clothes go a long ways toward making them. Planning the summer wardrobe is a task which faces every woman at this time of the year. One sees so many pretty new things in the stores that one's mind is often left in a quandry.

The first question to decide before planning the summer outfit is whether one's summer is to be spent in the city or at the resorts. City life calls for entirely different clothing than resort life, and a smart seaside resort demands smarter clothes than a mountain resort.

The City Girl's Clothes

The city girl does not go in for sports clothes very strongly nor does she need fluffy summery frocks. Her first need is the jacquette suit or the long coat to be worn over taffeta or crepe street frocks. Either of these will carry her through the first spring months and will come in handy on cool summer evenings.

Many women prefer the long coat with separate dresses to the jacquette suit, as summer usually comes in with a bounce and the suit becomes too warm, whereas the silk dress is most appropriate for city wear during the summer months. The city girl will need one or two sport frocks for outings at nearby resorts. These need not be expensive, however.

Nothing could be prettier than the white pleated flannel skirt worn with colored flannel jackets which tie with a sash bow at the sides. For evening wear a frock of crisp organdy with slender bodice and full, flaring skirt, trimmed in bands of velvet ribbon, is girlish and pretty, or a frock which uses two shades of organdy placed one over the other. An evening cape of heavy gray silk crepe with collar of squirrel or neckpiece of ptatinum fox is one that could do duty on afternoon occasions also.

The Resort Girl

The resort girl needs primarily sports clothes. If she chooses a spring suit of worsted or camel's hair cut on sports lines, she can wear this jacket with white skirts later on. Many of the best dressed women at Palm Beach this season prefer mannish sport jackets to those of high colors. Slip-on sweaters and tuxedos are still smart for resort wear. Jacquettes of figured cretonne, colored velveteen and flannel offer a diversity of sports effects to be worn with the pleated flannel skirts of white or gray.

For morning wear frocks of gingham, printed Indian linen and figured cretonne are in good taste and are quite inexpensive. The typical afternoon gowns for resort wear are those of pleated cotton or silk crepe with pocket monograms.

Long white or gray cloth capes are almost indispensable to the woman who spends her summer at resorts. There are always chilly evenings at Mountain and sea resorts, when a wrap becomes a necessity. The sports type of girl may prefer one of plaid material or tan camel's hair. Usually if the material is heavy enough these wraps are unlined, but, if lined, colorful effects are preferred.

Life to a summer girl without a bathing suit, parasol of cretonne and cretonne bathing cap would be meaningless. Bathing suits of the one-piece variety are not being used at Palm Beach to any great extent this year. Printed materials made into little dress effects are more popular. Where black is used for the bathing suit it is livened up with color.

BULGARIA WOULD KEEP ALTAR OF ROSES PURE

SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 28.—The adulteration of attar of roses, one of Bulgaria's most interesting and profitable industries, has developed to the point where the government has found it necessary to intervene.

Essence of geraniums has been used in the debasing of this perfume, and so skillfully that it has been dificult to prove the presence of the cheaper and more common extract. The result has been very detrimental to trade in genuine attar of roses. It has not only weakened confidence in the purity of the true product, but has had a disastrous effect on prices.

The government has introduced in Parliament a bill appropriating 1,000,000 leaves to be offered in prizes to scientists who discover a process for the certain detection of the presence of adulterants in Bulgarian attar of roses.

Combat that film on teeth

Watch the new beauty come

Go ask for this free test.

The results will delight you. They will show you a way which millions have found to whiter, cleaner, safer teeth.

All in your home should know it. Show them at once what it does.

Why teeth grow dingy

You feel on your teeth a viscous film. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it.

That film is the teeth's great enemy. It absorbs stains, then forms a dingy coat. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That's why 49 in 50 suffer from tooth troubles. Germs breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea, now so alarmingly common.

Now you can combat it

Dental science has in late years found two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. These two film combatants were embodied in it for daily application. That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Careful people the world over now use it, largely by dental advice.

A new dental era

Pepsodent also multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is ,there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Thus it gives manifold power to these great natural tooth-protecting agents. These combined results mean a new dental era.

You will be amazed

This test of Pepsodent brings a new conception of what clean teeth mean. Present the coupon for it. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

In a week you will know what is best for you and yours—the old ways or the new. That decision is important. Cut out the coupon now.

Prettier teeth seen everywhere

You see prettier teeth now wherever you look, for millions are fighting film. So it is the world over. Careful people of some 50 nations now use Pepsodent every day. This test will show you why. No one can see the Pepsodent results without wanting them continued.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

The PRIDE of PALOMAR

By Peter B. Kyne

"Am I to continue operations?" he demanded "I have a cost-plus-fifteen-per-cent. contract with you, Mr. Parker, and if you are not going to be in position to go through with it, I want to know it now."

"In the absence of Mr. Farrel's permission, I have no alternative save to ask you to suspend operations, Mr. Conway," Parker answered bitterly. "I expect, of course, to settle with you for the abrupt cancellation of the contract, but I believe we are both reasonable men and that no difficulty will arise in that direction."

"I'm naturally disappointed, Mr. Parker. I have a good crew and I like to keep the men busy—particularly when good men are as hard to procure as they are nowadays. However, I realize your predicament, and I never was a great hand to hit a man when he was down."

"Thank you, Mr. Conway. If you will drop in at the ranch-house tomorrow for dinner, we can put you up for the night, I dare say." He glanced at Farrel, who nodded. "We can then take up the matter of compensation for the cancelled contract."

"In the meantime, then, I might as well call the job off and stop the expense," Conway suggested. "We'll load up the equipment and pull out in the morning."

"Why be so precipitate, Mr. Conway?" Don Mike objected, almost fiercely. "You always were the most easy-going, tender-hearted old scout imaginable, and that's why you've never been able to afford a new automobile. Now, I have a proposition to submit to you, Mr. Conway, and inasmuch as it conflicts radically with Mr. Parker's interests, I feel that common courtesy to him indicates that I should voice that proposition in his presence. With the greatest good will in life toward each other nevertheless we are implacable opponents. Mr. Parker has graciously spread, face up on the table for my inspection, an extremely hard hand to beat; so now it's quite in order for me to spring my little joker and try to take the odd trick. Mr. Conway, I want you to do something for me. Not for my sake or the the sake of my dead father, who was a good friend of yours, but for the sake of this state where we were both born and which we love because it is symbolical of the United States. I want you to stand pat and refuse to cancel this contract. Insist on going through with it and make Mr. Parker pay for it. He can afford it, and he is good for it. He will not repudiate a promise to pay while he has money in bank or securities to hypothecate. He is absolutely responsible financially. He owns a controlling interest in the First National Bank of El Toro, and he has a three-hundred-thousand-dollar equity in this ranch in the shape of a first mortgage ripe for foreclosure—you can levy on those assets if he declines to go through with the contract. Force him to go through; force him, old friend of my father and mine and enemy of all Japanese! For God's sake, stand by me! I'm desperate, Mr. Conway——"

"Call me 'Bill,' son," Conway interrupted gently.

"You know what the Farrels have been up against always, Bill," Don Mike pleaded. "That easy-going Spanish blood! But, Bill, I'm a throw-back. By God, I am! Give me this chance—this God-given chance—and the fifty-per-cent. Celtic strain in me and the twenty-five-per-cent. Gaelic that came with my Galvez blood will save the San Gregorio to white men! Give me the water, Bill; give me the water that will make my valley bloom in the August heat, and then, with the tremendous increase in the value of the land, I'll find somebody, some place, who will trust me for three hundred thousand paltry dollars to give this man and save my ranch. This is a white-man's country, and John Parker is striving for a handful of silver, to betray us and make it a yellow paradise."

His voice broke under the stress of his emotion; he gulped and the tears welled to his eyes.

"Oh, Bill, for God's sake don't fail me!" he begged. "You're a Californian! You've seen the first Japs come! Only fifteen years ago, they were such a rare sight the little boys used to chase them and throw rocks at them just to see them run in terror. But the little boys do not throw rocks at them now and they no longer run. They have the courage of numbers and the prompt and forceful backing of a powerful fraternity across the Pacific. You've seen them spread gradually over the land—why, Bill, just think of the San Gregorio five years hence—the San Gregorio where you and I have hunted quail since I was ten years old. You gave me my first shot-gun——"

"Sonny," said old Bill Conway gently, passing his arm across Farrel's shoulders, "I wish to goodness you'd shut up! I haven't got three hundred thousand dollars, nor a tenth of it. If I had it I'd give it to you now and save argument. But I'll tell you what I have got, son, and that's a sense of humor. It's kept me poor all my life, but if you think it will make you rich you're welcome to it." He looked up, and his glance met Kay's. "This chap's a limited edition," he informed her gravely. "After the —Md pinted one volume, he destroyed the plates. Mr. Parker, sir—" He stepped up to John Parker and smote the latter lightly on the breast—"Tag: you're it!" he announced pleasantly. "I'll cancel this contract when you hand me a certified check for twenty-four billion, nine-hundred and eighty-two million, four hundred and seventeen thousand, six hundred and one dollars, nine cents, and two mills."

There are so many ways to serve Kellogg's Bran—the one great aid to humanity!

You will enjoy eating Kellogg's Bran because its nut-like flavor appeals to the taste. And, think what each mouthful is doing to drive constipation out of your system and to re-establish health! That's because it is ALL BRAN. Kellogg's Bran is scientifically made to relieve suffering humanity—IT WILL DO THAT AS NO OTHER FOOD CAN!

Physicians recommend the regular use of Kellogg's Bran for mild or chronic cases and as a preventive. Bran, eaten each day and in proper quantity, sweeps, cleanses and purifies the alimentary tract.

Get away from pills and cathartics—Kellogg's Bran will give you permanent relief from constipation.

Do not confuse Kellogg's Bran with common bran. Kellogg's is cooked, crumbled and ready to serve. It can be used in the most delightful baking products without in any way reducing its regulatory value. Try raisin bread or muffins or griddle-cakes made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each package.

Kellogg's Bran is nationally eaten for health's sake as a cereal—in winter time with hot milk. Others prefer it sprinkled over hot or cold cereals. Another way is to mix it with hot cereals just before serving. It can also be cooked with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's Bran for each person; in chronic cases as much with each meal.

Kellogg's Bran is sold by all grocers and is supplied in individual packages at first-class hotels and clubs. Ask for it at your restaurant!

Severe Kidney Trouble

Mrs. F. Rinehart, Campbellville, Ont., writes:
"I had trouble with my kidneys and very frequent urination. This was followed by pains which at times were very severe. The doctor said I had inflammation of the bladder and that an operation might be necessary. To this I refused, and began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. From the first few doses I felt the benefit. The pains left, urination was corrected, and I have had no recurrence of these ailments."

TYPHOID SPREADING IN COCHRANE.

NORTH BAY, Ont., March 28. — (Canadian Press.) — Four hundred and fourteen individuals, representing one-eighth of the total population of the town of Cochrane, are in the grip of the epidemic of typhoid fever which is rapidly reaching its crisis ,according to a message which was received by George W. The epidemic, which has been raging with increasing fury for the past two weeks, is expected to assemble more victims within the next four days when will then have passed its height. So far only three deaths have occurred and nurses arriving daily on the scene of the epidemic, are coping satisfactorily with the situation. Dr. W. E George, District Health Officer, and Miss M. Three buildings have been commandeered for accommodation of the patients and according to latest advices from Cochane, the situation is being handled as satisfactorily as possible, in view of the stricken state of many of the leading townsfolk.

Twenty-five new cases of typhoid have been reported by Dr. Fraser, of Cochrane up until six o'clock last night In an interview with the press over the long distance phone, Magistrate Tucker of Cochrane stated that the situation was the most serious in the town's history and the need of doctors and nurses was growing momentarily.

AGED VETERAN DIES.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 28. — (Canadan Press.) — Thomas S. Jones, 58, a veteran of the Riel rebellion, a witness of the famous rebel leader's execution and a member of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police for 11 years, died here yesterday. Mr. Jones was a member of the police squad that guarded Riel after his capture. It was he who took Riel his meals and grew to know and like the halfbreed insurgent. On the morning of November 6, 1885, Mr. Jones was detailed to the firing squad that was to shoot Riel, but the duty was distasteful and he paid another constable $10 to take his place.

PARIS, March 28. — (Canadian Press)—According to information reaching Paris, Allies and Turks are still far apart on many points connected with a peace settlement, and it is expected resumption of the Near Eastern Conference will depend upon the nature of the reply sent by the Angora government when it receives the Allies' answer, soon to be despatched, to Turkish counter proposals.

All The Family Had Bad Colds

"Did you ever notice that if one of the family contracts a cold it generally runs to all the other members?"

Many people when they contract a cold do not pay any attention to it, thinking perhaps it will pass away of itself in a day or two. This is a great mistake for before they know it, it has become settled on the lungs.

and see how quickly your cold will disappear.

Mrs. A. Coghlan, Magnolia, Alta., writes:—"Last Winter we all had bad colds in our family, and I didn't know what to do. Some friends told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I went and got a couple of bottles and in a short while our colds were all gone. Now we always keep a bottle on hand in case one of us might catch a cold."

"Dr. Wood's is 35c and 60c a bottle; put up only by T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS PLEAD FOR FAMOUS SHIP

PHIALDELPHIA, Pa., March 28.—A petition is being prepared by the Association of Spanish War Veterans to be forwarded to Washington in an effort to have the name of the Olympia, flagship of the American fleet at the battle of Manila Bay, removed from the list of vessels to be scrapped.

If the gallant ship can be preserved, the Spanish War Veterans plan to refit it as a memorial to shelter the trophies awarded to Admiral Dewey, the ship, and the members of the crew after the Spanish flotilla was defeated.

The Olympia is fast rotting and rusting away in the lagoon at the Philadelphia navy yard. So antiquated now is the famous battle cruiser that one shot from a modern dreadnought would send her to the bottom.

MARY PICKFORD FINDS THAT ART INTERFETES WITH THE BOX OFFICE

(By ROBERT A. DONALDSON)

LOS ANGELES, March 23. (United Press).—Mary Pickford is going back to curls and "being gushed over by fat women."

Some weeks ago Mary announced that she had sidetracked her plans to star in "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," and would hereafter go in for "better things," and demonstrate to the world the real dramatic ability which her friends know she possesses.

She announced that her next picture would be "Faust," in which she would play the part of Marguerite. Arrangements were made with Famous Players Lasky to loan her Ernest Lubitch, noted German producer, to direct the picture. Her version was to follow older Faust legends, based partly on Christopher Marlowe's version, and folk lore accounts rather than the Goethe tale, or the opera.

Mary declared that she had been wanting to do bigger things, but that "the public simply wouldn't let her," because of its taste for "sugar."

But Mary has now sidetracked "Faust." The box-office has spoken, and Mary is going back to "Polyanna stuff."

She will go forward with the fliming of "Dorothy Vernon," as originally planned, and will postpone "Faust" until much later, she has announced. She will also begin work on "Rosita," an original story.

Follow the Box Office

"As a matter of fact," said Mary, "I have merely decided to postpone 'Faust.' Each star, you see, has her own especial following, and it seems best after careful analysis, based on correspondence with those who are interested in my plays, as well as on a survey made through our various exchange offices, not to step suddenly out of the type of story the public has been associating me with into anything quite so dramatic as 'Faust.'"

The "Faust" scenario was all prepared by Edward Knoblock, noted dramatist, in collaboration with Lubitch, when the men who keep their ear to the box office reported that Mary would make a great deal less money out of it than she would out of an old-style "sugar" picture.

Mary hopes to make a step toward the transition in "Rosita," which will have settings rivalling those of Douglas Fairbanks' "Robin Hood," it is said. The story will be built against the historical background of the Fifteenth century in Spain, and Mary will play the part of the sweet little dancing girl. Lubitch will direct the picture.

New Leading Man

Maurice Chevalier, at present the musical com dy rage of Paris, may be brought to Hollywood to take the part of the leading man in "Rosita," it is said.

Mary plans to "shoot" all the scenes of "Rosita" in which she appears with as much speed as possible, and then leave the rest to Lubitch to finish. She will then start on "Dorothy Vernon" under another director.

In "Dorothy Vernon" Mary will wear curls, and the box office hopes to have the usual continuous throng of "fat ladies" stuff themselves into seats and sigh and use their handkerchiefs.

Mary was one of the "big seven" movie stars who recently signed the "movie declaration of independence" for better and more artistic films.

HAND-BOOKING BILL HAS SECOND READING

TORONTO, March 28. — (Canadian Press).—Following a three-hour debate, marked alternately with humor, ill-temper and a few personalities, Attorney-General Raney's bill directed at the business of hand-book making in the Province of Ontario received a second reading in the Legislature last night.

Opposition was offered by J. A. Currie, Conservative, South-East Toronto, who accused Mr. Raney of secluding a clause to give a monopoly on hand-booking to "his friend." Abe Orpen, and by J. A. Penard, Liberal, Ottawa East.

HOPE GERMANY YIELD BY MAY

Premier Poincare Appeared Before the Chamber of Deputies Yesterday.

PARIS, March 28. — (Canadian Press).—Premier Poincare, appearing before the Finance Committee of the Chamber of Deputies yesterday to give an account of the situation in the Ruhr, said he had great hope that Germany would yield "by the end of May."

The Premier had with him figures giving the amount of coal and coke shipped from the occupied districts but demanded from the Deputies a formal engagement not to divulge such figures as he would announce. The Socialist Deputy, Berthon, whom Poincare recently termed "an abominable scoundrel," during a heated debate in the Chamber, refused to pledge himself to secrecy, so the Premier withheld the figures.

An official account of the Premier's appearance before the Finance Committee says that M. Poincare did not conceal that to date the economic results from the viewpoint of realization of guarantees had been of slight importance; only prolonged and stable occupation would permit, owing to the ill-will of the German Government, realization of the programme for the operation of the occupied districts so as to regulate the problem of reparations.

M. Poincare, according to this account, said that the German manufacturers who were the soul of German resistance, had tried on several occasions to open direct conversations with the French Government, but the latter would only listen to official propositions from the German Government itself. He added that the French and Belgian Governments were fully agreed upon retaining guarantees until their credit was fully paid and that evacuation would be proportional to payment. The abandonment of Essen, for example, could be considered only when the entire settlement of reparations had been effected.

The Premier indicated that the railroads in French hands constituted the best of guarantees. He could not reply to a question as to whether the expenses of the Ruhr occupation would be included in the cost of the armies of occupation, as negotiations were proceeding with regard to that between the Allies.

M. Poincare eventually handed his confidential documents to the reporter for the bill on Ruhr expenses for his examination, but not for reproduction in his report.

ANXIOUS TO SEE CANADIAN TRAIN.

French People Interested in Products From 'Wilds' of Canada.

MONTREAL, March 28.—(Canadian Press).—Every city, town and hamlet of France is eager to learn what the people of the "wilds" of Canada produce for sale, and the forthcoming tour of the Canadian exhibition train is awaited with avid interest, L. Pratt, European representative of one of the largest British Columbia fish packers, declared on his arrival here from Paris.

"I recall," said Mr. Pratt, "the words of the French Premier when he introduced the bill providing the four million franc grant for the train before the Chamber of Deputies: 'It is for Canada! We must do this.'

"Nor was this sentiment confined to the Prime Minister alone; scores of deputies whom I met all expressed the same enthusiasm on the subject of the Canadian train, and all of them were particularly active in their electoral divisions advertising its schedule. One of them in discussing with me remarked: 'We are doing everything in our power to advertise Canada throughout France.' From the news reports which I saw from time to time in the French newspapers, their voluntary campaign is having a wonderful effect in rousing public interest.

"There is every indication in this interest that Canadian exhibitors should succeed in creating a real demand for their goods. There are already many Canadian lines which have won high favor with the French buying public, and the increasing of their number should not be a difficult matter.

LOOKS FOR A NEW ELECTION

Might Take Place At Any Moment in Great Britain.

CALGARY, Alta., March 28. — (Canadian Press).—A change in the government of Great Britain is imminent, in fact it might take place at any moment by reverting to the Liberal party, not as it stood at the downfall of Lloyd George, but a united Liberal party with Lloyd George probably at its head, in the opinion of Rev. J. Evans, who returned Monday from London, Liverpool and other cities of Great Britain where he has been getting first-hand information on the situation from personal observation and enquiry. Rev. Mr. Evans' prime motive in the trip was to secure the services of David Lloyd George for the six-day circuit of the Dominion Chatauqua this summer, as Rev. Mr. Evans is manager of the circuit.

In an interview with the chief secretary of Lloyd George, Sir John Davies, Rev. Mr. Evans was assured that Lloyd George intends making a tour of Canada as soon as possible in an effort to create a closer feeling of relationship among the members of the British Commonwealth and that when he did come he would do so under the auspices of the Dominion Chautauqua, but at the present time the political situation was in such a critical stage that the former Premier felt that his greatest duty laid in remaining in England for the next few months.

JUNKERS CRY FOR NEW WAR

Von Hindenburg Tells the Germans to Fight Until Last Blade is Shattered.

By CARL D. GROAT.
(Copyright, 1923.)

BERLIN, March 28. — (United Press.)—Pan-Germans and Junkers, always warlike, are again at work preaching an anti-French war.

The Ruhr invasion furnishes them the theme they needed to inflame a populace really war-tired. So now one hears up and down the land the cry of the swivel-chair patriot and the loud-mouthed vaporings of the swollen junker landlord, preaching revenge. Socialists are trying hard to down this blurb.

General Von Hindenburg, often accused of lending himself either wittingly or unwittingly, to the machinations of the "beer keg patriots," is helping preach the new war. He talks of fighting "until the last flag is shredded; the last blades shattered ,rather than to live in shame."

Forget Horrors of Last War.

He is backed by men, who, like himself, has forgotten the horrors of 1914 and the fateful outcome for the "Vaterland." For instance, Major Gaza engaged in a pro-war propaganda campaign by one of the "fatherlandish" organizations, emits the following:

"Rather sacrifice another million of our best youths; rather lay more blooming districts in ashes and ruins than to settle the Ruhr conflict through negotiations."

And, joining in this new hymn of hate comes the pan-German Reichstag deputy, Hergt—he who coined the scornful phrase that the Americans wouldn't come, since they couldn't fly or swim, and delivers himself of what the Germans term "beer-keg" widrom thus:

"We are for humanity, but the measure is running over. We cannot speak further of reconciliation; now is the time to loose the 'furor teutonicus.'"

Occupation Fanned War Flame.

These jingoes do not represent the German nation as a whole, though there can be no mistaking that the Ruhr occupation has fanned the war spirit vastly. And, there can be no mistaking that ,if Germany once gets a new toehold, she will try to smite France The Ruhr occupation swept away pacifism in Germany. This year's "Nie wieder Krieg" demonstration proved the new spirit. A few hundred attended this never-again-war meeting, held indoors, compared to demonstrations in other years since the war wherein the Lustgarten was jammed to overflowing by an attendance of several hundred thousands.

The Socialists are educating the masses not to "fall for" the vaporings of the professional war-makers. And they have been active in pointing out past links between the Reichswehr and the so-called forbidden "self-defence" organizations. It has been rather clearly established that certain army officers—the army is conservative or monarchistic for the most part still— were helping drill these "self-defenders."

Enough War in the Ruhr.

"Down in the Ruhr they don't talk war. They are "carrying the hod." They know what "war" is, even though it consists only of passive resistance. And the workers there are saying constantly the government mustn't pass any opportunities to negotiate, though they add it mustn't be a "peace at any price." The populace bubbles over now and then and it can come to bloody scenes. But the masses there say real war would be a misfortune without comparison in the world's history.

The stay-at-homes, like the Prussian junkers, though, still think that war is "glorious" business, and if they had their way—which the saner elements are guarding against — there would be a war, guerilla or otherwise, in short order.

Defence Minister Gessler says only the "Verrueckten"—the mad—are preaching war now.

A GLASS OF SALTS CLEARS PIMPLY SKIN

Says Indigestion Results From An Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as food left in the open-air, says a noted authority. He aso tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch up gas; we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids, and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink it while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to help neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys, and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used for many stomach disorders with excellent results.

Day by Day — by Jack Lait

MATRIMONY has been compared to every sporting game extant. It has been called a lottery because of the 35 to 1 odds against it, with always the chance of a double zero; it has been rhetorically referred to as a poker game because of the hazard in the draw; pugilism, wrestling, football, roller-pin archery, bowling, tiddledywinks, battledore and shuttlecock, put and take, horseshoes—all the indoor pastimes with the element of luck and conflict involved have been metaphorically employed as typifying marriage.

But they all miss the point. Matrimony is not a jerky, sporadic gamble; it is the long, hard grind, with only an occasional brush or sprint. And in that, perhaps, it qualifies to be illustrated by no contest as aptly as the six-day bicycle race, stretched to its highest co-efficient.

It isn't the little petty jealousies that destroy the texture of the domestic establishment. Not the clashes of temperament classified at large as "incompatibility," or too much mother-in-law, or the husband preoccupied with business, or the wife frivolous or growing sloppy, or quarrels over that depressing bugbear money, or liquor or infidelity or just natural meanness.

It's the enduring continuance, the lack of gamble rather than the thrill of it, the day-by-day future looming ahead of the day-by-day life.

"Till death do us part" is a long, long time. It ceases when we cease. It's "from now on."

Some are iconoclastic enough to bolt, but most of us accept the sentence as for the rest of our natural lives. Divorce gets a lot of propaganda and publicity, but it really measures up as a very minor statistic against the giant figures of marriages that go on—and on and on. Only a few lifers ever escape. And when ones does, it is a front-page story—and maybe that's why a divorce usually gets much more discussion than a wedding.

Let this not be taken to mean that matrimony is a "sentence" and that it is unpleasant and irksome. Marriage is the grandest institution that ever came from the inspired brains of the holy prophets. But, like all things worth while, it has its penalties and its hardships.

It takes a lot of fibre to be a good wife or husband. It takes a lot of giving and gives a lot of taking. Anyone who thinks he or she can go into double harness and live or think or hope or dream like a single trotter is a welcher and a chump.

"Happy" marriages are not those between angels on earth who blend into the proverbial "one" and thereafter are as a drop of water combined of the rushing together of two drops. It isn't and it cannot be—not even for an hour.

But when two sane, sensible, decent, honest folk choose one another—with a fair foresight into the beauties, the responsibilities, the possibilities, the impossibilities, the frailties, the blessings, the perils, the duties, the beauties, the trials and the thrills of matrimony—the future can be solved; the future can be conquered.

But there must be no daggers up the sleeve, no fingers crossed at the altar with unspoken reservations and determinations for the future, no simple-minded intentions to set up an isolated situation different from the rest and upsetting the chemical and physical principles which millions of marriages have proven to be essential and elemental. Just as nature abhors a vacuum, it has a set hostility against unequal marriages. The compensation must be fifty-fifty.

Differing in social status and many other things, a husband and wife may still give and take in equal portions if each stands by the sporting pledge to contribute what each has to contribute. A king may love a peasant girl for her beauty and her angelic temperament and her wholesome companionship, and in taking of those he may be fully repaid for giving to her his rank, his superior attainments, his wealth and his power. Giving is valued by what it is to the receiver thereof; not all people want in the same proportions or the same gifts. But when a man and woman choose one another out of the whole world and say, "This shall be my mate unto death—this and none other," each should have weighed what the other would desire as well as what each desires himself or herself.

Under such ideal conditions, matrimony still runs in time into the long, straight pull. The hike starts with the nimble feet of youth and in time drags with the weary bones of old age. Perhaps little ones have joined here and there, slowed up the march, made weight to carry—precious weight, but still weight, to be carried until the little ones grow, and, on their strong young limbs outstrip their parents and charge on ahead, sometimes forgetting even to turn and see how the now old fogies are hobbling along.

Those are the rules of life—life with its tribulations fixed and decreed before birth, life with its joys given by the same Providence.

This introduction has elucidated no new theories or findings. They have all been told before and better. But they are recapitulated here in order to erect a runway upon which we may tread into the home of Jerrold and Paula Bradburn, prepared for its "atmosphere."

Jerrold and Paula had been married eleven years.

Theirs had been no unique romance, and neither was an extraordinary person. Theirs was no astonishing home or condition or problem.

"Jerrold Bradburn was the sales manager of a steel company. He was an American with an average education, the usual share of industry and progressiveness and honesty, a man of no pronounced villainies or virtues—a typical husband of upper middle-class metropolitan sort.

Paula Lykens had been what the newspapers call in rating beauty-contest entrants a "home girl." Her parents were fairly prosperous, though not in "society." She had been graduated from high school, could play the piano a bit, read the magazines and novels of the day, went to church every third or fourth Sunday, was rather pretty and never indiscreet "except as hereinafter set forth."

Jerrold had met Paula at an all-right dance, had called in answer to a conventional invitation so to do, had "gone" with Paula a year or more, had proposed, had been accepted. No fireworks attended any of the procedure. There was no elopement, no hysteria, no opposition, no sensationalism to it. The item in the local newspapers, stating that he had married her on a certain day in a certain church, about told all there was to tell. They went away for a week and came back to an apartment, rented furnished, and lived like most first-yearers. Next year they lived like most second-yearers—and so on through some eleven years.

Existence had fallen into a routine. Each now regarded the other as "hooked," and capitalized that. He reckoned that she had to do a certain programme of things because she was his wife—she countered with her list of his obligations because he was her husband. He was ready at all times, when taken to task, to answer that he had always been a good provider, a respectable man and "steady." She was as quick to reply that she had "given him her youth," that she had turned down a good many other offers to accept him ("Goodness knows why!"), and she had been a patient, blameless, virtuous, loyal wife.

As though any of those claims were a defense!

There had never been any children. Neither Jerrold nor Paula had any prejudices or predilections on the subject. There just hadn't been any. It was a subject never discussed any more in the Bradburn household, because both had learned long since that it ended in acrimonious recriminations. By mutual consent it had been referred to Fate—and it died there.

Nor did the presence of the dog and the cat irritate the sort spot, for the cat was Jerrold's and the dog Paula's; so neither could blame the other for the sorry substitutes.

Nor Did the Presence of the Dog and Cat Irritate the Sore Spot.

Jerry was thirty-five and Paula was thirty when they had their first important quarrel. It had to be a considerable set-to to be important, after the years of petty bickerings. It had all the dramatic assets of a substantial rift—loud voices, stirring up the past, frank defiance in place of the mute or mumbled fires that burned year in and year out, Jerry grabbing his hat and going out and slamming the door without saying where he was going or when he would be back, Paula saying "Hmph" and settling into the rocker to read.

Jerry came home late. Paula was asleep when he came.

Next day there was armed formality about the good mornings and the breakfast service; the dutiful kiss had no kick, either way; Jerry went to the office.

It was "theatre night" that night. Like most married pairs, Jerry and Paula had their days and weeks and months calendered ahead, according to convenience. Each Thursday night they went to a show as a rule. This rule Jerry always treated as a necessary nuisance and Paula as an established privilege. Each understood how the other regarded it—it was no longer necessary to discuss it.

Jerry came home Thursday to a delicatessen supper (maid's night out), and when Paula asked him what show they were going to, he answered, "Oh, its a good show—don't worry." If there was one thing that made Paula more peevish than any other it was Jerry's complete assumption of the right to pick the entertainment. It was her concession, not his—why should he growl about having to go to theatres every week and then insist on selecting which theatres she would go to?

"If that's the way you feel about it, I won't go at all," she said.

"Oh, yes, you will," he answered. "Wild horses couldn't drag you away from your weekly show."

"Is that so?" she retorted. And he did not answer—that bromidic query needs no answer and rarely expects one after eleven years of calloused service in many a tight place and many a frivolous spot.

Paula dressed, as Jerry had known she would. It was 7:30, time to start. Jerry got his hat.

"Where are we going?" asked Paula.

"Oh, you'll like it. Come on," answered Jerry.

"No. I'm not going unless I know where."

"Oh, come on; you want to start another battle."

"Start another one? I didn't start any. You"——

"Say. We fought that one out last night. I don't see where you've got anything left to say about it after the line of talk you let loose last night. Now, let's go."

"I'm perfectly willing to go—if I know where I'm going."

"What's the difference?"

"A whole lot of difference. I'm half the family. I have a right to have some say in where we go—at least, in where I go."

"That's just it—that's just what's been the matter with this combination for eleven years; you have rights. You'd have a whole lot more rights if you didn't keep harping all the time on what rights you have. You'd think I was some stingy miser who never"——

"That's all very well to say. But I've found that the only way I get what I do get is to know at least some of the things that I have coming, and keep seeing that I keep getting them."

"Oh, come out of it. I've never denied you anything within reasonable reach of our means. There isn't a woman I know, in our grade of life, who has any nicer home or any better clothes or any"——

"Because I see to it that I have. I hate to be always asking for things—things that I'm entitled to, things that if you were a regular husband it would be your pride and joy to give me without making me have to go to the mat for them. Heaven knows, I ask little enough. I could have"——

"Well, why didn't you?"

"Listen here, Jerry Bradburn. You drop that tone of voice when you're talking to me. You hear? This is getting pretty regular. I'm beginning to think there's something BACK of it. You're always trying to pick a quarrel with me. Now—what's on your mind?"

"Oh, quit being a detective. When there's anything on my mind, you don't have to guess about it. I'm out in the open with my grouches."

"Yes? You've got so many, you can't help having at least a few of them where they come out. But this seems more than that. Lately you're all the time starting arguments, as though you wanted me to lose my temper and say something that you can twist to suit yourself and get good and insulted."

"Well, if you think so, why insult me? The safest thing to do, if you've got any such idea, is to fool me—and not lose your temper. Now, for instance, about this silly show"——

"Certainly. I'm to get my galoshes and trot along after your coat-tails, looking up at you and worshiping you and wondering whither you art leading me and hoping for the best and trusting to your generous nature to fling me a crumb when the spirit jars you—eh? Is that what you want in a wife?"

"Oh, boy!"

"Well, you got the wrong blonde. And you were born a couple of thousand years too late. You should have lived in Turkey, and had a harem, and"——

"I pass. One is enough."

"I wonder."

"Oh—that stuff!"

"Who knows? By the way—what time did you get in last night—I mean this morning?"

"A lot you cared. You were off in dreamland."

"I suppose I should sit with my pale face at the window-pane, waiting for your footfall—when you tear out, after abusing me, and go—go—where DID you go?"

"Oh, what's the difference?"

"What do you mean—what's the difference? I want to KNOW."

"Jealous?"

"Oh, not very."

"Suppose it WAS some other woman? Oh, don't jump—I said suppose—what would you do about it?"

"Not very much."

"I thought so; you'd feel rather relieved that the whole thing was over. A nice alimony settlement—then you could pick your own shows—and who can tell what else might be in your mind? You're still a young, attractive woman."

"Thanks. You're still mighty charming yourself—to anybody who doesn't know you as well as I do. But don't alimony me so out-of-hand-like. Is that the way you really think I'd take it?"

"Well, you don't seem to care much about me when you've got me, so why should I figure you'd grieve a lot if you lost me—or, I should say, got rid of me?"

"Listen here, Jerry Bradburn," said Paula. "I don't believe there's any other woman."

"Fine. That's that."

"I say I don't believe it. But these days there's a great deal that doesn't sound plausible happening all around us all."

"So—if I'm deceiving you"——

"If you're deceiving me, there's going to be a murder."

"Wow! That's a rough word."

"Not too rough. You can put it down, just like you would the date or any other certain future fact, that if I ever find you leaving me for any other woman there'll be a murder—nothing less."

"Who's going to get it—me or the woman?"

"The other woman. I'll get her first and get you next—I mean I'll kill her and win you. Now—what do you think of that?"

"You—you really MEAN that?" he gasped.

"I swear it!"

"Well, you"—— and Jerry reached forward and seized Paula in a sudden clutch that threw her hat off. He pivoted her around, and before she knew it his lips were pressed against hers. She struggled for a second—only a second. Then she slipped her little arms up and around his neck.

When Jerry finally loosened his neck-hold he whispered:

"Sweetheart, you KNOW there isn't any other woman—couldn't be."

"No more than there could be any other man for me, honey," she sighed, as she looked up into his wide, lighted eyes.

"We've been a couple of fools, dearie," he said.

"Over nothing—not a thing."

"That's just it: we've had nothing to quarrel about. That's why we quarreled. Our life has been too even, too unruffled, too—too happy, I guess. It's been like a millionaire who can't appreciate money because he's had so much of it so long and so continuously. But threaten to throw him into bankruptcy—and see!"

"You bet. He'd threaten murder."

"Exactly. And a great little word that is. If you'd said you would cry or sue or pine away or take it without a squawk—well, maybe I'd have called your bluff. Oh, not that I have any such thing in mind or ever did have, but we were getting pretty sour on one another, and in that frame of mind anything might have happened."

"Anything!"

"Yes—anything. Now that you've had a touch of it I don't want you to settle back and forget it. I never had such a thought, but any human being might go crazy; and there's nothing will drive a man or woman crazy faster than everlasting nagging—and that goes both ways. What we need in this family is to discuss murder once in a while—murder or some other high voltage stuff. We're jogging along too smoothly, too evenly. We need a jolt occasionally, even if it's a battle—but a GOOD battle; no prelim sparring, a socking match."

"I guess so. It's a long time since we've—you've—I've"—— and she began to readjust her hair.

"I'll say so. Don't straighten it—it looks great that way . . . but, say; it's eight o'clock, and I suppose you WILL have to brush up. By the way, the show is"——

"Never mind what show it is," she cut in. "We're not going. I'm afraid to be seen in public with you when you've got such a violent streak on."

"Who's violent? It was you that talked about murder."

"But it was you who started to strangle me—there'll be no show to-night—we've been living too regularly, anyway; let's break the monotony."

"You said a mouthful," he beamed. "And some mouth, I'll say. Come here to daddy"——

THE DEMAND FOR PHONE SERVICE IS PHENOMENAL

Said W. H. Winter, General Superintendent of Bell Company's Plant, Speaker of the Evening at Social Function.

A GREAT PROBLEM

(Contributed.)

At 7 p.m. Friday evening, March 23 ,at the Empress Hotel, members of the Plant Employees' Council of the Bell Telephone Company, Peterborough, and their guests to the number of about fifty, sat down to a sumptuous repast served in the usual excellent style by Mine .Host Chris. Graham.

Guests present were: Messrs. W. H. Winter, General Superintendent of Plant, Montreal; A. T. Smith, Division Manager, Toronto; J. H. Martin, Division Plant Superintendent, Toronto; J. A. Brown, District Plant Supt., Toronto; R. Burrows, Dist Commercial Supt. Toronto; J. W. Fiegehen, Dist. Traffic Supt., Toronto; Joseph Knox, Travelling Auditor, Toronto; T. J. Tilly, Manager, Lindsay; W. E. Bunner, Pres. Plant Council, Lindsay; D. D. Tolmie, Plant Dept., Lindsay; A. A. Smith, J. M. McHardy, T. Sproat, W. Welbourn, F. Bowers, D. Melton, Peterborough and Messrs. B. Jackson, Flemming, Ferguson, McDougal, Farr, Gunn, Goudie and Waite, of Construction Staff, Toronto.

Due justice having been done to the inner man, a snappy programme and toast list was carried out, interspersed with community singing. Mr. Harold Follis officiated at the piano in his usual generous and efficient manner, also playing the accompaniment to vocal solos rendered.

Council Congratulated.

After the toast to the King, Mr. C. M. Thornton, Pres. Peterborough Plant Employees' Council, on behalf of the members, extended a hearty welcome to the guests present, stating that the Council were to be congratulated in having so many distinguished officials with them on this their first annual banquet. Sketching the history of the Peterborough Council from its inception in 1919 up to the present time, he stated that the Council had more than fulfilled the purpose for which it was originally intended. Many suggestions which would tend to reduce maintenance costs, increase the efficiency and production of the staff and incidentally supply aa better service to our patrons had been submitted through the Council and found worthy of adoption by the Company. "I can see a wonderful sphere of usefulness before our Plant Councils," said Mr. Thornton.

Mr. J. A. Brown on rising to respond to the toast to "Our Guests" was greeted by a parody to the tune of Sweet Adeline. Expressing his pleasure at being present, he congratulated the Council on their success and urged that the Council keep in mind the highest principles in their dealings with the Company.

Following, Mr. G. O. Cameron, editor "The Blue Bell" and former manager of Peterborough, in his usual clever after-dinner style, expressed his pleasure at meeting the Peterborough boys once again, admonishing them that if the like ever hapepned again, not to forget him.

"Our Company."

Replying to the toast to "Our Company," Mr. J. H. Martin, Division Plant Supt., of Toronto, stated that the words "Our Company" were indeed appropriate, practically 100 per cent. of the employees present being shareholders and financially interested in the affairs of the company as a result of the Company's thrift plan which was inaugurated some time ago. "You may find one company with a thrift plan, another with a sickness benefit plan, another which grants vacations to its employees, another which pays 100 per cent. salary to its employees in case of accident, another which pays death benefits on the demise of an employee, but you will find very few companys which grant their employees so many concessions as the Bell Telephone Company of Canada," said Mr. Martin.

At this juncture, Mr H. H. Lush demonstrated his abilities in the magic art and gave an interesting demonstration in cartooning in chalk.

Speaker of Evening.

Mr. W. H. Winter, General Superintendent of Plant, who delivered the address of the evening, gave some interesting figures on the proposed construction programme of the Company during the next five years, part of this programme being the installation of the "automatic system" in Toronto and Montreal. "One of the great problems of to-day is the securing of adequate supplies of telephone equipment to meet the ever increasing demand for telephone service," said Mr. Winter. The growth in the demand for telephone service has been phenomenal and we have not yet reached that stage to which we are striving viz., to supply telephone service on demand. When a vast organization like ours slows down as it did during the war and the depression following, it takes a long time to get back to normal, but we are concentrating our efforts to that end."

Mr. R. Burrow, replying to the toast to "The Associated Departments,' 'proposed by Mr H. S. Elliott, secretary of the Council, stated that he had always a warm place in his heart for Peterborough and claimed the distinction of having erected the first foot of cable in our fair city. The local office was on Simcoe street at that time.

Following, Mr. A. T. Smith, Division Manager, Toronto, and the first manager of the Bell Telephone Company in Peterborough, stated that he could say much about the early development of the telephone business in Peterborough, having erected the first pole that was placed in Peterborough by our company.

Mr. J. W. Fieghen ,Dist. Traffic Supt., stated that as head of the Traffic Department in this district, he had no hesitation in stating that the service at Peterborough was among the best in the district and much of this satisfactory service was undoubtedly due to the co-operation and assistance which had been rendered by the other departments.

Heard to Advantage.

Messrs D. Melton and E. W. Watson were heard to good advantage in vocal solos which were much appreciated.

G. Hoggarth, in rich tenor voice and real Scotch brogue, rendered that popular Scotch song "Just a wee doch an doris" as only a real Scottie can .

A parody on "Till we meet again" appropriate for the occasion, followed by the National Anthem, brought a most pleasant evening to a close.

CHILDREN'S WEAR EXCLUSIVELY

SAYS COLLEGIATE HALL SHOULD BE USED MORE OFTEN

Editor, Examiner.

I notice by your paper of yesterday that a concert is to be given in aid of the Children's Aid Society if the Collegiate Assembly Hall can be secured. Does that mean that this hall is not available for such purposes? If it does, the thought has struck me that the citizens are hardly getting the use out of the Collegiate auditorium that they should have. There does not seem any sound reason why it should not be available for community purposes to a much greater extent than it has been. There is a lot of money tied up in school buildings, and they might well be put to more general use. I pass the suggestion on for what it is worth.

Citizen.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the bottle. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you 16 ounces of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for $2.50.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor Examiner:

I have just read the advertisement in last evening's Examiner of the Better Live Stock Train which is touring the province, at which demonstrations and lectures will be given in connection with different lines of work in Live Stock and Poultry Raising and Marketing and I notice that it will be at Omemee April 3rd, and Norwood April 4th, and evidently Peterborough has drawn a blank. I think this is a mistake, and I believe dozens of farmers in the vicinity of Peterborough would like to take advantage of the Demonstrations and Lectures. Is it not possible for our representatives at Toronto and Ottawa to yet arrange that this train stop at Peterborough, if only for half a day.

Yours truly,

A Much Interested Farmer.

Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—Would you allow me a little space in your paper in answer to "South-Ender" on garbage collection, as I would like to explain to this taxpayer a little about the matter. Sometimes the collector is blamed for garbage spilt on the streets and broken boxes when it is not his fault, because the garbage is not being drained and wrapped as it should be. The result is that it is frozen to the box, as we have had a few frosty nights this winter. Then if the collector should try to pull garbage out he gets his hand cut with broken glass which is supposed to be kept separate; and again, if he knocks the box to get garbage out, the box sometimes gets broken. If the garbage was put in the proper manner and not in such a half-hearted way as it is in some cases, the collector would have a lot better time than he does now. I would very much like to see Mr. South-Ender and explain personally, and also to see his boxes when I am collecting there on Thursday When the dogs are tied up again, there will not be so much garbage strewn on the streets.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this space in your paper, I remain, yours truly ....

H. Withers.

P.S.—Any complaints can be made to Sanitary Inspector Stapleton, who will soon have same rectified.—H.W.

NEXT FEW WEEKS TRYING FOR WHEAT

Present Sharp Weather Cause of Anxiety to the Farmers.

TORONTO, March 28.—The official report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture says that the next two or three weeks will be a most trying time for the fall wheat in this province. To date the fall wheat growth in most parts seems to have been holding its own and there were hopes that this favorable condition will continue. The present sharp weather following closely on a mild spell has caused a lot of anxiety among the fasmers. Sunday's blizzard which provided a snow blanket on many bare fields, was welcomed on this account. The weather continues cold.

Delegates From Various Leagues Will Meet in Hamilton on Friday.

HAMILTON, March 28.—(Special)—On Friday a meeting will be held in the Hamilton Y.M.C.A. for the purpose of forming an Ontario Soft Ball Association to govern all soft ball played in the province. Every Soft Ball League in Ontario has been requested to send representatives.

The proposed association will draw up a constitution and draft a set of uniform playing rules. It will also take charge of all Ontario championship games, both senior and intermediate and will handle all contracts and other matters pertaining to softball.

C. V. Howick, 7 James Street North Hamilton, is acting as secretary Prot tem. The meeting will open at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon.

GREYS TOO MUCH FOR DELAVAL REDS

Six Runs in Sixth Innings Gave the Greys a Commanding Lead.

Heavy scoring in the sixth innings gave the De Laval Greys a 10 to 7 vitcory over the De Laval Reds. After getting three runs in the third the Reds filled the bases in every one of the first four innings, but failed to score again till the final frame when a batting rally sent in four runs. The three more runs necessary to tie the score were on the bases when the last man was retired. The Greys started off with three runs in the first inning, added one more in the third and six in the sixth In the fifth inning they had the bases crammed and none out but failed to score. By playing the ball home after each hit the three runners were retired without scoring.

Perks did the twirling for the Reds and turned in a steady game. While he only fanned three he did not issue a single walk and with the exception of the first and sixth innings was seldom hit outside the infield .Murray was on the mound for the winners and fanned six, walking two. Until the final frame the Grays found him hard to hit.

The players were:

Greys: Ward ,c; Elliott, 3b.; Kennedy, 1b.; Cooper, l.f.; McIntyre, s.s.; Miller, s.s.; Feeley, 2b.; Murray, p.; Beatty, r.f.

Reds: Perks, p.; McGee, c.; Bullied, ss.; Bell, 2b.; Frick, 1b.; Fitzgerald, r.f.; Williamson, r.f.; Galbraith, s.s.; Marchan, l.f.

QUAKERS SWAMPED THE CANOE CO. NINE

Boat Builders Went Under By a Score of 19 to 3 in Game With Quaker Oats

The Canoe Company nine was most decisively walloped by the Quakers in the curtain raiser of the Soft Ball League games at the Armouries last evening, the score being 19 to 3. The first inning looked as if the game would be close and fast, both sides being retired in one-two-three order, but the Quakers got busy in the second and ran in four runs. They followed these withone in the third, a homer, and added six more in the fourth. The fourth was their big inning, but they added four more in each of the seventh and ninth innings just for good measure.

Two walks in the third frame gave the Canoe Company players a chance to get around the sacks for two runs, and two walks in the sixth frame were instrumental in sending in their only other run.

Fifer did the hurling for the winners and fanned fifteen. Halpin was on the rubber for the Canoe Co., and if he had received better support from his team mates the score might have been a little closer.

The players were:

Quakers: Foster, c.; Fifer, p.; Mac Guerin 1b.; Mayette, 2b.; Gandy, 3b.; Kearn ,s.s.; Carruthers, s.s.; Armstrong, r.f.; Guerin, l.f.

Canoe Company: P. R. Ecobichon, 1b.; S. Ecobichon, 2b.; Ash, s.s.; Graham, s.s.; Copp, r.f.; Miller, 3b.; Taylor, c.; Halpin, p.; Gray, l.f.

WON JENNINGS CUP.

The Jennings cup, emblematic of the inter-faculty championship of the University of Toronto was won this season by the Senior Dents. "Hod" Stuart of Peterboro is the manager of the team.

THE CENTRAL LEAGUE TO OPERATE TWO GROUPS

Kingston Admitted and Will Form One Section With Belleville, Cobourg and Peterboro.

MEETING YESTERDAY.

All is smooth sailing in the Central Ontario League again as a result of yesterday's executive meeting held at the Empress Hotel, when after a long discussion in which the expected fireworks did not materialize and in which harmony reigned, a re-arrangement of the league was decided upon, giving the teams as nearly as possible what they desired in the matter of schedule.

The new alignment sees Kingston admitted into membership in the league and the division of the Central into two sections—section "B" consisting of Kingston, Belleville, Cobourg and Peterborough and section "A" comprising Port Hope, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Leaside and Lindsay, with the C.G.E. team of Peterborough a possibility if they want to take a step up into senior company.

Section "B" will play a quadruple schedule, giving them each twelve home games, while section "A" will operate on a double schedule, the winners of the two sections to play off at the end of the season for the Central League championship.

This compromise groups the teams who wanted more baseball into one section and allows the other teams who found two games a week too much a chance to operate on a basis of fewer games.

The other point of dissension in regard to the residence rule was also cleared up. The Central Ontario representatives will urge at the annual meeting of the O.B.A.A. that the January 1st residence qualification be not insisted upon this year, but adopted next season.

If the O.B.A.A. agrees to this suggestion the residence rule in the Central Ontario League will be May 15th as it was last year, although only players who qualify under the O.B.A.A. residence rule of January 1st would, of course, be eligible for the Ontario series.

On the other hand, if the annual meeting of the O.B.A.A. decides to make the rule retroactive and applying to this season's operations the Central League will follow the January 1st residence rule.

President M. J. Dedman of Lindsay was in the chair, and the others present were: Morley Duff, 1st Vice-President, Belleville; J. J. Solomon, 2nd Vice-President, Peterborough; J. G. Nott, Secretary-Treasurer, Oshawa; R. D. Adams, Belleville; Mr. Strong, Port Hope; C. Anderson, Oshawa; Messrs. Fraser and Irwin, Leaside; Dick Turpin and A. C. Kimmel, Cobourg; Ford W. Moynes, Lindsay; Thurston, Bowmanville, and L. J. Picard, Peterborough.

Although the discussion was long, the meeting was harmonious throughout. President Dedman's opening address supplying the keynote, when he urged the representatives present to stay by the Central League and settle their differences in a sporting fashion.

Mr. Dedman explained why the schedule question had been re-opened and a mail vote taken. The fact was that some of the delegates to the annual meeting at Cobourg had left the room before this matter was disposed of, and when the Oshawa club brought the question up afterward it was felt that it would be only fair to give all the clubs an opportunity to express themselves. Accordingly, a mail vote had been taken, which should five clubs in favour of a single schedule and Peterborough, Cobourg and Belleville for a double schedule.

At yesterday's meeting each representative gave his views on the question. It was found that while they had voted by mail for a single schedule, both Leaside and Bowmanville were willing to adopt a double schedule if that was the wish of the other clubs. Oshawa, Lindsay and Port Hope favoured fewer games, while Belleville, Cobourg and Peterborough stood out for a longer schedule.

A suggestion from Mr. Solomon that some of the teams might be willing to form an intermediate section did not meet with favour, but the recommendation of the Belleville and Peterbprough clubs that Kingston be admitted and a two-section league arranged was finally adopted.

Secretary Stan. Trotter of the Kingston club arrived at this stage of the proceedings and was delighted to find that his club had been given a franchise in the Central League.

The residence rule was discussed at length before the understanding already outlined was reached.

A vote of thanks to the management of the Empress Hotel was passed before the meeting adjourned.

"B" Section Schedule.

"B" section representatives met immediately after the meeting and drew up the following quadruple schedule, the winners of the two halves to play off to decide which team will meet the "A" section winners for the league championship:

UTILITIES NOSED OUT BY LOCK CO.

Six Runs in One Innings Were Not Enough to Stave Off Defeat.

In spite of the fact that they scored six runs in the third innings, the Utilities lost to the Lock Works by a score of 10 to 9. The Lock Works pulled up on even terms in the fourth and from then on it was anybody's game. One run for the Lock Works in the seventh and one in the eighth gave them a two run lead. In the final frame Dobson started things off for the Utilities by hitting the first ball pitched for the complete circuit and the Utilities rooters began to take heart again. The rally was short lived for the next three men were retired in order, two of them by the strike-out route.

Nichols did the pitching for the Utilities and fanned ten against six for Mason. The Lock Company, however, was able to bunch the hits better for the runs when runs were needed. On several occasions the Utilities had men as far as third base, but lacked the necessary punch to send them home.

The players were:

Lock Works: Connors, s.s.; Black, 1b.; Mason, p.; O'Toole, s.s.; Guerin, 2b.; Taylor, c.; Baker, 3b.; Murray, l.f.; Huffman, r.f.

Utilities: Hinds, 1b.; Kerrigan, 2b.; Dobson c.; Nicholls, p.; Clegg, s.s.; Platt, 3b.; McKinnon, ss.; Johnson, r.f.; Sharoe, l.f.

SAY FIFTEEN POUNDS PROPER FIGHT LIMIT

PARIS (By mail to the United Press)—Fifteen rounds of fighting in the ring represent the limit of human endurance, according to Dr. Sebenq, one of the three officials medical representatives on the consulting committee of the French boxing federation.

Dr. Sebenq, after witnessing a twenty round private exhibition, in which both men fought for all they were worth, declared that the last five rounds were nothing in regard to expenditure of energy.

"After ten rounds" he said, "it's up to the man with the staying power. If he can go ten he can go fifteen, twenty, forty, sixty.

CURLING SEASON MAKES A RECORD

To-Night's Games the Latest Since Charlotte Street Rink Was Re-opened in 1909 — Twice in That Period Have the Farewells Reached March 27, and Tradition Sets the Latest at April 19.

For the first time since the Charlotte street rink was re-opened in 1909 the curling season will reach March 28 with the scratch games that will be played tonight, and so reconciled have the curlers become to the mid-winter weather that they were jocularly proposing last night a bonspiel for Good Friday.

In the last fifteen years the latest date of the final curling in any season was March 27, 1912, but the lost records of the club's prehistoric era is said to carry the spring curling over to April 19. The year of that prolonged season is lost in the antediluvial mist, and for present purposes the club's chronicles, beginning from 1909, will mark the present year of grace and too much winter with the record for the longest playing season. It is altogether likely that there will be games on Thursday, and from the present indications there will be good ice right up to the end of the week and likewise to the month.

The curling months are customarily from December 1 to March 31, but the final games since 1909 have been played on the following dates:

1909	March 27
1910	March 19
1911	March 25
1912	March 27
1913	March 17
1914	March 25
1915	March 20
1916	March 25
1917	March 21
1918	March 18
1919	March 15
1920	March 20
1921	March 10
1922	March 10

Four rinks were in operation last night, one of the games being for the Pewter Mug, in which Jack Bacon retained possession of it by beating Art Gilliam by the score of 10-7.

Evidently curling's lingering in the lap of bowling—or is it softball?—does not meet with the fullest approval in domestic circles. One of the younger skips told of his wife's remonstrance last night in the course of the speculation about games on the holiday.

"'Another holiday spent at the curling rink,' my wife said tonight," he related. "'First it was Christmas, and there was something on New Year's, and now it's Good Friday. The next thing will be the 24th of May. Haven't those men down there any homes to stay in once and a while except Sundays?'"

The outburst of laughter suggested a sort of fellow-feeling of sympathy as if that stricture had been sounded over more than one evening dinner.

The word had gone out last week that the curtain would be rung down for the very last time on Monday, and it was understood that Jack Bacon was to take charge of rings for the summer's keeping. But Monday provided ice of February texture, and wild-eyed curlers turned up for another farewell. They were on hand again last night, and found that their speeding of the parting guest wasn't having much effect. However, Angus McIntosh's term runs out on Saturday, and the brooms and sweaters that were carted home and brought back again simply can't be kept around the place much longer.

PRESENT AWARDS BEAUTY WINNERS

Mr. Harold Hitchinson, manager o fthe Capitol Theatre, was a pleased-looking man Monday evening. Surrounded by Pterboro's three prize beauties and their companions, he affirmed that the occasion reminded him of the halcyon days when he conducted a Sunday-school class for young ladies. The occasion was the presentation to the three successful competitors in the recent beauty contest of their passes to the Capitol Theatre, good for three, two and one month respectively.

The three young ladies were a happy trio. They congratulated the frist prize winner and each other without the slightest trace of disappointment over failure to secure first place and the chance of competing with twenty-four other cities for the portrait to be painted for the Prince of Wales. If the judges had been compelled to make a decision after a personal contemplation of the faces of these three young ladies, it is had to say who would have won the first award.

The trio represents three distinct types, perhaps there only point of mutual resemblance being the color of their eyes, blue in every instance. Miss Gladys Haig, the first prize winner, whose parents live in Havelock, has a bobbed head, fluffy, medium brown, with intriguing eyes and a dimple set just in the right place near a mouth that smiles most of the time.

Miss Geraldine Collins has the Irish type of beauty; the black hair and dark blue eyes with black lashes that are always associated with the loveliness of the Emerald Isle, while Miss Josephine Hunt has quantities of light brown hair, delicate features and finely-pencilled eyebrows.

Miss Haig doesnt think she is going to be conceited over her success in this competition. With the dimple and a lot of nice teeth showing in a merry smile, she said that the surprise manifested by some of her acquaintances and the remarks overheard from a group of girls considering her photo in Roys window would have an effect calculated, she thinks, to offset any elation over the decision of the judges. The three girls were unanimous in their expressions over the result.

HAMBURG IS AGAIN GREAT TRADE CENTRE

BERLIN, March 28.—(Canadian Press)—Hamburg has regained her pre-war position as the greatest shipping center on the European Continent, according to the tonnage statistics for last year, just published. These show that the port of Hamburg handled more than 13,000,000 net tons, as compared with 12,750,000 for Antwerp and 12,250,000 for Rotterdam.

The German lines, whose operations before the war accounted for 67 per cent. of Hamburg's traffic, now handle only 29 per cent., being second to the British whose percentage is 24. The Dutch are third and the United States fourth.

LADIES DISCUSSED

dian, but a Briton. But Canada so far has not shown any particular interest in her talented son, who is acclaimed in New York as one of the greatest of modern versifiers. "How long," said Mrs. Pettit, "will Canada merit the reproach that she is the last to recognize the greatness of her sons and daughters?"

The outstanding note in Carmans' verse is that of pantheism, in its highest sense, "His work is a continuous portrayal of the beauty and wonder of the world." "The Pipes of Pan" and "Easter Eve" were two selections which brought out this characteristic.

Dr. Drummond.

Miss S. A. Tomkins' brief review of the life and work of Dr. Drummond was much enjoyed. The poems written by this man, who was the loved physician of the poor, originated at his own fireside, but were published later through the influence of admiring friends. Their imitations of the French Canadian dialect were not done in a spirit of ridicule, for the doctor knew and sympathized with, the life of his habitant friends. Miss Tomkins read several selections from Drummond's work, illustrating the pathos and humour of the French Canadian mind.

The Final Evening.

The fifth and last evening in this literary series will be held on April 10th at the home of the convenor of the club, Mrs. L. J. Pettit, at 551 Aylmer street. The discussion will centre mainly about the work of Jean Blewett, Pauline Johnson, Isabella Valancy, Crawford, Archibald Lampman and Marjorie Pickthall.

TO SELL CHEESE CO-OPERATIVELY

Patrons Selwyn Factory Vote to Dispose of Their Product by This Method

The patrons of Selwyn Cheese Factory, at a meeting held yesterday afternoon, voted to sell their cheese co-operatively this season through United Dairymen Co-operative, Limited, the big co-operative company whose head office has been in Peterborough for the last three years. The cheese in this factory will be sold either through the United Dairymen Co-operative's representative in Toronto or at the big co-operative sale of cheese at Belleville, according to market conditions.

The patrons were addressed by Mr. H. B. Cowan, of Peterborough, the secretary of United Dairymen Co-operative, Limited. Mr. Cowan explained the effect the new Dominion Government grading law is likely to have this season, inasmuch as all cheese sold for export purposes must be graded before export. As the Government has refused to grant factory inspection or even inspection at the car door, it means that the cheese must be graded at central points. Numerous factories in the Central Ontario district have voted in favor of selling co-operatively at Belleville and having their cheese graded there in preference to selling it to Montreal buyers and having the cheese graded in Montreal.

Mr. Cowan stated that Montreal exporters have been writing to cheese factories all over the province, urging the factories to sell their cheese through them this season. There seems to be a general impression among buyers that most of the cheese boards may not function this year. Mr. Cowan stated that this system of selling was one of the worst which patrons of factories could adopt, as it lessens the competition for cheese. The main reason the Peterborough Cheese Board has not been more successful of late years has been because of the number of cheese factories which have sold their cheese on the basis of Peterborough board prices without boarding their cheese on the board. There have been a number of factories, for instance, in Victoria County, which have not boarded their cheese at Peterborough for some years but which have been paid Peterborough board prices. In some cases, factories have been able to get a fraction over the board prices by selling as "regulars." Under these conditions, outside buyers refuse to attend the boards where the quantity of cheese is small and the buyers who have "regulars," refuse to bid their best price because it would force them to pay more for their "regulars."

Mr. Cowan stated that United Dairymen Co-operative, Limited, this year is making a special effort to induce all factories that are selling as "regulars" to sell co-operatively in the open and thus force the buyers to come out into the markets and bid for their cheese. It was explained also that factories which consent this season to sell as "regulars" of Montreal buyers are apt to lose the benefit of the demand by Toronto and other firms buying for the western market, as the cheese bought by Montreal firms is bought almost entirely on the basis of export prices which are lower than those paid by the home trade.

Selwyn is one of the best factories in Peterborough district, and has sold its cheese for many years on the Peterborough board. It has an excellent cold curing room and has a reputation for the high quality of its cheese.

It is understood that meetings are to be held soon by the patrons of several other factories in the Peterborough district, at which decisions will be reached as to how their cheese will be sold this season. United Dairymen Co-operative, Limited, are being invited to supply speakers for a number of these meetings.

"HAD A NARROW ESCAPE"

"I never realized until a few months ago how risky it is to neglect a cold in the chest. I have always had such good health, that a cold either in the head or chest, while unpleasant, never gave me any worry. Outside an occasional cold, I had never known what it was to be laid up even for a day in all my life, until last December. One afternoon I got a chill and no matter how close I got to the stove, I couldn't seem to get warm. This chill was followed by a cold in my chest. As usual I neglected it and it kept getting worse and worse. Finally I had to go to bed and send for the doctor. His examination showed that I had pneumonia and a bad case at that. By careful nursing on the part of my husband, my children and some friends, I managed to pull through, but the doctor told me I had a narrow shave. And here's where my troubles began. While I was now out of danger, I was anything but well. I was still very weak from the effects of the pneumonia. Although I had lots of life and energy before my sickness, I was now worn out and tired all the time. I slept fairly well, more because I was exhausted. But my sleep didn't refresh me because, while I appeared to be asleep, I was conscious most of the time of what went on around me. Although all kinds of tempting dishes were prepared for me, I had no relish for food. This sickness had already undermined my health to such an extent that I was a living skeleton. I was getting discouraged as nothing I took seemed to do me any good. 'I wonder if Carnol wouldn't build you up,' a friend said one day, 'it did me a world of good, I was completely run down and you can see for yourself how well I look today. Why don't you try it ? Thanks to this friend's advice I am in perfect health again, as healthy and as full of life and vitality as I have ever been."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 9-622

HE KNOWS ALL ABOUT SERVANTS IN ENGLAND

Labor Member Burgess Courted Four and Married One.

LONDON, March 28.—(Canadian Press).—"You don't know anything about servants," a Tory member told Charles Burgess, Labor M.P., who had been making a speech on the servant problem. "Now, I employ four of them."

"Don't I?" retorted Burgess. "I courted four of them and married one."

G.W.V.A. LADIES SEND OUTFIT TO LITTLE GIRL

A very worthy endeavor in which the ladies of the Peterborough Auxiliary to the G.W.V.A. are interesting themselves just now is the outfitting with spring clothing of a little girl of nine years of age who is attending the School for the Blind in Brantford. The child, a native of Peterborough, is being educated at the Brantford school, and is regarded as a bright pupil. She will have a whole new spring outfit of clothing when the energetic ladies of the Auxiliary are finished with their preparations.

A. G. METHERAL WAS CHOSEN VICE-PRES.

Of the Association of Plumbing and Drain Inspectors of Ontario at the Third Annual Convention.

Mr. A. G. Metheral, plumbing inspector, was elected first vice-president of the Plumbing and Drain Inspector's Association of Ontario at their third annual convention held in London on Thursday and Friday last. The president is F. G. Palmer of Oshawa.

George Broomfield of Brantford, in an address on the question "What Has Become of the Apprentice", said that the apprenticeship system had been the back bone of the plumbing industry, but that to-day it had lost its attraction, had paled into insignificance when compared with the more allurements of stock selling and the many opportunities in the automobile industry.

Dr. W. S. Downham of London, contributed a thoughtful paper on ventilation. He asserted that the old theory of foul air in overcrowded or closed rooms, where an overcharge of carbonic acid gas was thought to work depressing and nauseating effects was absolutely exploded by conclusive experiments

"There are three basic factors governing proper living conditions in any room, he said "temperature, humidity and circulation. It would seem that given these factors in their proper proportions, air may be quite healthy even with overcrowding and closed windows."

THE THURSDAY

Need Organization

M. G. S. Hougham, special representative for the Dominion Executive Council of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada addressed the meeting on subjects of interest to the Association. The speaker dealt with some of the things accomplished by the organization and urged the retailers to give it their whole-hearted support. The need for such an organization is greater than ever to-day. It is one of the best organizations in the world, said Mr. Hougham, referring to the Retail Merchants Association of Canada. The complexities of modern merchandising and the evolution of economic thought demands efficient secretaries throughout the organization. The speaker said that much of the work of the Association centres in the legislative hall of the country

Oriental Penetration

The speaker whose home is in Vancouver touched upon what he termed the most serious menace that confronts Canadian citizens to-day, namely, the subject of Oriental penetration in British Columbia. The speaker said he had no desire to stir up race antagonism if it were a question of merchandising or color nothing more would be said. It was a race whose standard of living was much lower. During the last ten years, the ratio of Japanese on the coast has increased from one in two hundred and fifty-two to one in every thirteen. The Jap never becomes a Canadian citizen. He is governed by the same imperialistic policy for which the Germans were noted before the war.

Commenting on the fire losses in Canada, the speaker deplored the fact that the wholesaler and retailer is the greatest contributor to this loss.

In conclusion the speaker said that many of the ills of the retailer could be cured by organization.

Mr. Z. R. Fulkerson, representing the Retail Merchants Underwriters 'Association gave an interesting address on the question of fire insurance as it effects the organization.

UNIQUE CONUNDRUM TEA WAS A SUCCESS IN KNOX

Notwithstanding the inclement weather of yesterday, there was a satisfactory attendance at the conundrum tea and sale held in the basement of Knox church by the Ladies' Aid Society. The conundrum tea, in the ladies' parlours, had a unique menu and which taxed the ingenuity of the ladies in solving its roundabout items. Mrs. R. J. Martin, president of the Ladies' Aid Society, was general convenor; Mesdames G. Davis and H. Beatty had charge of the tea room; Mesdames Beavis and Wiley of the rummage sale; Mesdames Lyons and McCurdy of the home-made cooking, and Mesdames Gillis and Anderson of the sale of new artictles.

THE EXAMINER'S STORY NOW IN PICTURES

You have been reading the story daily in your own home town paper, now see the photoplay "The Pride of Palomar" a Cosmopolitan production from Peter B. Kyne's noted novel of the same name, which will be at the Capitol Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The leading roles are portrayed by Marjorie Daw and Forrest Stanley.

The story tells of the struggle of a World War veteran against crushing interest in his native state, the fight centering around the possession of the family ranch, which he finds on his return from overseas service, has all but fallen into the hands of the enemy. Making the story highly dramatic is the fact that the father of the girl whom the young man loves heads the opposing interests.

There is also the great problem for the girl of deciding where she ought to stand in the fight between her father and her sweetheart. She loves both, and her novel way of meeting the situation is thrilling.

The picture has an all star cast and has been well produced by Frank Borzage, who directed "Humoresque." Forrest Stanley and Marjorie Daw has the featured roles, and other important parts are portrayed by James Barrow, Warner Oland and Joseph Dowling.

showing the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the ills of women is constantly being published in this paper. The strongest recommendation any article can have is that borne by the persons who use it. Once ill with ailments that caused suffering and despair, but now restored to the joys of health, from a grateful heart multitudes of women write letters of appreciation to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ont. Such evidence of the power of Lydia E. Pinkhams Vegetable Compound over the ills of women should induce every suffering woman to try it.

To-Day's Quotations and Opinions and Reviews of the Markets.

NEW YORK, March 28. —(Special.)—Throughout the early trading to-day's stocks continued the improvement which got under way in yesterday's late trading. Washington advices that the Federal Reserve authorities saw no reason for any immediate general advance in rediscount rates gave the general market a buoyant tone at the opening. Steel Common gained 1-2 to 107 3-4. American Locomotive 1 point to 134, American Can a point to 98 1-4, and similar gains were scored by other industrial leaders. This buoyancy was intensified by the Federal Reserve's monthly summary of trade conditions. This survey says the continued business activity is indicated by maintenance of the high rate of industrial production increases in freight traffic and employment and a large volume of retail and wholesale trade. Stocks continued to show a strong tone throughout the first hour, Oils were the most buoyant group, Marland advanced to the highest price of its history at 55, while Phillips Petroleum also established a new high record at 68 3-4. Sinclair also was in active demand, moving up more than a point to 37 3-4, while call money again renewed at 5 3-4 per cent. rates were expected to ease up toward the end of the week. Call money was easier in the outside market than the six per cent. quoted on the stock exchange. When the rate was raised to six per cent. in the late trading yesterday, call money was being offered on the outside at 5 3-4. There were numerous commission houses that had more money than required and some loaned funds as high as six per cent. Brokers are not inclined to stock up with time money as they still hold the belief that rates will come down in the near future.

Steel stocks gave a better account of themselves in the morning trading led by United States Steel and Gulf States. It is hard to believe that the tendency of the Steel shares will be downward over the next three or four weeks, when one has in mind the strong quarterly earnings which soon will begin to make their appearance. Oil stocks on the curb market, as well as on the big board were improved to-day. Standard Oil of Indiana recovered about a 1-2 points from its recent low and Galena, Imperial of Canada, Standard of New York and Vacuum shared in the advance.

This motion was proposed by Ald. Morrison, and seconded by Ald. Fife.

Ald. Maher urged that the committee recommend a request to the Hydro-Electric Commission for their estimates on the cost of developing these powers and also Burleigh Falls, but failed to get a seconder.

The late Mr. Bell was making a business trip to Deferiet and was at the home of friends when he was suddenly stricken. He was removed to the village hotel and physicians were summoned. They found him in such a serious condition that he could not be brought home. Members of his family were summoned and were at his bedside. PARIS PAUSED FOR OBSEQUIES OF BERNHARDT

Five Floats With Mountains of Flowers 10 or 12 Feet High Followed Hearse.

SIMPLE SERVICE

PARIS, March 29. — (Canadian Press)—The body of Sarah Bernhardt was laid to rest in her tomb in the cemetery of Pere La Chaise this afternoon after a simple funeral service in the church of St. Francois de Sales. Five floats followed the hearse and each bore a mountain of flowers ten or twelve feet high.

The day was one of beautiful sunshine, and it is estimated that more than one and half million people watched the solemn processios as it wended its way through the streets to the cemetery.

Immense Crowds

Paris paused this morning to pay final tribute to great Sarah Bernhardt.

Crowds gathered at the church of St. Francois de Sales for noonday service and at the cemetery of Pere La Chaise, bringing in profusion tributes of flowers she loved.

The ceremony at the church was simple. The body rested in a rosewood casket. On the breast of her white satin dress was pinned the cross of the Legion of Honor while about her neck was a gold locket containing the likeness of her son, Maurice.

Streets leading to Rue Ampere where the church is located were blocked with people and Rue Ampere was barred to all except cardholders.

Women Form a Living Wall To Protect the Village Priest

Entire Community of Wishnitz, Breslau, Banded Together About Churchyard, and for Hours Resisted Soldiers' Attempt to Arrest Father Krakau

BRESLAU, March 29 (United Press). — The entire community of Wishnitz, aroused by an attempt to arrest the village priest, Father Krakau, for some petty offence, banded together about the church yard to-day, and weaponless, fought off 200 soldiers.

The village women formed a phalanx, linking together by interbraiding their hair and tying their hands together. With this wall of womenhood, they completely surrounded the church in a double line, and resisted for hours any attempt of the 120 infantrymen and 80 cavalry to penetrate the building.

When finally a charge of the cavalry crushed the human wall beneath the hoofs of the horses, a second line formed about the door of the church, hurling hot sand and burning salt in the eyes of the soldiers.

Fifty-six women were arrested, and many seriously injured.

When the priest was taken out, the attack was renewed by men, and four policemen were wounded.

WAGE WAR ON LABOR LEADER

W. Z. Foster, Radical, Now on Trial for Alleged Criminal Syndicalism

MOSCOW, March 29—(United Press)—William Z. Foster, the radical Labor Leader, now on trial at St. Joseph, Mich, for alleged "criminal syndicalism" as a result of his having attended a communist party convention last August, is being "railroaded" by the American capitalists, accrording to the view of Gregory Zinoviev, chairman of the executive committee of the Communist Internationale.

The prosecution in the Foster case contends that the American communists were directed by the Communistic Internationale, and in view of his outstanding position as the leader of the Internationale Communists Zinoviev's comments on the Foster case are of special interest.

THE WEATHER.

The 29th day of March, and ten below zero this morning, the fourth cold day in succession, and the eighth zero day this month. I have seen items saying that this was the coldest March in 60 years. I cannot say at present whether that is true or not, but have taken the trouble to look over all the weather books for the past quarter of a century, and can find nothing approaching the brand of weather at the end of March we have experienced the past few days. In one instance, that of March, 1912, snow lay on the ground to 24 inches at the end of the month, but what cold weather there was occurred at the beginning of the month. On March 31, 1903, the watering cart was going its rounds on George St. Snow still covers all the western provinces and winter conditions still prevail there, and as spring usually makes its first appearance there, the prospects for an early spring here are not very bright.—W. SIX LITTLE MAIDS ADMITTED LOOTING

Regina School Girls Detailed Their Exploits With Considerable Pride

REGINA, March 29.—(Canadian Press).—With the capture of six little girls, all under 13 years of age, and the confession of the children concerned, the city police have cleared up a series of mysterious petty thefts which have been taking place since last December.

Six little maids from school, children of Canadian parents, living in the south-east residential district of the city, told the police, not without a tinge of pride, that they had been making the price of their Christmas presents and picture shows by organized looting of houses. The value of goods stolen by the children is over $150, one haul alone being over $35 cash.

The number of houses entered in the past three months is not known, even to the children themselves. A pretty little child, barely eight years old, told the police she had been in so many houses that she could not begin to count them.

PLANS A WAR IN BEHALF OF SPIRITUALISM

Conan Doyle Coming to America Again to Take the Offensive Against False Mediums.

GHOST FRAUDS

LONDON, March 29. — Sir Arthur Conan Doyle revealed in an interview just before sailing for America that he plans an offensive war in behalf of spiritualism against critics and false mediums.

Armed with new evidence of ghostly conversations and ectoplastic photographs, which he will show for the first time in America, the famous novelist-spiritualist delivered these broadsides:

"People criticising spiritualism need to distinguish between true and false prophets. The public hasn't learned that lesson yet.

CONAN DOYLE.

"Why if Christ and his apostles came to New York to-morrow they would be arrested for vagrancy or some other trumped-up charge. They would have to fight public incredulity just as they did 1900 years ago.

"False mediumship is the exception rather than the rule. Not over 10 per cent of the mediums are fakirs.

"I propose that spiritualists form an international organization, and issue certificates of mediumship just as credentials were given by the early Christian church.

"We would prevent licenses being given to false mediums, and would withdraw certification from those found faking or abusing their powers."

Ghost frauds causing the greatest harm, says Sir Arthur, are not the ordinary mediums falsely claiming spirit power.

"I have no desire to bandy bitter words," he said, "with critics who charge that my spirit photographs and seances are frauds. Nor am I out to defend doubtful mediums, who are really camp followers, hanging on to the fringe of spiritualism and whom we cannot shake off.

"It is the spiritualists themselves who have exposed most of the clever fakirs. We are after the truth.

"As a rule it is not we who are deceived but rather the poor dupes who pay money to have their fortunes told and their future read. We can easily detect the ordinary false medium. Persons who are troubling us most are those having mediumistic powers intermittently. They may have genuine power Monday, for example, and not on Tuesday. Therefore some are prone to give exhibitions of genuine powers one day and to fake outrageously the next."

CARETAKER OF PARKS LEFT TO CITY COUNCIL

SAND FOR INVERLEA

The mood of indecision that led the Parks Committee into stalemate on the lease of Riverside Park last night also frustrated their efforts to recommend a caretaker for Victoria and Central Parks.

Of the four tenders, they were unable to agree on any of them. And just as the number four seemed to preside over the committee's movements during the midnight deliberations, they split into two equal groups of four each, one of which held out for Frank Wise with the highest tender of $925, while the other quartette, who happened to be lined up in a row on the opposite side of the long table, urged that D. Hayward's tender of $850, the lowest of the lot, be accepted.

The applicants for the position were:

Frank Wise, $925; Joseph Grierson, $900; D. Hayward, 616 Aylmer Street, $850; and Wm. Pearson, 658 Bethune Street, $875.

Ald. Stocker spoke in behalf of Mr Hayward, saying that although he had never seen him he knew that he had been five years with Mr. James at the Little Lake Cemetery and that he was well recommended and altogether worthy of the committee's confidence. He moved that Mr. Hayward be named, and Ald. Phelan seconded, saying that he was voting for the lowest tender.

Ald. Maher moved an amendment that Frank Wise get the position, and Ald. Morrison seconded it.

Mayor Taylor said he was going to stand behind the man employed last year. Mr. Wise was not only caretaker last year at $930 but also in 1921 at $985.

Ald. Morrison — We know the Parks were well looked after last year, and besides that the chairman of the Parks Committee last year strongly recommends Mr. Wise.

The division of the committee may be recorded as follows:—For Wise, Morrision Maher, Turner and Mayor Taylor.

For Hayward:—Aldermen Stoker, Phelan, Fife and Meyers.

As a result of this nullity, the choice of a Park Caretaker is passed on to the Council.

Kink Edward Park.

Ald. Turner was authorized by his committee to draw up the schedule for King Edward Park. It was intimated that these grounds were to be alloted entirely to the Football Association, although several lacrosse teams desire to get a few hours a week there.

The chairman was also instructed to have 100 loads of sand drawn to Inverlea Park to be used in leveling the bed of the river along the bathing beach after the Spring freshet has subsided.

Enforce Dog By-Law.

The Committee recommended that the Dog By-Law, which has been in suspension for many months, be enfosced after April 1st.

DAYS to The Motor Show

Say That Another Cold Wave Is Bearing Down on Ontario

March May Go Out Like the Proverbial Lamb, But It Will Be a Mighty Cold One—Probabilities For Easter Are Very Vague.

TORONTO, March 29 (Canadian Press). — March may go out like the proverbial lamb, but it will be a mighty cold lamb, so far as indicated by the weather prospects in Canada, at least from Lake Superior east to the sea.

As for Easter Sunday, the conditions this morning were too indifferent for the weather man to safely make any promises with much prospect of maintaining his enviable reputation as a good weather prophet.

Below zero temperatures were recorded this morning and during last night at most centres east of this city. Quebec City made a record for the early days of "gentle spring" by reporting a drop to 14 degrees below.

Probabilities are for a slight moderation in the cold weather in Ontario and Eastern Canada to-night. This may be only temporary, however, as another cold wave is bearing down from the North-west, with probably a little snow.

On the Pacific Coast and in the Chinook winds district, they are boasting to-day of real spring weather, but apparently the observatory man can promise the cold Prairies and the East no such luck till next week anyway.

SHOULD BOOST MOTOR SHOW

Its Success Means Much to Activities by Peterboro Health Association

The success of the Motor Show means a great deal to the numerous activities in which the Peterborough Health Association is interested. They are all community endeavors of the very highest order; visiting and nursing of the sick of the city who are unable to procure attention otherwise; work among the tubercular sufferers of the city; care of under-privileged children in the summer camp at Jackson Park, and the new work among the crippled children, supported by the Rotary Club.

In 1921, the number of general visits paid by the District Nurse was 1,336, with 572 visits to tubercular patients. In the eight months of 1922 during which reports are available, this being the term of service of the late Miss Hamilton, the number of general visits was 1,365, and 316 visits to tubercular patients. On an eight months' average, the total number of general visits in 1922 might be computed as 2,046, or an increase over the previous year of 690, and to tubercular patients 474, an increase of 158.

In 1921 the number of children attending the summer camp was nearly 100, while last year there were registered 220, a large increase. Expenses at the camp for the 1921 season were $854.04. Last season, they were $1,791.86.

Exclusive of a balance from the previous year of $985.54, total receipts of the Association in 1922 were $4,043.41, while their expenditure was $4,545.75. The difference in receipts and expenditures was made up from the bank balance on hand, and left a sum of $48320 with which to start operations this season.

With steadily increasing expenses and calls from so many sources, it can easily be seen how much depends on the success of the annual Motor Show, which last year netted the society the sum of $1,977.13, an increase over the previous year of $296.77. It is hoped that this year's event will surpass that of last season in every way.

SEARCH FOR SOURCE PLACER DIAMONDS

It was organized by W. J. Stewart, a native of Paris, Ont., who has been a field engineer in the colony for two years.

Some of thte members are: J. H. Knill, Paris; Dr. J. H. Boyce, Freelon; Capt. Proctor, Beaverton; Lieut L. McGillivray, London; Lieutt. Halton, Peterboro; Colin Dawson, Halifax, and F. E. Wentzell, Edmonton.

KING GROOMED BEVY BEGGARS

Historical Holy Thursday Ceremony Observed at Madrid by King Alfonso

MADRID, March 29.— (United Press.)—In the salon of columns in the Royal Palace, King Alfonso today washed and kissed the feet of twenty-four beggars— an historical Holy Thursday ceremony. The monarch knelt humbly in front of the beggars and with a small towel gently bathed the right foot of the lowest subjects. The Bishop of Zion then placed holy water on the foot where after His Majesty touched it with his lips, the queen and twelve Spanish dames likewise were thus honored. When this was concluded the beggars were taken to tables and the King and Queen served them with food, giving them baskets to carry home what they could not eat. Spain is the only nation since the fall of the Hapsburgs in Austria, where this ancient custom, expressive of humbleness, still prevails.

A UNION GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE AT ST. PAUL'S

A united service of all the Protestant churches has been held on Good Friday in Petterborough for a number of years. The custom originated over twelve years ago through the influence of Canon J. C. Davidson. It has been one of the beautiful union services of the churches ever since. It will be observed to-morrow at 3 o'clock in St. Paul's church. People of all denominations are invited to be present. The Ministerial Association will be in charge. They ask for an offering as in former years.

STRESSES NEED OF STREET CAR OR A 'BUS LINE

Correspondent Declares Community Development of East City is Retarded.

LETTER TO COUNCIL

The following communication, stressing the crying need for transportation of some kind to and from East City places the situation concisely before Council's Railway Committee. The letter is addressed to Alderman E. M. Turner, chairman of said committee, and treats of the subject from three angles as affecting industry, residence and community development. However, this year's Railway Committee of the City Council has already made representation to the Hydro-Electric Commission, urging provision for East City of either street railway connection or motor 'bus service, and intend, it is understood, following the matter up.

The Letter.

Mr. E. M. Turner,
Chairman Railway Committee,
City Council, Peterboro.

Dear Sir,—It appears that during the coming season the question of paving Hunter Street will again come up, and as this is one in which we are quite interested, we venture to write you at this time.

The matter of transportation is an important one for the development of any community, and particularly so when it is apparent that one section of a community is developing ahead of another section. At the present time it is apparent that the industry which we have established in East City is employing a number of people who are vitally interested in the question of transportation. At the same time there are other factories in this district who would be interested almost as much as we.

We are aware that this question was taken up with the Hydro-Electric Commission some time ago, and the reply was that they did not think it would pay, but we are informed that they would be pleased to go into it again if conditions seemed to warrant doing so.

Workers Increase.

At the present time we have established a factory here where one hundred and five hands are employed. We have one entire floor which is not occupied in any way, and which we expect eventually to fill with workers. In all probability the staff will be largely increased within the next eighteen months, and as a large number of those who apply to us for positions live in the other side of the city, it seems that the city of Peterborough should pro-

Italian Mining Policy

The present policy of the Italian Government in regard to mining will consist in leasing mines to companies rather than operating them for the account of the State. It is possible, however, that an exception will be made in the case of the Monte Amiata mercury mine, which may continue to be operated by the Government. This mine is said to be the largest producer.

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches.

THURSDAY

Rejected by the People.

"They cried out exceedingly, Crucify him!" Mark 15:14.

Read Mark 15:1-20.

"But Jesus could not save himself. When has love ever been able to save itself?"

MEDITATION: When they cried out against the love and goodness of Jesus, evil seemed to triumph. But where lay the victory? In reality it was love and goodness that triumphed!

HYMN:

Dear Lord and Father of mankind,
Forgive our feverish ways;
Reclothe us in our rightful mind,
In purer lives thy service find,
In deeper reverence, praise.

PRAYER: O God of Patience and Consolation give us such good-will, we beseech thee, that with free hearts we may love and serve thee and our brethern; and, having thus the mind of Christ, may begin heaven on earth, and exercise ourselves therein till that day when heaven, where love abideth, shall seem no strange habitation to us. For Jesus Christ's sake. Amen.

NATIONAL STRIKE OF RAILWAYMEN MAY BE CALLED

The Extension of Working Hours and Reduction of Wages Ordered For the Middle of April.

MAY BE SETTLED.

LONDON, March 29 (Canadian Press). — Important decisions were taken yesterday by the railway and building industries, which may involve serious stoppages.

The builders' and employers' conference resolved to instruct members throughout the country to enforce in the middle of April an extension of the working hours for summer time from 44 to 47, and reduce wages on a scale already rejected by the men in a ballot.

This will mean a general lockout, unless the Ministry of Labour can successfully intervene, and also an awkward dilemma for the Government, which is being constantly attacked for its failure to provide necessary housing accommodations.

The delegates to the conference of the National Union of Railwaymen have decided to support the shopmen in resisting the claim of the railway companies to the right to withdraw the remaining six shillings of war bnus.

Te delegates have instructed the Executive Council to call a national strike, if necessary.

It is still believed, however, that in the case of the railwaymen, some settlement can be arranged.

PROTECT FAMILIES OF MARRIED MEN.

LONDON, March 29.—(Canadian Press).—Every effort will be made to ensure that no married man will be assisted to proceed overseas in connection with the Empire's settlement scheme in advance of his wife and family, unless he has made proper provision for his dependents until they are able to join him. A statement to this effect was made by Lieut.-Col. Albert Buckley, secretary of the Department of Overseas Trade, in the House of Commons yesterday in answer to a question. Steps were being taken, he said, with a view to facilitating prospective settlers who were married being accompanied by their wives and families to the Dominions.

Earl of Carnarvon Suffers a Relapse

LONDON, March 29.—(Canadian Press.)—The Earl of Carnarvon has suffered a relapse, according to a Cairo despatch to the Times. His temperature has risen.

The Earl of Carnarvon, who has been supervising excavations at the tomb of Tutankhamen, has recently been suffering from blood poisoning, said to have caused by an insect bite. His wife is now at his bedside, having made part of the journey from Paris by airplane. His condition on March 21, several days after the development of the poisoning, was reported to be improved, but still serious, and a still further improvement was noted a day or two later.

The rise in the temperature, as now reported, indicates an extension or new development of the blood poisoning.

BRITISH CRUISER MAY BE FLOATED FROM THE ROCKS

Ice Has Moved Raleigh Which Was a Total Wreck Last Summer on the Rocks of Labrador.

FREE OF ROCKS.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 29.—Canadian Press. — The possibility of refloating the British cruiser Raleigh, which went ashore in the Straits of Belle Isle last summer, and was abandoned as a total loss, has been revived.

Reports made to the British Admiralty that the wreck had been moved by the pressure of the ice pack this winter led the British authorities to investigate the cruiser's present position on the Labrador rocks.

Yesterday an aviator flew from Botwood on the northeast coast of Labrador, and made photographs of the Raleigh as she now lies. These will be forwarded to the Admiralty for study. If the hulk has been freed from the rocks that held her it was said that an effort will be made to refloat the cruiser.

The Raleigh struck the rocks near Point Amour, Labrador, August 9, last, during a fog. Admiral Sir Wm. Pakenham and the officers and crew of the cruiser camped on the bleak Labrador coast until picked up by a liner from Montreal to Liverpool. Several seamen were drowned while taking a line ashore from the wreck.

Areas in the northern section of Labrador where gold was said to have been discovered last fall, are to be mapped by airplane, it was announced here yesterday. Three machines will fly along the coast to the little known districts of the north, and the rivers and other topographical features will be charted.

MANIPULATION TO RAISE PRICE SUGAR DENIED

Cuban Sugar Growers Say Present High Prices Due to Natural Causes and Not to Speculation.

GOOD CROP.

NEW YORK, March 29 (Canadian Press). — The Association of Mill Owners and Cane Growers of Cuba, in a message to Horatio S. Rubens, its honorary president, asserted the opinion yesterday that the rise in the price of sugar was due to legitimate causes, and not to speculative acts on the part of Cuban sugar producers.

Cuban producers, the message said, have sold freely during development of the crop, without attempting to hold or to speculate. The rise in the price of sugar was attributed to the statistical position and the demand for consumption.

"We desire," the Association's message added, "to assure the American people that nothing has been done by Cuban producers to artificially impose high prices. Owing to bad economic conditions, continuation of great cane supplies were impossible, and this, together with the drought in Cuba, has affected the available cane supply.

This Association now is gathering the necessary data to arrive at a definite estimate, giving a truthful picture of the year's sugar crop in Cuba."

Supplementing the Association's message, Mr. Rubens quoted published reports showing 1923 sugar shipments from Cuba to be 1,219,225 tons, as of 17th March. On that date, he said, there was only 811,302 tons of sugar on hand in Cuba, as compared to 1,217,227 tons a year ago.

The surplus of 1922, Mr. Rubens said, naturally resulted in a record of low prices, leading to the selling of sugar below the cost of production. In 1922, he added, the mills did not begin grinding until the second half of January, which accounted for the larger production this year.

LAKEFIELD CLUB ANNUAL MEETING.

Curlers Had a Splendid Season—Prize-Winners—Supper Followed.

LAKEFIELD, March 29. — The annual meeting of the Lakefield Curling Club was held here and was followed by a sumptuous supper at the Lakefield House served by Mine Host Lawless.

Sixty-five members were present, out of a possible eighty, the prevailing flu being responsible for the non-attendance of several.

The meeting was very successful, and was much enjoyed by all present. The presentation of prizes took place at 8.30, and was on a much larger scale than ever before, as three beautiful trophies for the local clubs were donated this season, and added very much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The Fitz-Gerald Trophy for local competition in the schedule games was presented by H. G. Fitz-Gerald, and was won by R. Claire Chittick's ring, the prizes were pipes donated by Theo Crawford, who presented them to the men, viz., S. Wannamaker, W. J. Charlton, R. J. Jory, and S. Chittick, skip.

The club donated pipes to the runners-up: B. Hull, S. J. Charlton, J. J. McFadden, and B. Q. Dench, skip.

The final games in this competition were played on 16th February.

The Casement and Tanner Cups for the local bonspiel, which was held on 19th February and succeeding evenings, were presented next in order.

W. H. Casement presented the Casement Cup to D. H. Charlton and his rink, T. B. Marling, H. Wagar, James Millar, and D. H. Charlton, skip, the prizes being pipes with amber mouthpieces. The runners-up—R. H. Little, S. McKibbin, George Spence, Dr. Gibson, skip—received alarm clocks.

The Tanner Trophy, the vice-skips' cup, was won by R. J. Jory and rink, H. G. Fitz-Gerald, A. Young, E. Watson, and R. J. Jory, skip, the prizes being gold cuff links; the runners-up receiving jack-knives, Chas. Lake, G. Preston, J. H. Chant, G. G. Connell, skip. R. A. Tanner made these presentations.

The last trophy was a handsome antique, presented by Messrs Dench and Moore, to the rink which was beaten by the largest score in the local competition for the Fitz-Gerald Trophy.

This trophy was won by J. E. Galvin's rink, F. Waldon, J. H. Chant, H. G. Fitz-Gerald, and J. E. Galvin, skip. This trophy was presented by J. W. Ridpath, who made a very elaborate speech, asserting that the cup came from the tomb of King Tutankhamen, while the pedestal was of mahogany made from the cedars of Lebanon, and was of very great value, and should not be made light of.

The prizes which accompanied this consisted of bottles of ketchup, to be carried on the hip pocket and to be partaken of only when the score was against them, so as to enable them to "ketchup."

There was also presented to this rink very handsome little soap dolls, neatly tied up in tissue paper which (so said the speaker, who waxed eloquent on the subject) would wash away the remembrance of defeat.

The trophy will probably be on exhibition in one of the store windows, as Mr. Galvin could not take it home without his bob sleighs.

The assembled curlers did full justice to the bountiful supper, and drank a toast to Mr. and Mrs. Lawless, who had done so much to make the evening the success it was. It was the crowning event of the best season in the club's history, and will always remain a very happy memory.

Another toast which was honoured by all was to "Dad" Morin, who was the guest of the club, and who fully deserves the high regard in which he is held by the members of the Curling Club.

H. Wagar related several anecdotes which enlivened the evening.

These officers were elected for the coming year:

Sarah Bernhardt Rests at Last in Her Rosewood Coffin

Body of the "Divine" Sarah Was Placed Yesterday in the Famous Casket Which She Had Made Over Thirty Years Ago — Clad in White Satin Dress and Wearing the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

Paris March 29. Canadian Press.—The body of Sarah Bernhardt last night rested in the famous rosewood casket lined with white satin which was made to her order 30 years ago, and in which she was frequently photographed while on her foreign tours.

Abbe Loutil, Cure of the Church of St. Francois De Sales, where the funeral services will be held to-day at noon, said the last prayers over the great artiste yesterday. Then she was tenderly lifted from her bed and placed in the coffin, which was taken to the ground floor of the home where a room had been transformed into a chapel.

Bernhardt is still clad in her white satin dress. Over her face and hair a fine lace veil has been drawn. On her breast is pinned the Cross of the Legion of Honor and around her neck is a ribbon holding the golden locket containing the picture and lock of hair of her son Maurice, which she always wore.

The casket was closed except for the upper part so that the face could be seen through the veil. This ceremony over the interrupted passage of mourners was resumed.

The basket will be taken to the church this morning at 8 o'clock and after the services the funeral procession will go to the Cemetery Pere La Chaise, where the body will be placed in a simple but massive vault with decoration and bearing only one word: "Bernhardt."

The Paris city authorities had hoped to hold the services in some great church such as La Madeleine, but Bernhardt's wish was that it be as simple as possible and her preference was for the relatively small church which she attended while in Paris. There will be no orations at the funeral, in compliance with her wish, but her desire for 'many flowers" is certain to be gratified by the public.

BLUE SKY LAW UNDER DEBATE

Charles McCrea Warns Against Feeling of False Security That Might Arise From the Act.

TORONTO, March 29.— (Canadian Press.)— The Legislature yesterday afternoon continued with the budget and blue sky law debates. In the latter Chas. McCrea (Con. Sudbury) warned against the terrible responsibility that the passing of the Act would entail in creating a false security in the minds of the general public. Previously the caution of the buyer was invoked in all stock selling companies. But with bill passed the public would assume that the company was all right and yet there was nothing in the act that would positively prevent stock buyers losing their money in companies. He declared that the bill was not the same as that in force in the provinces and states where the L. R. Steel Company had been refused permission to sell stock.

Hon. W. E. Raney said he thought nobody was so stupid as to believe that the law would prevent all stock buyers from investing in losing propositions. Mr. McCrea insisted that the public seemed to think that a blue sky law would be absolute protection against being "stung." Mr. McCrea said that many had lost money in investing in mine properties upon which the government had passed as containing mineral. Mr. Raney however, said that the law would guarantee that a proper amount of the capital subscribed would go into work on the property no matter if mineral was found or not.

A. W. Gray (Con. Leeds) continuing the debate on the budget said the Legislature should have a Hansard. He exhorted the government to prevent the drift of young Canadians to United States before bringing in more immigration. From his district alone in the last year 20 men had gone to U. S. cities. Mr. Gray asked that Eastern Ontario have a representative on the Hydro Commission and said the east was not getting generous enough treatment from the Hydro. He also requested a redistribution without any venture into proportional representation. No matter what their party names the next government in Ontario he said would be very conservative legislation. H. K. Denyes (government East Hastings) said House should appoint a committee to arrive at a uniform system of book keeping for provincial treasurers in preparation of their budgets. Mr. Denyes attacked those who went about the country talking ruin about agriculture and launched into a vigorous defence of the Ontario Temperance Act and its administration He claimed that drinking had been greatly reduced, with a consequent benefit to the province.

ASK INCREASE IN FREIGHT CHARGES.

WASHINGTON, March 29—(Canadian Press).—The Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday heard final arguments on the petition of Western railroads to have freight rates on corn, oats, barley and all grains other than wheat fixed at the same level as those on wheat. Attorneys for the railroads were opposed in argument by representatives of Western farmers and shippers.

When the Commerce Commission in 1921 ordered a special reduction averaging about 13 per cent. in all Western grain rates it likewise required that the coarse grains be given rates ten per cent. below the level of rates on wheat and applied the rule to all the territory between the Pacific Coast and the Mississippi River.

Happiness isn't scarce. It just isn't being used much.

TOO EXPENSIVE TO REBUILD OLD NAVAL VESSELS

France Tried the Experiment About Twenty Years Ago But the Remodelled Ships Were Valueless.

REPAIR WORK.

PARIS, March 29. — (Canadian Press.)—The discussion in the United States concerning the modernising of all naval ships is being followed with much interest in French naval circles. The points of the Washington Treaty have been closely studied and it is the opinion that the signatories may carry out the modernization of ships if they so wish. It is contended that the wording of the treaty is unmistakeable and clear, but it is added that it is not practicable to spend too much money on the remodelling of vessels.

A wave of economy struck the French Navy about twenty years ago, it is recalled. It was argued at that time that it was perfectly good business to rebuild old ships, thereby saving the expense of new ones. Following this policy, a certain class of fine old ships underwent the remodelling process, among the number the "Devastation." It was found, however, that remodelling had been as expensive as building new ships, and the remodelled vessel was of such little value that she was never re-commissioned.

The repair work now being done on French capital ships, it is stated, is only of an essential nature, and has to do principally with improving the gun ranges.

ARCHBISHOP WILL NOT BE EXECUTED AT ONCE

WARSAW, March 28.—(Canadian Press) —Polish Government has been informed through Soviet Minister in Warsaw that death sentence against Archbishop Zepliak, head of Roman Catholic Church in Russia will not be carried out by Russian Government, "At least for present," and that affair will be taken up in diplomatic negotiations, Premier Sikirski made this announcement to Polish Senate this morning.

LENINE VERY ILL

LONDON, March 29.—(Canadian Press)—The condition of Lenine the Russian Premier, is again causing anxiety, according to a Riga despatch to The Times. It is reported that he lay for nearly a week motionless, during which time his temperature and pulse were almost normal. But on Monday a change for the worse occurred; is temperature rose and his pulse became accelerated, and breathing difficult.

Patrol Boat for Lake Erie Fisheries

TORONTO, March 29.— (Canadian Press.)— At a meeting of the Fish and Game committee yesterday a recommendation was passed that Ontario purchase a patrol boat to see that fishermen in Lake Erie are properly licensed and to prevent non-residents from doing what residents are refused permission to do. The temporary use of bull nets in Lake Erie will be allowed until the committee has made a complete investigation. It was decided to have the angling licenses set at $5 all over the province.

PRINCE OF WALES THROWN AGAIN

British Public Becoming Anxious For Safety of Heir to the Throne.

LONDON, March 29—The Prince of Wales' love for steeplechasing is beginning to cause public anxiety, owing to the frequency with which he meets mishap.

Wales, himself, however, makes light of his risks.

The Evening Standard yesterday said wide comment had been provoked in society circles and that the feeling prevailed that the Prince's advisers should persuade him, in view of the responsibility of his position, to confine himself to hunting, leaving the jumps for other people.

The heir-apparent had another mishap yesterday when, participating with Prince George in the Melton Steeplechases and riding in the Ladies' Plate, his mount, "Little Christy," was brought down by the balking at another horse at the seventh fence. After taking six unsuccessful attempts to get his mount over, Wales gave up.

The Prince also far the first time competed against professional jockeys in an open race, and came in fourth after a narrow escape from being unseated.

TO SEARCH FOR HERO.

WINNIPEG, March 29. — (Canadian Press).—Former officers who served with him in the 52nd Battalion in France are prepared to organize a search party in the spring to proceed north and search for Captain Christopher O'Kelly, V.C., of Winnipeg, who with a prospector named Murray, has been missing in the north country since before Christmas, it was learned yesterday.

A search party was sent out from here early in January, but returned some weeks ako without finding any trace of the missing men.

Unless Captain O'Kelly and his companion are nearing civilization now, it would be impossible for them to get out before the middle of May, when the lakes and rivers become navigable, it is thought.

BRITISH GOVT. WILL NOT ACT AS MEDIATOR

Stanley Baldwin Says the Ruhr Situation Has Not Reached a Stage Where Negotiations Are Possible

BONAR LAW ILL.

LONDON, March 29 (Canadian Press). — The debate last evening in the House of Commons on the Ruhr question, which had been much anticipated as possibly indicating a new line of British policy, lacked much of its expected interest.

This was due, first to the absence of Prime Minister Bonar Law, who is still suffering from a mild throat affection; second, to Premier Poincare's renewed declaration against any mediation, and probably also to the possibility that something may develop from the current conferences in Milan between Premier Mussolini of Italy, Foreign Minister Jasper of Belgium, and others, arising from Hugo Stinnes' visit to Italy.

Even had the British Ministers some idea of a new policy, they would probably hold their hand, pending the outcome of these conferences.

All these considerations, taken together, did not prevent Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, former Premier Asquith, J. Ramsay Macdonald, and Sir Edward Grigg, who opened the debate last night, from strongly criticising the French policy and trying to provoke the Government into taking a stronger line. Their efforts, however, were unsuccessful; Stanley Baldwin, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who replied for the Government, took precisely the same line that the Prime Minister has taken on previous occasions.

Mr. Baldwin compared the situation in Europe to the beginnings of a great industrial strike, and said exactly the same temper was exhibited—a temper which would brook no interference. It was only by keeping in direct, close and honest touch with the interested parties that the man outside might know when the right moment came for him to be welcomed as mediator. He emphasised the danger of premature interference which would only provoke the situation.

"If we were to so conduct our conversations with our Allies as to lose their confidence and make them feel that we were taking an attitude of hostility, our whole powers, which, I believe, will later be immense, would be dislocated," he said. He added that the Government was in close touch with the Allies and the other countries concerned, and he was convinced that by following the policy indicated, the French would recognise when the opportune moment came for any intervention, that the British had been perfectly

The Easter Breakfast

Premium Ham or Bacon

THAT breakfast on Easter Morning should consist of Bacon and Eggs has become almost as honored a national institution as Turkey for Thanksgiving.

But on this Easter Morning, bright with the promise of Springtime—vigor—and joy—the Bacon certainly should be "Premium"—the world's standard—as befitting the occasion. Substitute ordinary Bacon or Ham for Swift's "Premium" and you dull the joy of the meal.

For Swift's "Premium" Bacon is of characteristic and distinctive quality. Firstly, by its choice selection—for "Premium" Brand must have just the right proportion of fat and lean. Then next it possesses an unmatched succulence and savoriness due to the exclusive Swift process of curing and smoking.

Be careful to get Swift's "Premium" when you buy Bacon or Ham—make sure of it this coming Easter Morning. Order from your Butcher or Grocer.

GOOD WORK.

The Mayor's comment on the publicity work of the Trent Waterways Association at the New York Motor Boat Show—"it was money well spent"—will, it is to be fancied, be endorsed by the citizens.

The assurance that at least 43 motor boat owners are to cruise through the waterway next summer, as a result of the publicity given the route and that still other prospects were developed, indicates how effective was the advertising display.

The coming of so many motor boat tourists to the district means that a lot of money will be spent along the route of the canal and that in itself should be a source of satisfaction.

But it means more than that, for it will follow as a natural result that each of these visitors will go home enthusiastic with the scenic beauties of the waterway, and thus constitute themselves the best kind of publicity agents, bringing more and more tourists to Peterboro each year.

The Examiner endorsed the proposal when it was first made and in view of the results secured at New York, is glad it took a favourable view of the Association's endeavours and recommended them to the Council.

A RAY OF HOPE.

There is a ray of hope for Canada's taxpayer in the railway budget presented by Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Acting Minister of Railways and Canals.

Mr. Graham's prediction that there is a possibility of the system being placed on a paying basis within five years will have a tonic effect and will be received with open satisfaction by the people.

Significant figures in his report are those dealing with the operating expenditures, which show a net revenue during 1922 of $4,193,550, as compared with a deficit of $11,847,818 in 1921.

The Canadian National Railways will ask the Parliament to vote on its account for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1924, the sum of $73,189,015, a reduction from the amount voted last year of $24,000,000.

The big reduction in the operating deficit and the optimistic nature of the Minister's statement will be hailed with delight.

The railway problem is one of Canada's most pressing difficulties, and the announcement from Hon. Mr. Graham that substantial progress has been made in placing the system on a paying basis will have a tonic effect upon the whole country.

If the National Railways are on the main line to prosperity, the Canadian people will have much for which to be thankful.

HAND-BOOK GAMBLING.

Hand-book gambling in Ontario would seem to be doomed even if the amendments introduced by Sir Lomer Gouin in the Federal House should fail to pass the Senate—not an impossible development.

The bill introduced by Attorney-General Raney in the Ontario Legislature will eliminate the evil in the event of the Dominion legislation running on the rocks.

If the publication of the information as to odds, etc., upon which the hand-book gentry depend in order to carry out their operations is prohibited, the illegal gambling will die a natural death; it cannot possibly be carried on unless there is information quickly available as to odds, pari-mutual payments and similar intelligence.

The hand-book evil is a much more serious matter than race-track betting, which is, of course, still legalized, for it extends into every centre in Canada instead of being confined to a few race tracks.

There is always racing going on somewhere, and so long as the gambling fraternity can depend upon the newspapers for accurate information the hand-books will flourish.

The cutting off of the data upon which the bets are paid will practically eradicate the trouble.

It will unquestionably be in the public interest to put an end to this form of gambling, which has been the cause of much distress and productive to a considerable extent of crime and disgrace.

With both Federal and Provincial administration ready to act, it looks as if the hand-book men will have to shut up shop.

THE POLICE COMMISSION.

Representatives of Ontario cities who waited upon the Attorney-General yesterday in reference to a change in the method of appointing police commissioners by which two would be elected by the people were by no means unanimous in their views.

In fact, nearly as many cities opposed the change as they were in favour of a new policy, and Hon. Mr. Raney did not hesitate in condemning the proposal, saying that he was far from being convinced that it was in the interests of the administration of justice and would oppose the bill in the House.

It would be surprising if the measure should succeed in getting enough support to pass.

Practically every person connected with law enforcement is opposed to the principle of this measure.

Mr. Raney's statement that eighteen out of nineteen city crown attorneys in Ontario whom he had asked for opinions opposed any change, shows how almost unanimous those encharged with the administration of the law are in the opinion that the introduction of an elective system of choosing police commissioners would be dangerous.

That has been the Examiner's position since this matter was first introduced, and we have seen no reason to change our views.

The trouble with many of the city councils who have asked for a change is that they are so much concerned with the question of law enforcement as they are with finances.

Efficiency in police departments is not the goal aimed at, but rather the control of the expenditures of the department.

It is just as well to have such matters in the hands of commissioners who do not have to look at every decision they make in the light of the effect it may have on election day.

THE POPULARITY OF GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

The monumental extravagance that loaded upon the Province the palace overlooking the smoking chimneys of the Don Valley is still a sore subject with Ontario farmers, but if anything could reconcile them, even in small measure, to the constant drain on the Treasury involved in the maintenance of Government House, it would be the use to which the present incumbent is putting the costly pile of stone, says the Farmers' Sun. Tradition had made Government House a social centre, where only the "cream" of society found a welcome. Two or three times a year the members of the Legislature were invited to dine with His Honour and rub shoulders with bishops, judges and millionaire merchants, but for the most part society tenanted Government House.

A few months after Col. Henry Cockshutt accepted the Lieutenant-Government of Ontario it became apparent that tradition was due for a severe shaking-up. Colonel Cockshutt proceeded on the assumption that his duties were more weighty than the droning of a Speech from the Throne, prepared by someone else, the formal approval of bills and orders-in-Council, and the entertainment of the "upper crust." He instituted a series of luncheons, and made Government House a means of bringing men of all parts of the Province and of all classes into friendly personal touch with each other.

Now he has gone beyond the Province and has used his office in an endeavor to promote better feeling between the two greatest Provinces in Canada. The invitation to distinguished representatives of Quebec to visit Toronto as guests of His Honour was a happy idea that will probably be followed by a similar visit by Ontario men to Quebec. There is a tendency to expect too much from events like Saturday's visit and to ignore the practical difficulties of the issue, that lie at the bottom of the lack of accord between the peoples of the two Provinces, but no one with a mind free from prejudice can doubt that the closer Ontarioans and French-Canadians of Quebec are brought together by one agency or another, the greater chance there will be of a good-will productive of understanding and eventually of accord.

THE TREASON OF THE PESSIMISTS.

No journal in Canada is discussing the whole problem of immigration with greater sanity and courage than the Grain Growers' Guide. Although it is the official organ of the Progressives, it is not intimidated by the pessimists among the political Farmers. Its attitude should give confidence to the Government and hope to the country.

There could be no greater mistake than to think that the spirit of optimism is dead in the Western Provinces. There has been a season of adversity for Western farmers, as for farmers the world over, but agriculture will revive and prosperity will be restored. In the meantime nothing that Governments can do to assist agriculture may be neglected. There is no disposition to evade that obligation either in the Federal Parliament or in the Legislatures. There will be differences of opinion as to what legislation should be adopted for Canada, as there are differences of opinion over the rural problems in the British Parliament and in the American Congress. In so far, however, as it is practicable to assist agriculture by banking reform, by safe systems of credit, by readjustment of freight charges and by better marketing machinery the representatives of all classes in Parliament and in the Legislatures have an open and sympathetic ear turned towards the rural communities.

To suggest that better home markets would be of advantage to Western farmers is not mere protectionist dogma, nor is it purely gratuitous advice to point out that Western farmers should endeavor to provide in greater degree variety of products for Western towns and cities. Indeed there is much evidence that they now recognize these facts for themselves and are wisely adjusting themselves to changing conditions. Few States in the adjoining country have escaped the experiences through which the Canadian Prairies have been passing. Less than forty years ago the grain growers of Wisconsin, once the chief wheat-growing State of the Union, were on the verge of bankruptcy. They turned to dairying and stock-raising and in a single year the dairy products of the State have reached a value of $177,000,000. Portions of South Dakota had like experiences and Kansas was twice depopulated and twice repopulated. Always the pioneers bear heavy penalties for the benefit of their descendants. But ultimately there is discovery, recovery, stability and prosperity save for the passing cycles of depression which no class or country escapes.

Who believes that the future of the Canadian West will be less happy or less wonderful than the optimists have predicted? It was only forty years ago that the first transcontinental railway, which the pessimists declared could not earn axle grease for its engines, was completed. One-half of the West's 2,000,000 of population have only been twenty years in the country. For ten of these years we have been involved in a great war and embarrassed by the desperate problems of reconstruction. Over three great new states we have provided all the institutions of municipal, provincial and national government, have established schools and universities, covered the country with telegraphic and telephone services, and altogether can offer such conveniences and advantages to incoming settlers as no other new country ever possessed. But we must have immigration to ease the burden, to assist in maintaining schools and highways, to give prosperity to towns and cities, and to increase the production which will give a greater volume of traffic to the railways and ensure lower freight charges.

All down the years Canada has been cursed by its pessimists.—Montreal Star.

MANILA A FREE PORT

MANILA, P. I., March 29.—The creation of a commission to study the problems arising in connection with the proposed conversion of Manila in to a free port, or of a part of the harbor and waterfront into a free zone, is proposed in a bill introduced in the house by Representative Thomas Confesor.

The commission would be composed of the secretary of commerce and communications, the director of public works, the insular collector of customs, and two others to be named by the governor general.

"It is said that if Manila were converted into a free port or a free zone," said Representatice Confesor, "it would thus be made the logical distributing center for American commerce in the Far East, which would greatly aid our commercial development."

The bill appropriates $25,000 for the expenses of the commission, which is to report to the legislature next December.

DEFIED LAW LAND IN SOVIET RUSSIA.

The Government Declares Priests Convicted of Incitement to Violence.

LONDON, March 29 (Canadian Press). — The Rosta Agency, the Russian Soviet official Agency, has issued a statement here declaring that the members of the Catholic Church just convicted at Moscow, were charged with offences for which they would have been equally liable for prosecution in any country in the world, namely, defiance of the law of the land and open and secret incitement to violence.

"The Soviet Government," continues the statment, "is not prepared to tolerate such activities, particularly when the offenders declare that their allegiance is to a foreign religious authority, and not to the Russian Government, and still less when there is reason to suspect direct intercourse with a hostile State. In Soviet Russia, as in all other civilised countries, priests have no proviliges or extra-territorial rights in the eyes of the law."

NEWS BRIGHTON AND CAMBORNE

Growers Are Not Getting Value For Apples—Fire at Frankford — Easter Services.

BRIGHTON, March 29.—A prominent Brighton man brought a very pertinent matter before the special Agricultural Committee of the House of Commons by referring to the fact that Northumberland county apples which brought the grower $2.00 a barrel or thereabouts on the tree, when peddled out in Canadian cities in small lots cost the ultimate consumer $9.00 a barrel. This no doubt accounts for the fact that even in an apple growing district, people buy British Columbia apples, while the choice varieties which we could raise ourselves are not largely retailed here. It looks as if the spread between the price which the former receives, and the price which the consumer pays, is the result of several middle men receiving a large slice of profit.

His passing was all the more sad because of the fact that while Mr. Williamson was walking down on the icy pavement he slipped and fell with great force striking his head. Concussion of the brain resulted and he died the following day. Mr. Williamson was the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Williamson of Camborne. INSPIRING TALK ON HOLY GRAIL

Judge Huycke Delivers Address to the Lakefield Preparatory School Boys.

LAKEFIELD, March 29.—Judge E. C. Huycke of Peterboro gave a very interesting and inspiring address to the boys of the Lakefield Preparatory School on Monday evening on "The Holy Grail."

Rev. A. W. Mackenzie, principal of the school, introduced the speaker, who is always a popular visitor to the school.

Judge Huycke prefaced his talk by stating that Britain is a Christian nation, a patriotic one and very proud (as they should be) of their traditions. These two characteristics are interlaced as we see in our national arts, such as music, poetry and old books.

In the south west part of England in Somerset is a hill known as Wearyall hill with the ruins of a church on its summit, and there excavating for relics is constanly going on. This is Glastonbury, the site of the first Christian church built in Britain. There is the following wonderful legend about it which adds greatly to its interest:

When our Lord and his disciples met for the last supper, the story of which we all know so well, it was Joseph of Arimathea who loaned a beautiful jeweled cup for the use of Christ. Joseph was a rich and powerful Jew and while secretly a believer in Christ, he had not yet taken any open stand for Him. After the supper, Joseph got the cup and when the Roman Centurian with his spear pierced the side of the Crucified Christ, Joseph held the cup while some of the blood from the wound dropped into it. From this time on this cup with the Lords blood became his most sacred possession. The blood (so the legend goes) never congealed, but throbbed as in life; the spear too, never ceased to drip fresh blood. Joseph was no longer a secret follower of Christ, but openly all his life he proclaimed his Christian faith. Very few of us know anything about Christ's funeral, though we all know of His death, Resurrection and Ascension. There is a beautiful picture which shows the funeral of Christ as the artist pictured it. The body wrapped in spices and linen placed in a bier, which was carried on poles by four men who bore the body to the new tomb, the gift of Joseph of Arimathea. The disciples followed with great sorrow and lamentation; of the four men, who bore the sacred body, the first two were richly dressed Jews of high rank—Nicodemus and Joseph of Arimathea another was a sweet faced gentle young man in a white robe, the disciple whom Jesus loved (St. John), and the fourth was a Roman soldier in full armour ,the very centurian who had pierced Christ's side with his spear and who in the last hour of the Saviour's life believed in Him and asked to be allowed to assist at His burial. This soldier remained faithful to his Lord and was after canonized by the Christian church. After our Lord's resurrection Joseph was arrested and thrust into prison where he semained for forty years he was sustained by the presence of the Sacred Cup which possessed remarkable properties, for the possessor wanted for nothing. After Titus destroyed Jerusalem, Joseph was released and after a miraculous vision he took the cup and all his family and friends and entered a ship, sailing away to strange lands. Though nearly shipwrecked, Joseph kept his faith in the vision, which he believed to be of Divine origin and finally he and his companion landed safely on the south west coast of England. After wandering about they climbed the high hill known as Wearyall Hill, and from there they saw a beautiful Island called Avalon, or the Isle of Apples, which they had been seeking. Joseph took his staff and thrust it into the ground, where it torn tree which grew from Joseph's once, as a sign of Divine approval. On this hill they built a church (Glastonbury) in which they placed the cup or grail (the latter a Saxon word) and the dripping spear. The thorn tree which grew from Joseph's staff still blossoms at Christmas, mindful of our Lord. The holy grail (as the cup became known) was not always seen, but would withdraw itself from sight; it was always clearest to those who were pure in heart, those who were wicked could not see it at all.

King Arthur.

King Arthur, continued Judge Huycke, the legendery king of Britain ,was the son of King Utherpendragon (who died before the birth of his son) and was taken by Merlin, the magician, to Sir Ector, a knight who was brave and worthy to be trusted and who was possessed of a remarkably good wife, who cared fort Arthur until he grew up, keeping him in ignorance of his royal birth. The legend of King Arthur inspired the ideals of the British people, and legends, poetry and pictures on this subject are not only known and loved in Britain, but also in France and Germany. There are two great operas written on this subject, "Lohengrin" and "Parsifal." King Henry II of England sought to emulate King Arthur in his wonderful conquests and personality. A grave was discovered at Glastonbury which had a Latin inscription, which translated read, "Here lies Arthur who was King and will be King again," and for several hundred years the Britons looked for Arthur's return.

The legend of the huge stone floating down the Thames with a sword unbedded in it is well known. The man who could pull the sword out was to be king. Young Arthur a mere lad acting as squire to his foster brother Sir Kay, son of Sir Ector), accidently saw the stone and sword and pulled out the sword and was subsequently proclaimed King. The sword, which was known as Excalibur was a treasured possession. King Arthur established the greatest order of chivalry ever known and his Knights of the Round Table became famous. The swore to fear God, honor and obey the King and to protect the weak, especially the ladies. This order of chivalry was maintained for years and there the Holy Grail was mentioned and the knights set out to find it. Many lost their lives but few saw it. Sir Launcelot, the strongest knight, saw it, Percival saw it and his sister, who was one of the purest of women and Sir Galahad, the peerless, pure knight with his white shield and blood red cross saw it and followed it over the moor and fen and he finally disappeared.

Tennyson, who has written much beautiful poetry on the subject rather reproaches the knights for following this vision and neglecting the poetical side of life and the helping of ones' fellow men in leading the ascetic life.

This is a wonderful and very beautiful legend which may not be true but whether true or not it cannot help being an inspiration to higher ideals.

straightforward throughout, and would also be accepted as honest negotiators.

During the course of the debate, Mr. Asquith closely pressed the Government concerning what he characterised as the remarkable statement made on Tuesday by Baron von Rosenberg, in which the German Foreign Minister suggested the formation of an international commission of investigation.

Mr. Asquith wanted to know whether the British Ministers had taken any steps to consult the other Powers concerned in regard to such a commission, or whether they were still committed to an attitude of "benevolent impotence."

Mr. Baldwin ignored this challenge, but Ronald McNeill, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, who spoke later, insisted that Baron von Rosenberg's suggestion was nothing more than the idea put forward some time ago by the United States Secretary of State.

The Chancellor pointed out that Mr. Asquith had quite omitted the mention of the important qualification that Germany, as a condition precedent to any move of the kind, insisted upon complete evacuation of the Ruhr, to which, as everybody was aware, the French had not the slightest intention of seceding. Therefore, declared the Under-Secretary, he could see no advance whatever in the German Foreign Minister's speech.

INVALID EGGS IN THE HOUSE

Interesting Discussion on the Graded Egg Service—A Farm For Nothing.

OTTAWA, March 29 (Canadian Press). — "Invalid eggs" and "fresh laid eggs" were discussed in the special committee on agricultural conditions yesterday afternoon,when Harry C. Grant, Hudson Bay fellow at Manitoba University, was a witness for the third session.

Mr. Grant also expressed his views on co-operative marketing and the part the Government should play in such a development.

"When I see signs up in a grocery" asked A. R. McMaster, chairman, "invalid eggs one dollar, one-day-old eggs, ninet, cents, and fresh-laid eggs sixty-five cents, what do those signs mean?"

"They mean nothing at all," replied Mr. Grant, "except the dealer's own opinion of the eggs, and he might as well brand a sack of wheat without looking inside."

Mr. Grant gave the committee an account of graded egg service in Alberta, and stated that number one eggs could not be sold in Calgary.

"Why?" he was asked

"Because the dealers put number twos on the market as fresh from the country," replied the witness.

He stated also that Canada exported to the United States four million dollars worth of eggs and imported two millions worth, but that the number of eggs might be about the same, as the exports were number ones and the imports the inferior qualities.

There was a discussion over the possibility of the Government providing for the farmers information in advance to the market for farm produce, and the witness suggested that agricultural attaches should be added to the trade commission's office.

"Don't you realise," remarked Mr. McMaster, "that the farmer is co-operating with Providence."

"We as farmers," agreed Thomas Sales, "are going it blind in a way that is very different from any manufacturer on earth."

Asked his opinion in regard to co-operation, the witness said that it was "the only solution." He added that "co-operation is an ideal and not a force. If that were forgotten, he explained, the members of co-operative societies would shatter their organisation in order to take advantage of some temporary situation.

Co-operation, he maintained, must not raise the price to the consumer, but must give higher quality. The farmer could get larger returns by the abolition, not of all middlemen, but of those middlemen who were unnecessary.

Dealing with a proposal for co-operative marketing, Mr. Sales asked what part the Government should take.

"Not very much," was the reply.

"The province of Government," added Mr. Grant, "is in supervision and grading and inspection, also credit on proper security and marketing information. The Government should supply credit to organisation of producers to enable them to finance their marketing."

"Do you think Government guarantee of bonds for railways has been wise," asked Mr. McMaster.

"It was justified in the circumstances," was the answer of the witness, "inasmuch as it was permitted the building of the railways."

In support of Mr. Grant's evidence as to conditions in Waskada district, Robert Milne, Neepawa, read a newspaper advertisement offering a farm in that district for the payment of the taxes alone. The advertisement stated that the farm had "good farm buildings" and "considerable hay."

A BRISK DISCUSSION ON LABOR ESTIMATES

Leaders Clash During the Argument — Mr. Forke Observes That Exchange Was Very Entertaining

OTTAWA, Ont., March 29.—(Canadan Press.)—Consideration of labor estimates in the House yesterday brought some lively clashes between the Prime Mlinster and the leader of the Opposition. Mr. Meighen criticized the appointment of Mrs. Carruthers to represent Canada at the coming session of the governing body of the International Labor Office as that of an English woman politician. Premier King retorted that Mr. Meighen's view was small and narrow and urged that Mrs. Carruthers was an authority on questions of labor legislation to be discussed by the governing body.

Mr. Meighen wanted to know what the government had done to put the labor planks of the 1919 Liberal platform into effect. Mr. King cited: Restoration of responsible government; representation of labor on the Canadian National directorate; legislation to restrict Chinese immigration, and intimated that other planks would be given effect as conditions permitted. Mr. Meighen challenged the view that there had been return of responsible government and, as the appointment of Tom Moore to the C.N.R. directorate had not been approved by the employes of the system, it was a "direct violation of the commitment of the party in this House."

Later, there was a keen passage between Mr. Meighen and Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor. Mr Meighen declared that as a result of the exodus south, the United States was relieving Canada of a great deal of worry in regard to unemployment. Mr. Murdock came back that there was no one more responsible than Mr. Meighen, who was the "best advertising medium Uncle Sam had in Canada."

The "consummation of nonsense," was the way Mr. Meighen, in reply, referred to Mr. Murdock's statement.

Instead of this "an English woman politician must represent this country." Mr. Meighen doubted whether very many people in Canada had read Mrs. Carruther's book but in any case its authorship was a long way from qualifying for the duties in question. She was a member of a family owning large coal interests and while this did not necessarily disqualify her, it would tend to lead her away from being the proper person to speak from the viewpoint of labor.

The Prime Minister asserted that Mr. Meighen's view in this matter "was small and narrow." He also classified with the same adjectives the objection that Mrs. Carruthers was connected with a family owning coal interests. Canada, said the Prime Minister, was very fortunate in having a woman with such wide sympathies represent her at Geneva. He hoped that this country would be large enough to continue to extend recognition to these people who helped to make known Canada's laws throughout the world. This, Mrs. Carruthers had done through her book and the appointment of her to represent Mr. Murdock was but a small recognition of her service.

Mr Meighen then wanted to know what was the position as to fulfilling the resolution of the Liberal convention of 1919 in regard to such matters as old age pensions and the eight hour day.

The Prime Minister said that some of the planks had been carried out and that the others one by one would be realized as soon as condition made it possible.

Pressed by Mr. Meighen to state definitely just what the Government had done, the Prime Minister said in the first place there had been restoration of responsible government; then labor had received representation on the Canadian National directorate. Furthermore legislation was in hand looking to the more effective restruction of Chinese immigration.

Denying that the government had in any measure restored responsible government, Mr. Meighen declared his belief that never before had so many order-in-council been passed in the history of Canada.

Mr. King retorted that returns would indicate that orders-in-council last year showed a decrease in number. To this Mr. Meighen replied that were the number half as large it would make no difference. The purpose of an order-in-council was in a general way to carry out the general intentions of parliament. This government, he asserted, had assumed to act far in excessive of the extent circumstances warranted.

In regard to the appointment of a labor representative on the Canadian National board, Mr. Meighen asserted that far from giving effect to the programme of the Liberal party, the action of the government had been a flagrant violation of it. The Liberal party had stood for two members recommended by the employees of the system, whereas but one man had been appointed and he had not been so recommended.

Questioned by Mr. King as to whether he had any objection to the present labor director, Mr. Meighen declared he had nothing against Tom Moore. He was merely emphasizing that the government had violated the Liberal pledge.

The item carried.

A vote of ten thousand dollars for joint industrials councils was passed with little discussion.

W. A. Boys drew the minister's attention to the decrease of $1,300,000 in the total amount of the estimates. He understood that this amount was not required for unemployment, but he wished to have an planation of the decrease.

Mr. Murdock replied that it was not the intention of the Government to participate in a plan for joint relief of unemployment with provinces and municipalities this year.

Mr. Meighen reverted to the pledge of the Liberal party to give Labor representation on the directorate of the Canadian National Railways. He stated that, prior to the 1919 convention, the Liberal party had declared by a motion in the House that it favored the appointment of representatives of Labor on the Canadian National Board.

Mr. King remarked that later at the convention it had been decided that Labor would be given representation but no definite limit had been fixed to this representation.

Mr. Meighen declared that an undertaking given in Parliament was understood to be more binding than one outside. The Government had broken its pledge to Labor.

Considering the civil government vote of $331,735 salaries and $45,500 contingencies for the Department of Labor, L. J. Ladner (Cons., Vancouver S) asked regarding an unemployment relief vote. Mr. Murdock replied that none had been provided. The Government did not anticipate any condition of unemployment now or in the immediate future which would warrant Federal participation in relief.

"Day by day, in every way, Canada is getting better and better," the Minister declared.

"And the United States is relieving Canada of a great deal of worry in regard to unemployment," retorted Hon. Arthur Meighen.

"Yes, and there is nobody more responsible than my right honorable friend," Mr. Murdock asserted. Only a couple of weeks ago Mr. Meighen had stated in the House that children were dying and suffering in Canada during the past winter. It was unfair to Canada that such statements should be made. They were driving men out of the country. The leader of the Opposition was the best advertising medium that Uncle Sam had in Canada, Mr. Murdock went on. He was driving Canadians out of the country by his speeches. No immigration agent of the United States in Regina or elsewhere had been able to render such splendid work for Uncle Sam as had Mr. Meighen and his friends.

"The right honorable leader of the Opposition can take credit for being the best immigration official which the United States has," Mr. Murdock declared in conclusion.

Mr. Meighen said "he seemed to have started something." He had said in a previous debate that through the Government's lack of action to secure a coal supply during the past winter, there had been suffering and death amongst the children in many Canadian cities.

Mr. Murdock: "Will the honorable gentleman read what he said?"

Mr. Meighen: "Does my honorable friend think I carry around all the newspapers of Canada for such a purpose?"

The Minister asked that Mr. Meighen read what was in Hansard.

Mr. Meighen replied that he did not like to be disrespectful, but if the consummation of nonsense had ever been reached it was reached in the last speech of Mr. Murdock. Men had gone from Canada by the thousand. Mr. Meighen said he had stated this in his speech on the address. He did not attribute all of this to anything the Government had done or had not done. These things worked in cycles. He did, however, hold the Government responsible for some of the exodus.

No word of pessimism as to the future of Canada had ever passed his lips, Mr. Meighen declared. On the other hand, however, Liberal members of the House in 1921 had declared that the country was in the jaws of bankruptcy, and that even rich men were becoming frightened. Now they wondered that they did not get immigration in 1922.

Mr. Murdock asked if Mr. Meighen had not from the public platform in October and November, 1921, prophesied that factories would close and workmen be thrown out of employment if the Liberals were elected.

Mr. Meighen said that was true, but the honorable gentleman opposite had taken care that it did not happen at the expense of their pledged word to the country. If the Liberal Government had carried out the platform it placed before the electors, factories would have been closed. The Liberals had proved themselves false to what they had pledged.

Mr. Forke, rising, declared that the exchange had been very entertaining, but it had not got the House very far with the estimates.

The incident then closed.

FIRE DESTROYS PARAGON PARK NEW ENGLAND

Seventy-Five Houses and Cottages Razed in Conflagration Which Swept Big Seashore Resort.

LOSS IS $750,000

HULL, Mass. March 29.—(Canadian Press)—Paragon Park, New England's largest seashore amusement centre, and seventy five houses and cottage were destroyed by fire which swept the Nantasket beach on the wings of a wind that reached fifty miles an hour and was brought under control early this morning. At midnight, the flames were spreading against the wind, and Atlantic House, the principal hotel of resort, was threatened for a time.

The loss is estimated at $750,000. Firemen from seven cities and towns assisted in fighting the fire, but their efforts were handicapped by lack of water.

Spread Rapidly

At 9 o'clock Paragon Park, had been largely destroyed, and the fire was sweeping over Center Hill, wiping out residences and spreading with great rapidity. At that hour thirty houses were reported burning.

At 9.15 a.m. an Associated Press correspondent, who was watching the progress of the fire, reported that the house from which he was telephoning had caught fire.

"It is going too fast for me, I must move again," he announced.

The fire departments of Hingham Quincy and Weymouth joined the Hull forces to fight the conflagration.

RETURN OF WINTER IS UNPRECEDENTED

Zero Temperatures and Biting Frosts Prevailed From Winnipeg to Atlantic.

TORONTO, March 29. —(Canadian Press.)—All over Eastern Canada the cruel grip of winter was tightened yesterday. From Winnipeg to the Atlantic Coast come reports of zero temperatures and biting blasts. Prairie farmers find consolation in the belief that the delay in seeding which the present cold snap is almost certain to cause, will mean better crops. In Northern Ontario, prospectors and others hurrying to known and prospective fields rejoice that the spring break-up has been delayed for another week, although an experienced "musher" believes that this violent spell preludes a sudden bursting of the iron bonds that now hold rivers and lakes and make the muskey a highway.

From Sault Ste. Marie and the head of the lakes come reports of heavy snows that impede traffic, while from Muskoka comes a wail that the temporary return of winter has dispelled visions of spring canoe trips. High pressure salesmen were succeeded in thier favorite stamping ground by high pressure weather yesterday. The latter, according to the weather bureau, was the most of a series of high pressure waves which have been sweeping in swift succession down from their sub-arctic home over the smiling fields and cities of Eastern Canada.

Yesterday the populace of all Eastern Canada shivered in cold unprecedented for spring .There was not a blustering blizzard or the swashbuckler and bluffer. It was an implacable cold that hinted as steely determination. The moon last night was like a hard cold eye.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Criticism of the Council's Action in Leasing the Ogilvie Property—News of Interest.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 29. — There has been some criticism of the action of the town council in leasing the Ogilvie property to the government for a term of three years, with the option of a renewal for another three years at the end of that term, the building to be fitted up at Federal expense and used as a home for the local company of the Northumberland regiment. This criticism is heard almost entirely among residents of the west side, whose ambition for years has been to see the property converted into a town office building, with a community hall attached, or at least a rest room for the benefit of visitors from the country.

The town is to receive a rental of $10 a month from the government. The property cost the town $3,500 and the rent received from it is less than four per cent. on the investment, and this is regarded by some as a poor business move on the part of the council.

Several of the councillors who supported the arrangement made last week with the government, have spoken to the Examiner in explanation of their stand. Those who voted in the affirmative were Councillors Allan, Cole, Carter and Meikiejohn. Those in the minority were Reeve Anderson, Deputy-reeve Wilkinson and Councillor Dorie. Councillor Burke was absent.

The majority meet with argument over objection taken to their action. The building at present is badly out of repair. The roof leaks and the plaster has fallen from ceiling and walls, in some of the rooms in great patches. When a fire is lighted by the caretaker the smoke refuses to leave by way of the chimney, but escapes by way of the doors and windows. To fit up the building for a dwelling would involve considerable outlay and the town is not in the real estate business. The government will put the building in repair and this fact, the councillors who voted in the affirmative point out, explains the comparatively low rental which is received for the building. No private citizen, they say, would be willing to take over the property on the same terms.

The Former Lease.

The council of 1921 leased the property to the government for five years, with an option for renewal for another five years. The arrangement just made will bring the property back into the hands of the town two or four years sooner than would have been the case under the old agreement.

The government have stated that the property is not suitable for a permanent armouries as the lot is too small. Using it now for that purpose is simply a makeshift at a time when the Federal authorities are undertaking no new expenditure that can possibly be avoided. Eventually the building and grounds will revert to the town to do with it whatever is deemed advisable.

It will be available then for a civic office building, and will be in vastly better repair than it is to-day

Cost of Civic Offices

It is estimated that it would cost $8,000 to fit up the building as a home for the town officials Those who voted for the agreement last week say that it would not be consistent on their part to favour such an addition to the town's debenture debt at a time when they are committed to a policy of economy and when the Council has gone on record as opposed to an outlay of $20,000 for a new High School.

New Armouries.

When the Militia Department feels itself financially equal to the task of building a permanent Armouries here, it is probable that the site chosen will be on the Fair Grounds, where there is plenty of room for military manoeuvres. That is the plan formed by F. J. Hoskins and other directors of the Fair, who point out that the Armouries could be used at Fair time to house the exhibits of merchants and manufacturers who would show their goods if they had a proper place in which to do so. That is one department that has always been practically lacking at Campbellford's Fair.

No Local Jealousy.

The councillors who supported the recent agreement with the Government assert that there was on their part no local jealousy, that they were not actuated by any desire to keep the west side of the river out of a local improvement. That feeling, they claim, belongs to the days of fifty years ago when representatives of the east and west side, for the pure love of contest, met on the bridge and settled the question of physical prowess at least. Each side in those days had its chosen warriors to uphold sectional honour and tradition. But the Horatiuses of half a century ago have long since gone the way of all flesh.

The Ancient Landmark.

Thomas Rutherford, a resident of Ranney Street, who is in his 79th year, and whose mind is stored with the history of Campbellford and vicinity, recalls the days when the late William Ogilvie, in 1853, put up the building which has been so much in the limelight recently. Mr. Rutherford at the time was a lad of eight, living on his father's farm, about four miles from town. The stone house was one of the first, if not the very first, built of those that are still standing. It was a mansion in the days when the place was known as Campbell's Ford, when people forded the river at a point above where the bridge now stands.

Mr. Ogilvie was a shoemaker of the old type, and he accumulated considerable fortune at his trade and in building houses. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church, then a struggling congregation, and Mr. Rutherford recalls that the first tea meeting — they called them soirees in those days, and as they are called in Scotland at the present time—were given by the local Presbyterians, was held in the new home of Mr. Ogilvie.

All of which associations explains why there are so many people in Campbellford to-day who have a sentimental regard for the Ogilvie house as one of the town's landmarks and who would regret to see it demolished even to make room for an Armouries.

The building has substantial walls that are practically indestructible, but it stands on a sandy foundation, the builders securing from the excavation for the cellar sufficient sand for use in the structure. It contains some of the finest lumber ever produced in Canada, as Seymour was noted for its excellent pine, and the lumbermen in those days seldom cut up a tree beyond the first limb.

When the town first transferred the property to the Government as the site for an Armouries, the Militia Department sold the building to W. Fraser for $100.00, on condition that he tear it down and remove the material inside of a month. Then the Great War broke out, and the deal fell through, the Government later transferring the title back to the town.

Mr. Fraser recently circulated a petition to have the property converted into a civic building. He secured the signatures of 226 of the heaviest taxpayers, the most of whom resided on the east side.

That is likely to be the ultimate fate of the ancient landmark, but it will take time.

A Model Hotel.

When Dr. P. E. Doolittle, president of the Ontario Motor League, addressed the Chamber of Commerce here recently, he stated that no town no matter how favorably situated, could hope to attract tourist traffic unless it provided up to date hotel accommodation. He was pleased to see that in this regard Campbellford was well prepared. He made special mention of the St. Lawrence Hotel, at which he was stopping, and where he noted that improvements were being made which would put the house in the front rank of places of public entertainment in Ontario.

The St. Lawrence Hotel deserves all the high praise which Dr. Doolittle gave it. James Kerr, the proprietor, has completed the changes which he began some time ago. Hardwood floors have been laid throughout, and there is now hot and cold water in every guest chamchamber in the building. A new stairway has also been put in. One of the most home like additions, one likely to be apreciated by all comfort loving guests, is a handsome fire place in the sitting room. This hotel has always been a favorite with the travelling public and is now likely to become more popular than ever. Tourists wil find all home comforts there. Mr. Kerr proposes to put his hotel and town on the map by advertising it in the publications issued by the Trent Waterways Associations.

Four Fatalities When the Lemieux Building at Fabre Destroyed By Fire

COBALT, March 29.—(Canadian Press). — Eusibe Lemieux and his three small children were burned to death, and his wife sustained a broken back and is expected to die, as a result of a fire which destroyed the Lemieux barber shop, restaurant and residence at Fabre, a village on the Quebec side of Lake Timiskaming, yesterday afternoon, according to information received last night by telephone.

From details received, it appears that the fire started near the furnace in the basement of Lemieux's building in which he operated a barber shop and restaurant on the ground floor, with living quarters in the second storey. The flames spread with such rapidity in the high wind that the Lemieux family was trapped upstairs. Lemieux was 36 years of age, and his three small children aged two and a half years, one and a half years and two months.

The PRIDE of PALOMAR

By Peter B. Kyne

"Conway," Parker answered him quietly, "I like your sense of humor, even if it does hurt. However, you told me to fight the devil with fire. Still for the sake of the amenities, we should always make formal declaration of war before beginning hostilities."

"And that's a trick you didn't learn in Japan," the old contractor reminded him.

"So I hereby declare war. I'm a past master at holding hard to whatever I do not wish the other fellow to take away from me, so build your dam and be damned to you. Of course, if you complete your contract eventually, you will force me to pay you for it, but in the interim you will have had to use clam-shells and woodpecker heads for money. I know I can stave off settlement of your judgment for a year; after that, should I acquire title to the Rancho Palomar, I will settle with you promptly."

"And if you shouldn't acquire title, I shall look to my young friend, Don Miguel Farrel, for reimbursement. While at present the future may look as black to Mike as the Ear of Hell's riding-boots, his credit is good with me. Is this new law you've promulgated retroactive?"

"What do you mean?"

"You' settle with me for a work performed up to the moment of this break in diplomatic relations, won't you?"

"That's quite fair, Conway. I'll do that." Despite the chagrin of having to wage for the nonce a losing battle, Parker laughed heartily and with genuine sincerity. Don Mike joined with him and the charged atmosphere cleared instantly.

"Bill Conway, you're twenty-four carat all through." Farrel laid a hand affectionately on his father's old friend. "Be sure to come down to the hacienda and get your check.

We dine at six-thirty."

"As is?" Conway demanded, surveying his rusty old business suit and hard, soiled hands.

"As is," Bill."

"Fine! Well, we've come to a complete understanding without falling out over it, haven't we?" he demanded of Kay and her mother. "With malice toward none and justice toward all—or words to that effect. Eh?"

"Oh, get back into your office Conway, and cast up the account against me. Figure a full day for the men and the mules, although our break came at half-past three. I'm a contrary man, but I'm not small. Come on, Mr. Farrel, let's go home," Parker suggested.

"Little birds in their nest should agree," old Conway warned, as, with a sweep of his battered old hat to the ladies, he turned to re-enter his office. With a nod of farewell, John Parker and his wife started riding down the draw, while Farrel turned to unloosen his saddle-girth and adjust the heavy stock-saddle on the pinto's back. While he was thus engaged, Kay rode up to the door of Conway's rough little office, bent down from Panchito, and peered in.

"Bill Conway!" she called softly.

Bill Conway came to the door.

"What's the big idea, Miss Parker?"

The girl glanced around and saw that Don Mike was busy with the latigo, so she leaned down, drew her arm around the astounded Conway's neck, and implanted on his ruddy, bristly cheek a kiss as soft—so Bill Conway afterward described it—as goose-hair.

"You build that dam," she whispered, blushing furiously, "and see to it that it's a good dam and will hold water for years. I'm the reserve in this battle—understand? When you need money, see me, but, oh, please do not tell Don Mike about it. I'd die of shame."

She whirled Panchito and galloped down the draw, with Miguel Farrel loping along behind her, while, from the door of his shack of an office, old Bill Conway looked after them and thoughtfully rubbed a certain spot on his cheek. Long after the young folks had disappeared round the base of El Palomar, he continued to gaze. Eventually he was brought out of his reverie when a cur dog belonging to one of the teamsters on the grading gang thrust a cold muzzle into his hand.

"Purp," murmured Mr. Conway, softly, "this isn't a bad old world, even if a fellow does grow old, and finds himself hairless and childless and half broke and shackled to the worst automobile in the world, bar none. And do you know why it isn't such a rotten world as some folks claim? No? Well, I'll tell you, purp. It's because it keeps a-movin'. And do you know what keeps it a-movin'? Purp, it's love."

WHEN LIFE HANGS ON A SPLIT HAIR

Single Hair Can Furnish Evidence to Hang a Man.

Efforts are being made by police microscopists to determine with accuracy the composition of minute quantities of hair oil or other dressings adhering to stray hairs. This interesting problem has received much attention in the United States and France, but so far no infallible method has been worked out.

When a hair is examined while immersed in water the fat or grease adhering to the outer case floats away in a filmy cloud. If one could determine its parts or contents accurately the problem of the detective microscopist would be much simplified; no other test can be applied in a critical case without injuring the hair.

The structural features of human and other hair are now so well classified that the modern microscope is one of the most valuable aids to the solution of murder mysteries and other crimes.

A stray hair left behind by a wrong-doer will quickly yield its secret. Is it the hair of a child, youth, mature, or aged person? Is it the hair of man or woman—black man, white man, or yellow man? Is it dyed? Is it naturally curly or artificially waved? Is it the hair of a close cropped or long haired individual? Is its owner healthy or otherwise

The detective-microscopist can give the answer to these and many other equally important questions, all of supreme moment in the tracking down of a suspect. Once the real culprit is laid by the heels the hair clue is infallible.

• • •

The nature of the hair pith and the pigment granules present give the approximate age of the owner of the hair.

Measurements by micrometer largely determine from whence it came, but valuable evidence in this respect can be got from the outer ends of the hair. A split hair can nowadays furnish enough corroboration to hang a man.

In a murder case a hair found adhering to any weapon in the possession of a suspect can now be examined simultaneously with a hair taken from a victim. Should they belong to the same person the construction of the hair, the granular patterns, and their form and size will be found identical.

For this delicate examination two microscopes are used fitted with a comparison ocular. This gives such accurate results that it has greatly simplified the detection of murderers. The smallest fragment of hair is sufficient to work upon.

YOUR CHURCH PEW; ITS LEGAL ASPECT

Common Law Gives No Right to Particular Pew.

The ordinary churchgoer who occupies his weekly pew in church probably thinks very little of the legal foundation of his right to such accommodation. If he thinks about the matter at all he probably concludes that he enjoys the right to his seat because he pays a quarterly rent for it to the parson. This is true in some cases only.

In modern parishes in big towns various Church Building Acts have legalized the granting of pews to worshippers at a rent, and the money so received constitutes a portion of the rector's income.

But in the older churches in country parishes the parishioner would probably be surprised to hear that he has no real right at all to the seat that he actually occupies, and that if he offered to safeguard it by payment of a rent he would merely be making an illegal contract which no court could enforce, writes Ecclesiastical Lawyer in the London Daily Mail.

The fact is, that according to the common law the ordering and disposition of pews is a matter left solely to the discretion of the church wardens. Every parishioner has the right to a seat in church, but no one has any right to a particular pew.

He must sit where the church wardens tell him, and, apparently, might, without any ground of complaint, be accommodated just underneath the pulpit on one Sunday and behind the font on the next.

• • •

The earliest legal case relating to a seat in church occurred in 1493, when one William Fitzwalter sued a person by writ of trespass for having by force of arms broken and carried away his seat in the parish church. The decision in the case shows the scant favor in which pews were then regarded. The court decided that the seat was a mere chattel and, as it was a common nuisance to the rest of the parishioners, could be removed by anyone with impunity.

In 1605 one Launcelot Ridley was presented by the church wardens of his parish at the visitation of the Archdeacon of Ely "for that he will not be ordered for his seat in church, being appointed by the church wardens," and was suspended from going to church!

The general law with regard to parishioners' rights to their pews was clearly laid down by a great ecclesiastical lawyer, Sir John Nicholl:

All the pews in a parish church are the common property of the parish; they are for the use in common of the parishioners, who are all entitled to be seated orderly and conveniently, so as best to provide for the accommodation of all. The distribution of seats rests with the church wardens. The parishioners, indeed, have a claim to be seated according to their rank and station; but the church wardens are not, in providing for this, to overlook the claims of all the parishioners to be seated, if sittings can be afforded them.

FINED A QUARTER

LINDSAY, March 29. — One of the lowest fines that has been imposed in the Lindsay Police Court for several years was handed out by Magistrate Bradford, yesterday, when a citizen faced him on the charge of doing scavenger work without a license. The man was guilty of the offense charged but it was not very serious, and as the accused had been in bed for some time, the Magistrate was lenient. However, the two bits for the fine was not all that was required of the man to purchase his freedom. He was obliged to pay the cost of the case which amounted to $4.75.

AT SUBSTANTIAL REDUCTIONS WHILE THEY LAST

Greatest Tire Values Ever Offered

Money talks when we go out to replenish our Tire Stock. The manufacturers have what are commonly known as "Seconds," which in most cases means slight blemishes. Reputable manufacturers "cull" all such tires, and we in turn buy up huge quantities of these at prices less than manufacturer's cost. We don't ask you to take our word for it. Come and look them over. The values will astonish you. Pick what you want—at dollars less than regular prices.

THIS IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY!

All that we need to make this sale the greatest in our history is for you to realize—not the prices, but the values every cent represents. Don't buy unless you are convinced that the tire you want is a bargain.

At these prices we anticipate crowds of buyers—for, as you know, Tire Prices have advanced twice since the 1st of January, and further advances are anticipated.

YOU TAKE NO RISK.

Every Tire we sell is subject to the most rigid inspection—so that you don't just buy on "guess work". We would advise, however, that you don't put off buying too long—as the best selection can be had during the first few days of this sale—a tip to the wise is sufficient.

FIRST COME GETS BEST CHOICE —ACT QUICK!

It is very doubtful whether such an opportunity as this will ever come our way again, whereby manufacturers' so-called "Seconds"—every Tire new and of well-known make—can be offered to you at such ridiculous prices.

The money we saved by buying in the winter, we now pass on to you. Don't miss it. Come early. Buy all your tires now. You will be well repaid.

TERMS—CASH OR C.O.D. Shipments made by express C.O.D., subject to examination. Express charges prepaid on $25 orders or over. Tire Deliveries Free to Any Part of the City.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUNDED

The prices quoted above represent Goodyear and Partridge New Class "A" Seconds—in addition to these we stock these same makes in First Grade Tires at list prices, and which we guarantee to repair "Free of Charge" for One Year from date of purchase. Ask for further information.

WEST WILL WAGE WAR ON WEEDS

Seeding Is Not Expected to Become General in Alberta Till the End of Next Month.

CALGARY, Alta., March 29. Canadian Press. — Several of the leading farmers interviewed by the Canadian Press have expressed the opinion that seeding will not become general in Alberta until about the end of next month. It is stated that this year there will be a greater concerted effort to deal with weeds. The plan that will in many instances be adopted on fallowed land will be to allow the weeds to germinate and make growth, next run the cultivator over the land, killing the weeds and then follow that operation with the drills. Several of the farmers emphasized the point that every effort should be made to see that their seed was free from weeds.

There is nothing to be gained by seeding before the end of April, said one prominent farmer; on the contrary there is a much better chance for the crop not becoming choked by weeds.

With regard to farm wages during the coming season it is said that according to about 90 per cent. of the returns received by the provincial labor bureau, farmers do not intend to pay more than 30 to 40 dollars a month with board. This is somewhat lower than last year when the wages ran from 40 to 50 dollars a month.

WINNIPEG, March 29. Canadian Press. — With a record fall of snow and winter still retaining a firm grip there is little prospect of seeding operations being started in Manitoba or Saskatchewan for three weeks or a month, acording to reports received from farm centres yesterday. A sudden and prolonged warm spell however may reduce this estimate. In past years seeding has been fairly general by April 15.

Optimistic farmers state that a late spring means good crops and they are well pleased with the excellent supply of moisture which the heavy snowfall will give.

MRS. BUDGE SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

River Desert, Que.—"I used to have a severe pain in my side. I would be unable to walk fast and could not stand for any length of time to do my ironing or washing, but I would have to lie down to get relief from the pain. I had this for about two years, then a friend told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had had good results. I certainly got good results from it, too, as the last time I had a sore side was last May and I have not had it since. I am also glad of having good nursing for my baby, and I think it is your medicine that helped me in this way."—Mrs. L. V. BUDGE, River Desert, Quebec.

If you are suffering from the tortures of a displacement, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness, or a pain in the side, you should lose no time in trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

HEY were discussing Insurance. The Broker said:

"I believe in insurance. I handle stocks and bonds and have opportunities to pick and choose investments. But I figure it out this way. If I leave an estate entirely consisting of stocks and bonds it cannot be converted into immediate cash without danger of considerable loss. So I am going to leave enough insurance to provide a good proportion of ready cash to be available during the settlement of my estate. I think that is sound business."

"You are perfectly right," replied the banker. "A fair amount of ready money in the bank is, of course, always useful and reassuring. But, I must admit, insurance in a company like the Mutual Life of Canada is just as safe and sure as money in the bank, and it affords your family protection in full from the start."

"Exactly," returned the broker. "And furthermore, a Mutual Life policy is an investment as well as a protection, as it divides its entire net profits among its participating policyholders. Last year the Mutual earned over 6.74%."

"True," assented the banker. "I have a Mutual Endowment policy coming due next year. On these participating Endowment plans the Mutual Life of Canada is at present paying at maturity from 20% to 100% more than the assured pays in! The protection in the long run costs nothing!"

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Peterborough, Ont., March 29th, 1923.

The Editor, Examiner, City:

Dear Sir,— In your issue of the 27th, you report a meeting of the Council, and among the business dealt with was the matter of the sale of the market privilege for the year.

Mayor Taylor is credited with stating ten citizens were in favor of the market being given to Bullied as against one in favor of Fisher, and the farmers were practically unanimous for Bullied.

I was quite surprised to read the statement, as I do not think it was in accordance with facts, and I am wondering how Mayor Taylor obtained his information. I am personally known to a large section of the community, in addition to those who patronize the market from all over the townships, and for these I have no fear the statement made by the Mayor will be believed. I am anxious that those who do not know me as intimately should not obtain a false impression, which induced me to write this letter.

I have been a citizen of Peterborough for 18 years, and market clerk for five or six years, and I believe the farmers and buyers who patronize the market know that Mayor Taylor's statement was very much out of place. I don't mind the market tolls being knocked down to someone else, but I don't propose to allow Mayor Taylor or anyone else to jump on me, and make uncalled for and untruthful statements.

If I read the by-law covering the sale of the market tolls correctly, it contains one clause which states the market clerk is prohibited from buying or selling on the market, and I am wondering how His Worship, the Mayor, and the Board of Aldermen got around this clause, together with the $50.00 difference in tenders between mine and Mr. Bullied's.

Thanking you for inserting this letter, I am,

Yours sincerely,
WALTER FISHER.

The Examiner,
Peterborough, Ontario.

Dear Sirs,—In the issue of the Examiner, of the 27th, there is a letter from Mr. J. H. Burnham, and another one from Mr. G. A. Brethen, regarding the matter of redistribution.

Both gentlemen very skillfully avoid dealing with the fact of the unit of representation, and this is the real issue; and it does not make much difference what any of us think—representation by population is an established fact, and the basis of representation is appropriately thirty-six thousand.

If Mr. Burnham and Mr. Brethen had their way, West Peterborough, with a population of 29,318 and East Peterborough, with a population of 13,716, or a total population of 43,034 would be one riding.

Northumberland has a population of 30,512, or some six thousand short of the unit, East Peterborough with its population of 13,716, is one of the smallest ridings in the Province, and as we require to lose some ridings in the Province, by reason of the fact that Toronto and the larger cities have gained, there can be little question that the smallest ridings will be the ones which the Committee will recommend for elimination.

If the West riding of Peterborough is constituted as it at present is, with the townships added of Douro, 1654, Otonabee, 3,023, and the village of Lakefield, 1,189, this would give West Peterborough nearly the unit with a population of 35,175, and would have practically the whole of the Trent Canal System in the County of Peterborough.

If Mr. Burnham's view were adopted, and East and West Peterborough were joined together, for the purpose of Federal elections, Peterborough City, with its population, according to the census, of 20,994, would be part of the newly constituted riding, containing a population of approximately 44,000.

If the rest of the municipalities of East Peterborough, except Lakefield Douro, and Otonabee, were added to Northumberland, with its population of 30,512, this would give it approximately a population of thirty-six thousand, for Federal election purposes.

Mr. Brethen talks about political expediency, but he evades the discussing of figures, and the units of population, which should be fixed by law; and one can well understand this, because if half his riding goes to Peterborough West, and the other half to Northumberland, Mr. Brethen's chances of success at a nomination are not nearly as good as they would be if East Peterborough and West Peterborough were joined for Federal election purposes.

Of course, I can understand quite readily why Mr. Burnham and Mr. Brethen would be more or less united in this matter. Before Mr. Brethen was associated with the U.F.O. movement, I have been given to understand, he was a very consistent Tory; and one can understand how these sympathies will come out, in spite of real, earnest efforts to keep them subdued.

There is another feature, and that is that Peterborough City, according to the census reports, increased practically fifty per cent from 1901 to 1911, and from 1911 to 1921, about twelve per cent. During the years of the war, her growth, of course, being an industrial centre, was very limited; but if the City does develop nearly as rapidly as one could expect, before the next census and redistribution, she would very likely be entitled to a member for the city alone; and Peterborough County outside the city, might regain its position, and have a member also.

However, it is hardly a question of Mr. Burnham's view, Mr. Brethen's or my own. The real question is, whether or not representation by population is to prevail; or whether or not ridings of thirteen thousand are to be maintained, while other ridings have a population of double and treble that number.

Yours faithfully,
G. N. GORDON.

Mother and Her Baby Are Relieved of Eczema

Mrs. Peter A. Palmer, Salt Burn, Sask., writes:

"Dr. Chase's Ointment has completely relieved me of eczema and piles. I also used this Ointment for my baby, who broke out in eczema. A few applications were all that was necessary in her case. Dr. Chase's Ointment has been worth a hundred dollars to me—before using it I had spent a great deal more than that in unsuccessful treatment from doctors. We have also used Dr. Chase's other medicines, the Nerve Food having restored my health after suffering from severe nerve trouble when a girl."

SENIOR GIRL STUDENT TOOK HER OWN LIFE

BRANTFORD, March 29. Canadian Press. — "Tell Dulie I didn't do it." Tortured by fear of facing disgrace at school through allegations of dishonesty which she is claimed to have admitted at the time they were made, but dazed with the above words on her death bed, Henriettta Green, aged 18, senior student at the Brantford Collegiate, died on Saturday at her home, Alford Junction, six miles east of here, from peritonitis, which developed from a wound inflicted by herself, with a small rifle three weeks ago.

Pupils refer to the principal of the school, A. M. Overholt, as "The Duke."

"A Terrible Experience"

"I Recall My Experiences with the Burglar with Feelings of Horror!"

"How would you feel if you wakened in the middle of the night with a flashlight shining in your eyes and the gruff voice of a man threatening that, 'If you make the slightest noise, I'll shoot?' That was my experience the end of last March when my husband was away in the woods and I was alone with my three children. Everytime I think of this experience a shudder passes over me and as long as I live I shall remember it. At the time I really thought I would die. It's a wonder my heart did not stop beating. I was so weak that even if I had any desire to move, I could not. I was bathed in a cold, clammy perspiration. Even to recall the shocking details now makes me shudder. It was a result of this shock that I contracted a high fever and for hours at a time I was delirious. I got so bad that the doctor finally gave up hope of my ever recovering, but by careful nursing, I was finally pronounced out of danger. The shock had left me so weak, that, for no reason whatever, I would suddenly burst into tears. All the life seemed to have been taken out of me. I kept getting weaker and weaker, so much so that my husband and children were constantly worrying about me. Doctors prescribed for me and while I willingly tried their medicines, only very few of them did me any good, but unfortunately the good was not lasting. My family asked me if I would try Carnol and I said, 'I was willing to try anything,' but felt that it would not do me any good. Four bottles of Carnol taken regularly, has completely restored my former health and strength and, while I occasionally recall my experience with the burglar with feelings of horror, I am otherwise as well and strong as I have ever been. Carnol is the most wonderful preparation I have ever used for building and restoring health and strength. It has done wonders for several of my friends to whom I have recommended it." Mrs. McC. ol...

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 4-6B

NORMA TALMADGE'S "MANNERS"

(By NORMA TALMADGE)

The carriage or motor car it as much an adjunct of social life as is the ball room. There is a correct carriage of car for every occasion, but few are wealthy enough to have them all. The same social usages, however, go in the main for all private conveyances. Department that's proper for the limousine is generally proper for the humble taxicab.

Carriages and Motors.

1—It's correct for a man to put his hand under a woman's elbow to assist her into a carriage or motor.

2.—In alighting the man gets out first and offers the woman his hand to assist her.

3.—A man never holds a parasol over a woman's head when she is stepping out of or into a carriage or car; he does hold an umbrella over her in bad weather.

5.—A man, unless very well acquainted with a woman, sits facing her when they are riding in a taxicab, and not on the same seat.

6—It's bad manners for a woman, unaccompanied to ride alone in a taxicab.

CROP REPORTS

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

Fall Wheat is apparently holding its own, but the next two or three weeks will be the most trying for the crop.

Apples are selling at from $1.50 to $2 a bushel in Welland.

Hastings—"Quantities of all kinds of seeds are being marketed. Some alfalfa seed is being sold at from $12 to $23 a bushel; red clover at from $11 to $12; alsike, $6 to $7; sweet clover $3 to $4. Seed oats are selling at from 65c to 90c, and wheat at $1.15."

Kenora—"The Co-operative Association here has handled 181,300 pounds of seed. They still have on hand for sale 17,500 pounds of red clover, 56,000 pounds of alsike and 70,000 pounds of mixed. This seed is all cleaned and Government, graded, and is all handled co-operatively. There has also been a heavy demand from eastern points for certified northern grown seed potatoes. All told the inquiries have been for eight carloads of Irish Cobbler and one of Green Mountain, but unfortunately as potatoes did not do well last year none of these orders could be filled."

Huron—"There are large quantities of hay in the country for sale or to be carried over. Pressers are offering $8 per ton This leaves the farmer about $5 per ton for his hay at the barn by the time he presses it and has to haul it seven or eight miles to market. Hay to get this price, has to be No. 1.

Bruce: "Co-operative marketing of hogs is being generally discussed by the various shipping Associations of the county. It is generally considered by many hog producers that the grading of hogs is beneficial to them, especially when consigned co-operatively. Such shipments are running from 30 to 50 per cent selects from Walkerton and vicinity."

Hastings—"There is a strong demand for young pigs at prices ranging from $9 to $12 per pair. Grade milch cows are in fair demand at prices running from $60 to $90. Calves are being sold at from six to eight cents."

Peterboro—"One shipment of fifty-five hogs graded as follows: seven selects, twenty-four thick smooths, twenty-four shop. If paid for on a graded basis the price would have been much lower than received on the flat."

Welland: "There is a fair demand for good agricultural horses. A number have been shipped in from Toronto. Prices are ranging from $300 to $400 depending upon size and quality."

Port Arthur—"Good horses are bringing from $400 to $500 per pair. Fairly average dairy cows are worth about $75 each. Young cattle rising one year worth from $15 to $20 each."

South Simcoe—"A moderate shipment of live stock was made from the county during the past week. Very few cattle were good enough to bring $6 per cwt, at shipping points. Springers are being sold at from $60 to $65. The demand for breeding sows, bacon type or otherwise, is not as keen as was the case at this time last year."

Middlesex—"On account of the city of London demanding pasteurized milk or milk from tubercular free herds, seventy-fie herds have been tested, with about 20 per cent going down under the test. Many of the pure bred breeders have entered upon the accredited herd plan. These men are in the market for cows, but of course will only buy from tested stock not subject to the test, find that the pure-breds do not bring any more than grades that have been tested."

Kent—"It seems that the county is stocked up with brood sows. Brood sows are bringing $20 to $35 at auction sales. Work horses are bringing $150. A number of good milk cows were sold at $50 each."

Fort William reports that a local live stock man, Mr. R. C. Harvey, has marketed a considerable number of his sheep, which he has feeding and finishings on screenings, and the results to date have been satisfactory.

A Substitute for Jute

The discovery of a new fibre known as malvavisco, which is said to be a substitute for jute, is announced by the Industrial Experiment Laboratory of the Mexican Department of Commerce and Industry. The malvavisco plant grows abundantly in the humid level lands near the rivers and at present is employed in Vera Cruz for making brooms. Prolonged experiments have shown this plant to possess qualities similar to jute and the cost of extracting the fibre to be small. The fibre has a silky appearance and has been woven into cloth with excellent results.

MAKE THE BACKYARD PAY

How to Grow Root Crops—The Vegetables For Health and Energy.

FOOD AND FUN.

(By William R. Beatie)

Every man or woman who owns a home which is located on as much as a 20 x 100 foot city lot has an invested capital in land.

Business success depends on making invested capital pay an income large enough to return a profit

That portion of the lot occupied by the dwelling yields returns as rent or living accommodations, but the "backyard" in most instances does not pay an income and often is a source of expense and annoyance.

During the war period, when the people were appealed to from the patriotic standpoint, thousands of backyards were made to produce garden vegetables.

Many thousands of others, however, remained either covered with grass or more often a weed patch and a collecting place for all kinds of rubbish.

Since the advent of peace many war gardens have been neglected—to private and public loss!

The space in many a city or village backyard may not be more than 20 x 60 feet in size. In some cases a portion of this is needed as a clothes drying yard. By using a folding clothes drying device, the amount of space required for drying the family wash can be reduced to a minimum, leaving considerable area for a garden.

Perchance a garage may occupy the extreme rear portion. This brings the available space down to perhaps 20 x 40 feet, or 800 square feet, a little less than one-fiftieth of an acre.

Right here most persons will be inclined to say, "Oh pshaw, what is the use of trying to grow anything on such a small piece of land?"

Production figures supplied by a large number of backyard gardeners have shown that a small piece of land intensively cultivated can often be made to produce vegetables at the rate of $2500 to $3000 an acre, or if you please, about $60 for a small piece of ground that is available in the backyard, after all other demands have been met.

Dividing this by 12 gives a monthly rental of $5!

It is true that the land may be more or less shaded, either by the house or by surrounding buildings, and may not be suitable for the growing of certain crops requiring an abundance of sunshine.

There are a number of crops, however, that will grow where they are shaded a portion of the day, provided, however, that the shade is not that from trees, the roots of which will sap not only the plant food, but the moisture from the soil.

The work done by the public school gardens and the small gardens grown by boys and girls in club work has been a revelation from the standpoint of results obtained on a small area of land.

Thousands of cases might be cited where the backyard has been made to pay rent in more ways than one—and there is scarcely a condition so hopeless but what something can be done to get a moderate return in food and fun.

RECEIVING ENQUIRIES FOR COTTAGES

Enquiries are now being received by the Chamber of Commerce for cottages to rent and all owners desirous of listing their cottages are requested to secure forms and fill out same. The Chamber of Commerce makes no charge for this service and it is considered to be a service to the community which will bring good dividends in the development of tourist traffic in the district.

It is quite obvious that the Chamber cannot guarantee the rental of all cottages but each have an equal opportunity to secure parties during the summer months.

Any further information may be had from the Secretary by phoning 1360.

The following give an idea of the form in which requests are made. This is from Pittsburg.

"I am writing for information that you may give me regarding summer cottages, as to probable rent and what goes with them. There will be four or six in our party. Would like place where fishing is good. We would want it for the month of August.

WEDDING BELLS

BARTLEY—DOUGHTY.

A very pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Doughty, 681 Aylmer Street, when Hazel Doreatha was united in marriage to Mr. Leith Bartley, of Walkerville, son of Mr. G. Bartley, of this city. Rev J. A. MacKenzie officiated. At seven o'clock, to the strains of the Wedding March, played by her sister, Olive, the bride entered and was given away by her father. The bride looked very charming in a navy blue tricotine suit trimmed with grey, black hat, black fox fur and carrying a beautiful silver mesh purse, the gift of the groom. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left on the 7.35 train for Toronto and Western points. They will reside in Walkerville.

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Robt. Weir, Lang, Ont., who passed away March 30th 1922.

"Thy Will Be Done."

—Daughter Margaret.

IN LOVING MEMORY.

In loving memory of Mrs George Reynolds, who died March 29, the year 1921.

How sweet to sleep where all is peace,
Where sorrow cannot reach the breast,
Where all life's idle throbbings cease,
And pain is lulled to rest.

The pearly gates swung open,
A gentle voice said come
Twas Jesus gently calling
One of his loved ones home.

Why call we such an entrance death?
Or why the weeping eye?
When it was God who called her,
Unto his home on high.

We know her stay was short on earth,
And her young life so brief,
Has vanished as a shadow
And left us pain and grief.

It seems so short since she was here,
In all the ways of life,
But all these things have ceased to be—
And with them care and strife.

And as we stood around her,
And sighed with quivering breath,
We knew with a peaceful countenance
She calmly entered death.

We, too, must pass o'er Jordan,
And wade through death's cold wave,
But Jesus calmly whispers—
"I triumph o'er the grave."

This earth is not our resting place,
Nor this our lasting home,
In Heaven is our abiding rest,
And He is gently calling, come.

EXTOLS GOVT. CONTROL OF THE LIQUOR TRADE

TORONTO, March 29. Canadian Press. — "Prohibition is an encroachment on personal liberty. In Quebec we are in favor of temperance—temperance in all things. The people are behind the liquor laws as administered, and what has been the result? There has been a marked decrease in drunkenness; the manufacture of illicit liquor has diminished; the people are drinking more beer and wine, and there is better health throughout the povince."

In these words Joseph Archambault, M.P., Chamblay Vercheres, summarized the results of government control of the liquor trade in Quebec here last night.

REDUCE POSTAL RATE.

OTTAWA, March 29.—There is a strong possibility that a return to two cent postage may be one of the features of Fielding's budget. The two cent rate came into effect in 1897 and remained until 1915, when the war tax of one cent was imposed. A strong feeling in favor of the reduction obtains throughout the Dominion.

To-Day's Quotations and Opinions and Reviews of the Markets.

NEW YORK, March 29.—(Special.)—The stock market to-day followed somewhat the course of yesterday, when it was active and higher in the early trading, later turning dull. Some of the dullness probably was due to the approach of tomorrow's holiday since many traders will not be back in town from Thursday night until next Monday and do not care to make commitments at this time.

A somewhat disappointing feature is the showing of railroads from February. With a generally increased gross revenue net in many cases, shows a decline under last year.

Total net may not be so large as February, 1922, when it was about 47 million. Pennsylvania reported a decrease in net of $3,516,319 and Canadian Pacific with a net of $495,490, showed a decrease of $158,994.

Gross also decrease for this road being $11,159,865 this year, which was $143,828 less than a year ago.

Retention of the 4 1-2 per cent. rediscount rate by the Federal Reserve Bank here effectually set at rest the speculative communities apprehension regarding the money outlook. Stocks were strong in the early dealings, reflecting the relief felt over night elimination of this feature as a definite market factor.

Steel gained 1-4 to 107 1-2, Studebaker 1-2 to 124, and American International 1-2 to 32 3-4. Marland Oil was the outstanding feature, spurting to a new high record at 56.

Stocks continued to act well in the first hour, influenced by the sustained strength in Steel Common, which advanced more than a point above the previous close. Reports have been current fo several days that a interests was being formed in Steel. Steel has been made to look weak at times, the theory being that pressure was applied to create better buying opportunities for the pool. If these reports have any foundation in fact, Steel should show a substantial advance before appearance of the report for the first quarter, which will be due April 24.

HUSBAND DIDN'T DARE LEAVE HER ALONE HER HEART WAS SO BAD

Those feelings of faintness, those dizzy spells, the all-gone sinking sensations which come on from time to time indicate a weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

have no equal as a remedy to strengthen the heart, invigorate the nerves and build up the run-down system.

Mrs. C. Vanhorn, Eckville, Alta., writes:—'About a year ago I had heart trouble. My husband didn't dare leave me alone, and often I would just feel kind of faint and my heart would seem to stop beating. I would just faint away, and it would sometimes be an hour before they could bring me back to life. Someone told me about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I got three boxes I took them and felt much better, so continued all Winter, and now I ever feel any such faintness. I surely do appreciate the good they have done for me."

Price 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE CAUSE OF SICKNESS

Almost Always Due to Weak and Impoverished Blood.

If you are pale, suffer from headaches or breathlessness, with palpitation of the heart, poor appetite and weak digestion, the cause is almost always poor blood. If you have nervous headaches, neuralgia sciatica, or other nerve pains, the cause is exhausted nerves. But run-down nerves are also a result of impoverished blood, so that the two chief causes of most illness is one and the same—weak, watery blood. If you are in this condition you should give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. These pills have a direct action on the blood and by enriching it give strength to worn-out nerves and all the organs of the body. Mrs. E. G. Cruse, Chatham, Ont., has proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and says:—"I was very weak and could scarcely do my housework. My heart would beat so quickly at times that I thought I would choke and I would have to lie down for a time. At night my hands and feet would grow numb and I would have to get up and rub them to get my blood circulating. I was so anaemic that life was a burden. My mother advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as she had used them with benefit. I followed her advice and soon found I was on the way to new health, and after taking these pills for a time I felt as well as ever I had done. I hope my experience will help some other poor sufferer to health again."

If your dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

GERMAN MINERS STRIKE PROTEST AGAINST FRENCH

GETHENKIRCHEN, March 29.—(Canadian Press).—Fifteen thousand miners are on strike in Gethen-Kirchen district at all mines occupied by troops, according to estimates made in German quarters. Men quit work as a protest against occupation and they have served notice that they will not return until the last soldier leaves. The Germans declare that in order to give a false impression of heavy coal shipments, the French have begun a daily shuttle service between Ludwigshafen, always using the same carload of coal.

TORONTO LADY LOST ALL HOPE

Mrs. Waterman States Tanlac Restored Her When Almost a Nervous Wreck--Gains 14 Pounds

"Tanlac restored my health so completely three years ago that I haven't had to take a single dose of medicine since," says Mrs. Cora Waterman, 145 Monroe St., Toronto, Ont.

"I don't believe there was a worse case than mine in Ontario. I had been suffering for about three years and was practically a nervous and physical wreck. I could eat scarcely a thing, sleep was almost impossible, and rheumatism in my hands, wrists and arms almost drove me distracted. I spent every cent I could lay my hands on for medicine, and had about lost hope of ever being well again.

"But Tanlac ended my suffering and saved me a great many dollars. I regained fourteen pounds, too, which I still retain, and I feel as strong and healthy now as when a school girl. I have been praising the Tanlac treatment three years now, and want to send out this message to help others."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ketchin and family and Mr. Thos. Forsythe, of Saskatoon, Sask., who have been spending the winter months with friends and relatives in Havelock and district, have returned to their home in the West. Previous to their departure they were tendered a farewell party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Matt. Greenly, Trent River Road, when a most delightful time was spent by the many guests present.

The many friends of Miss Eva Lane will regret to learn of her serious illness, and hope for a speedy recovery.

Easter Services.

Holy Week is being observed in St. John's Church here, services being held every evening at 7.30 o'clock, with the usual three hours' service on Good Friday from 12 o'clock noon to 3 o'clock. Special services on Easter Sunday, when music from the new pipe organ, which is being installed this week, will be a pleasing feature. The musi: for Easter Sunday will be in charge of Mr. Legg, who is installing the organ, and Mrs. Legg, of Toronto. The pipe organ will be indeed a great improvement to St. John's Church, and is a gift donated by the Parish Guild. Last year the church was presented with another beautiful gift from St. John's Church, Peterborough, in the shape of a Communion table, with very elaborate hangings, which were a very acceptable addition to the church.

ECZEMA

Hands Were Raw Would Crack and Bleed

Eczema or Salt Rheum, as it is commonly called, is one of the most agonizing of skin diseases. The intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when exposed to heat, are almost unbearable and relief is gladly welcomed.

The pre-eminent success which

has met with in permanently removing a disease of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleansing and purifying properties.

Mrs. M. R. Willard, Dudswell Jct., Que., writes: "For about three years I had eczema, in a very bad form, on my hands. They were all raw and would crack and bleed so that I could not do my housework. I tried everything I could think of without any results. As last I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and when I had it about all taken I could see it was helping me; by the time I had taken five bottles my hands were all well again and I have not been bothered since. I cannot praise Burdock Blood Bitters enough."

"And with the morn her Angel Face will smile,
Which we have loved long since, but lost awhile."

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear daughter, Doris Warren, who died March 30th, 1920:
Three years have passed since that sad day,
When the one we loved was called away,
God took her home; it was His will,
But in our hearts she liveth still.

Just when her days seemed brightest
Just when her hopes seemed best,
God called her from among us,
To the home of Eternal Rest.

The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we loved
From our memory pass away.
—Sadly missed by her Father, Mother and Sister Violet.

No Decision Reached Regarding The Use Of Riverside Park

NO ACTION REGARDING THE LEASE OF RIVERSIDE PARK FOR THIS SUMMER

Parks Committee Fails to Reach a Decision Regarding Disposal of the Ball Park — Left to the City Council on Monday Night

P.A.A.A. OFFER.

Failing to reach a decision on the disposal of Riverside Park for this year, the Parks Committee after three hours' discussion last night, terminating in a deadlock, had nothing to show for their debate except a broader knowledge of the respective claims of the two applicants, the Peterboro Amateur Athletic Association and the Peterboro Baseball Association.

The P.A.A.A. offered the same terms as last year, $800, on condition that the Central League games were played there.

The Baseball Association tendered $1000, announcing that they would not play at Riverside under the P.A.A.A. lease unless their percentage charge of the gate receipts was reduced from 25 per cent. to 20 per cent.

Ald. Fife's motion, seconded by Ald. Stocker, accepting the Baseball Association's terms, was lost on a tie vote, and an amendment by Ald. Morrison, seconded by Ald. Maher, referring the decision to the council at its regular meeting next Monday night met a similar fate.

The vote was as follows:

For the motion—Ald. Fife, Stocker, Phelan and Mayor Taylor.

For the amendment—Ald. Morrison, Maher, Turner and Meyers.

Ald Maher submitted an amendment renting the Park to the P.A.A.A. on the best terms that they could provide, but it was not seconded.

Two Deputations.

All the members of the committee were present with Ald. Turner presiding. They heard two deputations. The representatives of the P.A.A.A. were Dr. A. W. McPherson, J. E. Sullivan, Dr. Wood, Ford Turner, Geo. Campbell, A. C. Kay; and from Baseball Association W. J. Oke, J. J. Solomon, Jos. Picard, Max Swanston Eddie Wright and Frank Convery.

Dr. McPherson presented the case for the P.A.A.A. in a comprehensive statement of its purposes, its accomplishments and its general position in the community. It was organized several years ago to further all lines of sports, and had given special attention to sports in which young people, including girls, engaged, and also ble for all this, but they financed the middle age of life.

"We are not in this to develop championship teams," Dr. McPherson said, "but we hope that championship teams will develop from our work. Our activities last year included hockey in the junior city league, the mercantile league, also among the girls. We had two soft ball leagues, one for the girls, with 12 teams in one section, and eight in the other, and a men's league with a similar number of teams.

As a result we had 18 teams out last fall, and we started this spring with 20. We had mercantile and church organizations that we would otherwise not have had. We started lacrosse through Dr. Sutton's efforts and had a city league and two O.A.A. teams, and we took over their deficit. We took an active interest in the junior ball teams by placing Riverside Park at their disposal and different members of our executive taking a personal interest in the teams. As a result two of these teams won Ontario championships, and a third should have won. I don't say that the P.A.A.A. was responsible. Dr. McPherson asserted that the them and were largely instrumental in their success.

Tennis and Rugby.

Last fall we ran a city tennis series to finality, and Dr. Wood our representative, organized a city rugby league, and we had a team in the O.R.F.U. We didn't win any championships, but I feel that we made a satisfactory start for the first year. We also assisted in financing the Collegiate rugby team, and saw that they were not in the hole.

"I might also say in connection with Riverside that we assisted the Football association, giving them dates for their cup games without any charge.

Gate Receipts.

Dr. McPherson said that the P.A.A.A. received $2700 as their share of the ball team's gate receipts, which indicated that the ball team took in $8100.

"Out of that $2700 the P.A.A.A. paid the amusement tax of about $900, for policemen beween $100 and $125, for caretaking of the park $600, and $800 to the city as rental, besides paying the ticket takers, score board boys and the boys who recovered lost balls. If you figure that out that was not much for us. We made about $600 from the park."

Mr. McPherson asserted that the P.A.A.A. was handling sports and looking after the boys in a way that the council and the citizens generally would like to have them supervised.

Willing to Carry on.

"If the council thinks the P.A.A.A. is no use, the sooner we know that the better. I certainly won't give my time any money any longer if our work is not wanted,' Dr. McPherson declared. "If you want us to handle the park on the same terms as last year, providing the Centarl Ontario baseball team plays there, we are quite willing to carry on. If they go to the Exhibition Park, as I hope they will, because we need additional space for sports, we would have to make another offer to you. We place this matter before you asking what is your attitude toward the P.A.A.A. If it commends itself to you your action will be accordingly."

The 1922 Membership.

To Ald. Turner Dr. McPherson said that the P.A.A.A. membership last year was between 700 and 800. He went into the details of the response from the employees of the various factories and from the mercantile section, and expressed the opinion that this year's enrolment from the present signs would be even higher.

Mayor Taylor—Is there no chance of amalgamating with the ball club.

Dr. McPherson—I don't know how we can arrive at that. I think that it is partly due to the fact that they have made application for the park. If they get it their plans will be one thing; if they don't they will be another.

The Doctor said that the P.A.A.A was willing to operate on the same terms as last year and had written a letter to that effect.

Offer Rejected.

Ald. Phelan stated that the Baseball Committee last year had offered 20 per cent. of the gate receipts as this year's terms, with all the surplus in excess of $300, and the Ball Club had a letter rejecting that.

Dr. McPherson replied ironically that it was a very good offer. "I'd say they should turn it down. No business concern would run their business on that basis."

To Ald. Maher he said that the P.A.A.A. had no control of the Ball Club's expenses.

Ald. Phelan recalled that the P.A.A.A. had let the park for the Belleville-Hilcrest game at 10 per cent of the gate although they had refused a reduction from the regular percentage for the Belleville-Peterboro play off.

"As much as to insinuate that the home club was discriminated against" Dr. McPherson remarked.

Ald. Phelan—The Peterboro game was neither a scheduled nor an exhibition game.

Mr. Kay.—It was the completion of the scheduled games.

Dr. McPherson—We were willing to give the Park for nothing to bring the Belleville-Hillcrest game to Peterboro for the fans and for the business it meant.

Ald. Phelan—Didn't our game with Belleville bring business here.

Dr. McPherson—The ball team would have got a contribution from us if it was needed.

Ald. Phelan—They did't think it was fair.

Dr. McPherson—there are lots of things that are not fair.

Ald. Phelan—they are entitled to their opinion the same as you are.

Ald. Turner—If they had presented their receipts and expenses, and shown that they were in financial straits would you have considered them the same as others?

Dr. McPherson—Certainly.

Revenue from Ball Team.

Ald. Phelan—Wasn't it due to the Central League team that you were able to give financial assistance?

Dr. McPherson — I don't admit that. I don't deny that a large part of our revenue came from the ball team. Didn't they get the use of the grounds for that? What are you kicking about?

Ald. Phelan—I just mentioned that the P.A.A.A. was able to finance the other teams because of the revenue they got from the Central League team.

Ald. Maher—Is the executive of the P.A.A.A. big enough to handle the ball team?

Dr. McPherson—Certainly.

Ald. Maher—I'd think so.

Dr. McPherson— No organization supports the Ball Club like the P.A.A.A. does.

Ald. Phelan — I certainly agree with that. But the ball club feels that they shouldn't have to pay 25 p.c. of the gate this year. Everything ran smoothly all last summer until the final game, when the ball club felt that they were entitled to a slight reduction.

Ald. Turner interjected the comment that apparently from the P.A.A.A.'s expenses on Riverside last year they could not get along this summer with only 20 p.c.

Dr. McPherson said the grounds were never in better condition than last year and the ball club never got so favorable a percentage.

Ald. Maher—Salaries and all.

Ald. Phelan—There are no salaries in connection with an amateur ball team.

Dr. McPherson asserted that no one could say the P.A.A.A. had not worked for the benefit of the community. The present cleavage appeared to arise out of different ideals, one for the community's good and the other for the individual good.

Ald. Meyers said that he would like to see both parties co-operate. They were old enough to get along in harmony.

Ald. Phelan enquired whether the P.A.A.A. were prepared to make an offer for the park.

Dr. McPherson—Tell me what the Ball Club are going to do.

Ald. Phelan—The Central Ontario Baseball Association will not pay 25 p.c. to anybody for the use of Riverside park. He added that the Baseball Association had offered $1,000 for the use of the grounds.

Mayor Taylor—I can say the P.A.A.A. has done a lot for sport in Peterborough and I would like to see things carried on the same as last year.

Dr. McPherson promised that if the ball team went to Exhibition park they would receive the support of the P.A.A.A. in any possible way.

Mr Sullivan sketched the beneficial results of the encouragement and influence of the P.A.A.A. among the Quaker Oats Companys' staff down to the football's team winning of the Gordon Cup. Athletics, he said, made for better men and women. Employers of labour, he believed, were going to give the preference to men who participtaed in clean athletics because they were more likely to be better men and on the job every day.

Mr. Kay reported that the Curling Club had recently donated $50 to the P.A.A.A. and Dr. McPherson said that the Golf Club last season also gave $50.

Some Took a Chance.

Ald. Phelan reverted to the organization of the Central Ontario League team in replying to a remark that it was a close corporation.

"No one wanted it," he said, "although the P.A.A.A. was given every chance to take hold of it There was a deficit of $300 from the year before. A meeting was held and Mr. Cranfield was elected president. The P.A.A.A. were offered the franchise, but overnight they decided not to assume it. They didn't think they could handle it. Horace Walkey, Jake Solomon and myself put up the money out of our own pockets and wiped out the deficit. The ball team had been thrown there, anybody could have had it. A few fellows took a chance, but it was no close corporation. In the United States Chambers of Commerce run ball teams at a loss. The P.A.A.A. deserves credit for the good work it has done, but I think the ball club deserves a little credit too. They put Peterborough on the sporting pages of even American papers and got more advertising than we probably get through Heaton's agency. The Baseball Association will not pay 25 p.c. and the P.A.A.A. won't take less, and that's why they're not coming together.

The Baseball Association.

The Baseball Association's executive were admitted upon the retirement of the P.A.A.A. deputation. To Ald. Turner's question whether there was some way of getting together, Mr. Picard replied: "We're not here to discuss the advisability of going in with the P.A.A.A. at all. If you are ready to give us the park we are ready to talk business"

Mr. Swanston declared that as a member of the ball club and also one of the excutive of the Baseball Association ,he would not play under the P.A.A.A. mentioning the incident of the refusal of a reduction of the percentage for the play-off last fall.

Ald. Phelan said the ball team had talked of going to the Exhibition park. The P.A.A.A. had written that they would be unable to handle Riverside, he said, and the Baseball Association was just in the formation stage at that time. He didn't think the ball club should come to the Council and offer money for the grounds, but the Baseball Association offered $1,000, guaranteed by Mr. Oke, Mr. Hooper, Mr. Picard, Mr. Swanston and other responsible citizens. They were just as competent to look after the park, the ball team and the juniors as the P.A.A.A.

May Go to Exhibition Park.

"If the Council says no," Ald. Phelan put it, "the ball team will probably go to the Exhibition park, and the Council will get nothing; if the Council says yes we will go to Riverside park and the Council gets $1,000."

Mr. Oke— If the Council thinks that it is in the best interests of sport to give the Park to the P.A.A.A., let them have it.

Mr. Convery—We want no friction between the P.A.A.A. and the Baseball Association. Rather than have any friction I would take pleasure in withdrawing our offer.

Mr. Oke—I second that. But this isn't the place to second it. We don't want to get in wrong with the P.A.A.A. and the public. We might be further ahead to go to the Exhibition grounds. It looks as if we'd have this every year, and I don't think we have to leave the Exhibition park for five years. I understand we can get a lease for five years.

Mr. Convery—Probably each Association would be away ahead, and the city eventually, especially if Riverside is properly taken care of.

Ald. Maher remarked that the question at issue wasn't merely one of dollars and cents. He mentioned the fact that the baseball team had not shown its books.

Mr. Convery — This is not the place to discuss that.

J. Solomon affirmed that it was purely a business proposition. Five years ago he started baseball at Riverside park, and had lost money. Men told him he was foolish, but he had never approached the Council for grants to cover the deficits.

Can Play Elsewhere.

"The grounds are donated to the Lindsay team," he said. "Oshawa and Cobourg give their grounds free. We don't ask for anything free. We make a fair proposition and take all the risk. Two years ago we got into the finals in Guelph and everyone was talking about the Peterborough ball team. If we can't get the park we can play in other towns and split the gates. If the Council can get $1100 from the P.A.A.A. for Riverside they should take it."

Ald. Fife desired to see the two parties work together and use Riverside park. He considered that it was a business matter, as several of the speakers had said.

To Avoid Friction.

Mr. Convery acknowledged that the P.A.A.A. were doing good work and the ball club would give them all the support they could afford, but they wished to avoid friction and to that end he believed that it was perhaps best to withdraw the $1,000 offer anyway.

Ald. Meyers—Hold your offer over until we've had time to think about it.

Mr. Convery — All right; until Monday night.

Can Show Books.

Mr. Swanston alluded to the ball club's statement for last year and its general affairs. "In Horace Walkey we have one of the best secretaries .Anything he did was always square. We are willing to show our books to the proper authorities, but we're not going to show them to everyone that comes along. As business men you wouldn't do that yourselves.

Ald. Maher—The ball team is not willing to deal with the P.A.A.A.?

Mr. Convery—We have been dealing with them all along, but we have been unable to make any arrangement yet. The trouble is there are men on the P.A.A.A. who are not actively connected with sport, and they shouldn't sit in judgment on a matter of this kind.

Mr .Solomon—The most of us are members of the P.A.A.A.

Question of Revenue.

Ald. Phelan said he was not a member of the Baseball Association. If the committee felt that the park should be leased to the P.A.A.A. he would not support it, but he wouldn't oppose it. To him, as an alderman, it was a matter of losing $1,000.

Ald. Stocker— It is a question of making $1,000 or losing $1,000.

Ald. Morrison —It looks to me that the P.A.A.A. get most of their money from the ball team.

Ald. Maher—If you get down to dollars and cents there should be enough people behind the P.A.A.A. judging by those who are connected with it, to raise enough money to meet the requirements

Option on Their Offer.

The Baseball Association's delegation returned at this stage. Mr. Convery said: "We have had another little meeting of our executive and we feel that in justice to the men who are behind the P.A.A.A. we had better withdraw our offer for Riverside ,or in justice to the Council if they'd rather have us leave it in we'd like to have the option of saying what we'd do on Monday night."

Mr. Convery admitted that this was an option of either accepting or rejecting the park if the Council accepted the offer.

Ald. Fife and Ald. Meyers said they didn't like that attitude after the deputation had promised to let their offer stand until Monday's council meeting.

Ald. Meyers— I thought you had given us your last word a little while ago.

Mr. Convery explained that the Baseball Association felt that they should have the unanimous vote of the Council if they were given the park. They wished to avoid the position of a number of the Council being opposed to it, chiefly because baseball needed the support of the Council, the P.A.A.A. and the public.

Ald. Fife moved that, in as much as there would be no revenue from Riverside park unless it was leased to the Baseball Association, and in that case it would have to be thrown open to the public, the park be let to the Baseball Association for $1,000 for this year.

Ald. Stocker seconded it.

Ald. Meyers—They made us an offer, but they didn't give us time to consider it. We have no offer before us.

Ald. Phelan—The P.A.A.A. won't even give us an offer. They are just stalling, to use a slang expression.

Ald. Maher proposed an amendment that the control of Riverside be given to the P.A.A.A. on the best terms they could give.

Ald. Meyers—That might cost the city $1,000.

Ald. Maher—It mightn't cost us a cent.

Ald. Meyers—The city needs more grounds anyway. Personally, I'd like a little more time to consider this.

Ald. Maher's amendment failed to attract a seconder, so he seconded Ald. Morrison's amendment that the decision be left until Monday night.

Both the motion and amendment failed to carry. The committee divided evenly, four for each proposal, The amendment was supported by Aldermen Turner, Meyers, Morrison and Maher, and the motion by Aldermen Fife, Phelan, Stocker and Mayor Taylor.

Golf Practically Only Sport to Lack Standardized Ball

Golf lacks one feature that is definitely fixed in practically every other sport, a standardized ball.

In many record-breaking rounds various kinds of balls are used, varying slightly in size and weight. There is no doubt that lack of standardization offers a chance for argument.

If all matches were played with a ball the same weight and size, as is the case in baseball, records made would be on an equality basis.

Recently England has started a movement for a standardized ball. The movement is not meeting with much favor among the American pros, who feel that England is seeking to get a decided edge in establishing weight and size.

The English pros, particularly the veterans, seek to have a ball considerably lighter than the one used in this country by our best pros as the standard ball of golf.

Their reason, according to our professional players is that with a light ball, which will just carry so far, the veterans are able to get just as much distance as the younger players. This is not true with a heavier ball which has greater carrying qualities.

It is possible, however, that the weight question may be threshed out and a standard ball adopted soon.

PHILLIES WEAK PITCHING STAFF

Veteran Lee Meadows Is the Only Good Moundsman of Whole String.

By BILLY EVANS.

LEESBURG, Fla., March 29.—Pitching is the main hope of every big league manager.

On that score Manager Fletcher of the Phillies cannot do much boasting. His staff hardly measures up to big league standards.

The veteran Lee Meadows, the bespectacled twirler, is his one sure bet. Meadows has about become convinced that there is no chance for him to be traded to New York and may be content to make the best of the situation in Philly.

As his second best bet Fletcher offers "Lefty" Weinert. For several years Weinert has been toiling for the Phillies with indifferent success. Fletcher is convinced that Weinert has arrived and that he will prove it beyond a doubt the coming season.

Another youngster on whom Fletcher is banking is "Mickey" Behan, secured from the Hamilton club of the Mint League Twenty-one wins in 25 starts was the lure. In the fall of the season Behan won four of the six games for the Phillies, a very creditable performance.

Pinto, a Cuban southpaw, with the Phillies last year, but didn't get much of a chance, is listed among the possibilities. Pinto has the stuff but is inexperienced. For that reason Fletcher greatly regrets the club didnt' send him out last year.

The veteran Jimmy Ring and Wilbur Hubbell are the other two hopes of Fletcher. Winters must show or go.

Pitching is the one department in which the Phillies appear rather weak. Yet Fletcher is an optimist about it. Give him the argument that the Phillies are weak in pitching and he will simply reply:

"What National League club isn't?"

Thousands of bob-white quail are imported every year from Mexico, just so American hunters may have something to shoot at?

WON CHAMPIONSHIP IN JUST ONE YEAR.

VANCOUVER, B.C. March 29.—Just a year ago Vic Foley was contentedly smearing paint on buildings and billboards. And now, with the Pacific Northwest bantam title all of his own, coast fans are touting him to be figuring with Tremaine and Curtin before long.

Foley, who is 19, put on gloves at an amateur boxing show here to take the place of a boy who ran out on the promoters. His showing made him a curtain raiser next week—and soon thereafter he beat George Washington Lee, tough little Chinese who is the coasts's trial horse, in a main event here. He hasn't been beaten or knocked off his feet.

The fight game is beginning to seriously interefere with Foley's painting. He's been smearing opponents all over the northwest, and is showing clever footwork as well as a sock in each fist.

HOCKEY TEAM ENTERTAINED.

Members of the Examiner hockey team and a number of their friends were the guests last evening of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barringer, 444 Mark street. A pleasant social evening with dancing and other forms of entertainment was enjoyed to mark the close of a successful season for the team. The efforts of the host and hostess on their behalf were greatly appreciated by the members of the team.

WILLS LOST SOME DOUGH.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Harry Wills is in mourning. The negro fighter lost someone very near and dear to him recently, a young person named Lotta Dough.

Harry had a chance to fight George Godfrey, another negro heavyweight. But he didn't accept the invitation. And he didn't give any reasons why.

And then along came Jack Renault and handed Godfrey a round-trip ticket to Slumberland. Wills now figures he could have done the same. In training Godfrey certainly looked good.

"Nap" Rucker, old National League pitcher, may become coach at Princeton.

LARGE HANDS ARE ALSO LARGE ASSET.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 29.—The greatest pair of hands in baseball, is the remark of every Cleveland player, when the name of Walter Lutzke is mentioned.

In baseball, a great pair of hands must be big hands. In addition they must be well formed and free from defects.

It is a matter of baseball history that a majority of the great infielders have big hands. A big pair of hands was the outstanding feature of Hans Wagner, and no better infielder ever played a ball.

All ball players like a loose fitting glove, giving the hand plenty of freedom. Ordinarily a stock glove will suit the average player, fit him perfectly. Lutzke, however, has a special model.

The advantage of a big pair of hands in baseball is the aid rendered in handling the ball. It makes for a surer catch and more accurate throwing, because of the purchase it is possible to get on the ball.

A good pair of hands in football means a big pair of hands particularly when forward passing is considered.

A big pair of hands is what made Brick Muller the sensation of the gridiron is hurling the forward pass.

TO CATCH FOR TWEED.

Bart Cummins, who did the catching for Lindsay Greybirds last season ,intends casting his lot with the Tweed intermediates of the Trent Valley League. Bart, who was considered as one of the best receivers in the Central Ontario League last season has a good whip and understands baseball from A to Z, besides being a good batter, having finished last season in the .300 class.

After a long lay-off Johnny Kilbane is getting ready once more. He scraps Eugene Criqui at Polo Grounds on June 2.

When Abadane, eight-year-old bay gelding, paced a mile and 40 yards in 1:39 2-5 he lowered the world's record, held by four horses, of 1:42.

Did you know that—

YOUNG PEOPE SUICIDE FOR TRIFLING CAUSES

NEW YORK, March 28 (Canadian Press). — The number of suicides among young people has almost doubled since the war, Dr. Harry M. Warren, president of the Save-a-Life League, declared in his 1922 report.

The known total of juvenile suicides has jumped from 477 in 1919 to 900 last year. The total number of suicides for the year totalled 13,530. The average age of the boys was 16 and of the girls 15. One boy left a note that he was killing himself "just for fun." A girl wrote that she "wanted a new thrill," and another took poison because she did not like the look of her hair bobbed.

THE SPRING VEIL.

A short veil that falls just below the hat brim and conceals the eyes most alluringly is one of the favorite types for spring. For close veils, the widemeshed heavy one is worn.

vide some means of getting its citizens to the place of their occupation.

Tourist Trade Also.

The possible tourist trade to the Lift Lock is also one item which should not be overlooked in the estimating as to whether this would pay or not.

We are also advised that a park is being established on the hill opposite to our present location, and this would undoubtedly draw a number of people in the same way that other parks do if there were the means of transportation.

The effect of our location in East City is being felt to a certain degree at the present time, as we are informed that several of our householders have moved to this section of the city, and a number of others are considering doing so, either purchasing or building new homes at the first opportunity.

Much Capital Invested.

We have invested in this community an amount of capital which is many times the amount which it would be necessary to put into a car line to reach this corner; and as this is the most permanent proposition, it is obvious that a 'bus line or some other means of getting to this section would be very small as compared to the amount that we ourselves have put into the district.

Thanking you for any attention you may be able to give this matter, we are, yours very truly,

GET TOGETHER IF YOU CAN

All Sports Would be Helped by Closer Co-operation

It is unfortunate that there should have developed any difference between the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association and the Peterborough Baseball Club or Association in the matter of grounds which difference to some extent appears to have been a financial one. The P.A.A.A. willing to work on the same basis as last year namely 25 per cent. and the Ball Club only willing to pay 20 per cent of the receipts. That the P.A.A.A. has done, is doing and can still do an immense amount of good work in fostering and caring for non revenue producing sports it is admitted on all sides, but they cannot do this and develop young players to take place on the senior organized teams without funds and believe the games that are money makers should help by contributing to the financial support of the Association for this purpost. There are many citizens who are anxious to see both organizations succeed and would prefer to see them working more in harmony. Each no doubt feel their contribution is correct but if they can get together on the proposition with a view of discussing and carrying on Sports in general with a view to the future as well as for the immediate present many supporters of each and of both will be pleased.

SOFT BALL ARTISTS TO HAVE A HOLIDAY

Soft ball fans and players are reminded that on account of the Motor Show no games will be played next week. In the Examiner issue of Thursday, April 5th, will appear the schedule for the following week and each Thursday thereafter the schedule for the next week will be shown. Owing to the Armouries being used on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings on and after April 9th for military purposes, all games scheduled for Tuesday night will be played on Saturday afternoons, commencing at 2 o'clock. This change in schedule only affects those teams in the Industrial section.

BILLIARD LEAGUE.

The final games are now being played in the competition for the cup presented by Mr. G. N. Gordon, M.P. The present holders of the cup, the S. O. E. team, are leading by one point, and there are two more games to play. The standing of the teams is as follows:

	Won
S.O.E. "Red"	36
De Laval	35
C.P.R.	30
G.W.V.A. "B"	25
S.O.E. "White"	20
G.W.V.A. "A"	20
A.O.F.	16
Quaker	8

The final games will be worth watching, and the public are cordially invited to witness these at the S.O.E. Hall and G.W.V.A. Hall.

PLANS A WAR ETC.

Sir Arthur is taking to America what he says are new pictures of ectoplasm issuing from a medium, together with a full report on experiments by Dr. Schrenck Notzing, of Munich, who he declares, convinced 25 famous German and Swiss scientists that ectoplasm exists.

"I shall relate new conversations with people dear to me who have passed beyond," he said. "And I shall tell of the marvellous powers of Frau Silbert, an Austrian woman, which I investigated at several seances. Several others and myself sat with her around a table in a well lighted room. On the floor under the table we placed various articles, metallic and non-metallic. Without touching these articles she caused them to come popping up through a smal hole we cut in the table. She also gave an exhibition of mysterious forces which made her whole head flame, her hair seeming to crackle with glowing electric flashes"

The famous spirttualist said he had been investtigaing charges that William Hope, spirit photographer of Crewe, was a fakir, and had just completed a book giving proof of his reliability.

SOMETHING NEW AND UNIQUE in the way of Theatrical Attractions is promised Peterborough theatre-goers for the next Two Months as a result of Special Arrangements made by MR. FRANK WHITEHOUSE with the Trans-Canada Theatres, Ltd., to take over the GRAND OPERA HOUSE the Last Three Days of Each WEEK, with the exception of the First Week, when Mr. Whitehouse will have charge of the House All Week. This will not affect the Resident Staff of the Grand Opera House, of which Mr. Harold Bickell is Manager. During the period that the Grand is under the direction of Mr. Whitehouse a High-class line of Pictures will be shown, together with other Attractions. Commencing MONDAY, 2ND APRIL, the Feature Production will be "NERO." This Picture represents the Climax of Motion Picture production.

THE BEAUTY OF THE SETTINGS of "NERO" have been commented on by all critics who have written about this Picture, and by thousands of theatre-goers who have seen it during its three months' run in New York City. The world-famed beauty of Italian scenery has been caught by the camera in combination with vistas of scenes and settings renowned in history and famed in song and story. In this respect "NERO" offers your patrons an entire change from even the most elaborate pictures made in America. In no other photodrama have such beautiful scenes and vistas met the eyes of the beholder.

EVERY SCHOOLBOY KNOWS the the phrase, "Nero fiddled while Rome burned." Here at last on the Screen we see before our eyes the wicked Roman Emperor plucking his lyre and composing lyrics to the burning of the world's proudest city.

REVIVE TALK OF NEW PARTY FOR ENGLAND

Premier Bonar Law's Retirement From Office Would Mean a General Political Disorganization.

GRAVE DIFFICULTIES

(Special to the British United Press by C. F. C. Randall).

LONDON, March 31. — While official bulletins minimized the seriousness of the illness of Premier Bonar Law, who is now resting in the country, his friends are disquieted. The loss of his health and the relaxed throat that are the aftermath of a cold are not in themselves serious, but recovery is obviously very slow. The Premier narrowly escaped a complete breakdown two years ago by resigning office and abandoning all work.

His return to office was against his own inclinations and contrary to the advice of his physicians, but was undertaken in response to the pressure of Conservative friends. It is added to-day that he must be careful to guard against overstrain, which is exceedingly difficult for him at this critical time. Both political friends and foes unite in the hope that he will retain his health.

Fear Retirement.

His retirement from office at this time would mean a general political disorganization, for no party is just now ready to assume the responsibilities of government, and the only visible alternative to a Labor Government is a Liberal reunion or a re-organized Coalition, and both courses have grave difficulties.

A Centre Party.

Former Premier Asquith refuses to co-operate with the followers of Lloyd George, except on the basis of surrender by Lloyd George of the leadership.

There has for this occasion been a revival of the talk of the formation of a Centre party with the Progressive Unionists such as Birkenhead and Sir Robert Horne joining with the National Liberals with Lloyd George as leader, and it is suggested that the name of the new party should be the Constitutionalists, its plank being stern resistance to the rising tide of Socialism. Under conditions as they are today, two-thirds of the National party as a rule support the Government, while the Asquith Liberals vote alone or with Labor. Unless the breach between the two former Liberal Premiers is healed before the next political crisis arises the Radical Liberals will inevitably drift towards Labor.

The Moderates in this case will probably form the basis of a Centre party which, with the expected support of such Unionists as Chamberlain, Birkenhead and Horne, would afford the country its best rallying point against the Socialistic tendencies of Labor. Even if Bonar Law completely regains his health, the outlook is not re-assuring, and with him, in the opinion of many trained observers, the obsequies of the present Government are inevitable.

THE WEATHER.

While the weather on Good Friday was fairly moderate, the temperature went down again last night—3 below zero was the figure for this morning. The lowest yesterday was 13 above and the highest 26 above. March may not go out lion-like, as regards stormy weather, but it will certainly be cold. An Easter Sunday with deep snow on the ground, will be something out of the ordinary. — W. P.

MARKSON WAS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL ON BAIL

His Own Recognizance of $500 and One Surety of $500—A Case for the Superior Court.

AT FALL ASSIZES

Deciding that there were features of the case which should be passed upon by a superior Court, Magistrate O. A. Langley this morning bailed Bernard Markson for trial on his own bond of $500.00 and one surety of $500.00 on the charge of having published false news likely to injure public interest.

Through J. A. O'Brien, agent for J. G. O'Donoghue, K.C., of Toronto, Markson arranged to provide the bail that set him at liberty under committal for trial for the first time since his arrest two weeks ago.

Magistrate Langley said that there had been very few cases tried under this section of the code, and only one case was reported under it in Canada. In his summary of the evidence Mr. Langley pointed out that the prosecution had shown that the article published in The Worker was false, although Markson affirmed that his letter to the paper had been twisted and distorted in some particulars; but after it was printed, it was distributed in Peterborough by the prisoner, who did write some corrections to the article, but let others go, whether he knew them to be false or not.

His Worship said that the effect of the article on "public interest" was a nice question of law which should not be passed upon by an inferior Court in a preliminary hearing. Markson himself had admitted that the article might have the tendency to keep "class conscious" workers out of Peterborough. It had not, however, caused any apparent mischief, but on the whole the evidence justified sending the accused for trial at the next sessions of the Supreme Court. In view of the weaker features of the case, His Worship decided to admit Markson to bail.

Only Preliminary Inquiry.

"I am not trying the case at all," said Mr. Langley, "but dealing with it in preliminary inquiry only. The section of the code has been referred to as an antiquated one. There has been a similar law in England and Canada for many years, but there have been very few cases tried under it. Only one case is reported under it in Canada."

The penalty for an offence under this clause was one year imprisonment, His Worship continued, quoting the law which was defined as wilfully and knowingly publishing any false news whereby injury or mischief is likely to be caused to any public interest.

"The prosecution has shown that the alleged false tale in "The Worker was in many respects false.

There is plenty of evidence on that point to place the accused on trial. The matter of publication was proved by certain witnesses. Without going into the details of certain little changes in the letter which the accused sent to Toronto, there is the fact of his sending the letter and of delivering copies of the paper at the Labour Hall after he had made some alterations in the article.

Keep "Class Conscious" Out.

There was sufficient evidence to justify committing the accused on that point of publication, Mr. Langley said, and with regard to the matter of public interest being affected. Chief Constable Newhall had testified that the article might keep workingmen from coming to Peterborough and also immigrants from coming here.

Markson himself had said the article might have the effect of stopping workingmen from coming here, and might keep "class conscious workers" away.

Whether that could be a matter of public interest is a nice question of law, His Worship continued, explaining that he uses the word nice in its true sense; and it was a matter that should be properly passed upon by a Superior Court rather than by an inferior Court. Where a case came so close to the words of the code, the question was raised whether it did not come indeed within the words.

"Replying upon the meaning of public interest and upon the authorities cited in King's work on Libel and Slander and Bowers on Actionable Defamation where all the leading English and Canadian cases are collected up to the time of the publication of these works, I think he has brought himself within the statute, but, if not, at any rate so closely that it is better that a Supreme Court Judge pass on it.

Knowledge of Falseness.

In my view there must be a knowledge by the accused of the falsity. On that there was very little evidence

GOOD SERVICE AT ST. PAUL'S

All Protestant Churches of the City Represented --The Cross and Its Tragedy.

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church was brightened by beautiful lilies on the occasion of the special Good Friday service at three o'clock yesterday. The attendance was good, including representatives from all the Protestant Churches in the city, and the pulpit was occupied by four ministers: Rev. Robert Pogue, president of the Ministerial Association, who was in charge of the service; Rev. W. R. Courage, of St. George's Anglican Church, who led the devotions; Rev. W. E. Morrow, of Park Street Baptist Church, who read the lesson; and Rev. A. J. Langford, of Trinity Methodist Church, who preached the sermon.

The discourse was a thoughtful presentation of the Cross and its tragedy as a result of God's love. The atonement was made by Christ because God so loved the world. "Redemption," said Mr. Langford, "is not the cause of God's love—it is the result of His love." The gift of God's love did not consist alone of the sacrifice on Calvary, but included Christ's life from the cradle to the ascent to His Father's throne."

When we look at the Cross we should do so in the light of the open tomb, the speaker said. The real power of redemption is in the two combined.

The greatest trial of Jesus was the knowledge He had that the people whom He came to save would crucify Him.

We should open our lives to God permitting God to empty Himself into our humanity, helping us in the struggle for character and in our problems of life, and lead us into the city of eternal day.

The anthems were "On the Way to Jerusalem," soloist Mr. C. E. Clarke, and "He Was Despised."

OFFICE STAFFS GAVE BANQUET TO E. WORTH

Interesting Facts and Figures Relating to the History of a Local Industry—A Good Programme.

Mr. Edgar Worth, retired managing director of the Canadian Woollens, Ltd., was the guest of honor at a banquet given in the Empress Hotel on Thursday evening by the overseers of the B.....er-Worth mill, and the head office staff. The occasion, marking an official farewell to Mr. Worth, showed no less in the the spirit which animated the participators than in the eulogistic speeches, the pleasant and cooperative relations which have existed between the managing director and his prepared various cases for presentation to the enquiring body.

The toast to His Majesty was given by the chairman, D. G. Melton.

F. Whitton proposed the toast, "The Canadian Textile Industry," and in responding a comprehensive survey of the growth and success of the industry in Canada was given by J. W. Worth.

"The industry to which we belong," he said, "that of producing worsteds and woollens, should be assured of great popularity and prosperity in view of the weather conditions."

The textile industry in Canada is not very old yet, although in world history it is one of the most ancient of industries. Right through the ages since Bible times, when we read of the patriarchs tending their flocks and weaving clothes, the textile industry has kept going and has not been lost to mankind as several other arts have. The reason is that textiles are vital to mankind.

"It is amazing to an outsider to find out," said the speaker, "that it is necessary for the wool to go through 23 processes from its raw state to make yarn, and a great many more before it is made into clothes." The textile industry for the most part is made up of men who try to do the right thing.

Technical Training.

The speaker regretted the lack in Canada of the facilities to give those who are starting in the industry the technical training in the art which they should have. The textile industry is of such importance now that the problem of providing technical training should be taken up strongly with the educational authorities.

Mr. Worth took satisfaction in announcing that a proposal for a combined Collegiate and Technical institution was passed by the committee on Wednesday.

"Canadian Woollens is an industry that has expanded quicker and more surely than any other industry in Canada," continued the speaker. "We kept on getting larger and larger—there is no such thing as standing still."

William Tinker in proposing the toast of the evening, said that the Bonner-Worth had not been established very long, but long enough for the employees to learn to respect and honor the guest of the evening, Mr. Edgar Worth.

"While he was with us we knew we had a friend who would help us to the best of his ability. He is the goodness that refuses to let the left hand know what the right hand does. The success of the Bonner-Worth is due entirely to Mr. Worth who has that genius in management which is rarely found in earth. We shall carry kind remembrances of the years we have worked with Mr. Worth, and we trust that this is a time in his affairs when he is making a move that will lead on to fortune."

Bonner-Worth Yarns.

In responding Edgar Worth expressed his gratitude for the kindly thought shown in the "staging of this affair." He disclaimed the credit given him for the phenomenal success of the Bonner-Worth mills. "It was not the work of one man," he said. "There was no reason for it not to succeed when you consider that it comprised such intelligent men as are here to-night.

The Bonner-Worth yarns, he said,

Expect Important Evidence Regard To Pensions Com

TORONTO, March 31.—(Canadian Press)—It is expected that important evidence will be presented next week at a sitting at Osgoode Hall of the Royal Commission investigating operations of Pension Commissioners in connection with veterans of Great War. Sessions here will constitute what is to be called the "second phase" of enquiry, and following the interim report recently submitted by the Commission various branches of the Great War Veterans Association and other organizations have presentation to the enquiring body.

The commission is composed of Lieut-Col. J. O. Ralston, of Halifax (chairman); Lieut.-Col. Arthur Dubuc, of Montreal; and Lieut-Col. Walter McKeown of Toronto. Col. McKeown is medical member of the Board.

JOINT FIELD DAY LOCAL ODDFELLOWS

The joint field day held yesterday by members of Mount Hebron and Hiawatha Encampments of the I.O. O.F., to confer degrees and receive the Grand Patriarch, Henry Dakin of Galt, was very successful, both from the viewpoint of attendance and the splendid manner in which the degree work was carried through by the degree teams of Mount Hebron No. 56 and Hiawatha No. 66 Encampments, the former in charge of Captain Harry Carter, P.C.P., the latter supervised by Degree Captain G. F. Cairns, P.C.P.

The presence of Grand Patriarch H. Dakin of Galt and Grand Junior Warden A. W. Switzer of Toronto as representatives, added additional interest to the session.

Visitors from Havelock, Norwood, Millbrook, and Lakefield, together with the members of the two local encampments, showed their appreciation of the splendid work of the two teams, by hearty applause as the teams retired after each degree.

Twenty candidates were present for the several degrees.

Dinner was provided at the I.O. O.F. Temple for the visitors arriving in the morning, and in the evening, after the ceremonies were finished, a banquet was held in the dining-room catered for by the local feminine affiliation, the Golden Link Lodge No. 82 of the Daughters of Rebekah with Mrs. Harold Fry, the Noble Grand, in charge.

The proof of the ladies' success as purveyors was attested in the hearty manner in which the toast to the ladies was received, together with the cheers and tiger given for them.

The chairman of the banquet was Geo Lacheur, D.D.G.P., and the toast list was as follows:

To the Grand Encampment, proposed by R. N. Jones, D.D.G.P., with response by H. Dakin of Galt, Grand Patriarch, and Adam Switzer of Toronto, Grand Junior Warden.

Toast to the Candidates, proposed by Patr. P. I. Bentley, and responded to by Thomas Tooms, M.L.A.

Toast to the Ladies, with vote of thanks, by W. F. Green. P.D.D.G.P.

Song numbers during the banquet were led by Messrs. Patr. Alex. Dick and W. H. Barry, P.C.P.

The committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of Messrs. F. Read, P.C.P., J. Lush, P. C.P., G. Lacheur, D.D.G.P., R. Murduff P.C.P., W. H. Young, P.C.P., and W. Brown, J.W.

The reception committee included Messrs. Barry, Bartlett, Read, Brown, Young, and King.

Following the banquet, a meeting of the Grand Encampment Committee was held, with the Grand Encampment officers present, when arrangements for the meeting here in August were considerably advanced.

HILL WILL BE USED TO MAKE WAR MEMORIAL

The Women's Patriotic League of Ashburnham Provide Means for Purchase of Armour's Hill.

THE CONTRIBUTORS

The citizens are familiar with the efforts that were made in the past to acquire Armour's Hill for a Memorial Park. Since the last by-law was submitted to the ratepayers and defeated the Women's Patriotic League of Ashburnham has taken the matter up and provided means for the purchase of the property. The following statement, prepared by the Patriotic League, explains itself:

At a meeting held some months ago the Womens' Patriotic League of Ashburnham decided that they would endeavor to purchase Aromur's Hill for a Memorial Park. Realizing that this was an ambitious programme, they decided to write to the "Old Boys" of Ashburnham, asking their approval and support, in view of the happy memories of past days they probably entertained in connection with this spot. The women of this League feel that if this property is not acquired at this time, the opportunity may not present itself again, as the present owners are desirous of disposing of the property to close an estate. We have received a large number of replies, commending this object, and enclosing substantial subscriptions towards the fund. Also a number of public minded citizens have augmented this fund very considerably, and we have now purchased this property, to be converted into a Memorial Park to the memory of the boys who went overseas.

The following are a few quotations from letters received:

"I entirely sympathize with the desire of the Women's Patriotic League of Ashburnham to secure the Armour property as a park, and you will find my check herewith as a contribution to your very worthy effort in this connection."

"The Women's Patriotic League of Ashburnham are to be congratulated on the stand they have taken in endeavoring to acquire this property, and in as much as the amount involved is not large, I sincerely hope that your efforts may be crowned with success."

"It look to me as being a splendid idea and you can count on my support."

"May Armour's Hill long retain the simple but rugged outlines that old Ashburnhamites knew and loved so well. To this end I enclose my mite."

"I have indeed many happy memories of "Cummings" Hill, and wish you every success in your endeavor."

"I believe it would make a very fine park, and enclose herewith my subscription."

"I congratulate you on the efforts you are putting forth to secure this property for a city park."

Encouraged by the support we have already received, we are planning for the gradual development of this property, and would like the co-operation and assistance of the citizens towards making this a fitting memorial to our soldiers

BUILDING AND STOCK INSURED

Plans Not Yet Made for Future of the Turnbull Store.

The origin of the disastrous fire which this morning gutted a portion of the large departmental store operated by the J. C. Turnbull Co., Ltd., remains unknown. At 2.48 a.m. the alarm was turned in from Box 26 by Constable W. H. Welch, who saw the flames breaking out of the building on Simcoe street

Fire Chief Gimblett reports that had the fire had ten minutes more headway it would have resulted in the complete destruction of the entire building, and undoubtedly the quick work of Constable Welch, who is one of the youngest men on the force, is in a great measure responsible for confining the fire to the comparatively small damage done.

Heat Was Intense.

The fire apparently originated in the basement and worked up the south-west corner of the building, where the greatest damage was done. The flames shot out ten feet into the street when the large plate glass windows on Simcoe street were broken by the heat, and the draught carried sparks into all parts of the lower floor.

The blaze spread upwards to the first floor and there did the bulk of its damage, while the basement remained almost untouched.

The building is owned by the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, and is covered by insurance.

H. E. Hodgins, President and Manager of the Turnbull store, when asked about the company's plans, stated that nothing could be decided until the insurance adjusters had made their report. The loss, he said, is covered by insurance.

WOMEN BRAVED WEATHER THIS WINTER'S MORN

The Basket Market Was Crowded But the Outside Market Was Deserted—Weather Comments

TODAY'S PRICES

The Easter market was practically non est this morning, as far as the open section was concerned. Half a dozen shivery looking men guarded as many sleighs, the honey dealer displayed his clear and mixed wares as bravely as usual, but even the dauntless fish man surveyed his frozen commodity with a very frigid eye. A late sleigh came in with its team coated stiff with crystallized frost.

One dealer had potatoes in bags at 75 cents, and the rest had meat: pork at 16 and 18, beef at 11 and 13. Three loads of cut-wood foregathered in one corner; one of tamarack at $10, a load of birch at $11 and a load of mixed at $12.50. A large free, open space was the general impression to be gained from a casual inspection of the farmers' market this morning.

Upstairs, the basket section was crowded. Questioned as to the presence of so many ladies, when the men's section was practically deserted, one woman replied that they came in on the train in the majority of cases, whereas the men had to drive in. But there were plenty of women who had to drive in, just the same. "I never saw an Easter Saturday like it," one woman said, referring to the bitter cold, and the large group of men around the stove at the entrance were unanimous in their bad opinions of the inclement weather.

The tables were piled high and market baskets were overflowing. Eggs for Easter Sunday consumption were there in hundreds of dozens. A general opening price was 35 cents, near the door. Farther on, it receded to 30 cents a dozen, and away up in the northern corner were two men who disposed of their filled baskets quickly. One had pure white eggs at 29 cents a dozen, the other had a basketful of eggs that looked as if they had been slightly tinted, in varying shades of mauvish brown, at 28 cents. One lady asking 30 cents was greatly perturbed over the danger of not getting enough.

Butter also was plentiful, ranging in price from 55 to 50 cents a pound, with prospects of a further drop later on. There were several monstrous turkeys, noble birds, selling for 35 cents a pound. One woman had a variety of sizes in the barnyard king, the large birds going for 45 cents a pound, smaller at 40, and little ones at 35 cents. Chicken, fairly plentiful, was 35 cents a pound, and hens 30 and 29 cents. A large fat goose was worth 35 cents a pound.

EASTER AT ST. JOHN'S.

There will be three celebrations at St. John's tomorrow at 7, 8 and 11 a.m. The Sunday school will meet for service at three o'clock, assembling at the Parish House at 2.45. The Vicar, Rev. Dr. Blagrave will preach at 11 and 7 on the Easter message.

PRICE THREE CENTS — PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, MARCH 31, 1923 — PRICE THREE CENTS

GERMAN PUBLIC WILL NOT SUPPORT INTERNAL LOAN FOR REICHSBANK

Only Twenty-Five Per Cent. of Loan is Subscribed By Public — No Publicity Campaign.

50,000,000 DEFICIT.

BERLIN, March 31.—(Canadian Press).—Only twenty-five per cent. of Germany's internal fifty million dollar loan has been covered by popular subscription, according to returns made public today, and while this result is designated as meeting official expectations under the prevailing political and economic conditions, the financial critics frankly concede that the showing is anything but flattering. The extent to which the loan is underwritten by the public through the mediation of private banks leaves the banks with a deficit of fifty million gold marks, which they now are obliged to assume, in keeping with their promise to the Government and the Reichsbank.

Whether the Reichsbank will succeed in disposing of all or the major portion of the unsubscribed balance is highly doubtful, although the hope is expressed that the loan will be listed on German Bourses and will consequently find added takers.

The press reproaches the Reparations Commission for its alleged intimidation of prospective subscribers, charging that repeated indirect threats that the loan will be seized or declared null and void, obviously account for the suspicion with which it is viewed by small investors. Other critics believe that both the Government and the Reichsbank are unduly sanguine with respect to the volume of foreign currencies in the possession of industrialists and shipping interests, failing to take into consideration that these circles are least inclined to part with gold reserves, which are primarily intended to cover foreign purchases and which therefore could not be tied up in an internal gold loan whose ready negotiability is a matter of conjecture.

Much criticism is also expressed on the Richsbank's failure to carry on an effective publicity campaign in connection with its attempts to mobilize patriotic fervor, while the law prohibiting free trafficking in foreign currencies is liberally blamed for the dearth of subscriptions, as its operations have kept small investors from buying dollars and pounds.

Another handicap to the successful flotation of the loan at present comes through the current stabilization of the mark, which has resulted in a slackening of Bourse activities generally, thus restricting the number of investors, who are more readily inclined to part with rapidly depreciating marks than with a currency which has virtually remained stationary for a period of five weeks. A rising dollar would have materially contributed to stimulating subscriptions to the loan, in the opinion of financiers.

Although it has scored only half a success, the loan will enable the Reichsbank to continue its action in sustaining the mark at the present level. Its recent transfer to Switzerland of 100,000,000 gold marks, which are to remain on deposit there, is also viewed as a move in the direction of steadying the mark through the medium of a gold reserve abroad which is instantly available. Its gold deposits in Great Britain and Switzerland now amount to 165,000,000 marks.

The fate of the first popular loan floated in republican Germany affords a conspicuous contrast to the alacrity with which the public responded to the summons of war drums when the nation's battle exchequer required refilling. Germany's eighth war loan, floated in the spring of 1918, was underwritten for $3,750,500,000, subscribed by individuals.

Germany's currency circulation will be well in excess of five trillion marks at the conclusion of the first quarter of the current year, a new record being reached with the last week's output, which totalled 683,000,000,000.

Congregationalists Are For Church Union

MONTREAL, March 31.—(Canadian Press.)—Church Union as it affects the Congregationalists of Canada is the subject of a manifesto issued by the Church Union committee of the Congregatniona Union of Canada here yesterday which states in part:

"While the question of church union is violently agitating some of the Presbyterian churches, among the Congregationalists the decision for union, while creating much interest, is moving to the great consummation quietly and almost unanimously. . . . One striking feature of the Congregational vote is that vigorous churches which fourteen years ago voted against union, are now voting for it and that almost unanimously."

$50,000 FIRE LOSS TO THE TURNBULL CO.

Fierce Blaze Broke Out at 2.48 This Morning in Peterborough's Big Departmental Store.

ORIGIN UNKNOWN

The J. C. Turnbull Co. Ltd. departmental store on George street suffered fire loss to the amount of $50,000 in the early hours of this morning. At 2.48 the alarm was turned in by a policeman, who saw the flames leaping through the Simcoe street side of the building and reaching over the sidewalk. When the fire brigade arrived, the South West corner of the lower floor was a mass of flames, a disconnected fire was raging in the millinery department ot the second floor, and another fire was burning in a corner of the basement. The rear part of the first floor and the millinery department were gutted, and other parts of the lower floor suffered from fire which appeared to leap from place to place, burning a little in each place. The stock is all damaged by water, but the furniture department on the upper floor escaped fairly lightly. The cause of the fire is unknown, the furnace having been out since Thursday. It was designated by Fire Chief Gimblett as a "freak" fire, the most unlikely places, as the farthest bench from the furnace in the basement, being the first to catch fire.

CONTRACTOR SHOT BY YOUNG LADY.

NEW YORK, March 31.—(Canadian Press)—After sending in her card and then calmly waiting in an ante-room for an interview, 26-year-old Helena Ziegler, of Riverside Drive, Thursday entered the private office of Frederick W. Burnham, wealthy contractor shot him with a double-barrelled pistol, and then killed herself with the weapon.

Burnham, 44 years old and member of a fashionable surburban colony at Dobb's Ferry, was rushed to Bellevue Hospital, where it was said he was dying.

The body of Miss Zeigler prostrate and with the two-barrelled 45-calibre pistol still clutched in her right hand, was discovered in Burnham's office, 15 minutes after those outside had heard voices raised as though in violent argument, had heard two shots rapidly fired, and then unbroken silence.

She was on the floor. A bullet had torn through her brain. In a far corner of the room was Burnham, clinging to a window ledge, gasping and rumpling his hair. Blood streamed from wound in the left side of his head.

As those from without rushed toward him, calling him by name, he pitched to the floor, almost over the body of the young woman.

SARAH BERNHARDT LAID TO REST WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES

Note of Triumph Rather Than Sadness Marked the Funeral Rites of the "Divine Sarah" — Casket Buried Under a Mountain of Flowers.

PARIS, March 29.— (Canadian Press)—The Divine Sarah lies quiet and alone tonight under her mountains of flowers. As the sun went down last farewells were taken of her by that Paris and the world through which had moved so long under a halo all her own.

It was the end of ceremonies which had stirred Paris for days, and tribute was paid to the memory of the great actress in a manner such as the Queen of Cities so rarely bestows except on its most beloved. This last day was as free of incidents as her life had been full of activity, work and storm.

Bernhardt was laid to rest in the Cemetery Pere La Chaise, the funeral service being conducted in the Church of Saint Francois De Sales. It was one of those sunshiny days of early Spring which lent its splendor to the funeral ceremonies. It was commonly commented that there was nothing sad about the funeral, nor did the majority of the vast crowd which witnessed it take the event as one of sadness. The general note, as expressed by the newspapers, was that she had triumphed over death with her vigorous work, and her motto: "Never say Die."

The ceremonies lasted throughout the day, beginning early in the morning with the transfer of the body to the church, which was hung inside and outside with black draperies. By noon, when the services began, the church was crowded and for blocks around the entrance to the church ,thousands upon thousands of spectators had gathered.

The church regulations governing Holy Week, which allow only prayers in churches, was slightly altered to permit, the singing of the mass by noted artists. When the church ceremony was over, a vaster one began; it was the procession to the cemetery. No crowned king ever received a greater tribute from the people.

Mlle. Louise Abbema, painter, and Bernhardt's closest friend, was one of those in the procession, and after the body had been lowered into the grave, she stood with the family and shook hands with the thousands who filed through the long line of gendarmes.

Heaped high upon the grave are vast masses of flowers. They had been sent either to the house or the church, and later were shown in the procession. But these vast quantities were not all. This evening thousands continued to file past the grave and cast flowers upon it. Boquets and clusters of blossoms are mounting high under the greening branches of the willow, aspen and pine trees at the grave side.

Probably never so many lillies were gathered together at one ceremony. All of Bernhardt's friends, known and unknown, aware that she loved "lillies, above jewels and silks" as she once said chose lilies as the principal flower of their offerings.

Those humble thousand who had no invitation to the church ceremony brought to the cemetery a few handfuls until the sunny air itself was steeped with the odor of her favorite flower.

The route taken by the cortege from the church to the cemetery was about five miles, and along all the way the people were massed in solemn silence. Bernhardt on her way to her last resting place passed by the Theatre Sarah Bernhardt, where she had often appeared.

COMMITTEE WILL CONSIDER ALBERTA COAL SHIPMENTS

Every Effort Will Be Made to Have Freight Rates on Western Coal Reduced to Minimum.

ONTARIO'S FUEL.

OTTAWA, March 31.—(Canadian Press)—The shipment of Alberta coal into the acute area of Ontario is now under consideration by the Senate committee which under the chairmanship of Hon. J. S. McLennan, is investigating the fuel situation. The committee which is working in close co-operation with the Dominion Fuel Board has asked Sir Henry Thornton to look into the matter with a view to ascertaining the lowest possible rate which, under favorable conditions, might be quoted for the shipment of Alberta the President of the Canadian National Railways it is felt that reliable data will be obtained on which may be based further studies relating to the transportation of coal from the Alberta fields.

In order that all possible data on this subject may be available the Dominion Fuel Board has recommended that Dr. D. B. Dowling, the well known authority on coal and a member of the Board, be instructed to make further investigations in the field with special reference to the ability of Alberta coal to stand transportation. He will also be requested to ascertain those fields which may contain coal most suitable for shipment.

THREE MASKED MEN ROB FESSERTON POST OFFICE.

LINDSAY, March 31.—(Special).—The local police have received word of a daring post office robbery which occurred the other night at Fesserton, Simcoe County, when three masked men entered the village office and carried off all the negotiable securities they could find. The postmaster and his wife had left the house where the office is situated to visit a neighbor, leaving behind their 14-year-old daughter. About 9 o'clock three masked men appeared at the door, and, pointing revolvers, demanded to know where the valuables were kept. The extent of their haul was $45 in cash and $35 in postage stamps. They also carried away unsigned postal notes totalling $400, together with a postal cancellation stamp.

The police of the district have been notified of the robbery.

U.S. PROHIBITION AGENTS HAVING OWN TROUBLES

Two Men and a Woman Arrested But Their Ship Still Peddles Booze Outside Three-Mile Limit.

FLEET OF SHIPS.

BOSTON, March 31.—(Canadian Press.)— Riding at anchor outside the three mile limit between Cox and Brown's Ledges, East by Half South from Block Island, is the British steamship Avontown, with 10,000 cases of fine Scotch whiskey and champagne in her hold. In Federal Court here yesterday Alexander Goldberg and David Perlo, both of Montreal, and Mrs. Della Clark were being held for hearing on charges of conspiracy to violate the Volstead Act, by smuggling liquor from Scotland. It became known last night that the presence of the Avontown off the coast and the three arrests in Boston are episodes of the same story.

When Goldberg and Perli were arrested Thursday night by United State Marshals in the Alistown apartment of Mrs. Clark also known as Mrs. Lena Costello, it was intimated that the three were thought to be the principals in an extensive rum-running conspiracy. Details of this alleged plot filtered out yesterday, and they included a rum fleet plying between Scotland and the New England coast, of which the Avontown was said to be the flagship, and a traffic of such consequence that the representatives of a Glasgow distillery accompanied the fleet in person.

Available shipping records show the Avontown as on a voyage from the Clyde to St. Pierre, Miquelon. In her present position off Block Island she has been under the eye of the Coast Guard service for about three weeks, it is said. The vessel, a two-funneled, modern freight steamship of 1,093 tons is about twelve miles off Block Island. She carries a crew of 40. Her cargo is valued at $750,000.

James W. Costello, husband of the woman in whose apartment the arrests were made Thursday night, was not at home when the deputy marshals arrived with their warrants. It was said yesterday that he left by automobile for Newport, R.I., a few hours before the arrests. Reports received later said he chartered a small motor boat at Newport yesterday morning and went out to the Avontown.

The Federal authorities, it was said, have a baffling problem before them, although they hold three alleged principals. As long as the British steamship remains outside the limit, she cannot be molested, according to the recent ruling from Washington. Federal agents are said to know the name and life history of a Glasgow distillery agent on board the vessel, and to have information that samples of the cargo have been landed and distributed to prove the excellence of the rest of it. But how they will link the two ends of the alleged conspiracy in legal action was not clear.

Perlo and Goldberg were held in $10,000 bail by the United States' Commissioner for hearing April 6. Perlo put up his in cash. Mrs. Clark was held in $7,500. In addition to Costello, said to be safe aboard the Avontown, the authorities are looking for Harry Robinson, said to be a member of an exporting company, of Montreal.

SEVEN DEAD IN WRECK OF FAST PULLMAN TRAIN

Fifteen Others Injured When Big Four Train Struck An Auto and Jumped the Rails.

70 MILES AN HOUR.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 31, Canadian Press. — Seven persons are dead, and 15 lie injured in hospitals, as the result of the wrecking of Big Four Train No. 11, which crashed into an automobile at a grade crossing north of here; the train "buckled" from the impact and the sudden application of the air brakes and catapulted from the rails.

The train, composed entirely of steel Pullman cars, struck the automobile, instantly killing its three occupants, a woman and two small children, and hurtled across the wooden ties for a distance of more than one hundred yards before the engine and four of the coaches turned over on their sides.

An hour behind schedule, the train (one of the most luxurio . . . ted by the railroad) was entering the last lap of its long journey from Boston to Cincinnati, when the accident occurred. Its engineer, Andrew Green of Cleveland, said to-night that he was speeding at the rate of 70 miles an hour when the automobile crept on to the track a short 20 feet ahead. He applied the brakes immediately, he said.

The driver of the car was unable to see the train because of a building at the corner and the crossing is unguarded by a watchman.

Eyewitnesse of the crash said that the engine and baggage car left the rails as soon as the locomotive hit the automobile. The train continued they said in a cloud of dust and splinters from the wooden cross ties and finally leaped from the right of way, one of the cars hurtling completely over the locomotive

Scenes of confusion greeted the first to reach the mass of twisted steel. Many of the passengers were still in their berths, and others preparing to arise. Many were assisted from the windows and apertures cut in the cars, and others, more seriously injured, were carried out by rescue parties, hastily formed.

Ambulances and private automobiles removed the dead and seriously injured, while others received first aid on the scene, and continued on a relief train made up in Columbus.

After Baby Comes

"My, you are looking well."

"Yes, I am feeling fine, too."

"And how is baby?"

"He is just dandy and as good as can be."

"And what have you been doing to look so well?"

"Oh, I got run-down nursing baby and began to get discouraged I was feeling so miserable. I suppose it was my nervous condition that got baby restless, and then, of course, it worried me trying to look after him."

"I thought you looked so worn-out when I was in last time."

"Well, I was feeling so discouraged that I sent for mother to come and she was not here a day before she had me using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

"I should have told you about it, for we always use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when any of us get nervous or run-down."

"For the first few days I could not see that it was doing much good, but soon I found myself sleeping better and feeling less worried and irritable during the day. My appetite improved, and as I gained strength baby seemed to sleep better and be less trouble. He is just fine now and as good-natured as any baby ever was."

"How do you take the Nerve Food?"

"One pill after each meal and at bedtime. I will soon be able to discontinue using it, but want to be sure that my system is thoroughly built up before quitting."

"That is great. It gives me more confidence than ever in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and that is saying a good deal, for you know what it did for me when I had that nervous breakdown. Has your mother gone home?"

"Yes, and I tell you it was a lucky day for me when she came to the rescue with her help and good advice. Her experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food proved to be a blessing for me."

EAST CITY'S NEED.

The desire of the people of East City to secure transportation facilities either by the extension of the street railway or by the establishment of a motor bus system can be readily sympathized with, and the Examiner would be glad to learn that this problem was being taken up in a whole-hearted manner by the City Council.

The situation, of course, is complicated by the report of the Gregory Commission setting forth the fact that there has been a heavy deficit in the operating of Peterborough's street railway.

It will be necessary to show the Hydro Commission that an extension to East City would prove a profitable investment, or failing that to prove that a motor bus system could be operated successfully.

The latter plan should not be judged by the spasmodic attempts that have made to provide East City with a jitney service.

They failed because the cars used were, for the most part, neither comfortable nor commodious, and because the service was irregular, to say the least.

Modern, roomy, smooth-running motor buses connecting with the street railway service at Hunter and George streets might solve the transportation problem for East City and prove a profitable investment.

POLICE COMMISSIONS.

A delegation from a number of Ontario municipalities that recently determined to press for a change in the law regarding police commissions is to present the petition to the Government at Toronto today, says the Ottawa Journal. It is anticipated that they will fail in their purpose. They have not made out a case sufficiently convincing to warrant the Attorney-General's proposing their scheme to the Legislature. They want elective police commissioners, or, failing that, commissioners appointed by the municipal council. The commissioners under the present law are the county judge, the police magistrate, and the mayor of the municipality.

The only objection of any force to the existing system is the connection between the police magistrate on the bench and the police officers in court through his position as member of the commission. It is suggested that, as between the evidence of officers on his force and that of private individuals, he might be inclined to favor the former to the prejudice of justice. But there is much less likelihood of evil resulting from this than from the exposure of the police force to pull and favor by placing it under control of the municipal council.

And there is practically nothing to be said in favor of an elective commission. The electors would have difficulty in determining the relative merits of candidates. As the Journal has said before, the present system is giving satisfaction in Ottawa and other municipalities. Toronto is opposed to the suggested change. The Government would have no warrant in acceding to the demand of the few municipalities.

SCHOOL PROPERTY.

The question raised by a correspondent to the Examiner a day or two ago in regard to a more general use of the city's school buildings, particularly of the Collegiate Assembly Hall, cannot be dismissed lightly.

Is the community getting full value from the money invested in school property?

The school buildings are used only for some five or six hours a day, five days a week, about nine months in a year.

For the rest of the time they are of no community value.

In the case of the Collegiate Hall, the Examiner understands that a resolution of the Board of Education prevents its use except for educational purposes, although an exception has been made for other events of a patriotic nature.

Is there any sound reason why this splendid hall could not be of more frequent service to the city or used more often in behalf of community enterprises.

It is convenient as well as commodious, and for many purposes that readily suggest themselves would be of much service to social service organizations who often have difficulty in finding a suitable hall for their undertakings.

The sum invested by the citizens of Peterborough in their school property represents a heavy expenditure, and it might be good business to endeavour to find a way of getting more value from the investment.

THE RALSTON COMMISSION.

The finding of the Ralston Commission, which investigated charges made by the G.W.V.A. against the Pensions Board, that the latter body gave undue prominence to the idea that its first duty was that of a trustee of public funds, confirms the position that the Examiner has frequently taken on this question.

The opinion has often been expressed in these columns that while it was necessary that the Treasury should be protected from impostors, the public would rather know that two or three undeserving cases had been generously dealt with than to learn that one veteran who should have been granted a liberal pension had been neglected and unfairly treated.

The Ralston Commission is evidently of the same opinion, for in the general conclusions contained in its report it is declared that the trusteeship of public funds was after all secondary to the duty of the Pensions Board as a trustee of the rights and benefits which Canada intended for ex-service men and their dependents.

Certain regulations have been laid down for the guidance of the Pension Board.

The Examiner believes that it was the intention of the Government of Canada, as it is the desire of the people of Canada, that these should be interpreted and carried out in a liberal spirit, not used as authority for endeavouring to bring the expenditure on pensions down to the lowest possible point.

There is the danger of too much emphasis being laid upon the business side of the problem, and apparently the Pensions Board has not been able to avoid that danger.

The publication of the report should be beneficial to the cause of the returned soldiers, and to that extent the charges made by the G.W.V.A. have been justified, even in the face of the fact that the more serious accusation, that of conspiracy against the veterans, has not been, in the opinion of the commission, substantiated.

A REDISTRIBUTION PROBLEM.

The question of the possible effect redistribution may have upon the county of Peterborough is apparently arousing considerable interest, particularly among residents of the East riding.

Mr. E. N. McDonald, U.F.O. member for East Peterborough, in a letter to the Examiner, which is published on this page today, confirms the impression that the people of East Peterborough are not anxious to separate the county.

He himself is of the opinion that because of the size of Peterborough County and its mixed urban and rural population the present two ridings should be left as they are.

Apparently, however, there does not seem a very great possibility of East Peterborough remaining as a separate constituency, and the problem is, what realignment would be in the best interests of the people of the county.

The member for East Peterborough in the Legislature makes the suggestion that the secretaries of the three political parties arrange for a mass meeting to be held at Norwood a week from today at which the Federal members for East and West Peterborough and the Chairman of the Redistribution Committee would be invited to attend.

The plan if carried out would afford an opportunity to the East riding citizens to state their views, and as the question is of very great importance to them it would perhaps be in the general interest of that section of the county if Mr. McDonald's plan were to be carried out.

Naturally the anxiety over the possible carving up of a county is keener in East Peterborough, but the question is not without much interest to the western portion of the county as well.

Many citizens of Peterborough have expressed a wish that if a change is to be made the city itself should be made a separate constituency and that the rural portion of the West riding be added to the East riding to form another.

The necessary population requirements, however, would seem to definitely block a re-arrangement of that kind.

ANOTHER SOVIET MADNESS.

A wave of horror sweeps the world with the publication of the news from Moscow that Archbishop Zepliak has been condemned to death. While attacks on organized religion and the church seem to be a necessary corollary of revolutions, repetitions of history does not abate or excuse the savagery of such persecution. The Huns in the first fever of their blood-lust would hove killed that patient martyr, Cardinal Mercier, if they had not feared public opinion. They went as far as they dared by subjecting the aged churchman to indignities and humiliations with the devilish ingenuity characteristic of their kultur.

Into what an abnormal psychopathic condition this craze for destruction of established order which Moscow calls Communism is able to bring its devotees. Less than three months ago tens of thousands of these fanatics, spurred on by the iron hand of Lettish and Chinese mercenaries, paraded through the Moscow streets with blasphemous images of the Christ and scurrilous mockings of the signs and tokens of a faith that millions of the peasants held and still hold in reverence. The forces of destruction had tasted blood and because the influence of the church was for decency of living and established government and a higher ethical standard, they have spent their fury and their hate on two of its most worthy dignitaries. If the Communists of Russia proceed to the limit in their madness and execute the Archbishop and his associate they will do more to damage their own cause and bring about the snuffing out of their distorted creed than could regiments of foreign levels or a boycott of their trade.

Cannot these mad despots of Russia hear the echoes of the voice of Latimer of Worcester, spoken more than three and a half centuries ago, "Play the man, Master Ridley; we shall this day light such a fire in England as I trust by God's grace shall never be put out." Are they so ignorant of history that they do not remember the futile effort of Andre Dumont, Chaumette and Fouche to de-christianize the French nation? Have they forgotten the altar that was set up to the Goddess of Reason in the Church of Notre Dame and the parade of the sans-culottes in rich vestments singing ribald songs to mock the faith of the people?

If only the tragedy of these martyrdoms could be eliminated from the attacks on the church, how childish would be such lean and flashy outbursts. The attacks will have no more power to stifle the spiritual in man than did the order of March, 1793, that condemned all "compromised" priests to death. God is not mocked.—Montreal Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Will the flowers ever bloom in the spring, tra, la, la?

Sir Robert Stupart, Canada's weatherman, says he is "not very optimistic regarding the characteristics of the coming spring." Good knight!

Spring is as tardy in arriving as Premier Drury is in announcing his redistribution plans. The people of the Province are eagerly waiting for both events.

In spite of all the dire predictions that are being made, it is altogether likely that July will find people wishing for a cool breeze.

There will be something for everybody at the Motor Show next week. And everybody will be helping the Health Association, which is the finest feature of all.

The fight over Riverside Park has at least one redeeming feature. It shows that there are some people who believe we are going to have a summer this year.

A Great Barrington, Mass. man has just died at the age of 102 after having smoked since he was 12 years old. His case will not be used by the Anti-Tobacco League as a horrible example.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Peterborough Examiner:

Sir,—I have read with interest editorials, news items etc. on redistribution and its effect on the historical County of Peterborough.

I had not intended to make any move whatever in this matter, but having been approached by a great number of the electors of East Peterborough, I feel it a duty to the people, to enter a protest against the gerrymander proposed by G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P.

I wish first to say that this plan as proposed does not at all effect the electoral districts for Provincial elections. It being altogether a Federal matter.

On being asked to make some move in this matter I got in touch with electors of all parties including the respective presidents of the Liberal and Conservative Parties, in the riding "Dr. S. Munroe, Liberal" and "Mr. H. G. Fitzgerald, Conservative."

They agreed that something should be done and that perhaps the best thing would be to call a meeting for the purpose. We are unanimous in the opinion any move to separate the County as proposed is an injustice which we cannot willingly accept.

My personal view of the question is that with the territory of some three or four thousand square miles, its scattered population with its valuable lakes aid rivers and water powers to be developed along the Trent, that with a city of nearly 25,000 population and a rural population approaching 20,000, I feel we should be among the counties to have two Federal members.

Now, Sir, while I know this is below the requirement for representation, yet I believe there are more arguments in favor of the County being left as it is than there are against.

My proposal is that Mr. Edwin Squire, Secretary of the Conservative Association; W. A. Richardson, Secretary of the Liberal Association and W. G. Barrie, Secretary of the United Farmers, meet as a committee to arrange for a mass meeting to be held in Norwood on Saturday April 7th. That Mr. G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., G. A. Brethen, M.P. and the Chairman of the Redistribution Committee be invited to attend that we may lay our claims before them.

If, Sir, you feel disposed to assist in this very important question I would ask you to give space in your valuable paper to advertise this meeting.

Yours very truly.
E. N. McDONALD, M.P.P.

CREW RESCUED FROM SCHOONER.

CHATHAM, Mass., March 31.—(Canadian Press)—The crew of the five-master schooner Dorothy Palmer which went aground during last night on the western edge of the new channel off Stone Horse Shoal, was taken off late Thursday by the crew of the Monomoy Point Coast Guard Station. The schooner was reported as full of water, and likely to be a total loss. She was on her way from Norfolk Portland, Maine, with a cargo of 4,000 tons of soft coal.

The vessel struck a northwest gale and in bitterly cold weather. The sea was too rough to permit the Coast Guardsmen from stations here to put out to the wreck and the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet, which went to her assistance, called on the Monomoy Point crew by radio to take off the eleven members of the crew. The sea had moderated when the boat reached the Palmer.

The vessel is owned by the W. A. Frost Company of Portland, and commanded by Captain W. A. Hutchins, of Saco, Maine. Before grounding the Palmer suffered severely from the gale most of her sail blowing away.

STUDENTS RESCUED FROM BURNING STORE

WINNIPEG, March 31.—(Canadian Press)—Warned by a volume of smoke which ascended up the rear stairs of the Edmonton Building, a two storey brick structure on Portage Avenue, D. Frank Ferguson, President and Principal of the Success Business Colege, aided by his staff of teachers, safelly conducted the 350 students from the building when fire broke out in the basement shortly after classrooms of the institution had settled down to studies of the day. Following instructions minutely all students reached the street without a single mishap. Starting in the polishing room of the Fowler Piano Company, by an explosion, the flames spread rapidly.

The loss to the Fowler Company, several adjoining stores and the building is estimated at $45,000.

DEATH TOLL IS THREE IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 31. — (Canadian Press.) — The blizzard that swept Newfoundland Thursday cost at least three lives, according to reports received here last night. Many outlying settlements had not been heard from.

At three Harbours, between St. John's and Cape Race, 60 miles from this city, three men who had gone into the interior to cut firewood, were overtaken by the storm and perished. Their names were given as Bruff, 60 years old; Raymond, 40 years old and Haves, 18. The two older men were married.

The blizzard had subsided yesterday, leaving transportation by land and sea crippled for the time being. Not a wheel turned on the Newfoundland Railway. Mail steamers plying between Canadian ports and St. John's, were held fast in ice fields.

Two weeks' accumulation of mail, 750 sacks, due here last night on the steamer Sable from Louisburg, N. S., had not been heard from last night. It was believed that the steamer had been caught in the ice outside this port. The mail steamer Kyle, bound to Louisburg, was still frozen in off St. Pierre.

CAMPBELLFORD BOARD TO BUILD NEW SCHOOL ON OWN AUTHORITY

Architect Revising Plans to Fit $68,000 Appropriation Now Available.

GRANT FAVORS PLAN.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 31. — After preserving a sphinx-like silence for the past month or more with regard to their plans, the members of the Board of Education at their regular meeting Thursday night threw all their cards on the table face up and took the public into their confidence with regard to the new High School. They propose to proceed with the building, acting independently of the Town Council. They will use for this purpose the $68,000 which is left of the $75,000 that was voted by the Council in 1920. Architect Coons of Toronto is at present revising the plans so as to make them fit the available appropriation. The board claim that the $68,000 is theirs and that the Council has no alternative but to raise that amount by the issue of debentures. In their decision to proceed with the building the trustees claim that they have the official sanction of Minister of Education Grant, which was given at the recent conference between the Minister and a committee of the board.

Trustee Arnold Persists.

The members present Thursday night were Chairman D. W. Douglas and Trustees O'Sullivan, Irwin, Hoover, Lynch, Arnold, Dr. Watson, J. C. Birmingham and Major J. M. Bygott. The preliminary business as it related to the proposed new High School was quickly disposed of. A resolution from the Council practically refusing a grant for a school was tabled without discussion, and the same action was taken with an official report of the Council's interview with the Minister of Education.

After Secretary Stephens had read this report, Trustee Arnold asked if there had been any other interviews with the Minister, and Chairman Douglas informed him that the special committee appointed by the board at the last meeting had seen that official and that a report would be given later in the evening. Trustee Arnold seemed intent on getting the information, and after he had referred to the matter more than once Chairman Douglas made an explicit statement. The members of the special committee referred to and who had been given a free hand by their colleagues were Chairman Douglas and Trustees Lynch, Irwin and Dr. Watson.

New Light for Minister.

"We saw the Minister of Education," said Chairman Douglas, "and he told us after we had talked over the situation that he had received new light. He said that he had never seen the reports of the inspectors on the condition of our High School. He added that he had been misled by the Council delegation as to the financial condition of Campbellford, and he could see no reason why we should not start building a new school at once. He advised us to cut out all frills so as to bring the expenditure down to the lowest possible point.

"The architect," continued the Chairman, "thinks that the plans can be so revised that the school can be built for $68,000. He has changed plans for two other buildings and has reduced the expenditures in each case. All extras or frills are to be cut out."

"Who was it," asked a member of the board, "said that a High School could not be built for less than $150,000?"

Every trustee present denied responsibility for that statement. Finally, after the estimate had been characterized as a wild guess, it was fastened upon a member of the Council, who had made it at the joint session of trustees and town fathers held some time ago.

No Gymnasium.

The original plans provided for a gymnasium. This will be left out, it was stated, when the architect revises his work. A gymnasium is required by law for a Collegiate building, but is not essential when a High School is put up.

Inspector's Report.

P. S. Inspector Boys submitted his report of his recent visit to all but the principal's department of the Public School. He found everything satisfactory, the teachers qualified and efficient and the pupils making excellent progress. The discipline is splendid. Owing to the epidemic of "flu" during the winter the attendance is not all that could be desired. The Inspector reported that the floor in the building in which the primary classes are held is badly worn. This clause of the report was referred to the Property Committee.

Trustee Arnold here raised the point that no committee should be given "power to act" in the matter of spending money unless a limit was set on the outlay.

School Attendance Officer.

Deputy-Reeve Wilkinson, who also holds the office of School Attendance Officer, had received no salary for the past three months. He asked for a settlement for January, February and March, and his bill was ordered paid. It seems that the Deputy-Reeve had filed no written report since the beginning of the year, but he explained this by saying that he was attending the County Council at Cobourg when the board met in January, and that he was ill at the time of the February meeting. He sent in a detailed statement of the work he had done this year. The official was instructed to keep in touch with Principal Greig of the High School as well as with Principal Haig of the Public School, to see that there were no cases of truancy in the former institution.

His Job is Safe.

"I understand that my time is to be short in this position," said Mr. Wilkinson, who had heard rumors to the effect that he was to be dropped on account of his attitude on the new school question as a member of the Council.

Chairman Douglas, however, assured the Attendance Officer that the board had no intention of dispensing with his services.

Question of Qualification.

S. J. Moore has not attended a meeting of the board since his appointment by the County Council to succeed J. P. Archer. One of the trustees raised the point that his non-attendance disqualified Mr. Moore. No action was taken, as it transpired that Mr. Moore has been kept at home by illness. Trustee Hoover stated that before Mr. Moore had been appointed he had been asked if he would accept the position, and had agreed to do so, promising to give the best service of which he was capable.

Printed forms will be supplied Principal Greig of the High School so that after each regular examination parents will be furnished with a report of the students in each subject, instead of the total results as at present.

Mr. Montgomery Coming.

It is understood that Wesley Montgomery, M.L.A., is coming to Campbellford on Monday to look over the school situation for himself so as to be in a position to take up the matter intelligently with the department. While here he will ascertain the attitude of the leading business men and other taxpayers on this question.

A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast, but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.—Prov. 12:10.

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

An Epidemic of Measles Breaks Out in Village — Financial Support For Re-union—News Briefs.

MILLBROOK, March 31.— The late David John Armstrong, whose death occurred last Saturday after a brief illness from flu, followed by pleurisy, was the second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong, and was born on the family homestead about three miles south-west of Millbrook. Deceased was one of a family of nine children, five of whom still survive. His parents came to Canada, when quite young, from England and Ireland respectively, both families being amongst the pioneer settlers of Cavan, in which township, following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong continued to reside. The circumstances connected with the late Mr. Armstrong's death were peculiarly sad, as he contracted 'flu while with his cousin, Mr. Thomas Hard, to whose home he had gone to assist with the chores, etc., during the latter's illness. The doctor was called in on Tuesday and thought it not wise to have him removed to his sister's in Millbrook until later in the week; however the probability is that, being up on Friday the took fresh cold and pleurisy developed. Unable to rally against this second attack, he passed away shortly after noon on Saturday. The immediate relatives are three sisters, Mrs. William Gray, Millbrook, Mrs. Jas. Armstrong, Cavan, Mrs. Edward Patton, Glamorgan, and two brothers, Messrs. Thomas and Arthur Armstrong, both of Cavan. One child died in infancy, one sister, Mrs. Robert Gardiner, and one brother, George Armstrong, of Cavan predeceased their brother. The latter was never married and lately lived with his brother Thomas, less than a mile south-west from here.

The funeral took place from the residence of his sister, Mrs. William Gray, on Monday, March 26th, at 2.30 p.m., his pastor, Rev. G. S. Gervan assisted by Rev. S. T. Tucker, having charge of the services. A large number of friends and relatives gathered at the house to show their last tribute of respect and esteem for the deceased, the pallbearers being six cousins, Joseph, Thomas, Alex. and Jas. Killinbeck, Arthur Armstrong of Peterborough, and Arthur Armstrong, of Cavan, interment took place in the Presbyterian cemetery, Millbrook.

Amongst those from a distance attending the funeral were: Mrs. Walter Brock, Mrs. Fred Cann, Mr. and Mrs. F. Delehaye, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Killingbeck, Messrs. David, John and Arthur Killingbeck, all of Peterborough.

Moved to New Home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mullen moved this week to the house at the east end of the village which they recently bought from I. M. Nattrass, beside Mr. Isaac Richardson's. Mr. and Mrs. John Hatherly, of Cavan, has purchased the house on Main street formerly occupied by Mr. Mullen, and have also moved in this week. Robert Brown and family, who were tenants of the house belonging to Mr. Mullen have moved to Distillery street, taking the house where Mr Carson lived, the latter having decided to resume farming and settled on the farm which Wilbert Lunn recently left just east of the village over Allen's hill.

Council Met.

The Millbrook council, at their regular meeting on Monday evening, promised financial support to the Cavan and Millbrook Old Boys' and Girls' Reunion to be held in August this year should same be necessary. Messrs. H. W. Johnston and J. J. Clarke being the committee appointed to present the wishes of the community in this matter to the council. The sale of bonds re new school building was dealt with, the Bank of Toronto buying at par the issue of shorter date, and the half to run over a period of from fifteen to thirty years being purchased by the Municipal Bankers' Corporation of Toronto at 99 cents. Mr. Ronald Cottrell, representative of the Bankers' Corporation, was present to discuss terms of sale with the council, making clear that, at the figure agreed upon, very low incidental expenses were involved.

Wages For Season.

According to official forecasts from present indications farm wages in the Western Provinces are likely to run around $35 per month and board for the coming season. In Ontario, while the demand for labor is naturally increasing as spring seeding approaches, local employment agencies report that men are very scarce, claiming that the industrial boom in the United States is drawing all available help across the line. Ontario farmers have offered $40 a month with board and lodging, but this is scorned by men who, it is stated, can make as high as $6 per day at rough jobs in the States. Apparently then the question of farm labor, which was considered settled a month ago, is likely to cause a lot of trouble. The question affects not only the farmers themselves, but merchants and others as well, since the welfare of the one naturally reacts upon the other.

An epidemic of measles has broken out in the village this week, the children in probably a dozen homes being ill with the disease, which has spread rapidly once a single case developed.

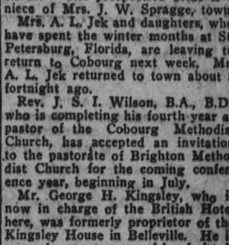
Effect was splendid when she tried this Fruit Medicine

East Ship Harbour, N.S.



"For years, I was a dreadful sufferer from Constipation and Headaches, and I was miserable in every way. Nothing in the way of medicines seemed to help me and I was almost discouraged.

SOVIET SAYS THE PRIESTS ENEMIES OF GOVERNMENT

Russia Apparently Intends to Enforce Principle of Right to Demand Obedience to Russian Laws.

DENOUNCE ENGLAND.

MOSCOW, March 31. Canadian Press. — The action of the Central Executive Committee in commuting the death sentence against Archbishop Zepliak, and denying clemency in the case of Vicar-General Butchkavitch, came so quickly as to cause general surprise.

The decision was taken at a meeting on Thursday night and so unexpected was it that one of the members of the defense counsel declared yesterday that he knew nothing of it until he read the morning papers. The former appeal upon which the committee acted requested clemency on the following three clauses:

First that the priests were not enemies of the government nor were they counter-revolutionaries; their only disobedience was due to the decree separating Church and State, and the fact was that they themselves as citizens, came into conflict and oposition with the Church canons.

Second, that they had never been accused during the time of the revolution of any criminal activity, and that there was no accusation that they were connected with the counter-revolutionaries.

Third, in case they were considered dangerous, it was necessary to carry out the death sentence, as by imprisonment they could be put in a position where they were not dangerous.

The appeal cited the ages of the two defendants, stating that Archbishop Zepliak was "over fifty," and Vicar-General Butchavitch fifty-five.

From the tone of the editorials in the official newspapers Pravda and Izvestia, in which both the friends and foes who appealed against the sentences were roundly censured, it might appear that in making its decision the committee intended to enforce the principle of Russia's right to demand obedience to the Russian laws.

The Foreign office received appeals for clemency from friends of the Soviet regime in several countries as well as protests from various eclesiastical organizations, and these the Prava takes up in an editorial opening with the ironical statement, "An awful thing has happened in the kingdom of atrrocities, Soviet Russia."

In a serious vein the newspapers declare that the Tribunal is defending the rights of the laboring classes whereas the bourgeoisie system, "aided for centuries by the priests," was said to have committed much worst atrocities against the laboring classes.

Edouard Herriot, Mayor of Lyons, France; George Lansburg, former editor of the London Daily Herald, the Labor organ, and Benjamin Turner, the Laborite member of the British Parliament, all of whom recently visited Russia, came in for a share of the attack by the Pravda as "compromisers with the priestly servants of the bourgeoisie."

But Poland draws the chief assault of the newspapers. Referring to Premier Sikorski's statements, the Pravda says:

"In 1918 a man somewhat stronger than the ephemeral stateman of Poland, namely the English Foreign Minister, Balfour, threatened the Soviet government with persecution by land, sea and air, it it failed to abandon its aims. The Soviet angrily brushed aside the threats of the capitalistic state in Europe. It has been doing what the intereats of the Russion proletariat and the Russian peasantry demanded.

"The decisions of the Supreme Soviet authority must be fulfilled. International counter-revolution may try as much as it pleases—the decisions will not be changed. The Soviet did not allow capitalistic states to define its policy when it was very weak; and even less will it now allow intervention in internal affairs."

The Izevstia attacsk the Archbishop of Canterbury, Baron Sydenham and other Britishers for alleged interference in Russian affairs.

"Why such a roundabout way?" sarcastically asks the newspaper in a headline over a news despatch containing the gote of Secretary of State Hughes in regard to the prelates, which it says was sent through the United States Ambassador in Berlin to the United States Minister in Poland and then to the Soviet representative in Warsaw. "We would like to see what kind of a face Lord Curzon (the British Foreign Secretary) would make if the Central Executive Committee raised a question over the really atrocious action of the English civilizers in South Africa and India," continues the Izvestia. "No doubt Curson and the American Hughes once more look upon this as Moscow intrigue and an attempt at propaganda for Communism and a world revolution; but when these persons themselves in a most uncerемonious manner interfere in our internal affairs they apparently think it is a matter of course. But we shall not allow it. We shall tell them, 'Hands off, gentlemen!'"

BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SPRING

The Spring is a time of anxiety to mothers who have little ones in the home. Conditions make it necessary to keep the baby indoors. He is often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catches colds, which rack his whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep his stomach and bowels working regularly. This will prevent colds, constipation or colic and keep the baby well. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PULP AND PAPER BULK OF EXPORT TO UNITED STATES

Wood and Wood Products Greatest Contributors to Increase in Canada's Export Business.

BIG GAIN.

OTTAWA, March 31.—(Canadian Press)—Newsprint, wood pulp and lumber are the chief products that contributed to the increase in Canada's exports to the United States for the eleven months of the present fiscal year as campared with the corresponding period for the last fiscal year. The group of wood, wood products and paper, to which these articles belong account for more than half of the total increase of $63,000,000 in our total exports to the American republic.

The remainder of the increase was pretty well scarttered through the entire list, except that there was a failing off in the exports of agricultural and vegetable products.

Canada's total exports to the United States for the eleven months just passed were $330,000,000 as compared with $267,000,000, approximately for the corresponding period o the year previous, while the exports of the wood products group went up from $133,000,000 to $169,000,000. The next largest rise as between these two periods, was in nonferrous metal products, which increased from $13,000,000 to $24,000,000. Animal products on the same comparison, went up from $44,000,000 to $51,000,000 while agricultural and vegetable products fell from $46,000,000 to $40,000,000 approximately.

The increase in imports as between the same two periods was much smaller than in the exports. For the eleven months ending February 1922, the total imports were $461,000,000 and for the eleven months just closed they were $477,000,000. The increase in imports of iron and its products was alone greater than the increase in imports as a whole, this group rising from $88,000,000 to $108,000,000 as between the two periods under comparison. There were increases also in fibres and textiles and in nin-ferrous metals; while there were countervailing decreases in agricultural and vegetable products on animals products and in non-metallic mineral products.

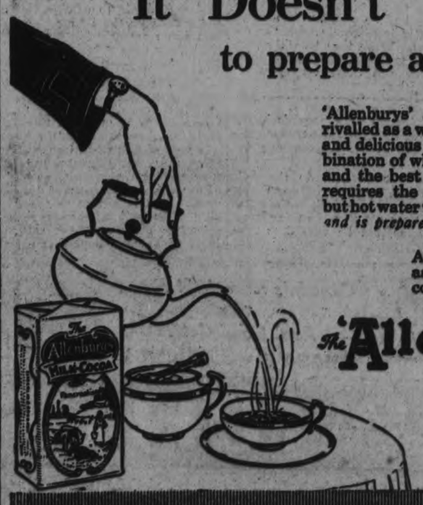
"It Doesn't Take A Minute to prepare a cup of 'Allenburys' Milk-Cocoa"



'Allenburys' Milk-Cocoa is unrivalled as a wholesome, nourishing and delicious beverage. As a combination of whole cream, pure milk and the best cocoa obtainable, it requires the addition of nothing but hot water with sugar to sweeten, and is prepared in a minute.

In process of manufacture it is pancreatised (partially pre-digested.) This prevents the difficulty of digestion so often experienced with ordinary cocoa. Mothers will find it the ideal beverage for children at breakfast or lunch, after school or at the evening meal.

Also excellent for adults to take before retiring, as it causes no digestive unrest; and provides welcome addition to diet of invalids or dyspeptics.

U.S. AND JAPAN WILL DISCARD CHINA TREATY

Lansing-Ishii Agreement of 1917 Was the Cause of Much Controversy.

TO CLEAR SITUATION.

WASHINGTON, March 31. Canadian Press. — Cancellation of the famous Lansing-Ishii agreement of 1917, by which the United States recognized the "special interests" of Japan in China, has been agreed upon and will be announced formally by the two governments at an early date.

Under present plans the official announcement will be made simultaneously in Washington and Tokio, as a notice to the world that the United States and Japan have cleared the slate of the last ambiguity in the in the formal agreements bearing on their relation to the problems of China, and have reached a complete clarity of understanding to equal opportunity and the open door.

From the day it first was communicated to the Chinese government, agreement now consigned to the diplomatic scraphead has been a source of controversy and misunderstanding, not only on the part of Chinese statesmen but between the United States and Japanese governments themselves. Negotiated in secrecy, it first was communicated to Pekin by the Japanese in a form which was accepted as implying a recognition of Japanese "paramouncy" in China.

That interpretation was denied steadfastly by the United States and the dispute over the exact meaning of the document never was settled.

With cancellation of the agreement United States and Japanese relations in the Far East revert to the basis of parity laid down in the Root-Takahira agreement of 1908 and reaffirmed and broadened by the nine-power treaty signed at the Washington Arms conference by the United States, Japan, Great Britain, Fance, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, Portugal and China.

In place of the agreement in the Lansing-Ishii document that the government of the United States recognizes that Japan has special interests in China, particularly in the part to which her possessions are "contiguous," will stand the language of the Washington treaty which says:

"The contracting powers * * * agree that they will not seek, nor support their respective nationals in seeking any arrangement which might purport to establish in favor of their interests any general superiority of rights."

It is understood that the advisability of cancelling the much controverted Lansing-Ishii agreement was called to the atttenion of the Tokio government by Ambassador Charles B. Warren, soon after he went to Tokio, and that he followed up and concluded the negotiations before his recent withdrawal from the diplomatic service.

DROP POPULARITY BONAR LAW POWER

The Press. Exists on Starvation Rations So Far as News is Concerned

LONDON, March 31.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—"I say frankly I will make no bargain with the press," declared Bonar Law on assuming the Premiership. The Pall Mall Gazette thinks he went too far and it ascribes the Government's present slump in popularity to the wall of silence which has gorwn up between the public and its rulers.

"The Coalition may have been injudicious in some of its dealings with the press, but its successors have gone to the extreme in the boycott of its facilities," the Gazette says. "The vow of silence and mystery appears to be imposed in all departments from one end of Whitehall to the other."

It is quite true that journalists have forsaken Downing street in despair. Since Lloyd George's departure each government department has regained its old style of responsibility and officials have largely resumed their pre-war attitude towards the press that they are not there to give out interesting newspaper items. Accordingly the news hunter is blandly informed whenever he makes an enquiry, that no information is available on that particular subject, nor, as he finds out, on any other which his ingenuity can produce. On the other hand, when Lloyd George insisted on holding all the strings everything went to Downing street, where the Premier had astute secretaries wit ha keen sense of news and eager to use it. Bonar Law cares nothing for newspaper publicity, although possibly he is more tolerant than Mr. Asquith who hardly conceals his detestation of the interview Hunter.

Parliamentary correspondence of the bright, snappy kind has fallen on rather lean times and the complaint is made that the Conservatives, as a whole, have not the sense o fthe value of publicity possessed by the Liberal or Labor parties.

RURAL CREDITS NOT A SUCCESS

Problem Will Now Be Put Up to the Federal Government.

TORONTO, March 31 (Canadian Press). — While rural credits have been established in a number of Provinces by the Provincial Governments, the system is not working out to the entire satisfaction of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, and because of that problem will not be put up to the Federal Government to see if Canada can establish some system of Federal aid, such as systems which are in force in the United States, Australia, or New Zealand. With that end in view, a resolution was adopted at yesterday's meeting of the Canadian Council of Agriculture to the effect that the Dominion Government be urged to introduce at the present session of Parliament a measure to provide adequate rural credits on long term farm loan basis.

Officers elected were:

President W. A. Amos, president of the U. F. O.

Vice-president, C. H. Burnell, president of the U. F. M. Executive.

J. A. McHarg, C. Rice Jones, G. F. Chipman, A. J. M. Poole, and H. W. Wood.

SENTENCED TO HANG

STETTLER, Alta., March 31. Canadian Press. — Fred Kolvin was found guilty by a jury on Thursday night of the murder of John Kaslanko, and was sentenced by Mr. Justice Simomns to hang at Fort Saskatchewan, on June 23rd next. The deliberations of the jury lasted for five hours. The accused took the sentence stoically, and showed no emotion.

CAMPBELLFORD TO HAVE A MEMORIAL

I.O.D.E. Leaders in Movement to Erect a Suitable Memorial to the Soldier Dead.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 31.—R. M. Best, representing the McCallum Granite Co. Ltd., of Kingston, was in town this week on business in connection with the proposal to erect a memorial to the soldiers from town and district who lost their lives in the Great War. Mr. Best is a former resident of Campbellford, being a son of R. H Best, at one time in business here but, who now resides in Cobourg. The son spent four and a half years overseas, rising to the ranks of Captain.

Mr. Best called on several of the Councillors and other leading citizens and it is likely that this matter will be taken up by the town fathers at an early date. The Daughters of the Empire are the leaders in the movement to erect a memorial and now have on hand a fund amounting to $1,200 for the purpose. Of this they raised $700 by their own exertions, the balance being a grant made by the Council at the beginning of the year. This society also took up with the Government the matter of a location for the proposed memorial and have secured permission to erect it at a designated point on the land which the Federal authorities purchased some time ago as a site for the new post office.

The balance of the money that will be required for a memorial suitable for the object in view may be raised either by public subscription or by further grants from the Town and Seymour Councils, this money to be secured by the issue of debentures approved by a vote of the taxpayers.

Standing of United Counties.

County Auditors J. H. Bedford of Codrington and J. N. McGill of Millbrook have completed their audit of the accounts of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham for 1922. They report that everything in good shape in both the county treasurer's and superintendent of roads departments. The total payments for the year were $594,494.47 and as the receipts from all sources amounted to $601,374.99 there is left in the ban ka balance of $6,430.52. The amount spent on county roads, $129,023.17 and on provincial highways, $71,031.13. The sum of $16,979.56 was spent on the House of Refuge and $11,285.00 into the Mother's Alowance fund. Maintaining the schools of the two counties called for an outlay of $123,832.08.

The net debenture debt is reported as small for counties of the size and width of Northumberland and Durham being only $36,633.76. A sinking fund amounting to $20,018.26 has been invested and the bulk of this is invested in victory and war bonds which bear 5½ per cent interest; leaving the counties a clear profit of one per cent as the inteerst note on the debentures is only 4½ per cent.

TYPHOID OUTBREAK COCHRANE SPREADS

Ten More Nurses Are Being Sent to Stricken Town From Toronto.

TORONTO, March 31 (Canadian Press). — Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, chief health officer for Ontario, stated last night that the typhoid outbreak at Cochrane, Ontario, was growing worse, 28 new cases having been reported in the last 24 hours, bringing the total to 492 cases.

He added that ten more general nurses were being sent from Toronto and six additional public health nurses and doctor.

Previously a doctor and 21 general nurses had been despatched to Cochrane by Dr. McCullough on the request of the town, as well as four public health nurses and a supervisor.

The First Easter

IN the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow:

And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not yea: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lav.

And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and, behold, he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall see me. — St. Matthew XXVIII., 1-10.

SEVEN DEAD

Mrs. F. S. Hemminger, wife of a local attorney, who, with her two small children, met death in the automobile, had started on an errand in the country. She had planned to meet her husband at his office later, and he was awaiting her when he received a request to identify the bodies of his family at a morgue.

Besides the three occupants of the automobile, the dead were, two members of the train crew, one passenger and a negro who was riding "blind baggage" on the train.

The occupants of the automobile were instantly killed, as were most of the others.

That more were not killed was attributed to the fact that the Pullman coaches were of steel construction and did not crumple up, despite the fact that their trucks were torn away and they were piled against the overturned locomotive. Portions of the automobile and its occupants were carried for more than a block. The track was torn up for a city block and traffic blocked. The Big Four routed trains on its Cleveland division over the Hocking Valley Railroad the remander of the day.

FREE STATERS HAVE A DIFFICULT JOB.

BELFAST, March 31.—(Canadian Press)—The newly established Free State Customs officials on the Ulster border are faced with a problem of some magnitude in the Fermanagh region. Secres of families living on the islands in Lough Erne which covers a large part of Fermanagh, for generations, have been accustomed to outwit the authorities by making "poteen," or illicit whiskey, and transporting it in boats to the mainland.

This traffic has been greatly checked by the Ulster special constabulary, but occupants of the region declare that unless the Free State puts a fleet of revenue cutters in Lough Erne, there is nothing to prevent the smuggling of dutiable goods from the Free State counties of Cavan, Leitrim and Donegal into Fermanagh by water.

ACCUSED OF THEFT OF FUNERAL COACH

Old Dobbin Balked at the Critical Moment—Arrests Followed.

NEW YORK, March 31 (Canadian Press). — Accused of the theft of a funeral coach, and with attempting to sell it to its owner, Andrew Devlin, an undertaker, for $100.00, three men, who said they were John Carroll, 29, Daniel Flemming, 33, and Tom Williams, 28, were locked up yesterday.

They might be at liberty, the police say, if Mike, the horse drawing the coach, had not balked at the moment Detectives Appel and O'Connell came into sight and helped the trio to coax Mike along.

SUGAR GAMBLERS ARE BLAMED FOR INCREASE

ST. AUGUSTINE, Flo., March 31 (Canadian Press). — Sugar gamblers are responsible for the rise in the price of sugar. This was the bold statement made last night by former Assistant Secretary of Commerce Claudius H. Suston, who is here on his way to Miami to have a conference with President Harding on the sugar situation.

The sugar ring may be charged wholly with the unwarranted rise in the sugar prices.

Tomatoes, Eggplant, Peppers

By W. R. BEATTIE.

Tomatoes, eggplant and peppers are a group of crops belonging to the nightshade family, and closely related to the Irish potato, that has become quite important among garden crops within the past half century. These crops are well adapted to the small garden as comparatively little space is required to provide for the needs of the ordinary family. Tomatoes are the most important of the three and can be grown over a wide range of territory and on almost any type of soil. Eggplant is difficult to grow in many sections. Peppers, like tomatoes, can be grown almost anywhere with proper care.

Tomatoes do best in the home garden where the plants are started indoors, transplated to pots or plant bands, grown for a time in the hotbed or coldframe and then planted in the garden after danger of frost is past. In the small garden the tomato plants can be set 18 by 36 inches and trained to a single stem tied to stakes. In this way a large number of plants can be grown than where the plants are allowed to grow naturally on the ground, the fruit is cleaner and there is less trouble with the fruit rotting in damp weather.

Care in Pruning.

In pruning all side shoots are removed, care being taken not to mistake the blossom or fruit clusters for side shoots. The blossom clusters come on the smooth side of the stem while the shoots or branches appear in the little pocket formed where the leaf attaches to the stem. Any soft string or even strip of old muslin will answer for tying the tomato vines to the stakes or trellis. About four or five prunings and tyings are necessary, the main object being to do the work on time to prevent the side shoots becoming too large.

Eggplant is grown from seeds the same as tomatoes, but the plants are very delicate and require plenty of heat. The little insects known as flea-beetles are very fond of eggplant leaves. When the grower notices his plants looking thin and sickly, he may find that the under sides of the leaves are eaten away and there are numerous small holes clear through the leaves.

Dusting the plants with air-slacked lime is reasonably effective in driving these beetles away. Dusting with nicotine sulphate dust is also effective, likewise spraying the plants with arsenate of lead at the rate of one ounce of the paste form to a gallon of water to which a little lime is added to prevent the arsenate of lead burning the leaves.

Rich, Moist Soil.

Eggplant requires a very rich soil and plenty of moisture. However, the plants will not do well on wet or poorly drained soil.

Peppers should be started in the house about four weeks before the tender plants can be set outdoors. The plants should be handled in about the same way as tomato plants and will withstand about the same degree of exposure.

Ten or a dozen plants will furnish plenty for the ordinary family and are decidely worth while in the home garden.

MEMORIAL TO CANADIANS TO BE BUILT IN LENS

MONTREAL, March 31.— Rev. Canon Shatford, chairman of the Canadian Vimy Memorial church, has received through the French Consul General here a letter from Raymond Poincare, Premier of the French Republic, to the following effect:

"Mr. Chairman:

"I have been informed of the admirable effort accomplished by the Reformed churches of Canada on behalf of the Canadian Vimy Memorial church.

"No project will be more touching than the plan of rebuilding in Lens a Memorial church to the sixty thousand Canadian soldiers who died at the Vimy, on that ridge where their last gaze fell on the ruined city, to regain which they were laying down their lives.

In a few months the Canadian pilgrims visiting that hallowed mount which still bear the traces of bloody battle will also gaze down upon the city of Lens, no longer a heap of smouldering ruins, but a garden of bright tiles and new homes. They will catch sight of the roof of your memorial church, and in that building will see a symbol of the ideal for which their heroic kinsfolk suffered and died.

"Please accept my thanks for yourself and for the members of your committee. The people of France will never forget the help received from the people of Canada and will see in your memorial church a lasting testimony to an everlasting fraternity.

"Be it your pleasure to receive, Mr. Chairman, the assurance of my distinguished considerataion.

(Signed) "Raymond Poincare".

SPRING IMPURITIES DUE TO POOR BLOOD

A Tonic Medicine a Necessity at This Season

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an all-year-round tonic for the blood and nerves. But they are specially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these pills helps to enrich the blood. In the spring one feels weak and tired—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams Pink Pills develop the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor, weak blood, and it is at this time when all nature takes on new life that the blood most seriously needs attention. Some people dose themselves with purgatives at this season, but these only further weaken themselves. A purgative merely gallops through the system, emptying the bowels, but does not help the blood. On the other hand, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich every nerve and every organ in the body bring new strength and vigor to weak, easily tired men, women and children. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring—they will not disappoint you.

Blackheads Go Quick By This Simple Method

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of peroxine powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. Pinching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them large and unsightly—while the simple application of peroxine powder and the water dissolve them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition.

History of Huron Indians

When Fennimore Cooper wrote his tales of the North Americans, his "Deerslayer," "The Pathfinder," "The Last of the Mohicans" and all the others of that wonderful series, as new field of ramantic history was opened up to every book lover.

Yet there were but fiction at best, and today there is issued every year in Ontario a little brown volume, The Annual Report of the Archaeological Society of Ontario, that is full of the actual history of the redman of this province and that is just as fascinating as the most imaginative of Cooper's works.

The current number for 1921 and 1922 is largely devoted to the Hurons, and deals with all the varied activities of this tribe, their ways of living, their migrations, their curious burial ceremonies (ossuaries), an interesting collection of myths and fables that belong to them, and above all, an outline of the probable descent of the Hurons, a recapitulation of the numerous theories as to their parent lands, and of the way in which the North American Indians came to be settled on this continent.

In 1639 the Jesuits established their first mission amongst the Hurons, and the only reliable sources of information from which can be traced the lives of the tribes in Quebec and Ontario prior to British occupation are the "Huron Relations," compiled by the Jesuit missions.

Trekked From Southwest

The Hurons came into Can dian territory as the result of a long rek from the southwest, probably i m somewhere in that part of America l w occupied by the middle western States. The trail of the migration of the original stock into the American continent is absorbingly interesting.

Tracing this trail back step by step, it is found to lead ever south.

Canada, the States, Mexico and from there across by the bridge of such theories as those of Scott Elliott, Henry Scharff and Ignatius Donnelly, who held that there was once a great continent, now submerged, between America and Europe, the Atlantic Ocean, and saw in the Egyptians the forebears of the North American Indian.

Phantom Cities

The Very Rev. W. R. Harris, who contributes the article in the Archaeological report on this subject of the ethnology of the native American, gives ten or twelve pages to an essay that describes in some detail the early civilization of Old Mexico, and the wonderful phantom cities of Copan, Palenque, Quirigua and Mayapan in Peru. In these towns, in which are found remains of great buildings and structures that have no analogy in any other country, and whose work rivals that of any age or clime, is found also an art, a language and a culture which is not assimilated with that of any known civilization. These people who lived in bygone days in South America, who built aquaducts and paved roads, who erected temples, using blocks of basalt weighing many tons, cut and finished with an accuracy never excelled, and who were such wonderful jewelers and goldsmiths that even the Spaniards, who were able to see the last days of their declining civilization, admitted their superiority, were a people apart, distinct, independent of other continents and apparently indigenous like the animals and the plants and fruits of the soil.

Palenque the phantom city of Mexico was a ruin when Cortez, in 1520, passed within a day's march of the city. It is but another witness to the world's mutations and to the eternal truth that "Nations melt from power's high pinnacle when they have felt the sunshine for a time, and downward go."

Burial Habits

The story of the burial habits of the Hurons, the fashion of communal burial, and the method of depositing all the dead in a great cathedral burial pit every ten or twelve years is full of quaint custom and strange superstition. The first private burial of a dead Huron was adapted only to the itinerant habits of the tribes. The body was wrapped in robes and placed in a dark tomb raised on four stakes some four or five feet from the ground.

When the "Feast of the Dead" was to be celebrated—this was the name given to the communal burial ceremony—these bodies were carried to the pit made to hold them, usually in the most central and easily accessible spot for all the tribes concerned, and there, after the most extraordinary ritual, which included exposing the bodies to public view, wrapping them up again in the finest beaver skins, and finally the arrangement of all in the great circular pit, they were covered with still more robes and at least earth and broken sticks.

The actual description in the report, an article containing excerpts from a number of letters of the early French settlers, gives a detailed account of the ritual of the whole burial ceremony.

30,000 Originally

The Hurons, in the days of the Jesuit missions, numbered about 30,000 souls, divided into some twenty villages, and the remains of their boneipits are found in many part of the province, though it was in the stretch of land now inclosed by the townships of Medonte, Tay and Tiny that these remains are most commonly discovered.

The origin of the name Huron is accounted for, according to Father Lalemont, by the fact that these Indians wore their hair in a row of bristles on the middle of their heads, resembling boars (hures), and states that this is the most authentic origin of the name. The redmen called themselves Wendat, which is now known as Wyandot.

Red Paint Burial

These early Americans also had what is known as "red paint" burial, in which they covered the bodies with hematite. One such "red paint" burial pit was found in the Harcroft Bir Sanctuary in High Park, Toronto, by workmen who were excavating the road as recently as 1921. This pit contained eight or ten skulls and a large number of bones. The skeletons were all in the usual sitting posture, and though buried in the native white sand of the district, all the remains were surrounded by this red hematite sand.

At the end of the report is a fairy tale chapter devoted to the myths and superstitions of the Indians, a veritable God-send to any grown-up, without the creative genius, who is intrusted with the care of small children just about bedtime.

How would any of these intrigue the little people in your home? "Why the Porcupine Has Quills," "Indians Who Turned into Black Snakes," "Why the Eagle is Bald-Headed," "Why the Buffalo Has a Hump," "The Story of the Robin," or "How the Beaver Indians Regained Summer."

A very finely illustrated supplement of the new accessions to the Ontario Provincial Museum adds to the value of the report, the foreword to which is an apt quotation from Francis Parkman's "The Pioneers of France in the New World."

"The French dominion is a thing of the past, and when we evoke its departed shades, they rise upon us from their graves in strange, romantic guise. Again their ghostly camp fires seem to burn, and the fitful light is cast around on lord and vassal and black-robed priest mingled with the wild forms of savage warriors, knit in close fellowship on the same stern errand. . . . . Men steeped in antique learning, pale with the close breath of the cloister, here spent the noon and evening of their lives, ruled savage hordes with mild parental sway, and stood serene before the direst shapes of death."

WOMEN SHOULD ACT QUICKLY

When a woman finds herself afflicted with backache, headaches, nervousness, dragging-down pains, pain in her side, irregularities and irritability, dark circles appear under the eyes and her complexion gets sallow, she may be sure the underlying cause is some ailment peculiar to her sex. Such women should act quickly and take the great American remedy for such conditions, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they may be saved years of suffering. For generations this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring ailing women to health, and it may be relied upon with perfect confidence.

RECIPES

Bertha E. Shapleigh

Eggs combined with a vegetable often make a very good and much more satisfying dish than eggs or vegetables alone.

The following recipe calls for tomatoes, but egg plant or peppers are good served in the same way.

Allow one tomato and one egg to a person. This recipe is sufficient for six servings:

½ cup milk
6 tomatoes
6 eggs
½ cup milk
¼ tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon pepper
6 pieces bacon

Wash, wipe and cut tomatoes in halves Roll each half in salted flour, mixed with a teaspoon of sugar. Fry the bacon until crisp. Remove pieces and keep hot.

In the bacon fat remaining in pan cook the tomatoes until soft and nicely browned.

Mix the eggs, milk and seasonings. Melt the butter in a sauce pan and in it scramble the eggs. Remove from the fire when still quite soft as they will cook sufficiently hard after being placed on tomatoes.

On a platter place the pieces of tomato, pour over them the scrambled eggs and garnish with the crisp pieces of bacon. Serve at once.

Here are a few more recipes in which Tillson's Health Bran is the main essential:

BRAN GEMS

1¼ cups Tillson's Health Bran.
*½ cups Quaker Flour
1 heaping teaspoon baking powder
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
1 large cup sweet milk
1 egg

Beat butter, sugar and egg together; sift flour and baking powder together, mix dry ingredients together and add sweet milk. Bake in moderate oven.

"WHAT YOUR HUSBAND NEEDS"

"One night my husband came home looking so ill and worn out that I thought he would faint. I knew there had been something wrong with him for some time, but I could not get him to tell me what it was. Finally he confessed he was tired and sore all over. I made him go to bed. Next morning he insisted upon going to work although he was anything but well. I knew that his trouble was partly due to worry because for some months before he had been out of work. This put us so heavily in debt that the grocer and butcher refused to give us more credit. It was being out of work that worried my husband. He wouldn't eat because he was afraid there would not be enough food for the children. We were so poor that we had to keep the children from school because they had no clothes. I knew that if I could only get my husband strong and well again everything would be all right. He is a carpenter by trade and when in good health earns good wages and he is always sober and industrious. But I knew that it was impossible for any man to do good work when he was ill and worried. I decided to speak to our old family doctor, who had retired from practice. When I explained how we were situated he gladly offered to do all he could to help us, although he didn't like to interfere with the new doctor's practice. Finally he said, 'What your husband needs is a good tonic and I know of nothing better than Carnol.' I thought that if our old family doctor recommends Carnol it must be all right. On my way home I got a bottle and before the first bottle had been used, my husband was a changed man. After he had taken four bottles his appetite returned, he had more energy, that tired look in his eyes disappeared and what is most important his wages have been more than doubled and he is now superintendent of the wood working shop in which he formerly worked as a carpenter. Thanks to Carnol our troubles are over and we are once more a happy and contented family."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour Gasty Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion you have already tried pepsin, pancreatin, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know that these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bisurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but the pure Bisurated Magnesia, which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach, which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little Bisurated Magnesia immediately after a meal you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

Goldie and his wife were on their way to visit a grotto, when they were attacked.

GENEVA (By mail to United Press). —"The problem which now confronts the entire world in Russia is one of economic reconstruction rather than one of saving starving millions."

This is the declaration made to the United Press by Dr. Nansen, the famous Norwegian explorer and high commissioner for the league of nations in Russia, on his recent return from Moscow.

"With the frank admission by the Soviet government of the complete failure of their system and theories of government and with the substitution by them of the capitalistic system, with a new Soviet national bank and a new currency based on a gold reserve, the industrial life of Russia is steadily being re-established.

"However, as Russia is at all times an agricultural rather than a manufacturing country and as the re-establishment to her economic life and the drawing of her back into the orbit of European economic life depends upon the complete re-establishment of her agriculture, it is going to be necessary that outside help be extended to the latter.

Food Cheaper in Russia

"For the moment, conditions generally in Russia, and especially food conditions are greatly improved. Incredible as it may seem, food is now cheaper in Russia than in the rest of Europe.

"Wheat can be bought on the Russian market for $20 a ton where it probably costs twice that in the United States, and Europe generally. This is due purely to natural conditions, namely that the wheat exists in certain districts at least, in abundant quantities, and is in no way due to Soviet manipulation of the market.

"Unfortunately, this grain production and distribution in Russia is very unequal and while there are provinces where the surplus is so great as to permit of exportation, there are other provinces where as high as 800,000 people are starving.

"I have pointed out to the Soviet government the inconsistency of its attitude in asking for world-wide help to save starving Russians while the Soviets are themselves exporting grain and foodstuffs.

Soviets Need Money

"Unfortunately the Soviet government is very badly in need of money and these exportations enable it to secure funds. The grain, flax, hemp and other productions which the Soviets, who still maintain a monopoly on foreign trade, comes to them from two sources. Either it consists of products which it has collected as taxes and which it exports for its own profit, or it consists of exportations which it undertakes on behalf of co-operatives. In the latter case, the funds naturally come back to the co-operatives themselves.

"Although the feeding of the Russians in those districts where inadequate food supplies still exist is still a most important problem, it is not the big one that is facing either Russia or the rest of the world as regards Russia. That problem is one of economic or rather agricultural reconstruction.

Europe Needs Russia

"Europe needs Russia worse than Russia needs Europe. Russia can be fairly self-supporting, but the European trade balance can never be re-established until the Russian population is on an economic basis that will again make Russia market place and buying center for the manufactured products of all the rest of Europe. When that moment comes the European trade balance will be established.

"The outside help that is going to be necessary for this economic reconstruction of Europe will not be charity, but merely the extention of long term agricultural credits with the absolute security that after three to five years there will be ample returns on the money invested.

Soviets Sign Treaty

"Under the system which I am working out under the auspices of the League no dealings with the Soviet government will be necessary I myself have negotiated a treaty with them permitting the free importation of farming implements, animals, seed and other necessities, but all dealings will be directly with the Agricultural Co-operatives themselves.

"A loan will be made to these co-operatives sufficient to enable them to purchase all the machinery and material necessary to resume cultivation and production, the same to be paid back by a fixed percentage of their crops as soon as conditions will warrant the collecting of the same.

"We do not expect to secure funds from governments but purely from private interests.

"When our plans are carried out the economic reconstruction of Russia will have taken place 160,000,000 people will have resumed their role, both of production and consumption in European economic life. The effect of the latter cannot be over estimated.

"Politically, I am convinced that the Russian solution will be the one that has already taken place—namely the evolution of the Soviets into a sound capitalistic bourgeos government. As a matter of fact they are already there and are organizing the country as fast as possible on that basis, realizing that in the present state of the world it is the only workable one.

"Whatever faults the Soviets may have, they still maintain organization and authority in Russia. A revolution overthrowing them would be the greatest disaster. It would leave only chaos.

"So greatly has the Soviet government evoluted that personally I am convinced it would even join the League of Nations, if it saw any chance of getting in.

MACHINE GUNS PLAY ON GERMAN WORKERS

BERLIN, March 31. — (United Press).—Seven Germans were killed and twenty wounded when French troops at the Krupp Works, near Essen, turned machine guns on the workers to-day, according to a special report to the Lokal Anzerger.

The French were attempting to confiscate automobiles at the Krupp's plant, according to the report, and the workers resisted. The troops opened fire, raking the ranks of the workers with machine gun bullets.

Don't call our mother "old woman." We often hear that from young men. Stop and think how it sounds. Old lady is bad enough but the "old woman" applied to her who gave you life and nursed your infancy, is rude and unkind. Once it was, "Mother, I'm hungry; mother, mend my jacket; mother, put up my dinner," and many such things, and mother would spread the bread with butter and stow away the luncheon with her heart brimming with affection for you. Now, is she the old woman?

WOMEN FLOCK TO FOUNTAINEBLEAU

By JOHN O'BRIEN

FOUNTAINEBLEAU, France (By mail to United Press).—Titled Englishwomen, Russian princesses, seekers after the occult from every clim[illegible] flocking to historic Fontainebleau to follow in the footsteps of Monk Gurdjieff, fresh from the dreamy where he spent years learning all "self-awareness" and "soul cons[illegible]ness" which he is now imparting to chosen few.

In the depth of the great forest, where Corot painted and Robert Louis Stevenson lived and loved, a medieval villa has been transformed into "Temple of Study and Meditation" the headquarters of the Occult School of Fontainebleau.

Monk Gurdjieff, like many of the founders of new cults and religions in the United States, is not entirely free from worldly affairs such as money. The score or so of pupils at present taking his course of mystic training are paying something like $125.00 a week for the privilege of forgetting that they are ordinary human beings. Among them are Princess Obilensky, one time lady-in-waiting to the Czarina, several ex-officers of the imperial body guard of the Czar. When their daily toil is finished, or whenever Monk Gurdjieff believes the time for meditation and contemplation of the vanities of existence has arrived, they repair to the shrine and perform the strange rite known to the initiated as "going into the silences."

In the vast cathedral-like structure they sit in cushioned armchairs, a dim light entering through gorgeous stained glass windows, the perfumed water in the fountain murmuring soft notes as in an Arabian Night's dream while on a stage at one end of the hall Oriental dances and other rites are performed to help the strivers after freedom of the soul.

Visitors are not welcomed with a show of enthusiasm.

COMPETENT CONSCIENTIOUS SERVICE

Authorized by Ontario Dental Association in the interest of Public Health.

Wise indeed, is the man who secures competent and conscientious dental service.

Because of these facts:—

1. Your happiness depends largely upon your health.
2. Disease can be prevented.
3. Good health depends upon right living and a clean and healthy mouth with a complement of efficient teeth (natural or artificial) for the thorough mastication of food.
4. Teeth may be "perfectly comfortable" and still may be diseased and spreading infection throughout the body.
5. Artificial teeth may be "perfectly comfortable" yet not 10% efficient and thereby may be the cause of present or future stomach and intestinal disturbances.

DO YOU KNOW that your health and your capacity for work often depend upon the judgement, skill and surgical cleanliness that is applied to the supposedly simple operation of filling a cavity in your tooth? We placard the house in case of many diseases of children, yet we expose ourselves to graver and more serious results by neglecting the frequent and regular examinations of our mouths, and minimize the importance of necessary treatment.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH

Artificial teeth are not always arranged so as to thoroughly grind our food. You exert about fifty pounds pressure on your teeth when chewing food. If the natural teeth have been replaced by artificial you are able to apply only about half the natural pressure. How necessary it is then that we should obtain most efficient mastication by securing the natural and scientific arrangement of these artificial teeth. Results depend directly upon the knowledge and skill of the dental service and the study, care and time spent upon the case.

The dental practitioner who depends upon the quality of his work to build his practice must be conscientious, competent and progressive.

NORMA TALMADGE'S "MANNERS"

(By NORMA TALMADGE)

Launching of a ship is surrounded by sailors with many supersititions. If the launching is a success, the ship goes to sea with a crew free of misgivings. A girl launches her social ship when she makes her debut. If it be successful, her social career has received a most desirable impulse. Whether it's a complete success or a partial failure, depends more on her personal conduct than any other feature.

The Debutante.

1: A debut may be made at a ball, afternoon tea with dancing, small dance, small tea without music or simply by issuance of her mother"s visiting card with the daughter's engraved below her own.

2: At a ball each guest shakes hands with the debutante and she should receive as long as they continue to arrive.

3: The debutante's supper partner is one who has spoken for the privilege weeks or months in advance of the event.

4: The debutante must dance well or she had better stay away from balls or dances, and exploit her other abilities, such as being able to play a good hand at bridge or a good game of golf.

5: The debutante should remember that it's folly to try to do anything socially unless one can do it well.

6: It's bad manners for a young woman ever to put her hand on a man, except in dancing or in taking the arm of a wedding usher or a dinner or supper partner.

TO FIGHT REAL MOVIE WAR IN THE THEATRES

The Hays-Fairbanks Duel Will Be Main Centre in Playhouses.

NEW YORK, March 31.—The motion picture theaters of the United States are attended regularly by 68.2 per cent of the people, according to date on file in Will Hays' office. In towns of 25,000 more than the total population attend the movies during the week.

If these figures—they cannot be definite—are even approximately correct they point out that three of every ten people seldom see movies in the theaters. They may see motion pictures in school rooms, churches and community centers. Films shown in those places are listed as non-theatrical films. Under that classification fall scenics, travelogues, folklore, wild animal life and historical and biblical romances.

A good name for the non-theatrical film it appears at first glance, would be the non-bunk film.

Heretofore there has been no organization of the firms distributing non-theatrical films. Francis M. Hugo, former state secretary of New York, has just been made chairman of the Directors of one of the larger non-theatrical firms under a plan to affiliate all the non-theatrical firms under him in an organization similar to the Hays organization.

"The non-theatrical firms have made spasmodic efforts to reach the great mass of people who do not attend theaters," Hugo told me today. "We are now amalgamating these efforts to the end of getting the non-theatrical film before the vast audience that awaits it.

"We are now filming the life of Lincoln and the history of the United States and we believe those films will be exhibited in every school in the country."

* * *

If this proposed organization headed by Hugo will keep clear of ad existing organizations in the motion picture industry it will be enabled to accomplish untold good for the motion picture as an art.

Many excellent films, such as the Scandinavian version of "Hamlet" with Asta Nielsen starring, never reach the public because the industry as organized today throttles the independent producer.

Asta Nielsen's "Hamlet" stood no more show of being exhibited in a Broadway theater than Banquo's ghost.

Universal recently bought "Driven," which Charles Brabin produced independently, and boasted that it was the first independent film it had bought in years.

* * *

Much has been said about the community film theater movement. It seems to me that the only hope for that movement to succeed at this time is through the organized proposed by Hugo. That group is already set to the purpose of reaching people who do not attend the commercial theater.$ Those who have been prating about art for art's sake in the movies should find their opportunity for expression through the Hugo organization. At least, Hugo should see to it that they do find their opportunity.

TO PROTECT ROAD INVESTMENT NOW BIGGEST PROBLEM

Good Roads Progress Being Made in Every Province.

$40,000,000 SPENT YEARLY

Central Control of All Road Building Adopted in Four Provinces.

(By S. L. SQUIRE)
Chairman Executive Committee, Canadian Good Roads Association.

During the past week the meetings of the Ontario Good Roads Association have been dealing with roads particularly as they affect Ontario; and while we appreciate the fact that there is a strong incentive to deal with those roads of which we can make most use of it may be of interest to consider what is being done for roads in some parts of our country farther away from home.

The Provincial Governments of British Columbia, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island do all the road building and maintaining of highways throughout their various provinces, with the exception of the roads streets in incorporated municipalities, and the item of Provincial road tax appears upon the tax bills; though this tax is collected by some of the minor municipalities in some of the Provinces. Central control is the argument used, and, of course, this gives the more sparsely settled parts of the Provinces an opportunity of having roads equal to those in the more prosperous portions, if traffic conditions demand it.

Narrow Roads Developed

Nova Scotia, in which is represented our oldest responsible Government and which has a settlement dating back more than two hundred years, developed, as might be expected, many narrow roadways, some not being wider than 20 feet lanes and fenced with stones and other material. The Provincial Government, upon assuming control of the roads, declared that all roads within the Province should be 66 feet in width, and placed the onus of departure from this practivce upon the property owners. The Government would not assume any liability for damages unless the property owner could prove trespass, and this has been seldom possible. The present Premier of Nova Scotia, Hon. Mr. Armstrong, was interested in the roads of his province ten years ago, while the Hon. Mr. Veniot Premier of New Brunswick, was Minister of Highways before attaining the position he now occupies. Interest in road development in the east is forming a stepping stone for advancement.

A new feature of the road program in the Province of Québec is that of maintenance. The Provincial Government of that Province has now undertaken the maintenance of its main or market roads and has made financial provision for the work. Property rights on the highways of Quebec are highly regarded, and unless there is a willingness on the part of the property owners roads cannot be diverted or widened, nor can drainage be effected.

B. C. Roads Progress

British Columbia has been improving the roads within its Province to a very marked degree. Not only has there been an aggressive policy, but the Province has been building a high type of road, having hundreds of miles of highways which compare with the roads of the States to the south of them and which are bringing in returns. Many of these good roads are found upon Vancouver Island.

Some of the energetic road boosters of Victoria were determined to make their roads available for the American tourists. They required regular ferry communication with the mainland and also a transportation rate which would not be prohibitive. The existing rate was $42 per car, with five passengers. Last year arrangements were completed for a ferry. Docks were provided and the fare reduced to $16. The result of this experiment was wonderful. During the season of 1922, June to September, this ferry carried 4,170 cars and 17,307 passengers, who were thus given the opportunity of seeing the beauties of Vancouver Island and Victoria by motor. This year the C.P.R. is arranging for a regular motor car ferry service, while the owner of the older ferry is putting on a new boat which will give a capacity four times greater than last year.

Careful Attention Essential

It is impossible to segregate roads completely. Roads must be improved and the safety of the public guarded in every way; for with the increasing number of motorists there come multiplied dangers. The expenditure upon Canada's roads has reached nearly $40,000,000 annually. We believe that this expenditure is warranted by the increased use. The travelled road mileage in Canada has increased over 20,000 in the past ten years. One big problem is to protect this investment, and this demands the careful attention of public men at the present time.

In future, I believe, highway engineering education will be divided into wsubdivisions, upon which specialization will become necessary. There is room for the specialist in highway location, highway design, highway construction inspection and in highway maintenance. Each of these divisions of highway engineering is presenting distinct opportunities for experts.

There is great need in most States and Provinces of this continent for skilled highway inspectors to act as the connecting link between the designing engineer and the contractor. If the work of the designing engineer is to be successful, if the results of his own education, experience and skill expressed by way of plans and specifications are to count fully, skilled inspectors and artisans are necessary to interpret properly the ideas therein expressed. A couple of seasons in a minor engineering capacity, with two or three years of technical study as a training should be the minimum requirement for a man employed in highway inspection work.

While it is to the interest of the highway engineering profession to see that all who are connected with it shall havt had adequate experience, practical and theoretical training, before the necessity for public employment of trained services is generally recognized, public opinion must be educated as to the value of education and the necessity of paying enough for such trained services.

Bright young men casting about for the profession promising a likely future can be assured with confidence that highway engineering is coming more and more into its own. As long as this continent shall endure improved roads will be required, and the improvements which the public now demand must be carried out by and under the direction of prepared trained men. And while at present their reward from a monetary standpoint leaves much to be desired there are other rewards not to be despised, such as come to any man who does things for the people rightly.

So Declares Mrs. Melbourne of Ottawa Concerning Vicks.

Mrs. Melbourne of 84 Fulton Ave., Ottawa, Ont., writes: "I had a very bad cold on my chest, when I received the sample of your Vicks VapoRub, and after two or three applications I found great relief and before the jar was finished I was completely cured. I also used it on my little boy for a sore throat and found it very satisfactory where gargles had failed to give relief."

Treat one cold with Vicks VapoRub and you will adopt this external treatment for all the cold troubles of the family. Vicks is a salve that acts like a plaster and a vapor lamp at the same time. It is absorbed and inhaled.

When the children come in wet and sniffling, apply Vicks liberally over throat and chest and cover with a flannel cloth.

Treated at bedtime, the child is usually better next morning, and all the bad after-effects of internal dosing are avoided. Croup attacks are kept away, too.

Want Ad Tips by John T. Bartlett

(By John T. Bartlett.)

The Appeal of Wide Selection.

The proprietor of a successful boarding kennels business had many dogs, always, for sale, at a wide range of prices. He drafted a Want Ad which, cleverly, made capital of this condition. It ran:

"Dogs For Sale— From $1 up; hundreds to select from; all breeds and ages."

Then he mentioned several individual dogs, together with the prices asked for them.

Read the beginning of his Want Ad again. It contains, put very convincingly, the suggestion that one can buy of the advertiser, at any time, just about anything in a dog. It suggests that the inquirer has every possible opportunity to please his eye while heeding his purse. The assertions made are general, but they have powerful appeal.

The appeal is the appeal of wide selection. There are many Want advertisers who can use it making their messages most effective for results. A used car dealer has the largest stock of used cars in the city. He puts in his Want Ad that fact, "Largest stock in the city." It attracts buyers, of course. A real estate firm puts in its Want Ad, "2300 homes listed, all prices, all districts."

A piano dealer says, "Pianos of all makes, at all prices, cash or terms." An old bookstore suggests its extensive stock by saying "65 different works on accounting, 30 different books on poultry-keeping, numerous technical books on all subjects."

When one feature of an advertiser's business is the very wide selection afforded buyers, the best Want Ad is usually one which, in addition to specific description of articles, listings, etc., mentions the extensive assortment in a convincing manner. The examples here quoted show just how to do it.

Q—What is the history of the steamship "Beaver?"

A—The "Beaver" was the first steamship on the Pacific, entering Camosun Bay, B.C., on March 13, 1843. Her flag was much like that of the Dominion Flag, only on the lower quarter, instead of the coat of arms of the confederate provinces was "H.B.C." for she belonged to the Hudson's Bay Company, and she had brought Factor Douglas with sixteen men to build a fort by Camosun which grew into the city of Victoria the capital of British Columbia.

The PRIDE of PALOMAR

By Peter B. Kyne

XXI.

At the base of El Palomar, Farrel and his party were met by the Parker chauffeur with the car. Pablo had guided him out and was lounging importantly in the seat beside William.

"Don Nicolas Sandoval came to the hacienda an hour ago, Don Miguel," he reported. "He brought with him three others; all have gone forth to take possession of Loustalot's sheep."

Farrel nodded and dismounted to assist Mrs. Parker as the latter came down from her horse, somewhat stiffly. When he turned to perform a similar office for her daughter, however, the girl smilingly shook her head.

"I shipped for the cruise, Don Mike," she assured him. "May I ride home with you? Remember you've got to pick up your rope and that panther's pelt." Her adorable face flushed faintly as her gaze sought her mother's. "I have never seen a panther undressed," she protested.

"Well," her amiable mother replied, with her customary hearty manner, "far be it from me to deprive you of that interesting sight. Take good care of her, Miguel. I hold you responsible for her."

"You are very kind to trust me so."

Both Parker and his wife noted that his words were not mere polite patter. Farrel's gravely courteous bearing, his respectful bow to Mrs. Parker and the amenity with which he spoke impressed them with the conviction that this curious human study in light and shadow regarded their approval as an honor, not a privilege.

"I shall take very good care of Miss Kay," he supplemented, "We shall be home for dinner."

He mounted the gray gelding, leaving Pablo to follow with the black mare and the pinto, while he and Kay cantered down the wide white wash of the Rio San Gregorio.

From their semi-concealment among the young willow growth, scrub cattle gazed at them or fled, with tails aloft, for more distant thickets; cottontail rabbits and an occasional jack-rabbit, venturing forth as the shadows grew long in the valley, flashed through the low sage and weeds; from the purpling hillsides cock quails called cheerily to their families to come right home. The air was still and cool, heavy with the perfume of sage, blackberry briars, yerba santa, an occasional bay tree and the pungent odor of moist earth and decaying vegetation. There had fallen upon the land that atmosphere of serenity, of peace, that is the peculiar property of California's foothill valleys in the late afternoon; the world seemed very distant and not at all desirable, and to Kay there came a sudden, keen realization of how this man beside her must love this darkling valley with the hills above presenting their flower-clad breasts to the long spears of light from the dying day.....

Pienso en ti, Teresita mia,
Cuando la luna alumbra la tierra
He sentido el fuego de tus ojos,
He sentido las penas del amor.

"What does it mean" shedemanded, imperiously.

"Oh, it's a very ordinary little sentiment, Miss Kay. The Spanish cavalier, having settled himself under his lady's window, thrums a preliminary chord or two, just to let her and the family know he's not working on the sly: then he says in effect: 'I think of thee, my little Tessie, when the moonlight is shining on the world; your bright eyes have me going for fair, kid, and due to a queer pain in my interior, I know I'm in love.'"

"You outrageous Celt!"

He chuckled. "A Spaniard takes his love very seriously. He's got to be sad and despairing about it, even when he knows very well the girl is saying to herself: 'For heaven's sake, when will this windy bird get down to brass tacks and pop the question?' He droops like a stale eschscholtzia, only, unlike that flower he hasn't sense enough to shut up for the night!"

Her beaming face turned toward him was ample reward for his casual display of Celtic wit, his knowledge of botany. And suddenly she saw his first real smile—a flash of beautiful white teeth and a wrinkling of the skin around the merry eyes. It came and went like a flicker of lightning; the somber man was an insouciant lad again.

A quarter of a mile across the valley they found the torn and mutilated carcass of a heifer, with a day-old calf grieving beside her.

"This is the work of our defunct friend, the panther," Farrel explained. "He had made his kill on this little heifer and eaten heartily. It occurred to me while we were chasing him that he was logey. Well—when Mike's away the cats will play."

He reached down, grasped the calf by the forelegs and drew the forlorn little animal up before him on the saddle. As it stretched out quietly across his thighs, following a half-hearted struggle to escape, Kay saw Don Mike give the orphan his left index finger to suck.

"Not much sustenance in it, is there, old timer?" he addressed the calf. "Coyotes would have had you to-night if I hadn't passed by."

"What a tiny calf," Kay observed, riding close to pat the sleek head.

"He's scrubby and interbred; his mother bore him before she had her own growth and a hundred generations of him got the same poor start in life. You've seen people like this little runt. He really isn't worth carrying home, but——"

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Four 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make 16 ounces—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

are absolutely standards in the knitting trade. People ask "Is that the same as the Bonner-Worth"? "Isn't it something to be proud of when you have created a standard in twelve years?" asked Mr. Worth.

Describing the beginning of the industry in Peterboro, the speaker said the creek used to overflow the swamp land where the plant now stands. Digging was commenced on the 11th of April, 1911.

The capitalization of the business, he thought, was $35,000, and they tried every month to reach the then high mark of $14,000 business.

Every month now the Bonner-Worth does $125,000.

The growth has been largely the result of cooperation given by everyone in the works. The girls seemed as interested as the managers, Mr. Worth said.

In closing the speaker said that he had spent 12 of the happiest years of his life in the mill in Peterboro and he hoped that success would continue in the work which he started to meet a great need in Canada.

Messrs. G. T. Melton, F. Travis, and T. Turcotte conveyed the good wishes of their departments to Mr. Worth, and family.

A handsome traveling wardrobe was presented to Edgar Worth as a token of esteem from those present.

Messrs. L. H. Bond, new manager of the Auburn mills, L. R. Webb, J. H. Miller and R. A. Paget, representative of the Commercial Trading Corporation, also expressed their regret at losing a valued personal friend, and a respected business associate.

W. R. Morris referred to Edgar Worth's services on the city council and as chairman of the Chamber of Commerce and feared that his place in the city will be hard to fill.

J. H. Hopwood won renewed laughter by his speech which he couched in terms of the industry. "I hope," he said, "that I am not expected to spin any novel yarns or some of the overseers here would speedily find out I was simply rowing—and unable to keep my end up."

Continuing, he said, "The sentiments that have been expressed here are evanescent but we have in our city a monument to what has resulted from work carried out with enthusiasm and skill. Mr. Worth created the industry in Canada without pull and without a powerful daddy to give him a hand, and he has succeeded." On behalf of his confreres of Otonabee Mills, Mr. Hopwood wished Mr. Worth continued success.

Musical Selections.

Several musical items were given by talented members of the company including vocal solos by A. Barton, C. E. Clarke, James Asquith and D. G. Melton.

A duet "Excelsior" by James Emmett and C. E. Clarke received a hearty encore.

So great was the storm of applause drawn by Mr. C. E. Clarke's singing of a song with original words, set to a medley of popular tunes, that he was compelled to sing the song a second time.

Mr. M. B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O., was heartily thanked for his services as accompanist. F. Whetton recited two of Robert Service's poems.

Reference was made by Walter Worth to tre recent death of Tom Hardy, a member of their company, and the sympathy of the gathering was extended to Mrs. Hardy and her child.

BAND CONDUCTOR ABOUT TO RESIGN

Rupert Gliddon Will Retire at End of 25th Year in September.

At the rehearsal of the 57th Regimental Band a few nights ago, Rupert Gliddon, conductor of the organisation for the past quarter of a century, announced his intention of resigning.

From members of the band it was learned that this retirement of Mr. Gliddon was a profound surprise, and in view of the fact that he will complete his twenty-fifth year as bandmaster next September, he agreed to retain the leadership until then, and will conduct the summer concerts this year.

The Rangers' Band musters forty-five instruments at present, and recent practices have been largely attended.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and began taking it as the directions said. I feel very good now and can do all my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to all my friends, and you can use my testimonial letter." — Mrs. HATTIE WARZON, 870 Garden St., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Buffalo, N.Y.—"I had some female troubles that just run my health down so that I lost my appetite and felt miserable all the time. I could not lift anything heavy, and a little extra work some days would put me in bed. A friend had told me to try Lydia E. MARKSON WAS COMMITTED submitted by the prosecution. The Chief Constable said Markson told him the letter had been distorted and twisted and that he had written the editor and told him so. But notwithstanding that, Markson appears to have gone to te Labour Temple or Labour Hall and distributed 25 copies of the paper after making some changes in the article, but not changing all the matters which he says were distorted."

Statements Not Verified.

Magistrate Langley said that Markson had made no effort to determine whether the things he wrote were true. He did not verify his information in the way any thoughtful man would do. But that didn't show that he knew them to be false. Augustus Sawers told Markson the article wasn't true. That couldn't have been before Markson distributed the papers at the Labour Hall.

"I am unable to say as to that" His Worship continued. "If Sawers did tell him before, then there is some evidence that Markson knew the article was not true before he published it. He complains that it was not printed as he wrote it, but he holds himself responsible for distributing the copies of the paper here. The evidence was so slight to show knowledge on Markson's part that it gave me a great deal of worry as to the course I should pursue. I concluded that there is sufficient evidence to show me that there was reasonable probability that some crime was committed, and it is my duty if there is reasonable probability, although not necessarily a prima facie case, to bail him for trial at least.

Where the evidence is not very strong, but there is that reasonable probability it is the duty of the Magistrate, I take it, to commit or bail for trial. In weaker cases the accused is bailed so as not to detain him until he comes to trial. I therefore fix the bail and compel him to go before the Grand Jury so they may pass on it."

Won't Shrink Woollens

—true, says MONARCH KNITTING CO.

The above firm, one of the largest manufacturers of woollens in Canada, investigated the best method of cleaning sweaters—and they recommend Lux.

Here is their letter, which tells how sweaters should be washed.

Messrs. Lever Bros., Limited
Toronto, Canada

January 17, 1923

Gentlemen:

Sweater coats or blouses, where they are manufactured out of pure wool or silk, can be washed as satisfactorily and as easily as ordinary goods, provided the proper material and methods are used for the washing, and the proper article is on the Canadian market a product entirely suitable for our knitted goods and for our yarns. We suggest to all women who buy these goods to wash them with Lux.

The slogan of the manufacturers—"Won't shrink woollens"—is true if proper washing methods are used. The thin, wafer-like flakes of Lux dissolve readily and there is no possibility of any pieces of said soap sticking to the soft wool or silk and yellowing it, ultimately ruining the garment.

Children's sweater coats or suits are often ruined in the first laundering because they are improperly washed, but if Lux is used, they will wear longer and give more satisfaction to the buyer.

We also recommend that garments should be dried quickly and when drying, lay them out flat and straighten to shape. Never hang them up when wet.

We are pleased to say that our silk and woollen sweater coats, skirts, suits, etc. in the most delicate colors and weights can be safely washed with Lux.

Yours very truly,
THE MONARCH KNITTING CO., LTD.

The First Robin Interviewed

"Well, here I am again, and, believe me, I had a rough trip. I wouldn't go through it again for anything," said the First Robin, cornered by the bird correspondent shivering in a chilly breeze.

"Not so much fun, eh?" asked the correspondent.

"I got allota great publicity all along the line, but outside of that it was awful," replied the First Robin, shaking some ice off one wing.

"Are you quite sure you are the First Robin" queried the correspondent, a stickler for caution. "Have you any credentials?"

"Well, all the newspapers said I was. I can show you the clippings," replied the bird, peeved at being doubted "If I ain't the First Robin I've played an awful joke on myself.'

* * *

"How'd you find things en route?"

"Worst ever. Never again for me. I ran into hot waves, cold waves, blizzards, gales, ice storms, and every type of weather. Often I thought of turning back."

"Why didn't you?"

"Well, the papers were printing so much stuff about me that I felt obligated to finish the trip. The First Robin, you know, has a wide following and owes something to the public. The people have been educated to expect me north about this time as an official harbinger of spring. And the robins have been educated to meet the expectation, no matter how much they suffer."

"I'm sorry you look at it that way."

"It seems to me that since the First Robin is an institution the Peterboro people should provide better facilities for his annual trip. You ought to put out some rest stations and worms for us. You expect us to get through the best way we can, and if we don't do it we get all kind of criticism."

"You've never asked help before," said the correspondent.

"You newspaper bimbos ought to take care of us without us asking. If it wasn't for the Firt Robin you reporters wouldn't have much to write about each spring. We keep you with first page copy for weeks Some year not a single First Robin will get through before May and then you'll be in a fine fix"

"I'll speak to the city editor and see what can be done."

"You'd better. Strictly between ourselves, this trip means more to the city editors than it does to the robins. We'd rather stay down south and not come up here until it got warm, but we've been coming up around the last of March for years as a matter of accommodation to the newspapers, and we've just got the habit. People expect it of us. Look at this entry in my diary of this year's trip: "Friday—Warm in morning. Resumed trip north, but ran into cold wave and snow storm at noon. Now two days without a worm. Almost ready to abandon trip. Getting good notices in papers, which alone cheer me up."

"That shows what a tough time I had."

"But," urged the bird editor, "is it no satisfaction to you to feel that you are the harbinger of spring, that your arrival marks the ——"

"That's the bunk," interrupted the robin. "The first robin don't mark the arrival of spring any more than the first hobo, the first German band, or the first suburban real estate salesman. You and I would both be in jail if we had our just deserts."

"What for?" demanded the correspondent, alarmed.

"For kidding the public," replied the First Robin. "We're almost as unreliable as the Weather Bureau on this spring dope. But, anyhow, you" have to end this interview. I've got to get on to the next town. I'm due to be seen there by the Oldest Inhabitant and a group of reporters to-morrow at 9.30."

"Thanks, very much," said the scribe. "Will I see you again next year?"

"Not so's you could notice it," concluded the 1923 First Robin, taking wing with difficulty. "There'll be some other young fool to do the stunt. Give my regards to the city editor. S'long!"

"DARKEST HOUR" AT GEORGE STREET

To a capacity audience, which filled the entire ground floor and galleries of George street Methodist church last evening, the sacred cantata, "The Darkest Hour," was rendered in splendid fashion by the augmented church choir under direction of Mr. J. H. Renwick, with solos by Mrs. Dorothy Allan Park, Messrs. Albert Greenlaw, George Altcroft, (of Eaton Church, Toronto), Maurice Park and Charles Thorpe.

The story of the Passion of Christ, from the vigil of the Saviour in the Garden of Gethsemane to the final moment on Calvary, is told in the musical strains of "The Darkest House," with a prologue and epilogue. The work of Mrs. Park, who took the recitative in her usual fine, clear tones, with a reverent interpretation of the sacred theme, was very good. This sense of reverence was manifested throughout the entire rendition of the cantata, by soloists and choir alike, and added immensely to the spirit of the music. The shading, tempo and interpretation by the group of well-trained musicians made an atmosphere of religious feeling which brought to the attention of an attentive audience a realization of the tragedy portrayed in the music of "The Darkest Hour."

Mr. George Altcroft, of Toronto, a baritone whose warm, sympathetic tones have the carrying, sustained quality of organ music, took most of the solo numbers. In the "Gethsemane" scene, the solo "Father, if Thou Art Willing," when Jesus prays that the cup may pass from His lips, was a beautiful interval, with piano and organ accompaniment. Scene two, illustrating the Trials before Calaphas and Pilate, was an outstanding part of the cantata, the male choir joining in the call for "Barabbas," with vogorous attack and melodious uproar. In this scene, solos were taken in splendid voice by Messrs. M H. Park and Charles Thorpe.

A melodious Processional March, the piano and organ sounding forth a dirge-like refrain, opened the "Road to Calvary" scene, in which the entire choir takes up the refrain of the beautifully-sung solo by Mr. Altcroft, "Daughters of Zion, Weep Not For Me," with organ and piano accompaniment. The Way of the Cross was symbolized in the measured beat of music behind the concerted voices which chanted of Christ's agony on the bloody road to Calvary. "Surely He Hath Borne Our Griefs" by the united voices, was splendidly rendered.

Mrs .Park's dramatic expression was given scope in her feeling rendition of the Calvary scene, with solo by Mr. Altcroft and the male choir imitating the loud outcry of the Jews. "It Is Finished" by Mr. Altcroft had an unaccompanied chorus by the male voices that made it particularly impressive. A duet by Mr. and Mrs. Park, "O Saviour of the World," was a beautiful interlude with chorus by the full choir, which also joined in the triumphant finale, with recitative by Mrs. Park, "Let This Mind Be in You."

Mr. Albert E. Greenlaw, of Detroit, in rich, full tones, sang immediately preceding the cantata, Campion's "The Ninety-and-Nine." J. H. Renwick and George H. King gave a much-appreciated organ recital during the half hour before the regular programme, which commenced with a hymn and Scriptural reading and prayer by Rev H. W. Young.

The organist for the evening was G. H. King, the pianist Leslie Unitt, both gentlemen giving the score the sympathetic accompaniment which added so much to its beauty and impressiveness. The work of the choir itself in its fineness of shading and interpretation, left nothing to be desired.

CLASS CHILDREN WITH INDIGENTS

And City Will Pay Hospital Expenses for Minor Operations.

The category of indigent patients whose hospital expenses are paid by the city has been extended by the Finance Committee of the Council to include three children who were recommended by a school nurse to have their tonsils and adenoids removed.

Relief Officer Miller informed the committee that a number of children who had been examined were advised to undergo operations for adenoids or tonsils, but the parents of some of them were unable to bear the cost of medical and hospital attention. They refused to have the hospital bills paid by the city except in the case of the three children in whose behalf a recommendation was submitted to the Finance Committee and approved for reference to the Council.

Legal Account.

An account from G. W. Hatton, K.C., amounting to $95, for his services in prosecuting cases under the Ontario Temperance Act on the request of Chief Constable Newhall was laid over for investigation. They covered a period reaching back to October 5. It was pointed out that the Chief was empowered under the O. T. A., and as an officer appointed by the Council, to obtain legal assistance in the prosecution of offenders against the Act. In the itemized statement from Mr. Hatton it appeared that his fees covered virtually all of the cases in the January round up.

$300 For "Pikers."

The request of the Motor League for a grant of $300 for the reception of the Michigan Pikers and also to pay for the cost of sending an advertising car with them in their tour of Ontario was approved on Ald. Turner's motion, seconded by Ald. Stocker.

New Method of Reducing Fat

A news item from abroad informs us that the American method of producing a slim, trim figure is meeting with astonishing success. This system, which has made such a wonderful impression over there, must be the Marmola Prescription Tablet method of reducing fat. It is safe to say that we has nothing better for this purpose in the country. Anything that will reduce the excess flesh steadily and easily without injury to the stomach, the causing of wrinkles, the help of exercising or dieting, or interference with one's meals, is a mighty important and useful addition to civilization's necessities. Just such a catalogue of good results follow the use of these pleasant, harmless and economical little fat reducers. We say economical because Marmola Prescription Tablets (made in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription) can be obtained of any druggist the world over or from the Marmola Company, 4615 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Mich., for one dollar a case, which is a decidedly economical price, considering the number of tablets each case contains. They are harmless.

WANT PETERBORO TO SEE THE TRAIN

Mr. G. N. Gordon Endeavoring to Have Live Stock Exhibit Shown Here.

March 31, 1923.

Examiner, City.

Dear Sirs,—I noticed an article in the Examiner a couple of days ago saying that the better live stock train was not stopping at Peterborough, but it was arranged to have it remain at Omemee, Norwood and Bonar Law on the 3rd, 4th and 5th days of April.

I tried to get Mr. R. W. Wade, Live Stock Commissioner, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, by telephone this morning, but did not succeed, as he was away from the office. Later on I tried to get Mr. McRae, the local agricultural representative at Norwood, to see what he knew and why the train was not to stop at Peterborough City.

Mr. McRae told me he had recommended Norwood, and when a demonstration had taken place before, Peterborough had not a very large show. He said he thought that possibly a day might be divided between Norwood and Peterborough so that the train would remain here part of the day and the rest of the day at Norwood.

Upon this information I immediately telegraphed Mr. R. W. Wade, Live Stock Commissioner, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, asking if this could be done, and a copy of the telegram is as follows:

"R. W. Wade, Esq.,
Live Stock Commissioner,
Parliament Buildings,
Toronto, Ont.

"The better live stock train is scheduled to stop at Omemee, Norwood and Bonar Law, but Peterborough has been overlooked. Could you arrange for at least part of a day for Peterborough City and have it advertised in local press? I understand stock men and farmers anxious to have opportunity of inspecting and purchasing if opportunity given. — Yours truly, G. N. Gordon."

LITTLE HELP FROM THE OLD COUNTRY

Farmers' Hopes in Peterborough District This Year Shattered.

The Peterborough immigration agent has received a communication from the Secretary of the Department of Immigration and Colonization, in which the hopes of the farmers in this locality of getting Old Country farm help this year are shattered. The Department advises that very few people are to be found who are able to pay their own way to Canada. A recent cable asking for help for another centre brought the reply that no help was available. "The season is so late now," points out the secretary of the Department, "that farmers will not wait even if we promise them help in six weeks."

Mr. G. H. Howson, the local agent, is assured that help will be forthcoming at the proper season next year, and organization work to this end will be undertaken next winter.

can cure all ailments of the human body, but an immense number of people suffer from aches, pains and disease symptoms when their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. It is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron your food merely passes through you without doing you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. There is one universally known tonic that has helped thousands because it contains iron like the iron in fresh vegetables and like the iron in your blood.

NUXATED IRON

is an eminent physician's best blood prescription, standardized. It is recommended for all anaemic and run-down conditions. It has helped thousands of others. It should help you. Ask for it at any drug store.

ASSOCIATION SHOWS ACTION

Fish and Game Organization Pressing for Fish Hatchery.

The executive of the Peterborough Fish and Game Association, at a meeting at the Empress Hotel on Thursday evening, at which Mr. T. Tooms, M.L.A. for West Peterborough was present, discussed details in connection with the Association's activities during the coming months.

A resolution was passed and will be pressed by Mr Tooms before the Fish and Game committee of the Legislature, of which he is a member, asking that a fish hatchery be established at Fowler's Corners, at the head of Chemong Lake. It is the opinion of the members that a natural hatchery can be established at this point at a minimum expense and that such an institution would be of great service to the whole district.

The Association will also endeavor to have a game sanctuary established north of Stoney Lake, between Jack's and Eel's Creeks.

It has been decided that the Association will have a booth at the Motor Show next week, and will give out information as to the aims and objects of the organization with a view to educating the public to the need of action. Members will also be enlisted at the Show, and the Association expects to line up the majority of the sportsmen of the district.

TEARING LIBRARY BOOKS BRINGS BOY INTO COURT

Mr. F. M. Dela Fosse, City librarian, has been caused great annoyance by the pilfering of books from the Public Library, and by the tearing of pages from valuable volumes. Many encyclopedias have been greatly decreased in value, if not rendered useless, by this mutilation. As a result of indulging in this form of amusement, a fifteen-year-old boy was haled into court this morning before Magistrate O. A. Langley.

It is to be hoped that the example of this boy will prove a deterrant when other, and perhaps older, persons are tempted to destroy the property of the public by clipping a picture or a page from a library book.

SUFFERED SO FROM HEART AND NERVES LIFE WAS A BURDEN

Mrs. A. H. Lee, Beamsville, Ont. writes:—"I am delighted to let you know what I have to say regarding the good Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did me.

A short time ago I suffered with heart and nerve trouble, and was so bad I could not sleep, only about two hours each night. My heart was so bad I had spells when driving on the road and would faint away, and neighbors would carry me in from my wagon. I also took these spells in the night and during my daily work on the farm. My nerves were so bad I would jump out of bed, and was then compelled to walk the floor before I could settle down again, but after taking a few boxes of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

I can honestly say I am a relieved man. I now feel in the best of health, in fact, the best I've been in for three years, and can do any class of work with pleasure where before life was a burden to me."

MORE EXPANSION BY LOCAL FIRM

J. A. McNabb Co., Limited, Add Another Link to Their Chain of Stores.

With the establishment of another store in Brockville on February 22 this year, the J. A. McNabb Co., Limited have wedded a fourth link to their chain of Ladies' and Misses' Style Shops, which originated with J. A. McNabb himself in this city. The Peterborough mother emporium was opened here on December 1, 1920, followed by a second store in Kingston on August 28, 1922, and a third in Belleville on October 28 1922 And the gratifying success attained by these business ventures, so strongly reflected in an ever-growing patronage, encourages the management to visualize an extension of their business chain which shall at least be Ontario-wide, and each one fed(so to speak, from the main establishment in Peterborough.

Unquestionably, the maintenance of this substantially expanding chain of Ladies' Style Shops calls for an excelling degree of business acumen, coupled with a knowledge of buying dresses, blouses, coats, suits, capes and wraps, which irresistibly appeals to the trade of each district catered to by the J. A. McNabb Co., Limited. Equally unquestionable is the assumption that this firm's inceptive policy of "style, quality and values" within the reach of moderate purses has been maintained to the very letter, winning that confidence of ladies and misses which spells mutual satisfaction for both customer and merchant. Otherwise, a chain of four J. A. McNabb Co., Limited, homes of fashionable and dependable ready-to-wear forged within a little over two years, would have been impossible.

This operating of four stores in four Ontario cities means concentrated buying on a scale, which assumes the J. A. McNabb Co. Limited, of a pick of the market and places J .A. McNabb in a position where he can demand from the manufacturer just exactly what his trade calls for in value and quality Then, Mr. McNabb stresses his contention that buying for his chain of stores constitutes him the largest buyer of ladies 'fashionable garments in Eastern Ontario ,apart from such big departmental houses as Eatons and Simpsons in Toronto, thus assuring him a purchasing preference of which his patrons reap the advantage in selling prices, in some lines marked even below the cost of similar garments to small retailers.

Naturally, the control of a chain of four stores in four Ontario cities creates a large outlet for a continual influx of ladies' ready-to-wear, necessitating a personal weekly visit by Mr. McNabb to Montreal and Toronto style centres, with frequent trips to New York; and in America's great metropolis he is associated with a buyer who combs the market for this firm's exacting trade. In this way the J. A. McNabb Co., Limited Style Shops are continually supplied with the newest creations from a bewildering variety of models which invite and charm—in fact, the last word always in seasonable and exclusive ladies' and misses' super-fashioncraft at amazingly moderate prices.

WORK FOR CRIPPLE CHILDREN

The most interesting, perhaps, of the endeavours of the local Health Association during the past season was its work among the crippled children of the city. Supported by the Rotary Club, the Association has already made a good start in this work, with the help of Drs. W. D. Scott chairman, A. W. McPherson, Jos, Morgan,, and G. S. Cameron, acting as examining physicions for the 25 or more cases submitted to their attention.

Together with the cases which were left over for further consideration, and those which are receiving preliminary treatment, there were several that were improved at once by help afforded through the Association's doctors. A child suffering with infantile paralysis was sent to Toronto to procure a proper boot; another with tubercular hip joint was put in Nicholls Hospital for two weeks and supplied in the meantime with fresh eggs and milk; a boy of 13 years of age, another case of infantile paralysis, was provided with proper splints to enable him to use the muscles of the left leg, and another child whose deformity was of a congenital origin, was sent to Toronto for an operation and plaster cast. This boy shows marked improvement. A little girl of eight has "Potts' disease' of the spine, and is being attended to at the present time.

With a great majority of the cases of infantile and child deformity easily remediable, and with many of them also cases where the parents are unable to help their children through lack of funds, the degree of good to the community from such an organisation can easily be seen.

To help on this work and make next year's report as successful as this year's, requires the co-operation of citizens in the carrying out of this year's Motor Show, which takes place next Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

OFFICERS ELECTED LACROSSE ASSN.

Enthusiasm Featured the Annual Meeting O.A.L.A. in Toronto Yesterday

TORONTO, March 31 (Canadian Press). — Delegates numbering 154 attended the annual meeting here yesterday of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association, at which reports were submitted indicating the expansion of the national game.

The meeting accepted an entry of 22 teams from Ottawa, and there are now close to 100 teams in sight.

Officers elected were: Hon. president, W. J. Hanley, Toronto; president, Arnold Smith, Weston; 1st vice-president, J. D. Wright, St. Catharines; 2nd vice-president, Raspin Scott, Orangeville; secretary, James Labett, Toronto; treasurer, William Harcourt, Toronto.

One of the important features of the meeting was the presentation of the Clare Levack Challenge Trophy by William B. Levack, father of the late Clare Levack, former lacrosse player, who was killed in the war.

Mr. Levack had presented the trophy to represent the Association championship.

A proposal to have a twelve-man lacrosse in every series was defeated and the meeting refused to alter the junior age limit from 20 to 21 years.

The substitute rule was again defeated after a warm debate.

CHILD CHESS PLAYER WILL VISIT OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, March 31.—(Canadian Press).—Samuel Rzeschewski, one of the greatest chess players in the world, will shortly visit Ottawa, and while here will take part in a match in which he will play against twenty opponents simultaneously.

This young marvel is only eleven years old and already has made a great name for himself through his brilliant work at the chess table. At the same time that the twenty games are going on, he will play two blindfolded games; that is, he will call his moves against two opponents without seeing the board.

Rzeschesld is genuinely of master rank, which is extraordinary for a boy of eleven years old. Chess experts who have seen him are agreed that he is headed for the world's championship if he continues the study of the game.

BOILS

Made Him Sick and Miserable

Mr. Richard Zalenzoski, McLean, Sask., writes:—"I had been suffering continuously, with boils, for three years, and during that time I tried many different remedies without any success whatever. In spite of all my efforts I was compelled to go to the hospital. This was in the Fall of the year, and right in the busiest time of the season. Upon my return home it just took about two weeks until my neck and arms were again occupied by the boils which made me feel very sick and miserable.

One day one of my friends advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had used less than two bottles I was very much surprised at the result.

It is now over two years since I got in touch with B.B.B., and I have had no bother with boils since. I will recommend it to all persons suffering from any defect in the blood."

RELIGIOUS HOLIDAY.

NEW YORK, March 3. (United Press.) — The brokerage houses today were practically clear of customers and a large number of stock exchange members were away, due to the religious holiday.

The Liverpool and London markets were closed and trading in consequence was retarded and lethargic.

Bullish trade reviews and the failure of the Federal Reserve Bank statement to furnish bear ammunition which ordinarily might have induced activity on the long side fell on stony ground and prices worked off slowly throughout the greater part of the session. The market closed higher.

THEATRES

Capitol Entertainment

Readers of The Examiner serial story, "The Pride of Palomar," by Peter B. Kyne, will be glad of the opportunity to see the film version of this interesting story now being shown at the Capitol Theatre.

Crowds on Thursday and yesterday watched the unfolding of the romance of "Don Mike" and Kay Parker, played by Forrest Stanley and Marjorie Daw. The returned war hero, with a good deal of the dreamy Spanish blood in his veins, a dash of Irish, and the rest pure American, makes one of the most vital of screen heroes seen in some time. The action is swift-moving and interest-holding. Departing very little from the written story, the tale centres about the efforts of Don Miguel Farrel, to save the ancient ranch, El Palomar, from the hands of an American capitalist. To capture $300,000 in the space of a twelvemonth is quite a contract, even for the genius of a Spanish-Irish don, but the young man manages to put it over, in a way that rivets the attention of his audience. With his horse Panchito, a helpful sweetheart, and Pablo, the old Mexican Indian servant, there are some colorful moments in "The Pride of Palomar," among them a spectacular race on a dirt course, when Panchito runs away with his rider, nad another race around a circular track, the horses' hoofs flying past, and the black nosing in at a thrilling finish. The background of old Spanish-America, with its ancient haciendas, its brown-robed monks, its cloistered gardens, adds immeasurably to the charm of a novel picture.

There is a unique bit of filming, "A One-handed Affair" preceding the comedy, which features Paul Parrott in "Upper Cut," a ring fighting episode between a cross-eyed champion and an amateur boxer.

The vaudeville act supplied by Reymond, a lone musical artiste with an extensive repertoire, is snappy and very worth while. Reymond plays a peculiar one-stringed fiddle, helped out by a walking cane and a silk hat. He plays a regular violin with a free wrist and a velvety tone, and his selections on his baby saxophone win him renewed and repeated applause at every performance.

GREAT SCENES IN FILM, "ADAM'S RIB."

Realistically Produced By Cecil B. De Mille in Picture.

In Cecil B. De Mille's new Paramount production, "Adam's Rib," the Chicago Board of Trade with its wheat and corn pits, is reproduced with absolutely fidelity to make real the scenes where Milton Sills, one of the five featured players in the picture, wins and loses a fortune in grain trading. Scores of trained brokers are used in these scenes to give a realistic touch to the excited action in the pits.

Then there is the Natural History Museum where Elliot Dexter and Pauline Garon start a pleasing love romance. Great, towering, thirty-foot dinosaur skeletons put this scene in a class by itself as a novelty.

Closely related to this pre-historic display is the expected and far-famed De Mille "cut-back" or "vision" scene in which the life of a man of the time of the stone age is depicted. A huge redwood forest, the largest indoor set ever built for a motion picture, forms the background for the dramatic action. Seen in cave-day costumes of furs and thongs, are Elliot Dexter, Milton Sills, Anna Q. Nilsson, Pauline Garon and Julia Faye, the featured players.

Equally colorful but in the modern sequence are scenes, showing a gorgeous ball at the Ramsay home, a particular feature of which is the color photography which gives a beautiful effect in the flashing of huge Japanese lanterns carried by the dancers.

Besides the featured players in "Adam's Rib" which opens at the Capitol Theatre next Monday for a three-day run, the excellent De Mille cast includes Clarence Geldart, George Field, Robert Brower, Forrest Robinson, Geno Corrado, Wedgewood Nowell and Clarence Burton.

MUSKRATS CHEER THE CHILL WINDS

May Be Ill Winds For the Trappers, But Prolong Safety For Rats.

It will be a safe and sane celebration of Easter in the muskrat marshes throughout the watershed of the Trent to-morrow with the likelihood that the festivities will be continued for the next ten days or two weeks. There are no traps to worry about in the fairways, no open water hazzards; just the protective ice of winter in all its thickness and security.

No wonder there is jubilation among the clans of the water rodents. In one or two sections where the river is rapid the trappers started hostilities when the season opened but in most of the swamps and shore lines, the glens of the waterways winter is still in full possession, and the rats are unmolested while the trappers rave and rail at the weather.

Trappers are forbidden under rather heavy penalties to hack through the little mounds of rushes that mark the rat communities, and they cannot set out traps until the lakes and rivers have sloughed off the ice. Local fur dealers believe that this year's trapping will be reduced to perhaps a week or ten days. This time twelve months ago there was open water everywhere and the slaughter was at its height. In fact the bulk of the catch was drying early in April.

There are no immediate signs of a break in the weather, and even should Spring come at the turn of the month it is not likely that the ice would go out in less than ten days. The trapping season closes on April 20th, so that under those conditions the rats appear to have a sporting chance to save many of their hides from the fate of fashion's derrees and feminine favor.

EASTER AT GEORGE STREET.

The services at George Street Church will be full of the spirit of Easter gladness to-morrow. The opening service will be the Sunrise service at 7.15, followed by the Fellowship meeting at 9.45. At 11 o'clock the Easter observance of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will take place, in connection with which there will be the reception of members. In the afternoon the Sunday Schools will have Easter sessions, to which all are invited. At 7 o'clock in the evening the choir will sing the annual choral service of triumph and thanksgiving, soloists being Dorothy Allan Park, Elva McIntyre, Kenneth McCannan, Albert Greenlaw, and Maurice H. Park. Prior to the evening service, commencing at 6.40, Mr. Greenlaw and Mr. Renwick will give a short vocal and organ recital in keeping with the spirit of the day. Pewholders are requested to be present as far as possible in advance of the hours for the commencement of the various services, as the ushers cannot hope to keep the seats for any length of time.

"DARKEST HOUR" AT ST. JOHN'S

The 18th consecutive presentation of cantata on the "Passion of our Blessed Lord," was made by St. John's choir in St. John's church last night, in which a large congregation assembled. The Rev. O. G. H. Lloyd conducted the opening devotions. The Apostles' Creed, the Lord's Prayer, the Good Friday collects, and lesson read from St. John's Gospel, chapter XIX. Hymns, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross." "In the Lords Atoning Grief," and "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," were sung heartily by choir and congregation.

As on Good Friday night last year Harold Moore's dramatic cantata, "The Darkest Hour," was splendidly sung by the choir, entirely voluntary in its composition, both as to soloists and chorus. Mrs. W. G. Perks, soprano and Mr. Fred Johnson, bass made the most of their exacting numbers. Mention must be made of Mrs. Perks' lovely obligato in "God So Loved the World," and Mr. Johnson's reverently effective rendition of "Daughters of Jerusalem." Mrs. Ryerson Ritchie and Mrs. A. L. Amys, sopranos, were excellent in their parts as "Narrators." Three of the parts were undertaken this year by newcomers, not new to the choir in the case of two of them. Owing to the illness of Mr. H. W. Morphet (much regretted by all the choir), the part of "Pilate" was sung well by Mr. Harold Devey, who has been a regular member of the choir as boy soprano and later as tenor for the past seventeen years, allowing for three years absence in France with the C.E.F. Mr. Harry Plowman's bass was equally good as the "High Priest." New to the choir came Mr. Robert Moore, tenor, who is to be congratulated on entering choral work, and singing effectively all through, especially in the duet obligato with Mrs. Perks. The choruses accompaniment to the beautiful number, "O Saviour of the World." The work of the choir was uniformly good. The trial parts intensely dramatic were well picked up and "The Royal Banners Forward Go," testified to their skill as trained choristers and to much practice.

Mr. R. J. Devey presided at the organ with his usual skill, also conducting the cantata from the organ.

The male chorus in "And now Beloved Lord, Thy Soul Resigning," was well sung.

The Rev. Dr. Blagrave concluded the service with the benediction and in the vestry congratulated the choristers on their presentation of the cantata. Mrs. Kelsey, Mrs. McKinstry and Mrs. Robinson very kindly gave valuable assistance in the alto section of the choir.

FRENCH SEIZED GERMAN FUNDS

Second Largest Raid on Currency Since Occupation of the Ruhr.

MAYENCE, March 31.—(United Press).—The French to-day seized 10,000,000,000 marks and 40,000 French francs which were being transferred from the Frankfort branch of the Reichsbank to Weisbaden.

This is the second largest seizure of German funds made since the occupation of the Ruhr and the extension of the Rhineland zones began. The confiscation is believed by Germans in the occupied area to constitute the inauguration of further repressive measures by the invaders.

The Ruhr situation has been virtually at a deadlock for a week. To-day's seizure follows a decree by General Degoutte that German workers in the occupied zones must obey French orders and go to work or be deported.

There are more than 500,000 workers in the Ruhr alone.

Stricter curfew laws were imposed upon several towns in the Rhineland.

HERBERT WILSON CLAIMS HE CAN SOLVE MYSTERY

NEW YORK, March 31 (Canadian Press). — The report from Los Angeles last night that Herbert Wilson, former evangelist, and well-known throughout Western Ontario, convicted of murder and robbery, had told the police that he could solve the Wall Street explosion mystery of 17th September, 1920, was received indifferently in different quarters to-day.

"Bunk," said Chief William Burns, of the Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice, who is at Miami, Flo.

"Bunk" echoed William J. Flynn, former Chief of the Department of Justice, when the despatch was read to him here.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor of The Examiner:

Your editorial in reference to the meeting held in Toronto recently by representatives of Ontario cities, stated that nearly as many cities opposed the change, which is far off the mark. Pardon me if I endeavor to correct you.

There are 20 cities in Ontario and thirteen are favourable to the change being made. With a population of 750,000 and assuming the other seven are opposed, with a population of 250,000, that is only third of the population in favour of the present system.

As to the Attorneys of 10 cities, it was shown by letters read that some of the crown attorneys were solicited by officials interested, which when read in Mr. Raneys' presence he did not doubt but such had been done and besides they would be more or less influenced by knowing the attitude of the Attorney-General.

DOUBT AS TO FATE RUSSIAN PRELATE

Thought That Executive Committee Will Refuse Clemency.

MOSCOW, March 31 (Canadian Press). — Inquiry at a number of Government departments this morn failed to reveal whether Vicar-General Butchkavitch has already paid the death penalty.

The general impression late last night was that there was slight probability of the Central Executive Committee changing its decision to grant no clemency to the prelate.

Where clemency is refused, it has been the custom to carry out the execution within a few hours.

KEEPING CLOSE WATCH ON RUM ROW FLEET

BOSTON, March 31.—(Canadian Press).—A rum row of 20 vessels, riding or running without lights between Nantucket and Montauk Point was reported to the coastguard vessels to-day. The fleet was believed by officials here to be associated with the two stack steamer Avontown, freighter, from Glasgow, which was reported to have brought a cargo of whiskey and wine for the United States trade. The Avontown has been anchored off Block Island for several days.

News of a fine presentation of "Olivet to Calvary" by St. Andrew's choir in their church on Good Friday night, in Sudbury, came by long distance telephone last night. The work was prepared and sung under the direction of Mr. Cyril H. Devey, who was appointed organist and choimaster of St. Andrew's last October. Mr Cyril Devey was a member of St John's choir, Peterborough and two years ago presided at St. John's organ at the last presentation of "Olivet to Calvary."

FIGHTING TYPHOID AT 25 DEGREES BELOW ZERO

COCHRANE, March 31.—(Canadian Press).—According to Dr. W. E. George, district health officer, who has returned to North Bay after almost two weeks in charge of Provincial forces fighting the typhoid fever outbreak which victimized about three hundred persons and caused eight deaths, there will not likely be more than a few new cases as a result of secondary infection. He declares that the number of deaths may possibly be doubled before the epidemic is checked, but that the worst of the fight is over.

Fighting the epidemic during the past week has been difficult work. The temperature has remained at zero, and on Tuesday morning the mercury stood at 25 below, with a wind blowing at fifty miles an hour.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of my dear wife, Mrs. W. H. Wilson, who departed this life March 31st, 1922:
When the evening shades are falling
And I am sitting alone,
My heart there comes a longing
If she could only come home.
Often and often my thoughts will wander
To a grave not far away
Where I laid my darling wife
Just one year ago to-day.
—Husband.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of my dear husband, Ernest Levitt, who died March 28, 1922, in Winnipeg, Manitoba.
One year has passed since that sad day,
When the one we loved was called away.
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts he liveth still.

Just when his days seemed brightest,
Just when his hopes seemed best;
God called him from among us,
To the home of Eternal Rest.

The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day;
But never will the one we loved
From our memory pass away.
—Sadly missed by his wife and children.

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Bible reading and meditation prepared for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches.

SATURDAY
The End of His Ministry in the Flesh.

"And he rolled a stone against the door of the tomb." Mark 15:46.
Read Mark 15:42-47.
"It is a paradox of Christianity that to go fast one must go slow."
MEDITATION: We cannot know all of God's plan, but we can know enough to live fruitful lives and we may have faith enough to be sure of his eternal companionship.
HYMN:
Jesus, Lover of my soul,
Let me to thy bosom fly,
While the nearer waters roll,
While the tempest still is high:
Hide me O my Saviour hide,
Till the storm of life is past;
Safe into the haven guide,
O receive my soul at last.
PRAYER: O God, Author of the world's joy, Bearer of the world's pain, make us glad that we are men and that we have inherited the world's burden; deliver us from the luxury of cheap melancholy and, at the heart of all our trouble and sorrow, let unconquerable gladness dwell; through our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

FIGHT FOR A CEMETERY IS BEING WAGED

Armed Warfare Breaks Out in a Hitherto Peaceful Community Between Two Rival Groups.

OIL THE ISSUE

PRARIE, VIEW, Okla., April 2.—With the possession of a country church—a white frame structure—and its adjacent cemetery as an issue, armed warfare has broken out in this hitherto peaceful community between two rival groups.

On the one hand are the farmers of Prairie View, who have resolved the sanctity of their church and of the last resting place of 250 pioneers of this region shall not be desecrated—and they are ready to back up their determination with shotguns.

They are opposed by a powerful oil corporation which claims it has secured a lease to the property occupied by the church and graveyard and demands the right to sink oil wells on the hallowed ground.

In Rich Oil Region.

Prairie View is in the heart of the rich Tonkawa petroleum region. Where wheat fields peacefully waved two years ago, a gaunt forest of derricks stand to-day.

Farmers have become millionaires over night. Derricks rear their heads to heaven in the very back yards of farm houses. Oil wells were sunk within a few feet of the church and cemetery fence.

Farmers watched all these changes come and were not disturbed until—

One oil company announced it had secured the right to drill on the land occupied by the United Brethren Church, built in 1901, and the churchyard where the bones of this community's ancestors have been consigned to rest.

A representative of the oil company advanced into the churchyard and started an excavation A group of farmers arrived, picked the oil man up by the seat of the trousers and deposited him unceremoniously outside the confines of the sacred soil.

Armed Guards Posted.

Then the farmers organized a body, armed with revolvers and shotguns, to maintain a 24-hour watch daily over the sacred spot.

At the same time the oil interests answered by posting a patrol on their property adjoining the church.

So to-day on one side of the fence the farmer patrol paces ceaselessly while on the other side the oil company's watchers mount guard, making the humble churchyard fence take on the appearance of an international boundary.

J. B. Thompson is captain of the farmers' guard. He has divided his men into groups and four are kept on "picket duty" at all times.

Sam McKee, a farmer who has made thousands in oil royalties, is one of the leaders in opposing desecration of the cemetery by oil interests.

While the armed guards continue their patrol, the whole matter is being threshed out in court. The Circuit Court has issued a temporary order restraining the oil interests from drilling on the church property. A further ruling is expected within a few days.

THE WEATHER.

On Easter Sunday morning we had it down to 4 below zero, but as the day wore on it turned out quite pleasant, reaching 25 degrees. That "awful March" had 9 zero days, the lowest being 16 below; the highest 46 above. The sno fall and rainfall was somewhat heavier than usual. The average for the mont; was lower than usual, and the severe cold experienced during the last week was something that has not been seen since 1840 a least, and constituted a record breaker. "April showers bring forth May flowers." We'll see later as the truth of this couplet.—W. P.

To Make Alcohol Out of Potatoes; Not Fit to Drink

FORT COLLINS, Colo. April 2 (United Press). — This city may soon have a thriving distillery. But the operation won't be in violation of the 18th Amendment, and the product won't be fit to drink, even though it will be alcohol.

The proposed distillery would turn out denatured alcohol, manufactured from the surplus potatoes grown in this section—one of the greatest potato producing regions in the country. Thousands of bushels of potatoes go to waste in Colorado every year.

With a permit from the Government, the signatures of ten reputable citizens, a $2,000 bond, stills and plenty of potatoes, denatured alcohol could be turned out inexpensively and sold at a good profit, and potato growers would find a ready market for their product, the backers of the proposed plan state. One hundred pounds of potatoes will produce four gallons of denatured alcohol, it is claimed.

The alcohol can be made from culls and "scrubs" just as well, and the good potatoes sold on the market, backers of the venture declare.

POOR COMPLIMENT TO COUNTRYMEN

Is Fear by Some That American Literature Will Undermine Their Loyalty.

NEW YORK, April 2.—(Canadian Press)—Commenting on the alarm expressed by Canadian Writers relative to the circulation throughout the Dominion of United States periodicals and the recent debate at Ottawa on the same subject, the Herald to-day asserts that those who fear "Americanization of Canada" have no cause for perturbation. Continuing, the Herald says, at no time in the Dominions history has loyalty to the British Empire been more steadfast than it is. At no time has Canadian National sentiment been stronger than it is now. This is not because of the war. It is not because of self-consciousness, or of Canadian individualism the great conflict brought into deserved prominence. The loyalty and the national sentiment were outstanding traits of Canadian character before the war, just as they are to-day. All the war did was to emphasize their presence and translate them from latent to active forces. It seems curious that those who are alarmed lest American periodical and literature in large volume in Canadian homes and on Canadian news stands may undermine this fine Canadian homes and on Canadian newsstands may undermine this fine Canadian Patriotism, do not pause to think for a moment on the very shabby compliment they are by implication, paying to their countrymen. It would be poor loyalty indeed which did not withstand this paper assault of which some of the parliament orators seemed to be in so much dread."

Decision May Strengthen the Hands of the Nationalists--The Peace Treaty.

GOVERNMENT VOTE

ANGORA, April 2. — (Canadian Press). — The Turkish Nationalist Assembly has voted to dissolve. New elections will be held in two months.

The dissolution proposal was the Government motion and its adoption is regarded as having strengthened the position of Mustapha Kemal Pasha at this juncture. The present assembly will continue to function until the elections are held. Peace negotiations meanwhile will proceed. It is expected the Turkish reply to the Allied communication with regard to the Near East negotiations will be delivered by the end of the present week.

CARDINAL MERCIER BLESS NEW LINER

Revival of Old Custom When Ships Leave on Maiden Trip.

MONTREAL, April 2.—Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, will bless the new 27,200 ton liner "Belgenland" of the Red Star Line at Antwerp before she leaves on her maiden trip to New York on April 4, it was announced by White Star Dominion Line here.

The event will mean the revival of a custom that has been abandoned since the days when ships of the line were blessed before proceeding forth to battle, and has caused considerable interest.

P. V. G. Mitchell, manager of the Red Star Line at Antwerp and formerly assistant general manager of the White Star Dominion Line here, will entertain Cardinal Mercier at luncheon on board the "Belgenland after the ceremony. King Albert of Belgium has also accepted an invitation to inspect the ship before she sails on her maiden voyage.

The "Belgenland" will be the largest ship on the Antwerp-New York run. She is 670 feet long with a beam of 79 feet and carries 500 first, 600 second and 1500 third class passengers. She is probably the most up-to-date three class liner afloat. Her many novel features include a la carte service in the dining saloon without extra charge, private dog kennels for passengers' pets, a glass-enclosed promenade deck with a low rail which gives an unobstructed view from deck-chairs, beds instead of the old-fashioned berths and a gymnasium exclusively for second-class passengers. There is also a verendah cafe for third-class passengers with deck chairs.

SAY STOCKHOLDERS OF L. R. STEEL FIGHTING AGAINST HEAVY ODDS

But No Stone Will Be Left Unturned to Protect Both Canadian and American Shareholders — Big Mass Meetings of Stockholders Scheduled

GATHER FORCES FOR STRENUOUS FIGHT

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 2. (Special.) — Charles H. Dougherty, head of the stockholders' protective committee that is trying to salvage something for the shareholders out of the wreck of the L. R. Steel enterprises, will go to Toronto next Saturday or Sunday to assist the shareholders' committee in that city. He had intended going to Toronto early this week but postponed his visit because Mr. Coffey, who heads the Canadian committee, is expected here to work with the local committee in organizing the big mass meeting of shareholders scheduled to take place in the Hutchinson high school building next Friday evening.

On the following day or Sunday, both Mr. Coffey and Mr. Dougherty will go to Toronto. It is said to organize a similar demonstration in that city. More than 2000 shareholders in this city have already signed the petition that was circulated indicating their intention to be present at the meeting. It is believed the auditorium of the high school will be filled to capacity.

Against Heavy Odds.

"Just now it would appear that the lawyers are about to pick the bones dry," said Mr. Dougherty to-day. "The stockholders are fighting against heavy odds. First it was L. R. Steel; then the Board of Control, and now a lot of lawyers. The lawyers are making no protest against that situation. They apparently care little what happens to the assets of the companies so long as the fees that come to them are sufficiently large.

To Show Strength.

"The mass meeting planned for Friday night is to show our strength and gather our forces for a real fight. We do not intend to let these people get away with such an outrageous swindle as this appears to be, if there is any law in the land to protect us.'

Deputy Attorney General Cahill, who has been inspecting the Eastern offices of the L. R. Steel enterprises in search of the missing stock instalment collections, will return to Buffalo sometime to-day. According to a report here he has traced many thousands of dollars and is now in possession of reports showing into whose hands the money was paid.

Mrs. Leonard R. Steel, widow of the sky rocket promoter, has moved from Marguerite Manor, at Getzville, to the Lafayette Hotel, in this city, and has offered the country home for sale. While 27 acres of the Getzville farm were company owned that section of it upon which stood the manor, stables and garages was the property of Leonard R. Steel; therefore the receivers cannot prevent Mrs. Steel from selling it as her property.

E. Bruce Fowler Gets Appointment Authorized Trustee

In the Gazette of 31st March, 1923, it was announced that His Excellency the Governor-General has been pleased to appoint Mr. Edward Bruce Fowler, of Peterborough, accountant, as an authorised trustee under the Bankruptcy Act.

Mr. E. B. Fowler is a well-known business man of the city of Peterborough, and his appointment as an authorised trustee will be a popular one.

HE DID NOT STEAL FUNDS OF CANTEEN

But Accused Will Be Charged at Kingston With Desertion.

KINGSTON, Ont., April 2.—(Special.)—In the police court this morning the charge against Sergeant Ernest J. Dainard of stealing a sum of money from the canteen at the R.C.H.A. was dismissed.

Dainard was arrested at Port Hope a week ago and remanded. He was employed by the canteen last October and disappeared following a robbery of canteen funds. He will now be charged by the military authorities with desertion.

BANKERS' "AT HOME."

The "At Home" to be given by the bankers of Peterborough in the G.W.V.A. Hall on Monday evening next, April 9, promises to be one of the most successful events of the season. Attendants at the bankers' dances in years past will remember the very successful atmosphere which always characterized them, and this year's affair is guaranteed to live up to the old-time reputation of the bankers as purveyors of a jolly good time. Original innovations planned by the committee in charge will make it something out of the ordinary.

There will be cards and dancing, with various novel numbers, and music supplied by Ken. Blood's four-piece orchestra from Port Hope.

DIRECTORS ARE CHOSEN TODAY BY ROTARIANS

New Board Will Elect Own Officers -- Finch Miller Tells About Relief Operations.

PECULIAR CASES

As a result of a ballot taken at the weekly luncheon at the Empress today the following directors of the Peterboro Rotary Club have been elected for the year: V. J. McElderry, Reid Wrenn, J. H. McHardie, R. A. Brown and Fred L. Roy. The directors who were chosen from a large field of nominees will elect their own officers.

City Relief Officer Finch Miller was the speaker to-day giving the Rotarians an interesting address upon the operations of the Central Charity Board and of his own activities as executive officer of that body. Mr. Miller explained the composition of the Board which he said was just established in 1897. Mr. Harry Rush the present chairman had held that office since 1904 and the Relief Officer paid Mr. Rush a warm tribute on the interest he has always shown in connection with the Charity Board.

The speaker declared that every application for relief was personally investigated and explained the card system used. Some interesting anecdotes concerning peculiar cases that come to the Relief Officer's attention were given by Mr. Miller and his address furnished the Rotary Club with considerable information about an important department of the civic machinery.

Rotarian Walter Davidson, police magistrate of Calgary entertained the club with couple of stories told in his own inimitable way.

Rotarian W. R. Morris called attention to the fact that Rotarian Edgar Worth was leaving Peterboro on a long trip and the club wished him God speed.

[illegible] were reminded of the dance to be given by the Rotary-Anns on Friday, April 13th and the indications are that there will be an attendance closely approaching 100 per cent.

President John Crane in a brief valedictory address thanked the members for the support given him during his term of office. While he personally felt that he had not accomplished all he would liked to have seen done yet the club was in splendid condition. The attendance throughout the year had been uniformly good and the spirit of the membership excellent. No bickerings or dispute had arisen and he was sure that the coming year could be viewed with confidence.

Among the guests today were Ex-Mayor H. Rush and Kiwanian G. L. Hay.

LOOKING FOR LADY FROM BUTTE, MON.

Mayor Taylor Requested by Denver Man to Enquire About One Jennie Gillespie.

Mayor Taylor has received a letter from Alexander Hall, 88 Washington Street, Denver, Col., seeking information of the whereabouts of a lady named Jennie Gellespie, who lived in Butte, Mon., some years ago. He writes: "I am anxious to get in touch with a lady whom I used to know in Butte, Mon., some years ago, Jennie Gellespie. There is a matter of vital importance to her if I can find her. If she should happen to be dead, and you would be kind enough to give the names and addresses of her closest relatives it may be the means of closing up this matter, but if I can locate her it would be much better."

Several ladies of that name are living in Peterborough, but they had never been in Montana.

SUGAR PRICES TO STAY HIGH

Public Need Not Expect Relief Through the Change in U. S. Tariff Rates.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (Canadian Press). — No relief for the public as to sugar prices need be expected through the change in the United States tariff rates at present, according to Representative Green, who will be the new chairman of the House's Ways and Means Committee.

Representative Green says that the President cannot reduce the sugar duty under a flexible tariff simply because of artificially high prices here. He can change them only if the difference in the cost of production here and abroad warranted it.

It is conceded that the alleged sugar profiteering has no relation to production costs.

BUILDING TRADES ARE VERY QUIET

Only 8 Permits in Peterborough Last Month at Value of $2,015.

The prolonged winter is showing its effect in the small amount of building going on in the city. The permits issued during March number 8, and total in value $2,015. Five of these permits were for repairs. The total value for February was $4,595.

In March, 1921, building operations were well advanced, and permits totalling $13,445 were issued for that month alone, exceeding the total of $12,865 issued in the first three months of this year.

WILL WILHELM AND HIS BRIDE LIVE APART?

Unconfirmed Despatch Says the Ex-Kaiser and Princess Hermine Have Agreed to a Separation

DEPARTURE SECRET

LONDON, April 2 (United Press). — The Yorkshire Evening News' Doorn correspondent to-day sent an unconfirmed despatch to the effect that ex-Kaiser Wilhelm and his bride Princess Hermione, have separated completely.

The correspondent says Hermione's recent departure for Silesia was kept secret, and that in reality she is going to live with relatives, instead of for the purpose of visiting her estates as announced.

The Yorkshire Evening News published recent reports regarding the trouble in the ex-Kaiser's menage, which were proved to be entirely unwarranted, by Ferdinand Jahn, the United Press staff correspondent who visited Doorn Castle, observed the former monarch happy in the midst of his new family, and secured an exclusive interview with the Princess Hermione, in which she explained she was going to Silesia to see her sons, who will be on vacations from school.

YORK, England, April 2 (Canadian Press). — Reports of a serious disagreement between the former Emperor William and Princess Hermione, his bride of a few months, are revived to-day by the Doorn correspondent of the Yorkshire Evening News, who states that he has learned "From a singularly well informed source that the ex-Kaiser and his wife have definitely separated as a result of domestic troubles."

The ex-Emperor's life is reported to be "very solitary, and his establishment very simple, for although his private means are still ample, they are not under his control."

In the article, the ex-Kaiser is described as "One of the most tragic figures in Europe to-day."

ROYAL COMMISSION HEARS WITNESSES

Col. Hunter Deprecates "Contemptuous" Attitude Pension Board Doctors.

TORONTO, April 2.—(Canadian Press.)—Entrance to an ex-soldiers' hospital in Ontario is like endeavoring to pass through the eye of a needle, according to Col. A. T. Hunter, Toronto lawyer, who was the first witness called before the Royal Commission on Pensions and Re-establishment this morning. He deprecated what he described as the "contemptuous" attitude of the D.S.C.R. and Pensions Board doctors toward medical certificates of civilian doctors in connection with applications for pensions and treatment, declaring the "war should be over in this regard."

Col. Hunter declared that the central committee of veterans for Ontario had been denied a table of disability ratings used in deciding pensions, although pension boards representatives had informed the Parliamentary committee that it was available.

HALIFAX, April 2.—(Canadian Press.)—The White Star liner Pittsburg, her bridge and officers' deck quarters a mass of wreckage, her her telegraph system completely disorganized, docked here this morning, reporting a most unusual experience six hundred miles off Sable Island early Good Friday morning, when out of a moderate sea two huge waves boarded the liner on either hand and, forming a huge pyramid above her decks, washed away everything moveable amidships.

SERVICES AT MARK STREET

Easter Congregations Both Morning and Evening Were Very Large.

(Contributed.)

Not in many months have the congregations been so large both morning and evening at Mark Street Methodist Church. The choir rendered excellent service, and the solo by Mr. Everett delighted the people. "Day Dawn in the Garden" was the subject of the morning sermon, and was a development of Mark XVI., 2. "And very early in the morning the first day of the week they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun." The following is an outline of the discourse.

"The Descent from the Cross."

The darkest day in the world's history was the evening on which the lacerated body of Jesus was taken from the cross. The lowering of the hallowed vase of divinity, the washing away of the blood from the five gaping wounds, the swathing of the holy form of the dead in fine linen bands, and the bearing him away to the virgin vault in the quiet garden near the city wall—formed a combination of agonies which consumed the very soul of the disciples. It seemed to them, for the time being, that the world held nothing but a dead Christ and a living devil. Darkness, death and defeat were written everywhere. So they laid him down to slumber in the virgin grave of Joseph of Arimathaea, and silently went their way.

Dawn of Day.

Jesus had said to the dying thief, "Today shalt thou be with me in paradise," and it was from paradise Jesus returned, on that first Easter morning. Just before the dawn of day, an escort of angels accompanied their returning Lord from the paradise promised to the weary, dying culprit, pardoned on the cross. Yes, Jesus comes that morning from the paradise of God to the sealed and guarded tomb, where sleeps his torn and anointed body in the calm embrace of death.

'Tis the darkest and the quietest hour of the night. The rocky virgin vault is in a little garden, hard by the walls of the city and not far from the cross. The seal of the Roman governor is there upon the tomb. Sixty steel-clad followers of the mighty Caesar surround the hallowed bed of the slumbering Son of God. A sudden and awful flash of light on that living circle of steel; and when the Roman guard recovers from the blinding glare, the stone has been hurled back, the tomb stands open, the soldiers become as dead men, and a living Christ walks forth in triumph, with the keys of death and hell and the grave, hanging at his girdle. Christ's return has opened a silvery path from earth's garden of sin and sorrow and anguish and death to heaven's paradise of purity and peace and joy and eternal life.

Coming of the Disciples.

The stars still twinkled in the heavens when Mary left her couch on that eventful morning. To weep by her beloved dead was her purpose. With memories and reminiscences that blessed and burned, she stole away to the garden grave. How much like the Magdalene are we ourselves in this regard. We go to the grave of our loved ones to weep there. We seek the living among the dead. If Christ be alive the sepulchre is empty, and angels now hold sweet converse in the recent habitation of the dead. If Jesus lives, then our loved ones live also. They are, like Jesus, walking free among the flowers. While Mary looks for a dead Christ, the risen Saviour speaks to her with a voice of wonderous sweetness; and while we linger and weep by the grave of a loved one deceased, the living Christ bids us look away to the hills eternal; where forever and forever our dear departed ones walk in the white light of the garden of God. What a surprise? The disciples went to the garden early, expecting to find the Master still in the embrace of death; but lo, Christ himself meets and greets them "mid the song and sunshine and bloom and fragrance of an earthly paradise." Does Jesus live? Then all is well forever. "Because I live, ye shall live also."

The Empty Tomb.

Let us briefly consider the sepulchre. We are told that it was a costly tomb, hewn out of the solid rock, and owned by the silent disciple Joseph. Well, we are glad it was costly. From the cradle to the Cross, Jesus cost the world but little. I do not read that he had houses or lands. Money or stocks or bonds he had none, and he liven on the hospitality of His disciples, but He was no burden. In life he had not where to lay his head, so in death God laid him down to slumber with the rich.

Again you notice that the tomb was a virgin vault. No one had ever occupied it before. None shall be able to say that the bones of some prophet came to life, and that Jesus did not rise from the dead. It was not Jesus' own sins that laid him low in the grave, the sins were mine and yours and Joseph's; so Joseph lends the grave for the burial of borrowed sin.

Then it was a bright and beautiful place. A miniature marble palace in a garden of flowers was the tomb of the Saviour; with the angels of God holding happy converse in the place where he had lain. No gloom, no dame of death there, nothing to fear. "Oh death, where is thy sting? Oh grave, where is thy victory?"

Joseph did a great thing for all the generations of men when he loaned that new tomb for the burial of Jesus. It was just occupied a little while. Only a day between Calvary and the empty grave. But that tomb was for ever beautified and sanctified and glorified, for it held for a little while in its quiet precincts the Eternal Prince of Life.

Is Christ yours? Then fear not. The grave is no longer cold and dark. The down-flashing glory of the risen Cheist scatters for ever the gloom of death.

PRICE THREE CENTS — PETERBOROUGH, MONDAY, APRIL 2, 1923 — PRICE THREE CENTS

GREAT BRITAIN ENDS THE YEAR WITH SURPLUS

Balance Sheet For United Kingdom Shows Over 100 Million Pounds As a Surplus.

THE FIGURES.

LONDON, April 2.— (Canadian Press.)—The extreme difficulty experienced by Chancellors of the Exchequer after the war in estimating correctly the nation's accounts a year ahead is shown by the figures for the financial year ended March 31. Instead of a surplus of between six and seven million pounds sterling, as estimated by the former Chancellor, Sir Robert S. Horne, the surpus actually exceeds, £101,000,000, which by law goes automatically to the reduction of the national debt, unless Parliament should pass a special act disposing of it otherwise.

This big surplus is mainly due to unexpectedly large reductions in expenditures, the chief saving being under the heads of civil services, which cost approximately £287,000,000, as compared with estimates of £450,000,000, and defence services of £111,000,000 as compared with an estimated £190,000,000.

On the revenue side, although the income tax was reduced, it produced £50,000,000 more than was estimated, while the excess profits duty and sale of war stores together produced £64,000,000 less than estimated.

The question uppermost in the nation's mind at the present moment is whether the budget statement Chancellor Baldwin will submit a week hence will afford any further relief from taxation. The Chancellor is being bombarded with demands for such reductions, and there is general expectation of a reduction of six pence or a shilling on the income tax, with relief in the beer and sugar duties.

It is believed, however, that the Chancellor himself favors maintenance of the existing duties and taxes and application of all realization surpluses to reduction of the national debt. The new government is not yet very firmly seated, and it is possible that the other ministers will over-ride the Chancellor's personal views and decide for a reduction of taxation.

The present year has not been remarkable for expansion of trade, but the fact that the reduced income tax has yielded so much beyond expectations will be seized upon by those who argue that the only thing required to stimulate trade and industry is relief from heavy taxation.

There is a strong body of financial and commercial opinion in the country that the Government has pursued too conservative and too prudent a policy in the direction of deflation and reduction of the debt. This opinion conceives it preferable to reduce taxation and stimulate trade, rather than to attempt further deflaation, with the inevitable problems of huge unemployment.

Since, however, the Chancellor can hardly expect in the coming year retrenchment on the scale of the past year, and can hardly hope for any great reduction of expenditure, with the United States debt to meet, he is expected to take not too sanguine a view and estimate for as large surplus in the coming year. Everything depends in this estimate on how much he will be able to devote to reduction of taxation.

The Government Saturday night issued the balance sheet of the United Kingdom for the fiscal year ending March 31. Total governmental revenues were £914,012,452 and expenditures £812,496,604, leaving a surplus of £101,515,848.

The revenue for the year ended Saturday is £210,867,421 below that of last year, while the expenditure also decreased £266,690,023.

Customs and excise produced £44,025,000 less than the previous year, excess profits duties £28,448,000; property and income tax £19,842; postal service £5,850,000, while the State duties yielded £4,680,000 more, telephone service £3,050,000, corporation and profit tax £1,061,000 and motor vehicles duties £1,225,000.

The principal items of expenditure were: Interest on war debt, £309,780,511; fighting services, £111,000,000; civil services £286,826,000.

The expenditures for fighting services, which was £78,000,000 below the previous year, exceeded the estimate by £27,000,000, but more than £30,000,000 were saved on civil services, the estimates for which were £163,000,000 less than in 1921-22.

The floating debt outstanding is £809,042,500, which is a decrease of £219,573,000, as compared with the floating debt on March 31, 1922.

TURKS ARE INVITED TO RETURN TO NEAR EAST CONFERENCE, LAUSANNE

No New Proposals to Be Discussed But Former Agreement May Be Modified.

SECURITY OF CAPITAL

LONDON, April 2 (Canadian Press). — The British Foreign Office has issued the text of an identical note from the Allies addressed to Ismet Pasha, [illegible] of the Turkish delegation [illegible] has the near East peace proposals in charge, inviting the Turks to a resumption of the peace conference at Lausanne.

The note excludes from the discussions any new proposals involving substantial modification of the territorial provisions already agreed upon, but offers to accept in principle. Turkey's proposed redrafting of the convention relating to the judicial status of foreigners in Turkey in order to meet Turkey's ideas of reciprocity to such an extent as may be considered practicable. The only stipulations is that the Powers cannot be regarded as pledged to any changes in the Lausanne Treaty as recently suggested.

With regard to Ismet Pasha's request that the economic clauses should be detached from the Treaty and negotiated subsequently between the interested parties, the note says explicitly that the economic clauses must be re-discussed at Lausanne concomitantly, but adds: "The inviting Powers believe it should be possible in the course of the new negotiations, and by means of some mutual concessions, to arrive at an agreement upon clauses of this nature to be inserted in the treaty."

The note proceeds to explain with reference to the security of foreign capital and enterprises in Turkey that the Allied Powers already have invited some of their nationals interested to negotiate direct with the Turkish Government and it suggests that the success of such negotiations would greatly facilitate the conclusion of peace.

Continuing, the note says that only in the event of the failure of such negotiations within a reasonable time would the Allies have to insist on the insertion in the treaty itself of detailed provisions approximating those appearing in the draft agreement of 31st January, in order to safeguard the vital interests of their nationals.

"For the rest," it is added, "it will be possible to deal with some of the other economic clauses in a more general manner, if necessary leaving certain details to be settled by subsequent negotiations between the Turkish Government and each Government interested."

The note concludes with an expression of the conviction that with equal goodwill on both sides at Lausanne, it will be possible to conclude a peace without difficulty.

A MAN ON SKIS CAN OUTRUN FASTEST WOLF

PORT ARTHUR, April, 2.—(Canadian Press)— That a man on skis can out-run a wolf in deep snow was demonstrated by Gus Matson, a settler in Pearson township, who was so exasperated by the way in which one wolf avoided his traps that he decided to give it a run for its money, and mounting his skis, he gave chase. In spite of all efforts of the wolf, the man on skis beat it and caught up with the animal killing it with a club. Soon it is expected that the woods will be full of settlers on skis and snowshoes in full cry after panting wolves.

GERMANY WILLING FOR NEGOTIATIONS

Attempt to Break Deadlock Following Week-end of Violence.

BY CARL DE GROAT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

BERLIN, April 2.—Germany renewed talk of negotiations to end the Ruhr deadlock to-day, following the outbreak of violence in the occupied areas over the week end that cost 22 lives.

The Berlin press asks if it is now time to put out more feelers to Paris and Brussels, suggesting the advantage lies with Germany.

What is going on in the troubled area in Essen could not definitely be learned to-day, communications with that storm centre being interrupted. One of the last things known to have occurred is the arrest by the French of four general managers of the Krupp Works, where French troops Saturday killed nine German workers and wounded thirty with machine gun fire. The managers are charged with inciting the workers by ordering factory sirens sounded when a French patrol approached to requisition automobiles.

Crowd Menaces.

A crowd menaced the troops. They reported and they were forced to open fire. Eleven were killed in a train wreck Saturday and two others were killed in fighting Saturday.

Mingling with the popular outcry here that bloodshed in the Ruhr must cease came indications to-day that the Cuno government might start new peace manoeuvres this week, based on the theory that Belgium at least, is tiring of the adventure and might be split from France if satisfactory offers were made.

Hints have been received here recently of the possibility that Belgium is fed up with the Ruhr show. Foreign Minister Jaspar's visit to Italy seemed to strengthen this view.

The Press appeals to inhabitants o the Ruhr to remain calm in the meantime.

NEW YORK, April 2. Canadian Press. — Broadway captured the long distance dancing championship last night, Miss Alma Cummings, of San Antonio, Texas, won world's non-stop title after 27 consecutive hours of waltzing, fox trotting and one-stepping. BODY OF DROWNED MAN ASHORE, SUNNYSIDE

TORONTO, April 2.—(Canadian Press)—For three hours Sunday afternoon the police worked with picks and shovels to release the body of an unidentified man which had been washed ashore and frozen in snow and sand on the beach at Sunnyside bathing station.

The body was lying face down with both arms stretched out. Only dead man's feet rested in the water.

The body was finally released, but owing to the position of the arms it was impossible to get the body into the police station. A motor truck had to be engaged to haul the body, which with ice and and sand frozen to it, weighed some 500 pounds.

BUILDING POLITICAL PARTY.

LONDON, April 2. Canadian Press Cable. — The optimistic proposal recently made to run several hundred Parliamentary candidates under the auspices of the Independent Labor Party, which is purely a political propaganda organization, whose most notable achievement is the number of first class labor leaders it turns out, was killed at the annual conference of the party.

Secretary Allen spoke of the impossibility of financing so many candidates on the present income of 16,000 pounds. Nevertheless the finances of the party are improving. Last year's income was barely 4,000. The party is endeavoring to build a permanent financial structure with a view to greater activities in the future.

BODIES OF MISSING CHILDREN ARE FOUND

BAY CITY, Michigan, April 2. — The bodies of Sofia and Mary Ratay aged 11 and 9 years, two of three children of Felix Ratay, Beaver Township, 12 miles from here, were found late on Saturday by two farm boys.

The body of Sofia was found within a short distance of the dwelling, while the body of Mary was found about 40 yards away from her.

All three disappeared on March 26. It is believed that Sofia and Mary died of exposure and that the third child went through the ice.

BRIGHT SERVICE AT MILLBROOK

Special Music and Eloquent Sermon on Sunday at the Methodist Church -- Women's Choir.

MILLBROOK, April 2.—The special Easter service held in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning was under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary which, with the Mission Circle and Mission Band, occupied the middle front pews, a fair number of members of these organizations being in attendance. A women's choir furnished excellent music, including two anthems, "Throw Wide the Portals" and "Beautiful Easter Morn," and an Easter carol, "The Message of Easter," with obligato by Misses Ella Elson and Phyllis Richards, was sung by the following intermediate girls: Roma Roberts, Gladys Tucker, Hazel McMahon and Marjorie Sayles.

Rev. Joseph Wilks led in the opening prayer, and the pastor, Rev. S. T. Tucker, by special request of the Auxiliary, preached a missionary sermon for the occasion, reserving his Easter discourse for the evening service. Mr. Tucker chose as his subject, "The Great Commission," and for his text, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel" to every creature." The unique thing about the latter is that it was given not previous to but after the resurrection. The command would have been of no avail had the resurrection not been an accomplished and well-attested fact. It is indeed the foundation of all Christian faith and hope.

Influence on Society.

The gospel which the disciples were sent out to proclaim is undoubtedly revolutionary in its influence upon human life and society. Its message is of universal redemption with assurance of forgiveness of sin, justification and sanctification, and it teaches that these incalculable blessings are possible to all men irrespective of race or color. It creates a new ideal of manhood, endowed with the indwelling Spirit of God, and in harmony with God in all the activities of life. It also creates a new social order based upon human faith, personality, equality, justice, mercy and love, and it insists upon human welfare as the great objective of the kingdom.

How has this wonderful gospel affected our Christian civilization? There are four stages which Christian civilization has passed through since Christ came: first, an intellectual revolution when learning became prominent within the Christian church; and this awakening of the world on the question of learning made possible the second stage, which was one of religious reform, beginning in the days of Martin Luther, when there was a going out of the soul of man for religious freedom, a personal, individual relationship with God through faith. Political revolution was the third stage, and the fourth, industrial and social reform, is the one we are now passing through. These are normal stages which always follow the introduction of Christianity, and China and Japan are experiencing their workings in these later years, when truly in both these lands "old things are passing away." It rests with the Church at home whether they shall drift into atheism or give allegiance to Christ Who will "make all things new." The leaders in all the reform movements in the Orient started in the kindergarten of the mission schools which are now beginning to reap their harvest after years of arduous labor against the forbidding walls of heathendom.

Eastern Religions.

Eastern religions never caused any social or industrial revolution, though they have had thirty centuries for their workings; any quality of permanency which they possess they have borrowed from Christianity, perverted, it is true, because human ingenity is very prone that way. It is the very essence of Christianity to develop and perfect individuality. Anarchy, Thought, Bolshevism, Communism are Socialism gone rampant and do not help out: rather they create chaos and national unrest and confusion. There is an honest principle behind it all even in Russia, because this mistaken propaganda is really the hungering of the human soul for expression and proper understanding. The statement, for instance, "we have no use for religion," which is credited to Russia, is really their way of rebelling against organized ecclesiasticism which has failed miserably to minister to the real needs of the populace. But what shall they put in its place? They are groping in the dark for some better method and deserve the sympathetic understanding of all Christian nations, for Christianity is the only religion that holds the key to all efforts on the part of man to find self-expression. The world is so closely associated in these later years through commerce, markets on a world basis, radio, etc., that any nation having a lower plane of ideals than Christ advocated is an actual menace hence, even from the standpoint of self-interest, missions are a paying investment. They will have much to do with the bringing in of permanent peace and the safety of the western world.

The missionaries see that the crisis is now on, and are urging that the time for aggressive warfare in the interests of the Cross of Christ is the present. A united church at home, with an increase of prayer, workers, and money, will make it possible to propagate the principles of the Kingdom of God with vigor, and with consequent advantage to nations, heathen and Christian, throughout the world. In closing, Mr. Tucker made special reference to the excellent work being done by the Women's Missionary Society, and pointed out the loss that organization would realize should their funds be curtailed through lack of generosity at this season.

The Offertory Large.

The annual Easter thankoffering was taken up following the sermon, a very good response being made to the appeal of Auxiliary, Circle and Band. A number of absent members are yet to be heard from, and it is hoped that there will be at least as large a sum as usual to send to the branch treasurers. The ushers for the morning service were chosen from the Auxiliary membership and were: Mrs. J. McKnight, Mrs. Offa Williamson, Miss Mary Widdis and Mrs. P. Stinson.

The beautiful Easter lilies within the altar, new cork matting on the aisles, fresh curtains in the organ loft and fresh covering on the swinging doors made the auditorium seem very attractive after the months during which the congregation has worshipped downstairs to make easier the heating problem for the coldest months.

"With the development of parachutes, these planes will be as safe and as easy to run as a bicycle.

LABOR PARTY MAY SETTLE THE RUHR.

LONDON, April 2.— (Canadian Press.)—J. Ramsay McDonald, Labor leader in the House of Commons, at the opening meeting of a three days' conference of the Independent Labor Party in London last night, expressed the conviction that in consequence of the recent visit of the delegates of the Socialist parliamentarians to Germany and their conversations with representatives of German, French, Italian, British and Belgian Socialist opinion, the Labor Party was going to begin a settlement of the Ruhr question, which would never be settled by the Governments acting alone.

The Congress is being attended by M. Longuet of France and Herr Crispien of Germany, who shook hands across the table last night amid a demonstration of cheering. Mr. MacDonald's speech was a restatement of the Socialist position. He said private enterprise was a failure and that the capitalist system had broken down all around. This latter fact was proved because daily the capitalists were going to Parliament asking for State guarantees for State loans and also State protection.

Dr. Gillmour was attached to the Gordon Highlanders during the war and received his V.C. for carrying his wounded colonel off the field in face of heavy fire during the retreat from Mena on October 21, 1914.

THE POLICE COMMISSION.

The Examiner, in opposing the suggested change in the personnel of police commissions in Ontario cities, has done so because of a conviction that to bring law enforcement and the control of the police department into the realm of municipal politics would be a dangerous proceeding, judging by the experience of American cities.

At the same time there is no desire to be unfair to those who are arguing in favour of a different system, and there are several points in regard to the measure that will shortly come before the Legislature that should be understood.

In the first place, the commission under the suggested arrangement would not be altogether elective. The county judge and magistrate would still be members, while the mayor and two elected commissioners would complete the board.

Secondly, the bill makes it optional whether or not the new method is adopted.

Cities in which the police commission and the council are working in harmony and there is satisfaction with the system now in force will not have to follow the new plan.

On the other hand, where there is dissatisfaction and difficulty the McBride Bill will furnish an opportunity to try out the three-fifths elective system.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF SERVICE.

The announcement that Capt. Rupert Gliddon has resigned from the leadership of the band of the Peterborough Rangers and will sever his connections with that organization in September when his twenty-fifth year of service with the 57th Band will have been completed, will be received with much regret.

To Mr. Gliddon the people of Peterborough owe thanks for many a delightful evening.

Under his leadership the 57th Band was one of the best known organizations in Ontario, and the memory of the citizens will go back long before the war to the splendid programmes given by Mr. Gliddon's musicians, not only at the summer concerts in the park, but at a most successful series of winter entertainments when the best of the standard music was most effectively played under the direction of the veteran conductor.

Bandsmen to the number of several hundred have been associated with the 57th Band during Mr. Gliddon's long term of service, and it is safe to say that all of them profited musically by reason of their experience under his baton.

A quarter of a century of faithful effort to keep the Rangers' Band in the forefront of military musical organizations is Mr. Gliddon's record.

In retiring now he has the satisfaction of knowing that he has done much to inculcate into the people of Peterborough a love for good music, that he has made the name of the 57th Band famous, and that he has developed scores of musicians who owe their success principally to the instructions and training they received under his leadership.

Few bandmasters are able to boast of having been at the head of one organization for twenty-five years, and Mr. Gliddon's long service has earned him the gratitude of the community.

WHO WANTS WRANGEL ISLAND?

Mr. Vilhjalmur Stefansson may be a great explorer, but he's a deplorable psychologist. Otherwise, why on earth should he select March 28th, with thermometer ten below zero, and with coal 18 plunks per ton, to interest a shivering Cabinet in Wrangel Island? says the Ottawa Journal.

Just think. Here's a Cabinet that has been lambasted all over the lot for not getting us coal, and just when the fury's at its height, and a March day comes along cold enough to make even this Ministry want to feel brisk, a man breaks in upon it and tries to make it buy a suburb of the North Pole. Truly, Mr. Stefansson will never get a diploma for salesmanship.

However, it's a poor wind that doesn't blow somebody good, and Stefansson's rotten tactics may be a blessing to the rest of us. For who on earth outside of an asylum wants to spend a German mark on Wrangel Island? We're in a scramble already, and may go to war, with Newfoundland over Labrador; we've the Hudson Bay, and the 22 million dollar Hudson Bay Railway; we've White River, where it's below zero in July; and we've all the ice that Cap Bernier tagged the Union Jack to years ago. Why in thunder's name do we want Wrangel? What we want is an island that is warm, or which produces something to make us warm. (We're not referring to St. Pierre, or Miquelon, at that.)

The Government should tell Mr. Stefansson to go chase himself. Either that, or send him along to Sir Frederick Stupart, who is out with the statement that we're likely to skip a summer. Certainly we don't want any more islands where the natural products are ice and blubber, even though the salesman wants to pass them on to us wrapped in the Union Jack.

ANOTHER WARNING.

Although the London Council is strongly in favour of the police commission shuffle that is being agitated for, the London Advertiser joins with the Examiner and the majority of other Ontario newspapers in pointing out the risk that would be taken if the change were to be authorized by the Legislature.

The Advertiser's warning is headed "Go Carefully Here," and is as follows:

"The move to have the police commission made an elective body, or more so than at present, gains recruits from several centres.

"Some cities have had police troubles in the past and feel that there should be a way in which to make the commission more immediately responsible to the people. This idea seems to have its root in the theory that the people could go in and clean things up occasionally were the necessity to arise.

"The Attorney-General of Ontario, under whose department the matter comes, is not likely to give way to agitation for a change. He has an opportunity to see many police commissions in operation, and is in a position to judge from this wide area what there would be of benefit or harm in such a change.

"The Advertiser believes that it would be easy, under the stress of the present agitation, to bring about a system that would not work as well as the one now in effect. The administration of justice in the primary courts, and the general conduct of the police department, should be kept in as safe andunbiased an atmosphere as possible. In civic elections appeals are often made for the return of certain candidates on issues that it would be positively dangerous to allow to enter into the conduct of a police court or a police department. With an elective police commission it would be possible for some of these waves of feeling—manipulated or spontaneous—to sweep in and secure control of the police commission.

"The idea of calling for a popular vote for the commission should be given a pretty serious think before we launch out on any such policy."

A HUGE FIRE LOSS.

How stupendous is the loss by fire is vividly illustrated in a report made to the U. S. National Board of Underwriters, showing that the total American losses for 1921 reached half a billion dollars, says the Montreal Star.

Constructively utilized, such an enormous sum as this would build hundreds of schools and hospitals, both of which are desperately needed; it would discharge somewhat more than half of the yearly interest on the public debt of the United States; it would maintain the navy for twelve months, besides defraying all the costs of the Federal legislative department for a like period.

The disquieting fact is also revealed that in three years' time the volume of American fire destruction has increased nearly forty per cent. A well-known expert says: "With no corresponding rise in national wealth flanking this discouraging loss, it would seem that the present generation is committed to the 'burning,' rather than the 'building' of America."

It is regrettable that fire losses in Canada are about on a par with those of the United States ,enormously surpassing the losses of European cities. Statistics prove that fire losses in Canada average three dollars and thirty cents per head of population, against twenty-six cents per head in Europe.

SHERMAN SAID IT.

The Canadian soldier on active service received $400 per year in money, a grubstake of bully beef, hardtack and a few other of the simple necessities of existence, and alternated between a hole in the mud and a hard plank as living quarters.

A prominent lawyer, engaged by the Canadian Government on Grand Trunk arbitration proceedings, received $400 per day in cash, and a living allowance of $20 per day which enabled him to live in luxury and dine in state.

* * * *

When the Canadian soldier was mustered out of the service he was paid a gratuity ranging from $70 to $600, according to the length and place of service and dependents.

Before the lawyer set a finger to his task he was paid $100,000 by the Canadian Government as a retainer fee.

* * * *

The unmarried Canadian soldier who served four years overseas was paid a total of $2,100, including war service gratuity.

The prominent lawyer who was engaged for 238 days, or one-sixth of the time spent by the soldier in answering the call of duty, received a total of $95,880.

* * * *

The Canadian soldier was subject to strict discipline, of necessity he lived a hard life, he sacrificed home life, was separated from his loved ones, daily faced death, and in the end was discharged, in many cases physically impaired, and confronted with the task of re-establishing himself in civilian life.

The lawyer was under no restrictions, was not debarred from the pleasures of life, and in the end returned to his already extensive legal practice with the enhanced prestige which his job for the Government at $400 a day probably brought him.

* * * *

Three other lawyers received $150 a day while engaged away from their home centres on the same task. Still others received lesser amounts down to $50 per day.

The average ex-soldier will offer no comment concerning the men who received these handsome fees, but he will do some desperately hard thinking when he recalls the cheeseparing which cut his pension by ten per cent or denied treatment to his chum who went away in 1914 in the pink of condition and returned in 1919 half wrecked physically but of whom there is no record on his official documents of "hospitalization or treatment on service."

"We can never estimate in monetary terms the value of your services to the nation," the politician exclaimed with fervor when the soldier returned home. But when it came to estimating the value of the services of legal counsel the politician suffered from no such limitation.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The weatherman's victory over the Motor Show is only a temporary one. The big event will be put over triumphantly later on.

East Peterborough seems to be more interested over redistribution than Premier Drury is.

The Fish and Game Association's effort to have a fish hatchery established near Fowler's Corners should have general support. Such an institution would mean much to the whole district.

Canada's weather record for 1923 should be kept under cover if immigration officials are to get an opportunity to show results.

At least the long winter has served to stop the oldest inhabitant's tendency to talk about cold spells that used to be. He cannot possibly remember any colder last week in March.

Armour's Hill will now be added to the list of parks, made possible by private generosity rather than by civic enterprise or foresight. Most of Peterborough's breathing places were obtained in the same way.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of The Examiner,

Sir,—The letter of the Western Clock Co., asking for a bus or car line to Ashburnham is worthy of immediate attention. The company has as it says spent a large amount of money in Ashburnham and its employees are buying lots and houses there. This has stiffened up the price of property in Ashburnham and will add considerably to the value of that part of the city. Another such factory on the vacant land to the worth of the Clock Co. property now being talked of as a park would add greatly to the value of property in Ashburnham in the same way and would make business brisk and put some life into that part of the town. Why throw away at least a hundred thousand dollars in the value of property and in added business? Ashburnham business men and property-owners ought to get the work and stop the park agitation which suits the merchants on the other side of course.

The Natural Wealth of Canada

Canada's Banking System

AMONG the agencies that have combined to build up Canada's trade and thus increase the available wealth, the Canadian banking system stands, in age and excellence, by itself. No country has a system better adapted to its requirements. It has established Canada's name abroad as that of a solid, stable country, remarkably free from panics and financial crises. It has stood the test of time, through periods of business depression and periods of inflation. For over 100 years the Bank of Montreal has been a leader in the banking system of this country.

MAKE EFFORTS TO STOP FOOTBALL COMPETITIONS

WINNIPEG, Man., April 2.—Prosecutions against the weekly papers in the city conducting football competitions commenced Saturday, when R. B. Graham, Crown Prosecutor, laid charges against them under the guessing section of the Criminal Code. An effort to have the papers close their competitions without criminal action proved fruitless. The cases will come up in city police court Monday.

Similar action to that taking place here have been instituted in other Canadian cities.

MONTREAL, April 2. —(Canadian Press.)— Rebecca George, 17, wanted at Paragould, Arkansas, for breaking parole after she had been sentenced and released from the State Industrial School on a charge of perjury, waived extradition in court here Saturday. The perjury was committed in the course of the trial of Tony McDonald who was convicted and sentenced to seven years' imprisonment for having seduced the girl. She was herself convicted of having given false evidence at McDonald's trial to the effect that the father of her child was a man who was then dead.

McDonald will be given a new trial at Paragould when the girl will be called to give evidence.

Methodist Choir of 70 Voices Rendered Easter Cantata—Special Easter Services.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 2. — The Easter services in all the churches yesterday were well attended, appropriate sermons being delivered and special Easter music being rendered by all the choirs. Mr. Fred Wigglesworth, the newly appointed organist of St. Andrew's church, was in charge, and the selections of the large choir were much appreciated.

The Methodist choir at the morning service was augmented by the Sunday school and junior choir, who were in the rear gallery. This choir of seventy voices rendered a most appropriate Easter cantata and at the evening service the large choir rendered the anthems, "Thou Art Gone Up On High," in which Mr. Carl Maguire took the baritone solo, in rich fine voice, "Joy in the Mansions of Light," featuring a ladies' trio, and Miss Nellie Hoovers' rich contralto voice was heard to great advantage in the solo, "The Angels Adoration" was well rendered, reflecting much credit on the efficient conductor and leader, Mr. R. You Won't Cough After Taking Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

On the first appearance of a cough or cold do not neglect it; get rid of it at once before it has a chance to grow worse and gets settled on the lungs, causing bronchitis, pneumonia, or other serious lung troubles.

In Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup you will find a remedy that will relieve the cough or cold on its first inception by soothing the irritation and healing the diseased lining of the lungs and bronchial tubes.

Mrs. Percy McRae, Little Shemogue, N.B. writes:—"Three years ago I had the "Flu" which left me with a very bad cough. I tried different medicines which did me no good, so I took Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It relieved me of that awful cough in a short time."

"Dr. Wood's" is 35c and 60c a bottle at all dealers, put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BROKE INTO THREE STORES

But Burglars at Millbrook Failed to Make the Big Haul They Expected.

MILLBROOK, April 2. — A deliberate attempt at burglary took place here, evidently in the early hours of Sunday morning, when three places of business, Fowler & Pendrie's dry goods store, C. Garside's harness shop, and P. I. Bentley's hardware store were entered through the rear windows and the cash registers searched.

An effort was also made to enter J. Steele's jewellery store, for the back window was broken, but apparently the thieves changed their minds and did not actually enter the building, as nothing, not even the goods left on the window sill of the back shop, was disturbed.

Some $15.00 was secured, it is thought, in Pentley's store, but in the others the search for cash, which was evidently all that the thieves were after, was unavailing.

No clue to the guilty person or persons, has as yet been found, but doubtless an organised effort will be made to secure their identity and conviction.

With the opposition like Trenton and Brighton and a new grand stand with a seating capacity of 300 fans, the outlook in Hastings is the brightest it has been for 15 years.

RUSSIA CLAIMS RIGHT TO EXECUTE PRELATE

MOSCOW, April 2 (Canadian Press). — The Soviet Foreign Office, replying to the note submitted by Robert M. Hodgson, British representative, appealing for a stay of execution for Vicar-General Butkevitch, says that Russia has an undeniable right to pass sentence in conformity with its own legislation on people breaking the laws of the country.

"If similar acts which occurred under British rule in India and Egypt are taken into consideration, it is hardly possible to regard an appeal in the name of humanity and sacredness of life from the British Government as very convincing," concludes the reply.

What is the Audit Bureau of Circulations?

AN independent organization of auditors for the special purpose of making an annual analysis and complete report of newspaper circulations in Canada and the United States.

Every copy printed is accounted for. Paper is weighed, press runs checked; postage bills and cash receipts are checked, lists counted and checked; spoiled and returned copies are accounted for and deducted; destinations are checked, distribution is classified. The channel through which every copy reaches the reader—city delivery, street sale, dealer, mail—is checked; the exact number stated under each head.

The figures of the A. B. C. are precise, indisputable and accepted by advertisers as final.

The last report of the Audit Bureau of Circulations proved that The Mail & Empire had 102,337 net paid circulation, while the second largest morning circulation in Canada was 98,406.

MYSTERY OF ENGLISH "DOROTHY ARNOLD" HAS A STRANGE ECHO IN INDIA

(By Milton Bronner.)

LONDON, April 2.—A clew from faraway India has revived national interest in "England's Dorothy Arnold."

Paralleling the famous case of the New York girl, whose mysterious disappearance a decade ago still remains unsolved, is the case of Mamie Stuart, pretty Welsh girl.

Dozens of gardens in various parts of Wales have been dug up seeking the missing girl's body. Since December, 1919, when she walked out of a Swansea hotel she has been variously reported as stolen, in hiding, a suicide, a runaway, or the victim of murder or accident.

Scotland Yard, convinced she was dead, gave up the chase long ago. Now the cables are hot to India, because Thomas James, chief officer of the steamship Blythmoor, a friend of the girl's father, a retired sea captain living at Sunderland, turned up with the story that he had seen the missing girl in India.

MAMIE STUART

His ship put in at Karachi, he said, an dan English troupe of actors playing at one of the Karachi theatres, was entertained on board.

"I recognized one of the young women as Mamie Stuart," said James. "I went up and spoke to her, calling her by name. She stared at me in a peculiar way, and then said she was not Mamie Stuart, and walked away. But I could not possibly be mistaken."

Her father had died of a broken heart. Her mother lies ill, broken by sorrow and old age. But the flicker of hope roused in her has spurred Scotland Yard to new efforts to find the missing girl.

Several years before her disappearance she tried many times to go on the stage. From London she wrote her friends that she was married. Then her letters suddenly ceased, and investigation showed that she had walked out of the Swansea hotel one day leaving her luggage behind. George Shotton, said to have posed as her husband, was arrested on a charge of bigamy, and he was convicted in an unusual trial in which the first wife, but not the second wife, was produced.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

ANSWER TO OLD-TIMER.

I perceive by Old-Timer's second letter in reply to mine, that he considers that the Bible is God, since he accuses us, who with the most thorough Bible scholars, so commonly and ignorantly attacked under the name of Higher Critics, guilty with the of trying to drag God down to our own level, and this because we hold that the Bible is a human book though containing more than other literature a divine message. If Old-Timer and many who think with him, really think that the Bible is God, it would seem to me that they are somewhat of idolaters.

To the many God is something you can find in the church through its ordinances and there only. Many French Catholics, therefore, who have lost faith in the church have become atheists.

To many Protestants God is in the Bible and only in the Bible.

The Higher Critic, as I have found him, has a truer and larger, more moral and spiritual conception of deity than either, for to him God is a spirit and speaks throughout all nature, including human nature, therefore through all literature, though supremely through the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments. Old-Timer has not attempted to disprove my claim that the very real authority of the prophets, Amos, Micah, Hosea, Jeremiah, Isaiah, was not founded on any written Scriptures, since they never appeal to such but are conscious of being the medium of a living message from God. Nor has he tried to show that the authority of Christ which astonished men at the beginning of His ministry was other than spiritual authority, founded on character. The fact that character carries authority with it, that a spirit of truth is in man in general, and therefore a faculty to feel the power of the great essential truths, this fact is too deeply rooted in all our best literature to be controverted. It explains the power the Bible itself has, for instance, on the mind of a heathen who holds no views about its authority or infallibility. It likewise underlies all of Emerson's writings and especially his "Spiritual Laws." The great poet relies on it to make his poems win their way, for as Arnold showed in his essay on poetry, truth, absolute sincerity, is the primal requisite of a great poet, and as such has precedence to formal beauty. Old-Timer has not attempted to show that a preacher today may not have the kind of authority these prophets of Israel and Jesus Himself had, based on a real moral sympathy with God, an understanding of His character and therefore His attitude to men as sinners or as penitents—in a word they had an inspiration, and why should not we? Have we never felt that a preacher was inspired? Evidently in the measure that a man is inspired, he is freed from the necessity of quoting proof passages from the writings of others.

View of the Bible.

To me the view of the Bible, which critics have helped us to reach and which makes it contain the record of a progressive revelation through human struggling lives, like our own; which finds in it throbbing humanity, God revealing His will in and through man's struggles against moral imperfection and his search for fuller light; which finds that Christ is ours because those who went before shared in His moral experience as have those who came after—this view is far superior to the view which would have the Bible, a body of consistent and infallible proof-texts, even if this view could bear the light of investigation which it assuredly cannot. Old-Timer does not seem to grasp the view of inspiration which has replaced this view in the best and most enlightened minds, which, while recognizing that human limitation in the writers is bound up with their human freedom, finds something far better than such formal infallibility in recognizing that these writers were not mere instruments, machines, saying and writing they knew not what, but men like ourselves, only on fire with zeal for truth, above others, with love of men above others, therefore more akin to God than others and fitted more than others to make Him known to men and to tell them His will concerning them.

As Old-Timer does not appear to understand what I tried to say about spiritual authority I will attempt to enlarge on that more fully.

Old-Timer Answered.

Old-Timer complains that through the work of Bible criticism there is no more a note of authority from the pulpit. That is to say, he was accustomed to accept a text of Scripture quoted by a preacher as finally settling any question that might arise. He does not hear that sort of preaching now. Well I am glad if it is so.

First of all, inspiration need not imply infallibility. Inspiration may be only for its own proper ends, not for everything. I judge the inspiration of the prohpets to have been for moral and religious ends, to tell men about God and how to live morally well—not to relieve them of the work of scientific investigation and research through which their minds and characters are developed. There is nothing infallible but God. Old-Timer complains of a lack of authority. There are different sorts of authority. The authority of an official, derived from the office he holds, the institution he represents, and the power behind him to back him up. Akin to this is the authority of a preacher when derived either from a body of church dogmas or from an infallible Bible (so considered). It is like the authority of the law-giver who goes solely by a written code—as compared with that of a father.

There is also an authority which springs from within. It is sometimes called force of character. It is due to the spirit within, and the spiritual influences at work between us all, and spiritual laws. When a really vital truth has gripped a man's soul, and when he utters it in unalloyed loyalty to truth, self and prejudice all set aside, such truths finds an echo in other men's hearts, just because we all have a spiritual reason within, the spirit of truth in us awakes in response. We may not have thought of it till then, yet when we hear it we know it is truth, not falsehood, just as surely as we know that light is light and not darkness.

The Word.

When men speak to-day of "the word" they nearly always speak of the written books of the Bible, but this is not the way the term is used in the Bible itself. Both the prophets and St. Paul and the Epistles to the Hebrews speak of the word as a message felt in the heart first, then delivered—"Thy word was within my heart as fire and I spoke for I could not refrain," and this same word is said in Hebrews iv., to be quick and powerful and sharper than a two-edged sword, etc., or to render closely the Greek, this "word" is living, in-working, cutting, very discerning in its judgment of those in whom it abides (that it may lead them to repentence), and there is nothing created that is not manifest before it. In fact it is God, Who is truth, in us, and testifying to truth without us. However great the Bible is, and I think that those who know it best love it most, among whom are some of those called Higher Critics, it seems clear that the Bible, like all other great literature, only speaks effectually to those who have in themselves this spiritual words which corresponds with the outer word and witnesses to its truth. The realization of this is, I think, the need to-day. Not the re-assertion of a doctrine of inspiration bound to infallibility long ago completely undone and discredited through internal evidence of these Scriptures themselves, but the awakening of a more spiritual, less formal conception of religion. While in the minister we need a sense of a living message which can only exist with an absolute loyalty to truth and a freedom or boldness of utterance bound neither through self-interest to orthodox ecclesiastical dogmatism, false patriotism, or any narrowing half-truth, nor fearing any fear. It is only the truth we feel deeply within that we utter with power, and that truth awakes an echo wherever loyalty to truth is found.

There is a line called the 45 degree runs from the Town of Hastings up through between Peterboro and Bridgenorth and up to Port Perry, and south side of this line we were paid for a very small sum, just about what Esau go: for his birthright from his brother is a mess of pottage and on the north side of this 45 degree line, we never got no pay; In 1889 the three bands, Rice, Mud and Scugog met here at Mud Lake Reserve. The three bands that met here was to try to find out when the government intend to pay them of their claims that they have, and after big injun council that was held here and if I am not mistaken the two governments, the Dominion and Ontario were correspondent back and forth to know who's to pay the Indians of their claim, and at last the case went over to the Privy Council in England, and the word came back saying that the Dominion Government has right to pay. And I think Mr. John Thracker of Roseneath, was our agent and every time he came to pay us our annuity, he would say, that next time I come I expect to have the Big money with me, to pay you's for your land claims, this was 34 years ago quite a while,

To the Editor of the Examiner,
Peterborough,

Sir,—Kindly permit me through your paper to express an opinion on the question of Parlamentary representation. Many people will be surprised to know that we have in Canada between eight and nine hundred members of Parliament including the nine ligislatures and the federal parliament.

Our counties are nearly all represented by four members two for the legislature and two for the Dominion Houst. Who will say that any county in Ontario cannot be as well represented by one member for each Parliament and the cities should have only half the number of members, four for Toronto for each Parliament is more than sufficient. This country is in dire need of strict economy in the public service. Could we not be well represented by half the number of members of Parliament? and save a very large and useless expenditure—any more than two members for this county is a wicked waste of public money,

Yovrs truly,
J F LILLICRAP.

To the Editor, Examiner.

Sir,—Anti-Unionists have been very solicitous for the immigrant; they have opposed the Union on the ground that it would leave the new Canadian without a religious home. They have, evidently, no concern for the thousands of born Canadians who, through inter-marriage and generations of indifference to religion, have no denominational home. These Ishmaels of the wilderness have no claim on the thought and consideration of the clannish little sectarian whose chief concern is for the salvation of the tradition rather than the souls of men; who burn with enthusiasm for the extension of Presbyterianism rather than the kingdom of Jesus Christ.

I notice that many of those who are opposing the Union are "New Canadians," some Scotch, some Irish. One can very well sympathize with the home-sick feeling that desires to preserve the old home atmosphere, but such sentimental considerations should not be allowed to stop the wheels of progress in this new country which faces the future free and untrammelled. Would such considerations affect the industrial, commercial or professional life of this country? When the immigrant arrives in Canada and begins to tell us how differently they do things in the Old Land, he is not too gently told to go back home if he is not satisfied.

While many of those who come to Canada may have denominational affiliations, the great majority of them are nondescript so far as sectarianism is concerned, and I believe they desire to identify themselves with the life of Canada. A Canadian Church would certainly appeal to them, and it would undoubtedly provide a religious home for thousands of Canadians who regard Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational Churches as sanctuaries for the elec

CITY PLANNING MUST CONSIDER NEEDS OF AUTO

Adaptation of Streets to Limitations of Auto Would Produce Good Results.

MAKE TRAFFIC EASIER.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Streets will become safe for pedestrians and traffic more efficient only after thoroughfares have been laid out, with the automobile and its characteristics in mind.

This is the conclusion formed by Herbert S. Swan, city planner and traffic consultant of New York, who has made a thorough study of the possibilities and limitations of automobiles and automobile traffic.

"The street and vehicle using the street must be adapted to one another," says Swan. "The city planner must recognize the mechanical limitations of the automobile in laying out and regulating traffic in his streets."

At the same time, adds Swan, the automobile must be adapted to the physical limitations of the thoroughfare plan.

Driving Facts

Swan's research has brougn out the following facts:

1: An automobile's speed can ordinarily be reduced at the rate of eight feet a second, each second.

2: On a wet asphalt or concrete pavement it requires about twice as much distance to stop a car as on a dry road. On a greasy road, the distance would have to be about 10 times as great.

3: The fastest speed a car can go and yet be stopped in one second is 5.4 miles an hour.

4: The distance within which an auto can be stopped varies as the square of the sped. That is, if the speed of the car is doubled, the stopping distance is quadrupled. If the speed is tripled, nine times the ordinary stopping distance would be needed to bring the car to a halt.

5: The load on a vehicle has little to do with its ability to stop because the retarding effect of the brakes increase with the load.

Slow Speed Fastest!

By far the most important discovery Swan has made pertains to the effect of automobile traffic on roadway capacity.

"The common impression is that the faster the speed the greater is the number of vehicles which can pass a point in a given length of time," says Swan. "This is true for quite low speeds. But after a certain speed has been attained each unit of increased speed requires such an increased spacing of machines that the roadway capacity is diminished."

At a uniform gait of 10 miles an hour, Swan has found, a third more vehicles will pass a given point for a given time than at a gait of 25 miles an hour. And as the speed increases, a lower number of vehicles will be found to pass the given point within the time limit.

For Easier Traffic

Swan concludes his findings with these suggestions:

"The frequency of major streets, their width and grade, the sharpness of street angles and curves, the radii for rounding corners, should be determined with reference to the physical characteristics of the automobile, the anticipated volume of traffic and the particular requirements of the ground. Acceleration, deceleration, necessary clearance for different speeds, engine power, gear ratio and turning radius, although comparatively new, are nevertheless fundamental considerations in successful thoroughfare planning.

"And when it comes to regulating traffic, separating fast from slow vehicles, imposing maximum and minimum speed limits, obliging traffic to round central standards at corners, stopping and starting traffic at intersections, they are controlling factors which, if ignored, will prove disastrous to the most mobile conditions of traffic."

In the Arctic

And the Tropics tooth troubles are rarely known

That discovery led dental authorities to search for the reasons. They found it in factors of diet. And now those principles have been applied to create a new way of teeth cleaning.

Millions of people in some 50 countries employ this method now. Dentists everywhere advise it. This is to offer you a delightful test, so you may know what it means.

To fight acids

A new-type tooth paste has been created, called Pepsodent. It brings some new effects which research proved essential, largely because of the lack of certain stimulating principles in our diet.

Pepsodent multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Combats the film

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. No ordinary tooth paste can end it.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Two ways found

Dental science, after long research, found two ways to fight that film. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved those methods effective. Then they were both embodied in this new type tooth paste for daily application.

New beauty comes

Pepsodent brings new beauty. You see glistening teeth everywhere today, because so many use it. That new beauty means greater safety, greater cleanliness as well.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

It will be a revelation. Cut out the coupon now.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent omits the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

HOW EASTER WAS OBSERVED

Although this year's early Eastertide closed the Lenten season with a low temperature and a snow blanket that reminded church-going people yesterday very forcibly of Christmas, rather than spring, in the churches of the city the Easter note dominated above all fluctuations of wind or weather. Large Easter congregations, special Easter music, breathing the spirit of "that first glad Resurrection morn," Easter messages of triumph over death and defeat, Easter lillies decorating altar and pulpit and church, all united in a spring service of praise and thanksgiving for the risen Saviour. Communion services were held in the majority of the evangelical churches, many of which also welcomed newcomers to their congregations yesterday.

At St. Peter's.

At St. Peter's Cathedral, there were four morning masses. His Lordship Bishop O'Brien sang Pontifical High Mass at half-past ten o'clock, assisted by Rev. Father J. Finn, Rev. J. Collins and Rev. P. Costello. Rev. Father Finn and Rev. Father Collins officiated at the early services. Rev. J. Collins preached at High mass in the morning and Rev. F. Kensel, C.S.S.R., of Annapolis, Marland, on "The Resurrection" at Pontifical Vespers in the evening. The Easter music rendered by the choir, with Miss L. Hurley at the organ and Mr. Joseph Miniciolo leading, was very impressive.

Sacred Heart Church.

At the Church of the Sacred Heart, Rev. J. J. O'Brien preached, with Mr. John Armstrong in charge of the music, and at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Rt. Rev. Monsignor McCall gave a special Easter sermon. Miss Leona Hummel is organist at the East City church.

At St. John's.

At St. John's there were capacity congregations at the three morning services, Rev. Dr. Blagrave preached, with Rev. O. D. H. Lloyd taking the afternoon Easter day service for the children. R. J. Devey, organist and choirmaster, had charge of the music. In the morning the anthem "Christ is Risen," was given ,and in the evening, "God Has Appointed a Day," with soprano leads in boy voices only.

At All Saints'.

At All Saints' church, Rev. R. B. Grobb gave Easter day sermons, Mr. M. N. Clark taking the afternoon service for the young people. The choir with Mrs. W. A. Logan at the organ, Geo. E. Chandler leading, sang in the morning "Why Seek Ye the Dead Among the Living?"

At St. Luke's.

At St. Luke's church, the rector, Rev. Geo. J. Bousfield, B.A., preached, with music under direction of Mr .W A. Thompson, organist and choirmaster.

At St. George's.

Rev. W. R. Courage, at St. George's church, spoke on "The Resurrection" in the morning on "Victory as Denoted by the Resurrection" in the evening, with special Easter anthems, "Christ Our Passover," and "Christ is Risen," directed by Mr. Bruce Quinn, organist and choir leader.

At St. Andrew's.

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Rev. Mr Rollins, B.A., preached in the evening. Special music, directed by Mr. John Crane at the organ, included solos by Miss Kathleen Gorrie, Miss Ina Allen, Messrs. D. Carlisle and E. Humpage, with a postlude, the "Hallelujah" chorus from "The Messiah."

At St. Paul's.

At St. Paul's, Rev. R. Pogue spoke on the "Resurrection," and the choir, under M. B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O., gave "This is the Day," "They Have Taken Away My Lord," and two numbers from "Olivet to Calvary."

At Knox Church.

At Knox church, Rev. J. A. MacKenzie, B.A., preached in the morning on "The Resurrection Joy." J. A. Jeffries ,organist and choir leader, directed the rendition of the "King of Kings," and "Christ is Risen," in the morning, and of "He is Risen" in the evening, with duet, "Love Divine All Love Excelling," by Mrs. W. Byers and Mr. John Anderson.

At George Street.

At George street Methodist church there were three morning services, with a special sunrise service at 7.15 a.m. The music was particularly impressive. Directed by Mr. J. H. Renwick, the choir sang Stayner's "They Have Taken Away My Lord," and Turner's "Ye Choir of New Jerusalem." Soloists were Mrs. Dorothy Allan Park, who sang "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," from Handel's "Messiah"; Miss Elva McIntyre, who took the solos in "Ye Choir of New Jerusalem"; Maurice H. Park, "Let There Be Light," and Kenneth McCannon, "Light of the World." Mr. Albert Greenlaw, of Detroit, sang "The Story of the Cross" and one of his own compositions, "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" also "That Resurrection Morn." During the recital of vocal and organ music by Mr. Renwick and Mr. Greenlaw, which preceded the regular evening service, Mr. Greenlaw sang Rodney's "Calvary," and (by special request) "He Lifted Me." The morning service was marked by two baptisms. The pastor, Rev. W. Harold Young, M.A., B.D., gave a short address in the evening.

At Trinity Church.

At Trinity church yesterday, the Easter-tide subjects taken by Rev. A J. Langford were, "The Risen Christ and the World of To-day," and "What Shall I Do With Jesus?" The organist and choir leader, Mr. Geo. H. King, directed the Easter anthems, "He Is Risen," and "On Wings of Morning Borne," with solos at the morning service by Mrs. Geo. H. King and quartette, "The True Easter" by Mrs. H. Doig, Mrs. E. Kitney, H. Turner and E. Baldry. In the evening, Mrs. Doig and Mrs. Kitney sang "Lo the Tomb is Empty"; Mrs. King, "Christ is Risen" and a male quartette singing "O Wondrous Cross" was composed of Messrs. Fenton, Turner, Ridyard and Baldry.

At Mark Street.

At Mark street Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. G. E. Ross, M.A., preached in the morning on "Day Dawn in Gethsemane," in the evening on "The Grave Among the Flowers." Special Easter music was directed by the organist, Mr. V. Boorman with a solo last evening by Mr. A. Everitt.

At St. James'.

At St. James' Methodist church, there were good congregations for both morning and evening services when Rev. J. N. Chapman, B.A., gave Easter-tide sermons. The choir, led by the organist, Mr. Leslie Unitt, rendered several fine anthems, with vocal solos in the morning by Mr. Bert Cutmore, in the evening by Mr. M. H Park, who also sang in duet with Mr. Walter Farr.

At Murray Street.

At. Murray Street. Baptist church, Rev. Dr. J. L. Gilmour, M.A., of McMaster University, Toronto, preached in the morning on "The Resurrection and Its Consequences," in the evening on "The Power of the Resurrection." The choir, led by Mr. C. S. Browne, with Miss Muriel ridge at the organ, gave several well-rendered anthems, with solo in the morning by Dr. S. J. Graham, "The First Easter Morn," in the evening by Miss Florence Scott ,who sang Granier's "Hosanna."

At Park Street Church.

At Park street Baptist church, the pastor, Rev. W. E. Morrow, B.A., spoke at the two services on "The Resurrected Life" and "Two Men and a Stranger." Special Easter music was rendered by the choir, directed by Mr. B. Robinson.

Want Ad Tips
by John T. Bartlett

WHAT BORROWERS WANT TO KNOW.

(By John T. Bartlett).

Put in your Want Ad. what borrowers wish to know—that is the easy way to quickly place funds. Loan advertisers who, out of years of experience, have standardised their Want advertising, have learned what these things which appeal most to borrowers are. Two different things run "neck and neck" for attention—one, the ease with which a loan can be obtained; the other, the rate of interest.

For most people, borrowing money isn't a happy experience. Often some reverse in personal affairs forces it; the assumption of financial bligations is necessary, but deplored. Inexperienced borrowers often apply for loans and are refused. To get the money, and get it quickly, becomes a moving human wish. Or, possibly, the borrower has urgent need for the money. He must get it at once.

"Quick loans," accordingly, is a powerful statement to put in a Want Ad. offering money to loan. "There will be no delay," is excellent. One advertiser believed in being very concrete. He used, "One week is our average time on loans."

Much the same idea can be suggested in another way. When a banker turns down an application for a loan, he very often states that he "hasn't the money." "Large sums available," suggests that the advertiser will not reject for such a reason. Realising this, one advertiser says, "$250,000 to loan." Another says, "Plenty of money always for loans."

Naturally, the suggestion that the rates are reasonable will help to bring inquiring borrowers. "Reasonable rates," invariably multiplies the "pull" of the Want Ad. "No commission charged," many advertisers have found a great talking point.

If the "money to loan" advertiser desires a special sort of patronage—he is loaning on real estate only, for example, or perhaps on chattel mortgage—he can "drum up" just the clients he wishes by using such phrases as, "For farmers," "For workingmen," etc. "Confidential" is is a good word in Want Ads addressed to small borrowers.

NORMA TALMADGE'S "MANNERS"

(By NORMA TALMADGE)

Etiquette is simply another name for good behavior. The child who is taught to behave properly can be relied upon, almost instinctively, to meet every circumstance in later life with proper courtesy. It's very important to remember that the things one must NOT do are important as the things one must do.

Prohibitions.

1: A well-bred man does not nudge, grasp or slap another man on the back, and certainly does not so much as lay his finger-tips on a woman.

2: A gentleman never borrows money from a woman, whether she be a friend, a social acquaintance or a relative.

3: No well-bred man or woman speaks of money outside of business.

4: One never should reprove a child, a servant or any other person, for anything whatsoever, in the presence of others, even ones immediate family.

5: No well-bred man or woman displays temper, anger, fear, embarrassment or any other emotion in public, thus saving the sensibilities of others.

Tanlac Worth 10 Times Its Cost, Says Mrs. Blunt

Toronto Lady Declares Famous Medicine Restored Her Fully When She Was in Despair From Indigestion, Nervousness and Weakness.

"A year ago Tanlac ended my troubles. I haven't known a sick day since," declared Mrs. Ellen Blunt, 6 Blevins Place, Toronto, Ont.

"I suffered so terribly with indigestion I dreaded sitting down to the table, for after eating I suffered such distress from pains in my stomach that at night I would walk the floor in despair. Gas pressed on my chest till I had to gasp for breath, and my heart acted so queer, I was frightened. My nerves were so shattered I couldn't thread my needle to sew, could do no housework, hadn't had a good night's sleep in a year, and was so run-down I was ready to give up.

"The Tanlac treatment rid me of all these miserable feelings, eating and sleeping and working are now a pleasure, and I am more grateful than words can express. Tanlac is worth ten times what it cost, and everybody should know about it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 35 million bottles sold.

BOVRIL LIMITED REPORTS GOOD BUSINESS IN 1922

The report submitted at the 26th Annual General Meeting of Shareholders of Bovril Limited, in London, England, last month, was most satisfactory.

A net profit was shown of £305,709—out of which after payment of regular dividends on preferred stocks a dividend of 9% on the Deferred Shares—free of Income Tax—was voted.

Sir George Lawson Johnston is Chairman, The Earl of Erroll, Vice-Chairman, and Mr. Douglas Walker, Managing Director. Sir Cornthwaite Rason, a former Premier of Western Australia, has recently accepted the position of Secretary.

Bovril exports in 1922 exceeded those of 1921 by 22%, and 1923 shows every indication of still further growth.

The increasing amount devoted to various forms of advertising was one of the noteworthy features of the statement—and one to which perhaps much of the increased success of operations was due.

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER

THE GROWING OF LETTUCE

By William R. Beattie.

Lettuce is one of the first crops planted in the springtime and usually when hot weather comes the lettuce shoots to seed and no more is grown until late fall or the following spring.

Lettuce is but one of the salad crops of which, as a rule, not more than a single planting is made.

In view of the desirability of having salad crops for use on the table at practically all times of the year, it would seem strange that home gardeners do not give more attention to prolonging the season for these crops.

The proposition is after all quite easy.

An early start for the spring crop of lettuce can often be made by means of a flat or seed box in a south window of the dwelling.

The plants that are grown in this manner can be transplanted to the hotbed, coldframe or to the open ground as soon as weather conditions will permit.

Later seeding of lettuce in the open ground during the spring months provides a continuous supply well into the summer, and by providing a slat or cheesecloth shade over a small section of the garden, fairly good lettuce can be produced at almost any time of the summer except in the extreme southern part of the country.

Late in the summer, plants can be started for a fall crop and by the use of a cold frame the late planted fall crop of lettuce can be carried well into the winter and entirely through the winter in the extreme south.

By this method fresh lettuce may be had from the gardens of the North Central States beginning with the middle of April in the hotbed and continuing by special cultivation through the summer and ending with the crop in the coldframe as late as the middle of December.

To the southward lettuce can be grown in the coldframe during the winter and in the open ground up until the time that the extreme hot weather begins.

Again in the autumn a crop can be grown in the open ground, the only time at which a supply is not maintained being the hot summer months.

Very often where the heading varieties of lettuce cannot be grown the loose leaf or Grand Rapids type will give good results.

Cos lettuce or Romaine, as it is often called, will add variety and frequently does well even in moderately hot weather and under conditions when head lettuce would be a failure.

Throughout the country Chinese cabbage is gaining in favor as a salad crop for home gardens and is deserving of wider attention.

Dandelion seeded in the late summer and slightly protected over winter yields a splendid crop of early spring salad.

Endive is a relative of chicory and makes one of the most desirable salads for winter use. The seed of endive should be sown rather late in the summer and before the ground freezes the roots should be dug with a ball of earth adhering to them. These roots should be packed rather closely together in a cool cellar or outdoors in a coldframe.

By placing a mulch of clean straw over the crowns they will develop a cluster of tender, blanched leaf-stems underneath this mulch that make a very excellent winter salad.

Two forms of cress are used, the winter cress, which may be grown in a flat box in the window during the winter or in a coldframe in the early springtime. The other type known as common cress and sometimes called pepper grass is usually grown during the early springtime by sowing the seed in drills a foot apart in the garden for mid-summer use.

By proper selection and a little attention to planting and growing the various salad crops a supply for the table can be provided practically the entire year.

CHILDREN'S WEAR EXCLUSIVELY

The PRIDE of PALOMAR

By Peter B. Kyne

It occurred to her that his silence was eloquent of the inherent generosity of the man, even as his poetic outburst of a few minutes before had been eloquent of the minstrel in him. She rode in silence, regarding him critically from time to time, and when they came to the tree where the panther hung he gave her the calf to hold while he deftly skinned the dead marauder, tied the pelt behind his saddle, relieved her of the calf and jogged away toward home.

"Well," he demanded, presently, "you do not think any the less of me for what I did to your father this afternoon, do you?"

"Of course not. Nobody likes a mollycoddle," she retorted.

"A battle of finances between your father and me will not be a very desperate one. A gnat attacking a tiger, I shall scarcely interest him. I am predestined to defeat."

"But with Mr. Conway's aid——"

"Bill's aid will not amount to very much. He was always a splendid engineer and an honest builder, but a poor business man. He might be able to maintain work on the dam for awhile, but in the end lack of adequate finances would defeat us. And I have no right to ask Bill to sacrifice the profit on this job which your father is willing to pay him, in return for a cancellation of the contract; I have no right to ask or expect Bill Conway to risk a penniless old age for me. You see, I attacked him at his weakest point—his heart. It was selfish of me."

She could not combat this argument, so she said nothing and for a quarter of a mile her companion rode with his chin on his breast, in silence. What a man of moods he was, she reflected.

"You despair of being able to pay my father the mortgage and regain your ranch?" she asked, at length.

He nodded.

"But you'll fight to win—and fight to the finish, will you not?" she persisted.

He glanced at her sharply. "That is my natural inclination, Miss Kay—when I permit sentiment to rule me. But when I apply the principles of sound horse sense—when I view the approach of the conflict as a military man would view it, I am forced to the conviction that in this case discretion is the better part of valor. Battles are never won by valorous fools who get themselves killed in a spectacular manner."

"I see. You plan to attempt the sale of your equity in the ranch before my father can finally foreclose on you."

"No, that would be the least profitable course to pursue. A hundred-thousand-acre ranch is not sold in a hurry unless offered at a tremendous sacrifice. Even then it is of slow sale. For the following reasons: Within a few years what with the rapid growth of population in this state and the attrition of alien farmers on our agricultural lands, this wonderful valley land of the Rancho Palomar will cease to be assessed as grazing land. It is agricultural land and as a matter of equity it ought to pay taxes to the state on that basis. And it will. I do not know—I have never heard of—a cattleman with a million dollars cash on hand, and if I could find such a cattleman who was looking for a hundred thousand acre ranch he would not want half of it to be agricultural land and be forced to bankrupt himself paying taxes on it as such."

"I think I understand. The ranch must be sold to some person or company who will purchase it with the idea of selling half of the ranch as grazing land and the valley of the San Gregorio as agricultural land."

"Quite so. I would have to interest a sub-division expert whose specialty is the sale of small farms, on time payments. Well, no business man ever contemplates the purchase, at a top price, of property that is to be sold on mortgage foreclosure; and I think he would be an optimist, indeed, who would bid against your father."

"Of course," he continued, patiently, "when the ranch is sold at auction to satisfy the mortgage your father will bid it in at the amount of the mortgage. It is improbable that he will have to pay more."

"Am I to understand then, Don Mike, that for approximately three hundred thousand dollars he will be enabled, under this atrocious code of business morals, to acquire a property worth at least a million dollars?"

"Such is the law—a law as old as the world itself."

"Why, then, the whole thing is absurdly simple, Don Mike. All you have to do is to get a friend to bid against my father and run the price up on him to something like a half-way decent sum. In that way you should manage to save a portion of your equity."

He bent upon her a benign and almost paternal glance. "You're tremendously sweet to put that flea in my ear, Kay. It's a wonderful prescription, but it lacks one small ingredient—the wealthy courageous and self-sacrificing friend who will consent to run the sandy on your astute parent, as a favor to me."

She gave him a tender, prescient little smile—the smile of one who sees beyond a veil objects not visible to the eyes of other mortals.

"Well, even if he is my dear father he ought to be nice about it and see to it that you receive a fair price for your equity." She clenched her little fist. "Why, Don Mike, that's just like killing the wounded."

"My dear girl, I do not blame your father at all. What claim have I on his sympathy or his purse? I'm a stranger to him. One has to be a sport in such matters and take the blow with a smile."

"I don't care. It's all wrong," she replied with spirit. "And I'm going to tell my father so."

"Oh, I've thought up a plan for escaping with a profit," he answered her, lightly. "It will leave you folks in undisputed possession of the house and the ranch, leave Bill Conway free to proceed with his valuable contract and leave me free to mount Panchito and fare forth to other and more virgin fields—I trust. All of this within a period of forty-eight hours."

Was it fancy, or had her face really blanched a little?

"Why—why, Don Mike! How extraordinary!"

MAKE THE BACKYARD PAY

BEANS AND PEAS

BY W. R. BEATTIE,
Extension Horticulturist, United States Department of Agriculture

String beans, bunch beans, snap beans, green beans and all those of which the tender pods are broken into sections and cooked as a green vegetable are the most universally grown and important from the home gardener's standpoint. Lima beans northern sections and on the Pacific Coast. Certain of the smaller varieties of Lima beans, known as Sieva beans, can be grown in many sections of the south.

Navy beans, white kidney beans, pinto beans and a number of others constitute an important list grown for dry beans. Blackeye peas are an important food crop throughout the south. In fact nearly every section of the country has a particular bean or pea adapted to the peculiarties of its soil and climate.

Peas in great variety are adapted to almost every part of the country and aside from the fact that they occupy considerable space are suited to growing in home gardens generally. They grow best during comparatively cool weather. A continuous supply of fresh peas may be had for at least two months by the proper selection of varieties and by making three or four plantings one or two weeks apart.

Planting Peas.

One quart of seed peas of the variety known as Alaska or Early Alaska will supply a family of five persons with 6 to 10 meals. A second planting of one quart of any of the medium growing sugar peas will provide an additional two weeks supply. A third planting of Telephone or any of the tall growing varieties of sugar peas will extend the time of use another two weeks.

One quart of navy beans will plant about one-twelfth of an acre and under ordinary conditions produce 16 to 20 quarts of dry beans. In the latitude of Washington, D.C., the planting should not be made until about the 10th or the 15th of June so that the beans will mature rather late and escape the depredations of the bean weevil. In the northern section the beans will require almost the entire season for their development. Blackeye peas are subject to the work of the common weevil, which bores little holes in beans and must be treated either by heating or with carbon disulphide to save them. Those treated with heat are not fit for seed as their germ has been killed by the treatment.

Good Soil Needed.

Beans and peas both require good soil because they cannot store up the properties that give backbone and muscle to the human race unless the properties are furnished the plants. A good garden loam with a moderate amount of fertilizer will do the trick if supplemented by good seed and proper cultivation. Too much nitrogen in the fertilizer make an excessive growth of vine and foliage. Poultry manure in very moderate quantities is a good fertilizer for peas, especially if reinforced by a little wood ashes and lime on most soils.

Lima beans should be planted with the eye downward and covered only about equal to their own depth. Snap or string beans should be one inch deep in sandy soil and one-half inch in heavier soils. Peas should be planted three inches in well drained, sandy loam soils, two inches in clay loam soils and just barely covered in heavy or slightly wet alluvial soil. Peas are planted on ridges in some sections and in furrows in others, so no definite rule can be given.

SHOULD CHANGE PLUGS AT LEAST ONCE A YEAR

The vital part that spark plugs play in good engine performance is just beginning to be realized, according to those who have made an especial study of the design. Exhaustive tests in the laboratory and on the road have definitely proved that it is real economy for motorists to replace their old plugs at least once a year, it is claimed.

This is true even if the old plugs are apparently firing regularly, and is particularly true with engines that are subject to oil pumping.

A great deal of engine trouble can be avoided if new spark plugs are installed once a year. Besides bettering the engine performance, the lessening of oil and gasoline consumption will be enough to cover the cost of the plugs, to say nothing of insuring the engine against more serious trouble.

Senators Win Championship-Soft Ball Tonight-Bowling News

OTTAWA SENATORS WON CHAMPIONSHIP WITH A WEAK TEAM

In spite of Injury to Players Senators Turned Back the Eskimos in Final Game By 1 to 0.

FAST GAME.

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 2 (Canadian Press). — Ottawa Senators hold the world's championship. They fought their way through three play-offs to the honour which they earned if any team ever did.

Defeating the Montreal Canadiens, they came West and turned back the they came West and turned back the Vancouver Maroons, three games out of four.

On Saturday night the Senators defeated Edmonton Eskimos by the score of 1 to 0.

The Senators got their lone score about half way through the first period, and from that point they played safe but an uninteresting defensive game, which the Eastern rules allow.

The Eskimos are one of the fastest teams in major hockey, but their speed availed them nothing against the Senators.

The seven thousand fans who turned out to see what proved the final game, expressed their admiration for the fighting spirit which animated the Senators. At no time during the games with Vancouver or Edmonton were the Easterners at their full strength.

Gerard's appearance on Saturday night was made at the cost of much pain to himself because of his injured shoulder. During the game he again received a severe wrench which forced him to retire. He was back into the fray in a few minutes.

George Boucher played the first part of the game despite a badly cut foot received in the first game.

The Senators triumphed over the best the West has produced this season, and they deserved their victory. It was a battle of speed and brilliant attack against experience, a heady calculation in every play, and grim determination, and the latter won.

Saturday night's game was singularly clean throughout although eight penalties were handed out by Referee Ion. They were all two-minute ones. Each team received four penalties. One of Ottawa's penalties was given to Benedict.

Clancy filled the breach and Edmonton failed to score.

The crowd was about evenly divided between their desire to see the Westren team triumph and their admiration for the grit of the Senators. The work of Simpson, Trapp, and Winkler on defence was very fine.

In Saturday's game Ottawa secured twenty-one shots on Winkler in the first period, fourteen in the second, and thirteen in the third.

Edmonton sent in twenty-five, eighteen, and fifteen in the three periods.

Keats proved somewhat disappointing on the series play, Morrison, who substituted for him, showing great speed. Gagne and Arbour proved themselves fast and tricky players.

There is no denying the fact that Ottawa possesses a wonderful team and one quite worthy of championship honours. They outweighed the Westerners, and used their weight with telling effect in body checking.

It was thought when the series opened that Ottawa was weak in spares. The work of Clancy and Hitchman, throughout the series belied this report, however. Both were most eective.

The fact that Helman was removed from the game by an accident in the practice gave him little chance to show his ability. He played in the final game last night, however, very acceptably.

Everyone was agreed in opinion that the Senators played and won under very exceptional handicaps. They are a great team, one of the greatest ever seen in action in the West. Western teams undoubtedly could learn something from them in the matter of team work.

Individually the Vancouver team are quite as brilliant. But, welded into a whole, and working as a team the Senators are probably without peers in Canada to-day. The world's championship remains in worthy hands.

SOFT BALL TEAMS PLAY THIS WEEK.

Owing to the unexpected postponment of the Peterboro Motor Show the Armoury will be available for soft ball games this week. Games will be played on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings and Saturday afternoon. It is necessary to get in as many games as possible this week for the Armoury will not be available on Tuesday evenings after this week and there are a great many games still to be played. The Armouries will be at the disposal of the soft ballers for the next two or three Saturday aftenoons so that three afternoon games can be played each week. This week's schedule is announced elsewhere on this page.

SPECIAL MEETING OF FOOTBALL ASSN.

The executive of the Peterboro and District Football Association has received word that the deputation from the O.F.A. will be in Peterboro on Wednesday evening. A special meeting of local football players has been called for that evening and will be held in St. Peter's Lyceum. The meeting will be opened at 8 o'clock sharp and the directors and executive members are all asked to attend. Players from the Quaker Oats, Comrades and Canadian Woolens clubs should also make a special effort to be on hand.

None of these European statesmen clamoring for another war was shot at in the last war.

O.B.A. MEETING SURE TO PRODUCE SOME DISCUSSION

January 1 Residence Rule and Pro. Coaches Are Big Questions.

NEXT SATURDAY.

TORONTO, April 2.—The Ontario Amateur Baseball Association will hold its fifth annual meeting next Saturday, April 7, at the Carls-Rite Hotel, commencing at 10 a.m. President P. M. Kennedy intimates it will the largest-attended meeting in the history of the organization. Delegates representing associations and leagues from every nook and corner of the province will be present, and it will include many newcomers who are seeking affiliation.

There are several amendments to the constitution and by-laws that the delegates will have a lively time discussing. Some of the amendments are of such importance that there is bound to be lively debates before they are settled.

The suggestion that all leagues and associations adopt this governing body's residence rule—January 1—is going to meet with opposition from some quarters. It should be accepted by all affiliated organizations, for what good are ball players to clubs that enter the Ontario championships and cannot qualify under the residence rule. It means leaving them at home, disrupting teams and sending weak ones to combat for the big title.

Pro. Coach Question.

"Shall clubs be allowed to have professional coaches?" is a ticklish question that is going to confront the delegates. This question was discussed at the semi-annual meeting last November, and, if we remember right, the majority of those present were in favor of the professional coach.

Good Friday is looked forward to by the local amateur ball players as the day they don theeir baseball paraphernalia and start for their favorite sand lot to toss the horsehide and pelt it around with the long willow clubs. The weather man put the damper on all spring training activities this year with his winter-like antics. Zero-like weather and snow on Good Friday was a hard blow to the amateur ball players. Fine weather will have to prevail throughout the month of April to enable the boys to get ready. There are only four Saturdays in the month, and it is on the week-end half-holiday they do all their work. Hampden Park Senior League opens May 5, and the others are asking for May 12, which means the new league will have four and the latter five practices to whip themselves into shape for the long season's campaign.

The managers of the clubs in the Hampden Park League have announced the players they have signed to date. In all, fifty-nine players have signed certificates, Athenaeums topping the list with eighteen. In looking over the roster of the clubs, Hillcrest, Osler and St. Andrew's have practically the same players as last year. Athenaeums have built their clubs around four players who have played together on the same club for a number of years. All the clubs have signed players who are making their first debut in the ranks of senior amateur ball.

Hillcrest's New Players.

Hillcrest have added only three new players to their line-up— Joe Breen, Bill Greer and Art Hyles. Breen last year was with the Moose Club, and was picked as the individual star of the league. Breen can practically play any position, and Manager Dwan is undecided where he will use him. He may be placed at third base until the return of Harry "Red" Batstone from college. Pitcher Greer hails from the Oakmount Club, champions of West Toronto Intermediate League, 1921-22. Greer has pitched sterling ball in the circuit he comes from, and if he hangs on with Hillcrest he will receive the acid test of his career, for he will have hard-hitting teams to face.

The newcomers on the Osler Club are Thompson, Britton, McCay, Williams, Thomas, Egan and Statham. Britton and Thompson are the crack battery for McCormack juniors, City Playground champions 1921-22, and Ontario champions of 1921. McCay comes from the Western City circuit, and is credited with several good performances against the Hillcrest Club. Pitchers Joe Spring and "Doc" Lewis are with the club again and with McCay and Britton, Frank Hamilton appears to have a strong pitching squad. Williams will play third base. He filled that position for St. Mary's in Toronto Senior League last year. Fred Hamilton will take charge of Williams in the practices. Hamilton was considered the shining light in amateur ball a few years ago, and under his tuition Williams should rank with the best in the circuit. J. Egan is the former Hillcrest-St. Frances and Simcoe infielder. He is slated for a position on the U. of T. ball team and will join Oslers at the conclusion of the Varsity Canadian tour.

Athenaeums Strong.

Manager Bill Herman is leaving no stone unturned to get Athenaeums a strong team. When the first notices for practice are sent out he he will have eighteen players to answer the call. Herman has a number of minor league recruits on his roster and all come so well recommended that they may make some of the regulars hustle to hold their positions. Ellwood, Gray, Drysdale and Verney are the quartette of pitchers signed. Gray was the bespectacled youth that pitched sparkling ball for Parkdale, 1921, and was with Hillcrest last year. Ellwoods was with Herman last year on the Classic Club. If Herman can get a good pair out of the quartette he has nothing to fear, as his team is on a par with the other as far as fielding is concerned.

Herman made a ten strike last week when the signed Francis "Duke" McCurry, who was much sought after by other clubs. The fans at Hampden Park will see one of the fastest performers in amateur ball, for McCurry possesses a barrel of speed.

President Grant Edwards of Oslers entertained the players to a party at his home. Edwards gave the boys a wonderful time, and sent them home with a warm spot in their heart for the president. Osler Club are having a dance to-morrow night at the Arcadia, College street.

NEW RECORD MADE FOR THE TEN-PINNERS

Last Thursday, Carl Hayes broke the Bowling record in ten pins for the Water Street Alleys, by averaging 220 for 15 games. The previous record was held by Dr. J. C. Green who bowled for 15 games at an average of 215 per game. Following are the scores of Hayes; 203, 187, 194, 202, 233, 234, 217, 279, 211, 245, 226, 234, 213, 197, 231, totaling 3,305.

GOLFER'S QUEER HOBBY

Charles Herndon of Kansas City, has "hung up" a golfing record for the world inasmuch as he subscribes for every golfing magazine in the world. It is a unique hobby, this of Mr. Herndon's but it has made him famous and incidentally he greatly enjoys perusing every month the hundreds of columns of golfing lore that pour into his office. In addition he has in his library over 100 golf books but he sagely observes, "I could enumerate on the fingers of my hands, those that really are worth while."

LONDON, April 2. — (United Press)—Although the membership of the House of Lords is 740, recent statistics show that an average session is attended by only 170 peers.

TORONTO "SORE" OVER RESULT OF O.A.L.A. ELECTION

Fails to Land Control of the Provincial Lacrosse Organization.

SMALL-TOWN STUFF.

The chagrin of the Toronto sports moguls over their failure to land control of the O.A.L.A. is very clearly evidenced in the following article which was run in a Toronto paper under the caption of "To much small-town feeling at the Lacrosse convention". The antagonism felt by the Toronto contestants from their "country cousins" is easily traceable in the high handed manner in which Toronto has been won't to rule the roost on occasions. This does not apply only in the matter of lacrosse. The most glaring local example of high handed action on the part of Toronto is of course the fiasco which last season threatened to wreck the local football organization and practically the full blame of which can be traced to the actions of the Toronto officials.

The slate of officers for the O.B.A.A. advanced by Toronto for election at the annual meeting next Saturday is another evidence of Toronto's attempts to override the interest of the provincial organizations. Toronto is again looking to grab control but it is to be hoped that as in lacrosse the aspirations of the "Queen" city will go under.

The election of J. D. Wright to the first vice-presidency of the O.A.L.A. is to be commended. Mr. Wright will naturally be a candidate for the presidency next year and for the first time in many years the O.A.L.A. will have an excellent opportunity to get away from "Toronto control." Following is the part of the Toront report of the elections:

"There was only one regrettable feature in the O.A.L.A. annual convention this year, and that was the evident intention of a great many delegates from the smaller towns to put the boots to Toronto and everything connected with Toronto. One speaker went so far as to make an appeal along that line against a motion gathered by a Toronto club. He warned the delegates to beware, because Toronto was trying to put something over, 'If they can get the support of the small towns this year they will turn round and put something over you next season.' That sort of appeal is not only all wrong, but it will put a serious rift in the O.A.L.A. As a matter of fact, Toronto men have never been selfish in their rulings. On the whole, they have displayed more interest in the game, as a whole, than the small-town men. Most of the enthusiasts who have done work on a big scale for lacrosse, men like Len Smith, have been Torontonians. Yet the pounding of Toronto was carried into the elections. Every Toronto candidate was snowed under in the voting. Not a single man from this city was elected in a contest, or even came near election. Some effort ought to be made to stop that antagonism before it goes too far. The convention has made it difficult, by electing a scattered executive, to carry on the executive business in 1923 and the weight will come on the shoulders of President Arnold Smith. One does not hesitate to say that he will receive the most unselfish and faithful support from Toronto men, and yet the delegates will not elect these men to office, though they have to do the work.

HOPPE, STILL CHAMPION, IS GOING BACK

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, March 31.—(United Press).—Willie Hoppe is still the world's champion at billiards, but he isn't the invincible champion he used to be. He still holds on to the title, because he was so far ahead of all other players that even when he slips back and back no one can yet reach him.

The strain of years of the most active playing and the strictest training have exacted their penalty and affected his nerves. About Hoppe's game, when he was in his prime, was an atmosphere of supreme confidence that is missing now. Hoppe used to rattle off a succession of difficult shots with the ease of a pianist playing the scales. Now he seems to ponder and deliberate and he never seems quite certain that he is playing the right shot.

Even if he is slipping and reaching the end Hoppe need have no regret. He has made a record that perhaps never will be qualled and he will be known for years as the greatest of them all.

No other player today is within miles of the Hoppe who used to be. Jake Schaeffer, on the surface, has come fast in the last two years. However, it was not that Schaeffer was improving so much and bringing himself up to the standard of Hoppe's game, as it was that Hoppe was going back and getting down to the plane of Schaeffer's game.

Schaeffer may be the next champion, but he will never be a great champion, because he hasn't the smooth, even temperament that is essential in a billiard champion or in nearly any other kind of a champion.

Schaeffer loses his head, he gives up quickly and he sulks when he thinks the breaks are going against him. He watches the house too much, instead of keeping his mind on the game.

* * *

Outside conditions affect billiard players more than the competitors in any other line of sport or amusement. The baseball player and the football player are out on a field, away from immediate contact with the spectators. Their best has to be done in a bedlam of noise and under all kinds of weather conditions. The billiard player on the other hand plays almost in the laps of the spectators. Comments in whispers are audible from the spectators' seats. It is unethical to make a noise during a match and the tipping over of a chair, a sneeze or a cough from the house may cause one of the contestants to blow his game to pieces.

During the recent Hoppe-Schaeffer match, an example was afforded of what effect even the slightest little things will have on a match. Schaeffer had only twenty-eight points to go in the second block and the balls were rolling so nicely that he looked like a cinch to win. Many of the spectators arose and started out. The noise and the confusion greatly affected Schaeffer. One of the doorkeepers said that the opening of the doors by the crowd going out caused the temperature to drop ten degrees in five minutes and the drop, of course, caused the balls to become less lively.

The New York Celtics, with several star players who are paid $1,000 a week, as much as Babe Ruth gets, claim to be the world's basketball champions. The Big Five of Pottsville, Pa., disputes the claim. Looks like they could settle it with a game.

* * *

In his first season as coach at Yale, Joe Fogarty guided the Elis to the championship of the Intercollegiate Basketball League. It is said that Fogarty took the job only after being assured that creed, color or pedigree would not have to influence his selections. He placed at forward positions two Jewish boys, Suisman and Pite. They practically won the title themselves. They had been unable to make other teams. Most all of the stars of the big eastern basketball teams were Jews.

Because a poke on the back of the neck has become a popular weapon of modern ring warfare, the moralists are asking that the rabbit-punch be barred. There can be no effectual way of legislating against the punch. If it should be listed as a foul, it would be a fine and very effectual means of defense for a groggy boxer to cover up his jaw and stomach in a crouch and expose nothing but the back of his neck.

PITCHER ARRESTED

DALLAS, Tex., April 2—(Canadian Press.) — Ted. Blankership, pitcher of the Chicago American League Baseball team, was arrested yesterday, charged with desertion and non-support. His wife's attorneys said he will not be brought to trial as long as an agreement reached with them is carried out. They added that Blankenship agreed to pay his wife $100 a month, and that the Chicago American League Club agreed to stand good for this amount as long as the pitcher is a member of the club.

CAPE CRETON MINERS AND STEEL WORKERS.

SYDNEY, N.S., April 2.—(Canadian Press.)—Declaring the miners of Cape Breton will refuse to produce coal for the operation of the Sydney steel mills in the event of that industry facing a strike of steel workers and attempting to carry on with "scab" labor, Dan Livingstone, President of District 26, on Saturday issued a sttaement which says he is wiring to Phillip Murray, International Vice-president of the United States Mine Workers in reply to that officer's telegram forbidding the miners to walk out with the steel workers. In this, he denies strike plans on the part of the United Mine Workers, but declares they will stand by the steel workers in their fight for recognition and better conditions.

IT'S A SAD, SAD YEAR FOR CHAMPS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Press)

NEW YORK, April 2.—(United Press)—Battling Siki should not mourn too much about the loss of his light-heavyweight championship. He isn't the only one who has been dethroned this year he isn't the last one who will get it

Siki wasn't going any place in particular anyway. He was always in danger of "the first good man" he met, and Mike McTigue, the succeeding champion, is in the same fix.

McTigue should remain champion as long as he stays away from first-class opponents from the middleweights up. Mike can't hit and his boxing will not make him popular enough to cash in heavy on his title.

One peculiar thing about Mike is the jinx that he seems to work over colored boxers. He was one of the first to whip Janama Joe Gans, when all of the first-class white middleweights were ducking the colored champion. He also knocked out George Robinson, after George had given a fine pasting to Johnny Wilson, the champion.

All of the experts are falling back on the old crack, always made about an unknown who pulls the unexpected—"he is better than he is ever given credit for being."

McTigue was only considered fair when he was around here before. He was a tapper and a dancer and he couldn't get work because he wasn't a card. He is still a tapper and a dancer but he may be more of a card now because he has the phony title hanging on him.

* * *

That light-heavyweight championship has had a hetic experience, in the last three years, and it has been in a variety of hands. Battling Levinsky, a Jew, held it until Georges Carpentier, a Frenchman, cracked him on the jaw. Battling Siki, a Senegalese, took it away from Carpentier and passed it on to McTigue an Irishman. If Pancho Villa should take on a lot of flesh, he might be able to make the racial circle more complete.

* * *

Harry Greb, Pancho Villa and Mike O'Dowd are with Siki as ex-champions of the year. It was predicted that 1923 would be a bad year for the champs, and the prophets are making good. Johnny Kilbane, Johnny Wilson and Joe Lynch can help along in making the doping 100 per cent, and they will make it that way, if they'll take anything but setups.

* * *

Nothing like putting confidence in young fellows. When Jimmy O'Connell reported to the Giants, he was in danger of carrying a swell head or over anxiety in living up to a $75,000 reputation. McGraw didn't want him to try too hard, so he told him to work out in the afternoons. The rookies work out in the mornings. Maybe when the Giants hit the road, Sir James will get a lower berth. That's the last sign of "regularity."

* * *

All the managerial money of the fight game isn't in handling champions. In fact, some of the champions are anything but meal tickets. Leo Flynn has a stable so big he can't count 'em and he hasn't a champion in the flock. Leo is specializing "trial horses." He used Bill Brennan to try out Floyd Johnson and Luis Firpo, and Bill got $27,000 for being "tried on." Of course, Leo got some of that. Now it seems that Firpo has to be tried some more and another of Leo's boys, Jack Renault, is to be "tried on." Harry Wills had to be tried out some time ago and Kid Norfolk was selected as a "trial horse." The Kid is one of Leo's boys.

Look for the hosses, boys, not the champs.

* * *

Jack Kearns was asked some time ago what boxer he would prefer to manage if something should happen his champ, Jack Dempsey. His opinion, of course, would concern the money end of the fighter. He said he would prefer to have Bill Brennan.

"Brennan is now at the point where the managers of all aspiring young heavyweights think he is through. They figure Brennan had a great reputation, because he has never been knocked out by anyone but Dempsey and Firpo and that their prospect could get a reputation over night by a victory over Brennan. Everyone wants him and Brennan always gets good purses."

Another prominent manager said that Brennan could make $50,000 a year easily, if he would take a swing around the tank towns" where they have never seen him.

COLLEGE GRADUATES ON BALL FIELD

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, March 29.—(United Press)—Opportunities that professional baseball offers to a college graduate have been the cause of many arguments. Opinions are more or less equally divided. Mathewson, Eddie Collins, George Sisler and Frank Frisch are held up as examples of what professional baseball will do for a college man, but there are a hundred examples just as good of what it will not do.

Commissioner Landis is paid for having the biggest opinion in baseball. When he was asked once what he would recommend to a boy of his if the lad wanted to take up professional baseball, he preferred not to answer.

The best of many opinions on the subject was given recently by Carl Lundgren the highly successful baseball coach of the University of Illionis. His opinion should be worth something. He is a college man himself, a successful big league pitcher. With the Cubs he was a member of a team that won three National League pennants and two world's championships.

"I would not advise any college athlete to go into professional baseball, unless he is of big league caliber," Lundgren says. "A man of only ordinary ability would be wasting his time by entering the minor leagues. But if a man does decide to enter the big leagues, HE SHOULD ALWAYS KEEP IN MIND THE PROFESSION HE HAS CHOSEN FOR LIFE—the work that he will do off season and continue when his baseball days are over. The national game is a good one in which to accumulate funds to start a business of another nature. Some men have made their fortunes solely by playing baseball. But these are the big stars of the diamond."

That sounds like practical advice and it is heavy.

The very few graduates of the "Big Three" who have gone into professional baseball have always been used as an argument by those who believe it is a mistake to waste years developing a profession that has to be abandoned before the prime of life is reached.

Eddie Grant, who died in the Argonne forest, is the only conspicuous success of Harvard men who have gone into the major leagues, "Jocko" Conion, star catcher of the Crimson 1922 nine, is now with the Boston Braves.

John McGraw has the other two "Big Three" representatives with his New York Giants—Waddy McPhee, from Princeton, and Jim Kernan, Yale catcher.

McGraw seems to be going in more and more for college players. In his memoirs he says he prefers the college boy, because he tries to correct his mistakes, whereas others are prone to cover them up.

When Phil Douglas shuffled out of the game last summer and after Fred Toney had been released, McGraw said he wast through with eccentrics and that his experiences with Waddell and some of the others had not been worth the time and worry wasted on them.

Frankie Frisch stepped from the baseball field at Fordham into a job with the New York Giants that pays him $12,500 a year. Eddie Collins has been drawing $15,000 for years and George Sisler must be getting close to $20,000. Starting from scratch out of college, it would have taken them with just as much genius as they have shown on the field at least five years to get within that salary. Along the lines of Lundgrens' argument they may have enough piled back when they quit to be independent for the rest of their days.

Such salaries are anything but common in baseball. The majority of the players work for about $5,000 a year.

Columbus would like to have the line new Ohio State stadium used for the next Olympic games. Not better spot is available than the Ohio city and certainly no finer arena could be provided, but it is doubtful if the United States will get to see the Olympic games for at least twelve years, and in twelve years they may be talking about the "little Ohio stadium."

EAT LOTS OF GREEN LEAF VEGETABLES

By W. R. BEATTIE

One of the ways of preventing the human system from suffering from digestive monotony is to provide plenty of green leaf vegetables in the diet. Fresh green food not only serves as the broom for the stomach but supplies the human system with the mineral elements that are so essential to health.

Spinach, kale, mustard, dandelion, sour grass and other kinds of greens taste best in spring because they are more tender and fresher at that time.

Collards, kale, cabbage, brussels sprouts, kohl-rabi turnip tops and spinach are among the important fall, winter and early spring green foods for the south. Cabbage, kale and spinach are the important fall, winter and spring green foods for those middle sections where the climate is moderate. Fall cabbage and spinach for late fall use, storage cabbage and turnips for winter use and spinach, kale and mustard for spring and early summer use are a good combination for the northern states. In addition plants such as bassella, swiss chard and New Zealand spinach thrive during warm weather.

By the use of coldframes, coverings of straw or pine boughs and other means of protection, spinach and kale may be carried through the winter rather far north.

Beds on which late fall, winter and early spring kale and spinach are grown should be raised three to six inches above the surrounding surface so as to drain well. They are best located on a southern or eastern exposure to get the full benefit of the sun. A shelter of pine boughs or corn fodder along the north and west sides of the beds are a great protection against cold and wind. Plenty of fertilizer is essential where fall plantings are made for spring use.

Highly nitrogenous fertilizers should not be applied until after the cold weather or until active growth of the plants begins.

The season for greens on the table can be prolonged by canning the surplus growth during the spring and summer. Mixtures of young, tender beet tops, swiss chards, mustard and other greens may be made. In combining the mixture for canning only a small proportion of mustard or of any pungent green material should be used.

FIRE AT WOLFE ISLAND.

KINGSTON, April 2. — Canadian Press. — A fire which broke out in a barn owned by J. Abbott of Wolfe Island this morning, caused the loss of the barn, seven horses, and 12 head of cattle. The fire started when a lantern used in the barn exploded.

People who get familiar on short notice are not noticed any longer.

THEATRES

AT THE ROYAL.

A DOUBLE BILL AT THE ROYAL

For the first half of this week the Royal is presenting a double bill, consisting of the Goldwyn super-feature, "Remembrance," and Dustin Farnum in "The Yosemite Trail," both really big pictures.

"Remembrance," was written and personally directed by Rupert Hughes, famous author, and is a companion picture to his "The Old Nest." This is a truly marvellous picture and deserves to be ranked among the masterpieces of the screen. It does for Father what "The Old Nest" and "Over the Hill" did for Mother, presenting the head of the house in a sympathetic light.

"The Yosemite Trail" is a western drama of adventure happiness and a glorious love with the scenes laid in "the playground of the Gods," the famous Yosemite National Park in California.

AUTOMOBILE FOOT IS A NEW MALADY

Cramp Caused by Holding Foot on the Accelerator.

Improvements have made driving so easy for the motorist that a new malady has been reported. It's called "Automobile foot," and it's directly attributed to holding the foot too long on the accelerator.

In former years a driver had no chance to do this. A puncture or blowout would get his foot off the throttle in a hurry. And he would have a good chance to get out and stretch himself.

But now with less tire trouble and fewer engine mishaps, the autoist has been able to continue in his seat, with his right foot in one position so long that it would become cramped. Result —"Automobile foot."

No Chance to Stretch

Of course, there may be a mishap now and then, but their correction has been reduced to so little time and effort, that the foot has hardly had a chance to rest before it finds itself back in its former position at the pedal.

And things are getting worse for the poor right foot. Inventors are busy trying to reduce tire trouble, its most saving feature, to a minimum. In fact, one inventor has come out with a plan by which punctures may occur without forcing the driver to leave his seat to repair them.

A Chicago man is responsible for this additional cause for "Automobile foot." It's a valveless inner tube, in which is a gummy mixture that flows to any opening made by a puncture and closed it up almost immediately. Somewhat like "Neverleak" in bicycle tires.

Air by Injection

That prevents further escape of air. But if the air does happen to escape altogether, the inventor has designed a sort of hypodermic needle which he sticks through casing and tube and through which the air is forced into the tube. When the needle is withdrawn the gummy substance plugs up the hole. Clever. Simple. But, oh, that "Automobile foot!"

With the coming of fair weather, matters look pretty bad for your right foot—if you don't get out and stretch every once in a while. Tourists, especially, should beware of long country rides without resting that foot.

Norway's New Sawmill

The large sawmill which is being built at Kirkenes, in the extreme northeastern corner of Norway, and on the Finnish border, has commenced operations with two gang saws, and two more will be added soon. A total of not less than eight gang saws is planned, an the mill will then be the largest sawmill plant in northern Norway. This development is of great importance because this mill will use timber from the large but hitherto inaccessible timber region of northern Finland.

Commencing To-Night.

MRS. DOROTHY ALLAN PARK, Who will sing at the Grand Opera House To-night, in connection with the production of "Nero."

The spectator's first impression of NERO is of its overwhelming size—his next impression is that of bewildering beauty; and yet these considerations of size and beauty are lost to sight in admiration of the splendid perfection of dramatic action and every other detail of the picture as it unfolds on the screen. In the words of one critic, it is "So good that you finally become bewildered with the perfection of it all."

CAMERON McLEAN'S RETURN.

Paying a return visit to the Allen Theatre this week, Cameron McLean, the well-known Scottish baritone, is singing with an effect which is not in any degree lessened because he was here but a short time ago, says The Winnipeg Evening Tribune of a recent date.

Mr. McLean, in fact, is the type of artiste that one can listen to many times with continuously sustained pleasure, so surely does his singing retain its splendid quality, its smooth-running delivery of demands upon essentials of technique, its polish and refinement of general presentation. Only when one has heard him in most of the phases of his repertoire of more than 300 numbers is it perhaps possible to adequately appreciate his full strength as a soloist of the soundest stability.

Another opportunity was afforded of hearing Mr. McLean in a diversity of vocal offerings, and to all the items he brought to bear a combination of voice and method productive of very satisfying results. Never was there a misplacement or a monotonous reiteration of treatment.

In Moussorgsky's "Song of the Flea," for instance, Mr. McLean permitted himself full play with his histrionic abilities, underlying the musical inherency with an extraordinary emphasis of injected Mephistophelian humour. On the other hand, in Jensen's "O, Press Thy Cheek," nothing extraneous was allowed to intrude upon the attainment of sheer vocal purity and beauty.

Other delightful things came from Mr. McLean, particularly an example of a kind of song in which he excels, "Leezie Lindsay," the rollicking gusto and sly humour of which were irresistible, and in each he proved himself an artiste wherein the balance of qualities assemble in an approximate perfection.

The artiste mentioned above has been engaged to appear with Peterborough Male Voice Choir at their anual concert on 10th April next. His selection of songs for this event is versatile—standard, sea, English, and, Scottish, with the possibility of a song in Gaelic. So that patrons of this concert are guaranteed pleasing numbers, at least, from Cameron McLean.

The choir members are earnestly requested to attend the rehearsals to-night (Monday), Tuesday and Friday of this week. The two practices at the beginning of the week will be held in the J. M. GRENFELL MISSION TO SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Several of the city and rural Sunday Schools have made generous contributions in the past to the support of the orphans in Labrador and to the Brick Fund

This year the Grenfell Mission is entirely responsible for Cartwright School-Orphanage, which means 43 more children to provide for.

As $100.00 is required to support one orphan for a year, this new group of 43 orphans means a large additional expense.

Will the Peterborough Sunday Schools give their usual cheerful response to this appeal for the orphans of Labrador?

HAS CONDEMNED COUNTY BRIDGE

Special Meeting of Council on Friday to Deal With Report on Lakefield Bridge.

A special meeting of the County Council has been called for Friday next at 10 a.m., to consider a report from the county's engineer practically condemning the bridge at Lakefield and recommeding that it be replaced as soon as possible. This bridge was built in 1890, and was not designed to bear some of the loads of present day traffic. Parts of the bridge have been worn thin, it is understood, and water flows through one or more of the piers. The report from A. W. Connor of Toronto, the county's engineer, was relayed to Warden Clark at Kinmount who immediately sent out a call for a special meeting. While traffic cotinues over the bridge, it is stated that Mr. Connor regards the structure as more or less insecure for even the ordinary strains and weights.

Canadian Stock Exchange — And Mines — | New York Stock Exchange — And Curb Prices.

To-Day's Quotations and Opinions and Reviews of the Markets.

NEW YORK, April 2.—(Special.)—Stocks to-day responded to the influences which they neglected Saturday in a market which was rendered listless because it fell between a holiday and a Sunday. There was the failure of the Federal Reserve Board governors to raise their discount rate or to take any other action in nature of a warning against over extended speculation. Added to this was the cheerful tone of commercial reviews which spoke optimistically of Easter trade. Over the week end the Page, Detroit, boosted its prices of Jewett cars and Olds followed, firming up Motor shares. There was an excellent demand for stocks at the opening and the entire list showed higher prices. Secretary of Labour Davis' statement on industrial conditions helped further to convince traders of the soundness of the business situation. Steel and Equipment issues generally were up a half or more. U. S. Steel starting at 108 against Saturday's close of 107 1-2 and Baldwin at 139 3-4, up 3-4. Rails, Oils and Motors showed improvement. Marland Oil and Phillips' Petroleum, which had led the rally which featured Saturday's close, were both fractionally higher on their opening sales of 59 1-8 and 69 5-8 respectively. Owens Bottle at 52 3-8, was in new high ground on the move which is based on the prospect of a large stock distribution. Steel again sold above 108 and Sinclair reached a new high on the recovery at 38 1-4. Pennsylvania Seaboard Steel reached its best 1923 price, reflecting earnings of $47,866 in January and February, contrasted with a loss of $100,369 in the corresponding months of 1922.

Coal in Yunnan, China

Coal deposits are found throughout the Province of Yunnan, China. Comparatively little is known of the extent and nature of these deposits, but bituminous and lignite are apparently widely distributed and it is believed that anthracite also exists. The largest coal producing area is at present in the liang district, which rpoduces about 20,000 metric tons annually and in addition about 4,000 tons of coke. The operating companies are all small native concerns.

Canada's Mining Boom

New veins are being discovered almost daily, therefore old mines are again being worked. The market price of the shares is very conservative For instance, Wetlaufer appeared on the market Thursday at 5c and closed at 12c. 5,000 Shares bought at .05 on margin would cost $85.00—if you had sold at 12c your profit would have been $350.00 less brokerage, and all made within 5 Hours. DON'T BE MISTAKEN, for you CANNOT ALWAYS be so fortunate. OUR MINES ARE NO MYTHS.

CITY SOLICITORSHIP GOES TO JOS. WEARING SALARY $1200 A YEAR

Council Confirmed Appointment Last Night--D. Hayward Appointed Caretaker of Parks at a Salary of $850--Fire Chief Gets Increase.

BALANCE STILL DUE RUSSELL-TOWNSEND

The appointment of Joseph Wearing to the position of city solicitor was confirmed by the Council last night on the same vote by which itwas recommended by the committee of the Whole. The salary of $1200 is effective from April 1.

Ald. Maher's motion that the appointing clause be struck out of the report was not seconded, and later in the second reading of the by-law, by which Mr. Wearing was formally chosen, Ald. Holloway proposed an amendment, seconded by Ald. Phelan, that Mr. V. J. McElderry be appointed.

Aldermen McIntyre and Maher supported the amendment, and the six other members voted for Mr. Wearing. They were: Aldermen Turner, Fife, Meyers, Stocker, Crowe and Morrison.

Caretaker of Parks.

D. Hayward, 616 Aylmer street, was appointed caretaker of Victoria and Central parks at a salary of $850.

Applications for the position were also received from Frank Wise at $925, Joseph Grierson $900, and Wm. Pearson $875.

Mr. Hayward not only submitted the lowest tender, but he was highly recommended by Mr. James, superintendent of the Little Lake cemetery, who said he had worked there for five years and given every satisfaction.

Mr. Wise was proposed by Ald. Turner, seconded by Ald. Morrison, and Mr. Hayward, in amendment by Ald. Stocker, seconded by Ald. Phelan.

On the division Aldermen Crowe, McIntyre, Fife, Holloway, Meyers, Stocker and Phelan voted for Mr. Hayward.

Increase For Fire Chief.

Although Fire Chief Gimblett's expectation of a salary increase had been ignored when the budget for this year was compiled, Ald. Crowe succeeded last night where he had previously failed, and the Chief receives an increase of from $2,000 to $2,500 retroactive from January 1st last.

Ald. Crowe's motion was seconded by Ald. Fife and the ensuing vote found the aldermen tied, with Aldermen Phelan, Holloway, Stocker, Fife and Crowe for the boost, and Aldermen Turner, Meyers, McIntyre, Morrison and Maher against.

Ald. Morrison submitted an amendment, seconded by Ald. Maher, that no action be taken until the "Chief had proved himself" as Ald. Morrison termed it, but Mayor Taylor voted for the motion and the increase. It was stated that Chief Gimblett had been verbally promised $2500 as soon as he had raised the efficiency of the department, said Ald. Crowe. "I think the department was brought up to efficiency at the first of the year, and you couldn't expect better results than what have been shown."

QUESTIONAIRES ON "SPOONING"

Purpose is to Aid in Solving Vexed Questions of Education and Hygiene

NEW YORK, April 3.—(Canadian Press).—College women throughout the United States have been asked by the Bureau of Social Hygiene, Inc., founded by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to answer unusually frank questionaires concerning love, it was learned to-day.

The questions put to unmarried women include:

"How old were you when you first began to spoon?"

"What effect, as you estimate it now, did spooning have upon the quality of your character?"

"Will you give reason why you have not married?"

"What things are most stimulating to you?"

Married women and widows were asked these questions:

"Has your married life been a happy one; if not, why not?"

"Were you strongly attracted toward young men?"

"If so, how would you describe this attraction?"

"Did you indulge with one or more young men in the intimacies usually embraced in the term spooning?"

"If so, how far did you go in spooning?"

The purpose of the questionaires is to aid in solving the vexed questions of education and hygiene.

DIED WHILE WORKING IN CAMPBELL'S WOODS

John Reynolds Overcome by Heart Failure on Monday -- Body Found Last Nighz.

John Reynolds, 272 Simcoe street, died of heart failure while working in Campbell's woods, a few miles west of the city yesterday. When he did not return home in the evening at the usual time his wife became alarmed and notified the police. Constable Moore and Mr. Alex. Walker started out to search for him and found his body bent over a tree in a position which indicated that he had been drawing it toward him.

Mr. Reynolds was 58 years old and had spent practically all his life in Peterborough. He is survived by his wife and two children, Joseph of Guelph and Mrs. H. Morgan of Toronto. The funeral announcement will be made later.

THE WEATHER.

Rainfall last night .22 of an inch. The thermometer did not get down to the freezing point last night, although close to it. If it had reached that point, we would have seen everything this morning covered with glare ice. As it was the rain helped greatly to make the snow disappear. Heavy falls of snow have again covered the country north of us. — W. P.

No More Extensions on Public Utilities Until System is Disposed of by Commission.

COUNCIL'S ACTION

LINDSAY, April 3. — At last night's session of the council a resolution was unanimously adopted which will prove of interest to the City of Peterboro in view of the request recently made relative to the extension of the street railway system.

The resolution in question requested the Hydro-Electric Commission not to entertain any extensive expenditure on gas plants, street railways or other utilities of the Central Ontario System, now under their management, until said system is disposed of by the Ontario Government.

OFPOSE LAUNDRY ON CHARLOTTE ST.

But Chinese Had Installed Plumbing — Band Instruments Pass to the Peterborough Rangers

The instruments of the old 93rd battalion band which were afterwards presented to the G.W.V.A. in trust and for use will be transferred under the same agreement to the commanding officer of the 57th battalion. Last night Ald McIntyre was authorized to make the transfer of the conditions are satisfactory to all parties.

Mr. Sidney Whatley wrote on behalf of the G.W.V.A. suggesting that in as much as the former G.W.V.A. bandsmen had decided to remain with the regimental band of which they constituted 85 per cent. of the membership that the Veterans' Association should be relieved of the trusteeship.

Ald. Crowe said there was no hurry for the change but it went through on Ald. Maher's motion seconded by Ald. Stocker.

Objection to Laundry

Disapproval of a Chinese laundry at 346 Charlotte street was registered in a petition signed by H. M. Niven, Thos. Lytle, Mrs. Mary E. Mather A. C. Hawley and many others, requesting that "the Council act accordingly."

"We might have been able to do something if we had been notified before the Chinese had fitted up the place", said Mayor Taylor.

Ald. Phelan pointed out that the Sanitary Inspector had no alternative but to give his sanction to the laundry if it complied with sanitary regulations and Ald. Turner said that the city would be liable for the cost of the work already done, amounting to probably more than $300, if the Council closed up the place.

A bylaw will be prepared to prevent the location of laundries on streets and parts of streets to be designated when the bylaw is introduced. This action is merely a precaution against future movements and enterprise on the part of Chinese who may wish to change their locations.

WEATHER MAN TO BLAME POSTPONED MOTOR SHOW

But Annual Peterboro Event Now Scheduled for April 18, 19 and 20—Promises to Be Bigger, Brighter and Better Than Ever Before.

Owing to the prospects of dull and inclement weather, the committee in charge of arrangements for the annual Motor Show decided to postpone it from the three days scheduled this week, until a fortnight later, the 18th, 19th, and 20 of April, when it is expected that the programme arranged will result in a Show "bigger, brighter, and better" than ever.

The Motor Show, instituted primarily to assist the Peterborough Health Association in carrying on its preventive and remedial community health work, has developed into an event which annually brings from the city and surrounding district hundreds of people eager to see the latest models in automobiles and to take part in the good times and fun which form such a great portion of the three days' entertainment.

As a community gathering point of the very jolliest sort, the Motor Show, with its bright and brilliant atmosphere, its music and decorations and good things to eat, its interesting display of cars and novel motor appliances, stands pre-eminent.

The work of the Health Association, which the Motor Show assists in a great degree, is familiar to the majority of people. A District Health Nurse is maintained, who visits daily those citizens who are not able to procure such aid in the ordinary way. This nurse does bedside nursing and gives practical help and advice in regard to hygiene and health. She also visits tubercular patients. Supplies of milk and eggs to patients and under-nourished children are furnished free where necessary, also medicine and such comforts as electric fans and outdoor cots and tents, where necessary. During last week alone the nurse paid sixty visits in the city.

The Association also maintains a Summer Camp at Jackson Park for under-privileged children, two hundred and twenty of the city's children taking advantage of this pleasant place last summer. And last year, supported by the Rotary Club, it added work among crippled children to its good endeavours.

CHARGES FOR WIRING EXPLAINED IN COURT

Wilfrid Hartshorn, Electrician, Claims Before Judge Huycke That a Balance of $259.11 is Due Him for Work.

THE TESTIMONY

At a non-jury sitting of the county court to-day before Judge E. C. S. Huycke, the case of Harsthorn vs. Dumble was heard. In this case Wilfrid Hartshorn, electrician, alleges that D. W. Dumble, K.C., owes him a balance of $259.11 due for electrical work done in a house which Mr. Dumble had remodelled. The work consisted of wiring a new part added to the house, and rearranging the wiring of the old house so that the apartments would each have a meter. The work and material expended on this was charged at $359.11 and $100 was paid into Gordon & O'Brien's office.

Mr. J. A. O'Brien, of Gordon & O'Brien, appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. F. D. Kerr acted for the defendant.

In examination, Wilfrid Hartshorn stated that the time charged for and the materials supplied were all necessary.

Cross-examined by F. D. Kerr, Hartshorn said that he had served seven years with various contractors in Peterboro. He started business for himself some three years ago, and took over Mr. Dumble's job on Nov. 15, 1921.

Mr. Kerr—Did Mr. Dumble tell you about a tender that someone else had made?

Ans.—No. I had a faint idea of what was tendered for the new part —about $100.

Q.—Did you intimate that the job you were going to do would cost about $300.

Ans.—No.

Q.—Has your seven years' experience taught you that it is not wise to mention unpleasant things?

No, was the answer here.

Q.—Did you let Mr. Dumble know at any time that the bill that he had had a tender of $100 for, would be treble that figure?

Ans.—No. Mr. Dumble would not give me a chance to explain. I told Mr. Dumble that a considerable amount of work was necessary, and he told me to go ahead and do it.

Q.—You know that there are people even in Peterboro, who have to calculate what they have to pay and some who do not care what they pay?

Ans.—Yes.

Q.—Did you know in which class Mr. Dumble belonged?

Ans.—No.

Q.—Aren't you a preacher?

Ans.—Yes.

Q.—You don't practice that on week days?

Ans.—Every day in the week.

Mr. Hartshorn testified that he himself worked about 80 per cent of the time charged. The electrician who asisted Hartshorn on the job was paid 50c an hour, and Mr. Dumble was charged 75c an hour. The helper was paid about 40c an hour, and Mr. Dumble was charged 65c. The prices charged Mr. Dumble for materials were not the prices actually paid by the plaintiff. For 50 3-inch tubes charged to Mr. Dumble at 3c, Hartshorn paid 2 cents each.

Mr. Kerr—You walked into a store and bought the tubes for $1 and charged them to Mr. Dumble at $1.50?

Ans.—Yes.

Q.—You have a pretty good job?

Ans.—Yes.

Q.—You have no idea of changing?

Ans.—No.

Q.—On an afternoon when you walked into a store and bought 500 feet of wire, you made $5?

Ans.—Yes.

Mr. Kerr—Have you any openings for electricians, or am I past the age for going in?

Q.—How much did you make on the lamps you supplied?

Ans.—Fifteen cents each.

Q.—Then you were getting a rake-off of 15c on each lamp?

A.—Yes, or a profit.

Q.—You knew from Mr. Dumble that he wanted you to do the job as reasonably as possible?

A.—That is understood in any transaction. The prices charged by me and by the retail stores would have been nearly the same.

Replying to a question regarding the necessity for overhauling the wiring in the old part of the building, Hartshorn said that the system of wiring at present is 99 per cent. more efficient and safer than the old system.

Judge Huycke—It is a wonder a great number of the houses in the city are not burned down.

The prices charged by the plaintiff were taken from a publication sent out by the Henderson Business System, for which he paid $27 a year. This system fixed the reasonable price at which electrical goods could be sold to give the seller a reasonable profit. Mr. Dumble's instructions to Hartshorn were to wire the new portion of the house, put each house on a separate supply service, supply three dozen lamps, move switches and fix things up generally. In re-cross-examination by Mr. Kerr, the witness stated that on each day that a man worked the employer got 25c an hour.

Harry K. Clifton was next called. He is district electrical inspector appointed by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission. It is the duty of the inspector to pass on and certify to the fitness of the work done by the electricians. The witness described in detail the defects in the wiring of the old part of the house in question. The work that was done by Hartshorn was necessary. He had no complaints to make as to materials or workmanship, but the time appeared to be longer than he expected. He thought the job would take eight or nine days, but it took twelve or more.

In cross-examination, Mr. Clifton stated that only one service of the

Two Little Tots Mangled in Effort To Save Pet Kitten

NEW YORK, April 3.— (United Press.)—A kitten frolicked about on the trestle of the Lackawanna railroad at Clifton, N.J.

Walter Vanbever, aged 9, and Reed Vost, aged 8, heard the ominous roar of a train in the distance and rushed to the kitten's rescue.

Too late then, the engineer of the Buffalo express got a glimpse of the little figures on the tracks as the train swept around a curve. The whistle shrieked a warning, the brakes gripped the wheels, but the train was swept on by its weight and momentum.

When the mutilated victims were carried away, the headless body of the kitten was gripped tightly in Walter's hands.

Decision Reached at To-day's Meeting -- Interesting Address by Rev. A. H. McConnachie.

THE VISITORS

The speaker at to-day's Kiwanis Club luncheon was Rev. A. H. McConnachie, of South Monaghan. Mr. McConnachie gave an intensely interesting and instructive address on Scottish life and character. Kiwanian Charlie Cook occupied the chair, and kept Kiwanian Walter Kidd busy collecting fines from Kiwanians Lloyd Hamilton and Bob Mackey. To-day's guests were William Morten of Heintzman Hall, James Dutton of Stock's Bread, Ltd., and Kiwanian Bill O'Brien, of the Kingston Kiwanis Club.

President J. A. McKone was appointed a delegate to attend the Atlanta convention, with Kiwanian John Allen as alternate. The booster to-day was Kiwanian Carl Webber, and the four prize-winners were Kiwanians Vernon Morphet, Edgar Burnham, Wilfred Lawson and Jim McIntosh.

The question of changing the day of the weekly luncheon from Tuesday to Friday of each week was discussed, and by a vote of the meeting it was decided to meet on Friday of each week instead of Tuesday.

Rev. McConnachie's Address.

I had the pleasure of being your guest last Tuesday and I greatly enjoyed the privilege, said Mr. McConnachie. There is abundant room in the world for your hearty good fellowship and still more room for the mutual service and benevolence you practice. I had heard of the Kiwanians and of the Rotarians and now I know that you stand for something worth while. You do not hang out any religious sign. But you practice the Golden Rule, which is more important. Sometimes the religious label misses the mark. I have heard a criticism of the Y.M.C.A., that the very name "Christian" Association, hinders some men from joining up—the very men in fact, for whom the Association exists. It is more important to be religious in spirit and life than to hang out the sign. I thank you for your warm welcome, which I appreciate to the full.

Scottish Life.

Speaking now for a little about Scottish life and character, I am aware that you are familiar with the subject, that many of you hail from Scotland as I do myself. Once a year within these walls you have your Burns' celebration, when all things Scottish are extolled. Hence it may seem overdone, especially to those who are not of Scottish descent. But for the main part, people like to hear about the Old Land, so dear to memory for our own or our fathers' sakes.

Every nationality has its own distinguishing features, its peculiar characteristics. How are we to account for this? It goes deeper than race or color. How are we to account for the Scotsman? His is said to be a composite character, the result of the ebb and flow of successive invasions of "Old Caledonia stern and wild." But I have no wish to go into the question of origins, though that study can be very interesting. May I suggest the influence of climate and of the configuration of the country itself. The Yankee said to the Scot, "You have no climate, only samples of weather," and the criticism is partly true. Scotland is a land of mists, of abundant rain, of sunshine and shade. It is a little country, "the tight little island." In this we must include its big neighbor, England. It could be dropped into Lake Superior and submerged forever.

"Land of brown heath and shaggy wood,
Land of the mountain and the flood."

It is a mountainous country compared with England. I believe that the physical features of a country and the climate have to do with the making of men. Scotsmen partake of the rugged features of their country. The dwellers on the far-reaching plains are different. They may be better, but they are different.

Defy Analysis.

It is a vain thing, however, to try to explain and define a Scotsman. The best things defy analysis and definition. Why destroy the rose in the effort to discover the secret of its fragrance! I am not a drinking man, but I believe that the only way to enjoy the aroma of Scotch whiskey, (its "rich bouquet," according to experts) is to drink it and ask no questions. So we must take the Scot for what he is worth, for better and for worse.

Let me mention some of the characteristics of the Scot. In the homeland and everywhere, he has a reputation for thriftiness. This is called meanness by those who know no better. The Scot can be mean like others, at times, but thrift was a matter of necessity to the average Scot. Going back to pre-war times, the average wage of the laborer, the year round, was less than five dollars a week. And there is a vast amount of unskilled labor in the old country attached to the building trade

ENGLEBURN RESIDENTS REAP THE REWARD OF EARNEST PERSISTANCE

Council Will Provide Sewerage Convenience, Involving Construction of 2050 Feet of Pipes at a Cost, Including Pumping Station, of $8,391.

PROTEST AGAINST CAMPING GROUND

In compliance with the repeated requests from residents of the Engleburn district the Council last night authorized the constuction of a sewage system on Dale Avenue from Burnham to Engleburn; on Engleburn from Dale to Maria street; on Maria street from a point 100 feet east of Birdsall to Engleburn and on Charles street to Engleburn to Burnham.

Ald. Stocker's motion seconded by Ald. Phelan was unanimously adopted, to the gratification of the deputation who finally realized the fruits of persistence. City Engineer Parsons informed the Council that this system will include a pumping plant to connect it with the main sewer on Burnham street. The work involved is the construction of 2050 feet of twelve and nine inch pipes at a cost, including the pumping station estimated at $8,391 which will be provided for by a frontage charge of 82 a foot to be paid for in the taxes against the property in thirty years. When completed this sewer will be connected immediately with twenty houses, and will take care of all the development of the Engleburn district. The pumps will not require a mechanic but will operate automatically requiring perhaps monthly inspection and oiling, Mr. Parsons told the Council.

Departmental Stores

The property and business assessments of Peterboro's departmental stores were set forth in a memorandum from W. J. Henry, city assessor in accordance with the Council's request as follows:

A. W. Crossman Co.

Land	$ 62,265
Buildings	34,795
	$ 97,060
Business	48,530
One room over 395 George street	1,700
Business on room	510
Total	$147,800

The Turnbull Co.

Land	$ 39,935
Building	50,565
	$ 90,500
Business	45,250
Total	$135,750

Richard Hall and Son

Land	$20,875
Building	17,500
	$47,375
Business	14,210
One room over 351 George street	1,600
Business on room	480
Total	$63,665

Mr. Henry's letter contained this further statement—"Since making the 1922 assessment, the firm of Richard Hall and Son have added several departments to their business which I have reason to believe will bring them under the head of departmental stores instead of a retail store, and which will mean a fifty per cent business tax instead of thirty per cent business tax as at present."

The assessment cited above were made last year as the basis of this year's taxes. Mr. Henry's letter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Oppose Tourists' Camp

A protest against establishing a camp ground for automobile tourists at Inverlea Park was received from residents and property owners of the district, on the ground that it would depreciate property values and decrease "the privacy, cleanliness and decency, which has heretofore characterized Inverlea Park, and made it the most useful and most patronized park in Peterboro, and also probably the best bathing resort in the city limits."

The petitioners were:—O. M. Steer, B. Crowley, M. Crowley, Mrs. Holland A. W. Belleghem, W. J. Hillinan R. J. Morrison, E. Walton, G. W. Ross, C. S. Thompson, V. R. Henry, W. R. Turner, Jr., F. M. Somerville Mrs. A. Boland, Mrs. J. McDonald. This communication was referred to the Parks Committee and copies of the petition will be sent to the Chamber of Commerce and the Nicholls Parks trust.

Building Permits

R. H. Parsons, building inspector reported eight permits during March amounting to $2115 including one building and one garage.

Licenses for Billiards

Applications for billiard licenses were granted as follows:—A. Brault Simcoe street, one table; Finnie and Leach, 407 George street eight tables; D. N. King, Simcoe street four tables.

PETERBORO BOY HAS THE HONOR

Dr. W. H. Pigeon, Formerly This City, Will Represent McGill in New Zealand.

MONTREAL, April 3. — McGill University, Montreal, will be represented at the semi-centennial celebrations of Canterbury College, New Zealand, by a McGill graduate resident in New Zealand, Dr. Walter Hugh Pigeon, Med. '98, formerly of Peterborough, Ontario.

The celebrations begin on 13th May, when Dr. Pigeon will convey to Canterbury the greetings and felicitations of McGill.

McGill's greetings to her sister college in the Antipodes is as follows:

"McGill University sends greetings to Canterbury College, New Zealand.

"The announcement of your plans for the celebration of the semi-centennial of your college and your courteous invitation to us to send a delegate to represent McGill University on that auspicious occasion, have been received by us with great pleasure. We hasten to congratulate you on the signal success which has attended your work throughout this whole period, and on the notable quality of the contribution which you have made to higher education in the Antipodes.

"The bond between us is not merely that which unites all institutions of learning, but that closer tie, binding together the colleges and the universities of the Dominions which, whether in Australia or South Africa or Canada, are striving with all the powers at their disposal to increase the contribution of the British Empire to the cause of literature, science and art.

"We regret that, owing to the great distance, it will not be possible to send a member of our faculty to represent us. We have however availed ourselves of the suggestion contained in your letter and have appointed as our delegate, Dr. Walter Hugh Pigeon, of Wellington, Med. '98, one of our alumni now residing in New Zealand, who will convey to you our best wishes for your continued prosperity."

Written in Latin.

The greeting, written in classical Latin, bears the signature of Sir Arthur Currie, principal of McGill, and Dr. Nicholson, Registrar of the University.

Dr. Pigeon was born in Bristol, England, and when he entered McGill was resident at Peterborough, Ontario. At present there are only two McGill graduates resident in New Zealand Dr. Pigeon of Wellington, and Dr. Drier, of Auckland. A third, Dr. C. M. Croft, of Ottawa, is on his way.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor of the Examiner and the Employees of the Western Clock Co., in particular.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

We read with interest the various letters in the Examiner's Voice of the People column and with reference to the Western Clock Co.'s call for transportation, and Common-Sense's letter of Monday evening. We would consider ourselves guilty of a breach of faith with the public generally if we did not call their attention to the fact that four rides on a street car per day at 07c per trip will amount to the entire cost of the highest-grade bicycle in one season.

This bicycle is made by the C.C.M. (Canada Cycle and Motor Co.) and is named "Perfect."

It is handled only by your latest bicycle store, and while not so much before the public as some of the products of the older stores, it is more than worth a trip to see it and examine it closely. It can be supplied with gearing so one can pedal over the Lift Lock hill, if necessary, and remember, gentlemen, whatever goes up comes down, and the new Hercules brake will hold safely coming down anywhere.

While you're waiting for the street cars see us and save health, money and time on the road.

You Wouldn't Wash Clothes in Dirty Water—

Why Have Them Dry Cleaned in Dirty Naptha?

We have just installed what is generally considered the greatest advance in dry cleaning methods made in the last decade. It is the De Laval Continuous Clarification System which keeps our cleansing fluid clean all the time and so immeasurably improves the quality of our work.

Housewives who have the washing done at home can best appreciate the advantage of the new system of dry cleaning now in operation at our plant.

Suppose that all the time the clothes were being washed a stream of fresh, clean water were fed into the top of the tub or washing machine, while from the bottom was drawn a stream of dirty water containing all of the impurities washed from the clothes. Wouldn't they come out whiter and cleaner?

That is exactly the way we now dry clean your clothes, except that pure, dry naptha takes the place of water as a cleansing fluid.

By using absolutely clean fluid, the garment is returned to you perfectly cleaned and odorless.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS ONLY MEANS BY WHICH WORLD CAN HAVE PEACE

Lord Robert Cecil Tells New York Audience of Advantages Accomplished By Association of Nations.

FEAR AND SUSPICION.

NEW YORK, April 3. Canadian Press. — Fear and suspicion, twin demons, which have possessed the world and which can be exorcised only by some form of an association of nations, are the forces that stand between France and Germany in the settlement of the reparations question, as they stand in the way of settlement of every other international question, Lord Robert Cecil the noted British exponent of the League of Nations, declared in an address before the Foreign Policy Association last night.

Addressing his first American audience, Lord Robert, who has come to the United States and Canada for a series of speeches on behalf of the League, declared it was essential for world safety to "turn the minds of the nations from force as the only remedy."

"Take the question of reparations" he said. "What is it that makes the question so intractable? Is it that though the French are anxious for the Germans to pay, they are also anxious lest if they are allowed to get on their feet sufficiently to pay, they will become again a danger to the security of France.

"Do not think I am attacking the French on that account. No one who has read the history of these countries even cursorily, will say that the fears of France are unreasonable, or for the matter of that, the fears of Germany, either.

Now Spirit Needed.

"There is a long history behind the reparations question of the present day. And if we are to bring some remedy to this state of things, the first thing we have to do is to allay international fear and suspicion. We have to get a new spirit among the nations of the world. We have got to turn their minds from force as the only remedy. We have got to teach them that persuasion, public opinion, are of far greater potency than mere physical compulsion."

Warning that the next war, if one came, would be far more terrible, because of the new scientific discoveries, than the world war, and that it was not inconceivable that American cities might be laid waste and their populations destroyed by airmen flying from over the sea, Lord Robert declared that a crisis in world history had been reached—that the nations must "learn or perish."

The recent Washington agreement for the limitation of naval armament was but "a first step" in the only direction that can save the present civilization from going the way of the civilizations of Egypt, Greece and Rome, he added that the three most terrible arms of warfare—aircraft, submarines and land forces—had not been at all affected by the Washington treaties.

It was true he conceded that the Washington conference had laid down certain rules for submarine use. There was little likelihood of these being respected, he added, if nations ever again found themselves fighting for their lives. Certainly the experience of the last war is against any such hope, he said.

No Rules Observed.

"Scarcely any rule for the humanizing of warfare was observed, and though we think our enemies are the worst, yet in all candor and frankness I doubt if there is any single nation which has a clean sheet in the matter.

"When you let loose upon the earth a great orgy of blood and slaughter it is not reasonable to expect by any rules and regulations you will be able to limit these atrocities."

"We read sometimes in the papers" he continued, "of unhappy individuals, victims of a mania for drugs. They take to some of these terrible inventions and the more they take the more they want, until they become drug maniacs, ruined in body and soul.

"There may be such maniacs among the nations to-day. They are armament maniacs and humanity will not be safe until they are cured. What has caused this horrible state of things? Fortunately the diagnosis is simple. It all comes down to one single evil — international fear and suspicion."

"But if the nations are to be asked to disarm," he continued, "they must be guaranteed against agression from without and this could be done only by some form of an association of nations."

Lord Robert declared he believed the covenant of the League now operating was adequate to the purpose, but that if America would devise a better plan or suggest alternations in the organization of the present League he would favor them.

Achievements of League.

Citing the achievements of the League of Nations, he concluded: "I do not come as a suppliant for help from the United States. I come to tell you what, as it seems to me, the League really is, and what it has done, and to hear from you any criticisms or advice as to its action. In the meantime I will venture if I may to put to you one or two questions:

"I do not doubt or undervalue for a moment the immense services the United States has rendered in recent years to Europe. But has the United States done enough for herself?

"She desires and rightly desires, to be free from the entanglements of Europe and its concerns. But can she be free from them? What is her own experience quite recently? In 1917 the United States felt compelled to enter the world war. It was not that she desired war—far from it Will anyone say that if another great European war took place, involving as wars always do, great interests of right and wrong, that it would be posible in the future any more than in the past, for the United States to stand outside and take no part? Any such anticipation surely would be gambling with the future of your country.

"And if that be so—if it be really true that even on this side of the Atlantic there is no certainty that this nation can avoid the worst of all entanglements—participation in war—is it really so unreasonable to suggest that it is in the interest of the United States to erect safeguards against the outbreak of war in any part of the world, for when the war breaks out no one can tell how far it will spread.

"That is all I have to ask. It is for you here to say what answer should be given to this question. In any case, we in Europe must go on. We cannot draw back from this great experiment. We are bound by every rule of prudence and honour to pursue it to the end. Prudence because it seems to us there is no other practical proposal by which we can avert the threatened destruction of our civilisation, and honor, because we who solemnly pledged ourselves to those who died for us that if victory should be ours we should use it before all other objects to prevent a repetition of the catastrophe that overwhelmed them."

John Malgrene of Parsons, Kas., was all stirred up. Doctors found 27 spoons in John's stomach.

MYSTERY SHIP APPEARS NEAR BLOCK ISLAND

A Converted Submarine Chaser May Be Working With Rum Fleet But No Liquor Found.

WAS SEARCHED.

BLOCK ISLAND, R.I., April 3 (Canadian Press). — While fishermen returning from the waters west of this island yesterday told of the continued presence nine miles off shore of the big British steamer Avontown, said to carry a cargo of whisky worth half a million dollars, islanders were surprised by the appearance of a mysterious vessel of submarine-chaser type in Old Harbour here. The 110-foot craft, with name erased from bow and stern, slipped into Old Harbour and sent a boat's crew ashore.

Three strangers, as mysterious as the vessel, met the man from the boat, talked with them about a cargo to be taken aboard last night, it was said, and then disappeared.

The men from the boat, having received what they said were instructoins, returned aboard the converted submarine-chaser.

These comings and goings caused Captain Elijah Sprague, of the Coastguard station, to gather his crew about him and board the stranger. He found a swarthy crew of seven men, he said, apparently foreigners, and green to the work of seamen. When he asked why the vessel's name had been obscured, the captain turned to the vessel's lifebuoys and pointed out the name "Magdalene," adding that the vessel was from New Haven, Conn. He was "on business," he said.

Search of the vessel by the Coastguardsmen, as customs agents developed no sign of liquor or other contraband, Captain Sprague reported. In the vicinity of the Avontown yesterday were a small fleet of lesser vessels, believed to be trans-shipping some of her cargo.

An Aid to Wearing This Season's Fashions

(Helps to Beauty

Here is a simple, unfailing way to rid the skin of objectionable hairs: With some powdered delatone and water make enough paste to cover the hairy surface, apply and in about 2 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. This is quite harmless, but to avoid disappointment be sure to get the delatone in an original package and mix fresh as wanted.

HAS DISCOVERED ORIGIN OF COAL.

LONDON, April 3.— (Canadian Press.) — Professor Barton Scammell, President of the Radium Institute at Dover, asserts that he has discovered the origin of coal. He has been engaged in research work with lava from Mount Vesuvius, which is being used as fertilizer, and says this led to the discovery that the layers of "bind"—the mysterious substance found on the top and bottom of all coal seams—are identical in analysis with lava.

The bind contains lime, iron, magnesium, potash and other elements required by plant life and, when made radioactive with solutions of radiophosphate of potash, it absorbs nitrogen from the air, and forms a perfect fertilizer.

The origin of coal is thus explained by Professor Scammell. It is a cellulose of trees and vegetable matter, carbonized by hot lava, thus forming coal, and sunk into the depths of the earth's crust at a remote period.

He claims that conversion of the bind, now a waste product, into fertilizer, will enrich the mining and agricultural industries.

PRODUCE MARKETS

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, April 3.— (Canadian Press.)—The tone of the cash grain market was steady yesterday. The flour market was without special feature. There continues to be a good steady demand for all lines of milfeed, but business in rolled oats was slow. Demand for baled hay shows no improvement. Prices for eggs are steady. Trade in potatoes is quiet. The market in butter was not active. There was practically no business in cheese.

WINNIPEG CATTLE.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 3.— (Canadain Press.) — Receipts 575 cattle and calves; 970 hogs, and 11 sheep.

There was a good demand for the moderate offerings on the cattle markets yesterday. In the butcher division buyers were exceptionally keen and bidding stronger by 25 cents over the previous close.

The hog market was firm, packers bidding 10.50 for thick smooths and 11.27 1-2 for select bacon.

No sales were reported on the sheep and lamb market during the morning.

HA! THE TUT-ANKH-AMEN TROT!

Of course, it had to come, and here it is—the Tut-Ankh-Amen fox trot. President Arthur Murray of the National Institute of Social Dancing and Helen Herendeen, said by critics to be New York's best ballroom dancers, are seen dancing it.

TROUBLE BREWING IN NORTHERN CHINA

Rival Military Leaders Will Open Spring Campaign in the Upper Yang-Tze Valley.

PEKING, April 3. — (Canadan Press.)—The Upper Yang-Tze Valley promises to be the scene of a spring struggle among China's rival military leaders.

The truce between Generals Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian chieftain, and Wu Pei-Fu, the Chili War Lord, which has existed since Chang Tso-Lin's defeat a year ago, appears likely to be prolonged, thus sparing North China a renewal of hostilities between the most active militarists.

Wu Pei-Fu, relieved of apprehension in the direction of Manchuria, and pursuing his plan for the forcible reunification of China, has turned his attention to the Province of Szechwan, with the view of extending his influence by controlling the rich salt fields around Chungking. Wu is reported to have dispatched troops to support General Yang Sen who occupied Chung Chow on March 15, but now is moving toward Chungking.

In the face of this invasion by the northerners, Tang Chi-Yao, the Tuchum (Military Governor) of Yunnan Province, and a friend of Sun Yet Sen, the power of South China, is planning with troops of Yunnan and Kweichow provinces, a counter invasion of Szechwan, under arrangement with the Szechwan military authorities. The ambition of Tang Chi-Yao is to organize the three provinces—Szechwan, Kweichow and Yunnan—against Wu Pei Fu.

HOW TO SLEEP 3-IN-A-BED

YES, it CAN be done—but not like this.

The trouble is, most people go to bed with "something" on the mind—or ON THE STOMACH!

The answer is, no matter what the day has brought forth to upset your mind and digestive organs, take Beecham's Pills when you retire.

Though in no sense a "sleeping potion," this 80-years-famous household medicine so harmonizes the system that you can sleep in quiet and perfect rest, even in two feet of bed space.

Beecham's Pills are as efficient and harmless for children as for adults—sweetening the stomach, invigorating digestion and stirring liver and bowels to natural activity.

STEAMER BURNING IN MID-ATLANTIC.

BOSTON, April 3.— (Canadian Press.)—The British steamer City of Victoria, is on fire in mid-Atlantic according to messages from the vessel intercepted here last night. The position of the steamer was given as 18.50 west longitude, and latitude 50.10.

The City of Victoria was said to be steaming at full speed towards the Azores. She is a vessel of 3,530 tons.

Thousands of ario fans who were listening in an on opera broadcast by a station in Boston were disappointed when the concert was abruptly discontinued, while distress messages from the burning vessel were copied.

WORST IN YEARS.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., April 3.— (Canadian Press.)— W. T. Cooke, government weather observer, compiled and averaged his figures for last March yesterday and finds it the coldest March Port Arthur has had in twenty-three years. Temperature went below zero on fourteen days, last year in March the temperature was not once below zero, and the previous year was below only three times. April started with a low temperature of six below zero, a record not made in many years.

JEWISH QUARTERS RAIDED.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 3. —(Canadian Press.) — The Jewish quarter of Jassy is a mass of ruins in consequence of an invasion of that section of the city by a mob of Anti-Semites. The mob broke into houses, wrecked furniture and smashed practically every window.

The Government has denied the request for permission to re-open the Jewish theatre in Bucharest, where Jacob Kalich and Molly Picon, American-Jewish actors, were playing when Anti-Jewish disturbances led by students broke out recently. It is possible that Kalich and Miss Picon will have to leave Rumania.

CAUGHT IN THE ICE.

BOSTON, April 3. — (Canadian Press.)—The Coast Guard Service has been asked to go to the assistance of the steamer Lake Forney, reported caught in the ice three miles off Searsport, Maine. The Coast Guard cutter Ossipee, at present in Maine waters, was notified to go to the rescue.

A recent message from the Ossipee said that ice in Searsport and other Maine harbors was too thick to be broken.

COAL FIELDS YIELD SMALL.

TOKIO, April 3.—Although immense coal fields exist in South Saghalien, the portion of the island ceded to Japan by the Portsmouth treaty, the output reaches only 140,000 tons a year. The consumption being 200,000 tons, the balance has to be imported from Japan proper. The best fields are under state control.

FRENCH ADVANCE.

DUESSLEFOR, April 3.—(Canadian Press.)—The French troops in the Mannheim district have occupied the Neckar railroad station and automobile factory across the Neckar river from Mannheim. According to French headquarters, Mannheim itself still remains unoccupied.

CO-OPERATION IS ONLY HOPE FOR RELIEF IN EAST

U. S. Red Cross Will Terminate Emergency Relief Work in Greece on June 30.

RESOURCES TAXED.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(Canadian Press.)— Secretary of State Hughes has informed the British, French, Italian and Greek Governments, in identic notes, handed their representatives in Washington, that the American Red Cross will terminate its emergency relief work in Greece on June 30, next. The note declared that solution of the relief problem in the Near East "can hardly lie in measures of temporary relief alone," and suggested a co-operative agreement between the nations interested which would make it possible for the thousands of refugees "to be absorbed as promptly as possible into the normal economic life of the country where they find themselves."

In the event the British, French and Italian Governments are disposed to concur in a co-operative endeavpr, Mr. Hughes said, the Washington Government will become an early exchange of views."

In a summary of the note, made public yesterday, Secretary Hughes said the problem presented by the evacuation to Greek territory of almost a million refugees has appealed to the humanitarian sentiment of all countries and has severely taxed the resources of the relief organizations, supported in their work by the generosity, and initiative of the governments and people of many countries.

Relief work by the two United States agencies, the statement added, was started immediately after the fall of Smyrna, the Red Cross assuming responsibility for the work in Greece while the Near East Relief cared for refugees in Turkey. In the past five months the Red Cross has provided for approximately 868,000 refugees in Greece and western Mediterranean islands, and, at the present time, more than 500,000 are said to be entirely dependent upon it for food supplies.

REVOLTING ATROCITIES OF SOUTHERN PEONAGE SYSTEM ARE REVEALED

New York Paper Publishes Details of Brutalities to Which Prisoners in Florida Have Been Subjected.

TO ABOLISH SYSTEM.

NEW YORK, April 3.—(Canadian Press)—The World yesterday published a sensational account of the brutality to which convicts in the State of Florida have been subjected under the "Peonage" system of that State. This system permits of county prisoners being bound over to private contractors.

The overseers of some of these contractors have dealt out inhuman treatment to the convicts placed in their charge, according to the statements of investigators who have recently studied conditions in the Florida convict camps. Despatches from Florida report that the leading papers of the State have demanded a speedy termination of the peonage system and Governor Hardee has promised that steps will be taken immediately to abolish it.

The horrors of the system were recently brought into the lime-light by the arrest of Walter Higginbotham, a convict guard, on a charge of murdering a youth named Martin Talbert, who, it is charged succumbed to the guard's ill-treatment.

Talbert was a young North Dakota farm lad who had wandered down to Florida looking for work. He was arrested in Leon County, December 15, 1921 for stealing a ride on a train. He was sent to a convict camp, and shortly afterwards died there. It was alleged that his death was due to a beating he had received from Higginbotham. The latter was arrested on March 26, last.

The World prints the story of a man named Max Grimm, who for a time was in the same convict camp as young Talbert and who declares he saw Talbert beaten.

"I saw Talbert beaten by Captain Higginbotham," Grimm declared, according to the World. "I was working in a ditch across from Talbert and I knew he was a sick man. When he got that beating he was hardly able to stand. Talbert once worked in a ditch with me, and we had to stand in water up to our thighs. He was weak an trembling.

Sudbury Snow Bound By Storm Yesterday

SUDBURY, Ont., April 3 (Canadian Press). — Sudbury yesterday experienced what old timers regard as the heaviest snowstorm in the history of the town, when over 18 inches of snow fell between 8 o'clock in the morning and 8 o'clock at night.

The storm was entirely local, as rain is reported from North Bay and Parry Sound, and mild weather from Chapleau.

The snowfall was not accompanied by wind or a drop in temperature, the mercury hovering just about zero throughout the day.

Street car traffic is entirely held up between here and Copper Cliff and on the local run.

Streets and roads are blocked, the street cleaning department being powerfless to cope with the snowfall.

C. P. R trains 18 and 28 were reported an hour late.

THREE CHILDREN BURNED.

REGINA, Sask., April 3 (Canadian Press). — While the father was absent from home and the mother watering stock in the barn, three children ranging in age from 10 months to 4 years, were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the home of John Erickson, farmer, of the Melfort district, on Saturday, according to a report received here yesterday.

The dead are: Lilia, aged 4; Par, a girl, aged 2; and Hilma, a boy of ten months.

There were no other children in the family.

The origin of the fire is unknown.

The mother made desperate efforts to rescue her children, but was driven back by the flames, which quickly consumed the structure.

WAGE TO STAND.

WINNIPEG, Man., April 3 (Canadian Press), — The present agreement carrying with it a rate of pay graduating from 46 to 56 cents an hour, with a minimum wage of $19.00 per week for extra men, between the Winnipeg Electric Railway Company and its motormen and conductors will stand for 1923, it was announced yesterday.

crazy with pain and started in the opposite direction, and he ran after me and gave me about a dozen lashes on my back, neck and hand."

"Got detailed to a section gang. We were forced to work up to our bellies in a swamp and threatened with whippings if we did not work fast enough."

In describing his experiences at another camp, Grimm said: "I worked and slept with 46 negroes and 46 white men. We had to go into our dirty sleeping quarters naked and sleep three under one quilt on one dirty mattress. We were given insufficient food—half cooked beans and swamp water with a piece of bacon every other day. No coffee was given us at all—just swamp water.

OVERWHELMINGLY BRITISH.

The latest bulletin issued in connection with the Dominion census of 1921, gives some interesting details as to the grouping of the people by races, nationalities, birthplaces and birthplaces of parents.

The figures for Peterborough showing the origin of the residents indicates this city is overwhelmingly British in descent. Of the total population of Peterborough given by the census as 20,994, it is shown that 19,353 were of British origin.

There were at the time the census was taken in Peterborough, 10,248 people of English descent, 6,142 of Irish descent and 2,865 of Scottish origin.

The total population of French descent numbered 701, there were only three of Danish origin, and a similar number of Belgians.

Hebrews numbered 133, Greeks 29, Chinese 17, Indians 18, Italians 349, Norwegians 6, Poles 7, Russians 10, Swedish 11, Swiss 5 and Syrians 2.

The census showed Peterborough to have at that time no negroes, Hungarians, Icelanders, Japanese or Roumanians.

The smallness of the percentage of foreign descent in Peterborough's population is in striking contrast to the conditions found in other industrial cities of Ontario.

HOW ABOUT THE CITY?

Leaving the political aspect of the problem to one side, the matter of the effect that Federal redistribution may have on the county of Peterborough should be of much interest to the people of this city.

So far the chief discussion over the question has taken place in the East riding, where proceedings have gone so far as to lead to the calling of a mass meeting on Saturday at which the details of the matter will be threshed out and the wishes of the people of East Peterborough definitely established.

Can the city of Peterborough afford to ignore this most important matter?

Do not the interests of Peterborough demand that the possible developments be closely studied and that an effort be made to bring about a re-alignment that will be of the most benefit to the city?

These are questions that seem to require an answer.

Political considerations should not enter into the matter at all so far as the city's attitude is concerned.

The point to be developed is, what redistribution plan would be of the most advantage to Peterborough as a city; what effect such a plan would have upon the fortunes of any particular political party is beside the question.

Ottawa will know after Saturday where the East riding stands. What about Peterborough?

MR. WEARING'S APPOINTMENT.

The selection of Mr. Joseph Wearing as City Solicitor will, it is to be assumed, be pleasing to the citizens generally who have learned to know Mr. Wearing as a public-spirited individual and an energetic worker on behalf of community enterprise.

Since his coming to Peterborough ten years ago the new City Solicitor has been active in the city's interests.

He has gratuitously done all the legal work of the Children's Aid Society which while carried out for the most part without publicity, reaches a considerable volume.

Several years ago during a coal famine, Mr. Wearing was appointed by the Council as chairman of the local Fuel Commission, and with the help of the other Commissioners, did much to prevent what might have resulted in a desperate situation during a hard winter.

His efforts during the war will be well remembered.

After having been rejected for military service as medically unfit Mr. Wearing threw himself with all his energy into war work at home and was a great service in al patriotic endeavours particularly as a member of the Speaker's Patriotic League.

At present Mr. Wearing is a member of the Board of Education, but has expressed his intention of resigning from the Board in order that there shall be no possibility of a conflict of interests.

A REAL EXPERIMENT.

The most useful effort to test the possibilities of Ontario being fueled by coal from Alberta that has yet been attempted is being carried out by the Ottawa Journal, whose enterprise is responsible for the bringing to Ottawa of a carload of Alberta coal, which will be tried out by the people of the Capital.

The Journal's has arranged to sell the coal in half-ton lots, at $5.00 per half-ton, to reputable citizens who will undertake to carry out the instructions and give the coal a fair test.

The difference between this price and the actual cost of the coal will be contributed by the newspaper in the interest of the experiment.

In order that the test should be as complete as possible, the Alberta Coal Commissioner Howard Stuckbury and G. R. Pratt, the Alberta Government's fuel engineer at Winnipeg, are to assist in the arrangements at Ottawa.

The Jaurnal's public-spiritedness will thus accomplish what everybody has been talking about and nobody has been doing; it will test in a practical way the cost of transportation of Western coal, and the possibility of it being used as a satisfactory substitute for American anthracite.

If 80 Ottawa citizens, after testing a half-ton of the Western product and find it satisfactory, and it is shown that the transportation charges have not been too heavy, the Journal will have accomplished a great deal in showing the people of Ontario that they are not depending upon the United States for their fuel and in finding a market for Alberta coal that will keep the Western mines busy instead of only operating half the time as they are at present.

At all events our Ottawa contemporary has earned the gratitude of both Provinces for its enterprise in tackling the experiment in a businesslike way.

STEEL AN ECONOMIC WASTER.

While public attention is largely centred on the losses to unfortunate individuals through the collapse of the bubble projects of L. R. Steel, there is another side to the failure which affects the community as a whole in an economic way and which should have the serious attention of legislators, says the Financial Post. We refer to the dissipation of millions in capital, a loss not only bearing directly upon the available supply but exercising an influence over the whole investment situation.

Steel's high pressure salesmen secured about $10,000,000 by inducing people who could not afford to speculate to draw on their bank savings or dispose of government or other bonds. This money, accumulated by hard work and thrift, was being employed to finance the nation or facilitate trade and commerce. Now it has been frittered away—lost through inefficient merchandising, the inflation of real estate, timber limits, sugar plantations, coal mines, etc., or spent by easy-come easy-go stock salesmen. And not only is the money lost, but that thrift by which it was accumulated has been discouraged.

We have no argument with those who say that Steel was sincere. He, perhaps, did believe that he could make a sound idea but lost his head when he got millions instead of thousands. That he did not mean to bring ruin to thousands of people by taking their savings to finance his visionary schemes makes little difference. People must learn to protect themselves against these roseate propositions. The only way that future Steels can be prevented from doing the same thing is by educating the people to the rudiments of investing so that they will realize for themselves that get-rich-quick schemes are to be shunned, by intelligent publicity on the part of the stable financial and industrial institutions, and by passing and enforcement of intelligent legislation to insure that even when speculative ventures are justified the investors shall be under no misapprehensions as to what they are doing.

BRITAIN'S UNEMPLOYED.

The number of unemployed in Great Britain has fallen to 1,260,500, a reduction of 225,000 since the beginning of the year. Substantial as this reduction is, the total of persons out of work is still very formidable. It will take a great improvement in industry to absorb the surplus of workers, and, under the most favorable conditions, it is to be feared that no complete remedy can be found within the borders of the country itself. It is only through emigration that this problem can be satisfactorily solved. It is estimated that about four-sevenths of the unemployed are skilled workers. The engineering industry has the largest number, with the building industry next and the shipbuilding trades third. So far as Canada is concerned, we cannot be very helpful at this time in finding employment for these particular workers at their own trades; but we can certainly do more than is being done to attract the classes of British workers who are actually needed for the development of our country. Ontario has signed an agreement with the British Government to take farm servants and domestic servants from the Old Country to the number of 4,000 in the course of the next twelve months, and this action has been mentioned with grateful approval in the British House of Commons.

Since November, 1920, up to the beginning of this month approximately £125,000,000 has been expended under the British Unemployment Insurance Acts, of which 33 millions were contributed by the state, 48 millions by employers and 44 millions by the workers themselves. Much has been said in depreciation of the "doles," as they are called; but according to the report published by a committee of inquiry, composed of eminent economists and politicians, who recently investigated conditions, "the effects of the unemployment insurance scheme have been wholly good." They found that "the ordinary worker asks for nothing better than the chance of employment." There is evidently no ground for fearing that the granting of this relief money has weakened the moral fibre of the British worker. According to the London Times, "it is an accurate deduction that a considerable amount of the whole bulk of unemployment is due to the distortion introduced by the war, partly as the result of the need of munitions, into the normal industrial development of the country."

Canada has no cause to feel proud of what she has done to help out the mother country in her unemployment problems. It is quite true that we have had our own industrial problems to contend with, and that we have not been able to find room for additional workers. But much more could be done to encourage the establishment by British manufacturers of branch establishments in Canada. The initiative in this movement has been left almost wholly to the British themselves, and they are traditionally conservative. Politicians, railroad men and business men generally are never tired of preaching that the economic salvation of Canada lies in increased population, with a corresponding reduction of per capita taxation and greater development of our latent resources. When this doctrine comes to be submitted to the practical test, however, there develops the strangest reluctance to seeing it carried through.—Hamilton Herald.

IN LAKEFIELD AND DISTRICT

The Firemen Will Hold Another Dance—Preparing For Spring Sports — Personal and News Paragraphs.

LAKEFIELD, April 3. — The Easter services in St. John's Church consisted of celebrations of the Holy Communion at 8 and 11 a.m., the Easter service being partially choral. At Evensong the service was fully choral, the preacher, both morning and evening, being Rev. C. Grant King. Rev. A. W. Mackenzie assisted at the morning services.

Firemen's Dance.

The Volunteer Fire Brigade intend holding another dance on April 27. They are having the Syncopated Trio supply the music and this time no invitations will be sent out. This is another effort of the Brigade to get funds in order to keep the organization going. In nearly all places where the fire brigade is voluntary, any effort made towards raising funds for this worthy cause receives popular support and there is no trouble in achieving the objective. Why is there a difference in Lakefield? Only about two months ago a disastrous fire in the heart of the business section was averted by the prompt action of the fire fighters. Prevention is better than cure, and unless the brigade receives sufficient encouragement they may disband; in consequence the equipment, (which is now kept in constant repair) will deteriorate, and some day there may be a fire, when instead of slight damage, because of prompt action from the brigade, there will be a huge loss. Some minds fail to see the need of a brigade because "we have had no fires lately". The reasoning which is behind that argument leaves much to be desired.

April Fool Joke.

The morning train on Saturday played a little April fool joke (just a day in advance) on the would be passengers by arriving in the village nearly two hours late. This was unusual with the morning train which is usually sharp on time.

Spring Sports.

Now that the winter season is practically over (or so we hope) the organization for spring sports will follow shortly. The local hockey league was a success and why not a local baseball league, the games to be played during the spring and summer (if any). While it will be some time before the ground will be ready for playing, the matter of organization could be accomplished at once.

News Paragraphs.

In the report of the annual meeting of the Lakefield Curling club the name of the vice-president, Dr. S. J. Gibson, was indavertantly omitted.

The proceeds of the sale of home cooking and afternoon tea held in the U.F.O. club rooms by the U.F.W.O. several weeks ago, have been spent in purchasing clothing which with some bedding were sent to Rev. C. A. G. Spence of Apsley for a destitute family in the locality.

The rink is now closed and the season, which has been a long one is over.

Says American Engineer Just Returned From a Trip to Europe.

ST. JOHN, April 3.—Among passengers who reached St. John yesterday on steamship Minnedosa was H. E. Simpson, an engineer of Minneapolis, who is returning after an extended trip to England, France, Belgium, Spain and other European countries, where he made a close study of conditions.

Judging from the extensive building operations in Germany he says there is no apparent shortage of money. He was informed that thousands of new factories have sprung up all over the country in addition to large numbers of business houses and homes. He says that they are out to recoupe any financial losses by making travellers pay approximately eighty percent more for accommodation as well as more for accomodation as well as

CAMPBELLFORD PLANS TO HOLD REUNION OF OLD BOYS IN SUMMER

Matter Discussed at Last Night's Meeting of the Town Council—Campbellford News of Interest.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 3.—The Town Council, in regular session last night, transacted the following items of business:

Appointed a committee to co-operate with a committee of the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the advisability of holding an Old Boys' re-union in Campbellford next summer.

Named a committee to act with the Daughters of the Empire in the matter of erecting a memorial to those who lost their lives in the late war.

Acted on a petition for a sewer on Cockburn and Second streets, and for a water main on Ranney street.

Gave the managers of St. Andrew's church permission to make connection with the sewer on Bridge street.

Adopted the report of Town Auditors Arnold and Smith.

Decided to meet as a court of revision on May 4th to assess the costs of the Front street sewer.

Reeve Anderson Presides.

Mayor Meyers was out of town and the chair was occupied by Reeve Anderson, who demonstrated his familiarity with the duties of a presiding officer.

With the exception of the Mayor all the members of the Board were in their places and a large number of spectators watched the proceedings.

A communication was received from the Underwriters' Association, stating that an inspector will visit Campbellford to look over the fire fighting apparatus. This is the result of a letter sent from here by the Council some time ago in an effort to secure a reduction of the rates on insurance.

Want Amusement Tax.

The City of Hamilton sent a communication asking the co-operation of the Council in a movement to secure from the Legislature all the amusement taxes collected by the municipalities, this money to be used for the support of hospitals and other charitable institutions. A copy of a petition to this effect was enclosed. The matter was referred to the Inquiry committee.

Better Train Service.

City Clerk Armstrong wrote that the Peterborough Council were in favour of an electric train service on the government railway between Port Hope and points north and asking that the municipalities of Hastings, Campbellford and others interested join in the request. Clerk McGregor was instructed to send a reply endorsing the idea.

New Town Plan.

Engineer James of Toronto, wrote with reference to a new plan of the town, saying that he would probably be here during April to take up the matter with the Council. This question was put over for further consideration until the next meeting.

New Sewer Wanted.

Clerk McGregor was instructed to verify a petition from residents on Cockburn and Second streets, asking for a sewer and to take the same course with a petition asking for a water main on Ranney street from the corner of Bridge street up the hill and past the Presbyterian church, the board of managers of which joined in the petition as they propose to put town water in the church property.

Old Boys' Re-Union.

Dr. G. S. Hay, representing the Chamber of Commerce, asked that the Council appoint a committee to take up with the committee of the former organization the matter of holding an Old-Boys' Re-union during the summer. The councillors readily fell in with the idea, and, on motion of Councillors Carter and Burke, the Reeve named as a committee, Councillors Allan, Carter, Burke and Cole. The joint committee will meet in the store of Councillor Burke on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Deputy Reeve Waxes Eloquent.

Deputy Reeve Wilkinson, soared into high realms of oratory when he took up the matter of erecting a soldier memorial. Speaking as a member of the Militia for 25 years, a service that was rounded out by active duty overseas in the late war, the memorial, so far as he was concerned, could not be put up too soon. A representative of a Kingston monument company was here last week, as stated in the Examiner at the time.

"Perhaps," said the Deputy Reeve, with a suspicion of sarcasm in his tones, "Campbellford is too poor to put up a monument to those who gave their lives for their country, but if the Germans had ever reached here the tribute we would have been forced to pay them would be a trifle compared to what a monument would cost. There is no use to plead poverty. Mr. Best, who was here last week, suggested that the monument be put up and that it be unveiled during the proposed re-union of old boys, the day to wind up with a programme of sports."

Councillor Allan thanked the Deputy Reeve for the suggestion with regard to the unveiling, which he regarded as an excellent point for the joint committee to consider.

In reply to Councillor Carter, Deputy Reeve Wilkinson said that a suitable memorial would cost from $4,000 up. One submitted, the price to be $6,000, was a handsome and imposing structure, showing a soldier on guard and standing at attention, and the Deputy Reeve said that he knew of no better design for a memorial.

Finally, after some discussion, in which the present status of this movement was brought out, on motion of Councillors Allan and Cole, Mayor Meyers, Reeve Anderson and Deputy Reeve Wilkinson were named a committee to co-operate with the Daughters of the Empire, who have been leaders in this movement from the beginning. The Township of Seymour will be asked to take part in the conferences.

Sunday School.

One of the most interesting and profitable sessions of the Methodist Sunday School was that of Easter Sunday with its programme which was in charge of Mrs. C. W. Turner, the efficient organist and leader. Choruses by the Sunday School choir (Mrs. Turner's and Miss Payne's classes), a boys' chorus, exercises by the Primary Department, recitation by little Miss Enid Richardson, chorus by the girls of Mrs. Thring's and Miss Airhart's classes, exercises by Miss Dingman's class and also by Mrs. Hore's class were all much appreciated. The boys of Mrs. Phillip's and Miss Arnold's classes also took part in an exercise. A very appropriate and well-rendered trio was given by Mrs. Turner, Miss Hoover and Mr. George Lucy. Much credit is due the pupils and Mrs. Turner who so kindly trained the pupils for this Easter programme.

Personals.

Principal Moffatt, of the Tweed High School, is spending the holiday with his family here.

Miss Evelyn Runciman, of the post office staff, who was ill for several days has resumed her duties.

Miss Rose Hamilton, of Toronto, spent the week-end at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. C. Wallace, Burnbrae.

Miss Agnes McArthur, teacher near Hoard's, is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McArthur.

Miss Nellie Turner was in Wooler, where she gave an address in the interests of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Earl Williams was in Wooler on Sunday.

Miss Bertha Gibson, of Edmonton, Alberta, who for the past few months has been visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. William Gibson, Balaclava Street, and other relatives in Rawdon Township, left last Friday for the West. Prior to her leaving, she was tendered a shower at the home of her brother, James Gibson, near Springbrook. Miss Gibson, after her marriage, which takes place on her return to the West, will reside in Calgary.

G. A. Kingston will represent Campbellford at the meeting of the Ratepayers' and Trustees' Association at Toronto this week. A number of the local teachers will also attend the annual session of the O. E. A.

Mrs. William Andrews, of Norwood, accompanied by her son, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) J. E. Glover.

Their parents were given it by their parents; the grandparents are using it today. It is the one laxative ideally suited to all the family, safe for the little ones, effective in grownups, so compounded that elderly people, who are constantly forced to take a laxative because the intestinal muscles are weakening, find increased dosage unnecessary. This wonderful constipation remedy has been used continuously for 30 years, and over 10 million bottles are now sold annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world! The cost averages but a cent a dose. Every druggist sells it, and under a guarantee to do as claimed or your money will be refunded.

Millions of carefully conducted homes are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. Mr. Henry Ricker, Chipperve, Ont., says it is the best medicine they have ever used, and Mrs. M. Martin of Massey, Ont., uses it herself and recommends it to her friends. There is scarcely a day that someone in a family does not need it for constipation, flatulency, auto-intoxication, biliousness, intestinal poisoning, headaches, colic and cramps, and to break up fevers and colds.

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a scientifically-balanced compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. The formula is on the package. As the popularity of this natural vegetable laxative increases, the public discards the harsher physics like calomel, coal-tar in candy form, salt waters and powders. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin empties the bowels more cleanly and without any danger.

PRESENTATION TO OMEMEE PASTOR

Congregation Gives Rev. R. S. Scott Table and Cloth and Farewell Address.

OMEMEE, April 3.— On Friday evening, March 30, the members of St Andrew's congregation gathered in the Sunday school room of the church to spend a social evening and to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Scott before they take their departure from our midst. After an hour of social intercourse and games, Mr. Harry Lamb took the chair and the congregation joined in singing "Blest be the Tie That Binds," after which prayer was offered by the Rev. R. S. Scott.. The chairman then called on Messrs. Robert Boyd, Isiah Feir, S. J. Mackey, S. T. Wilson and F. G. Sandy for a short speech and each in turn expressed their heartfelt regret of Mr. Scott's removal and spoke in glowing terms of the retiring pastor. Not only will he be missed in the church and among the sick, whom he visited regularly, but also as a citizen who took a special interest in all social activities for the good of the community. He was the first minister in Omemee to organize the Tuxis boys and they, too, feel their loss keenly. He was also the means of organizing the bowling club and was an active member of the Omemee Athletic Association.

Mr. H. Lamb then gave a few remarks, after which he invited Mr. and Mrs. Scott to come forward, when Mr. Thomas Magee read the following address:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Scott,— It is with feelings of regret and a sense of deep loss that we are met tonight. We fondly think back over the many pleasant hours we have spent together and our hearts are full, when we realize that the bonds which were so happy, must now be broken.

To you, Mr. Scott, we desire to express our very great appreciation of your splendid work as our minister. You have inspired us with your sincere gospel messages which were food both for the spirit and for the intellect. We will miss your kind words— words of cheer and comfort spoken to the sick and to the weary. We will miss your presence at our social activities in which you were deeply interested and ever ready to help along.

And to you, Mrs. Scott, we convey thanks for the helpful share you have taken in the work of the church. Your graciousness and kindliness have been much appreciated by all.

Therefore, in slight token of this appreciation, we ask you to accept this table and table cloth, and may it be a silent reminder of many happy times we have spent together.

We now pray that the blessing of God may abide with you and your family as you labor in another section of the Master's vineyard.

(Signed on behalf of the congregation.)

H. Lamb.
Mrs. O. G. Williamson,
T. C. Mackey.
Mrs. S. T. Wilson.
S. J. Mackey.
Thomas Magee.
Amy A. Best.

Mr. Scott feelingly replied in a few well-chosen words, thanking the congregation for their kind remembrance, after which he briefly referred to his pastorate in Omemee, and hoped that prosperity might continue. Refreshments were served at the close and a social time enjoyed.

and could hardly life his shovel."

The World publishes the text of a diary which Grimm kept while at the convict camp. Grimm was arrested and sentenced for riding on a freight train. He was discharged from the convict camp nine days before the death of Talbert. Following are excerpts from his diary, as printed by the World:

"We were forced to sleep in something like a pig sty, our feet shackled to a stout post, with a chain."

"Missed my shoes this morning and told the Captain, but he ignored it and I had to work all day barefooted. Feet bleeding at night and skin torn off by palmetto leaves and thorns."

"Received a lashing to-day on account of broken grubbing hoe handle * * * * * I received altogether about twenty-five licks on my back. Then he told me to get up and go back to work. It was the custom to run back to work, always, but I was half crazy with pain and started in the opposite direction, and he ran after me and gave me about a dozen lashes on my back, neck and hand."

"Got detailed to a section gang. We were forced to work up to our bellies in a swamp and threatened with whippings if we did not work fast enough."

In describing his experiences at another camp, Grimm said: "I worked and slept with 46 negroes and 46 white men. We had to go into our dirty sleeping quarters naked and sleep three under one quilt on one dirty mattress. We were given insufficient food —half cooked beans and swamp water with a piece of bacon every other day. No coffee was given us at all—just swamp water.

"There I was forced to hold down a sick negro while the boss beat him because he did not work fast enough. He had no shoes and his feet were bleeding. The negro could not work any faster and he was half crazy with pain and fear.

"For a month and a half we never got water in which to wash our faces and did not take a single bath. We could not shave and our hair, hands and clothes were sticky with pine sap."

Despatches from Washington state that the United States Department of Justice is "keeping close tabs on the peonage system of the South," but can take no action as it is impossible for the Federal Government to interfere with the penal system of a State.

Governor Cary A. Hardee, of Florida, told a correspondent of the World that he intends to urge the State Legislature as soon as it convenes to pass a bill abolishing the system of leasing county prisoners to private corporations. He predicted that this bill would be passed by an easy majority.

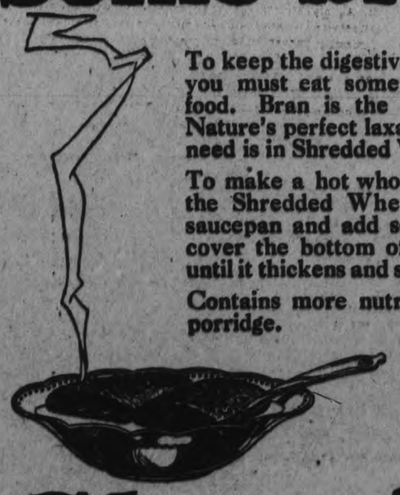
You need some bran



To keep the digestive tract clean and healthy you must eat some "roughage" with your food. Bran is the best "roughage." It is Nature's perfect laxative. All the bran you need is in Shredded Wheat.

To make a hot whole wheat porridge place the Shredded Wheat Biscuits in a small saucepan and add salt and enough water to cover the bottom of the pan; stir and boil until it thickens and serve with milk or cream.

Contains more nutriment than an ordinary porridge.

Shredded Wheat is 100 per cent. whole wheat, ready-cooked and ready-to-eat. It is a perfect all-day food.

WANT ALL EGGS STAMPED WITH COUNTRY OF ORIGIN

LONDON, April 3.—Every egg sold in England will be stamped with the country of origin, if the plans of various housewives' organizations to put such a bill through Parliament are successful.

Much interest has been aroused in London recently by the declaration of the National Poultry Council that only about ten per cent of the eggs sold as new laid eggs come from the provinces of England. It has been shown that huge quantities of eggs are shipped into Holland, China and Egypt are mixed with other eggs, and sold as native eggs. Because the foreign eggs are of a better color anr larger than English eggs, it is said the retailers are able to sell them more readily than English eggs.

A MASS MEETING OF THE CHURCHES

Need for Armenian Relief Will be Explained by Rev. A. J. Vining.

Rev. A. J. Vining, D.D., secretary in charge of the Armenian Relief Association in Canada, will visit Peterborough on Wednesday for the purpose of telling the people the tragic story of the Armenian persecutions—"the blackest and most tragic chapter in all the world's history."

A mass meeting of all churches will be held in Trinity Methodist church on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, when Dr. Vining will tell his story.

Similar meetings have been held in other centres and the London Evening Advertiser says of Dr. Vining:

"The fiery eloquence and intense earnestness of the speaker, the breathless attention, the emotion and purposeful enthusiasm of the audience recalled the most stirring of recruiting meetings of war days. Men already oppressed with business cares accepted office without demur. They were answering the call of the colors and of humanity with the same spirit of service which prompted eager youth to don the khaki and go forth to battle.

This meeting will be open to all, and is a splendid opportunity to learn the facts of the Near East situation.

Her Heart Skipped Every Third Beat

Mrs. James Burleigh, 248 King St. E., Chatham Ont., writes:—"I think it my duty to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me.

I suffered for years with palpitation of the heart, my nerves were very bad, and I could not be left alone at any time. I doctored for over a year, and the doctor said my heart was very bad as it skipped every third beat.

I gave up, just at this time, and then my mother advised me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, saying my eldest brother had been relieved by using them when he was very bad with his heart and nerves. I got a box and started to take them, and when I had used it I felt a lot better; could sleep a little and felt stronger. I continued taking them for about three months, and felt better than I had for years.

When I think of the misery and suffering I went through before I started Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I feel like letting everyone know what they did for me."

Want Ad Tips by John T. Bartlett

YOUR ARTICLE IN THE BUYER'S HANDS.

(By John T. Bartlett)

If you are a parent, and have ever permitted your boy in a toy store to climb into an automobile or pull a coaster wagon about, you have seen well demonstrated the psychological principle involved here. Let child or grown-up handle an object, use it, and desire to possess comes into being and grows. You lure your youngster quite successfully away from objects he doesn't touch, but only amid his tears and protestations from the thing he handles. Keen advertisers know this principle well.

The automobile salesman who shrewdly persuades you to take the wheel of a car has it in mind. So has the piano dealer who is anxious for your daughter to sit down and "try it." So has the book agent who passes a book to you and asks you to examine. We are all alike in this. With all of us, temporary possession of a thing, control it, the mere "feel" of it in our hands, stimulates the desire to possess.

Let's see some ways that you, as a Want advertiser, can employ this great principle.

You can use it many time, surely, when showing an advertised offering to an inquirer. Let the inquirer operate your used car, navigate your motorboat, drive your horse, play your phonograph, sit on your davenotest your electric washer. Put the article you are selling in the inquirer's hands.

Or, perhaps, the significance for you is that you should offer a "free" trial. The experience of most advertisers is that the party who takes an article home for free trial seldom returns it. A phonograph, for instance—offer it for a nominal initial payment, say, of $5. The buyer takes home on the understanding that if he wishes to return it at the end of a month, he may have his money back, otherwise he proceeds with payments. To make the free trial pay you, selling many things, all you need do is take care that you grant the offer to responsible people.

KIWANIS CLUB

and shipyards and contractors' work. Many a man married on five dollars a week, with very little saved. Now it seems a miracle how they paid rent and taxes and grocers' bills, not to speak of clothes, out of such a pittance. Of course, all things were cheap in those days. It is true, beyond question, that decent families were raised on an income of not quite five dollars weekly. It meant thrift and good management. If the Scot looks twice at his "saxpence" before parting with it, we do well to recall the hard school in which he was raised. And withal, he was taught to save one shilling out of the twenty. The Socialists raised their voices against this, saying, "If you do this the bosses will think you are paid too much and reduce your wages." But it was done! And the Government helped out by instituting savings banks ,giving working folks a higher interest on their deposits up to a certain amount, than other banks. If then the average Scot is thrifty, it has been bred in the bone by stern necessity.

Another feature of Scottish character is reticence. He is cautious and reserved and backward compared with the Englishman. Not for lack of self-confidence or education, for Scotland has ever been in van of progress educationally. The Scot does not wear his heart on his sleeve. His motto is—

"Tell a wee bit to ye're frien'
A wee bit to ye're cronie
And keep a wee bit to yerself
And dinna lill't to ony."

He does not make a parade of hospitality but he is hospitable. It was a pleasure to a Scot like myself to hear our returned soldiers say that they had been well entertained in Scotland.

Barriers Removed.

Now had they reported that they found Scotch folk well-meaning but without the art of showing it, I would not have been disappointed from my own knowledge of the homeland. But the war broke down all barriers of reserve and caution, and Scotland opened heart and home to the men from overseas. Still, the Scot at home retains this characteristic of reticence. Still he is the canny Scot, in word and deed.

It is slanderously reported that the Scot has no sense of humour. Sydney Smith said, "It requires a surgical operation to get a joke well into a Scotch understanding." Other Englishmen have followed in the same strain. It has become a legend. In order to make an old Scot laugh, tell him a joke when he is young! It is true that his humour differs from other types, like the English and the Irish, but it is none the worse for that. English humour is more volatile. It evaporates in the laugh. The Scot laughs inwardly. His saving sense of humour enters more deeply into life. Irish humour is rich and broad and flavored with the aroma of the Green Isle itself. Only an Irishman can produce that dainty form of humour known as the "bull." He "puts down his foot with a firm hand." He longs for "the land where there is no death that he might end his days there." His humour is often racy and irresistible. Reproved by a lady for the tattered condition of his pants, a poor Irishman replied, "My lady, there is many a tattered pair of trousers covers an honest heart." Much as we dislike drunkenness, there is no denying the humour of drinking stories. A good story went the round of the papers recently. A Scot said to his friend after a merry evening: "Do ye ken whaur Sandy Graham lives the noo?" "Whist!" said his friend, "Ye're Sandy Graham yersel'" "I'm no askin' ye if ken Sandy Graham," was the reply; "I'm askin' if ye ken whaur he lives." Undoubtedly the Scot has a fine sense of humour, sly, quaint, pawky and often caustic, as the Englishman has known to his cost. In passing, may I recommend to every lover of Scotland Dean Ramsay's "Reminiscences of Scottish Life and Character." It is a perfect mine of information and good stories.

Convivial Side.

The convivial side of Scottish life is represented popularly by Robbie Burns And yet Burns belongs to the Eighteenth Century. Since that time great changes have taken place. In those days drunkenness was respectacle. If the laird invited men to dinner they were expected to drink to excess. Men servants were appointed to carry the guests to their bed rooms. Gentlemen were not expected to go upstairs on their own feet.

A more extraordinary custom is shown in the following incident: A certain man involved in a drinking party, wished to save himself from helpless intoxication. Others had succumbed, falling under the table. So this man slipped down "among the slain" and lying there he felt two small hands working at his throat. On asking what it was, a voice replied, "Sir, I'm the lad that's to loose the neckclothes." His job was to untie the cravats in fear of apoplexy or suffocation! Even ministers in those days were hard drinkers.

But now drunkenness is banished from decent society. A better conscience has prevailed and, among other things, ladies are saved from the shame and disgrace of drunken partners. It is sometimes set forth as if Scotland was still a nation of hard drinkers. That is quite untrue. The vast majority of Scotch folk are sober and well-doing. Not five per cent. of the population drink to excess. No doubt Scotland spends a pile of money on the national beverage, but it spends less on pleasure as such, than England. English people are naturally gay and light-hearted. They spend money freely on their holidays and go in for a good time all the year round. The Scot takes his pleasures more seriously, even to the drinking of whisky.

Much has been said of the Scot's "guid conceit o' himsel." It may be true, but he doesn't always advertise it. Earl Haig tells of a Scot in London who bored his English friends by boasting about Scotland. "Why did you leave it?" he was asked. "It was like this," he replied, if Scotland everybody was as clever as myself, but here I'm getting on verra weel." Scotland used to be greatly exercised over doctrinal questions. Every other man was a theologian. For ordination, predestination, election and reprobation and such like high themes were fully discussed. People used to lose sleep over them. Decent folk lived in terror lest God might have passed them over and left them to perish. In the opening verse of "Holy Willie's Prayer" Burns makes light of this sentiment.

"O Thou, who in the heavens does dwell
Who, as it pleases best Thysel'
Sends ane to heaven and ten to hell
A' for thy glory
And so for ony gude or ill
They dune afore Thee!"

Two men were discussing this vexed question of the elect of God and Sandy declared himself as follows: "There's only twa o' the elect that I ken o': My brither Jock and mysel' and sometimes I'm no verra shair aboot Jock.

Perhaps the Scot has reason for his self-confidence. He belongs to a great country that has made great history. What other patch of land on Gods earth can be compared to it! Whatever the future may have in store for the land of the Thistle, its past is worthy of all repect and praise. I refuse to believe with the Irishman that its future is behind it! It's leading men to-day are virile as ever and the common people are levelling up to a height never attained before. The Old Country is no back number. It stands in the van of nations to-day as it has done for centuries.

It is good to think that Scotland has contributed so much to the building up of this great dominion. This is the land of opportunity and Scotsmen have made the most of it. Their grit and perseverance and tenacity have not only enriched themselves but helped to make Canada what it is to-day, and to produce the Canadian type of manhood which is admired the world over, said the speaker in conclusion.
